CHAPTER II.

Rights of Accused.

§ 2305. Right to Counsel.—Whenever a defendant shall be arraigned upon the charge that he has committed any felony, and shall request the court to appoint counsel to assist in his defense, and shall by his own oath or such other proof as may be required satisfy the court that he is unable, by reason of poverty, to procure counsel, the court shall appoint counsel, not exceeding two, for such defendant, to be paid, upon its order by the county in which such proceeding is had, compensation not exceeding ten dollars per day for each counsel, for the number of days such counsel is actually employed in court upon the trial. [L. '09, p. 906, § 53.]

See, also, supra, § 2095.

§ 2306. Witnesses.—Every person accused of crime shall have the right to meet the witnesses produced against him face to face: Provided, that whenever any witness whose deposition shall have been taken pursuant to law by a magistrate, in the presence of the defendant and his counsel, shall be absent, and cannot be found when required to testify upon any trial or hearing, so much of such deposition as the court shall deem admissible and competent shall be admitted and read as evidence in such case. [L. '09, p. 907, § 54.]

§ 2307. Right to Subpoena.—Every person charged with the commission of a crime shall have the right upon the trial of such charge to be heard in person or by counsel, and to produce witnesses and proofs in his favor and to have compulsory process to compel the attendance of all witnesses who may be necessary for his proper defense. [L. '09, p. 907, § 55.]

§ 2308. Presumption of Innocence—Conviction of Lowest Degree, When.—Every person charged with the commission of a crime shall be presumed innocent until the contrary is proved by competent evidence beyond a reasonable doubt; and when an offense has been proved against him, and there exists a reasonable doubt as to which of two or more degrees he is guilty, he shall be convicted only of the lowest. [L. '09, p. 907, § 56.]

See, also, supra, § 2263.

§ 2309. Conviction, When had.—No person informed against or indicted for a crime shall be convicted thereof, unless by admitting the truth of the charge in his plea, by confession in open court, or by the verdict of a jury, accepted and recorded by the court. [L. '09, p. 907, § 57.]

Cited in 68 Wash. 12.

§ 2310. Bail, When Allowable.—Every person charged with an offense, except that of murder in the first degree, where the proof is evident or the presumption great, may be bailed by sufficient sureties, and bail shall justify and have the same rights as in civil cases, except as otherwise provided by law. The amount of bail in each case shall be determined by the court in its discretion and may from time to time be increased or decreased as circumstances may justify. [L. '09, p. 908, § 58.]

Cited in 64 Wash. 141.
See, also, supra, § 1957.

§ 2311. Proceedings Within Thirty Days.—Whenever a person has been held to answer to any criminal charge, if an indictment be not found or information filed against him within thirty days, the court shall order the prosecution to be dismissed, unless good cause to the contrary be shown. [L. '09, p. 908, § 59.]

Cited in 64 Wash. 50.

§ 2312. Trial Within Sixty Days.—If a defendant indicted or informed against for an offense, whose trial has not been postponed upon his own application, be not brought to trial within sixty days after the indictment is found or the information filed, the court shall order it to be dismissed, unless good cause to the contrary is shown. [L. '09, p. 908, § 60.]

Cited in 64 Wash. 50; 65 Wash. 489; 71 Wash. 188; 72 Wash. 157, 450; 80 Wash. 337; 82 Wash. 332, 478.

§ 2313. Discharge of Defendant and Bail upon Dismissal.—Whenever the court shall direct any criminal prosecution to be dismissed, the defendant shall, if in custody, be discharged therefrom, or if admitted to bail, his bail shall be exonerated, and if money has been deposited instead of bail it shall be refunded to the person depositing the same. [L. '09, p. 908, § 61.]

§ 2314. Nolle Prosequi.—The court may, either upon its own motion or upon application of the prosecuting attorney, and in furtherance of justice, order any criminal prosecution to be dismissed; but in such case the reason of the dismissal must be set forth in the order, which must be entered upon the record. No prosecuting attorney shall hereafter discontinue or abandon a prosecution except as provided in this section. [L. '09, p. 908, § 62.]

Cited in 64 Wash. 50.

§ 2315. Dismissal, When a Bar.—An order dismissing a prosecution under the provisions of sections 2311, 2312, or 2314 shall bar another prosecution for a misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor where the prosecution dismissed charged the same misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor, but in no other case shall such order of dismissal bar another prosecution. [L. '09, p. 909, § 63.]

Cited in 64 Wash. 49; 65 Wash. 489; 82 Wash. 332.

§ 2316. Acquittal, When a Bar.—No order of dismissal or directed verdict of not guilty on the ground of a variance between the indictment or information and the proof, or on the ground of any defect in such indictment or information, shall bar another prosecution for the same offense. Whenever a defendant shall be acquitted or convicted upon an indictment or information charging a crime consisting of different degrees, he cannot be proceeded against or tried for the same crime in another degree, nor for an attempt to commit such crime, or any degree thereof. [L. '09, p. 909, § 64.]

Cited in 64 Wash. 49, 52; 84 Wash. 116.

See, also, supra, §§ 2113, 2271, 2272.

CHAPTER III.

Crimes Against the Sovereignty of the State.

§ 2317. Treason Defined—Penalty.—Treason against the people of the state consists in—

1. Levying war against the people of the state, or
2. Adhering to its enemies, or
3. Giving them aid and comfort.

Treason is punishable by death.

No person shall be convicted for treason unless upon the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act or by confession in open court. [L. '09, p. 909, § 65.]

§ 2318. Levying War.—To constitute levying war against the state an actual act of war must be committed. To conspire to levy war is not enough. When persons arise in insurrection with intent to prevent, in general, by force and intimidation, the execution of a statute of this state, or to force its repeal, they shall be guilty of levying war. But an endeavor, although by numbers and force of arms, to resist the execution of a law in a single instance, and for a private purpose, is not levying war. [L. '09, p. 909, § 66.]

§ 2319. Misprision of Treason.—Every person having knowledge of the commission of treason, who conceals the same, and does not, as soon as may be, disclose such treason to the governor or a judge of the supreme court or a superior court, shall be guilty of misprision of treason and punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years or in a county jail for not more than one year. [L. '09, p. 910, § 67.]

CHAPTER IV.

Crimes by or Against Public Officers.

§ 2320. Bribery of Public Officer.—Every person who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward to any executive or administrative officer of the state, with intent to influence him with respect to any act, decision, vote, opinion or other proceeding, as such officer; or who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward to a member of the legislature, or attempt, directly or indirectly, by menace, deceit, suppression of truth or other corrupt means, to influence such member to give or withhold his vote, or to absent himself from the house of which he is a member or from any committee thereof; or who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward to a judicial officer, juror, referee, arbitrator, appraiser, assessor or other person authorized by law to hear or determine any question, matter, cause, proceeding or controversy, with intent to influence his action, vote, opinion or decision thereupon; or shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward to a person executing any of the functions of a public officer other than as hereinbefore specified, with intent to influence him with respect to any act, decision, vote or other proceeding in the exercise of his powers or functions, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 910, § 68.]

See infra, § 2676, bribery of labor representative.

§ 2321. Asking or Receiving Bribe.—Every executive or administrative officer or person elected or appointed to an executive or administrative office who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon an agreement or understanding that his vote, opinion or action upon any matter then pending, or which may by law be brought before him in his official capacity, shall be influenced thereby; and every member of either house of the legislature of the state who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon an agreement or understanding that his official vote, opinion, judgment or action shall be influenced thereby, or shall be given in any particular manner, or upon any particular side of any question or matter upon which he may be required to act in his official capacity; and every judicial officer, and every person who executes any of the functions of a public office not hereinbefore specified, and every person employed by or acting for the state or for any public officer in the business of the state, who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon an agreement or understanding that his vote, opinion, judgment, action, decision or other official proceeding shall be influenced thereby, or that he will do or omit any act or proceeding or in any way neglect or violate any official duty, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 911, § 69.]

Cited in 67 Wash. 506, 527.

§ 2322. Juror, etc., Accepting Bribe.—Every juror, referee, arbitrator, appraiser, assessor, or other person authorized by law to hear or determine any question, matter, cause, controversy or proceeding, who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon an agreement or understanding that his vote, opinion, action, judgment or decision shall be influenced thereby, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 911, § 70.]

§ 2323. Bribing Witness.—Every person who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward to any witness or person who may be called as a witness upon an agreement or understanding that the testimony of such witness shall be thereby influenced, or who shall willfully attempt by any other means to induce any witness or person who may be called as a witness to give false testimony, or to withhold true testimony, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 912, § 71.]

See infra, § 2363, tampering with witness.

§ 2324. Witness Accepting Bribe.—Every person who is or may be a witness upon a trial, hearing, investigation or other proceeding before any court, tribunal or officer authorized to hear evidence or take testimony, who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon an agreement or understanding that his testimony shall be influenced thereby, or that he will absent himself from the trial, hearing or other proceeding, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 912, § 72.]

Cited in 82 Wash. 484.

§ 2325. Influencing Juror.—Every person who shall influence, or attempt to influence, improperly, a juror in a civil or criminal action or any proceeding, or any person chosen or appointed as an arbitrator or referee, in respect to his verdict, judgment, report, award or decision in any cause or matter pending or about to be brought before him, in any case or in any manner not hereinbefore provided for, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 912, § 73.]

§ 2326. Juror, etc., Promising Verdict, etc.—Every juror and every person chosen or appointed arbitrator or referee, who shall make any promise or agreement to give a verdict, judgment, report, award or decision for or against any party, or who shall willfully receive any communication, book, paper, instrument or information relating to a cause or matter pending before him, except according to the regular course of proceeding upon the trial or hearing of such cause or matter, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 913, § 74.]

§ 2327. Misconduct of Officer Drawing Jury.—Every person charged by law with the preparation of any jury list or list of names from which any jury is to be drawn, and every person authorized by law to assist at the drawing of a grand or petit jury to attend a court or term of court or to try any cause or issue, who shall—

(1.) Place in any such list any name at the request or solicitation, direct or indirect, of any person; or

(2.) Designedly put upon the list of jurors, as having been drawn, any name which was not lawfully drawn for that purpose; or

(3.) Designedly omit to place upon such list any name which was lawfully drawn; or

(4.) Designedly sign or certify a list of such jurors as having been drawn which were not lawfully drawn; or

(5.) Designedly and wrongfully withdraw from the box or other receptacle for the ballots containing the names of such jurors any paper or ballot lawfully placed or belonging there and containing the name of a juror, or omit to place therein any name lawfully drawn or designated, or place therein a paper or ballot containing the name of a person not lawfully drawn, and designated as a juror; or

(6.) In drawing or impaneling such jury, do any act which is unfair, partial or improper in any respect;

Shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 913, § 75.]

§ 2328. Soliciting Jury Duty.—Every person who shall, directly or indirectly, solicit or request any person charged with the duty of preparing any jury list to put his name, or the name of any other person, on any such list, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 914, § 76.]

§ 2329. Misconduct of Officer in Charge of Jury.—Every person to whose charge a jury shall be committed by a court or magistrate, who shall knowingly, without leave of such court or magistrate, permit them or any one of them to receive any communication from any person, to make any communication to any person, to obtain or receive any book, paper or refreshment, or to leave the jury-room, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 914, § 77.]

§ 2330. Offender a Competent Witness.—Every person offending against any of the provisions of law relating to bribery or corruption shall be a competent witness against another so offending and shall not be excused from giving testimony tending to criminate himself. [L. '09, p. 914, § 78.]

See, also, §§ 2149, 2150.

§ 2331. Interfering With Public Officer.—Every person who, by means of any threat, force or violence, shall attempt to deter and prevent any executive or administrative officer from performing any duty imposed upon him by law, or who shall knowingly resist by force or violence any executive or administrative officer in the performance of his duty, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 914, § 79.]

See, also, infra, § 2366.

§ 2332. Offering Reward for Appointment.—Every person who shall give, offer or promise, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, in consideration that he or another person shall be appointed to a public office, or to a clerkship, deputation or other subordinate position in such office, or that he or any other person shall be permitted to exercise, perform or discharge any prerogative or duty or receive any emolument of such office, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 914, § 80.]

§ 2333. Grafting.—Every person who shall ask or receive any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon the representation that he can, directly or indirectly, or in consideration that he shall, or shall attempt to, directly or indirectly, influence any public officer, whether executive, administrative, judicial or legislative, to refuse, neglect, or defer the performance of any official duty; or who shall ask or receive any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, the right to retain or receive which shall be conditioned that such person shall, directly or indirectly, successfully influence by any means whatever any executive, administrative or legislative officer, in respect to any act, decision, vote, opinion or other proceeding, as such officer; or who shall ask or receive any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon the representation that he can, directly or indirectly, or in consideration that he shall, or shall attempt to, directly or indirectly, influence any public officer, whether executive, administrative, judicial or legislative, in respect to any act, decision, vote, opinion or other proceeding, as such officer, unless it be clearly understood and agreed in good faith between the parties thereto, on both sides, that no means or influence shall be employed except explanation and argument upon the merits, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor, and, in any prosecution, under the third clause of this section, evidence of the means actually employed to influence such officer shall be admitted as proof of the means originally contemplated by the defendant. [L. '09, p. 915, § 81.]

(1.) Ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or promise thereof, for omitting or deferring the performance of any official duty; or for any official service which has not been actually rendered, except in case of charges for prospective costs or fees demandable in advance in a case allowed by law; or

(2.) Be beneficially interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract, sale, lease or purchase which may be made by, through or under the supervision of such officer, in whole or in part, or which may be made for the benefit of his office, or accept, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward from any other person beneficially interested therein; or

(3.) Employ or use any person, money or property under his official control or direction, or in his official custody, for the private benefit or gain of himself or another;

Shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor, and any contract, sale, lease or purchase mentioned in subdivision 2 hereof shall be void. [L. '09, p. 915, § 82.]

§ 2335. Grant of Official Powers.—Every public officer who, for any reward, consideration or gratuity paid or agreed to be paid, shall, directly or indirectly, grant to another the right or authority to discharge any function of his office, or permit another to perform any of his duties, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 916, § 83.]

§ 2336. Intrusion into and Refusal to Surrender Public Office.—Every person who shall falsely personate or represent any public officer, or who shall willfully intrude himself into a public office to which he has not been duly elected or appointed, or who shall willfully exercise any of the functions or perform any of the duties of such officer, without having duly qualified therefor, as required by law, or who, having been an executive or administrative officer, shall willfully exercise any of the functions of his office after his right to do so has ceased, or wrongfully refuse to surrender the official seal or any books or papers appertaining to such office, upon the demand of his lawful successor, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 916, § 84.]

§ 2337. Disturbing Legislature or Intimidating Member.—Every person who shall willfully disturb the legislature of this state, or either house thereof, while in session, or who shall commit any disorderly conduct in the presence or view of either house thereof, tending to interrupt its proceedings or impair the respect due to its authority, or who willfully, by intimidation or otherwise, shall prevent any member of the legislature from attending any session of the house of which he shall be a member or any committee thereof, or from giving his vote upon any question which may come before such house or committee, or from performing any other official act, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 916, § 85.]

§ 2338. Witness Refusing to Attend Legislature or Committee or to Testify.—Every person duly summoned to attend as a witness before either house of the legislature of this state, or any committee thereof authorized to summon witnesses, who shall refuse or neglect, without lawful excuse, to attend pursuant to such summons, or who shall willfully refuse to be sworn or to affirm or to answer any material or proper question, or to produce, upon reasonable notice, any material or proper books, papers or documents in his possession or under his control, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 917, § 86.]

See infra, §§ 6932–6934, penalties on same subject.

§ 2339. Rescuing Prisoner.—Every person who shall, by force or fraud, rescue from lawful custody, or from an officer or person having him in lawful custody, a prisoner held upon a charge, arrest, commitment, conviction or sentence for felony, shall be guilty of a felony; and every person who shall rescue a prisoner held upon a charge, arrest, commitment, conviction or sentence for a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 917, § 87.]

§ 2340. Taking Property from an Officer.—Every person who shall take from the custody of any officer or other person any personal property in his charge under any process of law, or who shall willfully injure or destroy such property, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 917, § 88.]

§ 2342. Prisoner Escaping.—Every prisoner confined in a prison, or being in the lawful custody of an officer or other person, who shall escape or attempt to escape from such prison or custody, by force or fraud, if he is held on a charge, conviction or sentence of a felony, shall be guilty of a felony; if held on a charge, conviction or sentence of a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 918, § 90.]

Cited in 69 Wash. 271, 272.

§ 2343. Aiding Prisoner to Escape.—Every person who, with intent to effect or facilitate the escape of a prisoner, whether such escape shall be effected or attempted or not, shall convey or send to a prisoner any information or aid, or convey or send into a prison any disguise, instrument, weapon or other thing, or aid or assist a prisoner in escaping or attempting to escape from the lawful custody of a sheriff or other officer or person, shall be guilty of a felony if such prisoner is held upon a charge, arrest, commitment, conviction or a sentence for a felony, and shall be guilty of a misdemeanor if such prisoner is held upon a charge, arrest, commitment, conviction or sentence for a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 918, § 91.]

See infra, § 8530, assisting prisoner to escape from penitentiary.
See infra, § 8531, supplying with weapons or drugs.

§ 2344. Custodian Suffering Escape. — Every person who shall allow a prisoner lawfully in his custody to escape, or shall connive at or assist such escape, or shall omit any act or duty by reason of which omission such escape is occasioned, contributed to or assisted, shall, if he connive at or assist such escape, be guilty of a felony; and in any other case, of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 918, § 92.]

§ 2345. Ministerial Officer Permitting Escape.—Every officer who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or promise thereof, to procure, assist, connive at or permit any prisoner in his custody to escape, whether such escape shall be attempted or not, or shall commit any unlawful act tending to hinder justice, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 918, § 93.]

§ 2346. Concealing Escaped Prisoner.—Every person who shall conceal, or harbor for the purpose of concealment, a prisoner who has escaped or is escaping from custody, shall be guilty of a felony if the prisoner is held upon a charge or conviction or sentence of felony, and of a misdemeanor if the prisoner is held upon a charge or conviction of a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 919, § 94.]

§ 2347. Injury to Public Record.—Every person who shall willfully and unlawfully remove, alter, mutilate, destroy, conceal or obliterate a record, map, book, paper, document or other thing filed or deposited in a public office, or with any public officer, by authority of law, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 919, § 95.]

§ 2348. Injury to and Misappropriation of Record.—Every officer who shall mutilate, destroy, conceal, erase, obliterate or falsify any record or paper appertaining to his office, or who shall fraudulently appropriate to his own use or to the use of another person, or secrete with intent to appropriate to such use, any money, evidence of debt or other property intrusted to him by virtue of his office, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 919, § 96.]

§ 2349. Offering False Instrument for Filing or Record.—Every person who shall knowingly procure or offer any false or forged instrument to be filed, registered or recorded in any public office, which instrument, if genuine, might be filed, registered or recorded in such office under any law of this state or of the United States, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 919, § 97.]

§ 2350. False Report.—Every public officer who shall knowingly make any false or misleading statement in any official report or statement, under circumstances not otherwise prohibited by law, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 920, § 98.]

See infra, § 2380, false certificates by officers.
See infra, § 6648, false appraisement of public lands.

§ 2351. Perjury—First Degree.—Every person who, in any action, proceeding, hearing, inquiry or investigation, in which an oath may lawfully be administered, shall swear that he will testify, declare, depose or certify truly, or that any testimony, declaration, deposition, certificate, affidavit or other writing by him subscribed is true, and who, in such action, proceeding, hearing, inquiry or investigation shall state or subscribe as true any material matter which he knows to be false, shall be guilty of perjury in the first degree and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than fifteen years. [L. '09, p. 920, § 99.]

Cited in 83 Wash. 422–425.

§ 2352. Knowledge of Materiality not Necessary.—It shall be no defense to a prosecution for perjury in the first degree that the defendant did not know the materiality of his false statement or that it did not in fact affect the proceeding in or for which it was made. It shall be sufficient that it was material and might have affected such proceeding. [L. '09, p. 920, § 100.]

Cited in 83 Wash. 425.

§ 2353. Perjury — Second Degree.—Every person who, whether orally or in writing, and whether as a volunteer or in a proceeding or investigation authorized by law, shall knowingly swear falsely concerning any matter whatsoever, shall be guilty of perjury in the second degree and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year. [L. '09, p. 920, § 101.]

Cited in 69 Wash. 86; 83 Wash. 423–425; 84 Wash. 116.

§ 2354. "Oath" and "Swear" Defined.—The term "oath" shall include an affirmation and every other mode authorized by law of attesting the truth of that which is stated. A person who shall state any matter under oath shall be deemed to "swear" thereto. [L. '09, p. 920, § 102.]

§ 2355. Irregularity in Administering Oath or Incompetency of Witness No Defense.—It shall be no defense to a prosecution for perjury that an oath was administered or taken in an irregular manner or that the defendant was not competent to give the testimony, deposition, certificate or affidavit of which falsehood is alleged. It shall be sufficient that he actually gave such testimony or made such deposition, certificate or affidavit. [L. '09, p. 921, § 103.]

§ 2356. Deposition—When Complete.—The making of a deposition, certificate or affidavit shall be deemed to be complete when it is subscribed and sworn to or affirmed by the defendant with intent that it be uttered or published as true. [L. '09, p. 921, § 104.]

§ 2357. Statement of What One Does not Know to be True.—Every unqualified statement of that which one does not know to be true is equivalent to a statement of that which he knows to be false. [L. '09, p. 921, § 105.]

§ 2358. Offering False Evidence.—Every person who, upon any trial, hearing, inquiry, investigation or other proceeding authorized by law, shall offer or procure to be offered in evidence, as genuine, any book, paper, document, record or other instrument in writing, knowing the same to have been forged or fraudulently altered, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years. [L. '09, p. 921, § 106.]

§ 2359. Committal of Witness—Detention of Documents.—Whenever it shall appear probable to a judge, justice of the peace, magistrate, or other officer lawfully authorized to conduct any hearing, proceeding or investigation, that a person who has testified before him has committed perjury in any testimony so given, or offered any false evidence, he may, by order or process for that purpose, immediately commit such person to jail or take a recognizance for his appearance to answer such charge. In such case he may detain any book, paper, document, record or other instrument produced before him or direct it to be delivered to the prosecuting attorney. [L. '09, p. 921, § 107.]

§ 2360. Subornation of Perjury.—Every person who shall willfully procure another to commit perjury, in either degree, or to offer any false evidence, shall be guilty of subornation of perjury and shall be punished in the same manner as if he had himself committed the perjury so procured or offered the false evidence so offered. [L. '09, p. 922, § 108.]

§ 2361. Attempt to Suborn Perjury.—Every person who, without giving, offering or promising a bribe, shall incite or attempt to procure another to commit perjury, in either degree, or to offer any false evidence, or to withhold true testimony, though no perjury be committed or false evidence or true testimony withheld, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 922, § 109.]

§ 2362. Destroying Evidence.—Every person who, with intent to conceal the commission of any felony, or to protect or conceal the identity of any person committing the same, or with intent to delay or hinder the administration of the law or to prevent the production thereof at any time, in any court or before any officer, tribunal, judge or magistrate, shall willfully destroy, alter, erase, obliterate or conceal any book, paper, record, writing, instrument or thing, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 922, § 110.]

§ 2364. Neglect or Refusal to Receive a Person into Custody.—Every officer who, in violation of any legal duty, shall willfully neglect or refuse to receive a person into his official custody or into a prison under his charge, shall, in a case where no other punishment is specially provided by law, be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 922, § 112.]

§ 2365. Refusal to Make Arrest or to Aid Officer.—Every person who, after having been lawfully commanded by any magistrate to arrest another person, shall willfully neglect or refuse so to do; and every person who, after having been lawfully commanded to aid an officer in arresting any person, or in retaking any person who has escaped from lawful custody, or in executing any lawful process, shall willfully neglect or refuse to aid such officer, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 923, § 113.]

shall willfully resist, delay or obstruct a public officer in discharging or attempting to discharge any legal duty of his office, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 923, § 114.]

See supra, § 2331, interfering with or resisting officer.
See supra, § 2365, resisting and refusing to aid in arrest.
See infra, § 2520, obstructing firemen.
See infra, § 2555, combination to resist process.
See infra, § 2672, obstructing officer.

§ 2367. Compounding Crimes.—Every person who shall ask or receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon an agreement or understanding that he will compound or conceal a crime or violation of a statute, or abstain from testifying thereto, delay a prosecution therefor or withhold any evidence thereof, except in a case where a compromise is allowed by law, shall be guilty—

(1.) Of a felony and punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, where the agreement or understanding relates to a felony;

(2.) Of a misdemeanor, where the agreement or understanding relates to a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor, or to a violation of statute for which a pecuniary penalty or forfeiture is prescribed.

In any proceeding against a person for compounding a crime, it shall not be necessary to prove that any person has been convicted of the crime or violation of statute in relation to which an agreement or understanding herein prohibited was made. [L. '09, p. 923, § 115.]

§ 2368. Intimidating Public Officer.—Every person who shall, directly or indirectly, address any threat or intimidation to a public officer or to a juror, referee, arbitrator, appraiser or assessor, or to any other person authorized by law to hear or determine any controversy or matter, with intent to induce him, contrary to his duty to do or make or omit or delay any act, decision or determination, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 924, § 116.]

§ 2369. Malicious Prosecution.—Every person who shall, maliciously and without probable cause therefor, cause or attempt to cause another to be arrested or proceeded against for any crime of which he is innocent—

(1.) If such crime be a felony, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years; and,

(2.) If such crime be a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 924, § 117.]

Cited in 85 Wash. 353, 354.

§ 2370. Barratry.—Every person who shall bring on his own behalf, or instigate, incite or encourage another to bring, any false suit at law or in equity in any court of this state, with intent thereby to distress or harass a defendant therein; and every person, being an attorney or counselor at law, who shall personally, or through the agency of another, solicit employment as such attorney, in any suit pending or prospective, or, with intent to obtain such employment shall, directly or indirectly, loan any money or give or promise to give any money, property or other consideration to the person from whom such employment is sought; and every person who shall serve or send any paper or document purporting to be or resembling a judicial process, not in fact a judicial process shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and in case the person offending is an attorney, he may, in addition thereto be disbarred from practicing law within this state. [L. '15, p. 492, § 1; L. '09, p. 924, § 118.]

§ 2371. Buying Demand or Promising Reward by Justice or Constable.—Every justice of the peace or constable who shall, directly or indirectly, buy or be interested in buying anything in action for the purpose of commencing a suit thereon before a justice of the peace, or who shall give or promise any valuable consideration to any person as an inducement to bring, or as a consideration for having brought, a suit before a justice of the peace, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 924, § 119.]

§ 2372. Criminal Contempt.—Every person who shall commit a contempt of court of any one of the following kinds shall be guilty of a misdemeanor:

(1.) Disorderly, contemptuous or insolent behavior committed during the sitting of the court, in its immediate view and presence, and directly tending to interrupt its proceeding or to impair the respect due to its authority; or,

(2.) Behavior of like character in the presence of a referee, while actually engaged in a trial or hearing pursuant to an order of court, or in the presence of a jury while actually sitting in the trial of a cause or upon an inquest or other proceeding authorized by law; or,

(3.) Breach of the peace, noise or other disturbance directly tending to interrupt the proceedings of a court, jury or referee; or,

(4.) Willful disobedience to the lawful process or mandate of a court; or,

(5.) Resistance, willfully offered, to its lawful process or mandate; or,

(6.) Contumacious and unlawful refusal to be sworn as a witness, or after being sworn, to answer any legal and proper interrogatory; or,

(7.) Publication of a false or grossly inaccurate report of its proceedings; or,

(8.) Assuming to be an attorney or officer of a court or acting as such without authority. [L. '09, p. 925, § 120.]

See supra §§ 1049–1062, contempts and their punishment.

§ 2373. Grand Juror Acting After Challenge Allowed.—Every grand juror who, with knowledge that a challenge interposed against him by a defendant has been allowed, shall be present at, or take part, or attempt to take part, in the consideration of the charge against the defendant who interposed such challenge, or the deliberations of the grand jury thereon, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 925, § 121.]

§ 2374. Production of Pretended Heir.—Every person who shall fraudulently or falsely pretend that any infant child was born of a parent whose child is or would be entitled to inherit real property or to receive any personal property, or who shall falsely represent himself or another to be a person entitled to an interest or share in the estate of a deceased person as executor, administrator, husband, wife, heir, legatee, devisee, next of kin or relative of such deceased person, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years. [L. '09, p. 926, § 122.]

§ 2375. Substitution of a Child.—Every person to whom a child has been confided for nursing, education or any other purpose, who, with intent to deceive a person [parent], guardian or relative of such child, shall substitute or produce to such parent, guardian or relative, another child or person in the place of the child so confided, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years. [L. '09, p. 926, § 123.]

§ 2376. Instituting Suit in Name of Another.—Every person who shall institute or prosecute any action or other proceeding in the name of another, without his consent and contrary to law, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 926, § 124.]

§ 2377. Unauthorized Communication With Prisoner.—Every person who, not being authorized by law or by any officer authorized thereto, shall have any verbal communication with any prisoner in any jail, reformatory, penitentiary, or other penal institution, or shall bring into or convey out of the same any writing, clothing, food, tobacco or any article whatsoever, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 926, § 125.]

§ 2378. Disclosing Transaction of Grand Jury.—Every judge, grand juror, prosecuting attorney, clerk, stenographer or other officer who, except in the due discharge of his official duty, shall disclose the fact that a presentment has been made or indictment found or ordered against any person, before such person shall be in custody; and every grand juror, clerk or stenographer who, except when lawfully required by a court or officer, shall disclose any evidence adduced before the grand jury, or any proceeding, discussion or vote of the grand jury or any member thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 927, § 126.]

See, also, § 2046, supra.

§ 2379. Disclosure of Deposition Returned by Grand Jury.—Every clerk of any court or other officer who shall willfully permit any deposition, or the transcript of any testimony, returned by a grand jury and filed with such clerk or officer, to be inspected by any person except the court, the deputies or assistants of such clerk, and the prosecuting attorney and his deputies, until after the arrest of the defendant, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 927, § 127.]

§ 2380. Public Officer Making False Certificate.—Every public officer who, being authorized by law to make or give a certificate or other writing, shall knowingly make and deliver as true such a certificate or writing containing any statement which he knows to be false, in a case where the punishment thereof is not expressly prescribed by law, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 927, § 128.]

See supra, § 2350, false reports by officers.
See infra, § 2584, false certificates to certain instruments.

§ 2381. Falsely Auditing and Paying Claims.—Every public officer or person holding or discharging the duties of any public office or place of trust under the state or in any county, town or city, a part of whose duty it is to audit, allow or pay, or take part in auditing, allowing or paying, claims or demands upon the state or such county, town or city, who shall knowingly audit, allow or pay, or, directly or indirectly, consent to or in any way connive at the auditing, allowance or payment of any claim or demand against the state or such county, town or city, which is false or fraudulent or contains any charge, item or claim which is false or fraudulent, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 927, § 129.]

§ 2382. Conspiracy.—Whenever two or more persons shall conspire—

(1.) To commit a crime; or

(2.) Falsely and maliciously to procure another to be arrested or proceeded against for a crime; or

(3.) Falsely to institute or maintain any action or proceeding; or

(4.) To cheat or defraud another out of any property by unlawful or fraudulent means; or

(5.) To prevent another from exercising any lawful trade or calling, or from doing any other lawful act, by force, threats or intimidation, or by interfering or threatening to interfere with any tools, implements or property belonging to or used by another, or with the use or employment thereof; or

(6.) To commit any act injurious to the public health, public morals, trade or commerce, or for the perversion or corruption of public justice or the due administration of the law; or

(7.) To accomplish any criminal or unlawful purpose, or to accomplish a purpose, not in itself criminal or unlawful, by criminal or unlawful means;

Every such person shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 928, § 130.]

Cited in 72 Wash. 655; 79 Wash. 206.

§ 2383. Overt Act not Necessary.—In any proceeding for [a] violation of section 2382, it shall [not] be necessary to prove that any overt act was done in pursuance of such unlawful conspiracy or combination. [L. '09, p. 928, § 131.]

Cited in 79 Wash. 206.

§ 2384. Corporation to Forfeit Franchise. — Every corporation, whether foreign or domestic, which shall violate any provision of section 2382, shall forfeit every right and franchise to do business in this state. The attorney general shall begin and conduct all actions and proceedings necessary to enforce the provisions of this section. [L. '09, p. 928, § 132.]

CHAPTER V.

Crimes Against the Person.

§ 2386. Attempting Suicide.—Every person who, with intent to take his own life, shall commit upon himself any act dangerous to human life, or which, if committed upon or toward another person and followed by death as a consequence, would render the perpetrator chargeable with homicide, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than two years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 929, § 134.]

person in attempting to take the latter's life shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years. [L. '09, p. 929, § 136.]

§ 2389. Incapacity of Person Aided No Defense.—The fact that the person attempting to take his own life was incapable of committing crime shall not be a defense to a prosecution under either of sections 2387 or 2388. [L. '09, p. 929, § 137.]

§ 2390. Homicide—Defined and Classified.—Homicide is the killing of a human being by the act, procurement or omission of another and is either (1) murder, (2) manslaughter, (3) excusable homicide or (4) justifiable homicide. [L. '09, p. 929, § 138.]

§ 2391. Proof of Death and of Killing by Defendant.—No person shall be convicted of murder or manslaughter unless the death of the person alleged to have been killed and the fact of killing by the defendant, as alleged, are each established as independent facts beyond a reasonable doubt. [L. '09, p. 930, § 139.]

§ 2392. Murder in the First Degree.—The killing of a human being, unless it is excusable or justifiable, is murder in the first degree when committed either—

1. With a premeditated design to effect the death of the person killed, or of another; or,

2. By an act imminently dangerous to others and evincing a depraved mind, regardless of human life, without a premeditated design to effect the death of any individual; or,

3. Without design to effect death, by a person engaged in the commission of, or in an attempt to commit, or in withdrawing from the scene of, a robbery, rape, burglary, larceny or arson in the first degree; or,

4. By maliciously interfering or tampering with or obstructing any switch, frog, rail, roadbed, sleeper, viaduct, bridge, trestle, culvert, embankment, structure or appliance pertaining to or connected with any railway, or any engine, motor or car of such railway.

Murder in the first degree shall be punishable by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for life. [L. '13, p. 581, § 1; L. '09, p. 930, § 140.]

Cited in 61 Wash. 637; 64 Wash. 129, 130; 65 Wash. 597; 66 Wash. 541; 83 Wash. 3.

§ 2393. Murder in the Second Degree.—The killing of a human being, unless it is excusable or justifiable, is murder in the second degree when—

(1.) Committed with a design to effect the death of the person killed or of another, but without premeditation; or

(2.) When perpetrated by a person engaged in the commission of, or in an attempt to commit, or in withdrawing from the scene of, a felony other than those enumerated in section 2392.

Murder in the second degree shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than ten years. [L. '09, p. 931, § 141.]

Cited in 64 Wash. 129.

§ 2394. Killing in Duel.—Every person who shall fight or participate in, as second or assistant, any duel within this state, in which any person is killed, or who, by previous appointment made within this state, shall fight or participate in, as second or assistant, any duel out of the state, in which any person is killed, shall be guilty of murder in the second degree; and, in the latter case, may be proceeded against in any county in this state. [L. '09, p. 931, § 142.]

Manslaughter is punishable by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than twenty years, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both fine and imprisonment. [L. '09, p. 931, § 143.]

§ 2397. Killing Unborn Quick Child by Administering Drugs.—Every person who shall provide, supply or administer to a woman, whether pregnant or not, or shall prescribe for or advise or procure a woman to take any medicine, drug or substance, or shall use or employ, or cause to be used or employed, any instrument or other means, with intent thereby to procure the miscarriage of a woman, unless the same is necessary to preserve her life, in case the death of the woman or of any quick child of which she is pregnant is thereby produced, shall be guilty of manslaughter. [L. '09, p. 931, § 145.]

§ 2398. Woman Taking Drugs.—Every woman quick with child who shall take or use, or submit to the use of, any drug, medicine or substance, or any instrument or other means, with intent to procure her own miscarriage, unless the same is necessary to preserve her own life or that of the child whereof she is pregnant, and thereby causes the death of such child, shall be guilty of manslaughter. [L. '09, p. 932, § 146.]

§ 2400. Killing by Overloading Passenger Vessel.—Every person navigating a vessel for gain who shall willfully or negligently receive so many passengers or such a quantity of other lading on board, that by means thereof such vessel shall sink, be overset or injured, and thereby a human being shall be drowned or otherwise killed, shall be guilty of manslaughter. [L. '09, p. 932, § 148.]

§ 2401. Reckless Operation of Steamboat or Engine. — Every person having charge of a steamboat used for the conveyance of passengers, or of a boiler or engine thereof, who, from ignorance, recklessness or gross negligence, or for the purpose of excelling another boat in speed, shall create or allow to be created such an undue quantity of steam as to burst the boiler or other apparatus in which it is generated or contained, or to break any apparatus or machinery connected therewith, whereby the death of a human being is occasioned; and every engineer or other person having charge of a steam boiler, steam engine or other apparatus for generating or applying steam, who, willfully or from ignorance or gross negligence, shall create or allow to be created such an undue quantity of steam as to burst the boiler, engine or apparatus, or to cause any other accident, whereby the death of a human being is occasioned, shall be guilty of manslaughter. [L. '09, p. 932, § 149.]

§ 2402. Liability of Intoxicated Physician.—Every physician or surgeon, or person practicing as such, who, being in a state of intoxication, or under the influence of any narcotic drug, shall prescribe or administer any poison, drug or medicine, or do any other act as a physician, to another person, which, though done without design, shall cause the death of the latter, shall be guilty of manslaughter. [L. '09, p. 933, § 150.]

§ 2403. Keeping Explosive Unlawfully.—Every person who shall make or keep gunpowder, or any other explosive substance, in a city or village, in any quantity or manner prohibited by law or by ordinance of such municipality, if an explosion thereof shall occur whereby the death of a human being is occasioned, shall be guilty of manslaughter. [L. '09, p. 933, § 151.]

§ 2404. Homicide, When Excusable.—Homicide is excusable when committed by accident or misfortune in doing any lawful act by lawful means, with ordinary caution and without any unlawful intent. [L. '09, p. 933, § 152.]

§ 2405. Justifiable Homicide by Public Officer.—Homicide is justifiable when committed by a public officer, or person acting under his command and in his aid, in the following cases:

(1.) In obedience to the judgment of a competent court.

(2.) When necessary to overcome actual resistance to the execution of the legal process, mandate or order of a court or officer, or in the discharge of a legal duty.

(3.) When necessary in retaking an escaped or rescued prisoner who has been committed, arrested for, or convicted of a felony; or in arresting a person who has committed a felony and is fleeing from justice; or in attempting, by lawful ways or means, to apprehend a person for a felony actually committed; or in lawfully suppressing a riot or preserving the peace. [L. '09, p. 933, § 153.]

§ 2406. Homicide by Other Person, When Justifiable.—Homicide is also justifiable when committed either—

(1.) In the lawful defense of the slayer, or his or her husband, wife, parent, child, brother or sister, or of any other person in his presence or company, when there is reasonable ground to apprehend a design on the part of the person slain to commit a felony or to do some great personal injury to the slayer or to any such person, and there is imminent danger of such design being accomplished; or

(2.) In the actual resistance of an attempt to commit a felony upon the slayer, in his presence, or upon or in a dwelling, or other place of abode, in which he is. [L. '09, p. 934, § 154.]

Cited in 64 Wash. 126; 66 Wash. 397, 399.

§ 2407. "Maiming" Defined—How Punished.—Every person who, with intent to commit a felony, or to injure, disfigure or disable another, shall willfully inflict upon him an injury which—

(1.) Seriously disfigures his person by any mutilation thereof; or

(2.) Destroys or displaces any member or organ of his body; or

(3.) Seriously diminishes his physicial vigor by the injury of any member or organ;

Shall be guilty of maiming and be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, and the willful infliction of the injury shall be prima facie evidence of the intent. [L. '09, p. 934, § 155.]

Cited in 62 Wash. 71.

§ 2408. Instrument or Manner of Maiming.—To constitute maiming it is immaterial by what means or instrument or in what manner the injury was inflicted. [L. '09, p. 934, § 156.]

§ 2409. Recovery from Injury, When a Defense.—Whenever upon a trial for maiming another person it shall appear that the injury inflicted will not result in any permanent disfiguration of appearance, diminution of vigor, or other permanent injury, no conviction for maiming shall be had, but the defendant may be convicted of assault in any degree. [L. '09, p. 934, § 157.]

§ 2410. Kidnaping Defined—How Punished.—Every person who shall willfully—

(1.) Seize, confine or inveigle another with intent to cause him without authority of law to be secretly confined or imprisoned, or in any way held to service, or with intent to extort or obtain money or reward for his return, release, or disposition, or to lead, take, entice away, or detain, a child under the age of sixteen years with intent to conceal him from his parent, guardian or other person having lawful care or control of him, or to steal any article upon his person; or

(2.) Abduct, entice, or by force or fraud unlawfully take or carry away another to or from a place without the state, and shall afterward send, bring or keep such person, or cause him to be kept or secreted within this state;

Shall be guilty of kidnaping, and punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than ten years. [L. '09, p. 935, § 158.]

§ 2411. Selling Services of Person Kidnaped.—Every person, who within this state or elsewhere, shall sell or in any manner transfer for any term, the services or labor of any person who has been forcibly taken, inveigled, or kidnaped in or from this state, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years. [L. '09, p. 935, § 159.]

§ 2412. Venue—Effect of Consent.—Any proceeding for kidnaping may be instituted either in the county where the offense was committed or in any county through or in which the person kidnaped or confined was taken or kept while under confinement or restraint. Upon a trial for violation of section 2410 or 2411, the consent thereto of the person kidnaped or confined shall not be a defense unless it appears satisfactorily to the jury that such person was above the age of sixteen years and that his consent was not extorted by threats, duress or fraud. [L. '09, p. 935, § 160.]

§ 2413. Assault in First Degree Defined—How Punished.—Every person who, with intent to kill a human being, or to commit a felony upon the person or property of the one assaulted, or of another—

(1.) Shall assault another with a firearm or any deadly weapon or by any force or means likely to produce death; or

(2.) Shall administer to or cause to be taken by another, poison or any other destructive or noxious thing so as to endanger the life of another person, shall be guilty of assault in the first degree and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than five years. [L. '09, p. 936, § 161.]

§ 2414. Assault in the Second Degree—How Punished.—Every person who, under circumstances not amounting to assault in the first degree—

(1.) With intent to injure, shall unlawfully administer to or cause to be taken by another, poison or any other destructive or noxious thing, or any drug or medicine the use of which is dangerous to life or health; or

(2.) With intent thereby to enable or assist himself or any other person to commit any crime, shall administer to, or cause to be taken by, another, chloroform, ether, laudanum or any other intoxicating narcotic or anaesthetic; or

(3.) Shall willfully inflict grievous bodily harm upon another with or without a weapon; or

(4.) Shall willfully assault another with a weapon or other instrument or thing likely to produce bodily harm; or

(5.) Being armed with a deadly weapon shall willfully assault another with a whip; or

(6.) Shall assault another with intent to commit a felony, or to prevent or resist the execution of any lawful process or mandate of any court officer, or the lawful apprehension or detention of himself or another person; or

(7.) While hunting any game or other animals or birds, shall shoot another;

Shall be guilty of assault in the second degree and be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 936, § 162.]

§ 2416. Force, When Lawful.—The use, attempt, or offer to use force upon or toward the person of another shall not be unlawful in the following cases:

(1.) Whenever necessarily used by a public officer in the performance of a legal duty, or a person assisting him and acting under his direction;

(2.) Whenever necessarily used by a person arresting one who has committed a felony and delivering him to a public officer competent to receive him into custody;

(3.) Whenever used by a party about to be injured, or by another lawfully aiding him, in preventing or attempting to prevent an offense against his person, or a malicious trespass, or other malicious interference with real or personal property lawfully in his possession, in case the force is not more than shall be necessary;

(4.) Whenever used in a reasonable and moderate manner by a parent or his authorized agent, a guardian, master, or teacher in the exercise of lawful authority to restrain or correct his child, ward, apprentice or scholar;

(5.) Whenever used by a carrier of passengers or his authorized agent or servant, or other person assisting them at their request in expelling from a carriage, railway car, vessel, or other vehicle, a passenger who refuses to obey a lawful and reasonable regulation prescribed for the conduct of passengers, if such vehicle has first been stopped and the force used is not more than shall be necessary to expel the offender with reasonable regard to his personal safety;

(6.) Whenever used by any person to prevent an idiot, lunatic or insane person from committing an act dangerous to himself or another, or in enforcing necessary restraint for the protection of his person, or his restoration to health, during such period only as shall be necessary to obtain legal authority for the restraint or custody of his person. [L. '09, p. 937, § 164.]

§ 2417. Provoking Assault.—Every person who shall by word, sign or gesture, willfully provoke, or attempt to provoke, another person to commit an assault or breach of the peace, shall be guilty of misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 938, § 165.]

§ 2418. Robbery Defined.—Robbery is the unlawful taking of personal property from the person of another, or in his presence, against his will, by means of force or violence or fear of injury, immediate or future, to his person or property, or the person or property of a member of his family, or of anyone in his company at the time of the robbery. Such force or fear must be used to obtain or retain possession of the property, or to prevent or overcome resistance to the taking; in either of which cases the degree of force is immaterial. If used merely as a means of escape, it does not constitute robbery. Such taking constitutes robbery whenever it appears that, although the taking was fully completed without the knowledge of the person from whom taken, such knowledge was prevented by the use of force or fear. Every person who shall commit robbery shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than five years. [L. '09, p. 938, § 166.]

§ 2419. Duel, How Punished.—Every person who shall fight a duel or engage in any combat with another with a deadly weapon, by previous agreement, or upon a previous quarrel, although no death or wound shall ensue, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years. [L. '09, p. 938, § 167.]

§ 2420. Challenger, Abettor, etc.—Every person who shall challenge another to fight a duel, or who shall send a written or verbal message purporting or intended to be a challenge to fight a duel, or an invitation to a combat with deadly weapons, or shall accept such a challenge or message, or shall knowingly carry or deliver such challenge or message, or be present at the time appointed for such duel or combat, or when the same is fought, either as second, aide, or surgeon, or who shall advise, or abet, or give any countenance or assistance to such duel or combat upon previous agreement, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years. [L. '09, p. 939, § 168.]

§ 2421. Attempt to Induce Challenge, Posting.—Every person who shall send or use to another any word or sign whatever with intent to provoke or induce such person to give or receive a challenge to fight a duel, or who shall post or advertise another for not fighting a duel or for not sending or accepting a challenge to fight a duel, or who, in writing or in print, shall use reproachful or contemptuous language to or concerning anyone for not sending or accepting a challenge to fight a duel, or for not fighting a duel, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 939, § 169.]

§ 2422. Duel Outside State, Venue.—Every person who shall leave the state with intent to elude any provision of sections 2419 or 2420, or to commit any act outside of the state punished by the provisions thereof, if committed in the state, shall be guilty of the same offense and subject to the same punishment as if the act had been committed or was to have been consummated in the state and may be proceeded against and tried in any county therein, but a former conviction or acquittal in another state or county for the same offense shall be a bar to further proceedings against him for such offense. [L. '09, p. 939, § 170.]

§ 2423. Witnesses.—Every person offending against any provision contained in sections 2419 to 2422, inclusive, shall be a competent witness against any other offender in the same transaction, and shall not be excused from giving testimony tending to incriminate himself. [L. '09, p. 940, § 171.]

(1.) To expose any living person to hatred, contempt, ridicule or obloquy, or to deprive him of the benefit of public confidence or social intercourse; or

(2.) To expose the memory of one deceased to hatred, contempt, ridicule or obloquy; or

(3.) To injure any person, corporation or association of persons in his or their business or occupation, shall be a libel. Every person who publishes a libel shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 940, § 172.]

Cited in 63 Wash. 308; 64 Wash. 694; 74 Wash. 97; 82 Wash. 534; 85 Wash. 514, 515; 86 Wash. 223.

§ 2425. How Justified or Excused—Malice, When Presumed.—Every publication having the tendency or effect mentioned in section 2424 shall be deemed malicious unless justified or excused. Such publication is justified whenever the matter charged as libelous charges the commission of a crime, is a true and fair statement, and was published with good motives and for justifiable ends. It is excused when honestly made in belief of its truth and fairness and upon reasonable grounds for such belief, and consists of fair comments upon the conduct of any person in respect of public affairs, made after a fair and impartial investigation. [L. '09, p. 940, § 173.]

Cited in 82 Wash. 535, 538, 539; 85 Wash. 515.

§ 2426. Publication Defined. — Any method by which matter charged as libelous may be communicated to another shall be deemed a publication thereof. [L. '09, p. 940, § 174.]

Cited in 74 Wash. 97, 99.

§ 2427. Liability of Editors and Others.—Every editor or proprietor of a book, newspaper or serial, and every manager of a copartnership or corporation by which any book, newspaper or serial is issued, is chargeable with the publication of any matter contained in any such book, newspaper or serial, but in every prosecution for libel the defendant may show in his defense that the matter complained of was published without his knowledge or fault and against his wishes by another who had no authority from him to make such publication, and was retracted by him as soon as known with an equal degree of publicity. [L. '09, p. 941, § 175.]

§ 2428. Report of Proceedings Privileged.—No prosecution for libel shall be maintained against a reporter, editor, proprietor, or publisher of a newspaper for the publication therein of a fair and true report of any judicial, legislative or other public and official proceeding, or of any statement, speech, argument or debate in the course of the same, without proving actual malice in making the report. The editor or proprietor of a book, newspaper or serial shall be proceeded against in the county where such book, newspaper or serial is published. [L. '09, p. 941, § 176.]

Cited in 74 Wash. 97, 98; 82 Wash. 538, 540.

§ 2429. Venue.—Every other person publishing a libel in this state may be proceeded against in any county where such libelous matter was published or circulated, but a person shall not be proceeded against for the publication of the same libel against the same person in more than one county. [L. '09, p. 941, § 177.]

Cited in 74 Wash. 98.

§ 2430. Privileged Communications.—Every communication made to a person entitled to or concerned in such communication, by one also concerned in or entitled to make it, or who stood in such relation to the former as to offer a reasonable ground for supposing his motive to be innocent, shall be presumed not to be malicious, and shall be termed a privileged communication. [L. '09, p. 941, § 178.]

Cited in 82 Wash. 536.

§ 2431. Furnishing Libelous Information.—Every person who shall willfully state, deliver or transmit by any means whatever, to any manager, editor, publisher, reporter or other employee of a publisher of any newspaper, magazine, publication, periodical or serial, any statement concerning any person or corporation, which, if published therein, would be a libel, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 941, § 179.]

§ 2432. Threatening to Publish Libel.—Every person who shall threaten another with the publication of a libel concerning the latter, or his spouse, parent, child, or other member of his family, and every person who offers to prevent the publication of a libel upon another person upon condition of the payment of, or with intent to extort money or other valuable consideration from any person, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 942, § 180.]

§ 2432-1. Slander of Financial Institutions.—Any person who shall willfully and maliciously instigate, make, circulate, or transmit to another or others any false statements concerning the moral or financial condition or affecting the solvency or financial standing of any bank, banking institution or trust company doing business in this state, or who shall willfully counsel, aid, procure, or induce another to start, transmit or circulate any such statement or rumor, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 278, § 1.]

§ 2433. Slander of Woman.—Every person who, in the presence or hearing of any person other than the female slandered, whether she be present or not, shall maliciously speak of or concerning any female of the age of twelve years or upward, not a common prostitute, any false or defamatory words or language which shall injure or impair the reputation of any such female for virtue or chastity or which shall expose her to hatred, contempt or ridicule, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every slander herein mentioned shall be deemed to be malicious unless justified, and shall be justified when the language charged as slanderous, false or defamatory is true and fair, and was spoken with good motives and for justifiable ends. [L. '09, p. 942, § 181.]

§ 2434. Testimony Necessary to Convict.—No conviction shall be had under the provisions of the preceding sections of this act, upon the testimony of the woman slandered unsupported by other evidence. [L. '09, p. 942, § 182.]

CHAPTER VI.

Crimes Against Morality, Decency, etc.

§ 2435. Rape.—Rape is an act of sexual intercourse with a female not the wife of the perpetrator committed against her will and without her consent. Every person who shall perpetrate such an act of sexual intercourse with a female of the age of ten years or upward not his wife:

(1.) When, through idiocy, imbecility or any unsoundness of mind, either temporary or permanent, she is incapable of giving consent; or

(2.) When her resistance is forcibly overcome; or

(3.) When her resistance is prevented by fear of immediate and great bodily harm which she has reasonable cause to believe will be inflicted upon her; or

(4.) When her resistance is prevented by stupor or weakness of mind produced by an intoxicating narcotic or anesthetic agent administered by or with the privity of the defendant; or

(5.) When she is at the time unconscious of the nature of the act, and this is known to the defendant;

Shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than five years. [L. '09, p. 942, § 183.]

§ 2437. Sexual Intercourse and Carnal Knowledge Defined.—Any sexual penetration, however slight, is sufficient to complete sexual intercourse or carnal knowledge. [L. '09, p. 943, § 186 (185).]

Cited in 69 Wash. 276; 70 Wash. 66; 82 Wash. 431.

§ 2438. Compelling a Woman to Marry.—Every person who, by force, menace, or duress, shall compel a woman against her will to marry him or to marry any other person, or to be defiled, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than twenty years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 943, § 186.]

§ 2439. Abduction.—Every person who—

(1.) Shall take a female under the age of eighteen years for the purpose of prostitution or sexual intercourse, or without the consent of her father, mother, guardian or other person having legal charge of her person, for the purpose of marriage; or

(2.) Shall inveigle or entice an unmarried female of previously chaste character into a house of ill fame or assignation, or elsewhere, for the purpose of prostitution; or

(3.) Shall take or detain a woman unlawfully against her will, with intent to compel her by force, menace or duress, to marry him or another person, or to be defiled; or

(4.) Being the parent, guardian or other person having legal charge of the person of a female under the age of eighteen years, shall consent to her taking or detention by any person for the purpose of prostitution or sexual intercourse or for any obscene, indecent or immoral purpose;

Shall be guilty of abduction and punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 944, § 187.]

Cited in 68 Wash. 680.

§ 2440. Placing Female in House of Prostitution.—Every person who—

(1.) Shall place a female in the charge or custody of another person for immoral purposes, or in a house of prostitution, with intent that she shall live a life of prostitution, or who shall compel any female to reside with him or with any other person for immoral purposes, or for the purposes of prostitution, or shall compel any such female to reside in a house of prostitution or to live a life of prostitution; or

(2.) Shall ask or receive any compensation, gratuity or reward, or promise thereof, for or on account of placing in a house of prostitution or elsewhere any female for the purpose of causing her to cohabit with any male person or persons not her husband; or

(3.) Shall give, offer, or promise any compensation, gratuity or reward, to procure any female for the purpose of placing her for immoral purposes in any house of prostitution, or elsewhere, against her will; or

(4.) Being the husband of any woman, or the parent, guardian or other person having legal charge of the person of a female under the age of eighteen years, shall connive at, consent to, or permit her being or remaining in any house of prostitution or leading a life of prostitution; or

(5.) Shall live with or accept any earnings of a common prostitute, or entice or solicit any person to go to a house of prostitution for any immoral purpose, or to have sexual intercourse with a common prostitute;

Shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years or by a fine of not more than two thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 944, § 188.]

§ 2441. Seduction.—Every person who shall seduce and have sexual intercourse with any female of previously chaste character, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both fine and imprisonment. Provided, that if at any time before judgment upon an information or indictment, a defendant shall marry such female, the court shall order all further proceedings stayed; and if at any time within three years from the date of such marriage the defendant shall wrongfully fail to support or provide for or shall wrongfully desert or abandon such wife, said proceeding shall be revived and continued in the same manner as though no marriage had taken place, and in the trial of such cause the wife shall be competent to testify and may testify against her husband. [L. '09, p. 945, § 189.]

Cited in 80 Wash. 599.

§ 2442. Indecent Assault.—Every person who shall take any indecent liberties with, or on the person of any female of chaste character, without her consent, or with or on the person of any female under the age of eighteen years, of chaste character, with or without her consent, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 946, § 190.]

§ 2445. Keepers of Concert Saloons, etc.—Every person who—

(1) Shall admit to or allow to remain in any concert saloon, or in any place owned, kept, or managed by him where intoxicating liquors are sold, given away or disposed of—except a restaurant or dining-room, any person under the age of twenty-one years; or,

(2) Shall admit to, or allow to remain in any dance-house, public pool or billiard hall, or in any place of entertainment injurious to health or morals, owned, kept or managed by him, any person under the age of twenty-one years; or

(3) Shall suffer or permit any such person to play any game of skill or chance, in any such place, or in any place adjacent thereto, or to be or remain therein, or admit or allow to remain in any reputed house of prostitution or assignation, or in any place where opium, or any preparation thereof, is smoked, or where any narcotic drug is used, any person under the age of twenty-one years; or,

(4) Shall sell or give, or permit to be sold, or given to any person under the age of twenty-one years any intoxicating liquor, cigar, cigarette, cigarette paper or wrapper, or tobacco in any form; or,

(5) Shall sell, or give, or permit to be sold or given to any person under the age of eighteen years, any revolver, pistol, or toy pistol;

Shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

It shall be no defense to a prosecution for a violation of this section that the person acted, or was believed by the defendant to act, as agent or representative of another.

Any person under the age of twenty-one years who shall purchase, or shall have in his or her possession, any intoxicating liquor, cigar, cigarette, cigarette paper or wrapper, or tobacco in any form, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. § 2446. Employment of Minors Prohibited.—Every person who shall employ, or cause to be employed, exhibit or have in his custody for exhibition or employment any minor actually or apparently under the age of eighteen years; and every parent, relative, guardian, employer or other person having the care, custody, or control of any such minor, who shall in any way procure or consent to the employment of such minor—

(1.) In begging, receiving alms, or in any mendicant occupation; or,

(2.) In any indecent or immoral exhibition or practice; or,

(3.) In any practice or exhibition dangerous or injurious to life, limb, health or morals; or,

(4.) As a messenger for delivering letters, telegrams, packages or bundles, to any known house of prostitution or assignation;

Shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 948, § 194.]

§ 2447. Employment of Children.—Every person who shall employ, and every parent, guardian or other person having the care, custody or control of such child, who shall permit to be employed, by another, any male child under the age of fourteen years or any female child under the age of sixteen years at any labor whatever, in or in connection with any store, shop, factory, mine or any inside employment not connected with farm or house work, without the written permit thereto of a judge of a superior court of the county wherein such child may live, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 948, § 195.]

Cited in 63 Wash. 404.

§ 2448. Abortion Defined.—Every person who, with intent thereby to produce the miscarriage of a woman, unless the same is necessary to preserve her life or that of the child whereof she is pregnant, shall—

(1.) Prescribe, supply, or administer to a woman, whether pregnant or not, or advise or cause her to take any medicine, drug or substance; or,

(2.) Use, or cause to be used, any instrument or other means;

Shall be guilty of abortion, and punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or in the county jail for not more than one year. [L. '09, p. 948, § 196.]

Cited in 74 Wash. 121.

§ 2449. Pregnant Woman Attempting Abortion.—Every pregnant woman who shall take any medicine, drug or substance, or use or submit to the use of any instrument or other means, with intent thereby to produce her own miscarriage, unless the same is necessary to preserve her life or that of the child whereof she is pregnant, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 948, § 197.]

§ 2450. Selling Drugs, etc.—Every person who shall manufacture, sell or give away any instrument, drug, medicine, or other substance, knowing or intending that the same may be unlawfully used in procuring the miscarriage of a woman, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 949, § 198.]

§ 2451. Evidence.—In any prosecution for abortion, attempting abortion, or selling drugs unlawfully, no person shall be excused from testifying as a witness on the ground that said testimony would tend to incriminate himself. [L. '09, p. 949, § 199.]

§ 2452. Concealing Birth.—Every person who shall endeavor to conceal the birth of a child by any disposition of its dead body, whether the child died before or after its birth, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 949, § 200.]

§ 2453. Bigamy Defined — How Punished — Exceptions.—Every person who, having a husband or wife living, shall marry another person, or continue to cohabit with such second husband or wife in this state, shall be guilty of bigamy and be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years: Provided, that this section shall not extend to a person—

(1.) Whose former husband or wife has been absent for five years exclusively then last past, without being known to him or her within that time to be living, and believed to be dead; or,

(2.) Whose former marriage has been pronounced void, annulled or dissolved by a court of competent jurisdiction. [L. '09, p. 949, § 201.]

§ 2454. Punishment of Consort.—Every person who shall knowingly enter into a bigamous marriage with another, or, after such marriage, continue to cohabit with such other, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 950, § 202.]

§ 2455. Incest.—Whenever any male and female persons, nearer of kin to each other than second cousins, computing by the rules of the civil law, whether of the half or the whole blood, shall have sexual intercourse together, both shall be guilty of incest and punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years. [L. '09, p. 950, § 203.]

Cited in 62 Wash. 687, 688; 86 Wash. 461–464.

§ 2456. Crime Against Nature.—Every person who shall carnally know in any manner any animal or bird; or who shall carnally know any male or female person by the anus, or with the mouth or tongue; or who shall voluntarily submit to such carnal knowledge; or who shall attempt sexual intercourse with a dead body, shall be guilty of sodomy and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years. [L. '09, p. 950, § 204.]

Cited in 66 Wash. 159.

§ 2457. Adultery.—Whenever any married woman shall have sexual intercourse with a man other than her husband, whether married or not, both shall be guilty of adultery and punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than two years or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars: Provided, that no prosecution for violation of this section shall be commenced except on complaint of the husband or wife, nor after one year from the commission of the offense. [L. '09, p. 950, § 205.]

§ 2459. Obscene Literature.—Every person who—

(1.) Shall sell, lend, or give away, or have in his possession with intent to sell, lend, give away or show any obscene or indecent book, magazine, pamphlet, newspaper, story paper, writing, picture, drawing, photograph, or any article or instrument of indecent or immoral character; or who shall design, copy, draw, photograph, print, utter, publish or otherwise prepare such a book, picture, drawing, paper or other article; or write or print any circular, advertisement or notice of any kind, or give oral information stating when, where, how or of whom such an indecent or obscene article or thing can be purchased or obtained; or,

(2.) Shall sell, lend, give away or have in his possession with intent to sell, lend, give away or show any book, pamphlet, magazine, newspaper or other printed paper devoted to the publication, or largely made up of criminal news, police reports, accounts of criminal deeds, or pictures and stories of deeds of bloodshed, lust or crime; or,

(3.) Shall exhibit within the view of any minor any of the books, papers or other things, hereinbefore enumerated; or,

(4.) Shall hire, use or employ; or having custody or control of his person shall permit any minor to sell, give away, or in any manner distribute any article hereinbefore mentioned; or,

(5.) Shall cause to be performed or exhibited, or engage in the performance or exhibition of any obscene, indecent or immoral show, act or performance;

Shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 951, § 207.]

§ 2460. Indecent Articles, etc.—Every person who shall expose for sale, loan or distribution, any instrument or article, or any drug or medicine, for the prevention of conception, or for causing unlawful abortion; or shall write, print, distribute, or exhibit any card, circular, pamphlet, advertisement or notice of any kind, stating when, where, how, or of whom such article or medicine can be obtained, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 951, § 208.]

§ 2461. Prohibited Publications.—Every person who shall publish, and every proprietor, manager or editor who shall permit to be published, in any book, newspaper, magazine or other printed publication circulated wholly or in part in this state—

(1.) Any detailed account of the commission or attempted commission of the crime of rape, carnal knowledge, seduction, adultery, sodomy or any other sexual crime, or of the trial of any person charged therewith; or,

(2.) Any detailed account of the execution of any person convicted of crime; or,

(3.) Any detailed statement of any evidence of indecent, obscene or immoral acts offered in any trial or proceeding; or,

(4.) Any interview with, advertisement for, communication from or account of the actions of any public prostitute, except upon a matter concerning public welfare;

Shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 952, § 209.]

§ 2462. Advertising Cures.—Every person who shall publish, and every proprietor, manager or editor who shall permit to be published in any publication whatever, and every person who shall cause to be displayed or distributed in any public manner any card or notice advertising any treatment or cure for any venereal disease or any disease or weakness of the sexual organs caused by sexual vice or abuse, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 952, § 210.]

See, also, infra, § 2710.

§ 2463. Advertising for Divorce Business.—Every person who shall cause to be published in any newspaper, magazine or other publication, or who shall cause or allow to be posted or distributed in any place frequented by the public any card or notice offering to procure or obtain, or to aid in procuring or obtaining any divorce or the dissolution or nullification of any marriage, or offering to appear or act as attorney or counsel in any suit for divorce, alimony, or the dissolution or nullification of any marriage, either in this state or elsewhere, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 952, § 211.]

§ 2464. Lotteries Defined—A Nuisance—Drawing, How Punished. A lottery is a scheme for the distribution of money or property by chance, among persons who have paid or agreed to pay a valuable consideration for the chance, whether it shall be called a lottery, raffle, gift enterprise, or by any other name, and is hereby declared unlawful and a public nuisance.

Every person who shall contrive, propose or draw a lottery, or shall assist in contriving, proposing or drawing a lottery, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 953, § 212.]

§ 2465. Selling Tickets, Advertising.—Every person who shall sell, give, or in any way whatever furnish or transfer to or for another, a ticket, chance, share or interest, or any paper, certificate or instrument purporting to be or to represent a ticket, chance, share or interest in, or dependent upon the event of, a lottery, to be drawn within or without the state; or who by writing, printing, circular or letter, or in any other way shall advertise or publish the account of a lottery in or out of the state, stating how, when or where the same is to be or has been drawn, or what are the prizes therein, or any of them, or the price of a ticket, or any share or interest therein, or where or how it may be obtained, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 953, § 213.]

§ 2466. Disposal of Property by Lottery — Keeping Office — Letting Building.—Every person who shall offer for sale or distribution in any way any real or personal property, or any interest therein, to be determined by lot or chance, dependent upon the drawing of a lottery in or out of the state; or who shall sell, furnish or procure in any manner a chance or share, or any interest in property offered for sale or distribution in violation of this section, or a ticket or other evidence of any such chance, share or interest; or who shall open, set up, or keep for himself or another, an office or place for registering the number of tickets in a lottery in or out of the state, or for making, receiving, or registering any bets or stakes for the drawing or result of such lottery; or who shall advertise or in any way publish any account of an opening, setting up, or keeping of such an office or place; or who shall knowingly let, or permit to be used, any building or portion thereof for any of the purposes specified in this subdivision;

§ 2467. Insuring Lottery Tickets—Advertising Offers to Insure.—Every person who shall insure, or receive any consideration for insuring, for or against the drawing of a ticket, share or interest in a lottery, or a number of such ticket, share or interest; or who shall receive any valuable consideration, upon an agreement to pay money or deliver property in the event that a ticket, share or interest, or a number of such a ticket, share or interest in a lottery shall prove fortunate or unfortunate, or shall be drawn or not drawn in a proper way or in a proper order; or who shall promise or agree or offer to pay money or deliver property, or to do or forbear to do any act for the benefit of any person, with or without consideration, upon any accident or contingency dependent upon the drawing thereof, or of any number or ticket therein, or who, by writing, printing, circular or letter, or in any way, shall advertise or publish an offer, notice or proposition in violation of the provisions of this section;

§ 2468. Lotteries Out of State—Advertisement by Nonresidents. The provisions of this subdivision are applicable to lotteries drawn, or to be drawn out of the state, whether authorized or not by the laws of the state or country where they are to be drawn, in the same manner as to those in the state, and every provision of law relating to advertising lotteries or offers to insure lottery tickets, shall be applicable, whenever the advertisement was published, or the letter or circular sent or delivered, through or in the state, though the person causing or procuring the same to be published, sent or delivered was out of the state at the time of so doing. [L. '09, p. 954, § 216.]

§ 2469. Conducting Gambling.—Every person who shall open, conduct, carry on or operate, whether as owner, manager, agent, dealer, clerk, or employee, and whether for hire or not, any gambling game or game of chance, played with cards, dice, or any other device, or any scheme or device whereby any money or property or any representative of either, may be bet, wagered or hazarded upon any chance, or any uncertain or contingent event, shall be a common gambler, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years. [L. '09, p. 955, § 217.]

§ 2470. Gambling.—Every person who shall bet, wager or hazard any money or property, or any representative of either, upon any game, scheme or device, opened, conducted, carried on or operated in violation of the last section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 955, § 218.]

Cited in 63 Wash. 37.

§ 2471. Swindling.—Every person who, by color, or aid of any trick or sleight-of-hand performance, or by any fraud or fraudulent scheme, cards, dice, or device, shall win for himself or for another any money or property, or representative of either, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years. [L. '09, p. 955, § 219.]

Cited in 72 Wash. 113.

§ 2472. Possession of Gambling Devices.—Every person who shall have in his possession or shall permit to be placed or kept in any building or boat, or part thereof, owned, leased or occupied by him, any table, slot machine, or any other article, device or apparatus of a kind commonly used for gambling, or operated for the losing or winning of any money or property, or any representative of either, upon any chance or uncertain or contingent event, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 955, § 220.]

§ 2473. Poolselling and Book-making.—Every person, whether acting in his own behalf, or as an agent, servant or employee of another person within or outside of this state, who shall sell any pool, make any book, or receive, record, register, transmit or forward any bet or wager, or any money or property or thing of value designed or intended to be bet, wagered or hazarded, upon the result of any contest or trial of skill, speed or endurance between men or beasts, whether such contest or trial take place within or outside of this state, or upon the result of any lot, chance, casualty, or uncertain or contingent event whatever, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years. [L. '09, p. 956, § 221.]

See, also, infra, § 2721.

§ 2474. Allowing Building to be Used.—Every person being in possession or control of any tent, building, float or vessel, or part thereof, who shall knowingly permit the same, or any part thereof, to be used for gambling, swindling, poolselling, or book-making, or for betting, wagering or hazarding money or property, or any representative of either, upon any game, scheme or device, or upon the result of any lot, chance, or uncertain or contingent event whatever, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 956, § 222.]

§ 2475. Bucket-shop Defined.—A bucket-shop is hereby defined to be a shed, tent, tenement, booth, building, float or vessel, or any part thereof, wherein may be made contracts respecting the purchase or sale upon margin or credit of any commodities, securities, or property, or option for the purchase thereof, wherein both parties intend that such contract shall or may be terminated, closed and settled; either;

(1.) Upon the basis of the market prices quoted or made on any board of trade or exchange upon which such commodities, securities or property may be dealt in; or,

(2.) When the market prices for such commodities, securities or property shall reach a certain figure in any such board of trade or exchange; or,

(3.) On the basis of the difference in the market prices at which said commodities, securities or property are, or purport to be, bought and sold. [L. '09, p. 956, § 223.]

§ 2476. Maintaining Bucket-shop — Penalty. — Every person, whether in his own behalf, or as agent, servant or employee of another person, within or outside of this state, who shall open, conduct or carry on any bucket-shop, or make or offer to make any contract described in the last section, or with intent to make such a contract, or assist therein, shall receive, exhibit, or display, any statement of market prices of any commodities, securities, or property, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years. [L. '09, p. 957, § 224.]

§ 2477. Written Statement to be Furnished — Presumption. — Every person, whether in his own behalf, or as the servant, agent or employee of another person, within or outside of this state, who shall buy or sell for another, or execute any order for the purchase or sale of any commodities, securities or property, upon margin or credit, whether for immediate or future delivery, shall, upon written demand therefor, furnish such principal or customer with a written statement containing the names of the persons from whom such property was bought, or to whom it has been sold, as the case may be, the time when, the place where, the amount of, and the price at which the same was either bought or sold; and if such person shall refuse or neglect to furnish such statement within forty-eight hours after such written demand, such refusal shall be prima facie evidence as against him that such purchase or sale was made in violation of section 2476. [L. '09, p. 957, § 225.]

§ 2478. Seizure and Disposition of Gambling Devices.—It shall be the duty of all peace officers to search for and seize all tables, slot machines, or other article, machine, device or apparatus of the kind commonly used for gambling, or operated for the winning or losing of money or property, or any representative of either, upon any chance or uncertain or contingent event, and all property useful in the operation or maintenance of a bucket-shop, and take the same before a magistrate. If in the judgment of such magistrate any of such articles may be useful as evidence in the trial of any case, he may order the same held for such trial or delivered to the prosecuting attorney; otherwise, he shall order the same to be forthwith destroyed. After the final hearing and disposition of any case in which any of said articles may be held or used as evidence, whether such case result in a conviction or acquittal, the magistrate or judge having jurisdiction of such case shall forthwith order all such articles destroyed. [L. '09, p. 957, § 226.]

§ 2479. Bunco-steering.—Every person who shall entice or induce another, upon any pretense, to go to any place where any gambling game, scheme or device, or any trick, sleight-of-hand performance, fraud or fraudulent scheme, cards, dice or device, is being conducted or operated; or while in such place shall entice or induce another to bet, wager or hazard any money or property, or representative of either, upon any such game, scheme, device, trick, sleight-of-hand performance, fraud or fraudulent scheme, cards, dice, or device, or to execute any obligation for the payment of money, or delivery of property, or to lose, advance, or loan any money or property, or representative of either, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years. [L. '09, p. 957, § 227.]

§ 2481. Pawnbrokers and Second-hand Dealers—Duty to Record Transactions.—It shall be the duty of every pawnbroker and second-hand dealer doing business in any city of the first class in this state to maintain in his place of business a book or other permanent record in which shall be legibly written in the English language, at the time of each loan, purchase or sale, a record thereof containing—

(1.) The date of the transaction;

(2.) The name of the person or employee conducting the same;

(3.) The name, age, street and house number, and a general description of the dress, complexion, color of hair, and facial appearance of the person with whom the transaction is had:

(4.) The name and street and house number of the owner of the property bought or received in pledge;

(5.) The street and house number of the place from which the property bought or received in pledge was last removed;

(6.) A description of the property bought or received in pledge, which in the case of watches shall contain the name of the maker and the number of both the works and the case, and in the case of jewelry shall contain a description of all letters and marks inscribed thereon: Provided, that when the article bought or received is furniture, or the contents of any house or room actually inspected on the premises, a general record of the transaction shall be sufficient;

(7.) The price paid or the amount loaned;

(8.) The names and street and house numbers of all persons witnessing the transaction; and

(9.) The number of any pawn ticket issued therefor. [L. '09, p. 959, § 229.]

Cited in 80 Wash. 173.

§ 2482. Inspection of Records and Goods.—Such record, and all goods received, shall at all times during the ordinary hours of business be open to the inspection of the prosecuting attorney or of any peace officer. [L. '09, p. 959, § 230.]

Cited in 80 Wash. 173.

§ 2483. Report to Chief of Police.—Every pawnbroker and second-hand dealer doing business in any city of the first and second class shall, before noon of each day, furnish to the chief of police of such city, on such forms as such chief of police may provide therefor, a full, true and correct transcript of the record of all transactions had on the preceding day, and having good cause to believe that any property in his possession has been previously lost or stolen, he shall forthwith report such fact to the chief of police, together with the name of the owner, if known, and the date when, and the name of the person from whom the same was received by him. [L. '09, p. 960, § 231.]

Cited in 80 Wash. 173.

§ 2484. Retention of Property.—No property bought or received in pledge by any pawnbroker or second-hand dealer shall be removed from his place of business, except when redeemed by the owner thereof, within four days after the receipt thereof shall have been reported to the chief of police as herein provided. [L. '09, p. 960, § 232.]

§ 2485. Penalty.—Every pawnbroker or second-hand dealer, and every clerk, agent or employee of such pawnbroker or second-hand dealer, who shall—

(1.) Fail to make an entry of any material matter in his book or record kept as provided for in section 2483; or,

(2.) Make any false entry therein; or,

(3.) Falsify, obliterate, destroy or remove from his place of business such book or record; or,

(4.) Refuse to allow the prosecuting attorney or any peace officer to inspect the same, or any goods in his possession, during the ordinary hours of business; or,

(5.) Report any material matter falsely to the chief of police; or,

(6.) Having forms provided therefor, shall fail before noon of each day to furnish the chief of police with a full, true and correct transcript of the record of all transactions had on the previous day, it being the intent of this section that Saturday's business may be reported on Monday; or,

(7.) Fail to report forthwith to the chief of police the possession of any property which he may have good cause to believe has been lost or stolen, together with the name of the owner, if known, and the date when, and the name of the person from whom the same was received by him; or,

(8.) Remove, or allow to be removed from his place of business, except upon redemption by the owner thereof, any property received, within four days after the receipt thereof shall have been reported to the chief of police; or,

(9.) Receive any property from any person under the age of twenty-one years, any common drunkard, any habitual user of narcotic drugs, any habitual criminal, any person in an intoxicated condition, any known thief or receiver of stolen property, or any known associate of such thief or receiver of stolen property, whether such person be acting in his own behalf or as the agent of another;

Shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 960, § 233.]

§ 2486. Rates of Interest and Sale of Pledged Property.—All pawnbrokers are authorized to charge and receive interest at the rate of three per cent a month for money loaned on the security of personal property actually received in pledge, and every person who shall ask or receive a higher rate of interest or discount on any such loan, or on any actual or pretended sale, or redemption of personal property, or who shall sell any property held for redemption within ninety days after the period for redemption shall have expired, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 961, § 234.]

See infra, § 6251, legal rate of interest .

§ 2487. "Pawnbroker" Defined.—Every person engaged, in whole or in part, in the business of loaning money on the security of pledges, deposits or conditional sales of personal property, shall be deemed to be a pawnbroker. [L. '09, p. 961, § 235.]

§ 2488. "Second-hand Dealer" Defined.—Every person engaged in whole or in part in the business of buying or selling second-hand personal property, metal junk, or melted metals, shall be deemed to be a second-hand dealer. [L. '09, p. 961, § 236.]

§ 2489. Rights of Sepulture—Dissection, When Permitted.—The right to dissect the dead body of a human being shall be limited to cases specially provided by statute or by the direction or will of the deceased; cases where a coroner is authorized to hold an inquest upon the body, and then only as he may authorize dissection; and cases where the husband, wife or next of kin charged by law with the duty of burial shall authorize dissection for the purpose of ascertaining the cause of death, and then only to the extent so authorized. Every person who shall make, cause or procure to be made any dissection of the body of a human being, except as hereinbefore provided, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 962, § 237.]

See, also, infra, § 8411.

§ 2490. Burial or Cremating.—Except in cases of dissection provided for in the last section, and where a dead body shall rightfully be carried through or removed from the state for the purpose of burial elsewhere, every dead body of a human being lying within this state, and the remains of any dissected body, after dissection, shall be decently buried, or cremated within a reasonable time after death. [L. '09, p. 962, § 238.]

See infra, § 5443, burial without permit.

§ 2491. Opening Grave—Stealing Body—Receiving Same.—Every person who shall remove the dead body of a human being, or any part thereof, from a grave, vault, or other place where the same has been buried or deposited awaiting burial or cremation, without authority of law, with intent to sell the same, or for the purpose of securing a reward for its return, or for dissection, or from malice or wantonness, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both.

Every person who shall purchase or receive, except for burial or cremation, any such dead body, or any part thereof, knowing that the same has been removed contrary to the foregoing provisions, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than three years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both.

Every person who shall open a grave or any other place of interment, temporary or otherwise, or a building where such dead body is deposited while awaiting burial or cremation, with intent to remove said body or any part thereof, for the purpose of selling or demanding money for the same, for dissection, from malice or wantonness, or with intent to sell or remove the coffin or of any part thereof, or anything attached thereto, or any vestment, or other article interred, or intended to be interred with the body, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than three years or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 962, § 239.]

§ 2492. Interfering With Dead Body or Funeral.—Every person who shall arrest or attach the dead body of a human being upon a debt or demand, or shall detain or claim to detain it for any debt or demand, or upon any pretended lien or charge; or who, without authority of law, shall obstruct or detain a person engaged in carrying or accompanying the dead body of a human being to a place of burial or cremation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 963, § 240.]

§ 2493. Opening Road Through Cemetery.—Every person who shall make or open any road, or construct any railway, turnpike, canal, or other public easement over, through, in, or upon, such part of any inclosure as may be used for the burial of the dead, without authority of law or the consent of the owner thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 963, § 241.]

§ 2494. Sabbath-breaking Defined.—Every person who, on the first day of the week, shall promote any noisy or boisterous sport or amusement, disturbing the peace of the day; or who shall conduct or carry on, or perform or employ any labor about any trade or manufacture, except livery-stables, garages and works of necessity or charity conducted in an orderly manner so as not to interfere with the repose and religious liberty of the community; or who shall open any drinking saloon, or sell, offer or expose for sale, any personal property, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that meals, without intoxicating liquors, may be served on the premises or elsewhere by caterers, and prepared tobacco, milk, fruit, confectionery, newspapers, magazines, medical and surgical appliances may be sold in a quiet and orderly manner. In works of necessity or charity is included whatever is needful during the day for the good order or health or comfort of a community; but keeping open a barber-shop, shaving or cutting hair shall not be deemed a work of necessity or charity, and nothing in this section shall be construed to permit the sale of uncooked meats, groceries, clothing, boots or shoes. [L. '09, p. 963, § 242.]

§ 2495. Obstructing View of Saloon.—Every person being the owner or manager of or an employee in any drinking saloon who shall obstruct the view of the inside thereof from the outside by means of any screen, shade or other devices on any day shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 964, § 243.]

§ 2496. Observance of Other Day.—It shall be a sufficient defense to a prosecution for performing work or labor on the first day of the week that the defendant uniformly keeps another day of the week as holy time and that the act complained of was done in such manner as [will] not disturb others in the observance of the Sabbath. [L. '09, p. 964, § 244.]

§ 2497. Service of Process on the Sabbath Prohibited.—Every person who shall serve any legal process on the Sabbath day, except in case of a breach, or apprehended breach, of the peace, or when sued out for the apprehension of a person charged with a crime, or where such service is expressly authorized by statute, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 964, § 245.]

§ 2498. Preventing Religious Act.—Every person who by threats or violence shall willfully prevent another person from performing any lawful act enjoined upon or recommended to him by the religion which he professes, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 965, § 246.]

§ 2499. Disturbing Religious Meeting.—Every person who shall willfully disturb, interrupt, or disquiet any assemblage of people met for religious worship—

(1.) By noisy, rude or indecent behavior, profane discourse, either within the place where such meeting is held, or so near it as to disturb the order and solemnity of the meeting; or,

(2.) By exhibiting shows or plays, or promoting any racing of animals, or gaming of any description, or engaging in any boisterous or noisy amusement; or,

(3.) By disturbing in any manner, without authority of law within one mile thereof, free passage along a highway to the place of such meeting, or by maliciously cutting or otherwise injuring or disturbing a harness, conveyance, tent or other property belonging to any person in attendance upon such meeting;

Shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 965, § 247.]

See, also, infra, § 2547.

CHAPTER VII.

Crimes Against Public Health and Safety.

§ 2500. Public Nuisance.—A public nuisance is a crime against the order and economy of the state. Every place

(1.) Wherein any gambling, swindling game or device, book-making, poolselling, or bucket-shop or any agency therefor shall be conducted, or any article, apparatus or device useful therefor shall be kept; or,

(2.) Wherein any fighting between men or animals or birds shall be conducted; or,

(3.) Wherein any intoxicating liquors are kept for unlawful use, sale or distribution; or,

(4.) Where vagrants resort; and

Every act unlawfully done and every omission to perform a duty, which act or omission

(1.) Shall annoy, injure or endanger the safety, health, comfort, or repose of any considerable number of persons; or,

(2.) Shall offend public decency; or,

(3.) Shall unlawfully interfere with, befoul, obstruct, or tend to obstruct, or render dangerous for passage, a lake, navigable river, bay, stream, canal or basin, or a public park, square, street, alley or highway; or,

(4.) Shall in any way render a considerable number of persons insecure in life or the use of property;

Shall be a public nuisance. [L. '09, p. 965, § 248.]

§ 2501. Unequal Damage.—An act which affects a considerable number of persons in any of the ways specified in section 2500, is not less a public nuisance because the extent of the damages is unequal. [L. '09, p. 966, § 249.]

§ 2502. Maintaining or Permitting Nuisance.—Every person who shall commit or maintain a public nuisance, for which no special punishment is prescribed; or who shall willfully omit or refuse to perform any legal duty relating to the removal of such nuisance; and every person who shall let, or permit to be used, any building or boat, or portion thereof, knowing that it is intended to be, or is being used, for committing or maintaining any such nuisance, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 966, § 250.]

§ 2503. Abatement of Nuisance.—Any court or magistrate before whom there may be pending any proceeding for a violation of section 2502, shall, in addition to any fine or other punishment which it may impose for such violation, order such nuisance abated, and all property unlawfully used in the maintenance thereof destroyed by the sheriff at the cost of the defendant. [L. '09, p. 966, § 251.]

§ 2504. Keeping Explosives Unlawfully.—Every person who shall make or keep any explosive or combustible substance in any city or village, or carry it through the streets thereof in a quantity, or manner prohibited by law, or by ordinance of such municipality; and every person who, by careless, negligent or unauthorized use or management of any such explosive or combustible substance, shall injure or cause injury to the person or property of another, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 966, § 252.]

See, also, infra, § 2403.

§ 2505. Possession of Uninspected Oils and Effacing Brands from Oil Barrels.—Every person who shall sell, or offer for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell, or who shall knowingly use for illuminating purposes, any oil, or other petroleum product, which shall not have been tested and approved by the state oil inspector, or who shall sell or dispose of any empty oil barrel, cask or package without thoroughly removing and effacing all inspection brands thereon, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 967, § 253.]

§ 2506. Transporting Explosives.—Any person who shall put up for sale, or who shall deliver to any warehouseman, dock, depot, or common carrier, any package, cask or can containing benzine, gasoline, naphtha, nitroglycerine, dynamite, powder or other explosive or combustible substance, without having printed thereon in a conspicuous place in large letters the word "Explosive," shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 967, § 254.]

§ 2507. Person Omitting to Label Drugs, or Labeling Them Wrongly.—Every person who, in putting up any drug, medicine, or food, or preparation used in medical practice, or making up any prescription, or filling any order for drugs, medicines, food or preparation shall put any untrue label, stamp or other designation of contents upon any box, bottle or other package containing a drug, medicine, food or preparation used in medical practice, or substitute or dispense a different article for or in lieu of any article prescribed, ordered, or demanded, or put up a greater or less quantity of any ingredient specified in any such prescription, order or demand than that prescribed, ordered, or demanded, or otherwise deviate from the terms of the prescription, order, or demand by substituting one drug for another, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, however, that, except in the case of physicians' prescriptions, nothing herein contained shall be deemed or construed to prevent or impair or in any manner affect the right of an apothecary, druggist, pharmacist or other person to recommend the purchase of an article other than that ordered, required or demanded, but of a similar nature, or to sell such other articles in place or in lieu of an article ordered, required or demanded, with the knowledge and consent of the purchaser. [L. '09, p. 967, § 255.]

§ 2508. Selling Poison Without Labeling and Recording the Sale. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell at retail or furnish any of the poisons named in the schedules hereinafter set forth, without affixing or causing to be affixed to the bottle, box, vessel or package, a label containing the name of the article and the word "poison" distinctly shown, with the name and place of business of the seller, all printed in red ink, together with the name of such poison printed or written thereon in plain, legible characters, which schedules are as follows, to wit:

SCHEDULE "A."

Arsenic, cyanide of potassium, hydrocyanic acid, cocaine, morphine, strychnia and all other poisonous vegetable alkaloids and their salts, oil of bitter almonds, containing hydrocyanic acid, opium and its preparations, except paregoric and such others as contain less than two grains of opium to the ounce.

SCHEDULE "B."

Aconite, belladona, cantharides, colchicum, conium, cotton root, digitalis, ergot, hellebore, henbane, phytolacca, strophanthus, oil of tansy, veratrum viride and their pharmaceutical preparations, arsenical solutions, carbolic acid, chloral hydrate, chloroform, corrosive sublimate, creosote, croton oil, mineral acids, oxalic acid, paris green, salts of lead, salts of zinc, white hellebore or any drug, chemical or preparation which, according to standard works on medicine or materia medica, is liable to be destructive to adult human life in quantities of sixty grains or less. Every person who shall dispose of or sell at retail or furnish any poisons included under schedule A shall, before delivering the same, make or cause to be made an entry in a book kept for that purpose, stating the date of sale, the name and address of the purchaser, the name and the quantity of the poison, the purpose for which it is represented by the purchaser to be required and the name of the dispenser, such book to be always open for inspection by the proper authorities, and to be preserved for at least five years after the last entry. He shall not deliver any of said poisons to any minor, intoxicated person, or person known to be of unsound mind, or to any person without satisfying himself that the purchaser is aware of its poisonous character and that the said poison is to be used for a legitimate purpose. The foregoing portions of this section shall not apply to the dispensing of medicines, or poisons on physicians' prescriptions. Wholesale dealers in drugs, medicines, pharmaceutical preparations or chemicals shall affix or cause to be affixed to every bottle, box, parcel or outer inclosure of an original package containing any of the articles enumerated under said schedule A, a suitable brand in red ink with the word "poison" upon it. Every person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 968, § 256.]

See infra, § 8458, sale of adulterated drugs.
See infra, § 8459, sale of poisons without recording.
See infra, § 5453, sale of adulterated articles prohibited.

§ 2509. Regulating the Sale of Narcotic Drugs.—It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, furnish or dispose of any opium, morphine, alkaloid cocaine, or alpha or beta eucaine, or any derivative, mixture or preparation of any of them, except upon the signed prescription of a physician duly licensed under the laws of this state, which prescription shall be retained by the person dispensing the same, shall be filled but once, and of which no copy shall be taken by any person. The person dispensing the same shall at the time thereof indorse on the back of such prescription the name and street and house number of the person to whom dispensed; and the proprietor or manager of the store where dispensed shall keep all such prescriptions in a permanent file, separate from all other prescriptions, in his place of business for the period of two years after the same shall have been dispensed, and shall at any time allow the same to be inspected, and copies thereof to be made by any peace officer, the prosecuting attorney of the county where sold, or any authorized inspector of drugs: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall prohibit any manufacturer or licensed druggist from selling or delivering any of the drugs named to a person known to be a licensed physician or licensed druggist, nor prohibit a physician from dispensing the same in good faith to his patients, nor prohibit the sale of patent or proprietary medicines containing opium or morphine, in combination or compound with other active elements wherein the dose of opium is less than one-quarter grain, or the dose of morphine is less than one-twentieth grain. Every person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 969, § 257.]

§ 2510. Fraudulent Prescription by Physician.—Every physician who shall sell or give to or prescribe for any person any opium, morphine, alkaloid cocaine, or alpha or beta eucaine, or any derivative, mixture or preparation of any of them, or any intoxicating liquor, except to a patient believed in good faith to require the same for medicinal use, and in quantities proportioned to the needs of such patient, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 970, § 258.]

See infra, § 8406, deception in treating sick.
See infra, § 8401, false personation by, a felony.
See infra, § 8400, practicing without a license.

§ 2511. Presenting Fraudulent Prescription.—Every person who shall falsely make, forge or alter, or, knowing the same to have been falsely made, forged or altered, shall present to any druggist a physician's prescription with intent by means thereof to procure from such druggist any opium, morphine, alkaloid cocaine, or alpha or beta eucaine, or any derivative, mixture or preparation of any of them, or any intoxicating liquor, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 970, § 259.]

§ 2512. Regulating the Sale of Milk and Cream in Cities.—Every person, firm or corporation, who, in any city of the first class, shall sell or deliver, or offer for sale, or have in his, their or its possession, with intent to sell or deliver, any milk or cream, without having a permit therefor duly issued by the commissioner of health, health officer or inspector of milk in such city, or without having such permit displayed in a conspicuous manner in his, their or its place of business, or without having the number of such permit and the name of the owner thereof or the name of the firm or corporation thereof, as the case may be, painted in a conspicuous manner on both outer sides of every wagon or other vehicle used for the sale or delivery of milk or cream by any such person, firm or corporation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '11, p. 61, § 1; L. '09, p. 971, § 260.]

See on this subject infra, § 5469.

§ 2513. Regulating the Sale of Milk and Cream Generally.—Every person who shall sell, or deliver, or offer for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell or deliver—

(1.) Any unwholesome milk or cream; or,

(2.) Any milk containing less than 8.75 per cent of milk solids, exclusive of fat, or less than 3.25 per cent of fat, except in the manner and under the conditions prescribed for the sale of skimmed milk; or,

(3.) Any skimmed milk, except under the title "skimmed milk" and in cans or bottles plainly stamped in some prominent and conspicuous manner with the words, "skimmed milk"; and every person who shall sell or serve or keep for sale or service in any hotel, restaurant or boarding-house any skimmed milk without having displayed in a conspicuous manner in every room where so sold or served, placards bearing in large letters the words, "Skimmed Milk Sold Here"; or,

(4.) Any skimmed milk containing less than 9.3 per cent of milk solids, exclusive of fat; or,

(5.) Any cream containing less than eighteen per cent of fat, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 971, § 261.]

Cited in 71 Wash. 200.

See, also, "Food."

§ 2514. "Unwholesome" Defined.—Milk or cream shall be deemed unwholesome in the following cases:

(1.) When any foreign substance has been added thereto or placed therein for the purpose of thickening, coloring or preserving the same; or,

(2.) When it contains any pathogenic bacteria or germs, pus cells, or blood cells; or,

(3.) When it contains more than two hundred thousand bacteria or germs of all kinds to the cubic centimetre; or,

(4.) When any water has been added thereto; or,

(5.) When any part of it has been drawn from a cow fed on refuse or unwholesome food; or,

(6.) When any part of it has been drawn from a dirty cow or cow kept in an unclean shed, barn or yard, or has been milked by unclean milkers; or,

(7.) When any part of it has been contaminated; or,

(8.) When any part of it has been drawn from an unhealthy cow; or,

(9.) When any part of it has been exposed to any contagious or infectious disease; or,

(10.) When any part of it has been drawn from a cow within ten days before or five days after parturition, or in any case before such cow shall be free from fever.

No milk or cream once unwholesome can thereafter be rendered wholesome or salable. [L. '09, p. 971, § 262.]

See, also, "Food."

§ 2515. "Skimmed Milk" Defined.—Any milk from which the cream has been removed or which contains less than 3.25 per cent. of butter fat shall be deemed to be "skimmed milk." [L. '09, p. 972, § 263.]

§ 2516. Willfully Poisoning Food.—Every person who shall willfully mingle poison in any food, drink or medicine intended or prepared for the use of a human being, and every person who shall willfully poison any spring, well or reservoir of water, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than five years, or by a fine of not less than one thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 972, § 264.]

§ 2517. Dangerous Weapons—Evidence.—Every person who shall manufacture, sell or dispose of or have in his possession any instrument or weapon of the kind usually known as slung shot, sand club, or metal knuckles; shall furtively carry, or conceal any dagger, dirk, knife, pistol, or other dangerous weapon; or who shall use any contrivance or device for suppressing the noise of any firearm, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 972, § 265.]

§ 2517-1. Aliens—Firearms Without License Prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any person who is not a citizen of the United States, or who has not declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, to carry or have in his possession at any time any shotgun, rifle or other firearm, without first having obtained a license from the state auditor, and said license is not to be issued by said state auditor except upon the certificate of the consul domiciled in the state of Washington and representing the country of such alien, that he is a responsible person and upon the payment for said license of the sum of fifteen dollars ($15); nothing in this section contained shall be construed to allow aliens to hunt or fish in this state without first having obtained a regular hunting or fishing license. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '11, p. 303, § 1.]

§ 2518. Setting Spring-gun.—Every person who shall set a so-called trap, spring pistol, rifle, or other deadly weapon, shall be punished as follows:

(1.) If no injury result therefrom to any human being, by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both.

(2.) If injuries not fatal result therefrom to any human being, by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than twenty years.

(3.) If the death of a human being results therefrom, by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than twenty years. [L. '09, p. 973, § 266.]

§ 2519. Obstruction of Extinguishment of Fire.—Every person who, with intent to prevent or obstruct the extinguishment of any fire, shall cut or remove any bell rope, wire or other apparatus for communicating an alarm of fire, or cut, injure or destroy any engine, hose, or other fire apparatus, and otherwise prevent or obstruct the extinguishment of any fire, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 973, § 267.]

§ 2520. Obstructing Firemen.—Every person who at the burning of any building shall be guilty of any disobedience to the lawful orders of a public officer or fireman or of resistance to or interference with the lawful efforts of any fireman, or company of firemen to extinguish the same, or of disorderly conduct likely to interfere with the extinguishment thereof, or who shall forbid, prevent or dissuade others from assisting to extinguish such fire, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 973, § 268.]

§ 2521. Smoking, Where Prohibited.—Every person who shall light a pipe, cigar or cigarette in, or who shall enter with a lighted pipe, cigar or cigarette, any mill or other building on which is posted in a conspicuous place over and near each principal entrance a notice in plain, legible characters, stating that no smoking is allowed in such building, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 974, § 269.]

§ 2522. Setting Prohibited Fire. — Every person who, within a county where there is a deputy fire-warden, shall burn any wood or brush between the 1st day of June and the 1st day of October in each year, without first obtaining a permit thereto from such deputy fire-warden, or who, in setting, guarding or extinguishing any fire in such wood or brush, shall willfully or negligently fail to observe any precaution prescribed by such deputy fire-warden, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall prevent any person from burning any logs, stumps, drift or brush heaps in small quantities isolated from other inflammable material under personal supervision and such other safeguard as shall prevent such fires from spreading. [L. '09, p. 974. § 270.]

See on this subject "Forests and Forest Fires."

§ 2523. Negligent Fires.—Every person who shall willfully or negligently set, or fail to carefully guard or extinguish any fire, whether on his own land or the land of another, whereby the timber or property shall be endangered, or who shall fail to respond to any lawful summons to aid in guarding or extinguishing any fire, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 974, § 271.]

§ 2525. Door of Public Buildings to Swing Outward.—The doors of all theaters, opera houses, school buildings, churches, public halls, or places used for public entertainments, exhibitions or meetings, which are used exclusively or in part for admission to or egress from the same, or any part thereof, shall be so hung and arranged as to open outwardly, and during any exhibition, entertainment or meeting, shall be kept unlocked and unfastened, and in such condition that in case of danger or necessity, immediate escape from such building shall not be prevented or delayed; and every agent or lessee of any such building who shall rent the same or allow it to be used for any of the aforesaid public purposes without having the doors thereof hung and arranged as hereinbefore provided, shall, for each violation of any provision of this section, be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 974, § 273.]

§ 2526. Engineer Who cannot Read.—Every person who, as an officer of a corporation or otherwise, shall knowingly employ as an engineer or engine driver, to run a locomotive or train on any railway, any person who cannot read time tables and ordinary handwriting; and every person who, being unable to read time tables and ordinary handwriting, shall act as an engineer or run a locomotive or train on any railway, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 975, § 274.]

§ 2527. Intoxication of Employees.—Every person who, being employed upon any railway, as engineer, motorman, gripman, conductor, switch-tender, fireman, bridge-tender, flagman or signalman, or having charge of stations, starting, regulating or running trains upon a railway, or being employed as captain, engineer or other officer of a vessel propelled by steam, or being the driver of any animal or vehicle upon any public highway, street, or other public place, shall be intoxicated while engaged in the discharge of any duties, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '15, p. 492, § 2. Cf. L. '09, p. 975, § 275.]

§ 2528. Failure to Ring Bell.—Every engineer driving a locomotive on any railway who shall fail to ring the bell or sound the whistle upon such locomotive, or cause the same to be rung or sounded at least eighty rods from any place where such railway crosses a traveled road or street on the same level (except in cities), or to continue the ringing of such bell or sounding of such whistle until such locomotive shall have crossed such road or street, shall be guilty of misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 975, § 276.]

§ 2529. Other Violations of Duty.—Every engineer, motorman, gripman, conductor, brakeman, switch-tender, train-dispatcher or other officer, agent or servant of any railway company, who shall be guilty of any willful violation or omission of his duty as such officer agent, or servant, by which human life or safety shall be endangered, for which no punishment is specially prescribed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 976, § 277.]

§ 2530. Obstructing and Delaying Train.—Every person who shall willfully obstruct, hinder or delay the passage of any car lawfully operated upon any railway, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 96, § 278.]

§ 2531. Speed of Automobile.—Every person who shall drive or operate, and every owner, lessee or other person in charge thereof who shall permit to be driven or operated, any automobile or motor vehicle on any public road, highway, park or parkway, street or avenue, within this state—

(1.) Within a thickly settled or business portion of any city or town, at a rate of speed faster than one mile in five minutes; or,

(2.) Over any crossing, cross-walk or street intersection within the limits of any city or town, when any person is upon the same, at a rate of speed faster than one mile in fifteen minutes; or,

(3.) At any other place, at a rate of speed faster than one mile in two and one-half minutes; or,

(4.) Upon any public road, highway, park or parkway, street or avenue, at any unsafe or unreasonable rate of speed, having proper regard to the safety of any other person or persons using the same, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 976, § 279.]

See, also, "Highways."

§ 2532. Liability of Person Handling Steamboat or Steam Boiler. Every person who shall apply, or cause to be applied to a steam boiler a higher pressure of steam than is allowed by law, or by an inspector, officer or person authorized to limit the same; every captain or other person having charge of the machinery or boiler in a steamboat used for the conveyance of passengers on the waters of this state, who, from ignorance or gross neglect, or for the purpose of increasing the speed of such boat, shall create or cause to be created an undue or unsafe pressure of steam; and every engineer or other person having charge of a steam boiler, steam engine or other apparatus for generating or employing steam, who shall willfully or from ignorance or gross neglect, create or allow to be created such an undue quantity of steam as to burst the boiler, engine or apparatus, or cause any other accident, whereby human life is endangered, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 977, § 280.]

§ 2533. Endangering Life by Refusal to Labor.—Every person who shall willfully and maliciously, either alone or in combination with others, break a contract of service or employment, knowing or having reasonable cause to believe that the consequence of his so doing will be to endanger human life or cause grievious bodily injury, or to expose valuable property to destruction or serious injury, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 977, § 281.]

§ 2534. Disturbance on Highway.—Every person who shall ride or drive any horse upon a public highway, in a manner likely to endanger the safety or life of another, or on such highway shall create or participate in any noise, disturbance or other demonstration calculated or intended to frighten, intimidate or disturb any person, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 977, § 282.]

See infra, §§ 2718, 2719, unlawful use of bridges.
See infra, § 2720, throwing glass on highway.

§ 2535. Dangerous Exhibitions.—Every proprietor, lessee or occupant of any place of amusement, or any plat of ground or building, who shall allow it to be used for the exhibition of skill in throwing any sharp instrument or in shooting any bow gun, pistol or firearm of any description, at or toward any human being, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 977, § 283.]

§ 2537. Deposit of Unwholesome Substance.—Every person who shall deposit, leave or keep, on or near a highway or route of public travel, on land or water, any unwholesome substance; or who shall establish, maintain or carry on, upon or near a highway or route of public travel, on land or water, any business, trade or manufacture which is noisome or detrimental to the public health; or who shall deposit or cast into any lake, creek or river, wholly or partly in this state, the offal from or the dead body of any animal, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 978, § 285.]

§ 2538. Allowing Vicious Animal at Large.—Every person having the care or custody of any animal known to possess any vicious or dangerous tendencies, who shall allow the same to escape or run at large in any place or manner liable to endanger the safety of any person, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and any person may lawfully kill such animal reasonably necessary to protect his own or the public safety. [L. '09, p. 978, § 286.]

§ 2539. Exposing Contagious Disease.—Every person who shall willfully expose himself to another, or any animal affected with any contagious or infectious disease, in any public place or thoroughfare, except upon his or its necessary removal in a manner not dangerous to the public health; and every person so affected who shall expose any other person thereto without his knowledge, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 978, § 287.]

See infra, § 5553, regulations as to tuberculosis in cities.

§ 2540. Diseased Animals.—Every owner or person having charge thereof, who shall import or drive into this state, or who shall turn out or suffer to run at large upon any highway or uninclosed lands, or upon any lands adjoining the inclosed lands kept by any person for pasture; or who shall keep or allow to be kept in any barn with other animals, or water or allow to be watered at any public drinking fountain or watering place, any animal having any contagious or infectious disease; or who shall sell, let or dispose of any such animal knowing it to be so diseased, without first apprising the purchaser or person taking it of the existence of such disease, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 978, § 288.]

§ 2541. Diseased Animals—Disposal of Carcasses.—Every person owning or having in charge any animal that has died or been killed on account of disease, shall immediately bury the carcass thereof at least three feet underground, or cause the same to be consumed by fire. No person shall sell or offer to sell or give away the carcass of any animal which died or was killed on account of disease, or convey the same along any public road or land not his own. Every violation of any provision of this section shall be a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 979, § 289.]

§ 2542. Polluting Water Supply.—Every person who shall deposit or suffer to be deposited in any spring, well, stream, river or lake, the water of which is or may be used for drinking purposes, or on any property owned, leased or otherwise controlled by any municipal corporation, corporation or person as a watershed or drainage basin for a public or private water system, any matter or thing whatever, dangerous or deleterious to health, or any matter or thing which may or could pollute the waters of such spring, well, stream, river, lake or water system, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 979, § 290.]

§ 2543. Furnishing Impure Water.—Every owner, agent, manager, operator or other person having charge of any waterworks furnishing water for public or private use, who shall knowingly permit any act or omit any duty or precaution by reason whereof the purity or healthfulness of the water supplied shall become impaired, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 979, § 291.]

§ 2544. Practicing Medicine Without a License.—Every person who shall practice medicine or surgery or dentistry without having obtained and filed in the office of the county clerk where he resides, a license as required by law, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 980, § 292.]

See infra, §§ 8400, 8411, practicing medicine without a license.
See infra, § 8421, practicing dentistry without a license.
See infra, §§ 8427, 8439, practicing veterinary without a license.

§ 2545. Unlicensed Pilotage.—Every person not duly licensed thereto, who shall pilot or offer to pilot any vessel into, within or out of the waters of Juan de Fuca Strait or Puget Sound, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that nothing herein shall prohibit a master of a vessel acting as his own pilot, nor compel a master or owner of any vessel to take out a pilot license for that purpose. [L. '09, p. 980, § 293.]

See infra, §§ 8243-8245, piloting without a license.

CHAPTER VIII.

Crimes Against the Public Peace.

§ 2546. Armed Association.—It shall not be lawful for any body of men other than the National Guard or troops of the United States, to associate themselves together as a military company with arms, without the consent of the governor; but members of social and benevolent associations are not prohibited from wearing swords. Every person who shall associate with others in violation of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 980, § 294.]

§ 2547. Disturbing Meeting.—Every person who, without [authority] of law, shall willfully disturb any assembly or meeting not unlawful in its character, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 980, § 295.]

See supra, § 2499, disturbing religious meeting.
See infra, § 4697, disturbing school.

§ 2548. Riot Defined.—Whenever three or more persons, having assembled for any purpose, shall disturb the public peace by using force or violence to any other person, or to property, or shall threaten or attempt to commit such disturbance, or to do any unlawful act by the use of force or violence, accompanied with the power of immediate execution of such threat or attempt, they shall be guilty of a riot. [L. '09, p. 980, § 296.]

(1.) If the purpose of the assembly or the acts done therein, or intended by the persons engaged, shall be to resist the enforcement of a statute of this state or of the United States, or to obstruct any public officer of this state or the United States in serving or executing any process or other mandate of a court, or in the performance of any other duty, or if at the time of the riot the offender shall carry a firearm or any other dangerous weapon, or shall be disguised, by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars.

(2.) If the offender shall direct, advise, encourage or solicit other persons present or participating in a riot or assembly to acts of force or violence, by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than two years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars.

(3.) In every other case, by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 981, § 297.]

§ 2550. Unlawful Assembly.—Whenever three or more persons shall assemble with intent—

(1.) To commit any unlawful act by force; or,

(2.) To carry out any purpose in such manner as to disturb the public peace; or,

(3.) Being assembled, shall attempt or threaten any act tending toward a breach of the peace, or an injury to persons or property, or any unlawful act—such an assembly is unlawful, and every person participating therein by his presence, aid or instigation, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 981, § 298.]

§ 2551. Remaining After Warning.—Every person who shall remain present at the place of an unlawful meeting after having been warned to disperse by a magistrate or public officer, unless as a public officer or at the request of such officer he is assisting in dispersing the same, or in protecting persons or property or in arresting offenders, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 981, § 299.]

§ 2552. Destruction of Property.—Whenever any of the persons so unlawfully assembled, shall pull down or destroy any dwelling-house or other building, or any shop, steamboat or vessel, he shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 982, § 300.]

§ 2553. Disguised and Masked Persons.—Any assemblage of three or more persons, disguised by having their faces painted, discolored, colored or concealed, shall be unlawful; and every person so disguised present thereat, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor; but nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting any peaceful assemblage for a masquerade or fancy dress ball or entertainment. [L. '09, p. 982, § 301.]

§ 2554. Owner of Premises Allowing Masqueraders.—Every person, being the owner, lessee or occupant of any building, boat, or part thereof, who shall knowingly permit therein any unlawful assemblage of masked persons, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 982, § 302.]

§ 2556. Prize-fighting—Aiding, Betting or Stake-holding.—Every person who shall engage in, instigate, aid, encourage, or do any act to further an encounter or fight with or without weapons, between two or more persons, or a fight commonly called a ring or prize-fight, or an encounter commonly called a sparring match, with or without gloves, or who shall send a challenge or acceptance of a challenge for such an encounter or fight; or who shall carry or deliver such a challenge or acceptance, or shall train or assist any person in training or preparing for such an encounter or fight; or who shall bet, stake or wager money or other property upon the result of such encounter or fight; or hold or undertake to hold any money or other property so staked or wagered, to be delivered to, or for the benefit of the winner thereof, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to interfere with members of private clubs sparring or fencing for exercise among themselves. [L. '09, p. 982, § 304.]

§ 2557. Apprehension of Persons About to Fight.—Whenever it shall be made to appear to any magistrate that there are reasonable grounds to apprehend that an offense specified in section 2556 is about to be committed within his jurisdiction, or by any person therein, he shall issue his warrant for the arrest of the person or persons so about to offend, and if upon any such person being brought before him it shall appear that there is reasonable ground to believe that he is about to commit such an offense he shall require him to give bond to the state, approved by him, in a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, with or without sureties, conditioned that such person shall not within one year thereof commit such an offense. On failure to furnish such bond such person shall be committed to the county jail. [L. '09, p. 983, § 305.]

§ 2558. Forcible Entry and Detainer.—Every person who shall unlawfully use, or encourage or assist another in unlawfully using, any force or violence in entering upon or detaining any lands or other possessions of another; and every person who, having removed or been removed therefrom pursuant to the order or direction of any court, tribunal or officer, shall afterward return to settle or reside unlawfully upon or take possession of, such lands or possessions, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 983, § 306.]

§ 2559. Aiming or Discharging Firearms.—Every person who shall aim any gun, pistol, revolver or other firearm, whether loaded or not, at or toward any human being, or who shall willfully discharge any firearm, air-gun or other weapon, or throw any deadly missile in a public place, or in any place where any person might be endangered thereby, although no injury result, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 984, § 307.]

§ 2560. Use of Firearms by Minor.—No minor under the age of fourteen years shall handle or have in his possession or under his control, except while accompanied by or under the immediate charge of his parent or guardian, any firearm of any kind for hunting or target practice or for other purposes. Every person violating any of the foregoing provisions, or aiding or knowingly permitting any such minor to violate the same, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 984, § 308.]

§ 2561. Offenses in Public Conveyances.—Every person who shall willfully use profane, offensive, or indecent language or engage in any quarrel in any public conveyance, or interfere with or annoy any passenger therein, or, having refused to pay the proper fare, shall fail to leave any such conveyance upon demand, or, with intent to avoid the payment of fare shall ride upon any car or engine not commonly used for the carriage of passengers, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 984, § 309.]

§ 2562. Criminal Anarchy Defined.—Criminal anarchy is the doctrine that organized government should be overthrown by force or violence, or by assassination of the executive head or of any of the executive officials of government, or by any unlawful means. The advocating of such doctrine either by word of mouth or writing is a felony. [L. '09, p. 984, § 310.]

§ 2563. Advocacy of Criminal Anarchy.—Every person who—

(1.) By word of mouth or writing shall advocate, advise or teach the duty, necessity or propriety of overthrowing or overturning organized government by force or violence, or by assassination of the executive head or of any of the executive officials of government, or by any unlawful means; or

(2.) Shall print, publish, edit, issue or knowingly circulate, sell, distribute or publicly display any book, paper, document, or written or printed matter in any form, containing or advocating, advising or teaching the doctrine that organized government should be overthrown by force, violence or any unlawful means; or

(3.) Shall openly, willfully and deliberately justify by word of mouth or writing the assassination or unlawful killing or assaulting of any executive or other officer of the United States or of any state or of any civilized nation having an organized government because of his official character, or any other crime, with intent to teach, spread or advocate the propriety of the doctrines of criminal anarchy; or

(4.) Shall organize or help to organize or become a member of or voluntarily assemble with any society, group or assembly of persons formed to teach or advocate such doctrine,

§ 2564. Publishing Matter Inciting Breach of Peace.—Every person who shall willfully print, publish, edit, issue, or knowingly circulate, sell, distribute or display any book, paper, document, or written or printed matter, in any form, advocating, encouraging or inciting, or having a tendency to encourage or incite the commission of any crime, breach of the peace or act of violence, or which shall tend to encourage or advocate disrespect for law or for any court or courts of justice, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 985, § 312.]

Cited in 71 Wash. 186.

§ 2565. Liability of Editors and Others.—Every editor or proprietor of a book, newspaper or serial and every manager of a partnership or incorporated association by which a book, newspaper or serial is issued, is chargeable with the publication of any matter contained in such book, newspaper or serial. But in every prosecution therefor, the defendant may show in his defense that the matter complained of was published without his knowledge or fault and against his wishes by another who had no authority from him to make the publication, and was retracted by him as soon as known. [L. '09, p. 985, § 313.]

§ 2566. Assemblages of Anarchists.—Whenever two or more persons assemble for the purpose of advocating or teaching the doctrines of criminal anarchy, as defined in section 2562, such an assembly is unlawful, and every person voluntarily participating therein by his presence, aid or instigation, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or both. [L. '09, p. 986, § 314.]

§ 2567. Permitting Premises to be Used for Assemblages of Anarchists.—Every owner, agent, superintendent, janitor, caretaker or occupant of any place, building or room, who shall willfully and knowingly permit therein any assemblage of persons prohibited by section 2566, or who, after notification that the premises are so used, shall permit such use to be continued, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 986, § 315.]

§ 2568. Witness' Privilege.—No person shall be excused from giving evidence upon an investigation or prosecution for any of the offenses specified in sections 2563 or 2566, upon the ground that the evidence might tend to criminate himself. [L. '09, p. 986, § 316.]

CHAPTER IX.

Crimes Against Property.

§ 2569. Misappropriation and Falsification of Accounts by Public Officer.—Every public officer, and every other person receiving money on behalf or for or on account of the people of the state or of any department of the state government or of any bureau or fund created by law in which the people are directly or indirectly interested, or for or on account of any county, city, town or any school, diking, drainage or irrigation district, who—

(1.) Shall appropriate to his own use or the use of any person not entitled thereto, without authority of law, any money so received by him as such officer or otherwise; or

(2.) Shall knowingly keep any false account, or make any false entry or erasure in any account, of or relating to any money so received by him; or

(3.) Shall fraudulently alter, falsify, conceal, destroy or obliterate any such account; or

(4.) Shall willfully omit or refuse to pay over to the state, its officer or agent authorized by law to receive the same, or to such county, city, town or such school, diking, drainage or irrigation district or to the proper officer or authority empowered to demand and receive the same, any money received by him as such officer when it is a duty imposed upon him by law to pay over and account for the same, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than fifteen years. [L. '09, p. 986, § 317.]

§ 2570. Other Violations by Officers.—Every officer or other person mentioned in section 2569, who shall willfully disobey any provision of law regulating his official conduct in cases other than those specified in said section, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 987, § 318.]

§ 2571. Misappropriation, etc., by Treasurer.—Every state, county, city or town treasurer who shall willfully misappropriate any moneys, funds or securities received by or deposited with him as such treasurer, or who shall be guilty of any other malfeasance or willful neglect of duty in his office, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 987, § 319.]

See infra, § 9032, embezzlement by state treasurer.
See § 2569, misappropriation by public officer.

§ 2572. Arson—First Degree.—Every person who shall willfully—

(1.) Burn or set on fire in the night-time the dwelling-house of another, or any building in which there shall be at the time a human being; or

(2.) Set any fire manifestly dangerous to any human life, shall be guilty of arson in the first degree and be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than five years. [L. '09, p. 987, § 320.]

§ 2573. Arson—Second Degree.—Every person who, under circumstances not amounting to arson in the first degree, shall willfully burn or set on fire any building, or any structure or erection appurtenant to or adjoining any building, or any wharf, dock, threshing-machine, threshing-engine, bridge or trestle, or any hay, grain, crop or timber, whether cut or standing, or any lumber, shingle or other timber products, shall be guilty of arson in the second degree, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 988, § 321.]

§ 2574. Contiguous Fires.—Whenever any building or structure which may be the subject of arson in either the first or second degree shall be so situated as to be manifestly endangered by any fire and shall subsequently be set on fire thereby, any person participating in setting such fire shall be deemed to have participated in setting such building or structure on fire. [L. '09, p. 988, § 322.]

§ 2575. "Set on Fire" Defined.—A building, structure or any property mentioned in section 2573 shall be deemed "set on fire," whenever any part thereof or anything therein shall be scorched, charred or burned. [L. '09, p. 988, § 323.]

§ 2576. Ownership of Building.—To constitute arson it shall not be necessary that another person than the defendant should have had ownership in the building or structure set on fire. [L. '09, p. 988, § 324.]

§ 2577. Preparation is Attempt.—Any willful preparation made by any person with a view to setting fire to any building or structure shall be deemed to be an attempt to commit the crime of arson, and shall be punished as such. [L. '09, p. 988, § 325.]

§ 2578. Burglary—First Degree.—Every person who, with intent to commit some crime therein, shall enter in the night-time, the dwelling-house of another in which there shall be at the time a human being—

(1.) Being armed with a dangerous weapon; or

(2.) Arming himself therein with such weapon; or

(3.) Being assisted by a confederate actually present; or

(4.) Who, while engaged in the night-time in effecting such entrance, or in committing any crime in such building or in escaping therefrom, shall assault any person; or

(5.) Who, with intent to commit some crime therein, shall break and enter any bank, postoffice, railway express or railway mail-car, shall be guilty of burglary in the first degree and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than five years. [L. '09, p. 989, § 326.]

Cited in 61 Wash. 414.

§ 2579. Burglary—Second Degree.—Every person who, with intent to commit some crime therein shall, under circumstances not amounting to burglary in the first degree, enter the dwelling-house of another or break and enter, or, having committed a crime therein, shall break out of, any building or part thereof, or a room or other structure wherein any property is kept for use, sale or deposit, shall be guilty of burglary in the second degree and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than fifteen years. [L. '09, p. 989, § 327.]

Cited in 61 Wash. 414.

§ 2580. Presumption of Intent.—Every person who shall unlawfully break and enter or unlawfully enter any building or structure enumerated in sections 2578 and 2579 shall be deemed to have broken and entered or entered the same with intent to commit a crime therein, unless such unlawful breaking and entering or unlawful entry shall be explained by testimony satisfactory to the jury to have been made without criminal intent. [L. '09, p. 989, § 328.]

Cited in 82 Wash. 48.

§ 2581. Crime in Building—Punished Separately.—Every person who, in the commission of a burglary shall commit any other crime, shall be punished therefor as well as for the burglary, and may be prosecuted for each crime separately. [L. '09, p. 990, § 329.]

§ 2582. Making or Having Burglar Tools.—Every person who shall make or mend or cause to be made or mended, or have in his possession in the day or night-time, any engine, machine, tool, false key, pick lock, bit, nippers or implement adapted, designed or commonly used for the commission of burglary, larceny or other crime, under circumstances evincing an intent to use or employ, or allow the same to be used or employed in the commission of a crime, or knowing that the same is intended to be so used, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. The possession thereof except by a mechanic, artificer or tradesman at and in his established shop or place of business, open to public view, shall be prima facie evidence that such possession was had with intent to use or employ or allow the same to be used or employed in the commission of a crime. [L. '09, p. 990, § 330.]

§ 2583. Forgery—First Degree.—Every person who, with intent to defraud, shall forge any writing or instrument by which any claim, privilege, right, obligation or authority, or any right or title to property, real or personal, is or purports to be, or upon the happening of some future event may be, evidenced, created, acknowledged, transferred, increased, diminished, encumbered, defeated, discharged or affected, or any request for the payment of money or delivery of property or any assurance of money or property, or any writing or instrument for the identification of any person, or any public record or paper on file in any public office, or any certified or authenticated copy of such record or paper, or any entry in any public or private record of account, or any judgment, decree, order, mandate, return, writ or process of any court, tribunal, judge, justice of the peace, commissioner or magistrate, or the official return or report of, or a license issued by, any public officer, or any pleading, demurrer, motion, affidavit, appearance, notice, cost-bill, statement of facts, bill of exceptions or proposed statement of facts, or bill of exceptions in any action or proceeding whether pending or not, or the draft of any bill or resolution that has been presented to either house of the legislature of this state, whether engrossed or not, or the great seal of this state, the seal of any public officer, court, notary public or corporation, or any public seal authorized or recognized by the laws of this or any other state or government, or any impression of any such seal; or shall forge or counterfeit any coin or money of any state or government, or any bank or treasury bill, any note or postage or revenue stamp; or who, without authority shall make or engrave any plate in the form or similitude of any writing, instrument, seal, coin, money, stamp or thing which may be the subject of forgery, shall be guilty of forgery in the first degree, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than twenty years. [L. '09, p. 990, § 331.]

§ 2584. False Certificate to Certain Instruments.—Every officer authorized to take a proof or acknowledgment of an instrument which by law may be recorded, who shall willfully certify falsely that the execution of such instrument was acknowledged by any party thereto, or that the execution thereof was proved, shall be guilty of forgery in the first degree. [L. '09, p. 991, § 332.]

§ 2585. Forgery—Second Degree.—Every person who, with intent to injure or defraud shall—

(1.) Make any false entry in any public or private record or account; or

(2.) Fail to make a true entry of any material matter in any public or private record or account; or

(3.) Forge any letter or written communication or copy or purported copy thereof, or send or deliver, or connive at the sending or delivery of any false or fictitious telegraph message or copy or purported copy thereof, whereby or wherein the sentiments, opinions, conduct, character, purpose, property, interests or rights of any person shall be misrepresented or may be injuriously affected, or, knowing any such letter, communication or message or any copy or purported copy thereof to be false, shall utter or publish the same or any copy or purported copy thereof as true, shall be guilty of forgery in the second degree, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 991, § 333.]

§ 2586. Falsely Indicating Person as Corporate Officer.—The false making or forging of any instrument or writing purporting to have been issued by or in behalf of a corporation or association, state or government and bearing the pretended signature of any person therein falsely indicated as an agent or officer of such corporation, association, state or government, is forgery in the same degree as if that person were in truth such officer or agent of such corporation, association, state or government. [L. '09, p. 992, § 334.]

§ 2587. Uttering Forged Instruments, Coins, etc., Forgery.—Every person who, knowing the same to be forged or altered, and with intent to defraud, shall utter, offer, dispose of or put off as true, or have in his possession with intent so to utter, offer, dispose of or put off any forged writing, instrument or other thing, the false making, forging or altering of which is punishable as forgery, shall be guilty of forgery in the same degree as if he had forged the same. [L. '09, p. 992, § 335.]

Cited in 72 Wash. 395.

§ 2588. True Writing Signed by Wrongdoer's Name.—Whenever the false making or uttering of any instrument or writing is forgery in any degree, every person who, with intent to defraud shall offer, dispose of or put off such an instrument or writing subscribed or indorsed in his own name or that of any other person, whether such signature be genuine or fictitious, under the pretense that such subscription or indorsement is the act of another person of the same name, or that of a person not in existence, shall be forgery in the same degree. [L. '09, p. 992, § 336.]

§ 2539. Misconduct in Signing a Petition.—Every person who shall willfully sign the name of another person or of a fictitious person, or for any consideration, gratuity or reward shall sign his own name to or withdraw his name from any referendum or other petition circulated in pursuance of any law of this state or any municipal ordinance; or in signing his name to such petition shall willfully subscribe to any false statement concerning his age, citizenship, residence or other qualifications to sign the same; or knowing that any such petition contains any such false or wrongful signature or statement, shall file the same, or put the same off with intent that it should be filed, as a true and genuine petition, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 993, § 337.]

§ 2590. Definitions.—Within the provisions of this subdivision relating to forgery, a "written instrument," or a "writing," shall include an instrument partly written and partly printed or wholly printed with a written signature thereto, or any signature or writing purporting to be a signature of or intended to bind an individual, partnership, corporation or association or an officer thereof.

The words "forge," "forgery," "forged," and "forging," shall include false making, "counterfeiting" and the alteration, erasure or obliteration of a genuine instrument in whole or in part, the false making or counterfeiting of the signature of a party or witness, real or fictitious, and the placing or connecting together with intent to defraud, of different parts or the whole of several genuine instruments.

A plate is in the "form and similitude," of the genuine instrument forged, if the finished parts of the engraving thereupon shall resemble or conform to the similar parts of the genuine instrument. [L. '09, p. 993, § 338.]

§ 2591. Possession of Counterfeit Coin.—Every person who shall have in his possession a counterfeit of any gold or silver coin, whether of the United States or any foreign country or government, knowing the same to be counterfeit, with intent to sell, utter, use, circulate or export the same as true or as false, or to cause the same to be so uttered or used, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 994, § 339.]

§ 2592. Advertising Counterfeit Money.—Every person who, with intent to defraud, shall print, circulate or distribute a letter, circular, card, pamphlet, handbill or any other written or printed matter offering or purporting to offer for sale, exchange or as a gift, counterfeit coin or paper money, or giving or purporting to give information where counterfeit coin or paper money can be procured, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 994, § 340.]

false pretense, representation, token or writing shall obtain from any club, association, society or company for the improvement of the breed of cattle, horses, sheep, swine, fowls or other domestic animals or birds, a certificate of registration of any animal or bird in a herd-book, or other register of any such association, society or company, or a transfer of any such registration, and every person who shall knowingly represent an animal or bird for breeding purposes to be of a greater degree of any particular strain of blood than such animal actually possesses, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 994, § 341.]

§ 2594. Removing Lawful Brands.—Every person who shall willfully deface, obliterate, remove or alter any mark or brand placed by or with the authority of the owner thereof on any shingle-bolt, log or stick of timber, or on any horse, mare, gelding, mule, cow, steer, bull, sheep, goat or hog, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both fine and imprisonment. [L. '09, p. 994, § 342.]

§ 2595. Imitating Lawful Brand.—Every person who, in any county, shall place upon any property, any brand or mark in the likeness or similitude of another brand or mark filed with the county auditor of such county by the owner thereof as a brand or mark for the designation or identification of a like kind of property, shall—

(1.) If done with intent to confuse or commingle such property with, or to appropriate to his own use, the property of such other owner, be guilty of a felony, and be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both fine and imprisonment; or

(2.) If done without such intent, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 995, § 343.]

§ 2596. Counterfeiting Trademark, Brand, etc.—Every person who shall use or display or have in his possession with intent to use or display, the genuine label, trademark, term, design, device, or form of advertisement of any person, corporation, association or union, lawfully filed for record in the office of the secretary of state, or the exclusive right to use which is guaranteed to any person, corporation, association or union, by the laws of the United States, without the written authority of such person, corporation, association or union, or who shall willfully forge or counterfeit or use or display or have in his possession with intent to use or display any representation, likeness, similitude, copy or imitation of any genuine label, trademark, term, design, device, or form of advertisement, so filed or protected, or any die, plate, stamp or other device for manufacturing the same, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 995, § 344.]

See infra, §§ 9492-9495, 9502, counterfeiting and unlawful use of trademarks, etc.

See infra, §§ 7096, 7097, counterfeiting marks and brands on logs.

§ 2597. Displaying Goods With False Trademark.—Every person who shall knowingly sell, display or advertise, or have in his possession with intent to sell, any goods, wares, merchandise, mixture, preparation or compound having affixed thereto any label, trademark, term, design, device, or form of advertisement lawfully filed for record in the office of the secretary of state by any person, corporation, association or union, or the exclusive right to the use of which is guaranteed to such person, corporation, association or union under the laws of the United States, which label, trademark, term, design, device or form of advertisement shall have been used or affixed thereto without the written authority of such person, counterfeit representation, likeness, similitude, copy or imitation thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 996, § 345.]

§ 2598. When Deemed Affixed.—A label, trademark, term, design, device or form of advertisement shall be deemed to be affixed to any goods, wares, merchandise, mixture, preparation or compound whenever it is in any manner placed in or upon either the article itself, or the box, bale, barrel, bottle, case, cask or other vessel or package, or the cover, wrapper, stopper, brand, label or other thing in, by or with which the goods are packed, inclosed or otherwise prepared for sale or distribution. [L. '09, p. 996, § 346.]

§ 2600. Form and Similitude, Defined.—A plate, label, trademark, term, design, device or form of advertisement is in the form and similitude of the genuine instrument imitated if the finished parts of the engraving thereupon shall resemble or conform to the similar parts of the genuine instrument. [L. '09, p. 996, § 348.]

§ 2601. Larceny.—Every person who, with intent to deprive or defraud the owner thereof—

(1) Shall take, lead or drive away the property of another; or

(2.) Shall obtain from the owner or another the possession of or title to any property, real or personal, by color or aid of any order for the payment or delivery of property or money or any check or draft, knowing that the maker or drawer of such order, check or draft was not authorized or entitled to make or draw the same, or by color or aid of any fraudulent or false representation, personation or pretense or by any false token or writing or by any trick, device, bunco game or fortune-telling; or

(3) Having any property in his possession, custody or control, as bailee, factor, pledgee, servant, attorney, agent, employee, trustee, executor, administrator, guardian or officer of any person, estate, association or corporation, or as a public officer, or a person authorized by agreement or by competent authority to take or hold such possession, custody or control, or as a finder thereof, shall secrete, withhold or appropriate the same to his own use or to the use of any person other than the true owner or person entitled thereto; or

(4) Having received any property by reason of a mistake, shall with knowledge of such mistake secrete, withhold or appropriate the same to his own use or to the use of any person other than the true owner or person entitled thereto; and

(5) Every person who, knowing the same to have been so appropriated, shall bring into this state, or buy, sell, receive or aid in concealing or withholding any property wrongfully appropriated, whether within or outside of this state, in such manner as to constitute larceny under the provisions of this act—

Steals such property and shall be guilty of larceny. [L. '15, p. 493, § 3. Cf. L. '09, p. 997, § 349.]

§ 2601–1. Taking Motor Vehicle Without Permission. — Every person who shall without the permission of the owner or person entitled to the possession thereof intentionally take or drive away any automobile or motor vehicle, whether propelled by steam, electricity or internal combustion engine, the property of another, shall be deemed guilty of a gross misdemeanor and every person voluntarily riding in or upon said automobile or motor vehicle with knowledge of the fact that the same was unlawfully taken shall be equally guilty with the person taking or driving said automobile or motor vehicle and shall be deemed guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '15, p. 459, § 1.]

§ 2601–2. Unlawful Issuance of Bank Checks or Drafts.—Any person who shall with intent to defraud make, or draw, or utter, o.

deliver to another person any check, or draft, on a bank or other depository for the payment of money, knowing at the time of such drawing, or delivery, that he has not sufficient funds in, or credit with said bank or depository, to meet said check, in full upon its presentation, shall be guilty of larceny. The word "credit" as used herein shall be construed to mean an arrangement or understanding with the bank for the payment of such check or draft, and the uttering or delivery of such a check or draft to another person without such fund or credit to meet the same shall be prima facie evidence of an intent to defraud. [L. '15, p. 460, § 1.]

See, also, supra, § 2601.

§ 2602. Commission or Part Ownership No Defense.—It shall be no defense to a prosecution for larceny that the accused was entitled to a commission out of the money or property appropriated, as compensation for collecting or receiving the same for or on behalf of the owner thereof, or that the money or property appropriated was partly the property of another and partly the property of the accused; but it shall not be larceny for any bailee, factor, pledgee, servant, attorney, agent, employee, or trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, officer or other person to retain his reasonable collection fee or charges. [L. '09, p. 998, § 350.]

§ 2603. Sale of Mortgaged Property — When Larceny.—Every person who shall sell or mortgage any personal property which is at the time mortgaged or upon which any lien has been or may lawfully be filed, without informing the purchaser or mortgagee thereof, before the payment of the purchase price or money loaned, of the several amounts of all such mortgages and liens, shall be deemed to have made a false representation within the meaning of section 2601, subdivision 2. [L. '09, p. 998, § 351.]

See infra, §§ 2629, 3669, removal of mortgaged property.

§ 2604. Contractor Failing to Pay for Labor or Material.—Every person having entered into a contract to supply any labor or materials for the value or price of which any lien might lawfully be filed upon the property of another, who shall receive the full price or consideration thereof, or the amount of any account stated thereon, shall be deemed within the meaning of section 2601, subdivision 3, to receive the same as the agent of the party with whom such contract was made, his successor or assign, for the purpose of paying all claims for labor and materials supplied. [L. '09, p. 998, § 352.]

§ 2605. Grand Larceny—Penalty.—Every person who shall steal or unlawfully obtain, appropriate, bring into this state, buy, sell, receive, conceal or withhold in any manner specified in section 2601—

(1.) Property of any value by taking the same from the person of another or from the body of a corpse; or

(2.) Property of any value by taking the same from any building that is on fire or by taking the same after it has been removed from a building in consequence of an alarm of fire; or

(3.) A record of a court or officer, or a writing, instrument or record kept, filed or deposited according to law with or in the keeping of any public officer or officers; or

(4.) From any range or pasture, any horse, mare, gelding, foal or filly, ass or mule, one or more head of neat cattle or any sheep; or

(5.) Property of the value of more than twenty-five dollars, in any manner whatever,

Shall be guilty of grand larceny and be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than fifteen years.

Every other larceny shall be petit larceny and shall be a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 998, § 353.]

§ 2606. Value—How Ascertained.—The value of all instruments not having a market value, whether issued or delivered or not, by which any claim, privilege, right, obligation or authority or any right or title to property, real or personal, is, or purports to be, or upon the happening of some future event may be, evidenced, created, acknowledged, transferred, increased, diminished, encumbered, defeated, discharged or affected, shall be deemed to be the amount of money due thereon or secured to be paid thereby and unpaid, or which in any contingency might be collected thereon or thereby, or the value of the property transferred or affected or the title to which is shown thereby, or the sum which might be recovered for the want thereof, as the case may be. In every other case not otherwise regulated by statute, "value" shall be deemed to mean market value. [L. '09, p. 999, § 354.]

§ 2607. Stealing Railway Tickets.—If any person in the employ of a railway or steamboat company shall fraudulently neglect to cancel or to return to the proper officer or agent of such company, any ticket, coupon or pass, with intent to permit the same to be used in fraud of any railway or steamboat company, or if any person shall steal or fraudulently stamp, print, sign, sell or put into circulation any such ticket, coupon or pass, he shall be guilty of larceny. [L. '09, p. 1000, § 355.]

§ 2608. Claim of Title—When Ground of Defense.—In any prosecution for larceny it shall be a sufficient defense that the property was appropriated openly and avowedly under a claim of title preferred in good faith, even though the claim be untenable. [L. '09, p. 1000, § 356.]

Cited in 77 Wash. 439.

§ 2609. Restoration of Stolen Property—Duty of Officers.—The officer arresting any person charged as principal or accessory in any robbery or larceny shall use reasonable diligence to secure the property alleged to have been stolen, and after seizure shall be answerable therefor while it remains in his hands, and shall annex a schedule thereof to his return of the warrant.

Whenever the prosecuting attorney shall require such property for use as evidence upon the examination or trial, such officer, upon his demand, shall deliver it to him, and take his receipt therefor, after which such prosecuting attorney shall be answerable for the same. [L. '09, p. 1000, § 357.]

§ 2610. Extortion.—Every person, who, under circumstances not amounting to robbery, shall extort or gain any money, property or advantage, or shall induce or compel another to make, subscribe, execute, alter or destroy any valuable security or instrument or writing affecting or intended to affect any cause of action or defense, or any property, by means of force or any threat, either—

(1.) To accuse any person of a crime; or

(2.) To do any injury to any person or to any property; or

(3.) To publish or connive at publishing any libel; or

(4.) To expose or impute to any person any deformity or disgrace; or

(5.) To expose any secret,

Shall be guilty of extortion and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years. [L. '09, p. 1000, § 358.]

Cited in 67 Wash. 89.

§ 2611. Oppression Under Color of Office.—Every officer, or person pretending to be such, who unlawfully and maliciously, under pretense or color of official authority, shall—

(1.) Arrest another or detain him against his will; or

(2.) Seize or levy upon another's property; or

(3.) Dispossess another of any lands or tenements; or (4.) Do any act whereby another person shall be injured in his person, property or rights, commits oppression, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

(5.) No officer or person having the custody and control of the body or liberty of any person under arrest, shall refuse permission to such arrested person to communicate with his friends or with an attorney, nor subject any person under arrest to any form of personal violence, intimidation, indignity or threats for the purpose of extorting from such person incriminating statements or a confession. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1001, § 359.]

Cited in 68 Wash. 245.

§ 2612. Extortion by Public Officer.—Every public officer who shall ask or receive, or agree to receive a fee or other compensation for his official service, either—

(1.) In excess of the fee or compensation allowed to him by statute therefor; or

(2.) Where no fee or compensation is allowed to him by statute therefor, commits extortion, and is guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1001, § 360.]

§ 2613. Blackmail.—Every person who, with intent thereby to extort or gain any money or other property or to compel or induce another to make, subscribe, execute, alter or destroy any valuable security or instrument or writing affecting or intending to affect any cause of action or defense, or any property, or to influence the action of any public officer, or to do or abet or procure any illegal or wrongful act, shall threaten directly or indirectly—

(1.) To accuse any person of a crime; or

(2.) To do any injury to any person or to any property; or

(3.) To publish or connive at publishing any libel; or

(4.) To expose or impute to any person any deformity or disgrace; or

(5.) To expose any secret,

Shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both fine and imprisonment. [L. '09, p. 1002, § 361.]

§ 2614. Coercion.—Every person who, with intent to compel another to do or abstain from doing any act which such other person has a right to do, or abstain from doing, shall wrongfully and unlawfully—

(1.) Use violence or inflict injury upon such other person or any of his family, or upon his property, or threaten such violence or injury; or

(2.) Deprive such person of any tool, implement or clothing, or hinder him in the use thereof; or

(3.) Attempt to intimidate such person by threats or force,

Shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1002, § 362.]

§ 2615. Falsely Personating Another.—Every person who shall falsely personate another, and in such assumed character, shall—

(1.) Marry or pretend to marry or sustain the marriage relation toward another; or

(2.) Become bail or surety for a party in an action or special proceeding, civil or criminal, before a court or officer authorized to take such bail or surety; or

(3.) Confess a judgment; or

(4.) Subscribe, verify, publish, acknowledge or approve a written instrument which by law may be recorded, with intent that the same may be delivered or issued as true; or

(5.) Appear for arraignment, trial or judgment in any criminal proceeding; or

(6.) Do any other act in the course of any action or proceeding wherein, if it were done by the person falsely personated such person might in any event become liable to an action or special proceeding, civil or criminal, or to pay a sum of money, or to incur a charge, forfeiture, or penalty, or whereby any benefit might accrue to the offender or to any other person,

Shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years. [L. '09, p. 1003, § 363.]

§ 2616. Personating an Officer.—Every person who shall falsely personate a public officer, civil or military, or a policeman, or a private individual having special authority by law to perform an act affecting the rights or interests of another, or who, without authority shall assume any uniform or badge by which such an officer or person is lawfully distinguished, and in such assumed character shall do any act purporting to be official, whereby another is injured or defrauded, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1003, § 364.]

§ 2617. Use of False Permit, License or Diploma.—Every person who shall conduct any business or perform any act under color of, or file for record with any public officer, any false or fraudulent permit, license, diploma or writing, or any permit, license, diploma or writing not lawfully belonging to such person, or who shall obtain any permit, license, diploma or writing by color or aid of any false representation, pretense, personation, token or writing, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1003, § 365.]

§ 2618. Concealing Foreign Matter in Merchandise.—Every person who, with intent to defraud, shall place or conceal any foreign substance in any barrel, bag, bale, box or other package containing any article of merchandise, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1004, § 366.]

color or aid of any false token or writing or other false pretense, representation or presentation, obtain the signature of any person to a written instrument, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years or in the county jail for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both fine and imprisonment. [L. '09, p. 1004, § 367.]

§ 2620. False Representation Concerning Credit.—Every person who, with intent thereby to obtain credit or financial rating, shall willfully make any false statement in writing of his assets or liabilities to any person with whom he may be either actually or prospectively engaged in any business transaction or to any commercial agency or other person engaged in the business of collecting or disseminating information concerning financial or commercial ratings, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1004, § 368.]

§ 2621. False Representation Concerning Title.—Every person who shall maliciously or fraudulently execute or file for record any instrument, or put forward any claim, by which the right or title of another to any real property is, or purports to be transferred, encumbered or clouded, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1004, § 369.]

§ 2622. Publishing False Statement to Affect Market Price.—Every person who, with intent to affect the market price of any security or property shall put off, circulate or publish any false or misleading writing, statement or intelligence, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1005, § 370.]

§ 2622-1. False Advertising.—Any person, firm, corporation or association who, with intent to sell or in any wise dispose of merchandise, securities, service, or anything offered by such person, firm, corporation or association, directly or indirectly, to the public for sale or distribution, or with intent to increase the consumption thereof, or to induce the public in any manner to enter into any obligation relating thereto, or to acquire title thereto, or an interest therein, makes, publishes, disseminates, circulates, or places before the public, or causes, directly or indirectly, to be made, published, disseminated, circulated, or placed before the public in this state, in a newspaper or other publication, or in the form of a book, notice, handbill, poster, bill, circular, pamphlet, or letter, or in any other way, an advertisement of any sort regarding merchandise, securities, service, or anything so offered to the public, which advertisement contains any assertion, representation or statement of fact which is untrue, deceptive or misleading, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to any owner, publisher, agent, or employee of a newspaper for the publication of such advertisement published in good faith and without knowledge of the falsity thereof. [L. '13, p. 91, § 1.]

§ 2623. Obtaining Employment by False Letter or Certificate.—Every person who shall obtain employment or appointment to any office or place of trust, by color or aid of any false or forged letter or certificate of recommendation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1005, § 371.]

§ 2624. Fraud by Employment Agent.—Every employment agent or broker who, with intent to influence the action of any person thereby, shall misstate or misrepresent verbally, or in any writing or advertisement, any material matter relating to the demand for labor, the conditions under which any labor or service is to be performed, the duration thereof or the wages to be paid therefor, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1005, § 372.]

§ 2625. Frauds on Innkeeper.—Every person who shall obtain any food, lodging or accommodation at any hotel, restaurant, boarding-house or lodging-house without paying therefor, with intent to defraud the proprietor or manager thereof, or who shall obtain credit at a hotel, restaurant, boarding-house or lodging-house by color or aid of any false pretenses, representation, token or writing, or who after obtaining board, lodging or accommodation at a hotel, restaurant, boarding-house or lodging-house shall abscond or surreptitiously remove his baggage therefrom without paying for such food, lodging or accommodation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1005, § 373.]

§ 2626. Improper Use of Insignia.—Every person who shall willfully wear the badge, button, insignia or rosette of any military order or of any secret order or society, or any similitude thereof; or who shall use any such badge, button, insignia or rosette to obtain aid or assistance, or any other benefit or advantage, unless he shall be entitled to so wear or use the same under the constitution, by-laws, rules and regulations of such order or society, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1005, § 374.]

§ 2627. Fraudulently Presenting Claim to Public Officer.—Every person who, with the intent to defraud, shall knowingly present for audit, allowance or payment to any officer or board of the state or of any county, city, town or school district, authorized to audit, allow or pay bills, claims or charges, any false or fraudulent claim, account, writing or voucher or any bill, account or demand containing false or fraudulent charges, items or claims, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1005, § 375.]

§ 2628. Fraud by Bailee of Animal.—Every person who shall obtain from another the possession or use of any horse or other draft animal or any vehicle or automobile, without paying therefor, with intent to defraud the owner thereof, or who shall obtain the possession or use thereof by color or aid of any false or fraudulent representation, pretense, token or writing, or shall obtain credit for such use by color or aid of any false or fraudulent representation, pretense, token or writing; or who having hired property, shall recklessly, willfully, wantonly or by gross negligence injure or destroy or cause, suffer, allow or permit the same, or any part thereof, to be injured or destroyed; or who, having hired any horse or other draft animal upon an understanding or agreement that the same shall be ridden or driven a specified distance or to a specified place, shall willfully and fraudulently ride or drive or cause, permit or allow the same to be ridden or driven a longer distance, or to a different place, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1006, § 376.]

§ 2629. Destruction or Removal of Mortgaged Property.—Every person being in possession thereof, who shall remove, conceal or destroy or connive at or consent to the removal, concealment or destruction of any personal property or any part thereof, upon which a mortgage, lien, conditional sales contract or lease exists, in such a manner as to hinder, delay or defraud the holder of such mortgage, lien or conditional sales contracts, or such lessor, or who, with intent to hinder, delay or defraud the holder of such mortgage, lien or conditional sales contract, or such lessor, shall sell, remove, conceal or destroy or connive at or consent to the removal, concealment or destruction of such property, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

In any prosecution under this section any allegation containing a description of the mortgage, lien, conditional sales contract or lease by reference to the date thereof and names of the parties thereto, shall be sufficiently definite and certain. [L. '09, p. 1006, § 377.]

See, supra, § 2603, sale of mortgaged property.
See infra, §§ 3669, 3672, removal of mortgaged personalty.

§ 2629-1. Removal of Timber from Land Delinquent for Taxes.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to remove any timber from timbered lands, no portion of which is occupied for farming purposes by the owner thereof, upon which taxes are delinquent until the taxes thereon have been paid. [L. '13, p. 346, § 1.]

§ 2629-2. Penalty.—Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor and punished accordingly. [L. '13, p. 346, § 2.]

"This act" refers to this and the preceding section.

§ 2630. Mock Auctions.—Every person who shall obtain any money or property from another or shall obtain the signature of another to any writing the false making of which would be forgery, by color or aid of any false or fraudulent sale of property or pretended sale of property by auction, or by any of the practices known as mock auction, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years or in the county jail for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both fine and imprisonment.

Every person who shall buy or sell or pretend to buy or sell any goods, wares or merchandise, exposed to sale by auction, if an actual sale, purchase and change of ownership therein does not thereupon take place, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1007, § 378.]

§ 2631. Fraudulent Removal of Property.—Every person who, with intent to defraud a prior or subsequent purchaser thereof, or to prevent any of his property being made liable for the payment of any of his debts, or levied upon by an execution or warrant of attachment, shall remove any of his property, or secrete, assign, convey or otherwise dispose of the same, or with intent to defraud a creditor shall remove, secrete, assign, convey or otherwise dispose of any of his books or accounts, vouchers or writings in any way relating to his business affairs, or destroy, obliterate, alter or erase any of such books of account, accounts, vouchers or writing or any entry, memorandum or minute therein contained, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1007, § 379.]

§ 2632. Knowingly Receiving Fraudulent Conveyance. — Every person who shall receive any property or conveyance thereof from another, knowing that the same is transferred or delivered to him in violation of, or with the intent to violate section 2631, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1008, § 380.]

§ 2633. Fraud in Assignment for Benefit of Creditors.—Every person who, having made, or being about to make, a general assignment of his property to pay his debts, shall by color or aid of any false or fraudulent representation, pretense, token or writing induce any creditor to participate in the benefits of such assignments, or to give any release or discharge of his claim or any part thereof, or shall connive at the payment in whole or in part of any false, fraudulent or fictitious claim, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1008, § 381.]

§ 2634. Willful Destruction of Vessel.—Every person who shall wreck, burn, sink, scuttle or otherwise injure or destroy a vessel or its cargo, or willfully permit the same to be done, with the intent to prejudice or defraud an insurer or any other person, or who shall fit out a vessel, or shall load any cargo on board thereof with intent to permit or cause the same to be wrecked, sunk or otherwise injured or destroyed, and thereby defraud or prejudice an insurer or other person, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than twenty years. [L. '09, p. 1008, § 382.]

§ 2635. Making False Manifest, Invoice, etc.—Every person who shall prepare, make or subscribe a false or fraudulent manifest, invoice, bill of lading, ship's register, or protest, with intent to defraud another, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 1009, § 383.]

§ 2636. Fraudulent Destruction of Insured Property.—Every person who, with intent to defraud or prejudice the insurer thereof, shall willfully injure or destroy any property not specified or included hereinbefore in this subdivision, which is insured at the time against loss or damage by fire or other causality [casualty], shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 1000, § 384.]

"This subdivision" in this section refers to §§ 2634 to 2636, inclusive.

§ 2637. Using False Weights and Measures.—Every person who shall injure or defraud another by using, with knowledge that the same is false, a false weight, measure or other apparatus for determining the quantity of any commodity or article of merchandise, or by knowingly misrepresenting the quantity thereof bought or sold; or who shall retain in his possession any weight or measure, knowing it to be false, unless it appears beyond a reasonable doubt that it was so retained without intent to use it or permit it to be used in violation of the foregoing provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1009, § 385.]

See, also, "Weights and Measures."
See infra, § 7087, weights of lumber and shingles.

§ 2638. Fraud in Stock Subscription.—Every person who shall sign the name of a fictitious person to any subscription for or any agreement to take stock in any corporation existing or proposed, and every person who shall sign to any such subscription or agreement the name of any person, knowing that such person does not intend in good faith to comply with the terms thereof, or upon any understanding or agreement that the terms of such subscription or agreement are not to be complied with or enforced, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1009, § 386.]

See infra, §§ 3339, 3340, false pretenses as to incorporation.

§ 2639. Fraudulent Issue of Stock, Scrip, etc. — Every officer, agent or other person in the service of a joint stock company or corporation, domestic or foreign, who, willfully and knowingly with intent to defraud, shall—

(1.) Sell, pledge or issue or cause to be sold, pledged or issued, or sign or execute or cause to be signed or executed, with intent to sell, pledge or issue, or cause to be sold, pledged or issued, any certificate or instrument purporting to be a certificate or evidence of ownership of any share or shares of such company or corporation, or any conveyance or encumbrance of real or personal property, contract, bond, or evidence of debt, or writing purporting to be a conveyance or encumbrance of real or personal property, contract, bond or evidence of debt of such company or corporation, without being first duly authorized by such company or corporation, or contrary to the charter or laws under which such company or corporation exists, or in excess of the power of such company or corporation, or of the limit imposed by law or otherwise upon its power to create or issue stock or evidence of debt; or,

(2.) Reissue, sell, pledge or dispose of, or cause to be reissued, sold, pledged or disposed of, any surrendered or canceled certificate or other evidence of the transfer of ownership of any such share or shares:

§ 2640. Insolvent Bank Receiving Deposit.—Every owner, officer, stockholder, agent or employee of any person, firm, corporation or association engaged, wholly or in part, in the business of banking or receiving money or negotiable paper or securities on deposit or in trust, who shall accept or receive, with or without interest, any deposit, or who shall consent thereto or connive thereat, when he knows or has good reason to believe that such person, firm, corporation or association is unsafe or insolvent, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 1010, § 388.]

See infra, § 3729, foreign corporation doing business without registration.

§ 2642. False Report of Corporation.—Every director, officer or agent of any corporation or joint stock association, and every person engaged in organizing or promoting any enterprise, who shall knowingly make or publish or concur in making or publishing any written prospectus, report, exhibit or statement of its affairs or pecuniary condition, containing any material statement that is false or exaggerated, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars. [L. '09, p. 1011, § 390.]

See note to section 2640.

§ 2643. Warehouseman or Carrier Refusing to Issue Receipt.—Every person or corporation, and every officer, agent and employee thereof, receiving any goods, wares or merchandise, for sale or on commission, for storage, carriage or forwarding, who, having an opportunity to inspect the same, shall fail or refuse to deliver to the owner thereof a receipt duly signed, bearing the date of issuance, describing the goods, wares or merchandise received and the quantity, quality and condition thereof, and specifying the terms and conditions upon which they are received, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1011, § 391.]

See infra, § 9503–14, issuing unlawfully.

§ 2644. Fictitious Bill of Lading and Receipt.—Every person or corporation engaged wholly or in part in the business of a common carrier or warehouseman, and every officer, agent or employee thereof, who shall issue any bill of lading, receipt or other voucher by which it shall appear that any goods, wares or merchandise have been received by such carrier or warehouseman, unless the same have been so received and shall be at the time actually under his control, or who shall issue any bill of lading, receipt or voucher containing any false statement concerning any material matter, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. But no person shall be convicted under this section for the reason that the contents of any barrel, box, case, cask or other closed vessel or package mentioned in the bill of lading, receipt or voucher did not correspond with the description thereof in such instrument, if such description corresponds substantially with the mark on the outside of such barrel, box, case, cask, vessel or package, unless it appears that the defendant knew that such marks were untrue. [L. '09, p. 1012, § 392.]

§ 2645. Warehouseman Fraudulently Mixing Goods.—Every person mentioned in section 2644, who shall fraudulently mix or tamper with any goods, wares or merchandise under his control, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1012, § 393.]

§ 2646. Duplicate Receipt.—Every person mentioned in section 2644, who shall issue any second or duplicate receipt or voucher of the kind specified in said section, while a former receipt or voucher for the goods, wares or merchandise specified in such second receipt is outstanding and uncanceled, without writing across the face of the same the word "Duplicate," in a plain and legible manner, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1012, § 394.]

§ 2647. Bill of Lading or Receipt must be Canceled on Redelivery of Property.—Each person mentioned in section 2644, who shall deliver to another any goods, wares or merchandise for which a bill of lading, receipt or voucher has been issued, unless such bill of lading, receipt or voucher is surrendered and canceled or a lawful and sufficient bond or undertaking is given therefor at the time of such delivery, or unless, in case of a partial delivery, a memorandum thereof is indorsed upon such bill of lading, receipt or voucher, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1013, § 395.]

§ 2648. Regulating Sale of Passage Tickets.—It shall be the duty of every person or corporation engaged wholly or in part in the business of carrying passengers for hire, to provide every agent authorized to sell its passage tickets in this state, with a certificate of his authority, attested by its seal and the signature of its manager, secretary or general passenger agent, which shall contain a designation of the place of business at which such authority shall be exercised.

Every person and every corporation or association, and every officer, agent or employee thereof who shall sell, exchange or transfer, or have in his possession with intent to sell, exchange or transfer, or maintain, conduct or operate any office or place of business for the sale, exchange or transfer of any passage ticket or pass or part thereof, or any other evidence of a right to travel upon any railroad or boat, whether the same be owned or operated within or without the limits of this state, in any place except his place of business, or within such place of business without having rightfully in his possession and posted in a conspicuous place therein the certificate of authority hereinabove provided for, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1013, § 396.]

See infra, §§ 8720–8724, sale of railroad tickets.

§ 2649. Redemption of Unused Passage Ticket.—Every person or corporation engaged wholly or in part in the business of carrying passengers for hire in this state, and every authorized ticket agent thereof, to whom there shall be presented by the holder thereof, within one year after its expiration, any passage ticket or part thereof, or other evidence of right to travel, wholly or in part upon the railroad or boat of such person or corporation, which shall be wholly or partially unused, who shall fail to redeem the same within three days after presentation, upon the following terms, to wit:

(1.) When wholly unused, for the price paid therefor; and

(2.) When partially unused, for the price paid therefor, less the regular toll or charge for the passage had;

Shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, and in addition thereto shall forfeit to the holder of such ticket or part thereof or other evidence of a right to travel, three times the redeemable value thereof. [L. '09, p. 1013, § 397.]

See infra, §§ 8725, 8726, redemption of unsold railroad tickets.

§ 2650. Malicious Mischief — Injury to Railway.—Every person who, in such manner as might, if not discovered, endanger the safety of any engine, motor, car or train, or any person thereon, shall in any manner interfere or tamper with or obstruct any switch, frog, rail, roadbed, sleeper, viaduct, bridge, trestle, culvert, embankment, structure or appliance pertaining to or connected with any railway, or any train, engine, motor, or car on such railway; and every person who shall discharge any firearm or throw any dangerous missile at any train, engine, motor or car on any railway, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than twenty-five years. [L. '09, p. 1014, § 398.]

§ 2651. Attempt to Commit Train Robbery.—Every person who, with intent to commit any robbery, burglary or larceny, shall go upon or board any train, motor, car or engine; mask, extinguish or alter any light or other signal; exhibit or compel any other person to exhibit any false light or signal; or stop any such train, car or engine or slacken the speed thereof or compel or attempt to compel any other person in charge or control thereof to stop such train, car or engine or slacken the speed thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than five years. [L. '09, p. 1014, § 399.]

§ 2652. Endangering Life and Property by Explosives.—Every person who shall maliciously place any explosive substance or material in, upon, under, against or near any building, car, vessel, railroad track or structure, in such manner or under such circumstances as to destroy or injure the same if exploded, shall be guilty of a felony, and if the circumstances and surroundings are such that the safety of any person might be endangered by the explosion thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than twenty years; and in every other case by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years. [L. '09, p. 1015, § 400.]

See supra, § 2403, killing by explosives unlawfully kept.
See supra, § 2504, keeping explosives unlawfully.
See supra, § 2506, transporting explosives.

§ 2653. Damaging Building, etc., by Explosion.—Every person who shall maliciously, by the explosion of gunpowder or any other explosive substance or material, destroy or damage any building, car, vessel, railroad track or structure, shall be punished as follows:

(1.) If thereby the life or safety of a human being is endangered, by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than twenty years.

(2.) In every other case by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than five years. [L. '09, p. 1015, § 401.]

§ 2654. False Signals for Vessels, etc.—Every person who, in such manner as might, if not discovered, endanger a vessel, railway engine, motor, train or car, shall show, mask, extinguish, alter or remove any light or signal, or exhibit any false light or signal, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years. [L. '09, p. 1015, § 402.]

§ 2655. Injury to United States Light.—Every person who shall willfully break, injure, deface or destroy any lighthouse station, post, platform, step, lamp or other structure pertaining to such lighthouse station, or shall extinguish or tamper with any light erected by the United States upon or along the navigable waters of this state to aid in the navigation thereof, in case no punishment is provided therefor by the laws of the United States, shall be punished as follows:

(1.) Whenever such act may endanger the safety of any vessel navigating such waters, or jeopardize the safety of any person or property in or upon such vessel, by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years.

(2.) In all other cases by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '09, p. 1015, § 403.]

§ 2656. Injuring Public Utilities.—Every person who shall willfully or maliciously remove, damage or destroy:

(1.) A highway or a private way laid out by authority of law, or a bridge upon such public or private road, or willfully or maliciously causes to be placed thereon any substance or thing dangerous to any person or animal traveling thereon or which might injure or puncture the tire of any vehicle; or,

(2.) A pile or other material fixed in the ground and used for securing any bank or dam of any river or other water, or any dike, dock, quay, jetty or lock; or,

(3.) A buoy or beacon lawfully placed in any waters within this state; or,

(4.) A tree, rock, post or other monument erected or marked for the purpose of designating a point on the boundary of the state, of a county, city, town or a farm, tract or lot of land, or any mark or inscription thereon; or,

(5.) A mile-board, mile-stone or guide-post erected upon a highway, or any inscription thereon; or,

(6.) A telegraph, telephone or electric transmission line or any part thereof, or any appurtenance thereto, or apparatus connected with the operation thereof; or,

(7.) A fence, gate, cattle-guard, bridge, water-tank, mile-post, car, engine, motor or other useful structure on the line of any railway; or,

(8.) A pipe or main for conducting gas, water or oil, or any works erected for the purpose of supplying buildings therewith, or any appurtenance or appendage thereto; or,

(9.) A sewer or drain, or a pipe or main connected therewith or forming a part thereof; or,

(10.) A ditch or flume lawfully erected for carrying water or draining land; or,

(11.) Any engine, hose, hose-cart, truck, ladder, extinguisher or other apparatus used by any fire company or fire department, or any rope, wire, bell, signal, instrument or apparatus for the communication of alarms of fire or police calls; or,

(12.) Any public building, or building used for educational, scientific, charitable or religious purpose, or any useful or ornamental thing therein; or,

(13.) Any work of literature or art or copy thereof, object of curiosity or scientific interest, statue, picture or engraving, displayed, kept or erected in any public building, street, park or other public place or in any collection, exhibition, museum, fair, gallery or library, or in any building devoted to educational, scientific, charitable or religious purposes; or,

(14.) A monument erected in any cemetery, street, park or other public place; or,

(15.) A sign or notice erected or posted by any officer under lawful authority, or by the owner or occupant of the premises where posted; or,

(16.) A legal notice or other legal paper posted in compliance with the requirement of any statute of this state, or under the direction or order of a court; and,

Every person—

(17.) Who shall moor any vessel, scow, barge, raft or boom to any bridge or to any buoy or beacon lawfully in any waters within this state; or,

(18.) Who shall intercept, read or in any manner interrupt or delay the sending of a message over any telegraph or telephone line; or,

(19.) Who shall erect or maintain any unlawful structure in any stream or river;

Shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1016, § 404.]

§ 2657. Unlawful Interference With Gas, Electric, Steam or Water Appliance.—Every person who, with intent to injure or defraud, shall—

(1.) Break or deface the seal of any gas, electric, steam or water meter; or,

(2.) Obstruct, alter, injure or prevent the action of any meter or other instrument used to measure or register the quantity of gas, electricity, steam or water supplied to a consumer thereof; or,

(3.) Make any connections by means of a wire, pipe, conduit or otherwise with any wire, main or pipe used for the delivery of gas, electricity, steam or water to a consumer thereof, in such manner as to take gas, electricity, steam or water from said wire, main or pipe without its passage through the meter or other instrument provided for registering the amount or quantity consumed; or use any gas, electricity, steam or water so obtained; or,

(4.) Make any connection or reconnection with such wire, main or pipe, or turn on or off, or in any manner interfere with any valve, stop-cock or other appliances connected therewith; or,

(5.) Prevent by the erection of any device or construction, or by any other means, free access to any meter or other instrument for registering or measuring the amount of gas, electricity, steam or water consumed, or interfere with, obstruct or prevent, by any means, the reading or inspection of such meter or instrument, by the person, company or corporation owning the same; or,

(6.) Take or use any water from any irrigation flume, ditch or lateral, without the consent of the owners thereof, or open, close or interfere with any gate connected therewith;

See, also "Irrigation."

§ 2658. Interfering With Dam, Reservoir, etc.—Every person who shall willfully or maliciously displace, remove, injure or destroy any pier, boom, or dam lawfully erected or maintained upon, in or across any water in this state, or any dam or reservoir lawfully maintained for impounding water; or hoist any gate in or about such dam or reservoir, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1018, § 406.]

§ 2659. Injury to Property.—Every person who shall willfully—

(1.) Cut down, destroy or injure any wood, timber, grain, grass or crop, standing or growing, or which has been cut down and is lying upon the lands of another, or of the state; or,

(2.) Cut down, girdle or otherwise injure a fruit, shade or ornamental tree standing on the land of another or of the state, or in any road or street; or,

(3.) Dig, take or carry away without lawful authority or consent, from any lot or land in any city, or town, or from any lands included within the limits of a street or avenue in such city or town, any earth, soil or stone; or,

(4.) Enter without the consent of the owner or occupant, any orchard, garden or vineyard, with intent to take, injure or destroy anything there grown or growing; or,

(5.) Cut down, destroy or in any way injure any shrub, tree, vine or garden produce grown or growing within any such orchard, garden or vineyard, or any framework or erection therein; or,

(6.) Damage or deface any building or part thereof, or throw any stone or other missile at any building or part thereof; or,

(7.) Destroy or damage, with intent to prevent or delay the use thereof, any engine, machine, tool or implement intended for use in trade or husbandry; or,

(8.) Untie, unfasten or liberate, without authority, the horse or team of another; or lead, ride or drive away, without authority, the horse, team, automobile or other vehicle of another from the place where left by the owner or person in charge thereof; or,

(9.) Kill, maim or disfigure any animal belonging to another, or expose any poisons or noxious substance with intent that it should be taken by such animal; or,

(10.) Take, carry away, interfere with or disturb any oysters or other shell-fish of another in any river, bay, or other water of this state, or remove, pull up or destroy any stake or buoy used for designating any oyster-bed; or,

(11.) Intrude or place any hovel, shanty or building upon or within the limits of any lot or piece of land within any city or town, without the consent of the owner, or within the boundaries of any street in such city or town; or,

(12.) Kill, wound or trap any animal or bird within the limits of any cemetery, park or pleasure ground, or remove therefrom or destroy the young of any such animal or the egg of any such bird; or,

(13.) Injure, destroy or tamper with any rope, line, cable or chain with which any vessel, scow, boom, beacon or buoy shall be anchored or moored, or the steering-gear, bell gear, engine, machinery, lights or other equipment of any vessel; or,

(14.) Place upon or affix to any real property or any rock, tree, wall, fence or other structure thereupon, without the consent of the owner thereof, any word, character or device designed to advertise any article, business, profession, exhibition, matter or event; or,

(15.) Suffer any animal to go upon the inclosed right of way of any railway company, or leave open any gate or bars so that an animal might stray upon such right of way;

§ 2660. Tampering With Papers.—Every person who shall willfully or maliciously destroy, alter, erase, obliterate or conceal any letter, telegraph message, book or record of account, or any writing or instrument by which any claim, privilege, right, obligation or authority, or any right or title to property, real or personal, is, or purports to be, or upon the happening of some future event may be, evidenced, created, acknowledged, transferred, increased, diminished, encumbered, defeated, discharged or affected, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1020, § 408.]

§ 2661. Falsifying Accounts.—Every person who shall willfully or maliciously make any false entry, or fail to make an entry of any material matter, in any book or record of account, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1020, § 409.]

§ 2662. Divulging Telegram.—Every person who shall wrongfully obtain or attempt to obtain, any knowledge of a telegraphic message, by connivance with the clerk, operator, messenger or other employee of a telegraph company, and every clerk, operator, messenger or other employee of such company who shall willfully divulge to any but the person for whom it was intended, any telegraphic message or dispatch intrusted to him for transmission, or delivery, or the nature or contents thereof, or shall willfully refuse, neglect or delay duly to transmit or deliver the same, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1021, § 410.]

§ 2663. Opening Sealed Letter.—Every person who shall willfully open or read, or cause to be opened or read, any sealed message, letter or telegram intended for another person, or publish the whole or any portion of such a message, letter or telegram, knowing it to have been opened or read without authority, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1021, § 411.]

§ 2664. Trespass on Railway Track.—Every person who, without permission from the person or corporation owning or operating the same, shall enter, or take any animal or vehicle upon any railway, bridge or trestle, or ride, operate or propel a handcar, velocipede, track bicycle or tricycle on or along the track of any railway, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1021, § 412.]

§ 2664–1. Trespass on Double Track.—It shall be unlawful for any person to go upon or be upon that portion of any railroad right of way upon which is constructed and operated more than one main line track or upon which is constructed and operated an electric interurban line of one or more tracks where the electricity is transmitted by a third rail. [L. '13, p. 394, § 1.]

§ 2664–2. Exceptions.—The foregoing section shall not be construed to include that part of any right of way embraced in any highway crossing or any lawful private crossing; and shall not be construed to prohibit officers or employees of any such railroad or public officers from going or being upon any portion of the right of way in the performance of their duties. [L. '13, p. 395, § 2.]

§ 2664–4. Penalty.—Any person violating the provisions of section 2664–1, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 395, § 4.]

§ 2665. Trespass upon Land of Another—Warning.—Every person who shall go upon the land of another with the intent to vex or annoy the owner, or occupant thereof, or to commit any unlawful act, or shall enter upon the inclosed land of another for the purpose of hunting or fishing without having first obtained the permission of the owner or occupant of said land, or shall enter upon any land of another bounded on one or more sides by water when notices not to trespass thereon have been posted as often as every seven hundred feet on or near the other boundaries thereof for either of said purposes, or shall willfully go or remain upon any land after having been warned by the owner or occupant thereof not to trespass thereon, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

An entryman on land under the laws of the United States shall be deemed an owner within the meaning of this section.

Inclosed land shall for the purpose of this act mean any land fenced either with a lawful fence or with such a fence as is usually used in the neighborhood of such land. [L. '13, p. 437, § 1; L. '09, p. 1021, § 413.]

See, also, "Game."

§ 2666. Injury to Baggage.—Every person employed by any person or corporation engaged wholly or in part in the business of carrying passengers or baggage for hire, and every express agent, stage driver, drayman, expressman or hackman who shall willfully or carelessly break, injure or destroy any trunk, valise, box, package or other baggage, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1022, § 414.]

(1.) If the value of the property destroyed, or the diminution in value by the injury, shall be less than twenty dollars, be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(2.) If the value of the property destroyed, or the diminution in value by the injury, shall be twenty dollars or more, be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1022, § 415.]

§ 2667-1. Picketing of Business Establishments and Homes.—Whoever shall, for the purpose of carrying on, calling attention to, or advertising, directly or indirectly, any controversy, disagreement or dispute between any labor union or organization, or member or members thereof, and any person engaged in any lawful business, or his employee, or for the purpose of hindering or preventing such person from conducting his business in any lawful way, or employing or retaining in his employ any person who may lawfully engage in such business.

(1) Stand or continuously move back and forth, on the sidewalk, street, public place or private property, in front of or within five hundred feet of, any place in which any lawful business is conducted by such other person, or home or place of abode of such other person or his employee, or

(2) Openly maintain, carry or transport on any sidewalk, street, public place or private property, any banner, sign, transparency, writing or printing, or

(3) Cause any person to do any of the foregoing acts for any of the foregoing purposes:

"Act" in this and the preceding section refers to the last four sections.

CHAPTER X.

Miscellaneous Crimes.

§ 2668. Drunkenness.—Every person who shall become intoxicated by voluntarily drinking intoxicating liquors, and who, while intoxicated shall loiter about any place where intoxicating liquors are sold or kept for sale, or create any disturbance or use any profane or indecent language in any public place, street or meeting, or commit any assault or breach of the peace, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1022, § 416.]

§ 2669. Common Drunkard.—Every person who shall be three times convicted of a violation of section 2668, or of any municipal ordinance defining and punishing drunkenness or any crime of which drunkenness shall be an element, or who shall squander his property in drink, or who, as a result of the use of intoxicating liquors shall abuse or fail properly to support or care for his wife or any minor child lawfully in his custody, shall be a common drunkard, and shall be adjudged so to be by any magistrate before whom he may be brought on a charge of committing any crime of which drunkenness is an element, in addition to any other punishment inflicted therefor. [L. '09, p. 1023, § 417.]

§ 2670. Opium Joints.—Every person who shall open, conduct or maintain, as owner or employee, any place where opium, morphine, alkaloid cocaine or alpha or beta eucaine or any derivative, mixture or preparation of any of them, shall be in any manner used by persons resorting thereto for the purpose; and every person who shall visit or resort to such place for the purpose of using in any manner any of said drugs, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '09, p. 1023, § 418.]

§ 2671. Solemnizing Unlawful Marriage.—Every person who shall solemnize a marriage when either party thereto is known to him to be under the age of legal consent, or to be an idiot, insane person, habitual criminal or common drunkard, or a marriage to which, within his knowledge, any legal impediment exists, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. § 2704. Malicious Injury to Settlers on Unsurveyed Lands.—Any person or persons who shall willfully and maliciously disturb, or in anywise injure or destroy, the dwelling-house or other building, or any fence inclosing or being on the claim, of any settler upon the unsurveyed public lands in this state, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars for each and every offense, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding ninety days. [Cf. L. '83, p. 71, § 2; L. '91, p. 124, § 17; 2 H. P. C., § 89.]

Superseded in part by the next section.

§ 2705. Injury to Buildings or Contents.—If any person shall maliciously or wantonly destroy or deface any cabin or other building or place of shelter or any of the contents of such cabin, building or shelter constructed by any person or persons or society of persons upon any public land of the state of Washington, or of the United States within the state of Washington, or upon any land not owned by such person so destroying or defacing the same, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to bona fide settlers on government lands. [L. '99, p. 186, § 1.]

§ 2706. Destruction of Monuments, Records, etc.—If any person shall maliciously or wantonly remove, destroy or carry away any record or record book or document of any kind or any box or other receptacle for containing the same or any instrument or device for scientific purposes established or placed upon any mountain peak or summit or at any other place of resort, or upon any land belonging to this state or to the United States, or in or upon any body or stream of water within this state, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '99, p. 186, § 2.]

§ 2707. Penalty.—Every person convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than ten days nor more than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any person acting as informer, in case of conviction, under this act, shall be entitled to one-half of the fine imposed. [L. '99, p. 186, § 3.]

§ 2708. Posting Advertisements on Public Property.—Every person who willfully commits any trespass by either putting up, affixing, fastening, printing, or painting upon any property belonging to the state, or to any county, city, town, or village, or dedicated to the public, or upon any property of any person or corporation without license from the owner, any notice, advertisement, or designation of, or any name for any commodity, whether for sale or otherwise, or any picture, sign, or device intended to call attention thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not more than twenty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment: Provided, that nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prohibit the posting of legal notices. [L. '86, p. 78, § 1, subd. 5; 2 H. P. C., § 90.]

§ 2709. To Prevent Removal of Mortgaged Property.—That when any real estate in this state is subject to, or is security for, any mortgage, mortgages, lien or liens, other than general liens arising under personal judgments, it shall be unlawful for any person who is the owner, mortgagor, lessee, or occupant of such real estate to destroy or remove or to cause to be destroyed or removed from said real estate any fixtures, buildings, or permanent improvements, not including crops growing thereon, without having first obtained from the owners or holders of each and all of such mortgages or other liens his or their written consent for such removal or destruction. Any person willfully violating the provisions of this section shall be guity of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed six months, or by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment. [L. '99, p. 122, §§ 1, 2.]

CHAPTER A.

Department of Agriculture.

§ 3000–1. Creation of Department.—There shall be a department of the state government known as the Department of Agriculture, which shall be charged with the administration of the laws relating to agriculture, agricultural resources and products, horticulture, livestock, foods, drugs and oils, and such other subjects as the legislature may provide. [L. '13, p. 196, § 1.]

Cited in 81 Wash. 604; 82 Wash. 646.

§ 3000–2. Commissioner of Agriculture.—The office of commissioner of agriculture is hereby created. The governor shall appoint the commissioner of agriculture, and such commissioner shall hold office at the pleasure of the governor and until his successor is appointed and qualified. The commissioner shall be ex officio a member of the state board of health. [L. '13, p. 196, § 2.]

§ 3000-5. Four Divisions.—For the purpose of administering the affairs of the department of agriculture it shall be organized into four divisions, to be known respectively as the division of dairy and livestock, the division of horticulture, the division of agriculture and the division of foods, feeds, fertilizers, drugs and oils. [L. '13, p. 197, § 5.]

§ 3000-6. Powers of Commissioner.—The commissioner shall have power and it shall be his duty:

(1) To exercise all the powers and perform all the duties now vested in and required to be performed by the state veterinarian.

(2) To exercise all the powers and perform all the duties now vested in and required to be performed by the state dairy and food commissioner.

(3) To exercise all the powers and perform all the duties now vested in and required to be performed by the state commissioner of horticulture and the district horticultural inspectors appointed by such commissioner.

(4) To exercise all the powers and perform all the duties now vested in and required to be performed by the state oil inspector.

(5) To exercise all the powers and perform all the duties now vested in and required to be performed by the state fair commission.

(6) To exercise all the powers and perform all the duties now vested in and required to be performed by the Southwest Washington Fair Commission.

(7) To exercise all the powers and perform all the duties now vested in and required to be performed by the state commissioner of labor so far as they concern the inspection and supervision of bakeries and bakeshops.

(8) To exercise all the powers and perform all the duties now vested in and required to be performed by the department of animal husbandry in the State College of Washington in respect to the registry and licensing of stallions and jacks.

(9) To exercise all the powers and perform all the duties now vested in and required to be performed by the director of the Washington agricultural experiment station in respect to concentrated commercial feeding stuffs.

(10) To exercise all the powers and perform all the duties now vested in and required to be performed by the director and chemist at the Washington agricultural experiment station, or either of them, in respect to commercial fertilizers used for manurial purposes.

(11) To publish and distribute bulletins and reports embodying information upon the subjects of agriculture, horticulture, livestock, dairying, foods and drugs and other matters pertaining to his department.

(12) To cause surveys and classifications to be made of such lands as shall come within any project of the state for reclamation, drainage or utilization of logged-off lands, or other similar enterprises.

(13) To make a report to the governor, at least thirty days before the commencement of each biennial session of the legislature, containing an account of all matters pertaining to his department and its administration, which shall be printed and published in the manner provided by law. [L. '13, p. 197, § 6.]

§ 3000–7. Assistants.—The commissioner of agriculture may appoint such assistants, inspectors, experts and other employees as may be necessary for the administration of the affairs of the department, at such rates of compensation as the advisory board may determine upon. The commissioner may require any assistant, inspector or other employee to give a surety bond to the state of Washington in such sum and with such conditions as he shall determine, the premium on such bond to be paid by the state. He shall before appointing any assistant or inspector require him to take an examination on such subject or subjects as shall pertain to the performance of his duties; but he may appoint without examination any person who is a graduate of the State College of Washington in such subject, or who is a graduate of any recognized school maintaining a course of instruction in such subject equivalent to the course prescribed at the State College of Washington therein. [L. '13, p. 199, § 7.]

§ 3000–8. Assignment of Assistants.—The commissioner of agriculture shall designate the division of the department to which any assistant or inspector appointed by him shall be assigned. An assistant or inspector may be assigned to more than one division. Any assistant or inspector assigned to any division shall, subject to the supervisory control of the commissioner, possess and exercise the same powers and perform the same duties as the commissioner of agriculture, with respect to all matters within such division. [L. '13, p. 199, § 8.]

§ 3000–9. Appeals to Commission.—Any person aggrieved by any finding, order or act of any assistant or inspector in the department of agriculture may appeal from such finding, order or act to the commissioner, who shall forthwith proceed to hear and determine such appeal, render his decision therein, and report the same to the appellant and to such assistant or inspector. Such decision shall specify the further proceedings to be had in the premises. Such decision shall not, however, preclude an appeal or proper action in the courts in cases where such rights would otherwise exist. [L. '13, p. 199, § 9.]

Cited in 82 Wash. 648.

§ 3000–10. Officer not Interested in Contracts.—It shall be unlawful for the commissioner, or any assistant, inspector, or other employee, to be interested, directly or indirectly, either as owner, agent or solicitor, in the sale or purchase of any article, commodity or product used or produced by any person with whom he may come in contact in his official capacity. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 200, § 10.]

§ 3000–11. Chemists of Department.—The chemists of the Washington agricultural experiment station and the dean of the department of chemistry of the University of Washington shall be the chemists of the department of agriculture, and it shall be the duty of such chemists or either of them, without compensation other than their expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of such work, to analyze any and all substances that the commissioner of agriculture, his deputies or inspectors may send to them, and report to the commissioner, without unnecessary delay, the result of any analysis so made, and when called upon by said commissioner any such chemist shall assist, as an expert or otherwise, in any prosecution for the violation of any law pertaining to the department. [L. '13, p. 200, § 11.]

§ 3000–12. Fees and Expenses.—All moneys collected as fees or otherwise by the department of agriculture shall be paid into the state general fund. All expenses incurred under the provisions of this act shall be paid out of the general fund, and shall be audited by the state auditor upon proper vouchers approved by the commissioner of agriculture; and the state auditor shall draw warrants upon the state treasurer for the amounts thus audited, in the manner provided by law. [L. '13, p. 200, § 12.]

§ 3000–13. Horticultural Fund Reverts to General Fund.—Upon the taking effect of this act all moneys in the state horticultural fund shall be transferred to the state general fund, and all moneys thereafter collected which shall be payable into the state horticultural fund shall be paid into the state general fund. [L. '13, p, 200, § 13.]

CHAPTER B.

Bureau of Farm Development.

§ 3000–15. Bureau of Farm Development—Expenses.—There is hereby created the bureau of farm development of the state of Washington, which shall consist of the director of the experiment station of the State College of Washington, who shall be director thereof, and of the boards of county commissioners of all counties of the state of Washington desiring to participate therein. The officers and members of such bureau of farm development shall serve without salary, and the expenses incident to the operation of said bureau of farm development shall be borne by the county for which the same shall be incurred. [L. '13, p. 48, § 1.]

§ 3000–16. Agricultural Expert—Salary.—The board of county commissioners of any county may by request in writing apply to the director of the bureau of farm development who shall appoint and assign to such county a competent agricultural expert: Provided, that the board of county commissioners applying therefor shall always have the right to reject any appointment, to determine the period during which such expert shall be employed, and to fix the compensation of such expert, not exceeding two hundred dollars ($200.00) per month, and in their discretion necessary traveling expenses. [L. '13, p. 48, § 2.]

§ 3000–17. Term of Office—Expenses.—Such expert shall during the period of his employment reside and maintain an office within the county for which he is appointed, and, with the consent of the board of county commissioners of such county he may employ such assistance as may be required and purchase such books, equipment, apparatus, and material as may be required, which such books, equipment, apparatus, and material shall become and remain the property of the county: Provided, that the expenses which may be incurred by the authority of this section shall never exceed the sum of twelve hundred dollars during any calendar year. [L. '13, p. 48, § 3.]

§ 3000–18. Duties of Expert.—Such experts shall give individual instruction and conduct experimental work with the object of improving the agricultural methods and conditions of their counties, and shall perform such other duties as may be required, subject to the general supervision and control of the director of the bureau of farm development: Provided, that the boards of county commissioners shall always have the right to co-operate with the department of agriculture of the United States in the appointment, maintenance, and work of such experts; and in such event, the director of the bureau of farm development shall appoint for the county exercising the privilege herein granted such person as said department of agriculture may recommend, and said expert shall then be subject to the general supervision and control of said department of agriculture, and said department of agriculture shall defray such portion as may be agreed upon of the salary, office expenses, and other expenses incurred by such expert. [L. '13, p. 49, § 4.]

§ 3000–19. Tax Levy for Bureau Work.—For the purpose of fully and effectively carrying out the object and provisions of this act, the board of county commissioners participating herein of the several counties of the state of Washington are hereby empowered to levy, appropriate, and set aside such sum of money as may be necessary, not exceeding three thousand and six hundred dollars for any calendar year; and in the event of a failure from any cause to levy and appropriate such fund, and until the next annual tax levy, said boards of county commissioners are empowered to set aside such fund from the county current expense fund. [L. '13, p. 49, § 5.]

CHAPTER I.

State Fair.

§ 3001. Establishment of.—The public good requires [that] there be and hereby is established a state institution by the name of "The State Fair of Washington." [L. '93, p. 445, § 1.]

§ 3002. Objects.—It is the object and purpose of this institution to promote and further the advancement of all agricultural, stock-raising, horticultural, mining, mechanical and industrial pursuits in this state, and for the carrying out of this object, the management shall provide for an annual fair or exhibition by the institution upon the fair grounds owned by this state near the city of North Yakima, of all the industrial products of this state; said annual fair to be held upon such dates as may be fixed by the state fair commission, not earlier than the third Monday of September nor later than the second Monday of October of each year, and which fair shall continue for at least six days. [L. '93, p. 445, § 2; L. '03, p. 66, § 1.]

§ 3005. Powers and Duties of State Fair Commission.—Immediately after their organization the state fair commission shall take and have full control and management of the state fair as a state institution, and shall have care of its property and be intrusted with the entire direction of its business and financial affairs; shall, in conformity with the provisions of this chapter, prepare, adopt, publish and enforce all necessary rules for the management of the state fair, its meetings and exhibitions or the guidance of its officers or employees; shall determine the duties, responsibilities, compensation and tenure of office of all officers or other employees, as may be deemed necessary, and may remove from office any person appointed by it to any office for any inefficiency, neglect of duty or malfeasance in office; shall have power to appoint all necessary marshals to keep order on the grounds and in the buildings of the state fair during all annual exhibitions, and the marshals so appointed shall be vested with the same authority, for such purposes, as executive peace officers are vested by law; shall have power to charge entrance fees, gate money, lease stalls, stands, restaurant sites, give prizes and premiums and do all things which by said commission may be considered proper to conduct in connection with a state fair not otherwise prohibited by law. [L. '93, p. 447, § 5.]

Powers and duties of state fair commission devolve upon the commissioner of agriculture: See § 3000–6 (5).

See infra, §§ 3030, 3031, power to appoint marshals, oath, bond, and fees.

§ 3006. Location of Buildings, Track, etc.—The state fair association shall locate the buildings, track, etc., for state fair purposes upon a tract of land containing not less than one hundred and twenty acres, to be in one solid block, of good soil, with ample water, as level and conveniently located near the railroad shipping point at North Yakima: Provided, that said tract of land is donated to the state of Washington by good and sufficient warranty deed, to be approved by the attorney general. The attorney general of the state shall, on demand, examine and approve the title to said lands and pass upon the sufficiency of all conveyances before acceptance of the same by the state fair commission. [L. '93, p. 447, § 6.]

§ 3007. Construction of Buildings, etc.—The land thus acquired by the state shall be forever set apart for the use and benefit of the state fair of the state of Washington; and immediately thereon the state fair commission shall cause to be constructed all necessary buildings, pavilions, exhibition halls, stalls, stands, a mile speeding track of most approved pattern, driveways, sidewalks and fences, and cause the same to be kept in complete and continual repair: Provided always, that no lien or encumbrance of any kind shall ever be created on said premises without the consent of the state: It being also provided, that no member of the state fair commission shall ever be personally interested in any purchase made or contract entered into by said commission for the use and benefit of the state fair. [L. '93, p. 447, § 7.]

of any funds appropriated for the maintenance of the state fair. [L. '93, p. 448, § 8; L. '03, p. 66, § 2.]

§ 3009. Vouchers for Expenditures.—All vouchers for the expenditures of money under the provisions of this chapter must be signed by the president and at least two other members of the state fair commission and attested by the secretary; and the state auditor shall, upon presentation of such voucher[s], draw his warrant upon the state treasurer for the payment of the same, and the state treasurer shall pay such warrant out of any money on hand appropriated for the purposes herein set forth: Provided, that every voucher must set forth the purpose for which the money, material or labor represented was used: It being also provided, that all moneys remaining in the hands of the treasurer of the commission on the last Monday of October of each year shall be paid in to the state treasurer to the credit of the state fair fund, to be subsequently drawn out, if required, as hereinbefore provided: Provided further, that no part of the money donated by this state shall be used as payment of purses in trial of speed between man or beast. [L. '93, p. 448, § 9.]

§ 3010. Report of Organization—Compensation and Mileage of Members.—When said state fair commission shall be organized as herein provided, the secretary of the commission shall report such organization to the governor and the auditor of the state. He shall also report to the governor any vacancy that may at any time occur in said commission. The members of the state fair commission shall be repaid their mileage actually paid out whilst actually engaged in the business of the state fair, and no other compensation: Provided, however, that the members of said commission shall each, in addition to their expenses, receive four dollars per day whilst actually engaged in locating and selecting the grounds for the state fair, and in superintending the construction of the buildings and other structures but not after September 3d in the year 1893; said compensation in every case to be paid in vouchers as hereinbefore provided. [L. '93, p. 448, § 10.]

§ 3011. Limit of Expenditure.—No expenditure shall be made or indebtedness contracted by the commissioners in excess of the amount herein appropriated and any indebtedness so contracted shall be void. [L. '93, p. 449, § 11.]

CHAPTER II.

Southwest Washington Fair.

§ 3012-1. Transfer to Lewis County.—The Southwest Washington Fair Association, as organized and existing at the time of the taking effect of this act, shall turn over and deliver to the county of Lewis all the lands, buildings, books, records, and other property belonging to the state as a member of the Southwest Washington Fair Association. [L. '13, p. 126, § 1.]

§ 3012-2. Property—Control.—The property herein granted, including the buildings and structures, thereon as now constructed or as may be built or constructed from time to time, or any alterations or additions thereto, shall be under the jurisdiction and control of the board of county commissioners, of Lewis county at all times except during the month or months in which the Southwest Washington Fair Commission shall desire to use such property for the purpose of holding a fair or exposition in conformity with the objects of such association as defined in section 2 of chapter 237, Laws of 1909*, and for the two months immediately preceding the month or months fixed for the holding of such fair or exhibition, and such other or further time or times as the boards of county commissioners of Lewis county may authorize the Southwest Washington Fair Commission to use the same. [L. '13, p. 126, § 2.]

*N. B.—See 2 Rem. & Bal. Code, § 3013.

§ 3012-3. Management—Fairs—Commissioners—Powers.—For the purpose of holding fairs or expositions in conformity with the provisions named in section 3013, a new commission is hereby created, which, however, shall be known as the Southwest Washington Fair Commission, to have all the power and authority granted to the Southwest Washington Fair Association in the above-named act subject to the modifications of its powers and duties as provided herein. Such commission shall be composed of, as ex-officio members thereof, by virtue of their office, the members of the board of county commissioners of Lewis county and the chairman of the board of county commissioners of each of the other counties composing the Southwest Washington Fair Association, or so many of said counties as evidenced by formal resolution of the respective boards of county commissioners thereof, as shall desire to participate in such fair or exhibition or other event held on such grounds. [L. '13, p. 126, § 3.]

"Section 3013" refers to 2 Rem. & Bal. Code.

§ 3012-4. Officers of Commission—Funds.—Within thirty days after the taking effect of this act, the board of county commissioners in the county of Lewis shall notify the board of county commissioners of each of the other counties comprising the Southwest Washington Fair Association of the time and place of the first meeting of the Southwest Washington Fair Commission, as herein defined, which meeting shall be called for a time not less than thirty days from the giving of such notice. The first meeting of such commission shall be held at the courthouse of Lewis county, at which time and place the commission shall proceed to organize. The chairman of the board of county commissioners of Lewis county shall be chairman of the commission. The commission shall proceed to elect a president and secretary and define their duties and fix their compensation, and provide for the keeping of the records of the commission. The commission shall also select some person to act as treasurer, and for this purpose may designate the treasurer of Lewis county as treasurer of the commission. The funds of the commission, however, shall be kept separate and apart from the funds of Lewis county, but shall be deposited in the regular depositories of Lewis county and all interest earned thereby be added and become a part of such fund. The treasurer shall give such bond as the commission may determine for the safekeeping of such funds. The commission shall also provide for an auditing committee of three members to audit all accounts against the commission, and no funds shall be paid out of the treasury of the commission except upon warrants signed by the chairman of the commission, attested by the secretary, after the approval of the claim therefor by such auditing committee. [L. '13, p. 127, § 4.]

§ 3012-5. Support of Fair.—Each county belonging to the Southwest Washington Fair Association may make donations or appropriations to the funds of the commission, and may take any other part in the commission as may be deemed advisable by the board of county commissioners of such county, and may exhibit the products or resources of such county in the manner deemed to the best interests of such county. [L. '13, p. 128, § 5.]

CHAPTER III.

County Fairs and Exhibits.

§ 3024. County Aid for Fairs—Application for.—Any agricultural fair association which has a corporate existence for the purpose and object of holding a fair and agricultural exhibition of stock, cereals and agricultural produce of all kinds, including dairy produce as well as arts and manufactures in any county, may apply to the board of county commissioners of such county for a grant to pay expenses and premiums awarded. [L. '03, p. 363, § 1.]

"Act" in this section refers to §§ 3024–3026.

§ 3027. County Aid to Exhibits — Poultry, Livestock and Farm Products.—Any corporation organized for the purpose of holding poultry, livestock, or agricultural produce exhibits, may apply to the board of county commissioners of such county for a grant to pay expenses and premiums awarded. [L. '09, p. 635, § 1.]

§ 3028. Limit of Aid.—To enable the said board of county commissioners to give said grant, they are hereby authorized to appropriate any sum not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) annually out of the general fund: Provided, that the board of county commissioners shall be ex-officio members of such corporation in all counties where appropriations are made under the provisions of this act. [L. '09, p. 635, § 2.]

"Act" in this section refers to §§ 3027–3029.

§ 3029. Payment of County Appropriation—Exhibits to be Annual.—The said board of county commissioners may not later than July 31st annually cause to be paid to the directors of such corporation or their duly authorized secretary or treasurer the amount appropriated: Provided, that said corporation so applying must have held at least one annual exhibition of poultry, livestock or agricultural produce immediately preceding the application for the grant and must provide buildings and other necessary improvements for said annual exhibition. [L. '09, p. 635, § 3.]

CHAPTER IV.

Marshals of Fairs.

§ 3030. Fair Marshal, Appointment and Powers of.—The president and managers of agricultural and mechanical fairs in this state shall have the authority to appoint one or more marshals for the purpose of preserving order on the fair grounds during the continuance of the fairs; and such marshals so appointed shall have all the powers now conferred by law on sheriffs and constables. [L. '69, p. 328, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2370.]

See supra, § 3005, marshals of state fair.

§ 3031. Oath and Bond of Marshal—Fees.—Before the marshals thus appointed shall proceed to act, they shall execute a bond, not to exceed three hundred dollars, and file the same in the county auditor's office in the county in which said fair is to be held, the said bond to be approved by the said county auditor. They shall likewise take the oath sheriffs or constables are required by law to take, and be subject to the laws now in force relating to sheriffs and constables, and shall be entitled to the same fees sheriffs and constables now are for similar services. [L. '69, p. 328, § 2; 1 H. C., § 2371.]

CHAPTER V.

Noxious Weeds.

§ 3032. State Botanists.—For the purpose of this act the botanist of the state university of Washington, and the botanist at the state college of Washington, at Pullman, are hereby made ex-officio state botanists, to act without additional compensation. [L. '07, p. 159, § 1.]

"Act" in this section refers to §§ 3032–3035.

§ 3033. Noxious Weeds Defined.—Canada thistle (cnicus arvensis), Russian thistle (Salsola Kali tragus), tumbling mustard, the so-called "Jim Hill" mustard (Sisymbrium altissimum), cockleburr, and all other weeds liable to become a pest and detrimental to the agricultural interests of any county in this state, are hereby declared to be noxious weeds. [L. '07, p. 159, § 2.]

Cited in 68 Wash. 16.

§ 3034. Other Weeds Which may Become Noxious.—When the state botanists are or either of them is of the opinion that any weed is, or may become noxious as herein defined other than those specifically mentioned, he or they shall notify the auditor of the county in which such weeds are, and the clerk of each incorporated city or town in such county, giving a description of such weed, and he or they shall also accompany such description with a specimen of the same, and shall at the same time, send to each road supervisor of such county a description and specimen of such weed. [L. '07, p. 159, § 3.]

§ 3035. Publication of Description.—The county auditor and the city or town clerk, upon receipt of said description and specimen shall have said description published weekly in the newspaper doing the county or city printing for four successive weeks, and he shall retain said specimen in his office for the inspection of the public. [L. '07, p. 159, § 4.]

§ 3036. Suffering Growth of Thistles is Unlawful.—If any person or persons owning, possessing, or having care or charge of any land or lands, improved or unimproved, inclosed or uninclosed, in this state, shall knowingly, willfully, or willingly permit or suffer any Chinese or Canada thistles to grow up thereon, and suffer the same to stand until its seeds get ripe, such person or persons shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall, for the first offense, be fined in the sum of ten dollars, and for the second offense not less than twenty-five nor more than fifty dollars, to be recovered, with costs, in any action to be brought in the name of the state of Washington, for the use and benefit of the public school fund in the county where the offense is committed; or action therefor may be brought before any court of competent jurisdiction in the county. [Cd. '81, § 2238; 1 H. C., § 2424.]

Subsequent laws superseding parts of this section have no repealing clause, and do not cover persons "having care or charge of any land." This section is accordingly retained.

§ 3037. Owner of Canals and Ditches must Suppress Weeds.—If any person or persons, company or corporation, owning, maintaining or operating, any canal or ditch for irrigation, drainage or power purposes shall permit or suffer any weed, weeds or other noxious growths to grow upon the banks of such ditch or canal and suffer the same to stand until the seeds thereof get ripe, such person or persons, company or corporation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall for the first offense be fined in the sum of ten dollars; and for the second and each subsequent offense not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars; to be recovered with costs in an action to be brought in the name of the state of Washington for the use and benefit of the public school fund of the state. [L. '07, p. 45, § 1.]

§ 3038. Thistles must be Cut Down.—It shall be the duty of every owner, lessee, occupant or agent thereof, or of any person having the care and charge of any land or lands, improved or unimproved, inclosed or uninclosed, in this state, to cut down or otherwise destroy all noxious weeds growing thereon or on any road, street or highway to the center thereof bordering on any such land or lands, so often in each and every year as shall be certain to prevent them from going to seed: Provided, that this shall not apply to timber lands, brush lands or logged-off lands. [L. '11, p. 327, § 1; L. '13, p. 305, § 1.]

§ 3039. Penalty for Permitting Growth of Thistles.—If any owner, lessee, occupant, agent or person having the care or charge of any such land or lands shall knowingly suffer any noxious weeds to grow thereon, and shall permit the seeds of any such noxious weeds to ripen, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that this section shall not apply to what is commonly known as "bull thistle," on lands known as "logged-off, or cut over lands" outside of cities and towns. [L. '11, p. 327, § 1; L. '13, p. 306, § 2.]

Cited in 78 Wash. 54, 55.

§ 3040. Notice to Remove.—It shall be the duty of each road supervisor in each road district in this state to see that the provisions of this act are carried out within his district, and he shall file with the prosecuting attorney of the county lists of lands within his district upon which any noxious weeds may be growing, giving a description of the kinds and character of weeds growing thereon, together with a statement of the approximate time within which said weeds must be destroyed in order to prevent their going to seed.

Upon receipt of such lists it shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney to demand from the county auditor and county treasurer lists giving the names of any and all owners, lessees, mortgagees and occupants of the lands to be affected, together with their places of residence or address so far as may be shown by the public records of said county or of said offices or be known to said officers, and it shall be the duty of said auditor and said treasurer to furnish such information.

It shall be the duty of such prosecuting attorney to issue and subscribe notices directed to each and all of said owners, lessees, mortgagees and occupants which said notices shall require the persons therein named to cause said noxious weeds to be cut down and destroyed within ten days from the time of serving, mailing or posting said notices as in this act provided and said notices shall be served or given in the following manner: On all residents of the county within which the lands affected are situated, by serving the same personally in the same manner as provided by law for the service of a summons in the superior court; on all nonresidents of the county whose address or place of residence is shown by the records or is known, by mailing a copy of said notice by registered mail; and in all cases where the address or place of residence is unknown, by posting a copy of said notice in a conspicuous place on the land in full view of the traveling public. In case of a return of not found as to any of such persons whose address or place of residence is unknown, posting of the notices as herein provided shall be a sufficient service thereof.

It shall be the duty of the county auditor to keep a record book in which he shall cause to be entered the names, addresses or places of residence of any person, firm or corporation who may notify such officer of their desire to be registered therein and of their desire to be notified by registered mail at the place of residence or address given of any proceedings had under this act affecting any lands of which they may be the owners, lessees, mortgagees or occupants; and the sending by registered mail of any notice or statement provided for under this act to said person or persons, firm or corporation at the place of residence or address given shall constitute a sufficient service under this act.

All returns of not found shall be made by the sheriff of the county or his deputies, and all returns not found, proofs of service, mailing or posting shall be filed forthwith in the office of the auditor of the county where the land is situated.

Where noxious weeds are growing on the right of way of any railroad within any road district, said notice may be served on the foreman in charge of that portion of the right of way passing through such district, or such notice may be served on such railway corporation by delivering a copy thereof to any agent of said corporation within the state personally.

In case the persons named in said notice fail, refuse or neglect to cut down and destroy said noxious weeds within ten days after the date of serving, mailing or posting said notices as in this act provided, then such road supervisor shall take the necessary assistance and enter upon said lands and cause said noxious weeds to be destroyed with as little damage to growing crops as may be.

If any such road supervisor shall fail or refuse to perform or cause to be performed any of the duties or services enumerated in this act, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '11, p. 327, § 1; L. '13, p. 306, § 3.]

Cited in 68 Wash. 16; 78 Wash. 54, 55; 81 Wash. 311, 312.

§ 3041. Expense of Removal — Payment.—Each road supervisor shall keep an accurate account of the expenses incurred by him in carrying out the provisions of this act with respect to each parcel of land entered upon therefor and the prosecuting attorney of the county shall cause to be served, mailed or posted in the same manner as is provided in this act for giving notice to destroy noxious weeds a statement of such expense, including description of the land verified by oath of the road supervisor, to the owner, lessee, mortgagee, occupant or agent or person having charge of said land, and coupled with such statement shall be a notice subscribed by said prosecuting attorney and naming a time and place when and where said matter will be brought before the board of county commissioners for hearing and determination, said statement and notice to be served, mailed or posted, as the case may be, at least ten days before the time for such hearing. At the time of such hearing or at such other time to which the same may be continued or adjourned by said county commissioners, the board shall proceed to examine said claim, hear testimony if offered and shall make and enter an order upon the minutes of said meeting that said claim, or so much thereof as shall be deemed just and proper, shall be paid out of the road and bridge fund of said county. Costs of serving, mailing and posting shall be added to any amount so found to be due and shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as other charges under this act. [L. '11, p. 327, § 1; L. '13, p. 308, § 4.]

§ 3042. Collection.—At the time when the board of county commissioners pays the claim for cutting said weeds as in section 3041 provided it shall make an order that the amount paid be a tax on the land on which said work was done after the expiration of ten days from the date of the entry of said order, unless an appeal be taken as in this act provided, in which event the same shall become a tax at the time the amount to be paid shall be determined by the court, and the county treasurer shall enter the same on the tax-rolls against the land for the current year and collect it together with penalty and interest as other taxes are collected, and when so collected, the same shall be credited to the county road and bridge fund:

Provided, that a failure to serve, mail or post any of the notices or statements provided for in this act shall not invalidate said tax but in case of such failure, the lien of such tax shall be subordinate and inferior to the interests of any mortgagee to whom notice has not been given in accordance with the provisions of this act. [L. '13, p. 309, § 5.]

§ 3042–1. Appeals to Superior Court.—Any interested party may appeal from the decision and order of said county commissioners to the superior court of said county by serving written notice of appeal on the county auditor and by filing in the office of the clerk of the superior court a copy of said notice of appeal with proof of service attached, together with a good and sufficient cost bond in the sum of two hundred dollars, said cost bond to run to the county and in all other respects to comply with the laws relating to cost bonds required of nonresident plaintiffs in the superior court. Said notice of appeal must be served and filed within ten days from the date of the decision and order of the county commissioners and said cost bond must be filed within five days from the filing of said notice of appeal.

Whenever notice of appeal and cost bond shall have been filed with the clerk of the superior court, that officer shall notify the county auditor thereof forthwith and the auditor shall certify immediately to said court all notices and records in said matter, together with proofs of service, and a true copy of the order and decision pertaining thereto made by the county commissioners. If no appeal be perfected within ten days from the decision and order of the county commissioners the same shall be deemed confirmed and the auditor shall certify the amount of such charges to the county treasurer who shall enter the same on the tax-rolls against the land; when an appeal is perfected the matter shall be heard in the superior court de novo and the court's decision shall be conclusive on all persons properly served under this act: Provided, that an appeal may be taken to the supreme court from the order or decision of the superior court in the manner provided by existing laws, and upon the conclusion of such appeals the amount of charges and costs adjudged to be paid shall be certified by the clerk of the superior court to the county treasurer and said treasurer shall proceed to enter the same on his rolls against the land affected. [L. '13, p. 309, § 6.]

§ 3042–2. Exemptions — Petition — Notice—Hearing.—The board of county commissioners of any county in this state shall have the power to designate by an order, to be made and entered in the manner hereinafter, certain territory which may be excepted from the provisions of this act. Whenever a petition signed by ten or more residents of any road district shall be filed with the county auditor praying that certain contiguous territory therein bounded and described and lying wholly within said road district be excepted from the provisions of this act for the reasons set forth in said petition, said auditor shall cause a notice to be published for two successive weeks in the newspaper doing the county printing, which said notice shall set forth the boundaries of the tracts to be excepted and shall name the time and place for a hearing by the board of county commissioners on said petition, the first publication of said notice to be at least fifteen days prior to the time of said hearing: Provided, that the person or persons filing said petition shall pay in advance to the county auditor the costs of the publication of such notice.

At the time of said hearing the board of county commissioners shall hear all persons interested in the matter presented by said petition and, by an order made and entered in the record of their proceedings, shall determine whether said territory shall be excepted from the provisions of this act, giving the reasons for their decision, and in case the prayer of such petition is granted such order shall describe the boundaries of the territory within said road district to which such exception shall be applied: Provided, that any order thus made excepting any territory from the provisions of this act shall not be in force for a longer period than twelve months from the date of the entry of such order, unless a new petition be filed, new notice given and another hearing be had as in this act provided. [L. '13, p. 310, § 7.]

§ 3043. Act Applicable to Cities.—The provisions of this act shall be applicable to all cities and towns in this state; the duty herein prescribed for the road supervisors shall be performed by the marshal or supervisor of streets in such city or town, and the duty of the board of county commissioners shall be performed by the council, and the county treasurer shall enter on the tax-roll the amount paid by the council of said town or city, when certified to him under the hand of the mayor and city clerk and the seal of such city or town. [L. '07, p. 161, § 10. Cf. L. '99, p. 75, § 6.]

"Act" in this section refers to §§ 3032–3035, 3039–3043 and 5582.

§ 3044. Nonenforcement by Supervisor — Penalty. — Any citizen may notify the road supervisor or county commissioners of the presence of Canadian thistles or Russian thistles who, upon receiving such notice, shall enforce the provisions of this act; and failure upon the part of the road supervisor to act after notice from the county commissioners within ten days of such notice shall subject him to a fine of not more than ten dollars for the first offense and not less than ten dollars or more than twenty dollars for each succeeding offense; and continued refusal or neglect shall subject him to removal from office. [L. '99, p. 76, § 8.]

This section may be superseded by the Act of 1907, which, however, had no repealing clause.

CHAPTER VI.

Fertilizers.

§ 3045. Ingredients on Label — Bulk Sales, Report of to State Chemist.—Every lot or parcel of commercial fertilizers or material used for manurial purposes sold, offered or exposed for sale within this state, the retail price of which is ten dollars or more per ton, shall be accompanied by a plainly printed label, stating clearly and truly the number of ten pounds of fertilizer in the package, the name, brand or trademark under which the fertilizer is sold, the name and address of the manufacturer or importer, the place of manufacture and a chemical analysis stating the percentage of nitrogen, of potash soluble in water and of soluble reverted and insoluble phosphoric acid. Whenever any fertilizer or fertilizing ingredients are shipped or sold in bulk for use by farmers in this state a statement must be sent to the chemist of the Washington state agricultural experiment station at Pullman, who is hereby created state chemist, ex officio, giving the name of the goods so shipped and accompanied by an affidavit from the seller, giving the percentage of the several fertilizing ingredients guaranteed. All fertilizers sold, offered or exposed for sale shall be accompanied by a label giving a correct general statement of the composition and ingredients of the same. [L. '99, p. 80, § 1.]

§ 3046. Report and Sample to State Chemist Before Offering for Sale.—Before any commercial fertilizer, the retail price of which is ten dollars or more per ton, is sold, offered or exposed for sale, the importer, manufacturer or party who causes it to be sold or offered for sale within this state shall file with the chemist of the Washington state agricultural experiment station a certified copy of the statement named in section 3045 and a list of the names and addresses of his agents in this state; and shall also deposit with said chemist, at his request, a sealed glass jar or bottle containing not less than one pound of the fertilizer, accompanied by an affidavit that it is a fair, average sample thereof. [L. '99, p. 80, § 2.]

§ 3047. Analysis Fee. — The manufacturer, importer, agent or seller of any brand of commercial fertilizer or material used for manurial purposes, the retail price of which is ten dollars or more per ton, shall pay on or before the first day of April annually to the treasurer of the Washington state agricultural experiment station an analysis fee of six dollars for each of the fertilizing ingredients contained, or claimed to exist in, said fertilizer to be sold, offered or exposed for sale within this state as aforesaid: Provided, however, that whenever the manufacturer or importer shall have paid the fee herein required for any person acting as agent or seller for such manufacturer or importer, such agent or seller, shall not be required to pay the fee named in this section; and on receipt of said analysis fees the treasurer of the Washington state agricultural experiment station shall issue certificates of compliance with this chapter. [L. '99, p. 81, § 3.]

§ 3048. Certificate in Case Leather is Used.—No person shall sell, offer or expose for sale in this state any pulverized leather, raw, steamed, roasted, or in any form, as fertilizer or manure without an explicit printed certificate of the fact, to be conspicuously affixed to every package of such fertilizer or manure, and to accompany or go with every lot or parcel of the same. [L. '99, p. 81, § 4.]

§ 3049. Penalty.—Any person selling, offering or exposing for sale any commercial fertilizer without the statement as required by section 3045, or with a label stating that said fertilizer contains a larger percentage of any one or more of the constituents mentioned in said section than is contained therein, or respecting the sale of which all the provisions of the foregoing sections have not been fully complied with, shall pay a fine of fifty dollars for the first offense and one hundred dollars for each subsequent offense. [L. '99, p. 81, § 5.]

§ 3050. Exceptions.—This chapter shall not affect parties manufacturing, importing or purchasing fertilizers for their own use and not selling in this state. [L. '99, p. 82, § 6.]

§ 3051. Publication of Analysis of Fertilizers.—The director of the Washington state agricultural experiment station shall cause to be collected and analyzed by the chemist of the Washington state agricultural experiment station, or deputy, samples of such fertilizing materials as are subject to the conditions of this chapter, which may from time to time be sold, offered or exposed for sale in this state; and the director of the Washington state agricultural experiment station shall cause the results of the analysis of fertilizers collected under this chapter to be published, and issue the results to the farmers of the state as rapidly as the progress of the work will allow, together with the comparative commercial value per ton, and such other information as circumstances may advise. The chemist shall compile the results of the analysis of the fertilizers collected under this chapter and furnish a copy of the same to the director of the

§ 3052. Duty of State Chemist.—The chemist of the Washington state agricultural experiment station is hereby authorized, in person or by deputy, to take a sample not exceeding two pounds in weight for analysis from any lot or package of fertilizer, or any material used for manurial purposes which may be in the possession of any manufacturer, importer, agent or dealer, but the said samples shall be taken in the presence of said party or parties in interest or their representatives, and taken from a parcel or number of packages which shall be not less than ten per cent of the whole lot inspected, and shall be thoroughly mixed, divided into two samples, placed in glass vessels, carefully sealed, and a label placed on each stating the name or brand of the fertilizer or material sampled, the name of the party from whose stock the sample was taken, and the time and place of taking the same, and said label shall also be signed by the chemist or his deputy and by the party or parties in interest or their representatives present at the taking and sealing of said sample. One of said samples shall be retained by the chemist or deputy and the other by the party whose stock was sampled. Every person violating this chapter shall be prosecuted by the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the violation occurs, upon complaint of the director and chemist of the Washington state agricultural experiment station. [L. '99, p. 82, § 8.]

§ 3053. Distinct Brands, When.—For all the purposes of this chapter fertilizers shall be considered as distinct brands when differing either in guaranteed composition, trademark, name or in any other characteristic method of marking of whatever nature. [L. '99, p. 83, § 9.]

§ 3054. Expenses.—The expenses of collection, analysis, printing and distribution authorized by this chapter shall be paid from and out of the moneys received by the treasurer of the Washington state agricultural experiment station under the provisions of section 3047. [L. '99, p. 83, § 10.]

CHAPTER VII.

Sale of Agricultural Seeds.

§ 3055. Packages, Contents must be Plainly Marked on.—Any person, firm or corporation who shall sell or offer for sale within this state any vegetable seed the germinable viability of which shall be less than two-thirds of the percentage standard of germination for such seed as herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '15, p. 298, § 1; L. '01, p. 325, § 1.]

§ 3056. Penalty for Mislabeling.—Any person or persons who shall, with intention to deceive, wrongly mark or label any package or bag containing garden or vegetable seed shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '15, p. 298, § 2; L. '01, p. 325, § 2.]

§ 3056–1. Standard of Germination.—The percentage standard of germination of vegetable seed for this state shall be as follows: beans, peas, beets, turnips, rutabaga, cabbage, cauliflower, onion, leek, tomato, lettuce, radish and cucumber, melon, squash and other cucurbits, ninety per cent; celery, carrot, parsley, parsnip and all other vegetable seed seventy-five per cent. [L. '15, p. 298, § 3.]

§ 3057. Agricultural Seeds — Definition—Packages Marked.—The term "agricultural seeds" as used in this act shall include the seeds of red clover, white clover, alsike clover, alfalfa, Kentucky blue grass, timothy, brome grass, orchard grass, red top, meadow fescue, oat grass, rye grass, and other grasses and forage plants, flax, rape and cereals, and every parcel, package or lot of seeds as herein defined, containing one pound or more, offered or exposed for sale in this state for use in this state, shall have affixed thereto in a conspicuous place on the outside thereof, distinctly printed in the English language, in legible type, not smaller than eight-point heavy gothic caps, or plainly written, a statement certifying:

(1) Name of seed.

(2) Full name and address of the seedsman, importer, dealer or agent.

(3) A statement of the purity of the seed contained, specifying the kind and percentage of the impurities as hereinbefore [after] defined: Provided, said seeds are below the standards fixed in this act.

(4) Locality where said seed was grown, if known. [L. '09, p. 589, § 1.]

"Act" in this and the following sections of this chapter refers to §§ 3057–3068.

§ 3058. Must be Free from Certain Seeds.—No person shall sell, offer or expose for sale or distribution for the purpose of seeding, any agricultural seeds as herein defined, unless such agricultural seeds are free from the seeds of the following weeds: Wild mustard or charlock (brassica sinapistrum), quack grass (agropyron repens), Canada thistle (cnicus arvensis), wild oats (avena fatua), clover and alfalfa dodder (cuscuta epithymum), field dodder (cuscuta arvenus), and corn cockle (lychnis githago). [L. '09, p. 590, § 2.]

§ 3059. Impurities—Weed Seeds.—Seeds of the following weeds shall be considered as impurities in agricultural seeds as defined in section 3057, so offered or exposed for sale for the purpose of seeding: White cockle (lychnis vespertina), nightflowering catchfly (silene noctiflora), curled dock (rumex crispus), smooth dock (rumex altissimus), sheep sorrel (rumex acetosella), yellow trefoil (medotus alba and officinalis), black mustard (brassica nigra), plantain buckhorn (plantago lanceolata), bracted plantain (plantago aris tata), bindweed (convolvulus sepium), smooth crab grass (panicum glabrum), common chickweed (stellaria media), August flower and Russian thistle. When such impurities or any of them are present in quantity exceeding a total of two per cent of the weight of said agricultural seeds, the approximate percentage of each shall be plainly indicated in statement specified in subdivision three (3) of section 3057. [L. '09, p. 590, § 3.]

§ 3060. Adulterated or Mixed Seeds.—For the purposes of this act seeds shall be deemed to be mixed or adulterated:

First. When orchard grass (dactylus glomerata) seed contains ten per cent or more by weight of meadow fescue (festuca elatior pratensis) seed, or Italian rye grass (lolium italicum) seed, or English rye grass (lolium perenne) seed.

Second. When blue grass or Kentucky blue grass (poa pratensis) seed contains five per cent or more by weight of Canadian blue grass (poa compressa) seed, red top chaff, red top (agrostis alba) seed, or any other seed or foreign substance.

Third. When red clover (trifolium pratense), mammoth red clover (trifolium pratense var), or alfalfa (medicago sativa), contains five per cent or more by weight of yellow trefoil (medicago lupulina), or sweet clover (melilotus alba and M. officinalsis) seed or burr clover (medicago denticulata) seed.

Fourth. When rape (brassica rapa) contains five per cent or more of common mustard (brassica sinapistrum) or black mustard (B. nigra). [L. '09, p. 591, § 4.]

§ 3061. Misbranded Packages.—For the purpose of this act, seed shall be deemed to be misbranded:

First. When meadow fescue (festuca elatior pratensis), English rye grass (lolium perenne) or Italian rye grass (lolium italicum) is labeled or sold under the name of orchard grass (dactylis glomerata) seed.

Second. When Canadian blue grass (poa compressa) seed, red top (agrostis alba) seed, or any other seed not blue grass seed, is sold under the name of Kentucky blue grass or blue grass (poa pratensis) seed.

Third. When yellow trefoil (medicago lupulina), burr clover (medicago denticulata), or sweet clover (melilotus alba) is sold under the name of clover, June clover, red clover (trifolium pratense), medium red clover, small red clover, mammoth red clover, sappling clover, peavine clover (T. pratense var) or alfalfa (medicago sativa) seed.

Fourth. When the seeds are not true to the name under which they are sold. [L. '09, p. 591, § 5.]

§ 3062. Application of Act—Persons Liable.—The provisions concerning agricultural seeds contained in this act shall not apply to:

First. Any person or persons growing or selling seeds for food purposes only, or having such seeds in possession for sale for such purposes.

Second. Any person selling goods direct to merchants, to be cleaned or graded before being offered for sale for the purpose of seeding. This shall not, however, exempt the seller from the restrictions of section —— of this act.

Third. Seed that is held in storage for the purpose of being recleaned, and which has not been offered, exposed or held in possession of or for sale for the purpose of seeding.

Fourth. Seed marked "not absolutely clean," and held or sold for export outside the state only.

Fifth. The sale of seed that is grown, sold and delivered by any farmer on his own premises for seeding by the purchaser himself, unless the purchaser of said seeds obtains from the seller at the time of the sale thereof a certificate that the said seed is supplied to the purchaser subject to the provisions of this act.

Sixth. Mixtures of seeds for lawn or pasture purposes. This shall not, however, exempt the seller of such mixtures of seeds from the restrictions of sections —— and —— of this act. [L. '09, p. 592, § 6.]

"Act," see note to § 3057.

§ 3063. Impurities—Foreign Substances.—Sand, dirt, chaff and foreign substances and seeds other than those specified in sections 3060 and 3061, or broken seed and seed not capable of germinating, shall be considered impurities when present in agricultural seeds sold, offered or exposed for sale for the purpose of seeding, and when such impurities or any of them are present in quantity exceeding the standards of purity and viability authorized by this act, the name and approximate percentage of each shall be plainly indicated in the statement specified in subdivision 3, section 3057. [L. '09, p. 592, § 7.]

§ 3064. Standard of Purity and Viability.—The following standards of purity (meaning freedom from weed seeds or other seeds) and viability are hereby fixed:

STANDARD OF PURITY AND VIABILITY OF AGRICULTURAL SEEDS.

Name of Seed.	Per Cent of Purity.	Per Cent of Germinable Seeds.
Alfalfa (medicago sativa)	96	80
Barley	98	90
Blue grass, Canadian (poa compressa)	90	45
Blue grass, Kentucky (poa pratensis)	80	45
Brome, awnless (bromus inermis)	90	75
Buckwheat	96	90
Clover, alsike (trifolium hybridum)	90	75
Clover, crimson (trifolium incarnatum)	98	85
Clover, red (trifolium pratense)	92	80
Clover, white (trifolium repens)	90	75
Corn, field (zea mays)	99	94
Corn, sweet	99	75
Fescue, meadow (festuca pratensis)	95	85
Flax (linum usitatissimum)	96	89
Millet, common (setaria italica)	90	85
Millet, hog (panicum miliaceum)	90	85
Millet, pearl (penisetum typhoideum)	99	65
Oats (avena sativa)	98	90
Oat grass, tall (arrhena.therum avenaceum)	72	70
Orchard grass (dactylis glomerata)	70	70
Rape (brassica rapa)	99	90
Redtop (agrostis alba)	90	70
Rye (secala cereale)	98	90
Rye grass, perennial (lolium perenne)	96	90
Rye grass, Italian (lolium italicum)	95	80

§ 3065. Duties of Inspector.—The state dairy and food commissioner shall cause to be made an analysis of all agricultural seeds sold or offered for sale in this state, and such commissioner or his deputy is hereby authorized to take for analysis a sample from any lot or package of agricultural seeds, not to exceed four ounces in weight. Such sample shall be taken in the presence of the party or parties in interest, or their representative, from any parcel, lot or number of parcels, not less than five per cent of the whole lot inspected, and such sample shall be thoroughly mixed, and divided into two samples, and placed in glass or metal vessels, carefully sealed, and a label placed on each, stating the names of the seed therein, name of the party from whose stock the sample was taken, and the place and date of taking such sample, and such label shall be signed by the said commissioner or his deputy, or said sample may be taken in the presence of two disinterested witnesses. All of said samples shall be taken in duplicate, and one of such duplicate samples shall be left on the premises of the party whose stock was sampled; and the other shall be retained by such commissioner for analysis and comparison. The result of the analysis of such sample, together with such additional information as the said dairy and food commissioner may deem advisable, shall be published from time to time in bulletins to be issued by said dairy and food commissioner. [L. '09, p. 594, § 9.]

§ 3066. Samples—Analysis by Dairy and Food Commissioner—Fee.—Any person purchasing any agricultural seed for his own use, may submit fair samples of said seeds to the said dairy and food commissioner, who shall, upon the receipt of a fee of fifty cents for each such sample so submitted, cause an analysis of the same to be made and furnished to the person submitting the same. [L. '09, p. 594, § 10.]

§ 3067. Rules — Power of Deputies. — It is especially made the duty of the said dairy and food commissioner to enforce the provisions of this act, and for that purpose he may make all necessary rules and regulations not inconsistent herewith. Any deputy of said commissioner shall have the same authority and power in the performance of his duties under this act as said commissioner. [L. '09, p. 594, § 11.]

See note to § 3057.

§ 3068. Penalty for Sale of Impure Seeds.—Any person who sells, offers or exposes for sale any agricultural seeds herein enumerated, that do not conform to the standard of purity as provided in this act, and shall not have the statement provided in section 3057 attached to the receptacle containing such seed, or who shall put any such statement on any such receptacle knowing said statement to be false, or who shall prevent or hinder the said dairy and food commissioner or any deputy in the performance of his duties under this act, or who shall otherwise violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding thirty days, or both such fine and imprisonment. [L. '09, p. 595, § 12.]

"Act": See note to § 3057.

CHAPTER VIII.

Horticulture.

§ 3082–1. Definition of Terms in Act.—That the term "commissioner" whenever used in this act shall be held and construed to mean the commissioner of agriculture of the state of Washington, and the term "assistant commissioner" and "assistant" shall be held and construed to mean the assistant commissioner of agriculture for the division of horticulture; the term "horticultural inspector" and the term "inspector" wherever used in this act shall be held and construed to mean an inspector of the department of agriculture, assigned to the division of horticulture; the term "nursery stock" wherever used in this act shall be held and construed to mean and include fruit trees, fruit-tree stock, nut trees, grape-vines, fruit bushes, rose bushes, rose stock, forest and ornamental trees and shrubs (both deciduous and evergreen), florists' stock, and cuttings, scions and seedlings of fruit or ornamental trees or shrubs, and all other fruit-bearing plants and parts thereof and plant products for propagation or planting; the term "infect" and its derivatives "infecting," "infected" and "infection," wherever used in this act shall be held and construed to mean and include being affected by or infested with the disease or insect pests to which horticultural plants and products are subject and which are required to be guarded against, controlled, cured, removed, and eradicated as in this act provided; the terms "disinfect" and its derivatives shall be held and construed to mean and include the cure, removal or eradication of such diseases or pests by cutting and destroying the infected parts, or the application of fungicides or insecticides specified in this act or such other effective solutions or emulsions as may be discovered by science and specified and described in the bulletins issued by the commissioner of agriculture, and the term "person" wherever used in this act, shall be held and construed to mean and include individuals, partnerships, associations, joint stock companies and corporations. [L. '15, p. 494, § 1.]

§ 3082–2. Commissioner of Agriculture and Inspectors—Powers and Duties.—The commissioner of agriculture shall have the power and it shall be his duty:

(a) To exercise a general supervisory and directory control over the horticultural interests of the state:

(b) To arrange for and hold meetings for the discussion and dissemination of information as to horticultural subjects and for the demonstration of methods of preventing diseases of and pests injurious to horticultural plants, fruits and vegetables, and of curing and removing the same:

(c) To publish and distribute circulars and reports upon horticultural subjects, the pests affecting and the diseases of fruit trees, vines or bushes, ornamental trees or shrubbery, horticultural plants, fruits, vegetables and nursery stock, and the means and methods of controlling, curing, removing, eradicating and disinfecting for such diseases and pests:

(d) To issue licenses to nurserymen and dealers in nursery stock and their agents, salesmen and solicitors and revoke the same for violations of or failure to comply with this act, and to keep in his office a record of all licenses issued, showing the character of the license, name and address of the holder, the date of issue and the date of expiration or revocation:

(e) To furnish to the board of county commissioners of each county, annually, on or before September 1st, an estimate of the expenses for the ensuing year of inspecting and disinfecting orchards, vineyard[s], berry farms, vegetable farms and nurseries, and packing houses, warehouses, storerooms, depots, docks and other places where fruits, vegetables or nursery stock are grown, packed, stored, shipped or held for shipment or delivery or offered for sale within said county;

(f) To appoint inspectors to enforce and carry out the provisions of this act, which inspectors may be of two classes, inspectors at large and local inspectors: Provided, that not more than twenty inspectors at large shall be appointed.

(g) The commissioner may also in his discretion appoint any officer or member of any local fruit protective association to act as inspector, vested with power only to enter premises and inspect orchards and report to the inspector-at-large. Such inspectors shall receive no compensation for services and shall not be required to take the regular examination required of inspectors-at-large and local inspectors.

(h) To make, adopt, issue and publish from time to time and enforce general rules and regulations governing the grading and packing of apples, and other fruits.

The commissioner of agriculture, and under his direction and control the assistant commissioner and the horticultural inspectors, shall have the power and it shall be their duty:

(a) To enforce the provisions of this act and all laws relating to horticultural interests:

(b) To inspect orchards, vineyards, berry farms, vegetable farms, nurseries, fruit trees, vines or bushes, ornamental trees or shrubbery, horticultural plants, fruits, vegetables, nursery stock and horticultural supplies, and packing-houses, dry-houses, warehouses, storerooms, depots, docks, cars, vessels and other places where fruits, vegetables or nursery stock are packed, stored, shipped or held for shipment or delivery or offered for sale, and other property liable to be infected with any disease or pest injurious to horticulture, and to require the disinfection of all such property and premises found to be infected and for that purpose shall have free access to such property and premises at all times.

(c) To inspect and examine orchards, vineyards, nurseries, berry farms, vegetable farms, fruits, vegetables, nursery stock and all other horticultural plants and products, at the request of the owner thereof for the purpose of discovering the existence of any disease or pest, and to report to the applicant the result of such investigation and prescribe proper remedies;

(d) To disinfect orchards, vineyards, berry farms, nurseries, fruit trees, vines and bushes, ornamental trees and shrubbery, horticultural plants, fruits, vegetables and nursery stock, and packing-houses, dry-houses, warehouses, storerooms, depots, docks, cars, vessels and other places where nursery stock, fruits, or vegetables are packed, stored or shipped or held for shipment or delivery or offered for sale, in case the owner or person having the same in charge shall neglect or refuse so to do, after notice; and in case any infected fruit trees, vines or bushes, ornamental trees or shrubbery, horticultural plants, fruits, vegetables or nursery stock cannot be successfully disinfected to condemn and destroy the same or cause the same to be destroyed;

(e) To require all partially infected fruit, vegetable and nursery stock shipments to be sorted and repacked and, in case the owner or person having charge of the same shall neglect or refuse so to do after notice, to condemn and destroy the same;

(f) To issue certificates of inspection to licensed nurserymen and dealers in nursery stock, on stock inspected and approved. [L. '15, p. 495, § 2.]

§ 3082–3. Inspectors — Assignment — Appointment — Salary and Expenses.—Inspectors-at-large may be assigned to duty in one or more counties and transferred from one county to another in the discretion of the commissioner, and their salaries, compensation and actual and necessary traveling expenses shall be paid by warrants drawn upon the state treasurer by the state auditor upon vouchers signed and verified under oath by such inspectors and countersigned by the commissioner or the assistant commissioner. In addition to inspectors-at-large the commissioner shall, whenever the board of county commissioners of any county by resolution request it, appoint such number of local inspectors and for such length of time as such resolution shall specify and assign them to duty in such county. The salaries, not to exceed four dollars per day, and actual and necessary traveling expenses, within the county, of all local inspectors shall be paid out of the current expense fund of their respective counties upon vouchers signed and verified under oath by such inspectors and approved by the commissioner or the assistant commissioner, and the county auditor shall issue warrants therefor upon the said county fund. All local inspectors shall be under the direction and control of the commissioner of agriculture and the assistant commissioner. In case any inspector is dismissed from the service or transferred to another place, or to other duties, any qualified inspector or officer of the agricultural department may continue or complete any work or perform any duty initiated by such dismissed or transferred officer. [L. '15, p. 498, § 3.]

§ 3082–4. Pests and Diseases—Disinfection.—It shall be the duty of every person owning, leasing or occupying any land or premises on which there is or shall be growing, grown or situate any nursery stock, fruit trees, vines or bushes, shade trees, ornamental trees or shrubbery, or any horticultural plants, and of the owner or lessee of any such nursery stock, trees, fruit trees, vines, bushes, shrubbery or plants growing or situate on premises leased or occupied by him, and of the owner of any such nursery stock, trees, fruit trees, vines, bushes, shrubbery or plants growing, situate or being at any place within the state of Washington, for sale or delivery, and of every grower, shipper, commission merchant, consignee, dealer in and person in charge of any nursery stock, fruit or vegetables about to be shipped, or shipped, or held for delivery or offered for sale, to take and use sufficient methods and means for the prevention of infection by all pests and diseases to which such nursery stock, trees, fruit trees, vines, bushes, shrubbery, plants, fruits or vegetables may be subject, and to keep the same free from disease and pests, and, in event it is found that any such nursery stock, trees, fruit trees, vines, bushes, shrubbery, plants, fruits or vegetables are infected with any disease or pest, to promptly take and use effective means to control, cure, remove, eradicate and disinfect for the same, and in case such nursery stock, trees, fruit trees, vines, bushes, shrubbery, plants, fruits or vegetables cannot be successfully disinfected, to promptly destroy the same, and it shall be the duty of every owner and of the lessee of any premises upon which there are growing any infected fruit, fruit trees, shade or ornamental trees, vines or bushes, to thoroughly spray the same with a proper solution or emulsion or otherwise disinfect the same for the control, cure or removal of such infection. [L. '15, p. 499, § 4.]

ornamental trees and shrubbery, horticultural plants, fruit and vegetables to be guarded against, controlled, treated, removed, eradicated and disinfected for, as in the next preceding section provided, shall be all bacterial diseases, including fire blight of apple, pear and quince, crown gall or root gall, and hairy root; all fungus diseases, including black spot canker, pear scab, apple scab, apple powdery mildew, peach leaf curl, peach mildew, brown rot of peach, cherry and prune, chestnut blight, potato wart, powdery scab of potato and peach twig blight; all insect pests, including chewing insects, such as bud moth, peach-twig borer, caterpillars, pear slug, flat headed borer, round headed borer, imported cabbage worm, potato tuber moth, potato nematode or eel worm, Mediterranean fruit fly, lesser apple worm, tussock moth, gypsy moth, brown-tail moth, codling moth, and the larva of any thereof, and sucking insects, such as San Jose scale, scurfy scale, oyster-shell bark louse, aphids, pear leaf blistermites and red spider; and such other bacterial and fungus diseases and insect pests as may be identified by science and specified and described as injurious to horticulture in the circulars to be issued from time to time by the commissioner of agriculture.

The methods and means required to be used for the prevention, control, removal, eradication and cure of the diseases and pests above specified, shall be as follows: For bacterial diseases, eradication by the removal and destruction of the infected plant or part thereof, care being taken to disinfect all tools used in such removal to prevent the spread of the infection or by any other methods that shall have been approved by the insecticide and fungicide board; for fungus diseases, control or cure by spraying with effective fungicides, such as bordeaux solution, lime-sulphur solution, sulphide of iron or other effective fungicides; for chewing insect pests, control or removal by spraying with effective insecticides, such as arsenate of lead solution and arsenite or zinc solution; for sucking insect pests, control or removal by spraying with effective insecticides such as lime-sulphur solution, crude oil emulsion, tobacco solution, distillate oil emulsion, kerosene emulsion, soap solution, and sulphur solution, or combinations thereof; and for fungus and insect pests, control, cure or removal by spraying with such other effective solutions and emulsions as may be discovered by science and specified and described in the circulars issued by the commissioner of agriculture. [L. '15, p. 499, § 5.]

§ 3082–6. Insecticide and Fungicide Board — Duties. — There is hereby created a board to be known as the state insecticide and fungicide board, which board shall consist of the commissioner of agriculture or the assistant commissioner, the director of the agricultural experiment station at Pullman and three members of the agricultural experiment station to be appointed by the director, one of whom shall be an entomologist, one a plant pathologist and one a chemist. It shall be the duty of the said board to analyze and report upon any insecticides and fungicides offered for sale to be used in the control and removal of insect pests and fungus and bacterial diseases to which horticultural plants are subject. It shall be the duty of all horticultural inspectors to from time to time procure and submit to such board samples of such insecticides and fungicides offered for sale. [L. '15, p. 501, § 6.]

§ 3082–7. Definitions — Insecticide—Fungicides.—It shall be unlawful for any person to offer for sale in the state of Washington any horticultural insecticide or fungicide which is adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of this act. The term "insecticide" as used in this act shall include any substance or mixture of substances intended to be used for preventing, destroying, repelling, or mitigating any insects which may infest vegetation. The term "paris green" as used in this act shall include the product sold in commerce as paris green and chemically known as the aceto-arsenite of copper. The term "lead arsenate" as used in this act shall include the product or products sold in commerce as lead arsenate and consisting chemically of products derived from arsenic acid (H3AsO4) by replacing one or more hydrogen atoms by lead. That the term "fungicide" as used in this act shall include any substance or mixture of substances intended to be used for preventing, destroying, repelling, or mitigating any and all fungi that may infest vegetation or be present in any environment whatsoever. [L. '15, p. 501, § 7.]

§ 3082–8. Adulterations—Misbranding.—That for the purpose of this act an article shall be deemed to be adulterated—

In the case of paris green: First, if it does not contain at least fifty per centum of arsenious oxide; second, if it contains arsenic in water-soluble form equivalent to more than three and one-half per centum of arsenious oxide; third, if any substance has been mixed and packed with it so as to reduce or lower or injuriously affect its quality or strength.

In the case of lead arsenate: First, if it contains more than fifty per centum of water; second, if it contains total arsenic equivalent to less than twelve and one-half per centum of arsenic oxid (As2O5); third, if it contains arsenic in water-soluble form equivalent to more than seventy-five one-hundredths per centum or arsenic oxid (As2O5); fourth, if any substances have been mixed and packed with it so as to reduce, lower, or injuriously affect its quality or strength; Provided, however, that extra water may be added to lead arsenate (as described in this paragraph) if the resulting mixture is labeled lead arsenate and water, the percentage of extra water being plainly and correctly stated on the label.

In the case of insecticides or fungicides, other than paris green and lead arsenate: First, if its strength or purity fall below the professed standard or quality under which it is sold; second, if any substance has been substituted wholly or in part for the article; third, if any valuable constituent of the article has been wholly or in part abstracted; fourth, if it is intended for use on vegetation and shall contain any substance or substances which, although preventing, destroying, repelling, or mitigating insects, shall be injurious to such vegetation when used.

That the term "misbranded" as used herein shall apply to all insecticides, paris green, lead arsenates, or fungicides, or articles which enter into the composition of insecticides or fungicides, the package or label of which shall bear any statement, design, or device regarding such article or the ingredients or substances contained therein which shall be false or misleading in any particular, and to all insecticides, paris greens, lead arsenates, or fungicides which are falsely branded as to the state, territory, or country in which they are manufactured or produced.

That for the purpose of this act an article shall be deemed to be misbranded—

In the case of insecticides, paris greens, lead arsenates, and fungicides: First, if it be an imitation or offered for sale under the name of another article; second, if it be labeled or branded so as to deceive or mislead the purchaser, or if the contents of the package as originally put up shall have been removed in whole or in part and other contents shall have been placed in such package; third, if in package form, and the contents are stated in terms of weight or measure, they are not plainly and correctly stated on the outside of the package.

In the case of insecticides (other than paris greens and lead arsenates) and fungicides: First, if it contains arsenic in any of its combinations or in the elemental form and the total amount or arsenic present (expressed as per centum of metallic arsenic) is not stated on the label; second, if it contains arsenic in any of its combinations or in the elemental form and the amount of arsenic in water-soluble forms (expressed as per centum of metallic arsenic) is not stated on the label; third, if it consists partially or completely of an inert substance or substances which do not prevent, destroy, repel, or mitigate insects or fungi and does not have the names and percentage amounts of each and every one of such inert ingredients plainly and correctly stated on the label: Provided, however, that in lieu of naming and stating the percentage amount of each and every inert ingredient the producer may at his discretion state plainly upon the label the correct names and percentage amounts of each and every ingredient of the insecticide or fungicide having insecticidal or fungicidal properties, and make no mention of the inert ingredients, except in so far as to state the total percentage of inert ingredients present. [L. '15, p. 502, § 8.]

§ 3082–9. Right of Inspection.—The commissioner of agriculture, the assistant commissioner and all horticultural inspectors are authorized and empowered to at any time enter upon any premises where any nursery, orchard, vineyard, berry farm or vegetable farm is situate or whereon any nursery stock, fruit trees, shade trees, ornamental trees or shrubbery or horticultural plants are growing, or upon any premises or into any building, packing-house, dry-house, warehouses, storeroom, depot, dock, car, vessel, or other place wherein any nursery stock, fruits, vegetables, or horticultural products are situate, being prepared or packed for shipment, stored, shipped, held for shipment or for delivery upon any shipment or sale, or offered for sale for the purpose of examining and inspecting such premises or property to ascertain whether the same or any thereof are infected, and it shall be unlawful for any person to hinder or prevent or to attempt to hinder or prevent any such officer from entering such premises or inspecting such premises or property or performing any duty required by this act. [L. '15, p. 504, § 9.]

§ 3082–10. Notice of Condemnation—Shipments—Manufacture.—In case the officer making the inspection provided for in the preceding section shall find that the premises or property inspected is infected, he shall condemn the same and serve upon the owner or upon the person having possession or charge of said premises or of said property a notice in writing that the same is condemned and ordering the disinfection of any and all thereof which is capable of disinfection and the destruction of such property as is incapable of disinfection, which notice shall describe the premises or property ordered to be disinfected or destroyed with reasonable certainty and shall specify the time within which the same shall be so disinfected or destroyed; and shall give notice that unless the premises or property ordered disinfected or destroyed is disinfected or destroyed as directed, in the manner and within the time specified in said notice, the same will be done by the officer giving the notice and the expense thereof charged against the premises and the owner of said premises or property. In case said premises or property is in the possession or charge of any person upon whom service can be made, the officer making the inspection shall serve a copy of such notice upon such person and, in case the premises or property is in possession or charge of any other person than the owner thereof, or service cannot be had upon any person in possession or charge thereof, the officer shall serve said notice upon the owner of said premises or property by mailing or telegraphing him a copy thereof, if his name or postoffice address are known to the officer or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained. In case personal service of said notice cannot be had upon any person in possession or charge of said premises or property and the name and address of the owner of such premises or property are not known and cannot with reasonable diligence be ascertained, said notice shall be served by posting the same in a conspicuous place upon the premises where the property to be disinfected or destroyed is situated, as the case may be. In case the name and postoffice address of the owner are not known and cannot with reasonable diligence be ascertained and in the absence of fraud and gross neglect, service of such notice upon the person in possession or charge of said premises or property shall be construed to be substituted personal service upon the owner, and, in case service of such notice upon a person in possession or charge of such premises or property cannot be had and the name and postoffice address of the owner is not known and cannot with reasonable diligence be ascertained and in the absence of fraud and gross neglect, such posting of the notice upon the premises shall be construed to be constructive personal service upon the owner of such premises or property. Upon the giving of such notice as hereinabove provided it shall become and be the duty of the owner and person having possession or charge of the premises or property described in the notice to, within the time specified in said notice, disinfect said premises or disinfect or destroy said property, as the case may be: Provided, that in the case of nursery stock, fruit or vegetables about to be shipped or any shipment thereof, or which is offered for sale, or held for the purpose of delivery upon any shipment or sale thereof, if the officer making the inspection shall find that only a part thereof is so affected that it cannot be successfully disinfected, he shall state in such notice that the owner or person in charge thereof has the privilege of separating the same into two or more of the following classes, to wit, such as does not need disinfection, such as can be successfully disinfected, and such as cannot be successfully disinfected, and in such cases it shall be the duty of the owner and person in charge of such property to, within the time specified in said notice, disinfect such nursery stock, fruit or vegetables as can be successfully disinfected and destroy such as cannot be successfully disinfected: And provided, further, that in the case of fruit or vegetables that cannot be successfully disinfected the inspector may grant the owner or person in charge thereof the privilege of manufacturing the same into by-products or of shipping the same to a by-product factory and issue a permit in writing so to do, and in such case it shall be unlawful for the person receiving such permit to sell or dispose of such infected fruit without having first manufactured the same into a by-product or shipped the same to a by-product factory, or to divert any such shipment when made, and it shall be unlawful for the consignee of any fruit or vegetables shipped to a by-product factory, to sell or dispose of the same without first manufacturing it into a by-product. It shall be unlawful for any person to ship, deliver, sell, barter, give away or otherwise dispose of or part with the possession of any nursery stock, fruit or vegetable which has been found infected and condemned until all of the requirements of said notice and order have been complied with, and permission given in writing so to do by an inspector. [L. '15, p. 504, § 10.]

§ 3082–11. Disinfection or Destruction by Inspector.—In case the owner or person in charge of any premises or property required to be disinfected or destroyed as in the previous section provided, shall fail or neglect to comply with the notice within the time specified therein, the officer giving the notice shall have the right and it shall be his duty to enter upon the premises to be disinfected or where the personal property required to be disinfected or destroyed is situated and perform the acts required in such notice, or cause the same to be performed at the cost and expense of the owner of such premises or property as the case may be. The officer shall keep an accurate account of such cost and expense and the same shall be a lien upon the premises or personal property so disinfected, which lien may be enforced by the methods hereinafter provided. The liens in this section provided for shall in the case of personal property have precedence over all other liens. [L. '15, p. 506, § 11.]

§ 3082–12. Impounding for Expenses—Notice and Sale—Actions —Records.—The officer disinfecting any personal property may, in case the owner or person in charge shall not pay such cost and expense, impound and sell such property to enforce the lien of the state and collect such cost and expense. The officer impounding personal property as above provided shall give notice in writing that the property is impounded which notice shall describe the property with reasonable certainty, state where the same is impounded, specify the amount of costs and expense charged against it and state that unless the charges are paid within a time specified in said notice the property will be sold to satisfy the charges against it and the transportation and storage charges accrued, if any, and the cost of making the sale. The officer giving such notice shall post it in a conspicuous place upon the premises where such property is impounded and serve the same upon the owner or upon the person in possession or charge of such impounded property in like manner with like effect as hereinabove in this act provided for service of notice to disinfect. The time within which a sale shall be had after the giving of the notice shall not be less than ten days, provided that in the case of perishable fruits or vegetables, the same may be had immediately. Sales may be either at public auction or private sale as in the sound discretion of the officer may be for the best interest of the state and the owner of the property to be sold. The proceeds of any such sale shall be applied first to the payment of the cost of making the sale, second to the payment of the cost and expense of disinfection and third to the payment of accrued transportation and storage charges, if any, and the balance, if any, shall be paid the owner or person in charge of the property sold, upon demand. In case the proceeds of such sale be not sufficient to pay the cost of making the sale, and the cost and expense of disinfection, the deficiency may be recovered from the owner of the property disinfected in an action at law in the name of the state on the relation of the commissioner of agriculture, and the prosecuting attorney of the county where the property was disinfected shall, when directed so to do by the attorney general, bring such action for the recovery of such deficiency. The officer making such sale shall make and keep a full and detailed record of all acts done by him with reference to such property, stating the name of the owner or reputed owner of such property when known, the location thereof, the date of inspection, the facts found upon inspection, the date and manner of giving the notice to disinfect, the failure of the owner or person in charge to disinfect, the disinfection by or under the direction of the officer, the cost and expense thereof in detail, the date and manner of giving the notice of impounding and sale, the date, place and manner of sale, the name of the person to whom the property was sold, the amount of the proceeds of the same and the disposition made thereof, which record shall be signed by the officer making the same. Upon demand of the owner or person in charge of such property, the officer making the sale shall furnish him with a copy of such record verified under oath, and shall tender him the balance of said proceeds. If no demand is made upon the officer making such sale within thirty days from the date of sale, or in case the balance of said proceeds is not accepted when tendered, the officer shall file a verified copy of such record with and remit the balance of the proceeds of such sale to the commissioner of agriculture, who shall retain the same for a period of six months subject to the order of the owner of the property sold, and if at the end of six months such proceeds be not claimed and accepted by the owner or his order, the same shall be turned into the state treasury. The record required to be kept as hereinabove provided and the verified copy thereof shall be prima facie proof of the truth of the facts therein stated in any court in any action or proceeding where proof of such facts is competent. [L. '15, p. 507, § 12.]

§ 3082–13. Levy of Horticultural Tax—Collection.—It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners of each county at the time of making the regular annual tax levy in each year to include a tax upon the taxable property of such county in such an amount as they shall find will produce funds sufficient to meet the expense of inspecting and disinfecting orchards, vineyards, berry farms, vegetable farms, nurseries, fruit trees, vines or bushes, ornamental trees or shrubbery, horticultural plants, and packing-houses, warehouses, dry-houses, storerooms, depots, docks and other places where fruits, vegetables or nursery stock are packed, stored, shipped or held for shipment or delivery or offered for sale within said county, which shall be inspected or disinfected by or under the direction of an inspector, which tax shall be known as the "horticultural tax." In estimating the amount to be levied for such horticultural tax, the county commissioners shall take into consideration the expense of inspecting and disinfecting the above-mentioned property within said county for the ensuing year and the amount that will be collected from levies on property disinfected as in this act provided. The horticultural tax shall be levied and collected in the same manner as other general taxes and when collected shall be placed in the current expense fund of said county. Until the collection by any county of the taxes to be levied under the provisions of this section at the next annual tax levy after the taking effect of this act, the county commissioners of such county are authorized and empowered to cause to be paid, by warrants drawn upon the current expense fund of such county, all expenses for inspecting and disinfecting premises or property within said county properly chargeable to such county under the provisions of this act, and all expenditures made from and warrants drawn upon the current expense fund of any county by order of the board of county commissioners of such county, subsequent to the repeal of section 3133 of Remington and Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington and prior to the passage of this act for the purpose of paying the cost and expense of inspecting or disinfecting premises or property in such county as provided in this act, are hereby validated. [L. '15, p. 509, § 13.]

stock, fruit trees, vines or bushes, shade trees, ornamental trees or shrubbery or horticultural plants growing on any premises, or any packing-houses, warehouse, dry-houses, storerooms, depots, or other premises where nursery stock, fruits, vegetables or horticultural products are stored, situated or being prepared or packed for shipment or offered for sale or held for the purpose of delivery upon any shipment or sale, may be recovered as in this section provided. The officer disinfecting any premises or property growing upon any premises or causing the same to be disinfected as in this act provided shall make and keep a full and detailed record of all acts done by him with reference to such property or premises, stating the legal description of premises upon which property disinfected was growing, the name of the owner or reputed owner, the date of inspection, the facts found upon inspection, the date and manner of giving of notice to disinfect, the failure of the owner or person in charge to disinfect, the disinfection by or under the direction of the officer, the cost and expense thereof in detail, which record shall be signed by the officer making the same. In case the cost and expense of disinfecting any premises, or the property growing thereon, are not paid within five days after the completion of the work of disinfection, the officer making such record shall make and file with the county auditor of the county where such premises are situated two verified copies of the record of his acts with reference to said premises and the charge against the same, and shall also file a claim of lien against said premises for the amount of such charges and expenses, which said claim shall refer to said record. Upon the filing of such verified record and claim of lien the county auditor shall record the said claim of lien as other lien claims are recorded. The county auditor shall also, at the time when said record and claim are filed, forthwith issue proper warrants in payment for labor of men employed in the work and fix a day for a hearing upon the report before the board of county commissioners, which date shall not be less than twenty days from the date of said filing and shall prepare a notice of the filing of such record and claim and of the date of hearing upon the same and in all proceedings the county shall be deemed substituted to all the rights of laborers paid as herein provided. Said notice shall be directed to the owner, or reputed owner, and shall give notice of the filing of said record and claim and of the amount thereof and shall also give notice of the time and place when and where the board of county commissioners will hear and determine the same. The county auditor shall deliver said notice, together with a copy thereof, to the sheriff of the county in which said claim is filed and the sheriff shall make service thereof in like manner and with like effect as herein provided for the service of notice to disinfect and shall make return of such service upon the original notice and file the same with the county auditor before the time of hearing of the same, and he shall also certify with said return the amount of his fees for such service, which shall be the same as is provided for service of summons in civil proceedings. In case the amount of said claim, together with the amount of sheriff's fees and auditor's fees, which shall be the same as is charged for the filing and recording of other liens, is paid to the county treasurer on or before the date of said hearing before said board of county commissioners, the auditor shall, upon the presentation to him of a duplicate receipt of said treasurer for the amount above specified, cancel the said lien in the records of his office and notify the board of county commissioners of his action in the premises. The county treasurer shall disburse the fund received by him as above provided to the parties entitled to receive the same according to the record as shown in the office of the county auditor. In case the amount of said claim, together with costs as above provided, is not paid at or before the time of the hearing before the board of county commissioners, the county auditor shall present a verified copy of said claim and record to the said board, which shall proceed with the hearing upon the same and shall, if offered, hear sworn testimony concerning the matter set forth in said record and claim. The record required to be kept by the officer disinfecting, as hereinabove provided, and the verified copy thereof filed with the county auditor, shall be prima facie proof of the facts therein stated in any proceedings before the board of county commissioners and in any court in any action or proceeding where proof of such facts is competent or the validity of such charges or any tax levied therefor is questioned. After the hearing as herein provided for, the county commissioners shall make an order fixing the amount of such claim and costs and shall order the amount so fixed paid out of the current expense fund of said county, and the auditor shall draw warrants for the payment of such claim as fixed by the county commissioners. The said order of said board fixing the amount of said claim and costs shall be recorded by the county auditor as are other lien claims and shall stand as a lien in favor of said county against the premises therein described until canceled as herein provided. In case the amount of said lien, together with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from the date of said order of said board of county commissioners, is paid to the county treasurer of said county on or before the first Monday in October following the date of said order and a duplicate receipt therefor of said treasurer is presented to said county auditor, the county auditor shall cancel said claim of lien in the records of his office. Payment to the county treasurer as above set forth shall be made by presenting to said treasurer a statement over the signature of the county auditor of the amount due upon said claim together with the amount of money shown by said statement to be due. Upon said payment being so made the treasurer shall stamp said statement as paid, showing the date of said payment, and shall file said statement so stamped in the records of his office; he shall also issue a duplicate receipt for said payment and shall deliver one of said receipts to the party making payment and immediately transmit one of said receipts to the county auditor. In case the amount of said claim and costs, together with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from the date of said order of said board of county commissioners, is not paid as hereinabove provided, on or before the first Monday in October following the date of said order, the board of county commissioners shall, at the regular meeting for the levy of taxes in the month of October following the date of said order, make an order that the amount of such claim, costs and interest, together with a penalty of six per cent thereon, shall be a tax on the premises described in said claim and collected as other taxes are collected and said last-named amount shall be added to the amount of taxes levied against said premises for current expenses. Upon the making of said order the county auditor shall mark the recorded order of said board fixing the amount of said claim of lien "canceled and amount hereof charged as taxes against the property." Upon the collection of said tax by the county treasurer the same shall be credited to the current expense fund of the county. [L. '15, p. 510, § 14.]

§ 3082–15. Importation of Infected Fruit.—It shall be unlawful for any person to import into this state, sell, barter, or otherwise dispose of or offer for sale or have in his possession for the purpose of sale or barter any fruit which is or has been infected with peach mildew, peach-twig borer, San Jose scale or other insect pests or the larvae of the codling moth or peach-twig borer, and the fact that any fruit bears the mark of any such scale insect or is worm eaten by any such larvae, shall be conclusive evidence that the fruit is infected, within the meaning of this section: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the grower of such infected fruit grown within the state of Washington from manufacturing the same into a by-product or selling and shipping the same to a by-product factory. [L. '15, p. 513, § 15.]

§ 3082–16. Fruit Boxes, how Marked—Misuse of Labels.—It shall be the duty of every person growing or packing and selling, offering for sale or shipping in closed boxes or packages, any fruit grown in this state, to plainly mark the same on the outside of the box or package with the name of the variety contained therein or with the words "variety unknown," the name of the place or locality where grown and the name of the grower, or, in case of sale or shipment through an association or organization of growers, the name of such association and the lot number of the grower, and, in case of apples, pears or peaches, the net weight or the number contained in the package, and it shall be unlawful for any person to mark, or place upon, any such package the name of any other place or locality than the place where such fruit was grown, except the place to which shipped, or to falsely mark any such package as to variety, name of grower, association or organization, or place where grown, or to obliterate or change the original marks on any such package or to re-mark the same with the name of any other grower or of any other place than that by or in which the contents were grown, or in case such package is marked with the name of an association or organization of growers to re-mark the same with the name of any other association or organization, and it shall be unlawful for any person having in his possession for sale or offering for sale or selling any fruit grown in this state and shipped in closed packages to repack the same in the boxes or packages of any other grower or shipper or from any other place, or to sell or offer for sale in closed packages any such fruit except in the original packages, or to pack in or offer for sale from any marked box or package any fruit other than that originally contained or shipped therein. In addition to the marks required to be placed upon any closed package of fruit grown in this state, as hereinabove provided, the grower thereof or association or organization of growers packing the same, may mark upon the outside of such package the grade of the fruit contained therein either as "First Grade," "Grade No. 1," or "Extra Fancy," "Second Grade," "Grade No. 2," or "Fancy," "Third Grade," "Grade No. 3," or "C Grade," or such other designation as will indicate first, second or third quality of fruit and "Washington Standard Pack" and it shall be unlawful for any person to re-mark any such closed package as a higher or superior grade than that originally marked by the grower thereof or association or organization packing the same, or for any person other than the grower or association or organization packing such fruit grown in this state to place upon any such closed package not marked with the grade of the contents thereof any mark or brand indicating the grade of such contents. Provided that nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to canned or dried fruit. [L. '15, p. 514, § 16.]

§ 3082–17. Apple Grades—Annual Publication of Regulations.—It shall be unlawful for any grower thereof or association or organization of growers packing apples to mark the package with the grade of the contents unless such contents shall comply with the general rules and regulations made, adopted, issued and published from time to time by the commissioner of agriculture, which general rules and regulations shall define and establish the standard for (1) "First Grade," "Grade No. 1," or "Extra Fancy," (2) "Second Grade," "Grade No. 2," or "Fancy," (3) "Third Grade," "Grade No. 3," or "C Grade," and (4) "Orchard Run," which general rules and regulations shall be adopted, issued and published within thirty days after the taking effect of this act and the commissioner of agriculture is authorized and directed to in the month of December of each year, make, adopt, issue and publish general rules and regulations governing the packing of apples and establishing and defining the grades thereof for the ensuing calendar year and in adopting the same the commissioner is authorized to consult and advise with fruit growers, the officers of associations or organizations of apple growers or distributers or dealers in apples. Before making the rules and regulations for which provision is made in this section the commissioner of agriculture shall provide for a public hearing of horticulturists thereon, notice of which shall be given by mail to every horticultural society, growers' association or marketing organization which shall have filed with him a notice of its existence thirty days before the date of any such hearing, and which shall be a resident of the state of Washington. For the conducting of such hearing the commissioner of agriculture may prescribe all necessary reasonable rules, but said rules must be such as to insure a fair, full and impartial opportunity for all interested districts to be heard. In establishing the grading rules herein mentioned the commissioner of agriculture shall base them on the necessities and proprieties as shown at said hearing, taking into consideration the tonnage of commercial fruit in each district of the state affected by the grading rules to be established. [L. '15, p. 515, § 17.]

§ 3082–18. Time for Destroying Infected Prunings.—It shall be the duty of every person within forty-eight hours after removing any cuttings or prunings from bacterially infected trees or plants to destroy or disinfect the same by burning or scorching. [L. '15, p. 516, § 18.]

§ 3082–19. Disinfection of Trees, etc., on Public Property.—It shall be the duty of the proper state officials, of the board of county commissioners of each county, of the mayor and council or other governing officials of each city and town and of the officers of each irrigation district and school district to, in compliance with the provisions of this act, cause the disinfecting of all infected trees and shrubbery growing upon the public highways, grounds, canals or other public property of such state, county, city, town or district, and such county commissioners and municipal officers are hereby authorized to expend the funds of such county or municipal corporation in carrying out the provisions of this section, and in case of the failure or neglect of any of the aforesaid officers to comply with this section, compliance therewith may be compelled by writ of mandate sued out in a superior court of competent jurisdiction in an action begun in the name of the state upon the relation of the commissioner of agriculture. [L. '15, p. 516, § 19.]

§ 3082–20. Nursery Stock—Dealer's Licenses—Fees.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to engage in, conduct or carry on the business of selling, dealing in or importing into this state for sale or distribution, any nursery stock, or to act as agent, salesman or solicitor for any nurseryman or dealer in nursery stock or to solicit orders for the purchase of nursery stock, without first having obtained from the commissioner of agriculture and having in force a license so to do, and it shall be unlawful for any person to falsely represent that he is the agent, salesman, solicitor or representative of any nurseryman or dealer in nursery stock. No license shall issue until the applicant therefor shall have paid the fee and furnished the bond, as in this act required. The license fee shall be five dollars for nurserymen and dealers in nursery stock and one dollar for agents, salesmen and solicitors. All licenses shall be in the name of the person, firm or corporation licensed, and shall show the purpose for which issued, the name and location of the nursery or place of business of the nurseryman or dealer licensed or represented by the agent, salesman or solicitor licensed, and no license shall be issued to any agent, salesman or solicitor unless the nurseryman or dealer represented shall be licensed. All licenses shall bear the date of issue and shall expire on the first day of July next following the date of issue: Provided, that all licenses in force at the time of the taking effect of this act shall continue in force during the term for which they were issued, unless sooner revoked, and any holder of such license applying for a license under this act prior to the first day of July next following the expiration of his former license, shall be required to pay therefor only the proportional part of the fee required for an annual license for the remaining portion of the year until the first day of July next following. [L. '15, p. 517, § 20.]

plicant with all of the provisions of this act and the laws of the state of Washington relating to the sale, disposition, delivery, inspection and disinfection of nursery stock grown, dealt in, imported, sold, handled or delivered by him during the term of the license applied for and the term or terms of any renewal of the same, and conditioned further that all nursery stock sold or delivered by him during said term or terms shall be true to name, age, and variety as represented, and free from the diseases and pests required to be guarded against by this act.

Every licensed nurseryman or dealer in nursery stock who shall have complied with the provisions of this section shall be entitled, upon the expiration of his license or any renewal thereof, by the payment of the fee of five dollars on or before the date of the expiration of his license or any renewal thereof, to have his license renewed for the ensuing year ending July 1st, by the giving of a bond as herein specified.

The cancellation or revocation of, or the withdrawal of the sureties from, any bond filed in accordance with the provisions of this section, shall ipso facto work a suspension of the license of the principal of said bond and the license of all agents, salesmen and solicitors employed by and representing him, until such time as such principal shall furnish a new bond to be approved by the commissioner of agriculture. [L. '15, p. 518, § 21.]

§ 3082–22. Complaints Against Licensees — Notice — Hearings — Appeals.—Upon complaint in writing, verified under oath by the complainant, being made to the commissioner of agriculture, that the holder of any license in this act provided for has violated or failed to comply with the provisions of this act or the laws of the state of Washington relating to horticulture, the commissioner, if in his judgment the complaint justifies a hearing thereon, shall serve upon the holder of such license by registered mail, a copy of such complaint and a notice of the time and place of hearing the same, which hearing shall not be less than ten nor more than thirty days from the date of mailing said notice, and shall be at such place to be determined by the commissioner, as shall be most convenient to all the parties to the hearing: Provided, in case the nursery and principal place of business is within this state then hearing shall take place in the county where the nursery or principal place of business is located for the attendance of witnesses.

The complainant and the person complained of shall have compulsory process to compel the attendance of witnesses at such hearing, to be issued by the commissioner. Hearings may be held by the commissioner in person or by the assistant who shall report in writing a synopsis of the testimony taken and his findings thereon to the commissioner for his decision. If upon such hearing or report it shall appear to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the person complained of has violated or is violating or failing to comply with the provisions of this act or the laws of the state of Washington relating to horticulture, he may revoke the license of such person, and no new license shall issue to such person until it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the cause of the complaint has been removed.

From the decision of the commissioner revoking a license, or refusing to issue a new license, an appeal shall lie to the superior court of the county where the hearing shall have been held. [L. '15, p. 518, § 22.]

§ 3082–23. Sales—Fraud—Liability on Bond.—It shall be unlawful for any person to deceive or defraud any person on the sale of any nursery stock by substituting inferior or different varieties from those ordered, or to willfully or intentionally bring into this state or to offer for sale or distribution within this state or to ship, sell or deliver upon any sale any nursery stock that is infected, and in case of any such deceit, fraud or substitution, the person, firm or corporation damaged or injured thereby shall have recourse against the bond filed by the licensed nurseryman or dealer from whom such stock has been purchased, for all damages sustained, which damages may be recovered at the suit of the party injured against the nurseryman or dealer causing the damage and the sureties on such bond in any court of competent jurisdiction. [L. '15, p. 519, § 23.]

§ 3082–24. Sales—Duplicate Orders.—It shall be the duty of all nurserymen and dealers in nursery stock and all salesmen, solicitors and agents therefor to give to every person ordering any nursery stock a duplicate copy of such order which shall show: (a) the name of the nurseryman from whom ordered and the name of the solicitor, salesman or agent taking such order: (b) the season of the order and the date when delivery is to be made: and, (c) the number, name, and price of each variety of tree or plant ordered. [L. '15, p. 520, § 24.]

pany from whom the consignee is to receive such goods, and whether such nursery stock has been inspected and approved at the initial point of shipment within this state by an horticultural inspector. Said notice shall be mailed not later than the date of shipment and the duplicate thereof shall be mailed to the horticultural inspector stationed nearest to the point of consignment and all such shipments of nursery stock shall be plainly marked on the outside of the package with the words "nursery stock." A descriptive invoice of all goods shipped during the season shall be mailed to the commissioner of agriculture before the first of July following shipment. [L. '15, p. 520, § 25.]

§ 3082–27. Importations—Notice by Transportation Company—Demand for Inspection.—Upon the arrival at this point of destination of any nursery stock shipped into this state from another state or country or shipped from one point within this state to another, it shall be the duty of the freight agent, express agent or the agent of the persons or transportation company having such shipment in charge for delivery, unless the same is accompanied by a certificate of inspection and approval by a horticultural inspector of this state showing that the same was inspected and approved at the initial point of shipment within this state, to notify the horticultural inspector stationed nearest to the point where said shipment is received, of the receipt of such shipment giving the name of the consignor and consignee and stating that such shipment is ready for inspection and delivery. Said notification may be by telephone or telegraph, or by written notice delivered personally to said inspector or to some person of suitable age and discretion at his residence or office, or by mail addressed to said inspector at his place of residence or at his office; and it shall be unlawful for any such agent or person having such shipment in charge to deliver the same to the consignee or to any other person until the same shall have been inspected by a horticultural inspector: Provided, however, that such agent shall not be required to hold such shipment more than forty-eight hours after notifying the inspector as aforesaid, except in case the notice is given by mail, in which event such shipment shall be held for such period beyond said forty-eight hours as is ordinarily required for the delivery of mail to the address of said inspector; And provided further, that no inspection at the point of delivery shall be necessary if the shipment is accompanied by a certificate of a horticultural inspector of this state showing inspection and approval at the initial point of shipment within this state as aforesaid, and upon the delivery of such shipment to the consignee, the agent or person making the delivery shall deliver such certificate of inspection to the consignee and retain the duplicate to show his authority for making delivery without inspection. Any nurseryman or dealer in nursery stock within this state may demand the services of an inspector at his place of business or point of shipment during the shipping season by paying four dollars per day for his services.

Upon the arrival at its point of destination of any shipment of fruit or vegetables shipped into this state from another state or country, it shall be the duty of the freight agent, express agent or agent or persons or transportation company having such shipment in charge for delivery, to notify the horticultural inspector stationed nearest to the point where said shipment is received, of the receipt of such shipment giving the names of the consignor and consignee, and upon the delivery of such shipment to the consignee or his order, the agent or person making such delivery shall demand and receive from the person to whom such shipment is delivered a receipt therefor showing the name and address of the consignee or his order and the place to which said shipment is to be removed, and shall thereupon mail said receipt to the horticultural inspector stationed nearest to the point where said shipment is received. [L. '15, p. 521, § 27.]

§ 3082–28. Payment of Shipping Charges.—No inspection of shipments of nursery stock as provided in the last preceding section shal be made until all transportation charges thereon have been paid: Provided, however, that the agent or person having such shipment in charge for delivery may waive in writing the payment of such transportation charges prior to inspection, and in case the transportation charges are not paid or waived such shipment shall be held until the same are paid and inspection had. [L. '15, p. 523, § 28.]

§ 3082–30. Penalty — Disposition of Fines. — Every person violating or failing to comply with the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty-five dollars. All fines imposed under the provisions of this act shall, when collected, be paid to the treasurer of the county where imposed and remitted to the state treasurer and placed to the credit of the general fund. [L. '15, p. 523, § 30.]

§ 3082–31. Actions to Restrain Violations of Act.—Whenever any person is about to or threatens to violate any provision of this act, the commissioner of agriculture may, with the advice of the prosecuting attorney of the county where such violation is threatened or of the attorney general, begin an action in the superior court of such county in the name of the state upon the relation of such commissioner to restrain and enjoin such threatened violation, and in case such prosecuting attorney shall fail or refuse to begin such action upon the request of the commissioner, the same may be begun by or under the direction of the attorney general. In such action no bond shall be required for the issuance of a restraining order or injunction, but the state shall be liable for any damages occasioned by the unlawful suing out of such restraining order or injunction. [L. '15, p. 524, § 31.]

§ 3082–32. Authority to Seize Infected Fruit, etc.—The commissioner of agriculture, the assistant commissioner and all horticultural inspectors are hereby authorized and empowered to seize and hold for use as evidence any article or thing found in the possession of or used, held for shipment, shipped, offered for sale or sold by any person in violation of any of the provisions of this act or of any law relating to horticulture, and to serve and enforce compliance with any restraining order or writ of injunction or mandate or any other writ issued by any court under the provisions of this act. [L. '15, p. 524, § 32.]

§ 3082–33. Duty of Common Carriers to Assist Commissioner.—It shall be the duty of all clerks, bookkeepers, express agents, railroad officials, employees, or employees of common carriers to render to the commissioner of agriculture and his inspectors all the assistance in their power in tracing, finding, or discovering the presence of any article named in this act. Any refusal or neglect on the part of such clerks, bookkeepers, express agents, railroad officials, employees, or employees of common carriers to render such friendly aid to assist in the carrying out of the provisions of this act shall constitute a misdemeanor. [L. '15, p. 524, § 33.]

§ 3082–34. Repealing Clause.—That all acts incorporated and enumerated in the following schedule, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions hereof, are hereby repealed.

SCHEDULE.

Sections 3075, 3079, 3080, 3083, to 3110, inclusive; 3113, 3115, 3116, 3117, 3119, 3120, 3122 to 3127, inclusive; 3131 and 3134 to 3139, inclusive of Remington and Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington. [L. '15, p. 524, § 34.]

CHAPTER IX.

Land Development.

§ 3139–1. Agricultural Districts.—For the purpose of improving the agricultural lands of this state and encouraging their most productive use, agricultural development districts are hereby authorized to be established in the various counties in this state, as hereinafter provided. [L. '13, p. 492, § 1.]

§ 3139–2. County Districts—Election.—At any general election, or at any special election which may be called for that purpose, the board of county commissioners of any county in this state may, and on petition of ten per cent of the qualified electors of such county based on the total vote in the last general county election shall, by resolution submit to the voters of such county the proposition of creating an agricultural development district, which shall be coextensive with the limits of such county as now or hereafter established, except as provided in section 3139–7. [L. '13, p. 492, § 2.]

§ 3139–3. Petition.—Such petition shall be filed with the county auditor, who shall within fifteen (15) days examine the signatures thereto and certify to the sufficiency or insufficiency thereof, and for such purpose the county auditor shall have access to all registration books in the possession of the officers of any incorporated city or town in such proposed agricultural development district. [L. '13, p. 492, § 3.]

§ 3139–4. Signatures—Amendment.—If the signatures to such petition are found to be insufficient the petition shall be returned to the persons filing the same, who may amend or add names thereto for ten days, when the same shall be returned to the county auditor, who shall have an additional fifteen (15) days to examine the same and attach his certificate thereto. No person having signed such petition shall be allowed to withdraw his name therefrom after the filing of the same with the county auditor. [L. '13, p. 492, § 4.]

§ 3139–5. Election—Notice.—Whenever such petition shall be certified to as sufficient, the county auditor shall forthwith transmit the same, together with his certificate of sufficiency attached thereto, to the board of county commissioners, who shall submit such proposition at the next general election or, if such petition so requests, the board of county commissioners shall, at their first meeting after the date of such certificate, by resolution call a special election to be held not less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the date of such certificate. Such notice of election shall describe the boundaries of the district and state the purpose for which such district is proposed to be formed. [L. '13, p. 493, § 5.]

§ 3139–6. Propositions.—In submitting the said question to the voters for their approval or rejection, the proposition shall be expressed on said ballot substantially in the following terms:

"—— Agricultural Development District of —— Yes."

(Inserting the name of the county or number of district and county.)

"—— Agricultural Development District of —— No."

(Inserting the name of the county or number of district and county.) [L. '13, p. 493, § 6.]

§ 3139–7. Districts Less Than County—Hearing on Petition.—Any petition for the formation of an agricultural development district may describe a district of less area than the county in which such petition is filed, and in such event the county commissioners shall fix a date for hearing on such petition and publish a notice of such hearing for two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in such county, after which hearing the county commissioners may increase or diminish the boundaries of such proposed agricultural development district, and thereafter the same procedure shall be followed as is described in this act for the formation of the larger agricultural development district, except that the petition and election shall be confined solely to the lesser agricultural development district: And provided, that whenever two or more petitions for the formation of an agricultural development district shall be filed as herein provided, the petition describing the greater area shall supersede all others and an election shall first be held thereunder, and no lesser agricultural development district shall ever be created within the limits, in whole or in part, of any agricultural development district. [L. '13, p. 493, § 7.]

§ 3139–8. Canvass of Vote.—Within five days after such election the board of county commissioners shall canvass the returns, and if at such election a majority of the voters voting upon such proposition shall vote in favor of the formation of such district, the board of county commissioners shall so declare in its canvass of the returns of such election and such agricultural development district shall then be and become a municipal corporation of the state of Washington and the name of such agricultural development district shall be "Agricultural Development District of ——" (inserting the name on the ballot). [L. '13, p. 494, § 8.]

§ 3139–10. Commissioners—Contracts.—The powers of the agricultural development district shall be exercised through an agricultural development commission consisting of three members, who shall serve without pay, save expenses incurred in the course of their duties under the provisions of this act. For the purposes of this act the said commissioners shall be entitled to the advice and service of all state, county and municipal officers and institutions, particularly engineers, agricultural chemists, directors of experiment stations, and the state department of agriculture, and all such officers and institutions are hereby authorized and directed to co-operate with said commissioners in furthering the purposes of this act. Said commissioners are hereby forbidden to become interested, directly or indirectly in any purchase, contract or work under this act, and any such interest is hereby declared void. [L. '13, p. 494, § 10.]

§ 3139–11. Election of Commissioners—Terms.—The said commissioners shall be elected one from each of the county commissioner districts of the county in which the agricultural development district is located, when the agricultural development district is coextensive with the limits of such county. When the agricultural development district comprises only a portion of the county, three commissioner districts numbered consecutively having approximately equal population and with boundaries following ward and precinct lines, shall be described in the petition for the formation of the agricultural development district, and one commissioner shall be elected from each of the said commissioner districts. Said commissioners shall hold office for a term of three years and until their respective successors are elected and qualified, each term to commence on the second Monday in January following the election thereto. At the same election at which the proposition is submitted to the voters as to whether an agricultural development district shall be formed, three commissioners shall be elected to hold office, respectively, for the term of one, two or three years. All candidates shall be voted upon by the entire agricultural development district, and the candidate residing in commissioner district number one receiving the highest number of votes in the agricultural development district shall hold office for the term of three (3) years; and the candidate residing in commissioner district number two receiving the highest number of votes in the agricultural development district shall hold office for the term of two years, and the candidate residing in commissioner district number three receiving the highest number of votes in the agricultural development district shall hold office for the term of one year, each of said terms to date from the second Monday in January following the election, but also to include the period intervening between the election and the second Monday in January following. [L. '13, p. 495, § 11.]

§ 3139-12. Qualifications.—No person shall be eligible to hold the office of an agricultural development commissioner unless he is a qualified voter, a freeholder within such agricultural development district, and is and has been a resident for a period of three (3) years of the commissioner district from which he is elected. [L. '13, p. 496, § 12.]

§ 3139-13. Nominations by Petition.—Nominations for agricultural development commissioners at the first special election and at subsequent general elections shall be by petition of not less than one per cent of the qualified electors of the commissioner district in which the candidate is a resident, to be filed in the office of the county auditor at least twenty days prior to such election. [L. '13, p. 496, § 13.]

agricultural development commission for a period of sixty days unless excused by the agricultural development commission, by any statutory disqualification, or by any permanent disability preventing the proper discharge of his duty. [L. '13, p. 496, § 14.]

§ 3139–15. Filling Vacancies—Special Election.—In the event of a vacancy in the office of agricultural development commissioner by death, resignation, or otherwise, such vacancy shall be filled at the next general election, the vacancy in the interim to be filled by appointment by a majority vote of the remaining agricultural development commissioners. In the event that such ad interim appointment shall not be made by the remaining commissioners within thirty (30) days following the occurrence of the vacancy, the appointment shall be made forthwith by the superior court of the county. If there should be at the time more than one vacancy, a special election shall be called to fill the same, by the remaining member, or, that failing, by the board of county commissioners of the county, such election to be held not more than forty days after the occurring of such vacancies. [L. '13, p. 496, § 15.]

§ 3139–16. General Election Laws Applicable.— The manner of conducting and voting at elections under this act, opening and closing of polls, keeping of poll lists, canvassing the votes, declaring the result, and certifying the returns, shall be the same as provided by the general election laws governing the election of state and county officers, except as otherwise provided in this act. [L. '13, p. 497, § 16.]

§ 3139–18. Notices of Election—Publication.—All notices of election shall be given by publishing the same for a period of ten days in a daily newspaper of general circulation in said agricultural development district, or in at least two issues of a weekly newspaper of general circulation in said agricultural development district, such publication to be made within a period of twenty days immediately preceding such election; and by posting, for at least ten days prior to the date of election, a written or printed notice of such election in each polling place within such agricultural development district.

The published notice shall give the time of holding the election, the hours the polls will remain open, the officer or officers to be elected, and a statement of the propositions to be submitted; and the posted notices shall, in addition, give the location of the polling places. [L. '13, p. 497, § 18.]

§ 3139-19. Registration-books.—Officers of the city and county having charge of the registration-books of any city or precinct in an agricultural development district shall deliver the same for the use of the election officers at all agricultural development elections. In the event of such registration books being required by law to be used by any school district or other public corporation at the same time as the use thereof will be necessary to the agricultural development district, such books shall be delivered to the agricultural development commission and school district or other public corporation jointly, and the same polling places and registration-books may be used jointly in such cases, and the same individuals may serve as election officers for all such joint elections, and in such cases the compensation of such election officers and other expenses shall be so divided that the agricultural development district shall bear only its proportionate share thereof. [L. '13, p. 497, § 19.]

§ 3139-20. Polling Places. — There shall be not less than one polling place in each of the various wards of any incorporated city within such agricultural development district, and one polling place within each precinct of each agricultural development district not within the limits of any incorporated city. It shall be the duty of the county commissioners in the formation of the agricultural development district, and of the agricultural development commission in all subsequent elections to designate the polling places and appoint three election officers for each place of voting at least twenty days before each election. [L. '13, p. 498, § 20.]

§ 3139-22. Counting Votes.—Immediately after the closing of the polls the election officers shall then and there, without removing the ballot-box from the place where the ballots were cast, proceed to count the votes, and as soon as such count is completed a return thereof shall be signed by such election officers and securely enveloped and sealed and delivered, together with the ballot-box containing the ballots, to the agricultural development commmission, or some person delegated to receive the same on their behalf.

Within five days after the election, the agricultural development commission shall meet and proceed to canvass the returns of such election and shall thereupon declare the result. [L. '13, p. 498, § 22.]

§ 3139–23. Who may Vote.—All electors who are, at the time of such election, duly qualified to vote within their respective precincts under the general election laws for state and county officers shall be entitled to vote at any election held in such agricultural development district. [L. '13, p. 499, § 23.]

§ 3139–24. Powers of District.—All agricultural development districts organized under the provisions of this act shall be and are hereby authorized to exercise the following rights and powers, and all other rights and powers necessary for the purposes of this act.

(a) To acquire by purchase, condemnation and purchase or otherwise, all lands, property rights, leases, or easements necessary for the purposes of the agricultural development district; also water for irrigation purposes from any public watercourse, lake, stream or any other source;

(b) To exercise the right of eminent domain in the acquirement or damaging of all lands, property, property rights, leases or easements, and levying and collection of assessments upon property for the payment of all damages and compensation in carrying out the provisions for which said district shall have been created. Such right shall be exercised in the same manner and by the same procedure as is or may be provided by law for cities of the first class, except in so far as such law may be inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and that the duties devolving upon the city treasurer under such law are hereby imposed upon the county treasurer for the purposes of this act;

(c) To own and control lands, leases, and all easements in land necessary for the purposes of such agricultural development districts;

(d) To sell or lease lands and other property owned and controlled by said agricultural development district as hereinafter provided, and to execute all titles, leases and any other papers and documents in connection therewith, or incidental thereto;

(e) To build, improve or repair any roads within the agricultural development district;

(f) To raise revenue by levy of an annual tax on all taxable property within such agricultural development district, not exceeding two mills in any one year: Provided, that such levy shall be made and taxes collected in the manner now or hereafter provided by law for the levy and collection of taxes in school districts of the first class;

(g) To purchase, manufacture or otherwise acquire all materials and equipment necessary for the improvement of agricultural lands under the provisions of this act, and to sell or lease such materials and equipments at cost to farmers and settlers, within such agricultural development district;

(h) To give such aid in the production and marketing of agricultural products, not inconsistent with law, as said commissioners may deem proper;

(i) To borrow money and issue bonds as provided by the state Constitution for municipal corporations. General bonds of any such district may be issued for any period not exceeding twenty years;

(j) To create and fill such positions and offices and fix salaries and bonds thereof as may be necessary for the purposes of this act. [L. '13, p. 499, § 24.]

§ 3139–25. Officers of Commission.—The agricultural development commission shall organize by the election annually from its own members of a president and secretary, shall by resolution adopt rules governing the transaction of its business, and shall adopt an official seal. [L. '13, p. 500, § 25.]

§ 3139–26. Resolutions.—All proceedings of the agricultural development commission shall be by a resolution recorded in a book or books kept for such purpose, which shall be public records. [L. '13, p. 500, § 26.]

§ 3139–27. Claims—How Paid.—All funds of the agricultural development district shall be paid to the county treasurer, and all disbursements shall be made by such officer on warrants drawn by the county auditor upon order of or vouchers approved by the agricultural development commission. No payments of any kind under this act shall be paid except upon certificate of the agricultural development commission that the sum therein named has been justly incurred, is necessary for or is due to the person, firm or corporation therein named over and above all just credits and offsets for services performed or to be performed or material furnished or property sold to the agricultural development district for the uses of this act. [L. '13, p. 501, § 27.]

be made upon proper warrants of the county auditor issued against the same by the authority of the agricultural development commission. [L. '13, p. 501, § 28.]

§ 3139–30. Investigation of Lands.—It shall be the duty of the said commissioners, as promptly as possible after the organization of such district, to commence an investigation of the unimproved agricultural lands within such district, for the purpose of determining what portions or areas of such lands are adapted to economical irrigation or clearing, and adapted for sale or lease as agricultural lands to settlers. For the purpose of such investigation the said commissioners are authorized to employ all necessary assistants, and shall be entitled to the services of all state, county and municipal officers and institutions in accordance with section 3139–10. [L. '13, p. 501, § 30.]

§ 3139–31. Matters Considered.—Such investigation shall include a description of the qualities of the soil and of the locality as regards existing highways and railway transportation, also an estimated cost of clearing such lands or of conducting water upon any proposed tract, and shall point out the opportunity for reservoir sites and the probable cost of acquiring such sites for purposes of irrigating tracts of land. The result of such investigation shall be kept on record in the office of said commissioners, and a certified copy thereof shall be sent to the state department of agriculture for public information and use. [L. '13, p. 502, § 31.]

§ 3139–32. Acquisition of Undeveloped Land.—The said commissioners shall have power to acquire by purchase or otherwise, except by condemnation, in accordance with the provisions of this act any undeveloped agricultural lands within the limits of the agricultural development district, for the purpose of improving and fitting such lands for productive use, but no lands may be acquired under this act from private owners (except from settlers under the provisions of sections 3139–35 and 3139–36) at a price exceeding twenty dollars an acre for logged-off lands and twenty-five dollars an acre for arid lands, and unless authorized by subsequent legislation no lands shall be cleared when the estimate therefor shall exceed one hundred dollars an acre. [L. '13, p. 502, § 32.]

§ 3139–33. Refusal of Price Reported to Assessor.—In negotiating for the purchase of unimproved agricultural lands, whenever there shall have been offered in writing to a private owner a certain price and it shall be refused, the commissioners shall report that fact to the county assessor forthwith, and the price refused for such lands shall be considered by the assessor in respect to such and similar lands in that vicinity. [L. '13, p. 502, § 33.]

§ 3139–34. Purchase or Lease Lands.—The said commission may lease or purchase any undeveloped agricultural lands at public auction or otherwise in accordance with law, including school and granted lands, for the purpose of bringing such lands into productive use, and may sell or lease the lands so acquired and improved for agricultural use as provided in sections 3139–44 to 3139–49. [L. '13, p. 503, § 34.]

§ 3139–35. Who Entitled to Benefit of Act—Preference Rights.—All citizens of this state shall be entitled to the benefits of this act as provided in this and the next following section. Any settler, being a citizen of the United States may offer not to exceed twenty acres of undeveloped, logged-off agricultural lands for sale to the commissioners of the agricultural development district in which such lands are located, and if the offer be accepted, then such vendor shall have a preferential right after such lands have been cleared and improved for agricultural use to repurchase and entry of not to exceed twenty acres of such lands, upon the terms described in sections 3139–44 to 3139–49, notwithstanding that such vendor may retain ownership of other lands not offered to said commissioners. Such vendors and repurchasers shall be subject to all the terms and conditions imposed by this act upon other purchasers. [L. '13, p. 503, § 35.]

§ 3139-39. Opening Bids and Letting Contracts.—At the time and place named such bids shall be publicly opened and read and the commission shall proceed to canvass the bids and may let such contract to the lowest responsible bidder upon plans and specifications on file, or to the best bidder submitting his own plans and specifications. If, in the opinion of the commission, all bids are unsatisfactory, they may reject all of them and readvertise, and in such case all checks shall be returned to the bidders. [L. '13, p. 504, § 39.]

§ 3139-40. Retention of Check — Bond.—If such contract be let, then and in such case all checks shall be returned to the bidders, except that of the successful bidder, which shall be retained until a contract shall be entered into for the purchase of such materials or doing of such work, and a bond given to the agricultural development district for the performance of the contract and otherwise conditioned as required by law, with sureties satisfactory to the commissioners, in an amount to be fixed by the commission, but not in any event less than twenty-five per cent of the contract price. If said bidder fails to enter into said contract in accordance with said bid and furnish such bond within fifteen days from the date at which he is notified that he is the successful bidder, the said check and the amount thereof shall be forfeited to the agricultural development district. [L. '13, p. 504, § 40.]

§ 3139-41. Material or Labor by Contract or Otherwise.—All materials and equipments required by the agricultural development district for the purposes of this act may be manufactured or purchased in the open market or by contract, and all work ordered may be let by contract or done by day labor, as the agricultural development commission may determine. [L. '13, p. 505, § 41.]

§ 3139-42. Lands to be Subdivided.—The commissioners shall cause all lands in their possession or control to be subdivided into the smallest practicable tracts, in order to provide for as many settlers as possible, giving preference whenever practicable to resident householders with families depending upon them. All tracts distant less than one mile from a state or county highway shall be connected by a temporary road, and the proportion which any particular tract should bear of the expense of that road shall be estimated by said commissioners against that tract in the price subsequently to be placed upon it for purposes of future sale or lease. [L. '13, p. 505, § 42.]

§ 3139-44. Sale of Lands.—The said commissioners, as soon and so often as any lands acquired by purchase or otherwise are cleared and improved as aforesaid, shall cause the same to be appraised and offered to settlers on twenty equal annual payments (or less if so requested by the settler) at not less than the cost of their acquisition and improvement plus five per cent. One-half of one per cent per annum above the rate realized by the agricultural development district on its issue of bonds, and not less than four and one-half per cent per annum, interest shall be charged on deferred payments. [L. '13, p. 506, § 44.]

shall make reasonable rules and regulations in respect thereto to insure good faith from the purchaser. [L. '13, p. 506, § 45.]

§ 3139–46. Assignability of Right to Purchase.—No assignment of any claim by any purchaser shall be permitted until after such purchaser has made at least three annual payments and also has actually resided on the land at least two years. Continuous residence of not less than three years shall be required of any purchaser who may desire to anticipate the remaining payments and pre-empt the tract. The commissioners may on written application therefor, but are not required to permit in writing an absence from the land of not to exceed five continuous months in any one year. [L. '13, p. 506, § 46.]

§ 3139–47. Purchasers Limited to One Tract.—No purchaser shall directly or indirectly acquire more than one tract. Tracts may be entered by persons who are not yet citizens of the United States, but all contracts shall provide that title shall not be delivered, notwithstanding the acceptance of payments meantime, until the purchaser has declared intention in good faith to become a citizen of the United States. All tracts shall be entered in parcels of not to exceed twenty acres each. [L. '13, p. 506, § 47.]

§ 3139–48. Irrigable Lands — Acquisition of Reservoir Sites.—In respect of irrigable lands, whenever and so often as the commissioners shall have decided upon improvement thereof by a system of irrigation, then said commissioners are authorized to acquire by purchase, by condemnation and purchase, or by any other lawful means any reservoir sites or other land necessary for reservoirs, canals, ditches and laterals, within or without the district: Provided, they shall first have obtained offers from the owners of two-thirds of the lands that can be watered therefrom, or from an irrigation district or company, to accept distribution from such reservoirs, which offer shall be in form binding upon such owners or irrigation districts or companies during a period sufficient and reasonable for the construction of the reservoir. The commissioners, having obtained such binding offers, may then call for the written opinion of some competent engineering expert, showing the estimated cost of the reservoir, its capacity, the area that can be watered therefrom and the source and constancy of supply thereto, and when reports thereon satisfactory to the commissioners shall be filed, they may proceed with the construction of any works within or without the district which in the opinion of said commissioners may be necessary for the impounding and distribution of the waters. [L. '13, p. 507, § 48.]

necessary, in whole or in part, for the purpose of such reservoir, canals, ditches and laterals aforementioned and if the price offered be refused, they shall certify such offer and refusal to the assessor of taxes in the county where such lands are situated and the price refused for such lands shall be considered by the assessor in respect of such and all similarly situated lands in the next assessment. [L. '13, p. 507, § 49.]

§ 3139–50. Irrigation System—Construction.—Whenever the said commissioners feel justified in so doing, in view of the provisions of section 3139–48, they may construct any reservoirs, canals, pipe-lines, ditches, laterals and other necessary works, within or without the district, by contract or by direct labor, in such manner as in their judgment shall most effectively and economically store and distribute the water at least cost; and may sell perpetual water rights to individual lands owners, or may supply water to irrigation districts or companies, on terms of twenty annual payments (or less if so requested by such owners, districts or companies), with interest on deferred payments at the rate of not less than four and one-half per cent per annum, and not in any case less than one-half of one per cent per annum above the rate realized by the agricultural development district upon its issue of bonds, of which the proceeds, directly or indirectly, may go into such undertaking. [L. '13, p. 507, § 50.]

§ 3139–52. Sale of Irrigable Lands.—Whenever and so often as the district may itself own or acquire any lands watered by such irrigation works, it may dispose of such lands to settlers, irrigation districts or companies upon the terms, interest rates and conditions described in section 3139–50. [L. '13, p. 508, § 52.]

§ 3139–53. Limitation on Sales to One Person.—Until the legislature shall otherwise provide the commissioners shall not sell or dispose of any irrigable lands to any one firm, person, or corporation exceeding forty acres, directly or indirectly, or sell or dispose of water rights to any firm, person or corporation to any tract exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, nor shall any assignment between holders be effective to evade these provisions without the written consent of the commissioners. [L. '13, p. 508, § 53.]

§ 3139–54. Lease — Time Limit.—Any land or other property owned or controlled by the agricultural development district may, in the discretion of the commissioners, be leased for a period of not exceeding twenty years, on such terms and conditions as the commissioners may determine: Provided, that in all leases of land or property the net income therefrom to the agricultural development district, after allowing for depreciation, shall be not less than six per cent per annum of the fair selling value of such land or property, and shall in any case be sufficient to yield a net interest return to the district upon such investment at the rate of one-half of one per cent above the rate realized by the district upon any issues of bonds, the proceeds of which directly or indirectly may enter into the cost to the district of such land or property. [L. '13, p. 508, § 54.]

§ 3139–55. By-products.—It shall be the duty of the commissioners to utilize, as far as practicable, any and all by-products from the lands secured, cleared and otherwise improved by them, and to make tests for the utilization and sale of by-products, and to manufacture or purchase equipment for any processes that may prove successful for that purpose. [L. '13, p. 509, § 55.]

§ 3139–56. Issuance of Bonds.—To provide funds for its purposes, any agricultural development district formed under authority of this act may issue negotiable bonds, to be designated "Agricultural Development Bonds." These bonds shall be payable not more than twenty years after their date, and shall be executed in accordance with law by the president of the agricultural development commission and attested by the secretary thereof. They shall be registered or coupon bonds, issued in denominations of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars each, numbered from one up consecutively, and shall bear interest, payable semi-annually, at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum. They shall be disposed of serially, dated the day of issuance, and shall not bear interest until after their actual sale, and shall be sold only when their proceeds may from time to time be required. The principal and interest shall be payable at such place as may be designated in the bond. The bonds and each coupon shall be signed by said presiding officer, and shall be attested by the secretary under the seal of the agricultural development district. Such bonds shall be sold in such manner as the agricultural commission may by resolution declare to be for the best interest of the district. A register shall be kept of all the bonds issued, showing the number, date, amount, interest, to whom delivered (if coupon bonds) and the name of payee (if registered bonds); and also showing each and every bond executed, issued or sold under the provisions of this act, and when and where payable.

The coupons for the payment of interest on said bonds shall be considered for all purposes as warrants drawn upon the general fund of the agricultural development district issuing such bonds, and when presented to the treasurer of the county having custody of the funds of such agricultural development district, if there are no funds in the treasury to pay the said coupons, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to indorse said coupons as presented for payment, in the same manner as county warrants are indorsed, and thereafter said coupons shall bear interest at the rate named in the bond. [L. '13, p. 509, § 56.]

$——. No. ——.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

CHAPTER I.

Regulation of Livestock Industry.

§ 3140. Commissioners, How Appointed.—Whenever three or more counties in this state shall vote to accept the benefits and share the burdens of this chapter as hereinafter provided, then the governor of the state, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, shall appoint a board of stock commissioners, consisting of one member from each of such counties, and such stock commissioners, upon entering upon their duties, shall take an oath to uphold and support the constitution of the United States and the constitution and laws of this state, and to well and truly perform their duties as provided by law, which oath shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. [L. '95, p. 75, § 1.]

See infra, § 5415, duties of state board of health as to diseases of domestic animals.

See infra, §§ 9119, 9120, taxation of grazing stock.

§ 3141. Notice of Election, How Submitted—Ballots.—It shall be the duty of the county commissioners of any county in this state, whenever petitioned by fifty or more electors of the county, unless such petition be counterbalanced by a remonstrance of electors more numerously signed, to submit to the qualified electors of such county at a special election to be held upon thirty days' notice, the question of accepting the benefits and sharing the burdens of this chapter. For the purpose of giving time for remonstrance, such petition shall lie over unacted on for ten days after the filing of the same. Said election shall be ordered advertised, held and conducted, and the vote canvassed and returned as other elections held under the provisions of the code: Provided, the officers of the board of said special election shall receive two dollars only for their service. The question shall be submitted to the electors in the following form: "For stock law," "Against stock law." Should the vote of the county be in the affirmative, the result shall be certified to the governor under the hand and seal of the auditor of the county, whereupon, when three or more counties have so voted in the affirmative, the governor shall make the appointments provided by section 3140. [L. '95, p. 75, § 2.]

and secretary, and shall have power to fix the times and places of meeting thereafter, and to establish the place where the office of the secretary and records of the board shall be kept. The members of said board shall receive no compensation or mileage for their services, but shall be allowed their actual expenses incurred in the performance of their duties. [L. '95, p. 76, § 3.]

§ 3143. Duties of Board.—It shall be the duty of said board to exercise a general supervision over and as far as may be protect the stock interests of the state from theft and disease, and it shall have power and authority to make rules and regulations governing the recording of stock brands and governing the recording of the shipment of livestock on railroads, and the keeping of a record thereof. Such regulations, concerning the matters aforesaid, as may be made, shall be filed in the offices of the county auditors of the several counties to be affected by this chapter. A copy of the regulations concerning recording of the shipment of livestock shall be certified by the president and secretary of the board to railroad companies whose lines run through or traverse said counties. Said board shall also have the power, whenever deemed necessary by it, to assist in the prosecution of any and all crimes or misdemeanors against the laws of this state in feloniously branding or stealing any stock, or any other crime or misdemeanor under any of the laws of this state for the protection of the rights and interests of stock owners, and may employ counsel out of the fund hereinafter provided for to assist in any such prosecution. Said board shall also devise and recommend to the legislature from time to time such legislation as in their judgment will foster the stock industry of the state. It shall be the duty of railroad companies to require a compliance on the part of their employees with such regulations as the board may make concerning the record to be kept of the shipment of livestock. [L. '95, p. 76, § 4.]

shall be paid such compensation out of the funds hereinafter provided for as the board may determine. [L. '95, p. 77, § 5.]

§ 3145. Annual Tax Levied.—An annual tax shall be laid on all the horses and cattle of the several counties affected by this chapter for the purpose of raising a fund for the purpose of carrying out its provisions: Provided, eight head of stock shall be exempt from said tax to every owner. The rate of taxation to be laid on such livestock for each year shall be fixed by the board of stock commissioners and be by them certified to the county auditors of the several counties each year prior to the annual tax levy, and the county commissioners of the several counties shall include in their tax levy the rates so fixed by said board of stock commissioners on said livestock, and cause the same to be collected along with other state and county taxes. The taxes so collected shall be covered into the state treasury as other state taxes, and shall there be kept intact for the purpose of meeting the expenditures to be incurred under this article. The treasurer shall disburse the same on warrants drawn by the state auditor upon the certificate of the president and secretary of the stock board under regulations to be prescribed by the state auditor. [L. '95, p. 77, § 6.]

See infra, § 9212, taxes, how levied.

§ 3146. Brands Recorded.—From and after the passage of this act it shall be the duty of all butchers engaged in the business of slaughtering cattle in this state to keep a true and correct report of all marks and brands of all cattle slaughtered by them, recording also the name or names of persons from whom said cattle were bought, together with their residence and date of purchase and delivery of said cattle. The said record shall be kept in a suitable book in the butcher's place of business, subject at all times to the inspection of the public. [L. '95, p. 77, § 7.]

See infra, § 3159.

§ 3147. Butchers to Attest Records.—It shall be the duty of all butchers keeping a record as provided in the last preceding section to make or cause to be made on or before the first day of each month two exact and correct copies of the said record as kept by him or them, and shall be and appear before the nearest acting justice of the peace within the county in which said butcher carries on and conducts his business, and shall make affidavit to the correctness of the said record, one copy of which shall be placed and kept on file in the office of the said justice of the peace and the other copy shall be sent by the said butcher to the county auditor of the county and be placed and kept on file by the said auditor, and be subject as other papers in his office to the inspection of the public. [L. '95, p. 78, § 8.]

§ 3148. License—Bonds Given.—All persons carrying on the business of butchering in the counties adopting the provisions of this chapter shall, on the first day of January of each year or at such later period of the year as they shall commence business, pay into the county treasury of the county in which they do business an annual license tax of ten dollars, and shall enter into bond with sureties to the satisfaction of the county auditor in the sum of five hundred dollars, conditioned that they will in all respects comply with the provisions of this article concerning their business. The obligee in said bond shall be the state of Washington. Said bond shall be filed with the county auditor, and any person suffering loss by reason of noncompliance with the provisions of this chapter on the part of any such butcher shall be entitled to sue on said bond for his damages. The license tax collected from butchers shall be paid into the state treasury and there become a part of the fund provided for by section 3145. [L. '95, p. 78, § 9.]

§ 3150. Estrays, Examination of Marks on.—No person shall take up estray stock in this state without first examining the marks and brands before two disinterested witnesses, and swearing to the marks and brands before the nearest justice of the peace prior to advertising said stock. The said affidavit shall be filed with said justice of the peace, and shall contain the names of the witnesses before whom the marks and brands were examined. [L. '95, p. 79, § 11.]

§ 3151. Branding.—It shall be unlawful for any person to brand or mark any calf, calves or other cattle that are running at large between the first day of December of each year and the first day of April following: Provided, any owner of stock may brand on his own premises at any time in the presence of one or more responsible citizens. [L. '95, p. 79, § 12.]

§ 3152. Penalty.—Any persons who shall violate any of the provisions of section 3146, 3147, 3149, 3150, 3151, or shall willfully fail or refuse to comply with any of the requirements thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof in a court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars or more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than one month and not exceeding six months, at the discretion of the court, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court. All moneys collected by such fines shall be paid into the general fund of the county for the benefit of the public schools of the county. [L. '95, p. 79, § 13.]

§ 3153. Driving Another's Stock from Range.—No person shall be permitted to lead, drive, or in any manner remove any horse, mare, colt, jack, jenny, mule, or any head of neat cattle, or hog, sheep, goat, or any number of these animals, the same being the property of another person, from the range on which they are permitted to run in common, without the consent of the owner thereof first had and obtained: Provided, the owner of any such animals as aforesaid, finding the same running on the herd grounds, or on common range with other animals of the same, may be permitted to drive his own animal or animals, together with such other animals as he cannot conveniently separate from his own, to the nearest and most convenient corral, or other place for separating his own from other animals, if he, in such case, immediately, with all convenient speed, drive all such animals not belonging to himself back to the herd ground or range from which he brought such animals. [L. '91, p. 25, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2514.]

§ 3154. Penalty.—Any person violating the provisions of the foregoing section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not less than twenty nor exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding six months nor less than thirty days, or both such fine and imprisonment, discretionary with the court having jurisdiction of the same. [L. '91, p. 26, § 2; 1 H. C., § 2515.]

§ 3155. Separation of Stock — Penalty.—It shall be the duty of any and all persons searching or hunting for stray horses, mules, or cattle to drive the band or herd in which they may find their stray horses, mules, or cattle into the nearest corral before separating their said stray animals from the balance of the herd or band; that in order to separate their said stray animals from the herd or band, the person or persons owning said stray animals shall drive them out of and away from the corral in which they may be driven, before setting the herd at large. Any person violating this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, before a justice of the peace, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, and half the costs of prosecution; said fine so recovered to be paid into the school fund of the county in which the offense was committed; and in addition thereto shall be imprisoned until the fine and costs are paid. [L. '69, pp. 408, 409, §§ 1, 2; Cd. '81, § 2537; 1 H. C., § 2516.]

CHAPTER II.

Marks and Brands.

§ 3156. Owner may Have Mark and Brand.—Any person or persons being the owner or owners of horses, mules, cattle, sheep, goats, or hogs may keep a mark, brand and counter-brand, different from the brand of his neighbors, and as far as practicable, different from any others. [Cd. '81, § 2550; 1 H. C., § 2496.]

See infra, § 3288, penalty for unlawful mutilation of domestic animals.

§ 3157. Record of Brands—Data Accompanying.—Every owner adopting a brand or mark shall record with the county auditor his mark, brand, and counter-brand, dewlaps or wattles, by delivering to such auditor his brand and counter-brand, burnt upon a piece of leather, and a description of his mark, dewlaps, or wattles; and the auditor shall enter, in a book kept by him for that purpose, a description of said mark, dewlaps or wattles, and brands, together with the owner's name and time of recording, also describing the part or place on the animal where such mark, dewlap, wattle, or brand is designed to be used, and any person other than the owner thereof using or imitating, or causing to be used or imitated, any such recorded mark, dewlap, wattle, brand, or counter-brand within the county where the same is recorded shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished as provided in section 3160. The auditor, when any mark, dewlap, wattle, or brand is presented for record, shall satisfy himself that they are different from any other recorded in his office, and he shall be entitled to charge a fee of fifty cents for every entry made under the provisions of this article. [Cf. Cd. '81, § 2551; L. '91, p. 136, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2497.]

See, also, supra, §§ 2594, 2595.

§ 3158. Certified Copy of Brand, etc., as Evidence.—On trial of any action involving ownership of any animal, a certified copy of the marks and brands made by the auditor, over the seal of his office, shall be considered as prima facie evidence in such trial as to such ownership. [L. '75, p. 131, § 3; Cd. '81, § 2552; 1 H. C., § 3498.]

§ 3159. Record of Slaughtered Animals.—Any person or persons slaughtering cattle, and having a definite place of slaughter, shall keep at such place a book, in which shall be entered, on the day of slaughter, the age, as near as may be, and brands of cattle, or other animals slaughtered; also a full description of every mark or brand on such animal, together with the date of receipt or purchase, and the name of the person from whom the same was received or purchased, and such book shall be kept for the inspection of any person desiring so to do. [L. '75, p. 131, § 4; Cd. '81, § 2553; 1 H. C., § 2499.]

See supra, § 3146, duty of butchers.

§ 3160. Penalty for Violation of This Chapter.—Any person violating any of the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined, for the first offense, in any sum not exceeding fifty dollars, and for a repetition of the offense, not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, and in default of payment, imprisonment in the county jail at the discretion of the court. One-half of the fines collected under the provisions of this chapter shall go to the informant, and the residue shall be paid to the county treasurer for the school funds of the county where the said offense was committed. [L. '75, p. 131, § 6; Cd. '81, § 2554; 1 H. C., § 2500.]

CHAPTER III.

Liens for Service of Sires.

§ 3161. Proceedings to Secure Lien.—In order to secure to the owner or owners of sires payment for service, the following provisions are enacted: That every owner of a sire having a service fee, in order to have a lien upon the female served, and upon the get of any such sire under the provisions of this chapter for such service, shall file for record with the county auditor of the county where said sire is kept for service a statement, verified by oath or affirmation to the best of his knowledge and belief, giving the name, age, description, and pedigree, as well as the terms and conditions upon which such sire is advertised for service: Provided, that owners of sires who are not in possession of pedigrees for such sires shall not be debarred from the benefits of this chapter. [L. '90, p. 451, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2501.]

§ 3162. Auditor to Issue Certificate, etc.—The county auditor, upon the receipt of the statement as specified in the last preceding section of this chapter, duly verified by affidavit, shall issue a certificate to the owner or owners of said sire, which shall be posted by the owner in a conspicuous place where said sire may be stationed, which certificate shall state the name, age, description, pedigree, and ownership of such sire, the terms and conditions upon which the said sire is advertised for service, and that the provisions of this chapter, so far as relates to the filing of the statement aforesaid, have been complied with. [L. '90, p. 451, § 2; 1 H. C., § 2502.]

§ 3163. Owner may Have Lien—Statement to be Filed.—The owner or owners of any such sire receiving such certificate, by complying with the last two preceding sections of this chapter, shall obtain and have a lien upon the female served for the period of one year from the date of service, or upon the get of any such sire for the period of one year from the date of birth of such get: Provided, said owner or owners shall file for record a statement of account, verified by affidavit, with the county auditor of the county wherein the service has been rendered, of the amount due such owner or owners for said service, together with a description of the female served, within ten months from the date of service or date of birth, as the case may be: Provided further, that the lien upon the get of any such sire shall be a preferred lien: And provided further, that no sale or transfer of any female animal served shall defeat the right of such lienholder. [L. '13, p. 155, § 1. Cf. L. '90, p. 451, § 3; 1 H. C., § 2503.]

§ 3164. Foreclosure of Lien.—Liens under this chapter [are] to be foreclosed in the same manner as liens upon other personal property are foreclosed. [L. '90, p. 452, § 4; 1 H. C., § 2504.]

§ 3165. Fees of Recording Officer.—For filing certificate, making copy of such affidavit, and the certificate of date of such filing, the clerk of record shall be entitled to the same fees as are provided by law for similar service in regard to chattel mortgages. [L. '90, p. 452, § 5; 1 H. C., § 2505.]

§ 3165-1. Pedigree Enrolled—Certificate—Disqualification.—Every person, firm or company, owning any draft stallion, or jack, for sale, exchange or for public service in this state shall cause the name, description and pedigree of such stallion or jack to be enrolled by the department of animal husbandry of the State College of Washington, and procure a certificate of such enrollment from said department, which shall thereupon be presented to and recorded by the auditor of the county in which said stallion or jack is used for public service.

In order to obtain the license certificate herein provided for, the owner of each stallion or jack shall file a certificate of soundness, signed by a veterinarian registered to practice in the state of Washington and shall forward the veterinarian's certificate, together with the stud-book certificate of registry of the pedigree of the said stallion or jack, and other necessary papers relating to his breeding and ownership to the department of animal husbandry of the said college.

The presence of any one of the following named diseases shall disqualify a stallion or jack for public service;

Bone spavin; ringbone, sidebone, navicular disease.

Bog spavin; curb with curby formation of hock.

Glanders, farcy, maladie du coit; urethal gleet; mange; melanosis; and the department of animal husbandry is hereby authorized to refuse its certificate of enrollment to any stallion or jack affected with any one of the diseases hereby specified and to revoke the previously issued enrollment certificate of any stallion or jack found on investigation of the department to be so infected. [L. '11, p. 483, § 1.]

§ 3165–2. Standard Used.—The professor of animal husbandry of the said college whose duty it shall be to examine and pass upon the merits of each pedigree submitted, shall use as his standard for action the stud-books and signatures of the duly authorized officers of the various horse or jack pedigree registry associations, societies or companies recognized by the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., and shall accept as pure-bred and entitled to a license certificate as such, each stallion or jack for which a pedigree registry certificate is furnished bearing the signature of the duly authorized officers of a government recognized and approved stud-book. [L. '11, p. 484, § 2.]

§ 3165–3. Posting Certificate.—The owner of any stallion or jack used for public service in this state shall post and keep affixed, during the entire breeding seasons, copies of the license certificate of such stallion or jack, issued under the provisions of the next succeeding section, in a conspicuous place both within and upon the outside of every stable or building where the said stallion or jack is used for public service at his home or elsewhere. [L. '11, p. 484, § 3.]

§ 3165–4. Forms of Certificate.—Subd. 1. The license certificate issued for a stallion or jack whose sire and dam are of pure breeding and the pedigree of which is registered in a stud-book recognized by the government department of agriculture, shall be in the following form:

THE STATE COLLEGE OF WASHINGTON,
DEPARTMENT OF ANIMAL HUSBANDRY.

CERTIFICATE OF PURE-BRED STALLION OR JACK NO. ——.

The pedigree of the stallion or jack (name) ——. Owned by ——. Described as follows: (Color) ——. (Breed) ——. Foaled in the year ——, has been examined at the state college, and it is hereby certified that the said stallion or jack is of pure breeding and is registered in a stud-book recognized by the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

(Signature) —— ——,
Professor of Animal Husbandry.

Subd. 2. The license certificate issued for a stallion or jack whose sire or dam is not of pure breeding shall be in the following form:

THE STATE COLLEGE OF WASHINGTON,
DEPARTMENT OF ANIMAL HUSBANDRY.

CERTIFICATE OF GRADE STALLION OR JACK NO. ——.

The pedigree of the stallion or jack (name) ——. Owned by ——. Described as follows: (Color) ——. Foaled in the year ——, has been examined at the state college, and it is found that the said stallion or jack is not of pure breeding and is, therefore, not eligible for registration in any stud-book recognized by the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

(Signature) ——,
Professor of Animal Husbandry.

Subd. 3. The license certificate issued for a stallion whose sire and dam are pure-bred, but not of the same breed, shall be in the following form:

THE STATE COLLEGE OF WASHINGTON,
DEPARTMENT OF ANIMAL HUSBANDRY.

CERTIFICATE OF CROSS-BRED STALLION NO. ——.

The pedigree of the stallion (name) ——. Owned by ——. Described as follows: (Color) ——. Foaled in the year ——, has been examined at the state college and it is found that his sire is registered in the —— and his dam in the ——.

Such being the case, the said stallion is not eligible for registration in any stud-book recognized by the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

(Signature) ——,
Professor of Animal Husbandry.

Subd. 4. The license certificate issued for a nonstandard-bred stallion shall be used in the following form:

THE STATE COLLEGE OF WASHINGTON,
DEPARTMENT OF ANIMAL HUSBANDRY.

CERTIFICATE OF NONSTANDARD-BRED STALLION NO. ——.

The pedigree of the stallion (name) ——. Owned by ——. Described as follows: (Color) ——. Foaled in the year ——, has been examined at the state college, and it is found that the stallion is not eligible to registration as standard-bred, and for the purpose of the license is not pure-bred, although recorded in the nonstandard department of the American Trotting Register.

(Signature) —— ——,

Professor of Animal Husbandry.

§ 3165–5. Form of Poster—Fee for Certificate—Assignment.—Each bill and poster issued by the owner of any stallion or jack enrolled under this act, or used by him or his agent for advertising such stallion or jack's certificate of enrollment shall be printed in boldface type, not smaller than long primer, on said bill or poster, and the first mention thereon of the name of the stallion or jack shall be preceded by the words: "Pure-bred," "grade," "cross-bred," or "nonstandard-bred," in accordance with the wording of the certificate or enrollment; and it shall be illegal to print upon the poster any misleading reference to the breeding of the stallion or jack, his sire or his dam, or to be used upon such bill or poster the portrait of a stallion or jack in a misleading way; and each newspaper advertisement printed to advertise any stallion or jack for public service shall show the enrollment certificate number and state whether it reads "pure-bred," "grade," "cross-bred," or "nonstandard-bred."

A fee of two dollars shall be paid to the department of animal husbandry of said college for the examination and enrollment of each pedigree and for the issuance of a license certificate, in accordance with the breeding for the stallion or jack as above provided, and a renewal license fee of one dollar shall be paid to said department every second year from the date of the issuance of the original license certificate.

Upon the transfer of the ownership of any stallion or jack enrolled under the provisions of this act, the certificate of enrollment may be transferred to the transferee by said department upon submittal of satisfactory proof of such transfer and upon payment of the fee of fifty cents; and a fee of fifty cents shall be paid for a duplicate license certificate issued where proof is given of loss or destruction of the original certificate. [L. '11, p. 486. § 5.]

§ 3165–5½. Certificate for Animals Brought into State.—Any person, firm or corporation bringing any stallion or jack into the state shall within sixty days thereafter procure the license certificate provided for in section 3165–1. Any person, firm or corporation offering any stallion or jack for sale for breeding purposes shall first procure the license certificate provided for in section 3165–1. [L. '11, p. 487, § 5½.]

§ 3165–6. Penalty.—Any person, firm, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof be fined in any sum not exceeding fifty dollars and for each and every subsequent violation of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than fifty dollars. [L. '11, p. 487, § 6.]

§ 3165-7. Complaint of Unsoundness.—When a complaint is made to the department of animal husbandry that a stallion or jack is unsound, and, on investigation an examination is by the department deemed necessary, such examination shall be made by the state veterinarian, or his deputy; but the owner of the stallion or jack shall have the right to select some registered veterinarian to act with the state veterinarian, and in case these two shall fail to agree they shall appoint a third registered veterinarian to act as referee, and his decision shall be final. [L. '11, p. 487, § 7.]

§ 3165-8. Annual Report.—All moneys collected under the provisions of this act shall be expended by the professor of animal husbandry under the direction of the board of regents, in carrying out the provisions thereof, and such officer shall take vouchers for all moneys disbursed and shall keep an account of all moneys received and disbursed and shall make an annual report thereof, which report shall be published with and as a part of the annual report of the agricultural experiment station of said state college. If, at the expiration of any fiscal year, there shall be on hand moneys in excess of the disbursements made under the provisions of this act for the preceding year, such moneys shall be transmitted to the state treasurer and placed in the general fund. [L. '11, p. 487, § 8.]

CHAPTER IV.

Stock Running at Large.

§ 3172-1. Livestock Area.—That the board of county commissioners of any county of this state shall have the power to designate by an order made and published, as provided in section 3172-3, certain territory within such county in which it shall be unlawful to permit livestock of any kind to run at large: Provided, that no territory so designated shall be less than two square miles in area: And provided further, that this act shall not affect counties having adopted township organization. [L. '11, p. 93, § 1. Cf. L. '05, p. 194. § 1; L. '07, p. 566, § 1.]

Cited in 77 Wash. 502.

§ 3172-2. Petition—Notice—Hearing.—Whenever ten residents within a proposed district shall file with the county auditor a petition, asking, within the territory therein named, no livestock of any kind shall be permitted to run at large, the county commissioners shall, at their next meeting, make an order fixing a time and place when a hearing will be had upon such petition, which time shall not be less than twenty days nor more than ninety days from the filing of such petition; and shall cause notice of the time to be given by publishing such notice in some newspaper having a general circulation within such territory for three sucessive weeks before the day fixed in such order; if there be no newspaper having a general circulation in such territory, then by posting such notice in three public places in such territory at least twenty days before the day of hearing, and such notice shall set forth the petition. It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners at the time fixed for such hearing, or at the time to which such hearing may be adjourned, to hear all persons interested in the question presented by such petition, and to determine whether such district shall be created. [L. '11, p. 93, § 2.]

§ 3172–3. Commissioners Make Order.—If the board of county commissioners shall determine to prohibit the running at large of livestock within the territory described in such petition or in any portion thereof, it shall make an order defining the boundaries of such territory, which shall be entered upon the records and published in a newspaper having general circulation in such territory for four successive weeks, or by posting in three public places in such territory for four weeks. [L. '11, p. 94, § 3.]

§ 3172–4. Penalty.—Any person, or any agent, employee or representative of a corporation, violating any of the provisions of such order after the same shall have been published or posted as provided in section 3172–3, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than two dollars, nor more than ten dollars, for each offense, and it shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney of such county, on complaint of any resident or freeholder of said territory to forthwith enforce the provisions of this section. [L. '11, p. 94, § 4.]

§ 3172–5. Swine not Permitted at Large.—The owner of swine shall not allow them to run at large at any time or within any territory, and any violation of this section shall render such owner liable to the penalties provided for in section 3172–4: Provided, that swine may be driven upon the highways while in charge of sufficient attendants. [L. '11, p. 94, § 5.]

§ 3173. Unlawful for Swine to Run at Large.—It shall be unlawful for the owner or owners of any swine to allow them to run at large in any county in the state. [L. '09, p. 454, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2488.]

For former laws on this subject see L. '69, pp. 362, 363; L. '83, p. 54; L. '88, pp. 55–57.

§ 3174. Liability of Owner.—If any swine shall be suffered to run at large in any county of this state contrary to the provisions of this act, and shall trespass upon the land of any person, the owner or person having possession of such swine shall be liable for all damages the owner or occupant of such land may sustain by reason of such trespass; and for a second or subsequent act of trespass by such swine, such owner or person shall be liable for treble the amount of damages done by the same; such damages may be recovered in a civil action before any justice of the peace. [L. '90, p. 454, § 2; 1 H. C., § 2489.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3173–3180.

§ 3175. Swine may be Restrained—Proceedings.—If any swine shall be found running at large contrary to the provisions of this act, it shall be lawful for any person to restrain the same forthwith and shall immediately give the owner notice in writing that he has restrained said swine, and the amount of damages he claims in the premises, and requiring the owner to take said swine away and pay such damages. If said owner fails to comply with the provisions of this section within three days after receiving such notice, such damages may be recovered in a civil action before any justice of the peace, and such person who sustains damages as aforesaid shall have a lien upon said swine for the damages sustained by the said swine, and for keeping same: Provided, that if the owner of such swine is unknown, the notice required in this act shall be published for two weeks in a newspaper published in the county. [L. '99, p. 52, § 1. Cf. L. '90, p. 454, § 3; 1 H. C., § 2490.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3173–3180.
See infra, § 3187 et seq., damages by notice, etc.

§ 3176. Assessment of Damages by Swine—Notice to Freeholders. If the owner of such swine so restrained shall object to the damages claimed by the persons having such swine in possession, and the parties cannot agree upon the same, either party may apply to any justice of the peace in the precinct, and if there be no justice of the peace in the precinct, then the nearest justice in [the] county, for the appointment of appraisers to assess the damages done by such swine, and the reasonable cost of taking up and keeping the same; and it shall be the duty of such justice of the peace to issue notice to three disinterested freeholders of the precinct to appear upon the premises where such swine may be, and assess the damages as herein required. [L. '90, p. 455, § 4; 1 H. C., § 2491.]

troversy, and they shall make out, sign, and deliver to each party a written statement of their appraisement of damages in the premises, and upon the payment of the damages and expenses allowed by such appraisers the owner shall be entitled to take his swine away; and if refused, the same may maintain an action therefor, as in other cases of wrongful taking or detention of property. [L. '90, p. 455, § 5; 1 H. C., § 2492.]

§ 3178. Fees of Justice, etc., How Collected.—The justice of the peace shall be allowed a fee of fifty cents for issuing the notice and swearing the appraisers, and the constable or person serving the notice shall be allowed a fee of one dollar for each appraiser notified, and mileage to and from the place of service; each appraiser shall be allowed a fee of one dollar, which fee shall be paid by the owner of such swine before he shall be entitled to take them away. Or if such owner fails to pay such fees, the person having such swine shall pay the same, and may add the same to the damages allowed him in premises. [L. '90, p. 455, § 6; 1 H. C., § 2493.]

§ 3179. Unnecessary to Fence Against Swine.—It shall not be necessary for any person to fence against swine in this state, and it shall be no defense to any action or proceeding brought or had under the provisions of this act that the party injured or taking up any swine did not have his lands inclosed by a lawful fence. [L. '90, p. 456, § 7; 1 H. C., § 2494.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3173–3180.

§ 3180. Swine may be Driven on Highway—Liability of Owner.—Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent owners or other persons from driving swine from one place to another along any public highway, the owner or owners being responsible for all damages that any person or persons may sustain in consequence. [L. '90, p. 456. § 8; 1 H. C., § 2495.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3173–3180.

§ 3181. Castration of Bulls Running at Large.—It shall be lawful for any person having cows or heifers running at large in this state to take up or capture and castrate, at the risk of the owner, at any time between the first day of March and the fifteenth day of June, any bull above the age of ten months found running at large out of the inclosed grounds of the owner or keeper, and if the said animal shall die, as a result of such castration, the owner shall have no recourse against the person who shall have taken up or captured and castrated, or caused to be castrated, the said animal: Provided, such act of castration shall have been skillfully done by a person accustomed to doing the same: And provided further, that if the person so taking up or capturing such bull, or causing him to be so taken up or captured, shall know the owner or keeper of such animal, and shall know that such animal is being kept for breeding purposes, it shall be his duty forthwith to notify such owner or keeper of the taking up of said animal, and if such owner or keeper shall not within two days after being so notified pay for the keeping of said animal at the rate of fifty cents per day, and take and safely keep said animal thereafter within his own inclosures, then it shall be lawful for the taker-up of said animal to castrate the same, and the owner thereof shall pay for such act of castration the sum of one dollar and fifty cents, if done skillfully, as hereinbefore required, and shall also pay for the keeping of said animal as above provided; and the amount for which he may be liable therefor may be recovered in an action at law in any court having jurisdiction thereof: And provided further, that if said animal should be found running at large a third time within the same year, and within the prohibited dates hereinbefore mentioned, it shall be lawful for any person to capture and castrate him without giving any notice to the owner or keeper whatever. [L. '90, p. 453, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2506.]

§ 3182. Stallions, Unlawful to Run at Large.—It shall be unlawful for the owner of stallions in this state to permit the same to run at large. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined not less than one hundred and fifty dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars, and one-half of the fine so enforced shall, in each case, be paid to the complaining witness: Provided, that this section will not apply to stallions running with and belonging to bands of horses which are herded and corralled by the owners once each day. [L. '95, p. 335, § 1.]

See infra, § 3196, damages by.

§ 3184. Animals to be Removed.—The complaining witness shall notify the owners of said animals, and a reasonable time shall be allowed for the removal of the same. [L. '95, p. 336, § 3.]

§ 3185. Gelding Certain Animals Running at Large.—It shall be lawful for any person to take up and geld, at the risk of the owner, within the months of April, May, June, July, August and September, in any year, any stud-horse, jackass, or stud-mule of the age of eighteen months and upwards that may be found running at large out of the inclosed grounds of the owner or keeper; and if the said animal shall die, the owner shall have no recourse against the person or persons who may have taken up and gelded, or caused to be gelded, the said animal, if the same has been done by a person in the habit of gelding, and the owner shall pay one dollar and a half therefor. [Cd. '81, § 2547; 1 H. C., § 2507.]

§ 3186. Certain Animals Excepted — Penalty.— It shall not be lawful for any person or persons to geld any animal, knowing such animal is kept or intended to be kept for covering mares; and any person so offending shall be liable to the owner for all damages, to be recovered in any court having proper jurisdiction thereof; but if any owner or keeper of the covering animal shall willfully or negligently suffer the said animal to run at large out of the inclosed grounds of said owner or keeper, any person may take the said animal and convey him to his owner or keeper, for which he shall receive three dollars per day, recoverable before any justice of the peace of the county; for the second offense, six dollars per day; and for the third offense said animal may be taken up and gelded. [Cd. '81, § 2548; 1 H. C., § 2508.]

CHAPTER V.

Damages by Domestic Animals.

§ 3187. Injured Party may Take Up Animals.—Any person suffering damages done by any horses, mares, mules, asses, cattle, goats, sheep, swine or any such animals, which shall trespass upon any cultivated land, inclosed by lawful fence, may retain and keep in custody such offending animals until the owner of such animals shall pay such damage and costs, or until good and sufficient security be given for the same. [L. '93, p. 46, § 1.]

See supra, § 295, answer in action for property distrained.
See infra, § 4979, trespass by breaking lawful fence.
Damages to stock on unfenced railroad, see infra, §§ 8729–8732.

§ 3188. Notice of Restraint—Damages.—Whenever any animals are restrained as provided in the last section, the person restraining such animals shall within twenty-four hours thereafter notify in writing the owner, or person in whose custody the same was at the time the trespass was committed, of the seizure of such animals, and the probable amount of the damages sustained: Provided, he knows to whom such animals belong. [L. '93, p. 46, § 2.]

See supra, § 3175 et seq., damages by swine at large in certain counties.

§ 3190. Suit for Damages.—If the owner or person having such animals in charge fails or refuses to pay the damages done by such animals, or give satisfactory security for the same within twenty-four hours from the time the notice was served, if served personally, and within ten days from the date of posting of the notice as provided in the last section, the person damaged may commence a suit, before any court having jurisdiction thereof, against the owner of such animals, or against the persons having the same in charge, or possession, when the trespass was committed, if known; and if unknown, the defendant shall be designated as John Doe, and the proceedings shall be the same in all respects as in other civil actions, except as herein modified. [L. '93, p. 47, § 4.]

§ 3191. Sale of Animals to Satisfy Judgment.—Upon the trial of an action as herein provided the plaintiff shall prove the amount of damages sustained and the amount of expenses incurred for keeping the offending animals, and any judgment rendered for damages, costs, and expenses against the defendant shall be a lien upon such animals committing the damage, and the same may be sold and the proceeds shall be applied in full satisfaction of the judgment as in other cases of sale of personal property on execution: Provided, that no judgment shall be continued against the defendant for any deficiency over the amount realized on the sale of such animals, if it shall appear upon the trial that no damage was sustained, or that a tender was made and paid into court of an amount equal to the damage and costs, then judgment shall be rendered against the plaintiff for costs of suit and damages sustained by defendant. [L. '93, p. 47, § 5.]

§ 3192. Continuance.—If upon the trial it appears that the defendant is not the owner or person in charge of such offending animals, the case shall be continued, and proceedings had as in the next section provided, if the proper defendant be unknown to plaintiff. [L. '93, p. 47, § 6.]

§ 3193. Unknown Owner—Service, How Made.—If the owner or keeper of such offending animals is unknown to plaintiff at the commencement of the action, or if on the trial it appears that the defendant is not the proper party, defendant, and the proper party is unknown, service of the summons or notice shall be made by publication, by publishing a copy of the summons or notice, with a notice attached, stating the object of the action and giving a description of the animals seized, in a weekly newspaper published nearest to the residence of the plaintiff, if there be one published in the county; and if not, by posting said summons or notice with said notice attached in three public places in the county, in either case not less than ten days previous to the day of trial. [L. '93, p. 48, § 7.]

§ 3194. Disposal of Funds Arising from Sale.—If when such animals are sold, there remains a surplus of money, over the amount of the judgment and costs, it shall be deposited with the county treasurer, by the officer making the sale, and if the owner of such animals does not appear and call for the same, within six months from the day of sale, it shall be paid into the school fund, for the use of the public schools of said county. [L. '93, p. 48, § 8.]

§ 3195. Jurisdiction—Appeal.—Justices of the peace shall have exclusive jurisdiction of all actions and proceedings under this act when the damages claimed do not exceed one hundred dollars: Provided, however, that any party considering himself aggrieved shall have the right of appeal to the superior court as in other cases. [L. '93, p. 48, § 9.]

"Act" refers to the foregoing sections of this chapter.

§ 3196. Damage by Stud, etc., Running at Large—Liability for.—If any stud-horse, stud-mule, jackass, ridgling, or stag, while running at large out of the inclosed grounds of the owner or keeper, shall damage any other animal by biting or kicking him, or shall do any damage to person or property of any kind whatever, the owner, of said stud-horse, stud-mule, jackass, ridgling, or stag shall be liable for all damages done by him. [Cd. '81, § 2549; 1 H. C., § 2509.]

§ 3197. Trespass by Sheep on Lands of Another.—It shall be unlawful in this state for sheep to enter any land or lands, inclosed or uninclosed, belonging to or in the possession of any person other than the owner of such sheep, unless by the consent of the owner of said land other than the public lands of the United States. [L. '13, p. 519, § 1. Cf. L. '88, p. 203, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2510; L. '07, p. 78, § 1.]

§ 3198. Penalty for Driving Sheep upon Another's Land.—Any person, being the owner or having in his possession, charge, or control, as herder, or otherwise, any sheep, who shall herd or drive such sheep upon the lands of another for the purpose of pasture, against the consent of the owner of such lands, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 519, § 2. Cf. L. '88, p. 204, § 2; 2 H. C. P., § 87; L. '07, p. 78, § 2.]

§ 3200. Liability of Owners of Dangerous or Vicious Cattle.—Any person or persons who own or are owners of dangerous or vicious cattle, which animal or animals are known to endanger the safety of persons traveling through neighborhoods, by their dangerous and vicious disposition, having twelve hours' notice of the dangerous disposition of such animal or animals, and shall neglect or refuse effectually to prevent such cattle from disturbing the peace and safety of the neighborhood where such animals may range, such owner or owners shall be liable to a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars, which may be recovered before any justice of the peace of the county, with costs of suit, for the use of the school fund. [L. '54, p. 445, § 1; L. '63, p. 447, § 1; L. '69, p. 400, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2555; 1 H. C., § 2512.]

As to repeal of this section, see § 2304, and note to next section.

§ 3201. Killing Vicious Cattle in Self-defense.—Any person who shall, in defense of himself or others, kill one or more such animals, shall not be liable for any damage for any such act. [L. '54, p. 445, § 2; L. '63, p. 447, § 2; L. '69, p. 400, § 2; Cd. '81, § 2556; 1 H. C., § 2513.]

As to repeal of this section, see § 2304. The title of that act does not cover civil remedies. See, also, §§ 2295, 2296, supra.

CHAPTER VI.

Diseased and Infected Stock.

§ 3201-1. Tuberculine Tests—Inspector—Bond.—On the written application of the owner of any bovine animal to the commissioner of agriculture for the examination and testing of such animal to ascertain whether the same is infected with tuberculosis, it shall be the duty of the commissioner of agriculture to cause such examination and test to be made and in case more than one application shall be filed, the examination and tests shall be made in the order of the filing of the applications. The inspector of the department of agriculture making the examination and test shall be a veterinarian duly licensed to practice veterinary medicine, surgery and dentistry in this state, and shall qualify by giving a bond to the state of Washington with sufficient surety to be approved by the commissioner of agriculture in the penal sum of two thousand dollars, ($2000). [L. '15, p. 292, § 1.]

§ 3201–2. Indemnity or quarantine—Appraisal and Payment—Expenses.—On such examination and test being completed, if the inspector shall believe that the animal inspected is infected with tuberculosis, the owner of the animal shall have the option of indemnity or quarantine, if he selects indemnity the owner and inspector shall appraise the value of the suspected animal. In the event of their failing to agree upon the value, they shall call upon the nearest county agricultural expert to decide the matter or in case there be no county agricultural expert in the county they shall apply to the judge of the superior court of the county where the animal or animals are located to appoint a third appraiser. The animal shall then be slaughtered under the inspection of the owner or his agent, should either of them desire to be present, and under the supervision of the inspector of the department of agriculture, and the inspector shall make a post-mortem examination and determine whether or not the animal is infected with tuberculosis. The slaughtered animal shall then be sold under the supervision of the inspector and the proceeds of the sale shall be remitted to the owner of the animal. If the proceeds of the sale shall not equal the appraised value of the animal the department of agriculture shall cause to be paid to the owner of the animal the difference between the proceeds of the sale and the appraised value of the animal; Provided, that in no case shall the state be required to pay any deficiency that will make the total amount received by the owner more than seventy-five dollars for an animal found free from tuberculosis upon post-mortem examination or more than thirty-five dollars for an animal found infected with tuberculosis. Every county agricultural expert who shall act as an appraiser as hereinabove provided shall receive his actual necessary traveling expenses in going to and returning from the place of appraisal, and every appraiser appointed by the judge of the superior court shall receive his actual and necessary traveling expenses and a per diem of three dollars for the time actually spent, to be paid by the state: And provided further, that the state shall not be required to pay the owner of any animal imported into this state within six months prior to such inspection and test the sums hereinabove provided for, but the owner of such animal shall receive the proceeds of the sale of such slaughtered animal: And provided further, that the right to indemnity shall not exist, nor shall payment be made for any animal owned by the United States, this state or any county, city or village in this state. [L. '15, p. 293, § 2.]

§ 3201–4. Quarantine and Test at State Line.—Whenever the commissioner of agriculture shall have reason to believe that any bovine animal about to be imported into this state is infected with tuberculosis he shall have the power and authority to quarantine such animal at the state line and make an examination and test thereof and if any such animal shall be found to be infected with tuberculosis it shall not be permitted to enter this state. [L. '15, p. 294, § 4.]

§ 3203. Commissioner of Agriculture—Quarantine for Tuberculosis—Penalty.—The commissioner of agriculture shall have general supervision of all contagious and infectious diseases among domestic animals within or that may be in transit through the state and he is empowered to establish quarantine against any and all such animals affected with any contagious or infectious disease or diseases or that may have been exposed to others thus diseased, whether within or without the state: Provided, that no bovine animal that has been in this state more than six months shall be quarantined for tuberculosis without the tuberculine test and the commissioner of agriculture is empowered to establish and enforce quarantines for such length of time as he may deem necessary to determine whether any bovine animal about to be imported into this state for feeding, breeding or dairy purposes is infected with tuberculosis, and he may with the concurrence of the state board of health, make such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary for the protection against the spread and for the suppression of contagious or infectious diseases among domestic animals, which rules and regulations shall be published and enforced, and in doing said things, or any of them, he shall have the power to call on any one or more peace officers, whose duty it shall be to give him all the assistance in their power, and every person violating or failing to comply with any such rule or regulation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L.' 15, p. 294, § 5.]

§ 3204. Quarantine—Penalty for Violation.—Quarantine shall mean the placing and restraining of any animal or animals by the owners or agents in charge of them within certain inclosures described or designated by the commissioner of agriculture, the assistant commissioner of agriculture assigned to the division of dairy and livestock or any inspector of the department of agriculture, in writing. Any owner or owners or agent who fails to comply with or willfully violates or negligently allows such quarantine to be violated by the escape and running at large of quarantined animals shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '15, p. 295, § 6. Cf. L. '03, p. 29, § 2.]

§ 3205. Penalty for Resisting or Obstructing.—Any person who willfully hinders, obstructs or resists said veterinary surgeon or his assistants, or any peace officer acting under him or them when engaged in the duties or exercising the powers herein conferred, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished accordingly. [L. '95, p. 457, § 3.]

§ 3206. To Respond to Calls, When—Substitutes.—Whenever a majority of any board of health, county commissioners, city council, trustees of incorporated towns or township, whether in session or not, shall, in writing or by telegraph, notify the state veterinary of the prevalence of or probable danger from any of said diseases, he shall at once repair to the place designated in said notice and take such action as the exigencies may demand, and he may in case of emergencies appoint substitutes or assistants, with equal power, whose compensation shall be five dollars per day and actual traveling expenses. [L. '95, p. 457, § 4.]

§ 3207. Veterinary Surgeons to Report Diseased Stock.—It shall be the duty of every graduate veterinary surgeon and every person professing to be a veterinary surgeon practicing their profession within this state to report to the state veterinary surgeon immediately upon the discovery thereof the existence or suspected existence of the following diseases: Glanders, tuberculosis, actinomycosis, hog cholera, swine plague, anthrax, contagious keratitis, stomatitis, pustulosa, contagiosa, scabies, contagious abortion and rabies. In the event of the failure or refusal on the part of the above-named persons to so do he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished accordingly. [L. '03, p. 29, § 3.]

§ 3208. Destruction of Diseased Stock.—Whenever in the opinion of the state veterinary surgeon the public welfare demands the destruction of any diseased animal under the provisions of this act, he shall cause the same to be destroyed. No stock shall be destroyed except on the written order of the state veterinary surgeon. The governor of the state with the state veterinary surgeon may cooperate with the government of the United States for the object of this act and the governor is hereby authorized to receive and receipt for any money receivable by this state through provisions of any act of congress which may at any time be in force upon this subject, and to pay the same into the state treasury to be used according to the act of congress and the provisions of this act. [L. '95, p. 457, § 5; L. '01, p. 229, § 3.]

Cited in 50 Wash. 125.

"Act" in this section refers to the foregoing sections of Laws 1895.

§ 3209. Importation of Cattle Infected With Texas Disease or Spanish Fever.—The introduction of Texas cattle, or cattle infected with what is known as the Texas cattle disease or Spanish fever, into the state of Washington, is hereby prohibited. [L. '69, p. 404, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2517.]

See infra, § 3215, civil liability.
See infra, § 3216, duty of sheriffs.

§ 3210. Penalty.—Any person or persons introducing or bringing into said state any Texas cattle, or cattle infected with the Texas disease or Spanish fever, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding twelve months, or fined in a sum not less than five thousand dollars, or be both fined and imprisoned at the discretion of the court. [L. '69, p. 401, § 2; 1 H. C., § 2518.]

See notes to last section.

§ 3211. Importation of Infected Stock Prohibited—Examination and Permit—Fees.—It shall be unlawful to bring into the state of Washington any horses, cattle or swine for work, feeding, breeding or dairy purposes without first having such animals examined and found free from the following contagious diseases: Glanders, farcy, tuberculosis, actinomycosis, rinder pest, foot and mouth diseases, contagious abortion, contagious keratitis, scabies, maladie du coit, swine plague and hog cholera and without having obtained a permit so to do from the commissioner of agriculture, the assistant commissioner of agriculture assigned to the division of dairy and livestock or an inspector of the department of agriculture assigned to the division of dairy and livestock and no railroad or transportation company, or other common carrier shall bring any such animals into this state without first having had the same examined and found free from said diseases and having obtained the permit hereinabove provided for. The provisions of this section shall not apply to animals imported into this state for immediate slaughter, or to range stock cattle imported into this state for range pasturage or beef cattle imported for the purpose of breeding in transit, but it shall be unlawful to sell such cattle for dairy purposes. [L. '15, p. 295, § 7. Cf. L. '03, p. 234, § 1; L. '05, p. 338, § 1.]

For former law, see L. '05, c. 143, pp. 356-359; Bal. Code, §§ 3447-3469, repealed by L. '07, p. 111, § 1.

§ 3211-1. Importations for Slaughter.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell for dairy or breeding purposes any animal imported into this state for immediate slaughter. [L. '15, p. 296, § 8.]

§ 3211-2. Appropriation.—For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the general fund not otherwise appropriated. [L. '15, p. 296, § 9.]

§ 3212. Disposition of Moneys Collected.—Any money or moneys collected by the state veterinarian or his deputies under this act, shall be turned over to the state treasurer upon the first day of each month to be turned into the general fund of the state. [L. '05, p. 339, § 1½.]

"Act" in this section, refers to §§ 3211–3214.

§ 3213. Stock Imported for Exhibition.—Animals brought into the state for the purpose of exhibition at town, county, district or state fairs shall not be subject to above regulations: Provided, however, that in event of sale being made from such exhibition, the animal sold shall be submitted to examination by the state veterinarian or his authorized deputy and thereby be subject to the rules and regulations governing native Washington cattle. [L. '03, p. 235, § 2.]

§ 3214. Penalty for Unlawful Importation.—All railroad, livestock, transportation and stockyard companies and their employees and all other persons are hereby forbidden to bring horses, cattle and swine into the state except in compliance with the foregoing regulations, and any violation of the same will constitute a misdemeanor and be punished accordingly. [L. '03, p. 235, § 3.]

This section applies to the last three sections.

§ 3215. Liability for Damages from Infected Cattle.—Any person or persons offending, as stated in section 3209, shall be liable for any and all damages to any person or persons that may be injured by reason of the introduction of such Texas or diseased cattle. [L. '69, p. 405, § 3; 1 H. C., § 2519.]

§ 3216. Duty of Sheriffs and Constables.—It shall be the duty of the sheriffs and constables of the several counties in the state to arrest and bring before a justice of the peace, for examination, any person they have reason to believe has violated section 3209. [L. '69, p. 405, § 4; 1 H. C., § 2520.]

CHAPTER VII.

Sheep Inspection and Diseased Sheep.

For former laws on the subject of this chapter see L. '66, pp. 105, 106; L. '67, pp. 148–153; L. '68, pp. 57–59; repealed L. '69, p. 356; L. '69, pp. 377, 378; L. '73, p. 481; L. '75, pp. 125–129; L. '79, pp. 87–90; Code '81, §§ 2228–2237; L. '88, pp. 204–207; 1 H. C., §§ 2477–2487; L. '97, pp. 25–30; Bal. Code, §§ 3402–3415b; L. '01, pp. 137–150; L. '07, p. 210, § 1.

See infra, § 3238, county to furnish supplies for deputies free.

among sheep within the state which may come to his or their knowledge, and to make official visits of inspection to any locality where such diseases exist or where they have reason to believe such diseases may exist, and to inspect or cause to be inspected any sheep within the state, and all sheep brought into the state from any other state, territory or foreign country, and he or they shall have authority to order a quarantine of any infected premises, and in case such disease shall become prevalent in any locality within the state, the state veterinarian may issue a proclamation forbidding any sheep being transferred from said locality without certificate issued by himself or one of his deputies showing such animals to be in good health, and the expense of herding, feeding and caring for all sheep quarantined under these provisions shall be paid by the owner thereof. The state veterinarian and his deputies shall have the power to administer oaths and to examine witnesses in so far as the same may be necessary in the performance of their duty. [L. '09, p. 657, § 2.]

See supra, § 3000–6, duties devolve upon commissioner of agriculture.
See infra, §§ 3232, 3233, fees, how paid.

§ 3220. Governor may Prohibit Importations.—Whenever the governor of the state has reason to believe that scab or other contagious or infectious diseases of sheep have become prevalent in any locality or localities of any other state or territory, or that conditions exist that render sheep from such localities likely to convey disease or whenever the state veterinarian shall certify in writing to the governor that conditions exist in localities in any other state or territory, which may render any of the sheep coming therefrom likely to convey disease, the governor shall by proclamation declare such locality as presumably infected, and prohibit importation therefrom of any sheep into this state, except under such restriction as the state veterinarian may deem proper. Any person, persons, firm or corporation who, after publication of such proclamation, has or received in charge any sheep from any of the prohibited districts and transports, conveys or drives the same to and within the limits of this state, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars nor less than five hundred dollars. And such offending person, persons, firm or corporation shall likewise be liable for all damage sustained by any person, persons, firm or corporation by reason of the importation into this state of such sheep from prohibited districts: Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prohibit the transportation of animals from such prohibited districts through the state by railroad trains or steamboat lines under such restrictions as may be prescribed by the law of this state or by the government of the United States. [L. '09, p. 657, § 3.]

§ 3221. Co-operation by U. S. Bureau. — The governor shall, through the secretary of agriculture of the United States government, request the co-operation of the United States bureau of animal industry in controlling and eradicating contagious and infectious diseases in sheep, and when said bureau, through its duly authorized representatives, agents, or employees, shall be thus engaged, they shall possess the same power and authority in this state as the state veterinarian and his deputies under and by virtue of this act; and all dipping and other treatment required for the control and eradication of such diseases within this state shall be performed in the manner prescribed by the United States bureau of animal industry, and the dips, remedies and appliances used shall be those approved by the said bureau of animal industry. [L. '09, p. 658, § 4.]

See note to § 3223.

§ 3222. Dipping for Scabies—Certificate.—Whenever it becomes necessary by reason of the prevalence of scabies, or exposure of scabies, of the sheep of any county or counties in this state, the state veterinarian shall have full authority to issue an order compelling the dipping of all the sheep in such district or localities, whether all the sheep at the time be affected with or exposed to scabies or not; and such dipping shall be done under the supervision of the deputy sheep inspector or federal inspectors, and shall be done in some dip or dips approved by the United States bureau of animal industry; and the dipping shall be performed in a manner in accordance with the rules and regulations of said bureau of animal industry. After dipping, when the official in charge shall be satisfied that the sheep are in a sound and healthy condition, the owner shall be entitled to receive a certificate to that effect signed by the said official; and the said certificate shall be in such form as the state veterinarian shall adopt; such certificate shall permit the sheep to move in and through all counties in this state so long as they remain free from disease and exposure thereto. [L. '09, p. 658, § 5.]

§ 3223. Inspection and Quarantine—Expenses Paid by Owner.—The state veterinarian and his deputies and the officials of the United States bureau of animal industry shall have authority to inspect and quarantine and treat sheep affected with a contagious, infectious or communicable disease or diseases, or suspected of being so affected, or that have been exposed to any such disease; and it shall be the duty of the deputy inspector to inspect once each year all the sheep that may be within his county; and his fees and expenses for the inspection of such sheep shall be as hereinafter provided for in this act: Provided, however, that where it is necessary to inspect the same band of sheep more than once during any one year the owner or agent in charge of such sheep shall not be charged by the deputy inspector any fees or expenses for the second inspection, unless such inspection should reveal the said sheep to be actually affected with or exposed to scab or scabies, and in such event the owner or agent in charge of such sheep shall pay the fees and expenses of the deputy inspector as hereinafter provided for. [L. '09, p. 659, § 6.]

"Act" in this section refers to all except the last two sections of this chapter.

§ 3224. Quarantine of Infected Sheep—Penalty.—Whenever upon examination by such state veterinarian, his deputy, or deputies or federal inspector, as the case may be, any sheep, band or flock of sheep, or any portion of them kept or herded in any county of the state of Washington, shall be found infected with scab or any other contagious or infectious disease, the entire band or flock in which said infected sheep are running or ranging shall be considered as infected and treated as such, and said state veterinarian, his deputy or deputies, or the federal inspector, as the case may be, shall immediately quarantine the entire band or flock and forthwith notify the owner or person in charge of said sheep in writing, to dip said sheep twice for said disease within the period of thirty days from said notice; the first dipping not to exceed fifteen days from the receipt of said notice, and the second dipping to be within the period of from ten to fourteen days thereafter; and also during such period, to keep such sheep free from contact with other sheep by such means as said inspector shall specify until after the second dipping: Provided, that in case the owner shall regard it unsafe to dip the same on account of their condition, especially ewes heavy with lamb, or by reason of the inclemency of the weather, the official in charge may authorize such owner or person in control to place such sheep in a corral, field, feedyard or appropriate range, where such sheep shall be kept under quarantine regulations and free from contact with other sheep until such time as they are in condition to dip. Any person or persons so allowed to keep sheep in such corral, field, feedyard, or range, or who shall willfully or knowingly take or permit to be taken any such sheep therefrom, except as permitted or directed by the inspector in charge, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars. [L. '09, p. 659, § 7.]

§ 3225. Moving Infected Sheep—Permit—Notice.—Any person persons, firm or corporation within this state who shall desire to move his or their sheep which are infected with scab or other infectious or contagious disease from place to place within this state, shall first obtain from the state veterinarian or one of his deputies a traveling permit. Upon receipt of the application for such a permit the state veterinarian or one of his deputies shall examine the sheep, and such permit shall only be granted for the purpose of removing said sheep to the nearest suitable point where there are available dipping works or where such works can be constructed, at which place said sheep shall be dipped under the direction of such official. In such removal only that route shall be used which such official shall designate in his permit, and before moving said sheep the owner or person in charge shall first notify all parties herding said sheep along or over said route that the infected sheep must travel, of the fact that they are to pass and the time at which they will pass over said route, and such route shall be considered as quarantined, and any person, persons firm or corporation injured or damaged by reason of the moving of said sheep shall be entitled to recover from the owners thereof in civil action the amount of such damages: Provided, however, that no party shall be entitled to recover damages who shall voluntarily herd or cause to be herded any sheep on such quarantined ground, and any sheep so voluntarily herded on such ground shall be considered as affected as in this act provided for infected sheep within this state. Any person, persons, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars. [L. '09, p. 660, § 8.]

"Act" refers to all except the last two sections of this chapter.

§ 3226. Importation—Inspection—Quarantine.—Any person, persons, firm or corporation, their agent or employees, who shall drive or herd, or cause to be driven or herded, or bring or cause to be brought, by road or trail, into the state of Washington from any other state, any sheep shall immediately upon crossing the said line and before proceeding into the state a distance greater than two miles, make written application to the state veterinarian or his nearest deputy, for the inspection of said sheep, and said application shall be delivered in person or by telegraph or telephone or registered letter. The notice must state the time and place when and where the said sheep crossed the line, the locality from which they came, the name and residence of the owner or owners thereof, and of the person in control of the same, the number, the brands and character of the animals. The state veterinarian on receiving such notice shall at once proceed, either by himself or his deputies to inspect the sheep, and if upon inspection he shall deem it necessary to prevent or avoid infection, he shall cause said sheep to be quarantined not more than three miles from where they entered the state for such period as may be necessary, not to exceed thirty days. And if he shall regard it necessary, shall cause said sheep to be dipped not to exceed three times if infected, or once if exposed, before they are released from such quarantine. Any person, persons, firm or corporation, their agent or employees, who shall ship into the state by railroad or steamboat lines from any other state any sheep, shall immediately upon unloading the same at any point within this state notify personally or by telephone or by telegraph or registered letter the state veterinarian; and thereupon the said official or one of his deputies shall proceed to inspect said animals, and if upon inspection he shall deem it necessary to prevent or avoid infection he shall cause said sheep to be quarantined not more than three miles from the point where they are unloaded for such period not to exceed thirty days as may be necessary, and if he shall deem it necessary shall cause said sheep to be dipped not to exceed three times if infected, or once if exposed, before they are released from such quarantine: Provided further, however, that such sheep are not for immediate slaughter or en route through the state on railroad trains or boat lines to other states, and that any sheep held in quarantine under this section may be released therefrom at any time for the purpose of immediate slaughter: And provided further, that if in the opinion of the state veterinarian it is unnecessary to inspect sheep coming into this state from certain districts or localities from other states he may issue an order dispensing with such inspection and restriction. Any person, persons, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars. Such fine shall be a lien upon the sheep and may be foreclosed as personal property liens are foreclosed under the existing laws of this state or may be enforced as a judgment against the offending party. [L. '09, p. 661, § 9.]

§ 3227. Refusal of Owner to Dip—Powers of Inspectors.—If any other owner or person in charge of any sheep shall neglect or refuse to dip the same as required by the terms of this act upon request of the state veterinarian or any of his deputies or any federal official clothed with power under this act, or to permit the same to be dipped by them, it shall be the duty of such official to seize such animals and dip the same, and he is hereby given authority so to do, and when in his opinion they are restored to health and free from possible infection he shall notify in writing the owner or person in charge of the sheep of the amount of the costs, charges and expenses incurred by him, and the same shall be paid within ten days of the receipt of such notice and the same shall be collected as in this act provided for the collection of like charges. [L. '09, p. 662, § 10.]

§ 3228. Importing Infected Sheep — Penalty—Disinfection.—Any person, persons, firm or corporation who shall drive or cause to be driven, bring or cause to be brought, ship or cause to be shipped into this state from any other state any sheep infected with scab or any other infectious or contagious disease and knowing of the condition of the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than two hundred and fifty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, and in case the offending party is a corporation, its officers shall be liable in the same manner as individuals would be liable. Any transportation company which shall convey from point to point within this state any sheep infected with scab or any other contagious or infectious disease, knowing the condition of the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as in this section above provided. All corrals, yards, pens, sheds, chutes, cars or boats of such company which shall have been occupied by infected sheep shall immediately thereafter, and within forty-eight hours be disinfected by said company, and failure on its part so to do shall likewise be deemed a misdemeanor and punished as in this section above provided. Such disinfection shall be done in accordance with the rules of the United States bureau of animal industry relating to the disinfection of such places, boats and cars, and the state veterinarian, his deputy, and the officials of said bureau of animal industry shall each have authority to enforce the provisions of this section, and when such company shall neglect for a period of forty-eight hours to so disinfect, such officials may take possession of such corrals, yards, pens, sheds, chutes or boats, and proceed to disinfect them at the expense of such company, such expense to be recovered by an action in the name of the state veterinarian in any court of competent jurisdiction. [L. '09, p. 663, § 11.]

§ 3229. Sale of Diseased Sheep—Penalty.—It shall be unlawful to sell, exchange, give away or in any manner part with to another, any sheep infected with a contagious or infectious disease, or any animal which has, or which the owner of or his agent or employee or the party in possession thereof has reason to believe has, within thirty days next preceding such transfer, been exposed to any infectious or contagious disease, without first notifying the proper purchaser or purchasers of said sheep that it is so infected, or that it has been so exposed; and any violation of the provisions of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor, and the penalty upon conviction shall be a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars. [L. '09, p. 664, § 12.]

inarian and his deputies and the officials of the United States bureau of animal industry are each and all empowered to designate and specify the place, limits and boundaries of any quarantine area or territory, and they are hereby given authority over the same until the purpose of such quarantine shall have been effected, and any person, persons, firm or corporation owning or having in his or their possession sheep within such quarantined area, who shall permit or allow any of such sheep to go beyond the limits of the same, without permit from the official in charge, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and all of the officials above named are hereby clothed with full authority to control sheep and territory in quarantine, and to take and hold possession thereof as provided by the terms of this act, and for all purposes thereof. [L. '09, p. 664, § 13.]

"Act" refers to all except the last two sections of this chapter.

§ 3231. Report to Veterinarian of Infection.—It shall be the duty of any person, persons, firm or corporation owning or having in his or their control any sheep which have become infected with scab or any other infectious, communicable or contagious disease, or which have been exposed in any manner to such disease, to immediately report the same to the state veterinarian by registered letter, telegraph, telephone or in person within ten days after the said condition has come to his or their knowledge, and failure to do so, or any attempt on the part of any person, persons, firm or corporation to conceal the existence of such disease, or to willfully or maliciously obstruct or hinder the inspector or his deputies in the discharge of his or their duties shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall subject the offender to a fine, upon conviction, of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars. [L. '09, p. 664, § 14.]

possession of said sheep and may be foreclosed in the name of the state veterinarian in the manner provided for the foreclosure of other liens upon personal property; or in lieu of foreclosing such lien said state veterinarian may bring an action in his own name in any court of competent jurisdiction to recover the amount of such charges and expenses: Provided, however, that when work is done by the state veterinarian in person he shall charge no fees. [L. '09, p. 665, § 15.]

§ 3233. Compensation of Inspectors—Record and Reports.—The deputy inspectors provided for under this act shall be entitled to no salary, but shall receive fees and expense as follows, to wit: For all services performed in the examination or inspection of sheep or in quarantining or dipping sheep or any duties made incumbent upon them under this act, the sum of four dollars per diem for any day or part of a day so utilized by them, and in addition thereto their actual, necessary expenses attending the performance of such duties, the same to be paid by the owner of the sheep as in this act provided: Provided, however, that no inspector of the United States bureau of animal industry shall make any charge for fees or expenses against the owner or owners of any sheep in the state for any service performed. And every deputy inspector appointed under the provisions of this act must keep a book to be known as the "Inspection record," in which he must enter and record all his official acts and accounts as such deputy inspector, and such record shall show the names of owners of all animals so inspected, the number thereof, the reason why such inspection was made, the names of the persons to whom certificates of health were granted and the date thereof, the brands upon said sheep, all orders and directions made by him in each case, the amount of his per diem and expenses in each case, and such other matters as the state veterinarian may require. And each deputy must, on or before the first day of October in each year, and as often as may be required by the state veterinarian, report to him in writing, in such detail as may be required, his work and the conditions of the sheep industry in his section of the state. [L. '09, p. 665, § 16.]

"Act" refers to all except the last two sections of this chapter.

§ 3234. Annual Report to Governor.—The state veterinarian shall make this a part of his annual report each year to the governor, upon all matters connected with his work for the year ending. [L. '09, p. 666, § 17.]

§ 3235. Wrongful Handling of Sheep by Inspectors—Penalty.—All officers appointed under the provisions of this act shall use every precaution to protect the sheep under their care from injury and shall select proper places for quarantine and dipping, and shall so enforce quarantine regulations as to make the expenses as light as possible upon the owner, consistent with public interest; and any officer who by virtue or power conferred upon him under this act, willfully oppresses, wrongs or injures any person, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars. [L. '09, p. 666, § 18.]

"Act" refers to all except the last two sections of this chapter.

§ 3236. Mingling Infected Sheep—Liability of Owner.—Whenever any sheep suffering from scab or any infectious or contagious disease shall mingle with healthy animals belonging to another, through the fault or negligence of the owner of said diseased sheep, his agent or employees, such owner shall be liable in an action at law for all damages sustained by the owner of such healthy sheep. [L. '09, p. 667, § 19.]

§ 3237. Disposition of Fines—Lien on Sheep.—All fines and penalties imposed under the provisions of this act shall be collected in behalf of and in the name of the state and shall become a part of the general fund thereof, and the offenses herein declared to be misdemeanors shall be prosecuted by the several prosecuting attorneys of the state in the superior courts thereof in the same manner that misdemeanors are prosecuted under the general laws of the state. And it is hereby made incumbent upon such prosecuting attorneys to foreclose liens herein provided, when necessary, and to act in either civil or criminal matters under this act when requested to do so by the veterinarian or his deputies. [L. '09, p. 667, § 20.]

"Act" refers to all except the last two sections of this chapter.

§ 3238. County to Furnish Supplies.—It shall be the duty of the boards of county commissioners of the several counties in this state to furnish free to the deputy sheep inspectors all the books, blanks and other stationery necessary for them in the performance of their duties. Such books and stationery as may be needed by the state veterinarian shall be furnished by the state. [L. '09, p. 667, § 21.]

§ 3239. Action on Inspector's Bond.—The official bonds provided in this act shall be given to the state as herein provided, but may be sued upon by any person injured because of the negligent or unfaithful performance of duty upon the part of the official giving such bond: Provided, that no action shall be instituted after six months have elapsed from the date the cause of such action accrued. [L. '09, p. 667, § 22.]

§ 3240. Spreading Disease—Liability of Owner—Lien—Actions.—Nothing in this act shall be construed as exempting any person owning sheep from liability in a civil action for damages for negligently or carelessly spreading scab, or scabies, or any other contagious or infectious diseases, but any person so spreading or causing said disease to be spread, either personally or through his agents in charge of sheep belonging to him, shall be liable in a civil action for damages sustained by any other person for injury to such other person's sheep by the infecting of such sheep with the scab or scabies or any other contagious or infectious disease, the same as if this act had not been passed, and no certificate issued under the provisions of this act shall be any defense or excuse in an action for damages of this character. Any damages that may be recovered in such a civil action for damages shall be a lien upon the sheep infected as stated herein by any other band or herd of sheep, for which infection such suit may have been brought, and the court in rendering judgment in any action brought for such damages shall declare such judgment to be a lien upon such sheep and direct them to be sold under special execution to pay such judgment. [L. '01, p. 146, § 21.]

"Act" in this section refers to the next section.
The force of this and the next section is doubtful.

§ 3241. Foreclosure of Liens — Costs and Attorneys' Fees.—The liens herein provided for shall be foreclosed by an action brought in the superior court for the county wherein the lien originated in the name of the said county by the prosecuting attorney for said county as chattel mortgages are foreclosed by a suit in superior court, and upon commencing such an action in said court the prosecuting attorney shall immediately move for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of said sheep and keep the same pending the action, and it shall be the duty of the court to appoint such receiver without notice, and all the expense thereof and all the costs that are taxed in civil actions between individuals shall be taxed up in favor of the county in such a proceeding, and an attorney's fee of fifty dollars shall be taxed in such a proceeding in addition to the attorney's fee allowed by law in a civil action, and all the said costs and attorney's fees shall be paid into the county treasury and shall be credited to the same fund to which the fees collected by county officers are credited: Provided, that the sheep inspector may employ an attorney to assist the prosecuting attorney in such case, when said attorney's fees will go to such attorney so employed. [L. '01, p. 147, § 22.]

See note to last section.

CHAPTER VIII.

Estrays.

§ 3242. County Auditor to Keep Record of Estrays.—It shall be the duty of the county auditors of the several counties of the state to keep a book of suitable dimensions to be called the "Record of estrays." The book shall be divided into two parts; the first part shall be designated "Estrays lost," and the second part "Estrays found." The part designated "Estrays lost," shall be ruled and spaced substantially as follows: The first column to contain the name of the owner; the second, his address; the third, the date lost or strayed; fourth, the kind of animal and age; fifth, the color; sixth, brands; seventh, earmarks; eighth, other marks of identification; ninth, customary range; tenth, page registered in 'Estrays found." The part designated "Estrays found" shall be ruled and spaced substantially as follows: The first column to contain the name of the finder; the second, his address; third, the date found; the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth, columns to be the same as in "Estrays lost"; the ninth column to designate the place where the owner may claim and obtain the animal; and the tenth the page registered in "Estrays lost"; eleventh, the date sold; twelfth, to whom sold; thirteenth, price obtained; fourteenth, publication fee; fifteenth, other costs; sixteenth, balance. If the animal be breachy or vicious such fact shall also be noted in the third column. The part designated "Estrays lost" shall be so arranged that the names of the owners shall be registered in alphabetical order, and thumb indexed so that each letter may be readily found. The part designated "Estrays found," shall be so arranged, that the names of the finders will be registered in alphabetical order, and indexed as specified for the part designated "Estrays lost." In addition to the foregoing each portion of said two parts of said record of estrays, shall contain an alphabetical index reference to the following: the age and kind of animal, the color, brands, earmarks; said index to refer to the page and the number of the line in which the particular animal is referred to. It shall be the duty of the auditor of each county to keep said index up to date, and as complete as practicable. [L. '05, p. 44, § 1.]

For former acts on this subject see L. '54, pp. 380–382; L. '60, pp. 337–339; L. '63, pp. 435–437; L. '68, p. 72, § 1; L. '75, p. 99, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2538; 1 H. C., § 2535; Bal. Code, §§ 3500–3508.

§ 3243. Registration by Person Losing Animal.—Any person losing an animal shall register the same with the county auditor of his county under "Estrays lost," for which the auditor shall collect a fee of fifty cents, for each animal registered, and deliver to the owner a receipt with his seal attached which receipt shall describe the animal registered. [L. '05, p. 45, § 2.]

§ 3244. Registration by Finder.—Any person about whose premises any animal may be in the habit of running at large at any time between the first day of October and the first day of March east of the Cascade range and between the first day of December and the first day of March, west of the Cascade range, may take up such animal, and shall within ten days thereafter cause the same to be registered with the county auditor of his county under "Estrays found," giving the information required by the record as fully as practicable, and the auditor shall charge against such estrays the said fee of fifty cents for each animal so registered. Breachy or vicious animals may be taken up and registered as herein provided. The word "animal" or "animals" for the purpose of this chapter, shall include only horses, mules, cattle and hogs. [L. '05, p. 45, § 3; L. '07, p. 60, § 1.]

See supra, § 3150, duty to examine brand and notify owner in certain counties.

§ 3245. Auditor to Notify Owner of Estrays Found — Form of Notice.—Immediately upon registering any animal as found, the auditor shall examine the record of "Estrays lost" and if the animal found appears thereon, he shall immediately notify the owner by mailing him a notice addressed to the postoffice designated opposite his name on the record, which notice shall contain the information appearing in the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth columns of the record, and shall require the owner to appear within twenty days from the date of such notice and pay all charges and take the said animal into his possession.

The several county auditors shall keep on hand blank forms of such notice which shall be substantially as follows:

—— To ——

—— Washington.

You are hereby notified that your (here state the kind of animal), color ——, branded ——, earmarked ——, otherwise marked ——, has been taken up and by ——, and is now at ——, and unless you pay all charges against the said estray, and take possession thereof within twenty days from this date, the same will be sold according to law.

Dated this —— day of ——, 19—.

P. O. Address ——. —— ——, Auditor.

§ 3246. Payment of Fees—Animals Found not to be Worked.—The owner of any estray upon learning that the same has been found, shall pay to the auditor the fee for registering the estray as found, and take his receipt therefor with his official seal attached, which receipt shall describe the animal registered, and upon exhibiting such receipt and making out his title, and paying the finder the sum of one dollar for taking up the animal and reporting the same to the auditor, and the further sum of ten cents per day for keeping the estray, from the time of registering the same as found, shall be allowed to take possession of the animal. The claimant's possession of the auditor's receipt showing payment of the fee for registering the same as lost, and of the auditor's receipt, showing payment of the fee for registering the same as found, shall be proof of ownership sufficient to justify the finder in surrendering possession of the estray. Any taker-up of an estray who shall work such animal, or otherwise use the same so as to derive benefit therefrom shall forfeit all pay for the keep thereof. [L. '05, p. 46, § 5.]

§ 3247. Disposition of Fees.—All fees collected by the auditor hereunder, and all sums derived from estray sales shall be turned into the current expense fund of the county. [L. '05, p. 46, § 6.]

ESTRAY SALE.

Notice is hereby given that (name of finder) on the —— day of ——, 19—, took up and now keeps at —— Washington, (kind and age of animal), branded ——, earmarked ——, otherwise marked ——, and said estray will be sold to the highest bidder for cash, at the place kept, as above specified on —— the —— day of ——, 19—, at the hour of —— o'clock in the —— noon of said day, unless the owner thereof or his legal representatives shall appear prior to that time and make out his title, and pay all charges against said estray.

Date of the first publication of this notice ——, 19—.

Auditor of —— County.

§ 3250. Notice of Sale of Several Animals.—In any community where any number of estrays are registered as found at or near the same time, all such estrays may be advertised for sale by the auditor in the same notice, by describing each animal. It shall be the duty of the county auditor to specify in said notice the place where the sale is to take place, and any person holding any estray or estrays so advertised shall take the same to the place specified in said notice so that the same may be sold as provided in this act. [L. '05, p. 47, § 9; L. '09, p. 417, § 1.]

§ 3251. Sale to Highest Bidder.—At the time stated in such notice, the sheriff or any constable, or any elector, other than the finder, deputized by the sheriff for such purpose shall sell the same at public auction for cash to the highest bidder, and the finder may bid therefor at such sale, and after deducting all charges of the finder as herein provided, and the fees of the sheriff or constable for selling, which shall be the same as a sale on execution the remainder of the proceeds shall be turned into the auditor within ten days, by the party conducting the sale. Provided, that if any person other than the sheriff or a constable conducts such sale no fees for selling shall be allowable. [L. '05, p. 47, § 10.]

§ 3252. Redemption.—If the owner of the property sold, or his legal representative, within six months after the sale shall have been made, furnish satisfactory evidence to the auditor of the ownership of the said property, he or they shall be entitled to redeem said property upon the payment of all costs incurred in connection therewith. Any person buying an estray at a sale had under the provisions of this act shall be vested with an absolute title to the same after six months from the date of such sale, unless notified by the auditor of the redemption of same by its owner or his legal representative. [L. '05, p. 48, § 11; L. '09, p. 418, § 2.]

rate provided for the publication of the proceedings of the county commissioners. [L. '05, p. 48, § 12.]

§ 3254. Registration of Animals Presumably Estrays.—Any person knowing of any animal running at large in any month, which he believes to be an estray, may take the same into his possession and register the same as found, or may register the same without taking the animal into his possession by specifying the range where the owner may be likely to find the same, but no charges shall be allowed any finder for taking or keeping such animal and no such animal shall be advertised for sale between the first day of March and the first day of October, except breachy or vicious animals, or estrays taken up prior to said first day of March, as herein provided. The several county auditors shall make no charge for registering estrays as found between the first day of March and the first day of October. [L. '05, p. 48, § 13.]

See supra, §§ 3150, 3170.

§ 3255. Sale, Where to be Held.—Any owner or finder of any estray may register the same as lost or found in any one or more counties of the state, but the sale must be in the county where the estray is taken up, and the finder shall pay the registration fee outside the county where the estray is taken up. [L. '05, p. 48, § 14.]

§ 3256. Penalty.—If any person shall take up, keep or use any estray without complying with the provisions of this chapter, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not to exceed one hundred dollars. [L. '05, p. 48, § 15.]

§ 3257. Conversion of Estrays.—If the taker-up of estray property shall convert the same to his own use, before the title thereto shall vest in him according to law, or if he shall knowingly and willfully violate any of the provisions of the law regulating the taking up of estrays, such person so offending shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and not less than double the value of such estray property. [L. '54, p. 94, § 101; Cd. '81, § 916; 2 H. P. C., § 91.]

See supra, § 2076, allegation of ownership.

This section was repealed by L. '01, p. 264, § 6, but the repeal was void as this section was not within the title of that act.

CHAPTER IX.

Apiaries and Their Inspection.

§ 3258. County Apiary Inspector — Appointment. — Whenever a petition is presented to the board of county commissioners of any county, signed by ten or more persons, each of whom is a property holder resident of the county, and owner of an apiary or place where bees are kept, stating that certain or all apiaries within the county are infected with the disease known as "foul brood," or any other disease which is infectious or contagious in its nature; and injurious to the bees, their eggs or larvae, and praying that an inspector be appointed by them, whose duty it shall be to supervise the treatment of said bees and apiaries as herein provided, the board of county commissioners shall, within twenty days thereafter, appoint a suitable person, who shall be a skilled bee-keeper, inspector of apiaries. The said board of county commissioners may remove said inspector at any time for cause. [L. '05, p. 217, § 1.]

§ 3259. Duty of Inspector—Infected Apiaries Abated as Nuisance. It shall be the duty of the inspector in each county to cause an inspection to be made when he deems it necessary, of any apiary, or other place within his jurisdiction in which bees are kept, and if found infected with foul brood, or any other infectious or contagious disease injurious to the bees, or their eggs, or larvae he shall notify the owner or owners, person or persons, in charge, or in possession of said apiaries or places where bees are kept, that the same are infected with foul brood, or any other disease infectious or contagious in its nature, and injurious to bees, their eggs, or larvae, and he shall require such person or persons to eradicate and remove such disease or cause of contagion within a certain time to be specified. Said notice may be served upon the person or persons, or either of them, owning or having charge, or having possession of such infected apiaries, or places where bees are kept, by any inspector, or by any person deputized by the said inspector for that purpose, or they may be served in the same manner as a summons in a civil action. All such apiaries, or places where bees are kept, found infected with foul brood, or any other infectious or contagious disease, are hereby adjudged and declared to be a public nuisance; and whenever any such nuisance shall exist at any place within his jurisdiction, or on the property of any nonresident, or on any property the owner or owners of which cannot be found by the inspector, after diligent search, within the county or upon the property of any owner or owners upon whom notice aforesaid has been served and who shall refuse or neglect to abate the same within the time specified, it shall be the duty of the inspector to abate the same, either by treating the disease, or by destroying the infected hives, together with their combs and bees therein. The expense thereof shall be a county charge and the board of county commissioners shall allow and pay the same out of the general fund of the county. [L. '05, p. 217, § 2.]

and doings, and make report thereof to the board of county commissioners at their October meeting of each year. [L. '05, p. 218, § 3.]

§ 3262. Transfer of Infected Bees.—The inspector of apiaries may, in his discretion, order the owner or owners, or other person in charge of bees kept in box or other immovable or stationary comb-hives in apiaries infected with foul brood or other infectious or contagious disease, or within a radius of three miles of such diseased apiaries, to transfer such bees to movable frame hives within a reasonable time, to be specified in such order or notice, and in default of such transfer by the owner, or owners, or other persons in charge of such bees, the inspector may destroy, or cause to be destroyed, all such hives, together with their contents, and the expense thereof shall be a county charge, as provided in section 3259. [L. '05, p. 218, § 5.]

§ 3263. Removal of Inspected Bees—Notice to Inspector.—It shall be unlawful for any person owning or controlling bees within this state, which are known to be infected with foul brood or other infectious or contagious disease, to remove said bees to a new location, without first giving ten days' notice to the county inspector of apiaries, stating when and where he intends moving said bees. [L. '05, p. 218, § 6.]

§ 3264. Penalty for Sale of Infected Bees, etc.—Any person or persons whose apiary is infected with foul brood or any other infectious or contagious disease, and who sells or offers for sale, from such infected apiary any bees, hives, bee fixtures or appurtenances, or who shall expose in his bee-yard or elsewhere, any infected comb-honey, beeswax, or other infected things, or who conceals the fact that his apiary is so infected, or who shall resist, impede, or hinder in any way, the inspector of apiaries in the discharge of his duties, under the provisions of this act, or who shall violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not to exceed one hundred ($100) dollars. [L. '05, p. 219, § 7.]

"Act" refers to the foregoing sections of this chapter.

§ 3265. Poisoning Honey-bees—Penalty.—It shall be unlawful for any person within the state of Washington to willfully or maliciously kill or poison any honey-bees. It shall further be unlawful for any person within said state to willfully or maliciously place any poisonous or sweetened substance for the purpose of injuring honey-bees, in any place where such poisoned or sweetened substance is accessible to honey-bees within this state. Any person or persons violating the provisions of this section shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars. [L. '97, p. 11, §§ 1, 2.]

CHAPTER X.

Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

§ 3266. Humane Societies, etc.—Incorporation.—Any citizens of the state of Washington who have heretofore, or who shall hereafter, incorporate as a body corporate, under the laws of this state as a humane society or as a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals may avail themselves of the privileges of this act: Provided, that the corporate body existing at any given time and first incorporated as aforesaid in any county, shall be the only one entitled to the benefits and privileges of this act in such county. [L. '01, p. 302, § 1.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3266–3283.

§ 3267. Authority of Members to Suppress Cruelty to Animals.—All members and agents, and all officers of any society so incorporated, as shall by the trustees of such society be duly authorized in writing, approved by any judge of the superior court of the county, and sworn in the same manner as are constables and peace officers, shall have power lawfully to interfere to prevent the perpretation [perpetration] of any act of cruelty upon any animal and may use such force as may be necessary to prevent the same, and to that end may summon to their aid any bystander; they may make arrests for the violation of any of the provisions of this act in the same manner as herein provided for other officers; and may carry the same weapons that such officers are authorized to carry: Provided, that all such members and agents shall, when making such arrests, exhibit and expose a suitable badge to be adopted by such society. All persons resisting such specially authorized, approved and sworn officers, agents or members shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '01, p. 302, § 2.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3266–3283.

§ 3268. Certain Officers Empowered to Make Arrests for Violations.—All sheriffs, constables, police and peace officers are empowered to make arrests for the violation of any provisions of this act, as in other cases of misdemeanor. [L. '01, p. 302, § 3.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3266-3283.

§ 3269. What Constitutes Cruelty. — Every person who cruelly overdrives, overloads, drives when overloaded, overworks, tortures, torments, deprives of necessary sustenance, cruelly beats, mutilates or cruelly kills, or causes, procures, authorizes, requests or encourages so to be overdriven, overloaded, driven when overloaded, overworked, tortured, tormented, deprived of necessary sustenance, cruelly beaten or mutilated or cruelly killed, any animal; and whoever having the charge or custody of any animal, either as owner or otherwise, inflicts unnecessary suffering or pain upon the same, or unnecessarily fails to provide the same with the proper food, drink, air, light, space, shelter or protection from the weather, or who willfully and unreasonably drives the same when unfit for labor or with yoke or harness that chafes or galls it, or check rein or any part of its harness too tight for its comfort, or at night when it has been six consecutive hours without a full meal, or who cruelly abandons any animal, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '01, p. 303, § 4. Cf. L. '93, p. 41, § 2; see Cd. '81, § 930; 2 H. P. C., § 164.]

See infra, §§ 4704, 4705, dissection, and penalty.

§ 3270. Transportation in Cruel Manner—Penalty.—If any person shall carry, transport, or confine, or cause to be carried, transported or confined upon any wagon, railway, car, vehicle, boat, vessel or otherwise, any domestic animal, in a cruel or unnecisarily [unnecessarily] painful manner, posture or confinement, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. And whenever any such person shall be taken into custody therefor by any officer or authorized person, such officer or person may take charge of such car, wagon, vehicle, boat or vessel and its contents together with the horse or team attached to any such wagon or vehicle, and place or leave the same in some reasonably safe place of custody; and any necessary expense which may be incurred for taking care of and keeping the same, shall be a lien thereon, to be paid before the same can be lawfully recovered; and if the said expenses, or any part thereof, remain unpaid, they may be recovered by the person incurring the same, of the owner of such domestic animal, or of the person guilty, as aforesaid, in any action therefor. [L. '01, p. 303, § 5.]

§ 3271. Docking Horses' Tails Prohibited. — Every person who shall cut or cause to be cut, or assist in cutting the solid part of the tail of any horse in the operation known as "docking," or in any other operation for the purpose of shortening the tail or changing the carriage thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '01, p. 304, § 6.]

§ 3272. Unlawful to Cause Certain Animals to Fight.—Every person who wantonly or for the amusement of himself or others, or for gain, shall cause any bull, bear, cock, dog, or other animal to fight, chase, worry or injure any other animal, or to be fought, chased, worried or injured by any man or animal, and every person who shall permit the same to be done on any premises under his charge or control; and every person who shall aid, abet, or be present at such fighting, chasing, worrying or injuring of such animal as a spectator, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '01, p. 304, § 7.]

§ 3273. Owning or Training Fighting Animals — Attending Exhibitions — Penalty.—Every person who owns, possesses, keeps, or trains any bird or other animal with the intent that such bird or other animal shall be engaged in an exhibition of fighting, or is present at any place, building or tenement, where training is being had or preparations are being made for the fighting of birds or other animals, with the intent to be present at such exhibition, or is present at such exhibition, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '01, p. 304, § 8.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3266–3283.

§ 3275. Complaints — Issuance of Search-warrants.—When complaint is made on oath, to any magistrate authorized to issue warrants in criminal cases that the complainant believes that any of the provisions of law relating to or in any way affecting animals, are being or are about to be violated in any particular building or place, such magistrates shall issue and deliver immediately a warrant directed to any sheriff, constable, police or peace officer, or officer of any incorporated society qualified as provided in section 3267, of this chapter, authorizing him to enter and search such building or place, and to arrest any person or persons there present violating or attempting to violate any law relating to or in any way affecting animals, and to bring such person or persons before some court or magistrate of competent jurisdiction within the city or county within which such offense has been committed or attempted to be committed, to be dealt with according to law. [L. '01, p. 304, § 10.]

§ 3276. Power to Arrest Without Warrant.—Any person qualified under section 3267 of this chapter, and any sheriff, constable, police or peace officer may enter any place, building or tenement, where there is an exhibition of the fighting of birds or animals or where preparations are being made or training had for such exhibition, and without a warrant arrest all or any persons there present and bring them before some court or magistrate of competent jurisdiction to be dealt with according to law. [L. '01, p. 305, § 11.]

§ 3277. Confinement of Animals Without Food and Drink, Prohibited.—Any person who shall impound or confine or cause to be impounded or confined any domestic animal, shall supply the same during such confinement with a sufficient quantity of good and wholesome food and water, and in default thereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. In case any domestic animal shall be impounded or confined as aforesaid and shall continue to be without necessary food and water for more than twenty-four consecutive hours, it shall be lawful for any person, from time to time, as it shall be deemed necessary to enter into and open any pound or place of confinement in which any domestic animal shall be confined, and supply it with necessary food and water so long as it shall be confined. Such person shall not be liable to action for such entry, and the reasonable cost of such food and water may be collected by him of the owner of such animal, and the said animal shall be subject to attachment therefor and shall not be exempt from levy and sale upon execution issued upon a judgment therefor. [L. '01, p. 305, § 12.]

§ 3278. Old or Diseased Animals, Unlawful to Abandon.—Every owner, driver, or possessor of any old, maimed or diseased horse, cow, mule, or other domestic animal, who shall permit the same to go loose in any lane, street, square, or lot or place of any city or township, without proper care and attention, for more than three hours after knowledge thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor: Provided, that this shall not apply to any such owner keeping any old or diseased animal belonging to him on his own premises with proper care. Every sick, disabled, infirm or crippled horse, ox, mule, cow or other domestic animal, which shall be abandoned on the public highway, or in any open or inclosed space in any city or township, may, if, after search by a peace officer or officer of such society no owner can be found therefor, be killed by such officer; and it shall be the duty of all peace and public officers to cause the same to be killed on information of such abandonment. [L. '01, p. 305, § 13.]

§ 3279. Prosecutions.—Any member of such society authorized as provided in section 3267, may appear and prosecute in any court of competent jurisdiction for any violation of any of the provisions of this act, whether or not he be an attorney or counselor at law: Provided, that all such prosecution shall be conducted in the name of the people of the state of Washington. [L. '01, p. 306, § 14.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3266–3283.

§ 3280. Punishment—Disposition of Fines Collected.—Every person convicted of any misdemeanor under this act, shall be punished as is by law provided for the punishment of misdemeanors and all fines imposed or collected in any county under the provisions of this act, shall inure to the society in said county, organized and incorporated as in section 3266 provided, in aid of the benevolent object for which it is incorporated, and shall be paid out of the county treasury to such society and the county auditor shall draw warrants in favor of such society upon the county treasurer therefor. [L. '01, p. 306, § 15.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3266–3283.

§ 3281. Fine and Term of Imprisonment.—Every person convicted of any misdemeanor under this act, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding sixty days, or both such fine and imprisonment, and shall pay the costs of the prosecution. [L. '01, p. 306, § 16.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3266–3283.

§ 3282. Terms Defined.—In this act, the singular shall include the plural; the word "animal" shall be held to include every living creature, except man; the words "torture," "torment," and "cruelty," shall be held to include every act, omission, or neglect whereby unnecessary or unjustifiable physical pain or suffering is caused or permitted; and the words "owner" and "person" shall be held to include corporations as well as individuals; and the knowledge and acts of agents of and persons employed by corporations in regard to animals transported, owned, or employed by, or in the custody of such corporations, shall be held to be the act and knowledge of such corporations as well as of such agents or employees. [L. '01, p. 306, § 17. Cf. L. '93, p. 41, § 31; Bal. Code, § 7402.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3266–3283.

"Act" refers to §§ 3266–3283.

§ 3284. Forfeiture of Fighting Animals—Sale of.—After such seizure of said fowls, birds, dogs, or other animals as provided for in section 2982, application shall be made to a trial justice or municipal court for an order of forfeiture of the same, and if upon the hearing of the same, such notice having been given of the hearing as the court shall order, it shall be found that such fowls, birds, dogs or other animals, or any of them, at the time of such seizure, were engaged in fighting at an exhibition thereof, or were owned, kept, possessed or trained by any person with intent that they should be so engaged, all such fowls, birds, dogs or other animals shall be adjudged forfeit, and such justice or court shall thereupon issue an order for selling the same at auction to the highest bidder within twenty-four hours, the proceeds to be paid into the common school fund of the county where such seizure is made. Any fowls, birds, dogs or other animals seized as hereinbefore provided which are not adjudged forfeit, shall be delivered to the owner or the person entitled to the possession thereof. The necessary costs in the aforesaid proceedings shall be allowed and paid as costs in criminal prosecutions are paid. [L. '93, p. 42, § 7.]

§ 3285. Wanton Cruelty to Fowls, etc.—Whosoever shall wantonly or cruelly pluck, maim, torture, deprive of necessary food or drink, or wantonly kill any fowl or insectivorous bird, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding twenty dollars. [L. '93, p. 43, § 8.]

§ 3286. Arrest Without Warrant, When.—Any judge, justice of the peace, police judge, sheriff, constable or police officer may arrest any person found committing any of the cruelties hereinbefore enumerated, without a warrant for such arrest, and any officer or member of any humane society, or society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, may cause the immediate arrest of any person engaged in, or who shall have committed such cruelties, upon making oral complaint to any sheriff, constable, or police officer, or such officer or member of such society may himself arrest any person found perpetrating any of the cruelties herein enumerated: Provided, that said person making such oral complaint or making such arrest shall file with a proper officer a written complaint, stating the act or acts complained of, within twenty-four hours, excluding Sundays and legal holidays, after such arrest shall have been made. [L. '93, p. 43, § 9.]

The application of this section may be somewhat limited by later acts superseding parts of the act of 1893. See supra, § 3276, same authority conferred.

See supra, § 2762, cruelty to children is embraced within the provisions of this section.

§ 3287. Disposition of Fines.—All fines herein provided for shall be paid into the common school fund of the county in which such fine shall be imposed. [L. '93, p. 43, § 10.]

See note to § 2825, disposition of fines.

§ 3288. Unlawful Mutilation of Domestic Animals.—It shall not be lawful for any person to cut off more than one-half of the ear or ears of any domestic animal, such as an ox, cow, bull, calf, sheep, goat, or hog, and any person cutting off more than one-half of the ear or ears of any such animals shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum less than twenty dollars. [L. '71, p. 103; Cd. '81, § 840; 2 H. P. C., § 61.]

§ 3289. Malicious Injury to Animals.—If any person maliciously kill, maim, or disfigure any horse, cattle, dog, or other domestic animal of another, or maliciously administer poison to any such animal or animals, or expose any poisonous substance with intent that the same should be taken by it or them, he shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year or by fine not exceeding three hundred dollars. CHAPTER I.

State Bank Examiner.

§ 3290. State Bank Examiner — Appointment — Qualifications. — The governor shall appoint, by and with the advice of the senate, a state examiner for the state of Washington, whose term of office shall be four years, unless sooner removed, and until his successor is appointed and qualified. No person shall be appointed to such office who shall not be at the time of his appointment, and for at least two years previous thereto, a citizen of the state of Washington, and who has not had at least four years of experience in the banking business. Nor shall any person be eligible for such office who shall be at the time interested in any bank as owner, officer, or stockholder. [L. '07, p. 518, § 1; L. '09, p. 692, § 1.]

§ 3290–1. Change of Title.—The title of the state examiner of banks and trust companies is hereby changed from "state examiner" to "state bank examiner." Whenever in any law, contract or document the name of such officer appears as "state examiner" or reference is made to such officer, such term or reference shall be deemed to mean or refer to the "state bank examiner." [L. '15, p. 117, § 1.]

§ 3291. Governor to Fill Vacancies.—If a vacancy shall occur in the office of state examiner, by death, resignation or otherwise, the same shall be filled by appointment of the governor, and such appointee shall hold office until the next ensuing session of the legislature. [L. '07, p. 518, § 2.]

Cited in 50 Wash. 208, 209, 210.

§ 3292. Deputies—Clerical Assistance.—The state bank examiner may appoint three deputies and revoke such appointment at pleasure, who shall have the qualifications and possess the powers, and perform the duties attached by law to the office of the state bank examiner. He may also employ from time to time such clerical assistance as shall be necessary to the proper conduct of his office; but in no case shall the expenses incident to the conduct of the office exceed the appropriation provided by legislative action. [L. '15, p. 126, § 1. Cf. L. '07, p. 519, § 3; L. '09, p. 692, § 2.]

§ 3293. Oath and Bond of Examiner and Deputies.—The state examiner and his deputies shall, each before entering upon his office, take and subscribe an oath to faithfully discharge the duties of his office, and shall each execute to the state of Washington a bond in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, with some surety company authorized to do business in this state, to be approved by the governor, as surety, conditioned that he will faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of his office and pay over to the person entitled by law to receive it, all moneys coming into his hands by virtue of his office. The cost of such bonds to be paid by the state. [L. '07, p. 519, § 4.]

§ 3295. Salaries and Expenses.—The state examiner shall receive a salary of thirty-six hundred dollars a year, and each deputy state examiner shall receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars a year; and the state examiner shall be allowed an additional sum as may be necessary for clerical assistance in his office, office rent, traveling and other expenses, detailed vouchers for all of which shall be filed with his report. [L. '07, p. 529, § 34; L. '09, p. 696, § 9.]

§ 3296. Seal of Examiner—Certificates as Evidence.—The state examiner, with the approval of the governor, shall devise a seal with a suitable inscription, for his office, a description of which, with a certificate of approval by the governor, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, with an impression thereof, which shall thereupon be and become the seal of office of the state examiner. Every certificate, assignment and conveyance, executed by the said state examiner in pursuance of the authority conferred upon him by law, and sealed with the seal of his office, shall be received as evidence and recorded in the proper recording offices, in the same manner and with like effect as a deed regularly acknowledged as required by law, and all copies of papers in the office of said examiner, certified by him and authenticated by his seal, shall be received in evidence equally and in like manner as the originals. [L. '07, p. 530, § 35.]

§ 3297. Banks to Make Reports to Examiner and Publish Same.—Every bank shall make at least three reports each year to the state examiner, on days designated by the comptroller of the currency on which national banks shall make reports, according to forms to be prescribed by him, verified by the president, manager or cashier, and by two directors, which shall exhibit in detail, and under appropriate heads, the resources and liabilities of the bank, and shall be transmitted to the state examiner within ten days of the receipt of a request therefor from him. And such report in condensed form, according to forms to be prescribed by the state examiner, shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the place where the bank is located, or if there be no newspaper published in such place, then in some newspaper published in the same county. Proof of publication shall be transmitted to the state examiner, within twenty days from the day fixed for such report. The state examiner shall also have power to call for special reports from any bank whenever in his judgment the same is necessary, in order to obtain a full knowledge of its condition. [L. '07, p. 530, § 36; L. '09, p. 697, § 10.]

for each day's delay after the period specified in said section. [L. '07, p 530, § 37.]

§ 3299. Blanks and Forms—Examiner's Annual Report to Governor.—The state bank examiner shall receive and place on file in his office the reports required to be made by banks under this act, prepare and furnish to all such banks the blank forms for such statements or reports as may be by this act required of them; make on or before the first day of February of each year, a report for the preceding year to the governor of this state showing:

1. A summary of the conditions of the banks subject to his control at the date of their last report.

2. A list of banks which have been organized or closed during the year.

3. The amount of money collected and expended by him.

It shall be his duty to publish annually at the expense of the state, in pamphlet form, at least five hundred copies of such report, and he shall furnish a copy of same free to each bank doing business under the provisions of this act and in his discretion to other interested persons. [L. '15, p. 126, § 2. Cf. L. '07, p. 531, § 38.]

§ 3300. Examination of Banks—Authority.—It shall be the duty of the state examiner, or his deputy, without previous notice to visit each and every bank doing business in this state, except national banks, at least once in each year and oftener if necessary, for the purpose of making a full and careful investigation and inquiry into the condition of affairs of such bank, and for that purpose the examiner or deputy is hereby authorized and empowered to administer oaths and to examine under oath the owners and directors and all officers and employees and agents of such bank; and any willful false swearing in any such examination shall be deemed perjury and punished as such. [L. '07, p. 531, § 39.]

Cited in 83 Wash. 422.

§ 3301. Examination Fees.—The state bank examiner shall collect from each bank for each complete examination of its condition, twenty-five dollars ($25) for each examination, and in addition thereto, one two hundredths per cent (1-200%) on all deposits, including those of banks, and certificates of deposit at the time of the examination of the bank, but in no case shall the charge be more than two hundred dollars. All money collected under the provisions of this section shall be paid into the general fund of the state. [L. '15, p. 127, § 3. Cf. L. '07, p. 531, § 40; L. '09, p. 697, § 11.]

This and other sections of this chapter made applicable to mutual savings banks: See § 3345-50, infra.

§ 3302. Impairment of Capital.—Whenever it shall appear from any report of any bank, or whenever the examiner shall have reason to believe that the capital of such bank is reduced by impairment or otherwise below the amount required by this act, or by its certificate or articles of incorporation, it shall be the duty of the examiner to require such bank to make good the deficiency so appearing, or to reduce its capital in accordance with the provisions of section 3326, of this code; and to give effect to such requisition he shall have the power to examine or cause to be examined any such bank, to ascertain the amount of any such impairment of capital, and whether his requirements have been complied with. And if such bank shall neglect for three months to comply with such requirements, the same shall be cause for the proceedings provided for in section 3303. [L. '07, p. 532, § 41.]

"Section 3303" of Rem. & Bal. Code, was repealed by § 3303–19, infra

§ 3303–1. Administration by State Bank Examiner.—Whenever it shall appear to the state bank examiner from any report, examination or otherwise that any bank or trust company has been guilty of violating any provision of law, or is conducting its business in an unsafe manner or is in an unsafe or unsound condition, or that it is unsafe or inexpedient for such bank or trust company to continue business, or if any bank or trust company shall refuse to submit its books, papers and concerns to the inspection of the state bank examiner or any examiner appointed by him, or if any director or officer thereof shall refuse to submit to be examined on oath touching the concerns of such bank or trust company, the state bank examiner may direct such bank or trust company to cease conducting its business in such unlawful, unsafe, unsound or inexpedient manner or if he shall deem necessary, he may take possession of such bank or trust company and administer the same as herein provided. [L. '15, p. 279, § 1.]

§ 3303–2. Notice of Possession by Examiner.—Upon taking possession of the property and business of any such bank or trust company, the state bank examiner shall forthwith give written notice of such fact to all banks, trust companies, associations and individuals holding or in possession of any assets of such bank or trust company. No bank, trust company, association or individual knowing that the state bank examiner has taken possession of such bank or trust company shall have a lien or charge for any payment advanced or any clearance thereafter made, or liability thereafter incurred, against any of the assets of the bank or trust company of whose property and business the state bank examiner shall have taken possession. Such bank or trust company may, with the consent of the state bank examiner, resume business upon such conditions as may be approved by him. [L. '15, p. 280, § 2.]

§ 3303–3. Liquidation by Examiner—Conveyances—Special Deputies—Attorney.—Upon taking possession of the property and business of any bank or trust company, the state bank examiner is authorized to collect money due to such bank or trust company, and do such other acts as are necessary to preserve its assets and business and shall proceed to liquidate the affairs thereof, as hereinafter provided. The state bank examiner shall collect all debts due and claims belonging to it and, upon the order of the superior court of the state of Washington in and for the county in which the office of such bank or trust company is located, may sell or compound all bad or doubtful debts, and, on like order, may sell all the real estate and personal property of such bank or trust company, on such terms as the court shall direct; and the state bank examiner, upon the terms of sale or compromise directed by the court, shall execute and deliver to the purchaser of such real or personal property such deeds or instruments as shall be necessary to evidence the passing of the title; and if said real estate is situated outside the county in which the office of the bank or trust company is located, a certified copy of such order, authorizing and ratifying said sale, shall be filed in the office of the recorder of conveyances of the county within which said property is situated; and may, if necessary to pay the debts of such bank or trust company, enforce the individual liability, if any, of the stockholders. The state bank examiner shall under his hand and official seal appoint one or more special deputy state bank examiners, as agent or agents, to assist him in the duty of liquidation and distribution, a certificate of appointment to be filed in the office of the state bank examiner and a certified copy in the office of the clerk of the county in which the office of such bank or trust company is located. The state bank examiner shall require from such agent or agents such surety for the faithful discharge of their duties as he may deem proper.

The state bank examiner may employ an attorney for legal assistance in taking charge of any bank or trust company, or administering the affairs thereof. [L. '15, p. 280, § 3.]

§ 3303–4. Notice to Present Claims — Actions — Payment. — The state bank examiner shall cause notice to be given by advertisement in such newspaper as he may direct weekly for three consecutive months, calling on all persons who may have claims against such bank or trust company to present the same to the state bank examiner and to make legal proof thereof at a place and within a time not later than the last day of publication to be therein specified. The state bank examiner shall mail a similar notice to all persons whose names appear as creditors upon the books of the bank or trust company. If the state bank examiner doubts the justice and validity of any claim, he may reject the same and serve notice of such rejection upon the claimants, either by mail or personally, and an affidavit of the service of such notice, which shall be prima facie evidence thereof, shall be filed in his office. An action upon a claim so rejected must be brought within three months after such service. Claims presented and allowed after the expiration of the time fixed in the notice to creditors shall be entitled to be paid the amount of all prior dividends therein if there be funds sufficient therefor and share in the distribution of the remaining assets in the hands of the state bank examiner equitably applicable thereto. [L. '15, p. 281, § 4.]

§ 3303–5. Expenses of Liquidation.—The expenses incurred by the state bank examiner in the liquidation of any bank or trust company in accordance with the provisions of this act shall include the expenses of deputy or assistants, clerks and examiners employed in such liquidation, together with reasonable attorney fees for counsel employed by said state bank examiner, and the reasonable compensation of any special deputy and assistants placed in charge of such bank or trust company, in the course of such liquidation. Such compensation and expenses of counsel, of deputies or assistants, clerks and examiners in the liquidation of any bank or trust company and all expenses of supervision and liquidation shall be fixed by the state bank examiner, subject to the approval of said court. The expense of such liquidation shall be paid out of the property of such bank or trust company in the hands of the state bank examiner and such compensation and expenses shall be a valid charge against the property in the hands of said state bank examiner and shall be paid first, in the order of priority. [L. '15, p. 282, § 5.]

§ 3303–6. Inventory—Supplemental Lists—Time of Filing.—Upon taking possession of the property and assets of any bank or trust company, the state bank examiner shall make an inventory of the assets of such bank or trust company, in duplicate, one to be filed in the office of the state bank examiner and one in the office of the clerk of the county in which the office of such bank or trust company is located; upon the expiration of the time fixed for the presentation of claims, the state bank examiner shall make in duplicate a full and complete list of the claims presented, including and specifying such claims as have been rejected by him, of which one shall be filed in the office of the state bank examiner and one in the office of the clerk of the county in which the office of such bank or trust company is located. And the state bank examiner shall in like manner make and file supplemental lists, showing all claims presented subsequent to the filing of the first list, such supplemental lists to be at least fifteen days before the declaration of any dividend; and in any event such supplemental lists shall be filed at intervals of not exceeding six months. Such inventory and list of claims shall be open at all reasonable times for inspection. [L. '15, p. 282, § 6.]

§ 3303–7. Dividends.—At any time after the expiration of the date fixed for the presentation of claims the state bank examiner may, out of the funds remaining in his hands after the payment of expenses, declare one or more dividends, and after the expiration of one year from the first publication of notice to creditors, he may declare a final dividend, such dividends to be paid to such persons and in such amounts and upon such notice as may be directed by the said court. [L. '15, p. 283, § 7.]

§ 3303–8. Objections to Claims—Trial—Unclaimed Deposits.—Objection to any claim not rejected by the state bank examiner may be made by any party interested by filing a copy of such objection with the state bank examiner, who shall present the same to the said court, upon written notice to the party filing the same, said notice setting forth the time and place of the presentation, The court upon return day of said notice shall hear the objections raised to said claim, or refer the determination of said objections to a referee for a report, or, upon demand of either the state bank examiner or the party filing the objections, direct that the issues be tried before a jury. The court may make proper provision for unproved or unclaimed deposits. [L. '15, p. 283, § 8.]

§ 3303–9. Injunction Against Bank Examiner.—Whenever any such bank or trust company of whose property or business the state bank examiner has taken possession, as aforesaid, deems itself aggrieved thereby, it may at any time within ten days after taking possession apply to the said court, to enjoin further proceedings, and said court, after citing the state bank examiner to show cause why further proceedings shall not be enjoined, and hearing the allegations and proofs of the parties and determining the facts, may, upon the merits, dismiss such application or enjoin the state bank examiner from further proceedings and direct him to surrender such business and property to such bank or trust company. [L. '15. p. 283, § 9.]

§ 3303–10. Receiverships and Assignments—Ouster of Receiver.—No receiver shall be appointed by any court, nor shall any deed of assignment for the benefit of creditors be filed in any court within this state, for any bank or trust company doing business under the laws of this state except upon notice to the state bank examiner, unless in case of urgent necessity it becomes in the judgment of the court necessary so to do in order to preserve the assets of such bank or trust company. The state bank examiner may, within five days after the service of such notice upon him take possession of such bank or trust company, in which case, no further proceedings shall be had upon such application for the appointment of receiver or under such deed of assignment, or if a receiver has been appointed or such assignee shall have entered upon the administration of his trust, such appointment shall be vacated or such assignee shall be removed upon application of the state bank examiner to the proper court therefor, and the state bank examiner shall proceed in all such cases to administer the assets of such bank or trust company as herein provided. [L. '15, p. 283, § 10.]

§ 3303–11. Meeting of Stockholders—Call—Vote on Liquidation.—Whenever the state bank examiner shall have paid to each depositor and creditor of such bank or trust company (not including stockholders) whose claim or claims as such depositor or creditor shall have been duly proved and allowed, the full amount of such claims, and shall have made proper provision for unclaimed or unpaid deposits or dividends, and shall have paid all the expenses of the liquidation, the state bank examiner shall call a meeting of the stockholders of such bank or trust company, by giving notice thereof for thirty days in one or more newspapers published in the county wherein the office of such bank or trust company is located.

At such meeting the stockholders shall determine whether the state bank examiner shall continue to administer its assets and wind up the affairs of such bank or trust company, or whether an agent or agents shall be elected for that purpose; and in so determining the said stockholders shall vote by ballot in person, or by proxy, each share entitling the holder to one vote, and the majority of the stock shall be necessary to a determination. In case it is determined to continue the liquidation under the state bank examiner, he shall complete the liquidation of the affairs of such bank or trust company, and after paying the expenses thereof shall distribute the proceeds among the stockholders in proportion to the several holdings of stock, in such manner and upon such notice as may be directed by the said court. [L. '15, p. 284, § 11.]

§ 3303–12. Liquidating Agent — Bond — Transfer to Agent.—In case it is determined to appoint an agent or agents to liquidate, the stockholders shall thereupon select such agent or agents by ballot, a majority of the stock present and voting, in person or by proxy, being necessary to a choice. Such agent or agents shall file with the state bank examiner a bond to the state of Washington, in such amount and with such sureties as shall be approved by the state bank examiner, for the faithful performance of all the duties of his or their trust, and thereupon the state bank examiner shall transfer to such agent or agents all the undivided or uncollected or other assets of such bank or trust company then remaining in his hands; and upon such transfer and delivery the said state bank examiner shall be discharged from all further liability to such bank or trust company and its creditors. [L. '15, p. 285, § 12.]

§ 3303–13. Distribution by Agent—Election of Successor.—Such agent or agents shall convert the assets coming into his or their possession into cash and shall account for and make distribution of the property of such bank or trust company as herein provided in the case of distribution by the state bank examiner, except that the expenses thereof shall be subject to the direction and control of the court.

In case of death or removal or refusal to act of any such agent or agents, the stockholders may elect a successor as hereinbefore provided, who shall have the same powers and be subject to the same liabilities and duties as the agent or agents originally elected. [L. '15, p. 285, § 13.]

§ 3303–14. Deposit of Unclaimed Money—Payment—Interest.—Dividends and unclaimed deposits remaining in the hands of the state bank examiner for six months after the order for final distribution shall be by him deposited in one or more banks or trust companies under his supervision, to the credit of the state bank examiner in his name or office, in trust for the several depositors or creditors entitled thereto. The state bank examiner may pay over the moneys so held by him to the persons respectively entitled thereto, upon being furnished satisfactory evidence of their right to the same. In case of doubt or conflicting claims, he may apply to the said court for an order authorizing and directing the payment thereof. He may apply the interest earned by the money so held by him toward defraying the expenses of the payment and distribution of such unclaimed deposits or dividends to the depositors and creditors entitled to receive the same and he shall include in his annual report to the governor a statement of the amount of interest earned by such unclaimed dividends. [L. '15, p. 285, § 14.]

§ 3303–15. Control of Examiner—Notice—Possession of Assets.—Any bank or trust company doing business under the state supervision may place its business and assets under the control of the state bank examiner to be liquidated, as herein provided, by posting a notice on its doors as follows: "This bank (trust company) is in the hands of the state bank examiner." Immediately upon posting such notice, an executive officer of such bank or trust company shall notify the state bank examiner of such action by telegraph and mail. The posting of the notice or the taking possession of any bank or trust company by the state bank examiner shall be sufficient to place all of its assets and property of whatever nature in the possession of said state bank examiner and shall operate as a bar to any attachment proceedings. [L. '15, p. 286, § 15.]

§ 3303–16. Temporary Embarrassment — Extension of Time—Resumption of Business.—If the state bank examiner shall discover, upon taking charge of a bank or trust company, as herein provided, that such bank or trust company is only temporarily embarrassed for want of available funds, and that in his opinion such bank or trust company's assets are sufficient to pay its liabilities, leaving its capital unimpaired, or if the stockholders of such bank or trust company will arrange to make good its capital, if impaired, he may permit the officers and directors of such bank or trust company to arrange with its depositors and creditors for extension of time for payment of said depositors and creditors and the resumption of business by said bank or trust company. And when the state bank examiner shall be satisfied that the capital of said bank or trust company has been made good and that it is solvent and has funds on hand with which to meet the demands made on it in the ordinary way and that it has arranged with its depositors and creditors for such extension of time as to enable said bank or trust company to realize on its assets to meet such obligations, he may at any time within ninety days after taking charge of such bank or trust company permit the same to resume business: Provided, however, that such bank or trust company shall first pay all the expenses, costs, compensation and charges of the state bank examiner and his employees, in this act provided for, incurred in so taking charge of and looking after the affairs of said bank or trust company during the time it was under his control. [L. '15, p. 286, § 16.]

§ 3303–17. Voluntary Liquidation—Consent—Notice—Publication. Any bank or trust company doing business under the provisions of this act may go into voluntary liquidation by vote of its stockholders owning two-thirds of its capital stock. Such bank or trust company shall first obtain the written consent of the state bank examiner; and he may, if he deems it advisable, before granting such request, make or cause to be made a special examination of the condition and affairs of such bank or trust company, for which examination the fees provided for by law for examinations shall be collected. Whenever a vote is taken, authorizing the voluntary liquidation of a bank or trust company, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation of the city, town or county in which such bank or trust company is located at least once a week for four consecutive weeks, notice of such fact and notifying creditors to present their claims against said bank or trust company for payment. [L. '15, p. 287, § 17.]

business for the purpose of consolidation with some other bank or trust company may transfer its assets and liabilities to the bank or trust company with which it is in process of consolidation, upon receiving written consent of the state bank examiner and not otherwise. And any bank or trust company in the process of voluntary liquidation may transfer its depositors' liabilities to some other bank or trust company and surrender its certificate of authority to the state bank examiner, but no such transfer shall be made without first having obtained the written approval and consent of the state bank examiner, and then only upon such terms and conditions as he shall require. [L. '15, p. 288, § 18.]

§ 3303-19. Repealing Clause.—That sections 3303, 3304, 3305, 3306, 3309, 3357 and 3358 of Remington & Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington be repealed. [L. '15, p. 288, § 19.]

§ 3307. Record of Fees and Funds — Quarterly Statement.—It shall be the duty of the state examiner to keep a record of all fees collected by him or his deputy, together with a record of the expense incurred in making the examinations of all banks, and pay to the state treasurer at the times and in the manner prescribed by law, all fees collected, together with all funds received by him officially from whatsoever source, and he shall file with the state treasurer, quarterly, an itemized statement showing from whom collected. [L. '07, p. 534, § 46.]

§ 3308. Examiner Shall Keep Records — Disclosures Unlawful.—The state bank examiner shall keep proper books of record of all acts, matters and things done by him under the provisions of this act, as records of his office. Neither he nor his deputies nor clerks shall disclose any fact or information obtained in the course of the business of the department, to any person other than United States or clearing-house examiners, except so far as this act makes it their duty to make public records and publish the same, and any violation of this prohibition shall subject the offender to prosecution for misdemeanor in any court of competent jurisdiction, and to punishment by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, with imprisonment in the county jail until the same is paid; and such conviction shall subject the offender to a forfeiture of his office or employment. [L. '15, p. 127, § 4. Cf. L. '07, p. 534, § 47.]

§ 3310. Attorney General to Conduct Suits.—The attorney general of the state shall conduct all actions, suits or proceedings begun by the state examiner under the authority of this act. [L. '07, p. 534, § 49.]

now imposed upon the auditor of this state, under the laws regulating the business of banking shall hereafter be performed by the state examiner, and all reports and documents now on file in the state auditor's office pertaining to banks now in existence are hereby transferred to the custody of the bank examiner. That all duties now required to be performed by and all responsibilities now imposed upon the secretary of state under chapter III of this title, relating to the inspection and supervision of trust companies, shall hereafter be performed by the state examiner, and all reports and documents now in existence are hereby transferred to the custody of the bank examiner. [L. '07, p. 534, § 50.]

"Chapter III," did not include the act of 1915.

§ 3314. False Statement or Entry, a Felony—Penalty.—Any person or persons who shall willfully and knowingly subscribe to or make or cause to be made any false statement or false entry in the books of any bank or corporation transacting a banking business or shall knowingly subscribe to or exhibit false or fictitious papers or securities with the intent to deceive any person or persons authorized to examine into the affairs of said bank or corporation, or shall make, state or publish any false statement of the amount of the assets or liabilities of any such bank or corporation, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the state penitentiary not less than one year nor more than ten years. [L. '07, p. 535, § 53.]

CHAPTER II.

Banks, Incorporation, Management and Liabilities.

§ 3315. Terms Defined.—The term "banking" within the meaning of this act shall mean the negotiations for, the discounting of, promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange and other evidence of indebtedness, receiving deposits, selling and buying exchange, coin and bullion, and loaning money on personal, real and other securities, and other kindred financial operations; and also shall be construed and held to mean the receiving of moneys on deposit, or savings account subject to withdrawal on demand or subject to withdrawal by any method within four months from the opening of such account or subject to withdrawal at any subsequent time on less than one month's notice, and shall include any mutual or co-operative savings company or association, or a trust company, receiving money from time to time from persons, associations or corporations, to be held subject to withdrawal as aforesaid, whether received as a direct deposit or by way of payment on stock or certificates in any such mutual or co-operative association. The provisions of this act shall not be construed to apply to building and loan nor savings and loan associations organized under or transacting business conformably to the laws of this state. The term "bank" as used in this act shall be taken to mean and include every association, company or corporation (except national banks, and foreign banks not authorized to receive deposits) transacting a banking business in this state. The term "branch bank," as used in this act, shall be taken to mean an office of deposit or discount other than the bank's principal place of business. [L. '13, p. 463, § 1. Cf. L. '07, p. 519, § 6; L. '09, p. 693, § 4.]

§ 3316. Banks Subject to Act.—Any bank, branch bank, or foreign bank which shall receive money on deposit, whether on certificate or subject to check or payment on stock of co-operative savings associations, or other method of demand withdrawal, or subject to withdrawal by any method within four months from the opening of such account or subject to withdrawal at any subsequent time on less than one month's notice shall be considered as doing a banking business. And promissory notes, receipts, certificates or pass-books issued for money received on deposit or for payment on stock of co-operative associations where such promissory notes, receipts, certificates or pass-books authorize the owner or holder to withdraw such money as aforesaid shall be held to be certificates of deposit for the purposes of this act. And every such corporation, bank, branch bank or foreign bank receiving deposits as herein defined and provided shall be subject to all the provisions of this act and shall be subject to the same regulations, visitations and control. [L. '13, p. 464, § 2. Cf. L. '07, p. 519, § 7.]

"Act" applies to this and the preceding chapter.

§ 3317. Incorporation — Amount of Property Required — Capital Fully Paid—Penalty.—Any number of persons, not less than three, may become incorporated, for the purpose of conducting and carrying on a general banking business, and also to establish banks to be known as savings banks, or to establish banks having departments for both classes of business, upon the terms and conditions of, and subject to the liabilities, prescribed in this act. It shall be unlawful for any corporation to transact a banking business unless at the time of organization and commencement of such banking business, such corporation has property of cash value as follows: In cities, villages and communities having a population of less than one thousand

(1,000), ten thousand dollars ($10,000); in cities, villages and communities having a population of one thousand (1,000) and less than two thousand (2,000) inhabitants, fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000); in cities having a population of two thousand (2,000) and less than three thousand (3,000) inhabitants, twenty thousand dollars ($20,000); in cities having a population of three thousand (3,000) and less than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants, twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000); in cities having a population of five thousand (5,000) and less than ten thousand (10,000) inhabitants, thirty thousand dollars ($30,000); in cities having a population of ten thousand (10,000) and less than twenty-five thousand (25,000) inhabitants, fifty thousand ($50,000); in cities having a population of twenty-five thousand (25,000) and less than fifty thousand (50,000) inhabitants, seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000); and in cities having a population of more than fifty thousand (50,000) inhabitants, one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000). Such property shall be in lawful money as provided in section 3321. Provided, that the provisions of this section as to the amount of capital shall not apply to any bank or trust company organized and doing business at the time of the passage of this act: But provided further, that the capital stock of any bank or trust company transacting business in this state, organized prior to the twelfth day of June, 1907, shall be paid in full in cash within five months from the date upon which this act shall take effect. And a failure to comply with the provisions of this section shall subject any such bank or trust company to a penalty of one hundred dollars per day for each day of such failure, and such penalty may be collected by suit against such bank or trust company on the relation of the state examiner, or attorney general. [L. '07, p. 520, § 8; L. '09, p. 693, § 5.]

See, also, infra, § 3694, amount under former laws.

§ 3318. Articles of Incorporation—Contents of.—The persons incorporating shall execute articles of incorporation, which shall specify:

1. The name assumed by such bank.

2. The county and city or village where such bank is to be located and conduct its business.

3. The nature of its business, whether that of a commercial bank, savings bank or both.

4. The amount of its capital stock, which shall be divided into shares of one hundred dollars each.

5. The period for which such bank is organized, which shall not exceed fifty years.

Such articles shall be acknowledged before any officer authorized by the laws of this state to take acknowledgments. [L. '07, p. 521, § 9.]

See infra, § 3333, articles by dissolved national banks.

§ 3319. Articles of Incorporation, Where Filed.—Such articles of incorporation shall be executed in quadruplicate, one copy of which shall be recorded in the office of the county auditor, in the county in which such bank is located; one filed with the state examiner, one in the office of the secretary of state, and one retained by the corporation. Such articles, or duly authenticated copies thereof, may be used as evidence in all courts of this state, for or against such bank. [L. '07, p. 521, § 10.]

See infra, § 3709, fees for filing.

§ 3320. Corporate Powers.—Upon making and filing the articles of incorporation as hereinbefore prescribed, such bank shall become a body corporate, and as such shall have power:

1. To adopt and use a corporate seal.
2. To have succession for the term of years mentioned in its articles of incorporation.
3. To make contracts.
4. To sue and be sued, the same as a natural person.
5. To elect directors, who shall have power to appoint such officers as may be necessary or convenient, to define their powers and duties, and to dismiss them at pleasure, and shall also have general superintendence and control of the affairs of such corporation.
6. To prescribe by its stockholders by-laws not inconsistent with law regulating the manner in which its stock shall be transferred, its directors and officers elected or appointed, its stockholders convened, for general or special meetings, its property transferred, its general business conducted, and the privileges granted to it by law, exercised and enjoyed.
7. To exercise by its board of directors or duly authorized officers or agents, subject to law, all such powers as shall be necessary to carry on the business of banking, as defined and regulated by this act: Provided, that no such bank shall transact any business except such as is necessarily preliminary to its organization until it has been authorized by the state examiner to commence the business of banking. [L. '07, p. 521, § 11.]

See, also, § 3698.

§ 3321. Capital Stock — Payment.—At least fifty per cent of the capital stock of every incorporated bank shall be paid in before it shall be authorized to commence business, and the remainder of the capital of such bank shall be paid in in lawful money, in monthly installments of at least ten per cent on the whole of the capital, payable at the end of each succeeding month from the time it shall be authorized to commence business, and the payment of each installment shall be certified to the state examiner under oath by the president, cashier, or treasurer of such bank. [L. '07, p. 522, § 12.]

§ 3322. Sale of Stock for Nonpayment.—When any stockholder, or his assignee, shall fail to pay any installment on his stock when the same is required by the preceding section to be paid, the directors of such bank may sell the stock of such delinquent stockholder at public sale, having first given the delinquent stockholder twenty days' notice, personally or by mail, at his last known address. If no bidder can be found who will pay for such stock the amount due thereon, with costs incurred, the amount previously paid shall be forfeited to the bank, and such bank stock shall be sold as the directors may order, within six months from the time of such forfeiture, and if not sold, it shall be canceled and deducted from the capital of the bank. If sold before cancellation, any surplus over the amount due on such stock to said bank, less all costs incurred thereon, with interest for the time delinquent, shall be returned to the original stockholder, his heirs or assigns. If such cancellation shall reduce the capital of the bank below the minimum required by this act, the said capital shall, within thirty days thereafter, be increased to the required amount by original subscription, in default of which, a receiver may be applied for by the state examiner, to close up the business of the bank. [L. '07, p. 522, § 13.]

§ 3323. Issuance of Certificate to do Business—Capital of Foreign and Branch Banks.—When articles of incorporation are filed with the state examiner as provided by this act, and the bank transmitting the same notifies the state examiner that at least fifty per cent of its capital stock has been paid in, and that such bank has complied with the conditions of this act, as required before the bank shall be authorized to commence business, the examiner shall examine into the condition of such bank, and if upon examination it appears that such bank is lawfully entitled to commence business, give to such bank a certificate under his hand and official seal, that it has complied with all the provisions of the law, and is duly authorized to transact business: Provided, however, that no foreign bank, or branch thereof, except foreign banks now doing business in the state of Washington, shall do a banking business in the state until he or they shall have furnished to the state examiner evidence satisfactory to him that such foreign bank, or branch thereof, has invested in such foreign bank, or branch thereof, an amount of capital equal to that required of corporations engaged in similar business, and shall have received from such examiner a certificate authorizing him or them to do business as required in sections 3317 and 3321 for corporations: Provided further, no bank in this state, or any officer or director thereof, shall hereafter open any branch bank, or any office of deposit or discount, other than its principal place of business, and no branch bank heretofore opened shall be hereafter maintained unless the capital of the bank maintaining the branch bank shall be equal to the sum required by section 3317, and unless the capital of said bank be increased by the amount required by said section 3317 for each and every such branch, the payment of such increased capital shall be governed by the provisions in sections 3321 and 3322 and for the maintenance of any branch bank in violation of the provisions of this section every such bank and every such officer or director shall be subject to a penalty in the sum of one thousand dollars for every week during which any such branch bank shall be so maintained. And such penalty may be collected by suit against such bank, or officer or director, on relation of the state examiner, or attorney general. [L. '07, p. 523, § 14; L. '09, p. 695, § 6.]

"Act" refers to this and the preceding chapter.
See supra, § 2641, penalty for doing business without license.

§ 3324. Stock Personal Property — Banks not to Deal in Bank Stock.—The shares of stock of such incorporated bank shall be deemed personal property and shall be transferred on the books of the bank in such a manner as the by-laws thereof shall direct. No bank shall be the purchaser of its own capital stock, or accept its capital stock, or any part of it, as security for loans. No bank shall subscribe for or purchase the stock of any other banking corporation, except a federal reserve bank of which such bank shall become a member, and then only to the extent required by such federal reserve bank. [L. '15, p. 128, § 5. Cf. L. '07, p. 524, § 15; L. '09, p. 696, § 7.]

See infra, § 9134 et seq., taxation of stock.
This section supersedes § 3684, as to banking corporations.

§ 3325. Stock-book—Contents—Evidence.—A book shall be provided and kept by every bank in which shall be entered the name and residence of the stockholders thereof, the number of shares held by each, the time when such person became a stockholder, and also all transfers of stock, stating the time when made, the number of shares, and by whom transferred. In all actions, suits and proceedings, said book shall be presumptive evidence of the facts therein stated. [L. '07, p. 524, § 16.]

§ 3326. Amendment of Articles of Incorporation.—Any bank may amend its articles of incorporation, in any manner not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, by a vote of its stockholders representing two-thirds of the capital, at a regular meeting, or a special meeting duly called for that purpose. A certificate of the fact and terms of the amendment shall be executed by a majority of the directors, and filed as required for articles of incorporation, but no increase of capital stock shall be valid, until the amount thereof shall have been subscribed and actually paid in, and no reduction of the capital stock shall be made to an amount less than is required in 3317, for capital, nor be valid, nor warrant the cancellation of stock certificates, nor diminish the personal liability of the stockholders, until such reduction has been approved by the state examiners. [L. '07, p. 524, § 17.]

See supra, § 3302, when required to reduce its capital stock.
See infra, § 3704, increase or diminution of capital stock.

§ 3327. Individual Liability of Stockholders.—The stockholders of every bank shall be individually liable, equally and ratably, and not one for another, for the benefit of the creditors of such bank, to the amount of their stock at par value thereof, in addition to the stock held by them; but persons holding stock as executors, administrators, guardians or trustees if such relation of trust shall appear in the stock certificate and on the books of the bank, or as collateral security or in pledge, shall not be personally liable as stockholders, but the assets and funds in the hands of such trustee constituting the trust, shall be liable to the same extent as the testator, intestate, ward or person interested in such funds would be if living or competent to act, and the person pledging such stock shall be deemed a stockholder, and liable under this section. Such liability may be enforced by an action at law or suit in equity by any such bank in process of liquidation, or by any receiver or other person succeeding to the legal rights of such bank. [L. '07, p. 524, § 18.]

See, also, § 3698, infra.

§ 3328. Directors — Election — Vacancies.—The affairs of every such bank shall be managed by not less than three directors, who shall be elected by the stockholders, and hold office for one year, and until their successors are elected and have qualified. A majority of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the first instance the directors shall be elected at a meeting held before the bank is authorized to do business by the state examiner, and afterward at the annual meeting of the stockholders to be held on the second Tuesday in January in each year. If for any cause no election is held at that time, it may be held at any adjourned meeting, or at a subsequent meeting called for that purpose, of which due notice shall be given, as may be provided in the by-laws of such bank. At all the meetings of the stockholders, each share shall be entitled to one vote, and any stockholder may vote by proxy in writing signed by him. Every director must be the owner in his own right of at least five shares of stock. He shall take and subscribe an oath that he will faithfully and diligently perform the duties of such office, and will not knowingly violate or permit to be violated, any provisions of this act. Such oath shall be transmitted to the state examiner, and filed in his office. Vacancies in the board of directors shall be filled by the board, and directors so appointed shall hold office until the next election, and until their successors shall have been elected and qualified. [L. '07, p. 525, § 19.]

"Act" refers to this and the preceding chapter.

(1) Such as shall be necessary for the convenient transaction of its business, including with its banking offices, other apartments in the same building to rent as a source of income.

(2) Such as shall be purchased by or conveyed to it in satisfaction, or on account of, debts previously contracted in the course of its business.

(3) Such as it shall purchase at sale under judgments, decrees, liens, or mortgage foreclosures, against securities held by it: Provided, that no such real estate, except that used in the transaction of its business, shall be carried as an asset on the books of the bank for a longer period than five years from the date of its purchase. [L. '13, p. 57, § 1. Cf. L. '07, p. 526, § 21.]

Cited in 60 Wash. 385.

§ 3331. Not to Receive Deposits When Insolvent—Penalty.—The owners or officers of any bank who shall fraudulently receive any deposit, knowing that such bank is insolvent, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and punished upon conviction thereof, by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisoned in the state penitentiary not exceeding ten years, or both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court. [L. '07, p. 526, § 22.]

Cited in 60 Wash. 385.

See, also, § 2640, supra.

§ 3332. State Banks Reorganized as National Banks — Assets.— Any state bank reorganized under the laws of the United States as a national bank, as soon as it shall have obtained a certificate from the comptroller of the currency authorizing it to commence business, under the United States banking laws, shall retain and hold all the assets, real and personal, which it acquired during its existence under this act, and shall hold the same subject to all existing liabilities against said bank at the time of its reorganization. [L. '07, p. 526, § 23.]

§ 3333. Dissolved National Banks may Become State Banks—Assets.—Whenever any bank existing under the laws of the United States is authorized to dissolve, and shall have taken the necessary steps to effect dissolution, it shall be lawful for a majority of the directors of such bank, upon the authority, in writing, of the owners of three-fourths of its capital stock, with the approval of the state examiner, to execute articles of incorporation as provided in this act, which articles, in addition to the requirements above, shall set forth the authority derived from the stockholders of such dissolved national bank, and upon filing the same as hereinbefore provided for the organization of banks, the same shall become a bank under the laws of this state, and thereupon all assets of such dissolved national bank shall by act of law be vested and become the property of such state bank subject to all liabilities of such national bank not liquidated under the laws of the United States before such reorganization. [L. '07, p. 527, § 24.]

§ 3334. Fraudulent Conveyances Void.—Every transfer of its property or assets made by any bank in this state, after it shall have become insolvent, within the spirit of this act, with a view to the preference of one creditor over another, or to prevent the equal distribution of its property and assets among its creditors, shall be void. [L. '07, p. 527, § 25.]

§ 3335. Fraudulent Certification of Checks, a Misdemeanor—Bank Liable.—No owner, officer, agent, clerk or employee of any bank shall certify a check unless the amount thereof actually stands to the credit of the drawer on the books of the bank, and any person who shall willfully violate this provision, shall, on conviction thereof, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars. Any such check so certified by a duly authorized person shall be a good and valid obligation of the bank in the hands of an innocent holder. [L. '07, p. 527, § 26.]

§ 3336. Savings Banks—Necessity of Pass-books and Certificates of Deposit.—Any bank which shall designate its business as that of a savings bank shall have power to carry on the business of banking as prescribed and limited in this act, and may receive money on savings deposits, and such deposits shall be repaid to the depositor or his lawful representative, when required, at such time or times, and with such interest, as the regulations of the bank from time to time prescribe. A pass-book shall be issued to each savings depositor, containing the rules and regulations prescribed by the bank governing such deposits, in which shall be entered each deposit made by and each payment to such depositor. And no payment made to such depositor, and no payment or check against any such savings account, shall be made, unless accompanied by and entered in the pass-book issued therefor, except for good cause and assurance, satisfactory to the bank officers; but nothing in this section shall prevent savings banks from issuing time certificates of deposit or certificates of deposit specifically issued subject to the rules and regulations governing savings deposits. [L. '07, p. 527, § 27.]

§ 3337. Separate Books for Commercial and Savings Accounts.—Any bank combining the business of a commercial bank and a savings bank shall keep with the respective depositors separate books of account for each kind of business. [L. '07, p. 528, § 28.]

§ 3338. Deposits by Persons Under Disability—Payment.—Where any deposit is made in any bank in his or her own name by any minor, married woman, or other person under disability such bank may pay such money on a check or order of such person, the same as in other cases, and such payments shall be in all respects valid in law. [L. '07, p. 528, § 29.]

§ 3339. Use of Words "Bank," etc., Prohibited—Penalty.—No person or persons, association or body corporate, except banks, or trust companies, incorporated under the laws of the United States, or the laws of the state of Washington, and existing foreign banks now doing business in the state of Washington, shall advertise or put forth a sign having thereon any of the following words: "Bank," "Banking Company," "Trust," or any other artificial or corporate name, or words indicating that such person, persons, association or body corporate is a bank, trust company, or savings bank, or shall in any way solicit or receive deposits as an incorporated bank. Every person, association, or body corporate, violating the provisions of this act, shall be fined not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) per day for each day of such violation. From and after the first day of January, 1915, no person, persons, copartnership, association, or body corporate except banks or trust companies incorporated under the laws of the United States or the laws of the state of Washington and existing foreign banks now doing business in the state of Washington, or mutual or co-operative savings companies or associations doing a banking business as defined in section 3315 of this act, shall transact a banking business in this state. [L. '13, p. 465, § 3. Cf. L. '07, p. 528, § 30.]

See infra, § 3345–50, this section applicable to mutual savings banks.

§ 3339½. Private Banks to Incorporate—Stock.—All firms or individuals who on January 1, 1913, were conducting private banks and receiving deposits as such and who desire to do a banking business on and after January 1, 1915, shall prior to that time incorporate under the laws of this state applicable thereto, and the capital stock of such corporation shall be in such a sum as is required by existing law, all of which shall be subscribed and at least ten thousand dollars thereof paid in in cash, and the balance of said capital stock must be paid in at such time and in such amounts as shall be required by the state bank examiner. [L. '13, p. 466, § 4.]

§ 3340. Deception as to Incorporation of Bank.—Any person or persons who shall put up, or cause to be put up, or exhibit, any sign or advertisement, purporting thereby to be an incorporated bank, or shall do business under a corporate name when they are not such, shall, on conviction thereof, be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars. [L. '13, p. 466, § 5. Cf. L. '86, p. 85, § 3; L. '91, p. 130, § 36; 2 H. P. C., § 245.]

See infra, § 3345–50, this section applicable to mutual savings banks.
See supra, § 2642, false report by corporation.

§ 3340–1. Validity.—If any section, subdivision, sentence or clause of this act, for any reason, be held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. [L. '13, p. 466, § 6.]

"Act," refers to §§ 3315, 3316, 3339—3340–1.

§ 3341. Prior Investments Valid—Past Transactions not Affected. Nothing in this act shall be construed to affect the legality of investments heretofore made, or of transactions heretofore had, pursuant to any provisions in force when such investments were made or transactions had. [L. '07, p. 529, § 31.]

"Act" refers to the preceding and this chapter, except a few sections herein.

§ 3342. Loans to Officers—Approval—Penalty.—No officer or employee of any corporation transacting a banking business in this state shall be permitted to loan to himself any of the funds of the bank upon his own note or obligation, without first having obtained the approval of a majority of the board of directors of the bank, and the approval, if obtained, shall be made a part of its records. And if the directors of any bank shall knowingly permit any of its officers, directors, or employees of such bank to borrow its funds in an excessive and dishonest manner, every director who participated in and assented to the same, shall be held liable in his personal and individual capacity for all damages which the corporation, its shareholders, or any other person shall have sustained in consequence of such violation. [L. '07, p. 529, § 32.]

§ 3343. Reserve Fund—Where Kept.—Every bank and trust company doing business under this act, shall have on hand at all times in available funds, not less than fifteen per cent (15%) of its total deposits; such sums may consist of balances due it from good, solvent banks located at commercial centers and at such other points as the state bank examiner may approve, and actual cash or checks on solvent banks located in the same city. [L. '15, p. 128, § 6. Cf. L. '07, p. 529, § 33.]

to the attorney general for proceedings for forfeiture, if he shall be so advised. [L. '05, p. 244, § 1.]

§ 3345. Penalty for Failure to Report.—Any cashier or secretary of any of the banking institutions mentioned in section 3344 neglecting or refusing to make the sworn statement required by said section 3344 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars or confined in the county jail not less than ten days nor more than ninety days, or both such fine and imprisonment. [L. '05, p. 245, § 2.]

CHAPTER II–A.

Mutual Savings Banks.

§ 3345–1. Authority to Organize — Incorporators — Certificate.—When authorized by the state bank examiner, as hereinafter provided by this act, not less than nine or more than thirty persons may form a corporation to be known as a "Mutual Savings Bank." Such persons must be citizens of the United States; at least four-fifths of them must be residents of this state, and at least two-thirds of them must be residents of the county where the bank is to be located and its business transacted, they shall subscribe and acknowledge an incorporation certificate in triplicate which shall specifically state

(1) The name by which the savings bank is to be known, which name shall include the words "mutual savings bank";

(2) The place where the bank is to be located, and its business transacted, naming the city or town and county;

(3) The name, occupation, residence and postoffice address of each incorporator;

(4) The sums which each incorporator will contribute in cash to the initial guaranty fund, and to the expense fund respectively, as provided in sections 3345–7 and 3345–8.

(5) A declaration that each incorporator will accept the responsibilities and faithfully discharge the duties of a trustee of the savings bank, and is free from all the disqualifications specified in section 3345–28. [L. '15, p. 549, § 1. Cf. L. '05, p. 245, § 2.]

§ 3345–2. Notice of Intention.—At the time of executing the incorporation certificate, the proposed incorporators shall sign a notice of intention to organize the mutual savings bank, which shall specify their names, the name of the proposed corporation, and its location as set forth in the incorporation certificate. The original of such notice shall be filed in the office of the state examiner within sixty days after the date of its execution, and a copy thereof shall be published at least once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper designated by the state bank examiner, the publication to be commenced within thirty days after such designation. At least fifteen days before the incorporation certificate is submitted to the examiner for examination, as provided in the section next following, a copy of such notice shall be served upon each savings bank doing business in the city or town named in the incorporation certificate, by mailing such copy (postage prepaid) to such bank. [L. 15, p. 550, § 2.]

§ 3345–3. Submission of Certificate—Proof of Notice.—After the lapse of at least twenty-eight days from the date of the first due publication of the notice of intention to incorporate, and within ten days after the date of the last publication thereof, the incorporation certificate executed in triplicate shall be submitted for examination to the state examiner at his office in Olympia, with affidavits showing due publication and service of the notice of intention to organize prescribed in section 3345–2. [L. '15, p. 550, § 3.]

§ 3345–4. Examination—Approval—Appeal—Filing Certificates.—When any such certificate shall have been filed for examination the state examiner shall thereupon ascertain from the best source of information at his command, and by such investigation as he may deem necessary, whether the character, responsibility and general fitness of the person or persons named in such certificate are such as to command confidence and warrant belief that the business of the proposed bank will be honestly and efficiently conducted in accordance with the intent and purpose of this act, and whether the public convenience and advantage will be promoted by allowing such proposed bank to be incorporated and engage in business, and whether greater convenience and access to a savings bank would be afforded by any considerable number of depositors by opening a mutual savings bank in the place designated, whether the population in the neighborhood of such place, and in the surrounding country, affords a reasonable promise of adequate support for the proposed bank, and whether the contributions to the initial guaranty fund and expense fund have been paid in cash. After the state examiner shall have satisfied himself by such investigation whether it is expedient and desirable to permit such proposed bank to be incorporated and engage in business, he shall within sixty days after the date of the filing of such certificate for examination indorse upon each of the triplicates thereof over his official signature the word "Approved" or the word "Refused," with the date of such indorsement. In case of refusal he shall forthwith return one of the triplicates so indorsed to the proposed incorporators from whom such certificate was received. From the state examiner's refusal to issue a certificate of authorization, the applicants or a majority of them, may within thirty days from the date of the filing of the certificate of refusal with the secretary of state, appeal to a board of appeal composed of the governor, the attorney general and the state examiner, by filing in the office of the state examiner a notice that they appeal to such board from his refusal. The procedure upon the appeal shall be such as the board may prescribe, and its determination shall be certified, filed and recorded in the same manner as the state examiner's, and shall be final. In case of approval, he shall forthwith give notice thereof to the proposed incorporators, and file one of the triplicate certificates in his own office, shall transmit another triplicate to the county auditor of the county in which such bank is to be located and shall transmit the third triplicate to the secretary of state. Upon receipt from the proposed incorporators of the same fees as are required for filing and recording other incorporation certificates, the county auditor and the secretary of state shall file said certificate in their respective offices, and the secretary of state shall record the same. Upon the filing of said incorporation certificate in triplicate approved as aforesaid in the offices of the state bank examiner, the secretary of state and county auditor as hereinbefore directed, the persons named therein and their successors shall thereupon become and be a corporation, which corporation shall have the powers and be subject to the duties and obligations prescribed in this act, and its corporate existence shall continue for the period of fifty years from the date of the filing of such certificates, unless sooner terminated pursuant to law, but such corporation shall not receive deposits or engage in business until authorized so to do by the state examiner as provided in the next section following. [L. '15, p. 550, § 4.]

§ 3345–5. Authorization Certificates — Issuance and Filing.—Before any mutual savings bank shall be authorized to do any business the state examiner shall be satisfied that such corporation has in good faith complied with all the requirements of law and fulfilled all the conditions precedent to commencing business imposed by this act. If satisfied that such corporation has in good faith complied with all the requirements of law, and fulfilled all the conditions precedent to commencing business imposed by this act, the state examiner shall within six months after the date upon which such proposed organization certificate was filed with him for examination, but in no case after the expiration of that period, issue under his hand and official seal in quadruplicate an authorization certificate to such corporation. Such authorization certificate shall state that the corporation therein named has complied with all the requirements of law, that it is authorized to transact at the place designated in its certificate of incorporation, the business of a mutual savings bank. One of the quadruplicate authorization certificates shall be transmitted by the state examiner to the corporation therein named, and the other three authorization certificates shall be filed by the state examiner in the same public offices where the certificate of incorporation is filed, and shall be attached to said incorporation certificate. [L. '15, p. 552, § 5.]

§ 3345–6. Reception of Deposits — Conditions Precedent.—Before such corporation shall be authorized to receive deposits or transact business other than the completion of its organization, the state examiner shall be satisfied that:

(1) The incorporators shall have made the deposit of the initial guaranty fund required by this act.

(2) That the incorporators have made the deposit of the expense fund required by section 3345–8, and if the state examiner shall so require, shall have entered into the agreement or undertaking with the state examiner, and shall have filed the same and the security therefor as prescribed in said section.

(3) That said corporation has transmitted to the state examiner the name, residence and postoffice address of each officer of the corporation.

(4) That its certificate of incorporation in triplicate has been filed in the respective public offices designated in this act. [L. '15, p. 553, § 6.]

§ 3345–7. Guaranty Fund.—Before any mutual savings bank shall be authorized to do business, its incorporators shall create a guaranty fund for the protection of its depositors against loss on its investments whether arising from depreciation in the market value of its securities or otherwise.

(1) Such guaranty fund shall consist of payments in cash made by the original incorporators and of all sums credited thereto from the earnings of the savings bank as hereinafter required.

(2) The incorporators shall deposit to the credit of such savings bank in cash as an initial guaranty fund at least five thousand dollars.

(3) Prior to the liquidation of any such savings bank such guaranty fund shall not be in any manner encroached upon, except for losses and the repayment of contributions made by incorporators or trustees as hereinafter provided, until such fund together with undivided profits exceeds twenty-five per centum of the amount due depositors.

(4) The amounts contributed to such guaranty fund by the incorporators or trustees shall not constitute a liability of the savings bank, except as hereinafter provided, and any loss sustained by the savings bank in excess of that portion of the guaranty fund created from earnings may be charged against such contributions pro rata. [L. '15, p. 553, § 7.]

§ 3345–8. Expense Fund — Security.—Before any mutual savings bank shall be authorized to do business, its incorporators shall create an expense fund from which the expense of organizing such savings bank and its operating expenses may be paid, until such time as its earnings are sufficient to pay its operating expenses in addition to such dividends as may be declared and credited to its depositors from its earnings. The incorporators shall deposit to the credit of such savings bank in cash as an expense fund the sum of five thousand dollars. They shall also enter into such an agreement or undertaking with the state examiner as trustee for the depositors with the savings bank as he may require to make such further contributions in cash to the expense fund of such savings bank as may be necessary to pay its operating expenses until such time as it can pay them from its earnings, in addition to such dividends as may be declared and credited to its depositors. Such agreement or undertaking shall fix the maximum liability assumed thereby which shall be a reasonable amount approved by the state examiner and the same shall be secured to his satisfaction, which security in his discretion may be by a surety bond executed by a domestic or foreign corporation authorized to transact within this state the business of surety. The agreement or undertaking and security shall be filed in the office of the state examiner. Such agreement or undertaking and such security need not be made or furnished unless the state examiner shall require the same. The amounts contributed to the expense fund of said savings bank by the incorporators or trustees shall not constitute a liability of such savings bank except as hereinafter provided. [L. '15, p. 554, § 8.]

§ 3345–9. Repayment of Contributions.—Contributions made by the incorporators or trustees to the expense fund may be repaid pro rata to the contributors from that portion of the guaranty fund created from earnings whenever such payments will not reduce the guaranty fund below five per centum of the total amount due depositors.

(1) In case of the liquidation of the savings bank before such contributions to the expense fund have been repaid, any contributions to the expense fund remaining unexpended after the payment of the expenses of liquidation may be repaid to the contributors pro rata.

(2) Whenever the contributions of the incorporators or trustees to the expense fund of such savings bank have been returned to them, the contributions made to the guaranty fund by incorporators or trustees may be returned to them pro rata from that portion of the guaranty fund created from the earnings of the savings bank; Provided, that such repayments will not reduce the earned portion of the guaranty fund below five per centum of the amount due depositors. In case of liquidation of the savings bank before such contributions to the guaranty fund have been repaid, any portion of such contributions not needed for the payment of the expenses of liquidation, and the payment of depositors in full, and the repayment of contributions to the expense fund, may be repaid to the contributors pro rata. [L. '15, p. 554, § 9.]

§ 3345–10. Powers of Bank.—Every mutual savings bank incorporated under this act shall have, subject to the restrictions and limitations contained in this act, the following powers:

(1) To receive deposits of money, to invest the same in the property and securities prescribed in this act, to declare dividends in the manner prescribed in this act, and to exercise by its board of trustees or duly authorized officers or agents, subject to law, all such incidental powers as shall be necessary to carry on the business of a savings bank.

(2) To issue transferable certificates showing the amounts contributed by any incorporator, or trustee, to the guaranty fund of such bank, or for the purpose of paying its expenses. Every such certificate shall show that it does not constitute a liability of such savings bank, except as otherwise provided in this act.

(3) To purchase, hold and convey real property as prescribed in section 3345–11.

(4) To pay depositors as hereinafter provided, and when requested by them, by drafts upon deposits to the credit of the savings bank in any city in the United States, and to charge current rates of exchange for such drafts.

(5) To borrow money in an emergency for the purpose of repaying depositors, and to pledge or hypothecate securities as collateral for loans so obtained, under the conditions prescribed in this act.

(6) To collect or protest promissory notes or bills of exchange owned by such bank or held by it as collateral, and remit the proceeds of the collections by drafts upon deposits to the creditor of the savings bank in any city in the United States, and to charge the usual rates or fees for such collection and remittance for such protest.

(7) To sell gold or silver received in payment of interest or principal of obligations owned by the savings bank, or from depositors in the ordinary course of business.

(8) To elect or appoint in such manner as it may determine all necessary or proper officers, agents, boards and committees, to fix their compensation, subject to the provisions of this act, and to define their powers and duties, and to remove them at will.

(9) To make and amend by-laws consistent with law for the management of its property and the conduct of its business.

(10) To wind up and liquidate its business in accordance with this act.

(11) To adopt and use a common seal and to alter the same at pleasure.

(12) To do all other acts authorized by this act. [L. '15, p. 555, § 10.]

§ 3345–11. Investment of Moneys.—A mutual savings bank may invest the moneys deposited therein, the sums credited to the guaranty fund thereof, and the income derived therefrom in the following property and securities, and no others, and subject to the following restrictions:

First—Public Funds.

(a) The bonds or interest bearing notes or obligations of the United States or those for which the faith of the United States is pledged to provide for the payment of the interest and principal, including bonds of the District of Columbia.

(b) The bonds or interest bearing obligations of this state issued pursuant to the authority of any law of this state.

(c) The bonds or interest bearing obligations of any other state of the United States upon which there is no default, and upon which there has been no default for more than ninety days: Provided, that within ten years immediately preceding the investment such state has not been in default for more than ninety days in the payment of any part of principal or interest of any debt duly authorized by the legislature of such state to be contracted by such state since January 1st, 1878.

(d) The valid bonds of any city, town, county, school district or port district in the state of Washington issued pursuant to law, and for the payment of which the faith and credit of such municipality, county or district is pledged, or valid warrants of such municipality, county or district drawing interest, and for which payment such municipality, county or district is liable.

(e) Bonds of any incorporated city situated in any other state of the United States: Provided, such city has a population as shown by the federal census next preceding the investment, of not less than forty-five thousand inhabitants, and was incorporated as a city at least twenty-five years prior to the making of the investment, and has not since January 1st, 1878, defaulted for more than ninety days in the payment of any part of principal or interest of any bond, note or other indebtedness, or effected any compromise of any kind with the holders thereof. If at any time the indebtedness of any such city, together with the indebtedness of any district (other than local improvement district) or other municipal corporation or subdivision, except a county, which is wholly or in part included within the bounds or limits of said city, less its water debt and sinking fund, shall exceed seven per centum of the valuation of such city for purposes of taxation, its bonds shall thereafter, and until such indebtedness shall be reduced to seven per centum of such valuation, cease to be an authorized investment of the moneys of mutual savings banks.

(f) Bonds of any commercial waterway district in this state: Provided, the total obligations of such district by bonds, warrants or otherwise do not exceed ten per cent of the assessed valuation of the lands and improvements within such district: And provided further, that this authorization does not extend to the thirty per cent in amount of such bond issue last callable for payment.

(g) Bonds of any local improvement district of any city or town in this state, excepting as to any given issue the twenty-five per cent thereof in amount that will be last called for payment: Provided, that before any such bonds be purchased or taken as security the property of the district shall be examined and appraised by at least two trustees who shall report in writing their findings and recommendations; and no bonds shall be taken unless such report be favorable, nor in any event if the total assessment securing such issue exceeds fifty per cent of the value of the assessed property, exclusive of improvements, at the time the improvement was ordered, according to the valuation last placed upon it for general taxation: And provided further, that no bonds shall be taken when the improvement consists of grading only. Before investing in any such bonds, the bank shall carefully inquire into the validity thereof.

Second: The Following Bonds of Railroad Corporations:

(a) The mortgaged bonds of any railroad corporation incorporated under the laws of the United States or any of the states thereof which actually owns in fee not less than five hundred miles standard gauge railway, exclusive of sidings, within the United States: Provided, that at no time within five years next preceding the date of any such investment such railroad corporation shall have failed regularly and punctually to pay the matured principal and interest of all its mortgaged indebtedness, and in addition thereto regularly and punctually to have paid in dividends to its stockholders during each of said five years, an amount at least equal to four per centum upon all its outstanding capital stock: And provided further, that during said five years the gross earnings in each year from the operations of said company, including therein the gross earnings of all railroads leased and operated, or controlled and operated by said company, and also including in said earnings the amount received directly or indirectly by said company from the sale of coal from mines owned or controlled by it, shall not have been less in amount than five times the amount necessary to pay the interest payable during that year upon its entire outstanding indebtedness, and the rentals for said year of all leased lines: And provided further, that all bonds authorized for investment by this paragraph shall be secured by a mortgage which is at the time of making such investment, or was at the date of the execution of said mortgage (one) a first mortgage upon not less than seventy-five per centum of the railway owned in fee by the company issuing such bonds, exclusive of sidings at the date of such mortgage, or (two) a refunding mortgage issued to retire all prior lien mortgage debts of such company outstanding at the time of such investment and covering at least seventy-five per centum of the railway owned in fee by such company at the date of such mortgage. But no one of the bonds so secured shall be a legal investment in case the mortgage securing the same shall authorize a total issue of bonds which, together with all outstanding prior debts of such company, after deducting therefrom in case of a refunding mortgage the bonds reserved under the provisions of such mortgage to retire prior debts at maturity, shall exceed three times the outstanding capital stock of such company at the time of making such investment. And no mortgage is to be regarded as a refunding mortgage under the provisions of this paragraph unless the bonds which it secures mature at a later date than any bond which it is given to refund, nor unless it covers a mileage at least twenty-five per centum greater than is covered by any one of the prior mortgages so to be refunded.

(b) Any railway mortgage bonds which would be a legal investment under the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subdivision, except for the fact that the railroad corporation issuing such bonds actually owns in fee less than five hundred miles of road: Provided, that during five years next preceding the date of any such investment the gross earnings in each year from the operations of said corporation, including the gross earnings of all lines leased and operated or controlled and operated by it, shall not have been less than ten million dollars.

(c) The mortgage bonds of a railroad corporation described in the foregoing paragraphs (a) or (b) or the mortgage bonds of a railroad owned by such corporation assumed or guaranteed by it by indorsement on such bonds, provided such bonds are prior to and are to be refunded by a general mortgage of such corporation, the bonds secured by which are made a legal investment under the provisions of said paragraph (a) or (b): And provided further, that said general mortgage covers all the real property upon which the mortgage securing such underlying bonds is a lien.

Bonds which have been or shall become legal investments for mutual savings banks under any of the provisions of this section shall not be rendered illegal as investments though the property upon which they are secured has been or shall be conveyed to another corporation, if the consolidated or purchasing corporation shall assume the payment of such bonds, and shall continue to pay regularly interest or dividends or both upon the securities issued against, or in exchange for or to acquire the stock of the company consolidated to an amount at least equal to four per centum per annum upon the capital stock (outstanding at the time of such consolidation or purchase) of the corporation which has issued or assumed such bonds.

Not more than twenty-five per centum of the assets of any savings bank shall be loaned or invested in railroad bonds, and not more than five per cent of the assets of any savings bank shall be invested in the bonds of any one railroad corporation. In determining the amount of the assets of any savings bank under the provisions of this subdivision its securities shall be estimated in the manner prescribed by section 3345–26.

Street railroad corporations shall not be considered railroad corporations within the meaning of this act.

Third—Loans on Personal Security.

Promissory notes payable to the order of the savings bank upon demand, secured by the pledge or assignment of any of the bonds, warrants or interest bearing obligations hereinbefore in this section mentioned, or secured by pledge or assignment of one or more real estate mortgages of the class described in subdivision fourth of this section, but no such loan shall exceed ninety per centum of the cash market value of such securities so pledged. Should any of the securities so held in pledge depreciate in value after the making of such loan, the savings bank shall require an immediate payment of such loan, or of a part thereof, or additional security therefor, so that the amount loaned thereon shall at no time exceed ninety per cent of the market value of the securities so pledged for such loan.

Fourth—Real Estate Mortgage Loans.

Investments may be made in loans secured by first mortgage on real estate subject to the following restrictions:

In all cases of loans upon real property a note or bond secured by a mortgage on the real estate upon which the loan is made, together with a complete abstract of title for such real estate signed by the person or corporation furnishing such abstract of title, (which abstract shall be examined by a competent attorney at law, selected by the bank, and his opinion furnished approving the title and showing that the mortgage is a first lien) or a policy of title insurance of a reliable title insurance company authorized to insure titles within this state shall be furnished to the savings bank by the borrower.

The real estate subject to such first mortgage must be improved to such extent that the net annual income thereof, or reasonable annual rental value thereof in the condition existing at the time of making the loan, is sufficient to pay the annual interest accruing on such loan in addition to taxes and insurance, and all accruing charges and expenses. No loan on real estate shall be for an amount greater than fifty per centum of the value of such real estate including improvements. The mortgage shall contain provisions requiring the mortgagor to maintain insurance on the buildings on the mortgaged premises to such reasonable amount as shall be stipulated in the mortgage, the policy to be payable in case of loss to the savings bank, and to be deposited with it. A loan may be made on real estate which is to be improved by a building or buildings to be constructed with the proceeds of such loan, if it is arranged that such proceeds will be used for that purpose and that when so used the property will be improved to the extent required by this section.

Not more than seventy-five per centum of the assets of any savings bank shall be invested in mortgage loans.

No mortgage loan or renewal or extension thereof shall be made except upon written application showing the date, name of applicant, amount of loan requested, and the security offered, nor except upon the written report of at least two members of the board of investment of the bank certifying on such application according to their best judgment the value of the property to be mortgaged and recommending the loan, and the application and written report thereon shall be filed and preserved with the savings bank records. Every mortgage and every assignment of a mortgage taken or held by a savings bank shall be taken and held in its own name, and shall immediately be recorded in the office of the county auditor of the county in which the mortgaged property is located.

Fifth—Real Estate as Follows:

(a) A tract of land whereon there is or may be erected a building or buildings suitable for the convenient transaction of the business of the savings bank, from portions of which not required for its own use a revenue may be derived. The investment in such tract of land to be subject to the conditions prescribed in section 3345–12.

(b) Such as shall be conveyed to such savings bank in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business.

(c) Such as it shall purchase at sales under judgments, decrees or mortgages held by it. [L. '15, p. 556, § 11.]

§ 3345–12. Bank Building—Real Estate.—The cost of the land and building or buildings for the transaction of the business of a savings bank shall in no case exceed twenty-five per centum of the guaranty fund of such savings bank, except with the approval of the state examiner; and before the purchase of such property is made, or the erection of a building or buildings is commenced, the estimate of the cost thereof and completion of the building or buildings shall be submitted to and approved by the state examiner.

All real estate purchased by any such bank, or taken by it in satisfaction of debts due it, shall be conveyed to it directly by name, and the conveyance shall be immediately recorded in the office of the proper recording officer of the county in which such real estate is located.

Every parcel of real estate purchased or acquired by any such bank shall be sold by it within five years from the date on which it shall have been acquired (the time of acquisition in the case of real estate subject to redemption being understood to be the date on which the right of redemption expires) unless

(1) There shall be a building thereon occupied by the saving bank as its offices, or

(2) The state examiner on application of the board of trustees shall have extended the time within which such sale shall be made. [L. '15, p. 563, § 12.]

§ 3345–13. Merchandising—Exchange—Borrowing—Certificates of Deposit.—(1) Such bank shall not purchase, deal or trade in any goods, wares, merchandise or commodities whatsoever except such personal property as may be necessary for the transaction of its authorized business.

(2) Such bank shall not, nor shall any officer thereof in his attendance upon the business of such bank, in any manner buy or sell exchange on other banks or bankers or buy or sell gold or silver except as in this act expressly authorized.

(3) Such banks shall not

(1) Borrow money or pledge or hypothecate any of its securities as collateral for the repayment of money borrowed except with the written approval of the state examiner, and in pursuance of a resolution adopted by a vote of a majority of its board of trustees duly entered upon their minutes whereon shall be recorded by ayes and noes the vote of each trustee, a certified copy of such minutes being filed with the state examiner;

(2) Make or issue any certificate of deposit payable either on demand or at a fixed day. [L. '15, p. 564, § 13.]

§ 3345–14. Depositaries.—No such bank shall deposit any of its funds with any other moneyed corporation unless the latter has been designated as a depositary for the saving bank's funds by vote of a majority of the trustees of the savings bank, exclusive of any trustee who is an officer, director or trustee of the depositary so designated. [L. '15, p. 564, § 14.]

§ 3345–15. Officing With Other Banks—Place of Business.—(1) A savings bank shall not do business or be located in the same room with, or in a room connecting with any other bank, trust company or national banking association.

(2) No savings bank or any officer or director thereof shall receive deposits or transact any of its usual business at any place other than its principal place of business. [L. '15, p. 564, § 15.]

§ 3345–16. Wrongful Entry of Assets—Bookkeeping.—(1) No bank shall by any system of accounting, or any device of bookkeeping, directly or indirectly, enter any of its assets upon its books in the name of any other individual, partnership, unincorporated association, or corporation, or under any title or designation that is not in accordance with the actual facts.

(2) The bonds, notes, mortgages or other interest bearing obligations purchased or acquired by a savings bank, shall not be entered on its books at more than the actual cost thereof, and shall not thereafter be carried upon its books for a longer period than until the next declaration of dividends, or in any event for more than one year, at a valuation exceeding their present cost as determined by amortization, that is, by deducting from the cost of any such security purchased for a sum in excess of the amount payable thereon at maturity and charging to "profit and loss" a sufficient sum to bring it to par at maturity, or adding to the cost of any such security purchased at less than the amount payable thereon at maturity and crediting to "profit and loss" a sufficient sum to bring it to par at maturity.

(3) No such bank shall enter, or at any time carry on its books the real estate and the building or buildings thereon used by it as its place of business at a valuation exceeding their actual cost to such bank.

(4) Every such bank shall conform its methods of keeping its books and records to such orders in respect thereof as shall have been made and promulgated by the state examiner. Any officer, agent, or employee of any savings bank who refuses or neglects to obey any such order shall be punished as hereinafter provided. [L. '15, p. 564, § 16.]

§ 3345–17. Limit on Deposits — Return. —(1) The aggregate amount of deposits to the credit of any individual at any time, including in such aggregate all deposits credited to him as trustee or beneficiary of any trust, and all deposits credited to him and another or others in either joint or several form, shall not exceed three thousand dollars, exclusive of dividends. Additional accounts may, however, be maintained in the name of parent as trustee for a dependent or minor child, and in the name of a child as trustee for a dependent parent: Provided, however, that not more than two hundred and fifty dollars shall be deposited to any such additional account during any six months' period.

(2) The aggregate amounts of deposits to the credit of any society or corporation at any time shall not exceed five thousand dollars, exclusive of dividends, unless such deposit has been made pursuant to order of a court of competent jurisdiction, and a certified copy of the order filed with the bank.

(3) Every such bank may further limit the aggregate amount which an individual, or any corporation or society, may deposit to such sum as such bank may deem expedient to receive; and may in its discretion refuse to receive a deposit, or may at any time return all or any part of any deposit. [L. '15, p. 565, § 17.]

§ 3345–18. Payment of Deposits and Dividends — Notice — Pass-books.—The sums deposited with any such bank, together with any dividends credited thereto, shall be repaid to the depositors thereof respectively, or to their legal representatives, after demand in such manner, and at such times, and under such regulations, as the board of trustees shall prescribe, subject to the provisions of this and the next following section. Such regulations shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the room where the business of such savings bank shall be transacted, and shall be printed in the pass-books or other evidence of deposit furnished by it, and shall be evidence between such bank and the depositors holding the same of the terms upon which the deposits therein acknowledged are made.

(1) Such bank may at any time by a resolution of its board of trustees require a notice of not more than six months before repaying deposits, in which event no deposit shall be due or payable until the required notice of intention to withdraw the same shall have been personally given by the depositor: Provided, that such bank at its option may pay any deposit or deposits before the expiration of such notice. But no bank shall agree with its depositors or any of them in advance to waive the requirement of notice as herein provided.

(2) Except as provided in subdivision (3) of this section the savings bank shall not pay any dividend, or deposit, or portion thereof, or any check drawn upon it by a depositor unless the pass-book of the depositor be produced, and the proper entry be made therein at the time of the payment.

(3) The board of trustees of any such bank may by its by-laws provide for making payments in cases of loss of pass-book, or other exceptional cases where the pass-books cannot be produced without loss or serious inconvenience to depositors, the right to make such payments to cease when so directed by the state examiner upon his being satisfied that such right is being improperly exercised by any such bank; but payments may be made at any time upon the judgment or order of a court.

(4) If any person shall die leaving in any such bank an account on which the balance due him shall not exceed two hundred and fifty dollars and no executor or administrator of his estate shall be appointed, such bank may in its discretion pay the balance of his acount to his widow (or if the decedent was a married woman, then to her husband), next of kin, funeral director or other creditor who may appear to be entitled thereto. As a condition of such payment such bank may require proof by affidavit as to the parties in interest, the filing of proper waivers, the execution of a bond of indemnity with surety or sureties by the person to whom the payment is to be made, and a proper receipt and acquittance for such payment. For any such payment pursuant to this section such bank shall not be liable to the decedent's executor or administrator thereafter appointed, unless the payment shall have been made within one year after the decedent's death, and an action to recover the amount shall have been commenced within one year after the date of payment. [L. '15, p. 566, § 18.]

§ 3345–19. Deposits of Minors—Joint Deposits—Payment.—(1) When any deposit shall be made by or in the name of any minor, the same shall be held for the exclusive right and benefit of such minor, and free from the control or lien of all other persons, except creditors, and shall be paid, together with dividends thereon, to the person in whose name the deposit shall have been made, and his receipt or acquaintance shall be a valid discharge.

(2) After any deposit shall be made by any person in the names of such depositor and another person and in form to be paid to either or the survivor of them, such deposit and any additions thereto made by either of such persons after the making thereof, shall become the property of such persons as joint tenants, and the same, together with all dividends thereon, shall be held for the exclusive use of such persons and may be paid to either during the lifetime of both or to the survivor after the death of one of them, and such payment and the receipt or acquittance of the one to whom such payment is made shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to such savings bank for all payments made on account of such deposit prior to the receipt by such savings bank of notice in writing not to pay such deposit in accordance with the terms thereof. The making of the deposit in such form shall, in the absence of fraud or undue influence, be conclusive evidence, in any action or proceeding to which either such savings bank or the surviving depositor is a party, of the intention of both depositors to vest title to such deposit and the additions thereto in such survivor. [L. '15, p. 567, § 19.]

§ 3345–20. Reserve Fund—Deposit of Reserves.—(1) The trustees of every such bank shall as soon as practicable invest the moneys deposited with them in the securities prescribed in section 3345–11, except as hereinafter provided. For the purpose of paying withdrawals in excess of receipts, and meeting accruing expenses, or for the purpose of awaiting a more favorable opportunity for judicious investment, any such bank may keep on hand, or on deposit in any bank or trust company in this state organized under any law of this state, or of the United States, an available fund not exceeding twenty per centum of the aggregate amount credited to its depositors, but the sum deposited by any such savings bank in any one bank or trust company shall not exceed twenty-five per centum of the paid up capital and surplus of the bank or trust company in which the deposit is made, and no more than five per centum of the aggregate amount credited to the depositors of any such savings bank shall be deposited in a bank or trust company of which a trustee of such savings bank is a director. [L. '15, p. 568, § 20.]

§ 3345–21. Guaranty Fund—Purpose.—The contributions of the incorporators or trustees of any such savings bank under the provisions of section 3345–7, and the sums credited thereto from its net earnings under the provisions of section 3345–24 shall constitute a guaranty fund for the security of its depositors, and shall be held to meet any contingency or loss in its business from depreciation of its securities or otherwise, and for no other purpose except as provided in section 3345–9, hereof, and subdivision 5 of section 3345–25. [L. '15, p. 569, § 21.]

§ 3345–22. Determination of Amount.—(1) To determine the amount of the guaranty fund of a savings bank its total liabilities due and accrued, its undivided profits and its net earnings since the last declaration of dividends shall be subtracted from its total assets. The value of its assets for the purpose of this calculation shall be stated as follows:

(a) Its interest bearing bonds, or other obligations shall not be valued above the estimated market value thereof as last determined by the state examiner.

(b) The value of its real estate shall not in any event be estimated above cost, and if such real estate has been acquired by foreclosure, judgment or decree the value of such real estate so acquired shall not be estimated above its actual cash value as determined by written appraisal signed by at least three trustees of such savings bank and filed with it.

(c) Such assets shall be excluded as have been disallowed by the state examiner or the trustees of such bank and also any debts owing to it which shall have remained due without prosecution and upon which no interest shall have been paid for more than one year, or on which a judgment has been recovered which shall have remained unsatisfied for more than two years, unless the state examiner upon application by such savings bank have fixed a valuation at which such debts may be carried as an asset, or unless such debts are secured by first mortgage upon real estate, in which latter case they may be carried at the actual cash value of such real estate as determined by written appraisal signed by at least three trustees of such savings bank and filed with it.

(2) The amount of the guaranty fund of a savings bank at the close of any dividend period may be determined by adding to the guaranty fund at the beginning of such period any appreciation in the estimated market value of its securities resulting from a revaluation thereof by the state examiner, the sums recovered on items previously charged to it and any amounts allowed by the state examiner on account of assets previously disallowed and charged to it, and deducting therefrom all losses sustained by the savings bank during such period. In the computation of losses all items shall be included which shall have been disallowed by its board of trustees or by the state examiner, together with any depreciation in the value of its securities below their estimated market value as last fixed by the state examiner, and all debts owing to it upon which no interest shall have been paid for one year or on which a judgment has been recovered which shall have remained unsatisfied for two years, unless the state examiner upon the application of the savings bank shall have fixed a value at which such debts may be allowed or unless such debts are secured by first mortgage upon real estate, in either of which events only the amounts by which such debts exceed the value allowed by the state examiner or the cash value of the real estate securing them as determined by written appraisal signed by at least three trustees of such savings bank and filed with it, need be so deducted. [L. '15, p. 569, § 22.]

§ 3345–23. Earnings—Determination.—(1) Gross Earnings. To determine the amount of gross earnings of a savings bank during any dividend period the following items may be included:

(a) All earnings actually received during such period, less interest accrued and unpaid included in the last previous calculation of earnings;

(b) Interest accrued and unpaid upon debts owing to it secured by collateral as authorized by this article, upon which there has been no default for more than one year, and upon corporate bonds, or other interest bearing obligations owned by it upon which there is no default.

(c) The sums added to the cost of securities purchased for less than par as a result of amortization.

(d) Any profits actually received during such period from the sale of securities, real estate or other property owned by it.

(2) Net Earnings. To determine the amount of its net earnings for such dividend period the following items shall be deducted from gross earnings:

(a) All expenses paid or incurred, both ordinary and extraordinary, in the transaction of its business, the collection of its debts and the management of its affairs, less expenses incurred and interest accrued upon its debts deducted at the last previous calculation of net earnings for dividend purposes;

(b) Interest paid or accrued and unpaid upon debts owing by it;

(c) The amounts deducted through amortization from the cost of bonds or other interest bearing obligations purchased above par in order to bring them to par at maturity;

(d) Any losses that may have been sustained by it in excess of its guaranty fund and undivided profits.

The balance thus obtained shall constitute the net earnings of such savings bank for such period. [L. '15, p. 570, § 23.]

§ 3345–24. Deficit in Guaranty Fund—Replacement—Dividends.—If at the close of any dividend period the guaranty fund of any savings bank be less than ten per centum of the amount due to depositors there shall be deducted from its net earnings for such period and credited to its guaranty fund not less than five per centum and not more than ten per centum of its net earnings during the calendar year next preceding, or so much of such percentages as will not compel it to reduce its dividends to depositors below the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum. The amount of net earnings remaining after such deduction for the guaranty fund and its undivided profits shall be available for the declaration of dividends for such period. While the trustees of such a savings bank are paying its expenses or any portion thereof the amounts to be credited to its guaranty fund shall be computed at the same percentage upon the total dividends credited to its depositors instead of upon its net earnings. If the guaranty fund accumulated from earnings shall equal or exceed ten per centum of the amount due to depositors, the minimum dividend shall be four per centum: Provided, that the net earnings for such period are sufficient therefor. [L. '15, p. 571, § 24.]

§ 3345–25. Dividends—Rate—Declaration—Liability.—(1) Every savings bank shall regulate the rate of dividend not to exceed six per centum per annum upon the deposits therewith, in such manner that depositors shall receive as nearly as may be all the earnings of the savings bank after transferring the amount required by section 3345–24, hereof, and such further amounts as its trustees may deem it expedient and for the security of the depositors to transfer to the guaranty fund which to the amount of ten per centum of the amount due its depositors the trustees shall gradually accumulate and hold. Such trustees may also deduct from its net earnings, and carry as undivided profits for the purpose of maintaining its rate of dividends, such additional sums as they may deem wise.

(2) Every savings bank may classify its depositors according to the character, amount or duration of their dealings with the savings bank, and may regulate the dividends in such manner that each depositor shall receive the same ratable portion of dividends as all others of his class.

(3) Unimpaired contributions to the initial guaranty fund and to the expense fund, made by the incorporators or trustees of such savings bank, shall be entitled to have dividends apportioned thereon, which may be credited and paid to such incorporators or trustees. Whenever the guaranty fund of any such savings bank is sufficiently large to permit the return of such contributions, the contributors may receive dividends thereon not theretofore credited or paid at the same rate paid to depositors.

(4) A savings bank shall not

(a) Declare, credit or pay any dividend on any deposit except as authorized by a vote of a majority of the board of trustees duly entered upon their minutes, whereon shall be recorded the ayes and nays upon each vote.

(b) Pay any dividend other than the regular quarterly or semi-annual dividend, or the extra dividend prescribed in subdivision 6 of this section.

(c) Declare, credit or pay dividends on any deposit for a longer period than the same has been deposited: Provided, however, that deposits made not later than the tenth business day of the month commencing any semi-annual dividend period or the third business day of any month, or withdrawn upon one of the last three business days of the month ending any quarterly or semi-annual dividend period, may have dividends declared upon them for the whole of the period or month when they were so deposited or withdrawn: And provided further, that, if the by-laws so provide, accounts closed between dividend periods may be credited with dividends at the rate of the last dividend, computing from the 1st dividend period to the date when closed.

(5) Whenever any dividend shall, except as provided in subdivision 6 of this section, be declared and credited in excess of profits earned and appearing to the credit of the savings bank since the last declaration of dividends, after making the deduction for expenses, for amortization and for the guaranty fund as provided in sections 3345–16, 3345–24 and 3345–25, hereof, the trustees voting for such dividend shall be jointly and severally liable to such savings bank for the amount of such excess so declared and credited.

(6) The trustees of any savings bank whose undivided profits and guaranty fund, determined in the manner prescribed in section 3345–23, hereof, amount to more than twenty-five per centum of the amount due its depositors, shall at least once in three years divide equitably the accumulation beyond such twenty-five per centum as an extra dividend to depositors in excess of the regular dividend authorized. A notice posted conspicuously in a savings bank of a change in the rate of dividends shall be equivalent to a personal notice. [L. '15, p. 572, § 25.]

§ 3345–26. Surplus, How Determined.—In determining the per centum of par value surplus held by any savings bank, its interest bearing bonds shall not be estimated above their par value or above their market value if below par. Its bonds, notes and mortgages on which there are no arrears of interest for a longer period than six months shall be estimated at their face, and its real property at not above cost. But the value of such bonds, notes and mortgages, as are in arrears of interest for six months or more, and of all other investments not herein enumerated, shall be estimated according to the valuation placed thereon by the state examiner as provided in section 3345–22 hereof. [L. '15, p. 574, § 26.]

§ 3345–27. Misleading Advertisement of Surplus or Guaranty.—No savings bank shall put forth any sign or notice or publish or circulate any advertisement or advertising literature upon which or in which it shall be stated that such savings bank has a surplus or guaranty fund in excess of its market value surplus or guaranty fund as determined under the provisions of this act, unless the nature of the same be clearly made to appear. [L. '15, p. 574, § 27.]

§ 3345–28. Trustees—Qualifications.—(1) There shall be a board of trustees who shall have the entire management and control of the affairs of the savings bank. The persons named in the certificate of authorization shall be the first trustees. The board shall consist of not less than nine members nor more than thirty members.

(2) A person shall not be a trustee of a savings bank, if he

(a) Is not a resident of this state;

(b) Has been adjudicated a bankrupt or has taken the benefit of any insolvency law, or has made a general assignment for the benefit of creditors;

(c) Has suffered a judgment recovered against him for a sum of money to remain unsatisfied of record or unsecured on appeal for a period of more than three months;

(d) Is a trustee, officer, clerk or other employee of any other savings bank.

(3) Nor shall a person be a trustee of a savings bank solely by reason of his holding public office. [L. '15, p. 574, § 28.]

§ 3345–29. Oath of Trustee—Declarations of Incumbency.—(1) Each trustee, whether named in the certificate of authorization or elected to fill a vacancy, shall, when such certificate of authorization has been issued, or when notified of such election, take an oath that he will, so far as it devolves on him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of the savings bank, and will not knowingly violate, or willingly permit to be violated any of the provisions of law applicable to such savings bank. Such oath shall be subscribed by the trustee making it and certified by the officer before whom it is taken, and shall be immediately transmitted to the state examiner and filed and preserved in his office.

(2) Prior to the first day of March in each year, every trustee of every savings bank shall subscribe a declaration to the effect that he is, at the date thereof, a trustee of the savings bank, and that he has not resigned, become ineligible, or in any other manner vacated his office as such trustee. Such declaration shall be acknowledged in like manner as a deed to be entitled to record and shall be transmitted to the state examiner and filed in his office prior to the tenth day of March in each year. [L. '15, p. 575, § 29.]

§ 3345–30. Officers.—The board of trustees shall elect from their number or otherwise, a president and two vice-presidents and such other officers as they deem fit. [L. '15, p. 575, § 30.]

§ 3345–31. Quorum—Meetings—Statements.—(1) A quorum at any regular or special or adjourned meeting of the board of trustees shall consist of not less than five of whom the president shall be one, except when he is prevented from attending by sickness or other unavoidable detention, when he may be represented in forming a quorum by the first vice-president, or in case of his absence for like cause, by the second vice-president; but less than a quorum shall have power to adjourn from time to time until the next regular meeting.

Regular meetings of the board of trustees shall be held at least once a month.

(2) The board of trustees shall by resolution duly recorded in the minutes, designate an officer or officers whose duty it shall be to prepare and submit to each trustee at each regular meeting of the board, or to an executive committee of not less than five members of such board, a written statement of all the purchases and sale of securities, and of every loan, made since the last regular meeting of the board, describing the collateral to such indebtedness as of the date of meeting at which such statement is submitted; but such officer or officers may omit from such statement loans of less than one thousand dollars, except as hereinafter provided. Such statement shall also contain a list giving the aggregate of loans to each individual partnership, unincorporated association or corporation whose liability to the savings bank has been increased one thousand dollars or more since the last regular meeting of the board, together with a description of the collateral to such indebtedness held by the savings bank at the date of the meeting at which such statement is submitted. A copy of such statement, together with a list of the trustees present at such meeting, verified by the affidavit of the officer or officers charged with the duty of preparing and submitting such statement shall be filed with the records of the savings bank within one day after such meeting, and shall be presumptive evidence of the matters therein stated. [L. '15, p. 575, § 31.]

§ 3345–32. Compensation of Trustees.—(1) A trustee of a savings bank shall not directly or indirectly receive any pay or emolument for his attendance at meetings of the board, or for any other services as trustee, except as provided in this section.

(2) Trustees acting as officers of the savings bank, whose duties require and receive their regular and faithful attendance at the institution, and the trustees appointed as a committee to examine the vouchers and assets pursuant to section 3345–38, to perform the duties required by subdivision 2, of section 3345–31, or to render other special services as members of committees provided for in the by-laws, may receive such compensation as in the opinion of a majority of the board of trustees shall be just and reasonable; but such majority shall be exclusive of any trustee to whom such compensation shall be voted.

(3) An attorney for a savings bank, although he be a trustee thereof, may receive a reasonable compensation for his professional services, including examinations and certificates of title to real property on which mortgage loans are made by the savings bank; or if the savings bank requires the borrowers to pay all expenses of searches, examinations and certificates of title, including the drawing, perfecting and recording of papers, such attorney may collect of the borrower and retain for his own use and the usual fees for such services, excepting any commissions as broker or on account of placing or accepting such mortgage loans.

(4) If an officer or attorney of a savings bank shall receive, on any loan made by the savings bank, any commission which he is not authorized by this section to retain for his own use, he shall immediately pay the same over to the savings bank. [L. '15, p. 576, § 32.]

§ 3345–33. Changing Number of Trustees.—The board of trustees of every savings bank may, by resolution incorporated in its by-laws, increase or reduce the number of trustees named in the original charter or certificate of authorization.

(1) The number may be increased to a number designated in the resolutions and not exceeding thirty: Provided, that reasons therefor are shown to the satisfaction of the state examiner and his written consent thereto is first obtained.

(2) The number may be reduced to a number designated in the resolution but not more than thirty or less than nine. The reduction shall be effected by omissions to fill vacancies occurring in the board. [L. '15, p. 577, § 33.]

§ 3345–34. Restrictions on Trustees.—(1) A trustee of a savings bank shall not

(a) Have any interest, direct or indirect, in the gains or profits of the savings bank, except to receive dividends upon the amounts contributed by him to the guaranty fund and the expense fund of the savings bank as provided in sections 3345–7 and 3345–8.

(b) Become a member of the board of directors of a bank, trust company or national banking association of which board enough other trustees of the savings bank are members to constitute with him a majority of the board of trustees.

(2) Neither a trustee nor an officer of a savings bank shall

(a) For himself or as agent or partner of another, directly or indirectly use any of the funds or deposits held by the savings bank, except to make such current and necessary payments as are authorized by the board of trustees.

(b) Receive directly or indirectly and retain for his own use any commission on or benefit from any loan made by the savings bank, or any pay or emolument for services rendered to any borrower from the savings bank in connection with such loan, except as authorized by section 3345–32.

(c) Become an indorser, surety or guarantor, or in any manner an obligor, for any loan made by the savings bank.

(d) For himself or as agent or partner of another, directly or indirectly borrow any of the funds or deposits held by the savings bank, or become the owner of real property upon which the savings bank holds a mortgage. A loan to or a purchase by a corporation in which he is a stockholder to the amount of fifteen per centum of the total outstanding stock, or in which he and other trustees of the savings bank hold stock to the amount of twenty-five per centum of the total outstanding stock, shall be deemed a loan to or a purchase by such trustee within the meaning of this section; except when the loan to or purchase by such corporation shall have occurred without his knowledge or against his protest. A deposit in a bank shall not be deemed a loan within the meaning of this section. [L. '15, p. 577, § 34.]

§ 3345–35. Removal of Trustee—Proceedings.—(1) Whenever, in the judgment of three-fourths of the trustees, the conduct and habits of a trustee of any savings bank are of such character as to be injurious to such savings bank, or he has been guilty of acts that are detrimental or hostile to the interests of such savings bank, he may be removed from office, at any regular meeting of the trustees, by the affirmative vote of three-fourths of the total number thereof: Provided, however, that a written copy of the charges made against him shall have been served upon him personally at least two weeks before such meeting, that the vote of such trustees by ayes and nays shall be entered in the record of the minutes of such meeting, and that such removal shall receive the written approval of the state examiner, which shall be attached to the minutes of such meeting and form a part of the record.

(2) The office of a trustee of a savings bank shall immediately become vacant whenever he

(a) Shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of section 3345–29, relating to his official oath and declaration;

(b) Shall become disqualified for any of the reasons specified in subdivision 2 of section 3345–28;

(c) Shall have failed to attend the regular meetings of the board of trustees, or to perform any of his duties as trustee, for a period of six successive months, unless excused by the board of [for] such failure;

(d) Shall violate any of the provisions of section 3345–34 hereof imposing restrictions upon trustees and officers, except paragraph (c) of subdivision two hereof.

(3) A trustee who has forfeited or vacated his office shall not be eligible to re-election, except when the forfeiture or vacancy occurred solely by reason of his

(a) Failure to comply with the provisions of section 3345–29, relating to his official oath and declaration; or

(b) Neglect of his official duties as prescribed in paragraph (c) of subdivision two of this section; or

(c) Disqualification through becoming a nonresident, or becoming a trustee, officer, clerk or other employee of another savings bank, or becoming a director of a bank, trust company or national banking association under the circumstances specified in paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section 3345–34, and such disqualification shall have been removed. [L. '15, p. 578, § 35.]

§ 3345–36. Filling Vacancies.—A vacancy in the board of trustees shall be filled by the board as soon as practicable, at a regular meeting thereof. [L. '15, p. 580, § 36.]

§ 3345–37. Surety Bonds of Officers and Employees.—The trustees of every savings bank shall have power to require from the officers, clerks and agents thereof such security for their fidelity and the faithful performance of their duties as the trustees shall deem necessary. Such security may be accepted from any company authorized to furnish fidelity bonds and doing business under the laws of this state, and the premiums therefor may be paid as a necessary expense of said savings bank. [L. '15, p. 580, § 37.]

§ 3345–38. Semi-annual Examination of Books and Assets.—The trustees of every savings bank, by a committee of not less than three of their number, on or before the first days of January and July in each year, shall thoroughly examine the books, vouchers and assets of such savings bank, and its affairs generally. The statement or schedule of assets and liabilities reported to the state examiner for the first of January and July in each year, as provided in the section next following, shall be based upon such examinations, and shall be verified by the oath of a majority of the trustees making it; and the trustees of any savings bank may require such examination at such other times as they shall prescribe. The trustees shall, as often as once in each six months during each year, cause to be taken an accurate balance of their depositors' ledgers, and in their semi-annual report to the state examiner they shall state the fact that such balance has been taken, and the discrepancies, if any, existing between the amount due depositors, as shown by such balance, and the amount so due as shown by the general ledger. [L. '15, p. 580, § 38.]

§ 3345–39. Reports to Bank Examiner.—(1) Semi-annual report. On or before the first day of February and the first day of August in each year every savings bank shall make written report to the state examiner which report shall be in the form prescribed by the state examiner and shall contain a statement of its condition on the morning of the first day of January and of the first day of July in the said year, respectively.

(2) Contents of report. Every such report shall state the amount loaned upon note or bond and mortgage, and a list of all notes, bonds and mortgages upon which money has been loaned that have not been previously reported, which list shall show the location of the mortgaged premises. It shall contain a list of all notes, bonds and mortgages previously reported that since have been paid wholly or in part or have been foreclosed and the amounts of such payments and the proceeds of such foreclosures. It shall state the original cost, date of purchase, date of maturity, stated rate of interest, the present cost after amortization, par value, and estimated market value, of all bond or warrant investments, designating each particular kind of bond or warrant; the amounts loaned upon promissory notes, upon the pledge of the different classes of securities authorized by this act, with a statement of the amount of the securities held as collateral for such loans; the amount invested in real estate, giving the cost of the same, and, in the case of real estate purchased at judicial sale or taken in satisfaction of debts due the savings bank, the actual cash value thereof as appraised by its trustees; the amount of cash on hand, and on deposit in banks or trust companies, and the amount deposited in each.

The present cost of bond investments shall be determined by amortization as provided in section 3345–16 hereof. The estimated market value of the bond investments shall be determined according to current values, subject to correction by the state examiner.

Such report shall state all the liabilities of the savings bank, the amount due to depositors, which shall include any dividend to be credited to them for the six months ending on the day as to which such report is made, and all other debts and claims against the savings bank,which are or may be a charge upon its assets.

Such report shall state the amount deposited and the amount withdrawn during the twelve months immediately preceding; the whole amount of profits or interest received or earned and the whole amount of dividends credited to depositors, together with the amount of each dividend and the rate at which it was declared, the number of accounts opened or reopened, the number closed during the preceding six months, the number of open accounts at the end of the period for which said report is made, and such other information as may be required by the state examiner.

(3) Verification. Every such report shall be verified by the oaths of the two principal officers in charge of the affairs of the savings bank at the time of such verification, which shall state that the report is true and correct in all respects to the best of the knowledge and belief of the persons verifying it, and that the usual business of the savings bank has been transacted at the location required by this act and not elsewhere.

(4) Special reports. Every savings bank shall also make such other special reports to the state examiner as he may from time to time require, which shall be in such form and filed at such date as may be prescribed by the state examiner and shall, if required by him, be verified in such manner as he may prescribe.

(5) Penalty. If any such savings bank shall fail to make any report mentioned by this section, on or before the day designated for the making thereof, or shall fail to include therein any matter required by the state examiner to be stated, such savings bank shall forfeit to the state the sum of one hundred dollars for every day that such report shall be delayed or withheld, and for every day that it shall fail to report any such omitted matter, unless the time therefor shall have been extended by the state examiner, which extension he may grant, by a written order only, for not exceeding twenty days. [L. '15, p. 580, § 39.]

§ 3345–40. Official Communications from Bank Examiner.—Each official communication directed by the state examiner or one of his deputies to such savings bank or to any officer thereof, relating to an investigation or examination conducted by the banking department or containing suggestions or recommendations as to the conduct of the business of the savings bank, shall be submitted by the officer receiving it to the board of trustees at the next meeting of such board, and duly noted in the minutes of the meetings of such board. [L. '15, p. 582, § 40.]

§ 3345–41. Forfeiture for Delay in Organization — Extension. — Every corporation authorized by this act which shall not organize and commence business within one year after the certificate of authorization has been issued, shall forfeit its rights and privileges as a corporation, which fact the state examiner shall certify to the county auditor in whose office the certificate was filed, and to the secretary of state, and the certificate of forfeiture shall be filed in the office of the county auditor and filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state in the same manner as the certificate of authorization: Provided, that the state examiner may for satisfactory cause to him shown by an order under his hand and official seal extend for not more than one year the time within which such organization may be effected, and business commenced, such order to be transmitted to the offices of such county auditor and the secretary of state and filed and recorded therein. [L. '15, p. 583, § 41.]

§ 3345–42. Excess Deposits—Notice.—The secretary of every such bank shall at least once each year send notice by mail to each depositor who has to his credit a sum in excess of the maximum deposit permitted by section 3345–17, stating the amount of such excess, and notifying the depositor that such excess will not participate in dividends, and requiring him to reduce the amount of such deposit, so that the same shall not exceed the maximum. [L. '15, p. 583, § 42.]

§ 3345–43. Calling Deposit-books.—Within two years after organization, and each third year thereafter, every such bank shall call in the books of deposit for verification under rules to be prescribed in its by-laws. [L. '15, p. 583, § 43.]

§ 3345–44. Expenditure for Management and Operation.—No such bank shall in the course of any fiscal year (which fiscal year shall be deemed to expire on the last day of December in each year) pay or become liable to pay either directly or indirectly for expenses of management and operation more than two and one-half per centum of its average assets during such year. [L. '15, p. 583, § 44.]

§ 3345–45. Dissolution and Liquidation.—If the trustees of any solvent mutual savings bank shall deem it necessary or expedient to close the business of such bank, they may, by affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of the whole number of trustees, at a meeting called for that purpose, of which one month's notice has been given, either personally or by mailing such notice to the postoffice address of each trustee, declare by resolution their determination to close such business and pay the moneys due depositors and creditors and to surrender the corporate franchise. Subject to the approval and under the direction of the state examiner, such savings bank may adopt any lawful plan for closing up its affairs, as nearly as may be in accordance with the original plan and objects. [L. '15, p. 584, § 45.]

§ 3345–46. Unpaid Depositors and Creditors—Transfer of Balances—Dissolution.—When the trustees, acting under the provisions of the preceding section, shall have paid the sums due respectively to all creditors and depositors, who, after such notice as the state examiner shall prescribe, claim the money due and their deposits, the trustees shall make a transcript or statement from the books in the bank of the names of all depositors and creditors who have not claimed or have not received the balance of the credit due them, and of the sums due them, respectively, and shall file such transcript with the state examiner and pay over and transfer all such unclaimed and unpaid deposits, credits and moneys to the state examiner. The trustees shall then report their proceedings duly verified, to the superior court of the county wherein the bank is located, and upon such report and the petition of the trustees, and after notice to the attorney general and the state examiner, and such other notice as the court may deem necessary, the court shall adjudge the franchise surrendered and the existence of the corporation terminated, certified copies of which judgment shall be filed in the offices of the secretary of state, state examiner and auditor of the county wherein the bank is located where the same shall be filed, and in the office of the secretary of state recorded.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent the superior court from appointing a receiver of any such corporation for any cause authorizing the appointment of such receiver under the laws of the state. [L.'15, p. 584, § 46.]

§ 3345–47. Certified Copies as Evidence.—Copies from the records, books and accounts of a mutual savings bank shall be competent evidence in all cases, equal with originals thereof, if there is annexed to such copies an affidavit taken before a notary public or clerk of a court under seal, stating that the affiant is the officer of the bank having charge of the original records, and that the copy is true and correct and is full so far as the same relates to the subject matter therein mentioned. [L. '15, p. 585, § 47.]

§ 3345–48. Changing Place of Business—Approval.—Any savings bank may make a written application to the state examiner for leave to change its place of business to another place in the same county. The application shall state the reasons for such proposed change, and shall be signed and acknowledged by a majority of its board of trustees. If the proposed place of business is within the limits of the town or city in which the present place of business of the savings bank is located, such change may be made upon the written approval of the examiner; if beyond such limits, notice of intention to make such application, signed by two principal officers of the savings bank, shall be published once a week for two successive weeks immediately preceding such application in a daily newspaper published in the city of Olympia and shall be published in like manner in a newspaper to be designated by the state examiner, published in the county in which the present place of business of such savings bank is located. If the state examiner shall grant his certificate authorizing the change of location, which in his discretion he may do, the savings bank shall cause such certificate to be published once in each week for two successive weeks in the newspapers in which the notice of application was published. When the requirements of this section shall have been fully complied with, the savings bank may, upon or after the day specified in the certificate, remove its property and effects to the location designated therein, and thereafter its principal place of business shall be the location so specified; and it shall have all the rights and powers in such new location which it possessed at its former location. [L. '15, p. 585, § 48.]

§ 3345–49. Definitions.—The use of the term "savings bank" in this act refers to mutual savings banks only.

The use of the words "mutual savings" as part of a name under which business of any kind is or may be transacted by any person, firm or corporation, except such as are organized and in actual operation at the time of the passage of this act, or may be hereafter organized and operated under the requirements of this act, is hereby prohibited. [L. '15, p. 586, § 49.]

§ 3345–50. Schedule of Existing Laws Applicable.—The provisions of sections 2640, 2641, 2642, 2810, 2811, 3300, 3301, 3303, 3304, 3305, 3306, 3314, 3331, 3339, and 3340 of Remington & Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington, shall apply to the corporations authorized under this act. [L. '15, p. 586, § 50.]

Sections "2810, 2811," of Rem. & Bal. Code, relating to larceny of bank deposits, were repealed by § 2304, supra.

§ 3345-51. Penalty.—Any person who shall do anything forbidden by this act for which a penalty is not provided in this act, or in some other law of the state, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor and be punished accordingly. [L. '15, p. 586, § 51.]

§ 3345-52. Scope of Act Cumulative.—This act shall not be construed as amending or repealing any other law of the state authorizing the incorporation of banks or regulating the same, but shall be deemed to be additional legislation for the sole purpose of authorizing the incorporation and operation of mutual savings banks as herein prescribed. Savings banks incorporated on the stock plan and other stock banks having savings departments as authorized by sections 3336 and 3337 of Remington & Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington, or by any other law of the state heretofore or hereafter enacted, shall not be in any manner affected by the provisions of this act, or any amendment thereto. [L. '15, p. 586, § 52.]

CHAPTER III.

Trust Companies, Incorporation, Powers and Duties.

§ 3346. Formation—Name—Capital, Subscription and Payment of —Shares.—Seven or more persons of full age may become a trust company on the terms and conditions and subject to the liabilities prescribed in this act; the name of every company formed under this act shall contain the word "trust," but shall not be that of any other existing corporation of this state; the capital stock of such trust company hereafter organized shall not be less than one hundred thousand dollars: Provided, that in cities having less than twenty-five thousand inhabitants such companies may be organized with fifty thousand dollars capital, and shall be divided into shares of one hundred dollars each, all of which shall be paid in cash before any trust company shall be authorized to transact any business, and such payment shall be certified to the bank examiner under oath by the president and treasurer or secretary of the trust company; hereafter no corporation shall be organized for the purpose of carrying on a trust company business in the state of Washington except under this act, and no company hereafter organized under any other act shall use the word "trust" as a part of its name: Provided, that national banks, having a paid-up capital of fifty thousand dollars or more when authorized or permitted so to do by or under any act of the congress of the United States, may exercise any of the powers conferred upon trust companies organized under this act: And provided further, that any state bank organized under the laws of the state of Washington, having a paid up capital of fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars or more may exercise any of the powers conferred upon trust companies organized under this act by first obtaining permission from the state bank examiner: And provided further, that this act and chapter shall not apply to any foreign corporation engaged in the business of loaning money on mortgage security which does not accept deposits or receive from citizens of the state of Washington property or money in trust or on deposit or for investment. In case any foreign corporation whose name contains the word "trust," or whose articles of incorporation empower it to do a trust business, desires to engage in business of loaning money on mortgage security in this state, it shall file, in addition to its articles of incorporation or association, a resolution of its governing board, duly attested by its president and secretary, expressly stating that it will not receive deposits in the state of Washington or accept from citizens and residents of the state of Washington property and money, or either, in trust for investment. [L. '15, p. 131, § 1; L. '11, p. 499, § 1; L. '03, p. 367, § 1.]

§ 3347. Certificate of Organization—What to Show.—Such persons shall under their hands and seals execute and acknowledge an organization certificate in triplicate, which shall specifically state:

(1) The name by which the corporation shall be known.

(2) The place where its business is to be transacted.

(3) The amount of its capital stock, and the number of shares into which the same is to be divided.

(4) The name, residence and postoffice address of each member of the corporation.

(5) The term of its existence, not exceeding fifty years. [L. '03, p. 368, § 2.]

§ 3348. Same, Filing of — License. — The certificate of incorporation shall be acknowledged as required for deeds of real estate, and shall be recorded in a book kept for that purpose in the office of the county auditor where the principal place of business of such trust company in this state is to be established, and with the secretary of state: Provided, however, that before the corporation shall be authorized to transact business in this state other than such as relates to its formation and organization, the bank examiner shall examine or cause to be examined, in order to ascertain whether the requisite capital of such corporation has been fully paid in cash, and if it appears from such examination that such capital stock has not been fully paid in cash, a certificate of authorization shall not be granted and no such corporation shall commence business until such certificate of authorization has been granted; but when it shall appear to the bank examiner that the entire capital stock has been paid in, and that such trust company is lawfully entitled to commence business he shall give to such company a certificate under his hand and seal that such company is duly and legally organized under this act as a trust company, and authorized to transact business as such trust company in this state; the trust company shall cause such certificate of authority of the bank examiner, issued in pursuance of this chapter, to be published once a week for at least four successive weeks next after the issuance thereof, in a newspaper of general circulation in the place where said trust company is established, and shall file proof of such publication with the bank examiner. [L. '03, p. 368, § 3.]

Quaere: Whether the articles are to be filed with the secretary of state or the bank examiner?

"Secretary of state" in this section, changed to "bank examiner," except in the first instance, upon the authority of § 3311, supra.

§ 3349. Corporate Powers.—As soon as the certificate of authority is issued by the bank examiner as provided in the preceding section, the persons named in the articles of incorporation and their successors shall thereupon and thereby become a corporation and shall have power:

(1) To act as the fiscal or transfer agent of any state, municipality, body politic or corporation, and in such capacity to receive and disburse money.

(2) To transfer, register and countersign certificates of stock, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness, and to act as agent of any corporation, foreign or domestic, for any purpose now or hereafter required by statute or otherwise.

(3) To receive deposits of trust moneys, securities and other personal property from any person or corporation, and to loan money on real or personal securities, and to discount and negotiate promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange and other evidences of debt; and to buy, sell and exchange coin and bullion.

(4) To lease, hold, purchase and convey any and all real property necessary for and convenient in the transaction of its business, or which the purposes of the corporation may require, or which it shall acquire in satisfaction or partial satisfaction of debts due the corporation under sales, judgments or mortgages, or in settlement or partial settlement of debts due the corporation from any of its debtors.

(5) To act as trustee under any mortgage or bond issued by any municipality, body politic or corporation, and to accept and execute any other municipality or corporate trust not inconsistent with the laws of this state.

(6) To accept trusts from, and execute trusts for, married women, in respect to their separate property, and to be their agent in the management of such property, or to transact any business in relation thereto.

(7) To act under the order, or appointment of any court of record as guardian, receiver or trustee of the estate of any minor, and as depository of any moneys paid into court, whether for the benefit of such minor or other person, corporation or party.

(8) To take, accept and execute any and all such legal trusts, duties, and powers in regard to the holding, management and disposition of any estate, real or personal, and the rents and profits thereof. or the sale thereof, as may be granted or confided to it by any court of record, or by any person, corporation, municipal or other authority, and it shall be accountable to [all] parties in interest for the faithful discharge of every such trust, duty or power which it may so accept.

(9) To take, accept and execute any and all such trusts and powers of whatever nature or description as may be conferred upon or intrusted or committed to it by any person or persons or by any body politic, corporation or other authority, by grant, assignment, transfer, devise, bequest or otherwise, or which may be intrusted or committed or transferred to it or vested in it by order of any court of record, and to receive, take and hold any property or estate, real or personal, which may be the subject of any such trust.

(10) To purchase, invest in and sell stocks, promissory notes, bills of exchange, bonds, debentures and mortgages, and other securities; and when moneys are borrowed or received on deposit, or for investment, the bonds or obligations of the company may be given therefor, but it shall have no right to issue bills to circulate as money.

(11) To be appointed and accept the appointment of assignee or trustee, under any assignment for the benefit of creditors of any debtor, made pursuant to any statute or otherwise.

(12) To act under the order or appointment of any court of record or otherwise as receiver or trustee of the estate or property of any person, firm, association or corporation.

(13) To be appointed and to accept the appointment of executor of, or trustee under, the last will and testament, or administrator with or without the will annexed, of the estate of any deceased person, and to be appointed and to act as guardian of the estates of lunatics, idiots, persons of unsound mind and habitual drunkards: Provided, however, the power hereby granted to trust companies to act as guardian or administrator, with or without the will annexed, shall not be construed to deprive parties of the prior right to have issued to them letters of guardianship, or of administration, as such right now exists under the law of this state; and, be it further provided, that no trust company or other corporation, organized under this chapter which advertises that it will furnish legal advice, construct and prepare wills or do other legal work for its customers shall be permitted to act in the capacity as executor, trustee, assignee, or otherwise serve in any fiduciary capacity; and such trust company or other corporation whose officers or agents shall solicit legal business for and on behalf of such trust company or corporation shall be disqualified from acting as trustee, assignee or from serving in any fiduciary capacity and shall be ineligible for appointment as such in any of the courts of this state.

(14) To exercise the powers conferred on and to carry on the business of a safe deposit company.

(15) To collect coupons on, or interest upon, all manner of securities when authorized so to do by the parties depositing the same.

(16) To receive and manage any sinking fund of any corporation, upon such terms as may be agreed upon between such corporation and those dealing with it.

(17) Generally to execute trusts of every description not inconsistent with the laws of this state or of the United States.

(18) To receive money on deposit to be subject to check or to be repaid in such manner and on such terms, and with or without interest, as may be agreed upon by the depositor and the said trust company.

(19) To make and certify abstracts of title to real property and to insure any person or corporation claiming to own or to have any interest in any real property or encumbrance thereon by mortgage, lease, lien, contract or otherwise against loss by reason of liens, encumbrances or imperfections of title, or any adverse claim of title: Provided, however, that no company organized under this chapter shall be subject to any other insurance law of the state of Washington: Provided, further, that no trust company engaged in the business of banking shall be permitted to do any of the acts mentioned in this subdivision. [L. '13, p. 640, § 1. Cf. L. '03, p. 369, § 4; L. '07, p. 234, § 1.]

§ 3350. Management—Directors.—The affairs of every such corporation shall be managed and its corporate powers exercised by a board of directors of such number, not less than seven nor more than thirty, as from time to time may be prescribed in its by-laws. No person can be a director who is not the holder of at least ten shares of the capital stock of the corporation. The persons named in the articles of incorporation shall constitute the first board of directors, and may add to their number not exceeding the limit of thirty, and shall severally continue until others are elected to fill their respective places. Within six months from the time when such corporation shall commence business, the first board of directors shall classify themselves by lot into three equal classes, as nearly as may be. The term of office of the first class shall expire on the third Wednesday of January next following such classification; the term of office of the second class shall expire one year thereafter; and the term of office of the third class shall expire two years thereafter. At or before the expiration of the term of the first class, and annually thereafter, a number of directors shall be elected equal to the number of directors whose term will then expire, who shall hold office for three years, or until their successors are elected and qualified. Such elections shall be held at the office of the corporation and at such time and upon such public notice, not less than ten days, by advertisement in at least one newspaper as shall be prescribed in the by-laws. In case of failure to elect any director on the day named, the directors whose term of office does not that year expire may proceed to elect a number of directors equal to the number in the class whose term that year expires, or such number as may have failed of re-election. The persons so elected, together with the directors, whose term of office shall not that year expire, shall constitute the board of directors until another election shall be held according to law. Vacancies occurring in the intervals of election shall be filled by the board. Each director when appointed or elected shall take an oath that he will, so far as the duty devolves upon him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of such corporation, and will not knowingly violate, or willingly permit to be violated, any of the provisions of law applicable to such corporation, and that he is the owner in good faith and in his own right of the number of shares of stock required by this section, subscribed by him or standing in his name on the books of the corporation, and that the same is fully paid, is not hypothecated or in any way pledged as security for any loan or debt. Such oath shall be subscribed by the director making it, and certified by the officer before whom it is taken and shall be immediately transmitted to the bank examiner, and filed and preserved in his office. [L. '03, p. 371, § 5.]

§ 3351. Not to Make Loans to Its Officers—Felony.—No trust company now in existence or hereafter organized shall make any loan to any officer, stockholder or employee from its trust funds and such trust company shall not permit any officer, stockholder or employee to become indebted to it in any way out of its trust funds; any president, vice-president, director, secretary, treasurer, cashier, teller, clerk or agent of any such corporation who knowingly violates this section, or who aids or abets any officer, clerk or agent in any such violation, shall be guilty of a felony and punished accordingly. [L. '03, p. 372, § 6.]

§ 3352. Reports to Bank Examiner.—Every such company shall make to the bank examiner not less than two reports during each year, according to the forms which may be prescribed by him, verified by the oaths or affirmations of the president or vice-president and treasurer or secretary of such corporation, and attested by the signatures of at least three directors; every such report shall exhibit in detail and under appropriate heads the resources and liabilities of the corporation at the close of business at any day past specified by the examiner, and shall be transmitted to him within twenty days after the receipt of a request or requisition therefor by him, and an abstract or summary of every such report in such form as shall be prescribed by the examiner shall be published by the trust company once in a newspaper published in the place where such trust company is established, and such proof of publication shall be furnished as may be required by the examiner; such publication shall be made within two weeks after the filing of such report, the expense thereof to be borne by such trust company; the examiner shall also have the power to call for special reports from any trust company whenever in his judgment the same are necessary to a full and complete knowledge of its condition; every trust company which fails to make and transmit any report required under this section shall be subject to a penalty of one hundred dollars for each day after the period herein specified that it delays to make and transmit its report, to be sued for and collected by the examiner in the name and for the benefit of the state. [L. '03, p. 372, § 7.]

"Bank examiner," see note to § 3346, supra.

§ 3353. False Entries, etc., a Misdemeanor.—Every director, officer, agent or clerk of any trust company who willfully and knowingly subscribes or makes any false statement of facts, or false entries in the books of such trust company, or knowingly subscribes or exhibits any false paper, with intent to deceive any person authorized to examine as to the condition of such trust company, or willfully or knowingly subscribes to or makes any false reports, shall be deemed guilty of a gross misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the state penitentiary not less than one year nor more than ten years. [L. '15, p. 118, § 1. Cf. L. '03, p. 373, § 8.]

§ 3354. Dealing in Own Stock Prohibited.—No trust company shall make any loan on the security of the shares of its own capital stock, nor be the purchaser or holder of any such shares unless such security or purchase shall be necessary to prevent loss upon a debt previously contracted in good faith; and stock so purchased or acquired shall within one year from the time of its purchase be sold or disposed of at public or private sale: Provided, that nothing in this section contained shall apply to any loan made before the passage of this act. [L. '03, p. 373, § 9.]

§ 3355. Withdrawal, etc., of Deposits for Minors.—When any deposit shall be made by or in the name of any minor, the same shall be held for the exclusive right and benefit of such depositor, and free from the control and lien of all other persons, except creditors of such minor, and shall be paid, together with the dividends and interest thereon, to the person in whose name the deposit shall have been made, and the receipt of acquittance of such minor shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge for such deposit, or any part thereof, to the trust company. [L. '03, p. 374, § 10.]

§ 3356. Trust Companies to be Under Supervision of Bank Examiner.—Every trust company shall be subject to the inspection and supervision of the examiner, and it shall be the duty of said examiner, either personally or by some person or persons to be appointed by him, whenever he shall deem it expedient, or at the request of any such trust company, to examine any such trust company, and it shall be the duty of the officers and employees of such trust company to exhibit its books, securities, records and accounts to the person or persons authorized by said examiner to conduct the examination, and otherwise to facilitate the same so far as it may be in their power; the said examiner, or any examiner appointed by him, shall have power to examine under oath or affirmation the directors, officers and employees of any such trust company relative to its business and affairs, and for that purpose any such examiner shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations. [L. '03, p. 374, § 11.]

"Bank examiner," see note to § 3346, supra.

§ 3359. Oath of Officers as Executors, etc.—In all cases where any corporation in this state authorized by its charter to act as trustees, executors, administrators or guardians, shall be appointed executor, administrator or trustee of any estate or guardian of any infant, it shall and may be lawful for the president, cashier, or treasurer of such corporation to take and subscribe for such corporation any and all oaths or affirmations required to be taken or subscribed by such executor, administrator, trustee or guardian. [L. '03, p. 375, § 14.]

§ 3360. Individual Liability of Stockholders.—If default shall be made in the payment of any debt or liability contracted by such corporation, the stockholders thereof shall be individually responsible, equally and ratably, for the then existing debts of the corporation, but no stockholder shall be liable for the debts of the corporation to an amount exceeding the par value of the respective shares of stock by him held in such corporation at the time of such default. [L. '03, p. 375, § 15.]

§ 3361. Change of Name, Amendments, etc., How Made.—Every trust company hereafter organized under this chapter may extend its corporate existence, change its name, increase its capital stock, make such other and further amendment, change or alteration as may be desired, or amend its charter or certificate of incorporation in manner following: The board of directors shall pass a resolution declaring that such amendment, change or alteration is advisable and calling a meeting of the stockholders to take action thereon; the meeting shall be held upon such notice as the by-laws provide, and in the absence of such provisions, upon ten days' notice in writing, given personally, or by mail; if two-thirds in interest of the stockholders shall vote in favor of such amendment, change or alteration, a certificate thereof shall be signed by the president and secretary under the corporate seal, acknowledged or proved as in the case of deeds of real estate, and such certificate, together with the written assent, in person or by proxy, of two-thirds in interest of such stockholders, shall be filed in the department of the secretary of state, and upon the filing of the same, the charter or certificate of incorporation shall be, and be deemed to be amended accordingly: Provided, that the certificate to be made and filed in pursuance to this section shall contain only such provisions as it would be lawful and proper to insert in an original certificate of incorporation made at the time of making such amendment, change or alteration; no change shall be made in the charter or certificate of incorporation of such trust company whereby the rights, remedies or security of existing creditors shall be in any manner impaired; said certificate or a copy thereof, duly certified by the secretary of state, shall be evidence in all courts and places. [L. '03, p. 376, § 16.]

Quaere: Whether the articles of amendment are to be filed with the secretary of state or the bank examiner?

See note to § 3348.

§ 3362. Fees.—The secretary of state [bank examiner] shall require in advance the following fees:

For filing articles of incorporation or certified copies of articles, or other certificates required to be filed in his office. . $10.00

Issuing certificates of authority..... 10.00

For each renewal certificate of authority..... 10.00
For filing each semi-annual statement of condition..... 10.00
For making any examination required by this chapter..... 25.00

For furnishing copies of papers filed in his office, 20 cents per folio: Provided, that all fees so collected shall be paid to the state treasurer. [L. '03, p. 376, § 17.]

See note to § 3348.

CHAPTER IV.

General Provisions.

§ 3363. Liability of Banks on Forged Checks.—No bank or trust company shall be liable to a depositor for the payment by said bank or trust company of a forged or raised check, unless within sixty days after the return to the depositor of the voucher of such payment, such depositor shall notify the bank or trust company that the check so paid was raised or forged. [L. '07, p. 31, § 1.]

§ 3364. Withdrawal of Joint Deposits.—When a deposit has been made, or shall hereafter be made in any bank or trust company transacting business in this state in the name of two or more persons, payable to any of such persons, such deposit or any part thereof, or interest, or dividend thereon, may be paid to any of said persons, whether the others be living or not, and the receipt or acquittance of the person so paid shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to such bank or trust company for any payment so made. [L. '13, p. 6, § 1. Cf. L. '07, p. 141, § 1.]

§ 3365. Foreign Banks may Make Loans—Not to Receive Deposits.—Any foreign bank or foreign banker may keep an office for the purpose of loaning money and buying and selling exchange, coin or bullion, at any place or places within this state, but shall not in any manner, directly or indirectly, receive deposits: Provided, however, that nothing in this section contained shall prevent any existing branch of any foreign bank which was engaged in doing a banking business at any place or places within this state on the first day of January, 1905, or its successors or assigns becoming such prior to the date upon which this act takes effect, from receiving deposits and transacting a general banking business. [L. '05, p. 55, § 1.]

"Act" refers to this and the next three sections.

§ 3366. Capital Required—Misrepresentation of Capital, etc.—Every foreign bank or foreign banker heretofore having established, or hereafter establishing an office in this state, shall have, and at all times maintain, at every such office, a capital not less in amount than that required by the national bank act for the organization of a national bank at the time when, and place where, such office was or shall be opened, and the payment of taxes on such amount shall be prima facie evidence of the payment and existence of such capital; and no such foreign bank or foreign banker shall set forth on the stationery of such bank or banker or in any manner advertise a greater capital, surplus and undivided profits than are actually maintained at any such bank within this state. [L. '05, p. 55, § 2.]

§ 3367. Penalty.—Every foreign bank or foreign banker, and every officer, agent or employee thereof, violating any of the provisions of this act, shall for each violation forfeit and pay to the state of Washington the sum of one thousand dollars. Said forfeiture may be recovered in an action by the attorney general in the name of the state of Washington in the superior court of the county where such bank or branch bank should be located. [L. '05, p. 55, § 3.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3365–3368.

§ 3368. "Foreign Bank" and "Foreign Banker" Defined.—In construing this act the terms "foreign bank" and "foreign banker" shall be deemed to include: 1. Every corporation not organized under the laws of the territory or state of Washington doing a banking business, except a national bank. 2. Every unincorporated company, partnership or association of two or more individuals organized under or pursuant to the laws of another state or country doing a banking business authorized by this act. 3. Every other unincorporated company, partnership or association of two or more individuals doing a banking business authorized by this act, if the members thereof, owning a majority interest therein, or entitled to more than one-half the profits thereof, or who would, if it were dissolved, be entitled to more than one-half the net assets thereof, are not residents of this state. 4. Every nonresident of this state doing a banking business authorized by this act in his own name and right only. [L. '05, p. 56, § 4.]

CHAPTER I.

Bills of Lading and Receipts by Warehousemen.

Public terminal warehouses and receipts by: See infra, § 9503–1.

§ 3369–1. Persons Who may Issue Receipts.—Warehouse receipts may be issued by any warehouseman, and must be issued in manner and form as provided by this act. [L. '13, p. 279, § 1.]

"This act," refers to this chapter.
See infra, § 9503–6, duty to deliver receipts.

§ 3369–2. Form of Receipts—Essential Terms.—Warehouse receipts need not be in any particular form, but every such receipt must embody within its written or printed terms:

(a) The location of the warehouse where the goods are stored.

(b) The date of issue of the receipt.

(c) The constructive number of the receipt.

(d) A statement whether the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, to a specified person or to a specified person or his order.

(e) The rate of storage charges.

(f) A description of the goods or of the packages containing them. If the same be issued for wheat it shall specifically state the variety of wheat by name.

(g) The signature of the warehouseman, which may be made by his authorized agent.

(h) If the receipt is issued for goods of which the warehouseman is owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, the fact of such ownership; and

(i) A statement of the amount of advances made and of liabilities incurred for which the warehouseman claims a lien. If the precise amount of such advances made or of such liabilities incurred is, at the time of the issue of the receipt unknown to the warehouseman or to his agent who issues it, a statement of the fact that advances have been made, or liabilities incurred and the purpose thereof is sufficient.

A warehouseman shall be liable to any person injured thereby, for all damages caused by the omission from a negotiable receipt of any of the terms herein required. [L. '13, p. 279, § 2.]

See infra, § 9503–6, form of class A warehouse receipts.

§ 3369–3. Form of Receipt—What Terms may be Inserted.—A warehouseman may insert in a receipt, issued by him, any other terms and conditions: Provided, that such terms, and conditions shall not:

(a) Be contrary to the provisions of this act.

(b) In any wise impair his obligation to exercise that degree of care in the safekeeping of the goods intrusted to him which a reasonably careful man would exercise in regard to similar goods of his own; and any provisions so inserted contrary to the provisions of this act, shall, so far as they conflict with the provisions thereof be void. [L. '13, p. 280, § 3.]

§ 3369–4. Definition of a Non-negotiable Receipt.—A receipt in which it is stated that the goods received will be delivered to the depositor, or to any other specified person, is a non-negotiable receipt. [L. '13, p. 280, § 4.]

§ 3369–5. Definition of a Negotiable Receipt.—A receipt in which it is stated that the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, or to the order of any person named in such receipt is a negotiable receipt.

No provision shall be inserted in a negotiable receipt that it is non-negotiable. Such provision, if inserted, shall be void. [L. '13, p. 280, § 5.]

§ 3369–6. Duplicate Receipts must be so Marked.—When more than one negotiable receipt is issued for the same goods, the word "duplicate" shall be plainly placed upon the face of every such receipt, except the one first issued. A warehouseman shall be liable for all damage caused by his failure so to do to anyone who purchased the subsequent receipt for value supposing it to be an original, even though the purchase be after the delivery of the goods by the warehouseman to the holder of the original receipt. [L. '13, p. 281, § 6.]

§ 3369–7. Failure to Mark "Not Negotiable."—A non-negotiable receipt shall have plainly placed upon its face by the warehouseman issuing it "non-negotiable" or "not negotiable." In case of the warehouseman's failure to do so, a holder of the receipt who purchased it for value, supposing it to be negotiable, may, at his option, treat such receipt as imposing upon the warehouseman the same liabilities he would have incurred had the receipt been negotiable. This section shall not apply, however, to letters, memoranda, or written acknowledgment of an informal character. [L. '13, p. 281, § 7.]

§ 3369–8. Obligation of Warehouseman to Deliver.—A warehouseman, in the absence of some lawful excuse provided by this act, is bound to deliver the goods upon a demand made either by the holder of a receipt for the goods or by the depositor, if such demand is accompanied with:

(a) An offer to satisfy the warehouseman's lien.

(b) An offer to surrender the receipt if negotiable, with such indorsements as would be necessary for the negotiation of the receipt; and

(c) A readiness and willingness to sign, when the goods are delivered, an acknowledgment that they have been delivered, if such signature is requested by the warehouseman. In case the warehouseman refuses or fails to deliver the goods in compliance with a demand by the holder or depositor so accompanied, the burden shall be upon the warehouseman to establish the existence of a lawful excuse for such refusal. [L. '13, p. 281, § 8.]

See infra, § 9503–8, unlawful to deliver, except upon return of receipt.

§ 3369–9. Justification of Warehouseman in Delivering.—A warehouseman is justified in delivering the goods, subject to the provisions of the three following sections, to one who is,

(a) The person lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods, or his agent.

(b) A person who is either himself entitled to delivery by the terms of a non-negotiable receipt issued for the goods, or who has written authority from the person so entitled either indorsed upon the receipt or written upon another paper; or

(c) A person in possession of a negotiable receipt by the terms of which the goods are deliverable to him or order or to bearer, or which has been indorsed to him or in blank by the person to whom delivery was promised by the terms of the receipt or by his mediate or immediate indorsee. [L. '13, p. 282, § 9.]

§ 3369–10. Warehouseman's Liability for Misdelivery.—Where a warehouseman delivers the goods to one who is not in fact lawfully entitled to the possession of them, the warehouseman shall be liable as for conversion to all having a right of property or possession in the goods if he delivered the goods otherwise than is authorized by subdivision (b) and (c) of the preceding section and though he delivered the goods as authorized by said subdivisions he shall be so liable, if prior to such delivery he had either,

(a) Been requested, by or on behalf of the person lawfully entitled to right of property or possession in the goods, not to make such delivery; or

(b) Had information that the delivery about to be made was to one not lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods. [L. '13, p. 282, § 10.]

§ 3369-11. Negotiable Receipts must be Canceled When Goods Delivered.—Except as provided in sections 3369-36, where a warehouseman delivers goods for which he had issued a negotiable receipt, the negotiation of which would transfer the right to the possession of the goods, and fails to take up and cancel the receipt, he shall be liable to anyone who purchases for value in good faith such receipt, for failure to deliver the goods to him, whether such purchaser acquired title to the receipt before or after the delivery of the goods by the warehouseman. [L. '13, p. 283, § 11.]

See infra, § 9503-8, duty to cancel.

§ 3369-12. Negotiable Receipts must be Canceled or Marked When Part of Goods Delivered.—Except as provided in section 3369-36, where a warehouseman delivers part of the goods for which he had issued a negotiable receipt and fails either to take up and cancel such receipt, or to place plainly upon it a statement of what goods or packages have been delivered he shall be liable, to anyone who purchases for value in good faith such receipt, for failure, to deliver all the goods specified in the receipt, whether such purchaser acquired title to the receipt before or after the delivery of any portion of the goods by the warehouseman. [L. '13, p. 283, § 12.]

§ 3369-13. Altered Receipts.—The alteration of a receipt shall not excuse the warehouseman who issued it from any liability if such alteration was:

(a) Immaterial

(b) Authorized, or

(c) Made without fraudulent intent.

If the alteration was authorized, the warehouseman shall be liable according to the terms of the receipt as altered. If the alteration was unauthorized, but made without fraudulent intent, the warehouseman shall be liable according to the terms of the receipt, as they were before alteration.

Material and fraudulent alteration of a receipt shall not excuse the warehouseman who issued it from liability to deliver, according to the terms of the receipt as originally issued, the goods for which it was issued, but shall excuse him from any other liability to the person who made the alteration and to any person who took with notice of the alteration. Any purchaser of the receipt for value without notice of the alteration shall acquire the same rights against the warehouseman which such purchaser would have acquired if the receipt had not been altered at the time of the purchase. [L. '13, p. 283, § 13.]

§ 3369–14. Lost or Destroyed Receipts.—Where a negotiable receipt has been lost or destroyed, a court of competent jurisdiction may order the delivery of the goods upon satisfactory proof of such loss or destruction and upon the giving of a bond with sufficient sureties to be approved by the court to protect the warehouseman from any liability or expense, which he or any person injured by such delivery may incur by reason of the original receipt remaining outstanding. The court may also in its discretion order the payment of the warehouseman's reasonable costs and counsel fees.

The delivery of the goods under an order of the court, as provided in this section, shall not relieve the warehouseman from liability to a person to whom the negotiable receipt has been or shall be negotiated for value without notice of the proceedings or of the delivery of the goods. [L. '13, p. 284, § 14.]

See infra, § 9503–13, duplicates in case of loss.

§ 3369–15. Effect of Duplicate Receipts.—A receipt upon the face of which the word "duplicate" is plainly placed is a representation and warranty by the warehouseman that such a receipt is an accurate copy of an original receipt properly issued and uncanceled at the date of issue of the duplicate, but shall impose upon him no other liability. [L. '13, p. 284, § 15.]

§ 3369–16. Warehouseman cannot Set Up Title in Himself.—No title or right to the possession of the goods, on the part of the warehouseman, unless such title or right is derived directly or indirectly from a transfer made by the depositor at the time of or subsequent to the deposit for storage, or from the warehouseman's lien, shall excuse the warehouseman from liability for refusing to deliver the goods according to the terms of the receipt. [L. '13, p. 284, § 16.]

§ 3369–17. Interpleader of Adverse Claimants.—If more than one person claim the title or possession of the goods, the warehouseman may, either as a defense to an action brought against him for non-delivery of the goods, or as an original suit, whichever is appropriate, require all known claimants to interplead. [L. '13, p. 285, § 17.]

§ 3369–18. Warehouseman has Reasonable Time to Determine Validity of Claims.—If someone other than the depositor or person claiming under him has a claim to the title or possession of the goods, and the warehouseman has information of such claim, the warehouseman shall be excused from liability for refusing to deliver the goods, either to the depositor or person claiming under him, or to the adverse claimant, until the warehouseman has had a reasonable time to ascertain the validity of the adverse claim or to bring legal proceedings to compel all claimants to interplead. [L. '13, p. 285, § 18.]

§ 3369–19. Adverse Title No Defense.—Except as provided in the two preceding sections and in sections 3369–9 and 3369–36, no right or title of a third person shall be a defense to an action brought by the depositor or person claiming under him against the warehouseman for failure to deliver the goods according to the terms of the receipt. [L. '13, p. 285, § 19.]

§ 3369–20. Liability for Nonexistence or Misdescription of Goods. A warehouseman shall be liable to the holder of a receipt for damages caused by the nonexistence of the goods or by failure of the goods to correspond with the description thereof in the receipt at the time of its issue. If, however, the goods are described in a receipt merely by a statement of marks or labels upon them, or upon packages containing them, or by a statement that the goods are said to be goods of a certain kind, or that packages containing the goods are said to contain goods of a certain kind, or by words of like purport, such statements, if true, shall not make liable the warehouseman issuing the receipt, although the goods are not of the kind which the marks or labels upon them indicate, or of the kind they were said to be by the depositor. [L. '13, p. 285, § 20.]

§ 3369–21. Liability for Care of Goods.—A warehouseman shall be liable for any loss or injury to the goods caused by his failure to exercise such care in regard to them as a reasonably careful owner of similar goods would exercise, but he shall not be liable, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, for any loss or injury to the goods which could not have been avoided by the exercise of such care. [L. '13, p. 286, § 21.]

§ 3369–22. Goods must be Kept Separate.—Except as provided in the following section, a warehouseman shall keep the goods so far separate from goods of other depositors, and from other goods of the same depositor for which a separate receipt has been issued, as to permit at all times the identification and redelivery of the goods deposited. [L. '13, p. 286, § 22.]

§ 3369–23. Fungible Goods Commingled, if Authorized.—If authorized by agreement or by custom, a warehouseman may mingle fungible goods with other goods of the same kind and grade. In such cases the various depositors of the mingled goods shall own the entire mass in common, and each depositor shall be entitled to such portion thereof as the amount deposited by him bears to the whole. [L. '13, p. 286, § 23.]

§ 3369–24. Liability of Warehouseman to Depositors of Commingled Goods.—The warehouseman shall be severally liable to each depositor for the care and redelivery of his share of such mass to the same extent and under the same circumstances as if the goods had been kept separate. [L. '13, p. 286, § 24.]

§ 3369–25. Attachment or Levy upon Goods for Which a Negotiable Receipt has Been Issued.—If goods are delivered to a warehouseman by the owner or by a person whose act in conveying the title to them to a purchaser in good faith for value would bind the owner, and a negotiable receipt is issued for them, they cannot thereafter, while in the possession of the warehouseman, be attached by garnishment or otherwise, or be levied upon under an execution unless the receipt be first surrendered to the warehouseman or its negotiation enjoined. The warehouseman shall in no case be compelled to deliver up the actual possession of the goods until the receipt is surrendered to him or impounded by the courts. [L. '13, p. 287, § 25.]

§ 3369–26. Creditors' Remedies to Reach Negotiable Receipts.—A creditor whose debtor is the owner of a negotiable receipt shall be entitled to such aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction, by injunction and otherwise, in attaching such receipts or in satisfying the claim by means thereof, as is allowed at law or in equity, in regard to property which cannot readily be attached or levied upon by ordinary legal process. [L. '13, p. 287, § 26.]

§ 3369–27. Claims Included in Warehouseman's Lien.—Subject to the provisions of section 3369–30, a warehouseman shall have a lien on goods deposited or on the proceeds thereof in his hands, for all lawful charges for storage and preservation of the goods; also for all lawful claims for money advanced, interest, insurance, transportation, labor, weighing, coopering and other charges and expenses in relation to such goods; also for all reasonable charges and expenses for notice, and advertisements of sale, and for sale of the goods, where default has been made in satisfying the warehouseman's lien. [L. '13, p. 287, § 27.]

§ 3369–28. Against What Property the Lien may be Enforced.—Subject to the provisions of section 3369–30, a warehouseman's lien may be enforced:

(a) Against all goods, whenever deposited, belonging to the person who is liable as debtor for the claims in regard to which the lien is asserted, and

(b) Against all goods belonging to others which have been deposited at any time by the person who is liable as debtor for the claims in regard to which the lien is asserted, if such person had been so intrusted with the possession of the goods that a pledge of the same by him at the time of the deposit to one who took the goods in good faith for value would have been valid. [L. '13, p. 287, § 28.]

§ 3369–29. How the Lien may be Lost.—A warehouseman loses his lien upon goods,

(a) By surrendering possession thereof, or

(b) By refusing to deliver the goods when a demand is made with which he is bound to comply under the provisions of this act. [L. '13, p. 288, § 29.]

§ 3369–30. Negotiable Receipt must State Charges for Which Lien is Claimed.—If a negotiable receipt is issued for goods, the warehouseman shall have no lien thereon, except for charges for storage of those goods subsequent to the date of the receipt, unless the receipt expressly enumerates other charges for which a lien is claimed. In such case there shall be a lien for the charges enumerated so far as are within the terms of section 3369–27, although the amount of the charges so enumerated is not stated in the receipt. [L. 13, p. 288, § 30.]

§ 3369–31. Warehouseman Need not Deliver Until Lien is Satisfied.—A warehouseman having a lien valid against the person demanding the goods may refuse to deliver the goods to him until the lien is satisfied. [L. '13, p. 228, § 31.]

§ 3369–32. Warehouseman's Lien Does not Preclude Other Remedies.—Whether a warehouseman has or has not a lien upon the goods, he is entitled to all remedies allowed by law to a creditor against his debtor, for the collection from the depositor of all charges and advances which the depositor has expressly or impliedly contracted with the warehouseman to pay. [L. '13, p. 288, § 32.]

§ 3369–33. Satisfaction of Lien by Sale.—A warehouseman's lien for a claim which has become due may be satisfied as follows:

The warehouseman shall give a written notice to the person on whose account the goods are held, and to any other person known by the warehouseman to claim an interest in the goods. Such notice shall be given by delivery in person or by registered letter addressed to the last known place of business or abode of the person to be notified. The notice shall contain:

(a) An itemized statement of the warehouseman's claim, showing the sum due at the time of the notice and the date or dates when it became due.

(b) A brief description of the goods against which the lien exists.

(c) A demand that the amount of the claim as stated in the notice, and of such further claim as shall accrue, shall be paid on or before a day mentioned, not less than ten days from the delivery of the notice, if it is personally delivered, or from the time when the notice should reach its destination, according to the due course of post, if the notice is sent by mail; and

(d) A statement that unless the claim is paid within the time specified the goods will be advertised for sale and sold by auction at a specified time and place.

In accordance with the terms of a notice so given, a sale of the goods by auction may be had to satisfy any valid claim of the warehouseman for which he has a lien on the goods. The sale shall be had in the place where the lien was acquired, or, if such place is manifestly unsuitable for the purpose, at the nearest suitable place. After the time for the payment of the claim specified in the notice to the depositor has elapsed, an advertisement of the sale, describing the goods to be sold, and stating the name of the owner or person on whose account the goods are held, and the time and place of the sale, shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper published in the place where such sale is to be held. The sale shall not be less than fifteen days from the time of the first publication. If there is no newspaper published in such place, the advertisement shall be posted at least ten days before such sale in not less than six conspicuous places therein.

From the proceeds of such sale the warehouseman shall satisfy his lien, including the reasonable charges of notice, advertisement, and sale. The balance, if any, of such proceeds shall be held by the warehouseman, and delivered on demand to the person to whom he would have been bound to deliver or justified in delivering the goods.

At any time before the goods are so sold any person claiming a right of property or possession therein may pay the warehouseman the amount necessary to satisfy his lien and to pay the reasonable expenses and liabilities incurred in serving notices and advertising and preparing for the sale up to the time of such payment. The warehouseman shall deliver the goods to the person making such payment if he is a person entitled, under the provisions of this act, to the possession of the goods on payment of charges thereon. Otherwise the warehouseman shall retain possession of the goods according to the terms of the original contract of deposit. [L. '13, p. 289, § 33.]

§ 3369–34. Perishable and Hazardous Goods.—If goods are of a perishable nature, or by keeping will deteriorate greatly in value, or by their odor, leakage, inflammability, or explosive nature, will be liable to injure other property, the warehouseman may give such notice to the owner, or to the person in whose name the goods are stored, as is reasonable and possible under the circumstances, to satisfy the lien upon such goods, and to remove them from the warehouse, and in the event of the failure of such person to satisfy the lien and to remove the goods within the time so specified, the warehouseman may sell the goods at public or private sale without advertising. If the warehouseman, after a reasonable effort, is unable to sell such goods, he may dispose of them in any lawful manner, and shall incur no liability by reason thereof. The proceeds of any sale made under the terms of this section shall be disposed of in the same way as the proceeds of sales made under the terms of the preceding section. [L. '13, p. 290, § 34.]

§ 3369–35. Other Methods of Enforcing Liens.—The remedy for enforcing a lien herein provided does not preclude any other remedies allowed by law for the enforcement of a lien against personal property nor bar the right to recover so much of the warehouseman's claim as shall not be paid by the proceeds of the sale of the property. [L. '13, p. 291, § 35.]

§ 3369–36. Effect of Sale.—After goods have been lawfully sold to satisfy a warehouseman's lien or have been lawfully sold or disposed of because of their perishable or hazardous nature, the warehouseman shall not thereafter be liable for failure to deliver the goods to the depositor or owner of the goods, or to a holder of the receipt given for the goods when they were deposited, even if such receipt be negotiable. [L. '13, p. 291, § 36.]

§ 3369–37. Negotiation of Negotiable Receipts by Delivery.—A negotiable receipt may be negotiated by delivery,

(a) Where, by the terms of the receipt, the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the bearer, or

(b) Where, by the terms of the receipt, the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of a specified person, and such person or a subsequent indorsee of the receipt has indorsed it in blank to the bearer.

(c) Where, by the terms of a negotiable receipt, the goods are deliverable to bearer or where a negotiable receipt has been indorsed in blank to bearer, any holder may indorse the same to himself or to any other specified person, and in such case the receipt shall thereafter be negotiated only by the indorsement of such indorsee. [L. '13, p. 291, § 37.]

§ 3369–38. Negotiation of Negotiable Receipts by Indorsement.—A negotiable receipt may be negotiated by the indorsement of the person to whose order the goods are, by the terms of the receipt, deliverable. Such indorsement may be in blank, to bearer or to a specified person. If indorsed to a specified person, it may be again negotiated by the indorsement of such person in blank, to bearer or to another specified person. Subsequent negotiations may be made in like manner. [L. '13, p. 292, § 38.]

§ 3369–39. Transfer of Receipts.—A receipt which is not in such form that it can be negotiated by delivery may be transferred by the holder by delivery to a purchaser or donee.

A non-negotiable receipt cannot be negotiated, and the indorsement of such a receipt gives the transferee no additional right. [L. '13, p. 292, § 39.]

§ 3369–40. Who may Negotiate a Receipt.—A negotiable receipt may be negotiated,

(a) By the owner thereof, or

(b) By any person to whom the possession or custody of the receipt has been intrusted by the owner, if, by the terms of the receipt, the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of the person to whom the possession or custody of the receipt has been intrusted, or if at the time of such intrusting the receipt is in such form that it may be negotiated by delivery. [L. '13, p. 292, § 40.]

§ 3369–41. Rights of Person to Whom a Receipt has Been Negotiated.—A person to whom a negotiable receipt has been duly negotiated acquires thereby,

(a) Such title to the goods as the person negotiating the receipt to him had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value, and also such title to goods as the depositor or person to whose order the goods were to be delivered by the terms of the receipt had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value, and

(b) The direct obligation of the warehouseman to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the receipt as fully as if the warehouseman had contracted directly with him. [L. '13, p. 292, § 41.]

§ 3369–42. Rights of Persons to Whom a Receipt has Been Transferred.—A person to whom a receipt has been transferred but not negotiated, acquires thereby, as against the transferrer, the title to the goods, subject to the terms of any agreement with the transferrer.

If the receipt is non-negotiable such person also acquires the right to notify the warehouseman of the transfer to him of such receipt, and thereby to acquire the direct obligation of the warehouseman to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the receipt.

Prior to the notification of the warehouseman by the transferrer or transferee of a non-negotiable receipt, the title of the transferee to the goods and the right to acquire the obligation of the warehouseman may be defeated by the levy of an attachment or execution upon the goods by a creditor of the transferrer, or by a notification to the warehouseman by the transferrer or a subsequent purchaser from the transferrer of a subsequent sale of the goods by the transferrer. [L. '13, p. 293, § 42.]

§ 3369–43. Transfer of Negotiable Receipt Without Indorsement. Where a negotiable receipt is transferred for value by delivery, and the indorsement of the transferrer is essential for negotiation, the transferee acquires a right against the transferrer to compel him to indorse the receipt, unless a contrary intention appears. The negotiation shall take effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made. [L. '13, p. 293, § 43.]

§ 3369–44. Warranties on Sale of Receipt. — A person who for value negotiates or transfers a receipt by indorsement or delivery, including one who assigns for value a claim secured by a receipt, unless a contrary intention appears, warrants,

(a) That the receipt be genuine.

(b) That he has a legal right to negotiate or transfer it.

(c) That he has knowledge of no fact which would impair the validity or worth of the receipt, and,

(d) That he has a right to transfer the title to the goods, and that the goods are merchantable or fit for a particular purpose whenever such warranties would have been implied, if the contract of the parties had been to transfer without a receipt the goods represented thereby. [L. '13, p. 293, § 44.]

§ 3369–45. Indorser not a Guarantor.—The indorsement of a receipt shall not make the indorser liable for any failure on the part of the warehouseman or previous indorsers of the receipt to fulfill their respective obligations. [L. '13, p. 294, § 45.]

§ 3369–46. No Warranty Implied from Accepting Payment of a Debt.—A mortgagee, pledgee, or holder for security of a receipt who in good faith demands or receives payment of the debt for which such receipt is security, whether from a party to a draft drawn for such debt or from any other person, shall not by so doing be deemed to represent or to warrant the genuineness of such receipt or the quantity or quality of the goods therein described. [L. '13, p. 294, § 46.]

§ 3369–47. When Negotiation not Impaired by Fraud, Mistake or Duress.—The validity of the negotiation of a receipt is not impaired by the fact that such negotiation was a breach of duty on the part of the person making the negotiation, or by the fact that the owner of the receipt was induced by fraud, mistake or duress to intrust the possession or custody of the receipt to such person, if the person to whom the receipt was negotiated, or a person to whom the receipt was subsequently negotiated, paid value therefor, without notice of the breach of duty, or fraud, mistake or duress. [L. '13, p. 294, § 47.]

§ 3369–48. Subsequent Negotiation.—Where a person having sold, mortgaged or pledged goods which are in a warehouse and for which a negotiable receipt has been issued, or having sold, or pledged the negotiable receipt representing such goods, continues in possession of the negotiable receipt, the subsequent negotiation thereof by that person under any sale, or other disposition thereof to any person receiving the same in good faith, for value and without notice of the previous sale, mortgage, or pledge, shall have the same effect as if the first purchaser of the goods or receipt had expressly authorized the subsequent negotiation. [L. '13, p. 294, § 48.]

§ 3369–49. Negotiation Defeats Vendor's Lien.—Where a negotiable receipt has been issued for goods, no seller's lien or right of stoppage in transit shall defeat the rights of any purchaser for value in good faith to whom such receipt has been negotiated, whether such negotiations be prior or subsequent to the notification to the warehouseman who issued such receipt of the seller's claim to a lien or right of stoppage in transit. Nor shall the warehouseman be obliged to deliver or justified in delivering the goods to an unpaid seller unless the receipt is first surrendered for cancellation. [L. '13, p. 295, § 49.]

§ 3369–50. Issue of Receipt for Goods not Received. — A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who issues or aids in issuing a receipt knowing that the goods for which such receipt is issued have not been actually received by such warehouseman, or are not under his actual control at the time of issuing such receipt, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 295, § 50.]

§ 3369–51. Issue of Receipt Containing False Statement.—A warehouseman or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who fraudulently issues or aids in fraudulently issuing a receipt for goods knowing that it contains any false statement, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 295, § 51.]

§ 3369–52. Issue of Duplicate Receipts not so Marked. — A warehouseman or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who issues or aids in issuing a duplicate or additional negotiable receipt for goods knowing that a former negotiable receipt for the same goods or any part of them is outstanding and uncanceled, without plainly placing upon the face thereof the word "duplicate" except in the case of lost or destroyed receipt after proceedings as provided for in section 3369–14, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 295, § 52.]

§ 3369–53. Issue for Warehouseman's Goods of Receipts Which Do not State That Fact.—Where there are deposited with or held by a warehouseman goods of which he is the owner, either solely or jointly, or in common with others, such warehouseman or any of his officers, agents, or servants who, knowing this ownership issues or aids in issuing a negotiable receipt for such goods, which does not state such ownership, shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 296, § 53.]

§ 3369–54. Delivery of Goods Without Obtaining Negotiable Receipt.—A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman who delivers goods out of the possession of such warehouseman, knowing that a negotiable receipt the negotiation of which would transfer the right to the possession of such goods is outstanding and uncanceled, without obtaining the possession of such receipt at or before the time of such delivery, shall, except in the cases provided for in sections 3369–14 and 3369–36, be found guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 296, § 54.]

§ 3369–55. Negotiation of Receipt for Mortgaged Goods.--Any person who deposits goods to which he has not title, or upon which there is a lien or mortgage, and who takes for such goods a negotiable receipt which he afterward negotiates for value with intent to deceive and without disclosing his want of title or the existence of the lien or mortgage shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 296, § 55.]

§ 3369–56. When Rules of Common Law Still Applicable.—In any case not provided for in this act, the rules of law and equity, including the law-merchant, and in particular the rules relating to the law of principal and agent and to the effect of fraud, misrepresentation, duress or coercion, mistake, bankruptcy, or other invalidating cause shall govern. [L. '13, p. 296, § 56.]

§ 3369–57. Interpretation Shall Give Effect to Purpose of Uniformity.—This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it. [L. '13, p. 297, § 57.]

§ 3369–58. Definitions.—(1) In this act, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires, "Action" includes counterclaim, setoff, and suit in equity.

"Delivery" means voluntary transfer of possession from one person to another.

"Fungible goods" means goods of which any unit is, from its nature or by mercantile custom, treated as the equivalent of any other unit.

"Goods" means chattels or merchandise in storage, or which has been or is about to be stored.

"Holder" of a receipt means a person who has both actual possession of such receipt and a right of property therein.

"Order" means an order by indorsement on the receipt.

"Owner" does not include mortgagee or pledgee.

"Person" includes a corporation or partnership or two or more persons having a joint or common interest.

To "purchase" includes to take as mortgagee or pledgee.

"Purchaser" includes mortgagee and pledgee.

"Receipt" means a warehouse receipt.

"Value" is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or pre-existing obligation, whether for money or not, constitutes value where a receipt is taken either in satisfaction thereof or as security therefor.

"Warehouseman" means a person lawfully engaged in the business of storing goods for profit.

(2) A thing is done "in good faith" within the meaning of this act, when it is in fact done honestly, whether it be done negligently or not. [L. '13, p. 297, § 58.]

§ 3369-59. Prior Receipts.—The provisions of this act do not apply to receipts made and delivered prior to the taking effect of this act. [L. '13, p. 298, § 59.]

§ 3369-61. Name of Act.—This act may be cited as the "Uniform Warehouse Receipts Act." [L. '13, p. 298, § 61.]

CHAPTER II.

Bills of Lading by Carriers.

PART I.

THE ISSUE OF BILLS OF LADING.

§ 3385-1. Bills Governed by This Act.—Bills of lading issued by any common carrier shall be governed by this act. [L. '15, p. 462, § 1.].

"This act" refers to this chapter.

§ 3385-2. Form of Bills — Essential Terms.—Every bill must embody within its written or printed terms:

(a) The date of its issue,

(b) The name of the person from whom the goods have been received,

(c) The place where the goods have been received,

(d) The place to which the goods are to be transported,

(e) A statement whether the goods received will be delivered to a specified person, or to the order of a specified person,

(f) A description of the goods or of the packages containing them which may, however, be in such general terms as are referred to in section 3385–23, and

(g) The signature of the carrier.

A negotiable bill shall have the words "order of" printed thereon immediately before the name of the person upon whose order the goods received are deliverable.

A carrier shall be liable to any person injured thereby for the damage caused by the omission from a negotiable bill of any of the provisions required in this section. [L. '15, p. 462, § 2.]

§ 3385–3. Form of Bills — Terms Inserted.—A carrier may insert in a bill, issued by him, any other terms and conditions, provided that such terms and conditions shall not—

(a) Be contrary to law or public policy, or

(b) In anywise impair his obligation to exercise at least that degree of care in the transportation and safekeeping of the goods intrusted to him which a reasonably careful man would exercise in regard to similar goods of his own. [L. '15, p. 463, § 3.]

§ 3385–4. Non-negotiable or Straight Bill. — A bill in which it is stated that the goods are consigned or destined to a specified person, is a non-negotiable or straight bill. [L. '15, p. 463, § 4.]

§ 3385–5. Negotiable or Order Bill. — A bill in which it is stated that the goods are consigned or destined to the order of any person named in such bill, is a negotiable or order bill.

Any provision in such a bill that it is non-negotiable shall not affect its negotiability within the meaning of this act. [L. '15, p. 463, § 5.]

§ 3385–6. Negotiable Bills not Issued in Sets.—Negotiable bills issued in this state for the transportation of goods to any place in the United States on the continent of North America, except Alaska, shall not be issued in parts or sets.

If so issued the carrier issuing them shall be liable for failure to deliver the goods described therein to anyone who purchases a part for value in good faith, even though the purchase be after the delivery of the goods by the carrier to a holder of one of the other parts. [L. '15, p. 463, § 6.]

§ 3385–7. Duplicate Negotiable Bills Marked.—When more than one negotiable bill is issued in this state for the same goods to be transported to any place in the United States on the continent of North America, except Alaska, the word "duplicate" or some other word or words indicating that the document is not an original bill shall be placed plainly upon the face of every such bill, except the one first issued. A carrier shall be liable for the damage caused by his failure so to do to anyone who has purchased the bill for value in good faith as an original, even though the purchase be after the delivery of the goods by the carrier to the holder of the original bill. [L. '15, p. 464, § 7.]

See supra, § 2646, duplicates when misdemeanor.

§ 3385–8. Non-negotiable Bills Marked. — A non-negotiable bill shall have placed plainly upon its face by the carrier issuing it "non-negotiable" or "not negotiable."

This section shall not apply, however, to memoranda or acknowledgments of an informal character. [L. '15, p. 464, § 8.]

§ 3385–9. Insertion of Name of Person to be Notified.—The insertion in a negotiable bill of the name of a person to be notified of the arrival of the goods shall not limit the negotiability of the bill, or constitute notice to a purchaser thereof of any rights or equities of such person in the goods. [L. '15, p. 464, § 9.]

§ 3385–10. Acceptance of Bill Indicates Assent to Its Terms.—Except as otherwise provided in this act, where a consignor receives a bill and makes no objection to its terms or conditions at the time he receives it, neither the consignor nor any person who accepts delivery of the goods, nor any person who seeks to enforce any provision of the bill, shall be allowed to deny that he is bound by such terms and conditions, so far as they are not contrary to law or public policy. [L. '15, p. 464, § 10.]

PART II.

OBLIGATIONS AND RIGHTS OF CARRIERS UPON THEIR BILLS OF LADING.

§ 3385–11. Obligation of Carrier to Deliver.—A carrier, in the absence of some lawful excuse, is bound to deliver goods upon a demand made either by the consignee named in the bill for the goods, or if the bill is negotiable, by the holder thereof, if such demand is accompanied by—

(a) An offer in good faith to satisfy the carrier's lawful lien upon the goods,

(b) An offer in good faith to surrender, properly indorsed, the bill which was issued for the goods, if the bill is negotiable, and

(c) A readiness and willingness to sign, when the goods are delivered, an acknowledgment that they have been delivered, if such signature is requested by the carrier.

In case the carrier refuses or fails to deliver the goods in compliance with a demand by the consignee or holder so accompanied, the burden shall be upon the carrier to establish the existence of a lawful excuse for such refusal or failure. [L. '15, p. 465, § 11.]

§ 3385–12. Justification of Carrier in Delivering.—A carrier is justified, subject to the provisions of the three following sections, in delivering goods to one who is

(a) A person lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods, or

(b) The consignee named in a non-negotiable bill for the goods, or

(c) A person in possession of a negotiable bill for the goods by the terms of which the goods are deliverable to his order, or which has been indorsed to him or in blank by the consignee or by the mediate or immediate indorsee of the consignee. [L. '15, p. 465, § 12.]

§ 3385–13. Carrier's Liability for Misdelivery. — Where a carrier delivers goods to one who is not lawfully entitled to the possession of them, the carrier shall be liable to anyone having a right of property or possession in the goods if he delivered the goods otherwise than as authorized by subdivisions (b) and (c) of the preceding section; and, though he delivered the goods as authorized by either of said subdivisions, he shall be so liable if prior to such delivery he—

(a) Had been requested, by or on behalf of a person having a right of property or possession in the goods, not to make such delivery, or

(b) Had information at the time of the delivery that it was to a person not lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods.

A request or information to be effective within the meaning of this section must be given to an officer or agent of the carrier, the actual or apparent scope of whose duties includes action upon such a request or information, and must be given in time to enable the officer or agent to whom it is given, acting with reasonable diligence, to stop delivery of the goods. [L. '15, p. 466, § 13.]

§ 3385–14. Negotiable Bills Canceled When Goods Delivered—Except as provided in section 3385–27, and except when compelled by legal process, if a carrier delivers goods for which a negotiable bill had been issued, the negotiation of which would transfer the right to the possession of the goods, and fails to take up and cancel the bill, such carrier shall be liable for failure to deliver the goods to anyone who for value and in good faith purchases such bill, whether such purchaser acquired title to the bill before or after the delivery of the goods by the carrier, and notwithstanding delivery was made to the person entitled thereto. [L. '15, p. 466, § 14.]

See supra, § 2647, penalty, failure to cancel, when.

§ 3385–15. Negotiable Bills When Canceled or Marked.—Except as provided in section 3385–27, and except when compelled by legal process, if a carrier delivers part of the goods for which a negotiable bill had been issued and fails either—

(a) To take up and cancel the bill, or

(b) To place plainly upon it a statement that a portion of the goods has been delivered, with a description, which may be in general terms, either of the goods or packages that have been so delivered or of the goods or packages which still remain in the carrier's possession, he shall be liable for failure to deliver all the goods specified in the bill, to anyone who for value and in good faith purchases it, whether such purchaser acquired title to it before or after the delivery of any portion of the goods by the carrier, and notwithstanding such delivery was made to the person entitled thereto. [L. '15, p. 466, § 15.]

See note to last section.

§ 3385–16. Altered Bills.—Any alteration, addition or erasure in a bill after its issue without authority from the carrier issuing the same either in writing or noted on the bill shall be void, whatever be the nature and purpose of the change, and the bill shall be enforceable according to its original tenor. [L. '15, p. 467, § 16.]

§ 3385–17. Lost or Destroyed Bills. — Where a negotiable bill has been lost or destroyed, a court of competent jurisdiction may order the delivery of the goods upon satisfactory proof of such loss or destruction and upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to be approved by the court to protect the carrier or any person injured by such delivery from any liability or loss, incurred by reason of the original bill remaining outstanding. The court may also in its discretion order the payment of the carrier's reasonable costs and counsel fees.

The delivery of the goods under an order of the court as provided in this section, shall not relieve the carrier from liability to a person to whom the negotiable bill has been or shall be negotiated for value without notice of the proceedings or of the delivery of the goods. [L. '15, p. 467, § 17.]

§ 3385–18. Effect of Duplicate Bills. — A bill upon the face of which the word "duplicate" or some other word or words indicating that the document is not an original bill is placed plainly shall impose upon the carrier issuing the same the liability of one who represents and warrants that such bill is an accurate copy of an original bill properly issued, but no other liability. [L. '15, p. 467, § 18.]

§ 3385–19. Carrier cannot Set Up Title in Himself.—No title to goods or right to their possession, asserted by a carrier for his own benefit, shall excuse him from liability for refusing to deliver the goods according to the terms of a bill issued for them, unless such title or right is derived directly or indirectly from a transfer made by the consignor or consignee after the shipment, or from the carrier's lien. [L. '15, p. 468, § 19.]

§ 3385–20. Interpleader of Adverse Claimants.—If more than one person claims the title or possession of goods, the carrier may require all known claimants to interplead, either as a defense to an action brought against him for nondelivery of the goods, or as an original suit, whichever is appropriate. [L. '15, p. 468, § 20.]

§ 3385–21. Time to Determine Validity of Claims. — If someone other than the consignee or person in possession of the bill, has a claim to the title or possession of the goods, and the carrier has information of such claim, the carrier shall be excused from liability for refusing to deliver the goods either to the consignee or person in possession of the bill, or to the adverse claimant, until the carrier has had a reasonable time to ascertain the validity of the adverse claim or to bring legal proceedings to compel all claimants to interplead. [L. '15, p. 468, § 21.]

§ 3385–22. Adverse Title When No Defense.—Except as provided in the two preceding sections and in section 3385–12, no right or title of a third person unless enforced by legal process shall be a defense to an action brought by the consignee of a non-negotiable bill or by the holder of a negotiable bill against the carrier for failure to deliver the goods on demand. [L. '15, p. 468, § 22.]

§ 3385–23. Liability for Nonreceipt or Misdescription.—If a bill of lading has been issued by a carrier or on his behalf by an agent or employee the scope of whose actual or apparent authority includes the issuing of bills of lading, the carrier shall be liable to

(a) The consignee named in a non-negotiable bill, or

(b) The holder of a negotiable bill,

Who has given value in good faith relying upon the description therein of the goods, for damages caused by the nonreceipt by the carrier or a connecting carrier of all or part of the goods or their failure to correspond with the description thereof in the bill at the time of its issue.

If, however, the goods are described in a bill merely by a statement of marks or labels upon them or upon packages containing them, or by a statement that the goods are said to be goods of a certain kind or quantity, or in a certain condition, or it is stated in the bill that packages are said to contain goods of a certain kind or quantity or in a certain condition, or that the contents or condition of the contents of packages are unknown, or words of like purport are contained in the bill, such statements, if true, shall not make liable the carrier issuing the bill, although the goods are not of the kind or quantity or in the condition which the marks or labels upon them indicate, or of the kind or quantity or in the condition they were said to be by the consignor. The carrier may, also, by inserting in the bill the words "shipper's load and count" or other words of like purport indicate that the goods were loaded by the shipper and the description of them made by him; and if such statement be true, the carrier shall not be liable for damages caused by the improper loading or by the nonreceipt or by the misdescription of the goods described in the bill. [L. '15, p. 469, § 23.]

§ 3385–24. Attachment or Levy upon Goods.—If goods are delivered to a carrier by the owner or by a person whose act in conveying the title to them to a purchaser for value in good faith would bind the owner and a negotiable bill is issued for them, they cannot thereafter, while in the possession of the carrier, be attached by garnishment or otherwise, or be levied upon under an execution, unless the bill be first surrendered to the carrier or its negotiation enjoined. The carrier shall in no such case be compelled to deliver the actual possession of the goods until the bill is surrendered to him or impounded by the court. [L. '15, p. 469, § 24.]

§ 3385–25. Creditor's Remedies to Reach Negotiable Bills.—A creditor whose debtor is the owner of a negotiable bill shall be entitled to such aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction by injunction and otherwise in attaching such bill, or in satisfying the claim by means thereof as is allowed at law or in equity in regard to property which cannot readily be attached or levied upon by ordinary legal process. [L. '15, p. 470, § 25.]

§ 3385–26. Statement of Charges for Which Lien is Claimed.—If a negotiable bill is issued the carrier shall have no lien on the goods therein mentioned, except for charges on those goods for freight, storage, demurrage and terminal charges, and expenses necessary for the preservation of the goods or incident to their transportation subsequent to the date of the bill, unless the bill expressly enumerates other charges for which a lien is claimed. In such case there shall also be a lien for the charges enumerated so far as they are allowed by law and the contract between the consignor and the carrier. [L. '15, p. 470, § 26.]

§ 3385–27. Effect of Sale.—After goods have been lawfully sold to satisfy a carrier's lien, or because they have not been claimed, or because they are perishable or hazardous, the carrier shall not thereafter be liable for failure to deliver the goods to the consignee or owner of the goods, or to a holder of the bill given for the goods when they were shipped, even if such bill be negotiable. [L. '15, p. 470, § 27.]

PART III.

NEGOTIATION AND TRANSFER OF BILLS.

§ 3385–28. Negotiation of Negotiable Bills by Delivery.—A negotiable bill may be negotiated by delivery where, by the terms of the bill, the carrier undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of a specified person, and such person or a subsequent indorsee of the bill has indorsed it in blank. [L. '15, p. 471, § 28.]

§ 3385–29. Negotiation of Negotiable Bills by Indorsement.—A negotiable bill may be negotiated by the indorsement of the person to whose order the goods are deliverable by the tenor of the bill. Such indorsement may be in blank or to a specified person. If indorsed to a specified person, it may be negotiated again by the indorsement of such person in blank or to another specified person. Subsequent negotiation may be made in like manner. [L. '15, p. 471, § 29.]

§ 3385–30. Transfer of Bills. — A bill may be transferred by the holder by delivery, accompanied with an agreement, express or implied, to transfer the title to the bill or to the goods represented thereby.

A non-negotiable bill cannot be negotiated, and the indorsement of such a bill gives the transferee no additional right. [L. '15, p. 471, § 30.]

§ 3385–31. Who may Negotiate a Bill.—A negotiable bill may be negotiated by any person in possession of the same, however such possession may have been acquired if, by the terms of the bill, the carrier undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of such person, or if at the time of negotiation the bill is in such form that it may be negotiated by delivery. [L. '15, p. 471, § 31.]

§ 3385–32. Rights of Person to Whom a Bill has Been Negotiated. A person to whom a negotiable bill has been duly negotiated acquires thereby—

(a) Such title to the goods as the person negotiating the bill to him had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value, and also such title to the goods as the consignee and consignor had or had power to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value, and

(b) The direct obligation of the carrier to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the bill as fully if the carrier had contracted directly with him. [L. '15, p. 471, § 32.]

§ 3385–33. Rights of Person to Whom a Bill has Been Transferred. A person to whom a bill has been transferred but not negotiated acquires thereby as against the transferrer, the title to the goods, subject to the terms of any agreement with the transferrer. If the bill is non-negotiable, such person also acquires the right to notify the carrier of the transfer to him of such bill, and thereby to become the direct obligee of whatever obligations the carrier owed to the transferrer of the bill immediately before the notification.

Prior to the notification of the carrier by the transferrer or transferee of a non-negotiable bill, the title of the transferee to the goods and the right to acquire the obligation of the carrier may be defeated by garnishment or by attachment or execution upon the goods by a creditor of the transferrer, or by a notification to the carrier by the transferrer or a subsequent purchaser from the transferrer of a subsequent sale of the goods by the transferrer.

A carrier has not received notification within the meaning of this section unless an officer or agent of the carrier, the actual or apparent scope of whose duties includes action upon such a notification, has been notified; and no modification shall be effective until the officer or agent to whom it is given has had time with the exercise of reasonable diligence to communicate with the agent or agents having actual possession or control of the goods. [L. '15, p. 472, § 33.]

§ 3385–34. Transfer of Negotiable Bill Without Indorsement. — Where a negotiable bill is transferred for value by delivery, and the indorsement of the transferrer is essential for negotiation, the transferee acquires a right against the transferrer to compel him to indorse the bill, unless a contrary intention appears. The negotiation shall take effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made. This obligation may be specifically enforced. [L. '15, p. 472, § 34.]

§ 3385–35. Warranties on Sale of Bill.—A person who negotiates or transfers for value a bill by indorsement or delivery, including one who assigns for value a claim secured by a bill, unless, a contrary intention appears, warrants—

(a) That the bill is genuine,

(b) That he has a legal right to transfer it,

(c) That he has knowledge of no fact which would impair the validity or worth of the bill, and

(d) That he has a right to transfer the title to the goods, and that the goods are merchantable or fit for a particular purpose whenever such warranties would have been implied, if the contract of the parties had been to transfer without a bill the goods represented thereby.

In the case of an assignment of a claim secured by a bill, the liability of the assignor shall not exceed the amount of the claim. [L. '15, p. 473, § 35.]

§ 3385–36. Indorser not a Guarantor. — The indorsement of a bill shall not make the indorser liable for any failure on the part of the carrier or previous indorsers of the bill to fulfill their respective obligations. [L. '15, p. 473, § 36.]

§ 3385-37. No Warranty Implied from Accepting Payment of a Debt.—A mortgagee or pledgee, or other holder of a bill for security who in good faith demands or receives payment of the debt for which such bill is security, whether from a party to a draft drawn for such debt or from any other person, shall not be deemed by so doing to represent or to warrant the genuineness of such bill or the quantity or quality of the goods therein described. [L. '15, p. 473, § 37.]

§ 3385-38. When Negotiation not Impaired by Fraud, etc.—The validity of the negotiation of a bill is not impaired by the fact that such negotiation was a breach of duty on the part of the person making the negotiation, or by the fact that the owner of the bill was deprived of the possession of the same by fraud, accident, mistake, duress or conversion, if the person to whom the bill was negotiated, or a person to whom the bill was subsequently negotiated, gave value therefor, in good faith, without notice of the breach of duty, or fraud, accident, mistake, duress or conversion. [L. '15, p. 473, § 38.]

§ 3385-39. Subsequent Negotiation.—Where a person having sold, mortgaged, or pledged goods which are in a carrier's possession and for which a negotiable bill has been issued, or having sold, mortgaged, or pledged the negotiable bill representing such goods, continues in possession of the negotiable bill, the subsequent negotiation thereof by that person under any sale, pledge, or other disposition thereof to any person receiving the same in good faith, for value and without notice of the previous sale, shall have the same effect as if the first purchaser of the goods or bill had expressly authorized the subsequent negotiation. [L. '15, p. 474, § 39.]

§ 3385-40. Form of the Bill as Indicating Rights of Buyer and Seller.—Where goods are shipped by the consignor in accordance with a contract or order for their purchase, the form in which the bill is taken by the consignor shall indicate the transfer or retention of the property or right to the possession of the goods as follows:

(a) Where by the bill the goods are deliverable to the buyer or to his agent, or to the order of the buyer or of his agent, the consignor thereby transfers the property in the goods to the buyer.

(b) Where by the bill the goods are deliverable to the seller or to his agent, or to the order of the seller or his agent, the seller thereby reserves the property in the goods. But if, except for the form of the bill, the property would have passed to the buyer on shipment of the goods, the seller's property in the goods shall be deemed to be only for the purpose of securing performance by the buyer of his obligations under the contract.

(c) Where by the bill the goods are deliverable to the order of the buyer or of his agent, but possession of the bill is retained by the seller or his agent, the seller thereby reserves a right to the possession of the goods, as against the buyer.

(d) Where the seller draws on the buyer for the price and transmits the draft and bill together to the buyer to secure acceptance or payment of the draft, the buyer is bound to return the bill if he does not honor the draft, and if he wrongfully retains the bill he acquires no added right thereby. If, however, the bill provides that the goods are deliverable to the buyer, or to the order of the buyer, or is indorsed in blank or to the buyer by the consignee named therein, one who purchases in good faith, for value, the bill or goods from the buyer, shall obtain the title to the goods, although the draft has not been honored, if such purchaser has received delivery of the bill indorsed by the consignee named therein, or of the goods, without notice of the facts making the transfer wrongful. [L. '1915, p. 474, § 40.]

§ 3385-41. Demand or Sight Draft to be Paid When—Acceptance of Time Draft.—Where the seller of goods draws on the buyer for the price of the goods and transmits the draft and a bill of lading for the goods either directly to the buyer or through a bank or other agency, unless a different intention on the part of the seller appears, the buyer and all other parties interested shall be justified in assuming:

(a) If the draft is by its terms or legal effect payable on demand or presentation or at sight, or not more than three days thereafter (whether such three days be termed days of grace or not), that the seller intended to require payment of the draft before the buyer should be entitled to receive or retain the bill.

(b) If the draft is by its terms payable on time, extending beyond three days after demand, presentation or sight (whether such three days be termed days of grace or not), that the seller intended to require acceptance, but not payment of the draft before the buyer should be entitled to receive or retain the bill.

The provisions of this section are applicable whether by the terms of the bill the goods are consigned to the seller, or to his order, or to the buyer, or to his order, or to a third person, or to his order. [L. '15, p. 475, § 41.]

§ 3385-42. Negotiation Defeats Vendor's Lien.—Where a negotiable bill has been issued for goods, no seller's lien or right of stoppage in transitu shall defeat the rights of any purchaser for value in good faith to whom such bill has been negotiated, whether such negotiation be prior or subsequent to the notification to the carrier who issued such bill of the seller's claim to a lien or right of stoppage in transitu. Nor shall the carrier be obliged to deliver or justified in delivering the goods to an unpaid seller unless such bill is first surrendered for cancellation. [L. '15, p. 476, § 42.]

§ 3385–43. Rights and Remedies Under Mortgages and Liens.—Except as provided in section 3385–42, nothing in this act shall limit the rights and remedies of a mortgagee or lienholder whose mortgage or lien on goods would be valid, apart from this act, as against one who for value and in good faith purchased from the owner, immediately prior to the time of their delivery to the carrier, the goods which are subject to the mortgage or lien and obtained possession of them. [L. '15, p. 476, § 43.]

PART IV.

CRIMINAL OFFENSES.

§ 3385–44. Issue of Bill for Goods not Received.—Any officer, agent or servant of a carrier, who with intent to defraud issues or aids in issuing a bill knowing that all or any part of the goods for which such bill is issued have not been received by such carrier, or by an agent of such carrier or by a connecting carrier, or are not under the carrier's control at the time of issuing such bill, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '15, p. 476, § 44.]

§ 3385–45. Issue of Bill Containing False Statement.—Any officer, agent, or servant of a carrier, who with intent to defraud issues or aids in issuing a bill for goods knowing that it contains any false statement, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '15, p. 477, § 45.]

§ 3385–46. Issue of Duplicate Bills not so Marked.—Any officer, agent, or servant of a carrier, who with intent to defraud issues or aids in issuing a duplicate or additional negotiable bill for goods in violation of the provisions of section 3385–7, knowing that a former negotiable bill for the same goods or any part of them is outstanding and uncanceled, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '15, p. 477, § 46.]

§ 3385–47. Negotiation of Bill for Mortgaged Goods.—Any person who ships goods to which he has not title, or upon which there is a lien or mortgage, and who takes for such goods a negotiable bill which he afterward negotiates for value with intent to deceive and without disclosing his want of title or the existence of the lien or mortgage, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '15, p. 477, § 47.]

§ 3385–48. Negotiation of Bill—Goods not in Carrier's Possession. Any person who with intent to deceive negotiates or transfers for value a bill knowing that any or all of the goods which by the terms of such bill appear to have been received for transportation by the carrier which issued the bill, are not in the possession or control of such carrier, or of a connecting carrier, without disclosing this fact, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '15, p. 477, § 48.]

§ 3385–49. Inducing Carrier to Issue Bill When Goods Have not been Received.—Any person who with intent to defraud secures the issue by a carrier of a bill knowing that at the time of such issue, any or all of the goods described in such bill as received for transportation have not been received by such carrier, or an agent of such carrier, or a connecting carrier, or are not under the carrier's control, by inducing an officer, agent, or servant of such carrier falsely to believe that such goods have been received by such carrier, or are under its control, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '15, p. 478, § 49.]

§ 3385–50. Issue of Non-negotiable Bill not so Marked.—Any person who with intent to defraud issues or aids in issuing a non-negotiable bill without the words "not negotiable" placed plainly upon the face thereof, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding five years or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both. [L. '15, p. 478, § 50.]

PART V.

INTERPRETATION.

§ 3385–51. Rule for Cases not Provided for in This Act.—In any case not provided for in this act, the rules of law and equity including the law-merchant, and in particular the rules relating to the law of principal and agent, executors, administrators and trustees, and to the effect of fraud, misrepresentation, duress or coercion, accident, mistake, bankruptcy, or other invalidating cause, shall govern. [L. '15, p. 478, § 51.]

§ 3385–52. Interpretation—Effect.—This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it. [L. '15, p. 479, § 52.]

§ 3385–53. Definitions.—(1) In this act, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires—

"Action" includes counterclaim, setoff, and suit in equity.

"Bill" means bill of lading.

"Consignee" means the person named in the bill as the person to whom delivery of the goods is to be made.

"Consignor" means the person named in the bill as the person from whom the goods have been received for shipment.

"Goods" means merchandise or chattels in course of transportation, or which have been or are about to be transported.

"Holder" of a bill means a person who has both actual possession of such bill and a right of property therein.

"Order" means an order by indorsement on the bill.

"Owner" does not include mortgagee or pledgee.

"Person" includes a corporation or partnership of two or more persons having a joint or common interest.

To "purchase" includes to take as mortgagee and to take as pledgee.

"Purchaser" includes mortagee and pledgee.

"Value" is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or pre-existing obligation, whether for money or not, constitutes value where a bill is taken either in satisfaction thereof or as security therefor.

(2) A thing is done "in good faith" within the meaning of this act, when it is in fact done honestly, whether it be done negligently or not. [L. '15, p. 479, § 53.]

§ 3385–54. Act Does not Apply to Existing Bills.—The provisions of this act do not apply to bills made and delivered prior to the taking effect thereof. [L. '15, p. 479, § 54.]

§ 3385–55. Inconsistent Legislation Repealed. — Sections 3385, 3386, 3387, 3388, 3389, 3390, and 3391 of Remington & Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed. [L. '15, p. 480, § 55.]

§ 3385–56. Name of Act.—This act may be cited as the Uniform Bills of Lading Act. [L. '15, p. 480, § 56.]

CHAPTER III.

Negotiable Instruments.

§ 3392. Negotiability, What Constitutes.—An instrument to be negotiable must conform to the following requirements:

1. It must be in writing and signed by the maker or drawer;

2. Must contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a sum certain in money;

3. Must be payable on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time;

4. Must be payable to order or to bearer; and,

5. Where the instrument is addressed to a drawee, he must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty. [L. '99, p. 340, § 1.]

§ 3393. "Sum Certain" Defined.—The sum payable is a sum certain within the meaning of this act, although it is to be paid—

1. With interest; or

2. By stated installments; or

3. By stated installments, with a provision that upon default in payment of any installment or of interest, the whole shall become due; or

4. With exchange, whether at a fixed rate or at the current rate; or

5. With costs of collection or an attorney's fees, in case payment shall not be made at maturity. [L. '99, p. 340, § 2.]

Cited in 66 Wash. 263; 81 Wash. 445–447.

§ 3394. "Unconditional" Defined.—An unqualified order or promise to pay is unconditional within the meaning of this act, though coupled with—

1. An indication of a particular fund out of which reimbursement is to be made, or a particular account to be debited with the amount; or

2. A statement of the transaction which gives rise to the instrument.

But an order or promise to pay only out of a particular fund is not unconditional. [L. '99, p. 340, § 3.]

Cited in 66 Wash. 379; 81 Wash. 445–447.

§ 3395. "Determinable Future Time" Defined.—An instrument is payable at a determinable future time, within the meaning of this act, which is expressed to be payable—

1. At a fixed period after date or sight; or

2. On or before a fixed or determinable future time specified therein; or

3. On or at a fixed period after the occurrence of a specified event, which is certain to happen, though the time of happening be uncertain.

An instrument payable upon a contingency is not negotiable, and the happening of the event does not cure the defect. [L. '99, p. 341, § 4.]

Cited in 81 Wash. 445–447.

§ 3396. Negotiability—Effect of Provisions on.—An instrument which contains an order or promise to do any act in addition to the payment of money is not negotiable. But the negotiable character of an instrument otherwise negotiable is not affected by a provision which—

1. Authorizes the sale of collateral securities in case the instrument be not paid at maturity; or

2. Authorizes a confession of judgment if the instrument be not paid at maturity; or

3. Waives the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or protection of the obligor; or

4. Gives the holder an election to require something to be done in lieu of payment of money.

But nothing in this section shall validate any provision or stipulation otherwise illegal. [L. '99, p. 341, § 5.]

Cited in 62 Wash. 443; 81 Wash. 445–447, 451.

§ 3397. Validity and Negotiability—When not Affected.—The validity and negotiable character of an instrument are not affected by the fact that—

1. It is not dated; or

2. Does not specify the value given, or that any value has been given therefor; or

3. Does not specify the place where it is drawn or the place where it is payable; or

4. Bears a seal; or

5. Designates a particular kind of current money in which payment is to be made.

But nothing in this section shall alter or repeal any statute requiring in certain cases, the nature of the consideration to be stated in the instrument. [L. '99, p. 341, § 6.]

§ 3398. When "Payable on Demand."—An instrument is payable on demand—

1. Where it is expressed to be payable on demand, or at sight, or on presentation; or

2. In which no time for payment is expressed.

Where an instrument is issued, accepted or indorsed when overdue, it is, as regards the person so issuing, accepting or indorsing it, payable on demand. [L. '99, p. 342, § 7.]

§ 3399. When "Payable to Order."—The instrument is payable to order where it is drawn payable to the order of a specified person or to him or his order. It may be drawn payable to the order of—

1. A payee who is not maker, drawer, or drawee; or
2. The drawer or maker; or
3. The drawee; or
4. Two or more payees jointly; or
5. One or some of several payees; or
6. The holder of an office for the time being.

Where the instrument is payable to order the payee must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty. [L. '99, p. 342, § 8.]

§ 3400. When "Payable to Bearer."—The instrument is payable to bearer—

1. When it is expressed to be so payable; or
2. When it is payable to a person named therein or bearer; or
3. When it is payable to the order of a fictitious or nonexisting person, and such fact was known to the person making it so payable; or
4. When the name of the payee does not purport to be the name of any person; or
5. When the only or last indorsement is an indorsement in blank. [L. '99, p. 342, § 9.]

§ 3401. Intent to Conform to Requirements Sufficient.—The instrument need not follow the language of this act, but any terms are sufficient which clearly indicate an intention to conform to the requirements hereof. [L. '99, p. 342, § 10.]

Cited in 72 Wash. 611.

§ 3402. Date Prima Facie True.—Where the instrument or an acceptance or any indorsement thereon is dated, such date is deemed prima facie to be the true date of the making, drawing, acceptance or indorsement as the case may be. [L. '99, p. 343, § 11.]

§ 3403. Effect of Ante or Post Date.—The instrument is not invalid for the reason only that it is ante-dated or post-dated, provided this is not done for an illegal or fraudulent purpose. The person to whom an instrument so dated is delivered acquires the title thereto as of the date of delivery. [L. '99, p. 343, § 12.]

§ 3404. Blank Date—Holder may Fill.—Where an instrument expressed to be payable at a fixed period after date is issued undated, or where the acceptance of an instrument payable at a fixed period after sight is undated, any holder may insert therein the true date of issue or acceptance, and the instrument shall be payable accordingly.

The insertion of a wrong date does not avoid the instrument in the hands of a subsequent holder in due course; but as to him, the date so inserted is to be regarded as the true date. [L. '99, p. 343, § 13.]

§ 3405. Defects and Blanks—Holders' Right to Fill.—Where the instrument is wanting in any material particular, the person in possession thereof has a prima facie authority to complete it by filling up the blanks therein. And a signature on a blank paper delivered by the person making the signature in order that the paper may be converted into a negotiable instrument operates as a prima facie authority to fill it up as such for any amount. In order, however, that any such instrument when completed may be enforced against any person who became a party thereto prior to its completion, it must be filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. But if any such instrument, after completion, is negotiated to a holder in due course, it is valid and effectual for all purposes in his hands, and he may enforce it as if it had been filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. [L. '99, p. 343, § 14.]

§ 3406. Negotiation Without Delivery or Authority, Invalid.—Where an incomplete instrument has not been delivered it will not, if completed and negotiated, without authority, be a valid contract in the hands of any holder, as against any person whose signature was placed thereon before delivery. [L. '99, p. 343, § 15.]

§ 3407. Delivery, What Constitutes.—Every contract on a negotiable instrument is incomplete and revocable until delivery of the instrument for the purpose of giving effect thereto. As between immediate parties, and as regards a remote party other than a holder in due course, the delivery, in order to be effectual, must be made either by or under the authority of the party making, drawing, accepting or indorsing, as the case may be; and in such case the delivery may be shown to have been conditional, or for a special purpose only, and not for the purpose of transferring the property in the instrument. But where the instrument is in the hands of a holder in due course, a valid delivery thereof by all parties prior to him so as to make them liable to him is conclusively presumed. And where the instrument is no longer in the possession of a party whose signature appears thereon, a valid and intentional delivery by him is presumed until the contrary is proved. [L. '99, p. 344, § 16.]

§ 3408. Construction of Ambiguities.—Where the language of the instrument is ambiguous, or there are omissions therein, the following rules of construction apply—

1. Where the sum payable is expressed in words and also in figures and there is a discrepancy between the two, the sum denoted by the words is the sum payable; but if the words are ambiguous or uncertain, references may be had to the figures to fix the amount;

2. Where the instrument provides for the payment of interest, without specifying the date from which interest is to run, the interest runs from the date of the instrument, and if the instrument is undated, from the issue thereof;

3. Where the instrument is not dated, it will be considered to be dated as of the time it was issued;

4. Where there is a conflict between the written and printed provisions of the instrument, the written provisions prevail;

5. Where the instrument is so ambiguous that there is doubt whether it is a bill or note, the holder may treat it as either at his election;

6. Where a signature is so placed upon the instrument that it is not clear in what capacity the person making the same intended to sign, he is to be deemed an indorser;

7. Where an instrument containing the words "I promise to pay" is signed by two or more persons, they are deemed to be jointly and severally liable thereon. [L. '99, p. 344, § 17.]

Cited in 78 Wash. 27; 79 Wash. 415.

§ 3409. Liability—Signature Necessary—Assumed or Trade Name. No person is liable on the instrument whose signature does not appear thereon, except as herein otherwise expressly provided. But one who signs in a trade or assumed name will be liable to the same extent as if he had signed his own name. [L. '99, p. 345, § 18.]

§ 3410. Signature by Agent.—The signature of any party may be made by a duly authorized agent. No particular form of appointment is necessary for this purpose; and the authority of the agent may be established as in other cases of agency. [L. '99, p. 345, § 19.]

Cited in 68 Wash. 451.

§ 3411. Liability of Agent.—Where the instrument contains or a person adds to his signature words indicating that he signs for or on behalf of a principal, or in a representative capacity, he is not liable on the instrument if he was duly authorized; but the mere addition of words describing him as an agent, or as filling a representative character, without disclosing his principal, does not exempt him from personal liability. [L. '99, p. 345, § 20.]

§ 3412. Signature by "Procuration"—Notice.—A signature by "procuration" operates as notice that the agent has but a limited authority to sign, and the principal is bound only in case the agent in so signing acted within the actual limits of his authority. [L. '99, p. 345, § 21.]

§ 3413. Assignment by Corporation or Infant Passes Title.—The indorsement or assignment of the instrument by a corporation or by an infant passes the property therein, notwithstanding that from want of capacity the corporation or infant may incur no liability thereon. [L. '99, p. 345, § 22.]

§ 3414. Forgery—Effect of.—Where a signature is forged or made without authority of the person whose signature it purports to be, it is wholly inoperative, and no right to retain the instrument, or to give a discharge therefor, or to enforce payment thereof against any party thereto, can be acquired through or under such signature, unless the party, against whom it is sought to enforce such right, is precluded from setting up the forgery or want of authority. [L. '99, p. 345, § 23.]

§ 3415. Consideration Presumed.—Every negotiable instrument is deemed prima facie to have been issued for a valuable consideration; and every person whose signature appears thereon to have become a party thereto for value. [L. '99, p. 346, § 24.]

Cited in 77 Wash. 298; 85 Wash. 185, 465; 87 Wash. 43.

§ 3416. Value, What Constitutes.—Value is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or pre-existing debt constitutes value; and is deemed such whether the instrument is payable on demand or at a future time. [L. '99, p. 346, § 25.]

Cited in 85 Wash. 465.

§ 3417. "Holder for Value," When.—Where value has at any time been given for the instrument, the holder is deemed a holder for value in respect to all parties who became such prior to that time. [L. '99, p. 346, § 26.]

Cited in 83 Wash. 83; 85 Wash. 465.

§ 3418. Same—Lien.—Where the holder has a lien on the instrument, arising either from contract or by implication of law, he is deemed a holder for value to the extent of his lien. [L. '99, p. 346, § 27].

Cited in 85 Wash. 465, 466.

§ 3419. Lack of Consideration as a Defense.—Absence or failure of consideration is matter of defense as against any person not a holder in due course; and partial failure of consideration is a defense pro tanto, whether the failure is an ascertained and liquidated amount or otherwise. [L. '99, p. 346, § 28.]

Cited in 53 Wash. 140.

See infra, § 5317, notes in consideration of gambling contract, void when.

§ 3420. Accommodation Party, Who is.—An accommodation party is one who has signed the instrument as maker, drawer, acceptor or indorser, without receiving value therefor, and for the purpose of lending his name to some other person. Such a person is liable on the instrument to a holder for value, notwithstanding such holder at the time of taking the instrument knew him to be only an accommodation party. [L. '99, p. 346, § 29.]

Cited in 71 Wash. 221; 79 Wash. 415; 83 Wash. 83; 86 Wash. 288.

§ 3421. How Negotiated.—An instrument is negotiated when it is transferred from one person to another in such manner as to constitute the transferee the holder thereof. If payable to bearer it is negotiated by delivery; if payable to order it is negotiated by the indorsement of the holder completed by delivery. [L. '99, p. 347, § 30.]

§ 3422. How Indorsed.—The indorsement must be written on the instrument itself or upon a paper attached thereto. The signature of the indorser, without additional words, is a sufficient indorsement. [L. '99, p. 347, § 31.]

§ 3423. Indorsement must be Entire.—The indorsement must be an indorsement of the entire instrument. An indorsement, which purports to transfer to the indorsee a part only of the amount payable, or which purports to transfer the instrument to two or more indorsees severally, does not operate as a negotiation of the instrument. But where the instrument has been paid in part, it may be indorsed as to the residue. [L. '99, p. 347, § 32.]

§ 3424. Same — May be Special, etc. — An indorsement may be either special or in blank; and it may also be either restrictive or qualified, or conditional. [L. '99, p. 347, § 33.]

Cited in 83 Wash. 83.

§ 3425. Special and Blank Indorsements, What are.—A special indorsement specifies the person to whom, or to whose order, the instrument is to be payable; and the indorsement of such indorsee is necessary to the further negotiation of the instrument. An indorsement in blank specifies no indorsee, and an instrument so indorsed is payable to bearer, and may be negotiated by delivery. [L. '99, p. 347, § 34.]

§ 3426. Blank Indorsement may be Changed to Special. — The holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement by writing over the signature of the indorser in blank any contract consistent with the character of the indorsement. [L. '99, p. 347, § 35.]

§ 3427. Restrictive Indorsements. — An indorsement is restrictive, which either—

1. Prohibits the further negotiation of the instrument; or

2. Constitutes the indorsee the agent of the indorser; or

3. Vests the title in the indorsee in trust for or to the use of some other person.

But the mere absence of words implying power to negotiate does not make an indorsement restrictive. [L. '99, p. 347, § 36.]

§ 3428. Rights of Restrictive Indorsee.—A restrictive indorsement confers upon the indorsee the right—

1. To receive payment of the instrument;

2. To bring any action thereon that the indorser could bring;

3. To transfer his rights as such indorsee, where the form of the indorsement authorizes him to do so.

But all subsequent indorsees acquire only the title of the first indorsee under the restrictive indorsement. [L. '99, p. 348, § 37.]

Cited in 83 Wash. 83.

§ 3429. Qualified Indorsement. — A qualified indorsement constitutes the indorser a mere assignor of the title to the instrument. It may be made by adding to the indorser's signature the words "without recourse" or any words of similar import. Such an indorsement does not impair the negotiable character of the instrument. [L. '99, p. 348, § 38.]

§ 3430. Conditional Indorsement, Effect of.—Where an indorsement is conditional, a party required to pay the instrument may disregard the condition, and make payment to the indorsee or his transferee, whether the condition has been fulfilled or not. But any person to whom an instrument so indorsed is negotiated, will hold the same, or the proceeds thereof, subject to the rights of the person indorsing conditionally. [L. '99, p. 348, § 39.]

§ 3431. Special Indorsement, Payable to Bearer, Effect of.—Where an instrument, payable to bearer, is indorsed specially, it may nevertheless be further negotiated by delivery; but the person indorsing specially is liable as indorser to only such holders as make title through his indorsement. [L. '99, p. 348, § 40.]

§ 3432. Payable to Two or More—Indorsement.—Where an instrument is payable to the order of two or more payees or indorsees who are not partners, all must indorse, unless the one indorsing has authority to indorse for the others. [L. '99, p. 348, § 41.]

§ 3433. Indorsement to "Cashier," Effect of. — Where an instrument is drawn or indorsed to a person as "cashier" or other fiscal officer of a bank or corporation, it is deemed prima facie to be payable to the bank or corporation of which he is such officer; and may be negotiated by either the indorsement of the bank or corporation, or the indorsement of the officer. [L. '99, p. 348, § 42.]

§ 3435. Indorsement in Representative Capacity.—Where any person is under obligation to indorse in a representative capacity, he may indorse in such terms as to negative personal liability. [L. '99, p. 349, § 44.]

§ 3436. Presumption of Negotiation Before Indorsement.—Except where an indorsement bears date after the maturity of the instrument, every negotiation is deemed prima facie to have been effected before the instrument was overdue. [L. '99, p. 349, § 45.]

§ 3437. Indorsement Presumed Made When Dated.—Except where the contrary appears, every indorsement is presumed prima facie to have been made at the place where the instrument is dated. [L. '99, p. 349, § 46.]

§ 3438. Negotiability Continues.—An instrument negotiable in its origin continues to be negotiable until it has been restrictively indorsed or discharged by payment or otherwise. [L. '99, p. 349, § 47.]

§ 3439. Striking Indorsement.—The holder may at any time strike out any indorsement which is not necessary to his title. The indorser whose indorsement is struck out, and all indorsers subsequent to him, are thereby relieved from liability on the instrument. [L. '99, p. 349, § 48.]

§ 3440. Transfer Without Indorsement.—Where the holder of an instrument payable to his order transfers it for value without indorsing it, the transfer vests in the transferee such title as the transferrer had therein, and the transferee acquires, in addition, the right to have the indorsement of the transferrer. But for the purpose of determining whether the transferee is a holder in due course, the negotiation takes effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made. [L. '99, p. 349, § 49.]

§ 3442. Holder may Sue in Own Name. — The holder of a negotiable instrument may sue thereon in his own name; and payment to him in due course discharges the instrument. [L. '99, p. 350, § 51.]

§ 3443. "Holder in Due Course," When.—A holder in due course is a holder who has taken the instrument under the following conditions:—

1. That it is complete and regular upon its face;

2. That he became the holder of it before it was overdue, and without notice that it had been previously dishonored, if such was the fact;

3. That he took it in good faith and for value;

4. That at the time it was negotiated to him he had no notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating it. [L. '99, p. 350, § 52.]

Cited in 55 Wash. 579, 580; 57 Wash. 597; 61 Wash. 463; 62 Wash. 539; 63 Wash. 192, 195; 64 Wash. 61, 277; 79 Wash. 116.

§ 3444. Same, When not. — Where an instrument payable on demand is negotiated an unreasonable length of time after its issue, the holder is not deemed a holder in due course. [L. '99, p. 350, § 53.]

Cited in 85 Wash. 467.

§ 3445. Notice of Defect Before Full Payment.—Where the transferee receives notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same before he has paid the full amount agreed to be paid therefor, he will be deemed a holder in due course only to the extent of the amount theretofore paid by him. [L. '99, p. 350, § 54.]

§ 3446. Title Defective, When.—The title of a person who negotiates an instrument is defective within the meaning of this act when he obtained the instrument, or any signature thereto, by fraud, duress, or force and fear, or other unlawful means, or for an illegal consideration, or when he negotiates it in breach of faith, or under such circumstances as amount to a fraud. [L. '99, p. 350, § 55.]

§ 3447. Notice of Defect, What is.—To constitute notice of an infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same, the person to whom it is negotiated must have had actual knowledge of the infirmity or defect, or knowledge of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounted to bad faith. [L. '99, p. 350, § 56.]

Cited in 53 Wash. 86; 55 Wash. 579, 580; 63 Wash. 192, 195, 196, 199; 69 Wash. 312, 313.

§ 3448. "Holder in Due Course"—Right to Full Payment.—A holder in due course holds the instrument free from any defects of title of prior parties, and free from defenses available to prior parties among themselves, and may enforce payment of the instrument for the full amount thereof against all parties liable thereon. [L. '99, p. 350, § 57.]

Cited in 63 Wash. 196.

§ 3449. Defenses Against One not a Holder in Due Course.—In the hands of any holder other than a holder in due course, a negotiable instrument is subject to the same defenses as if it were non-negotiable. But a holder who derives his title through a holder in due course, and who is not himself a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the instrument, has all the rights of such former holder in respect of all parties prior to the latter. [L. '99, p. 351, § 58.]

Cited in 56 Wash. 630, 631, 632; 62 Wash. 538, 543; 69 Wash. 312; 83 Wash. 83.

§ 3450. "Due Course" Presumed — Burden of Proof. — [Every] holder is deemed prima facie to be a holder in due course; but when it is shown that the title of any person who has negotiated the instrument was defective, the burden is on the holder to prove that he or some person under whom he claims acquired the title as holder in due course. But the last-mentioned rule does not apply in favor of a party who became bound on the instrument prior to the acquisition of such defective title. [L. '99, p. 351, § 59.]

Cited in 54 Wash. 565; 56 Wash. 630, 631, 632; 57 Wash. 597; 62 Wash. 539; 63 Wash. 192, 195; 64 Wash. 277, 280; 69 Wash. 312; 79 Wash. 115; 84 Wash. 447.

§ 3451. Maker's Undertaking—Estoppel.—The maker of a negotiable instrument by making it engages that he will pay it according to its tenor, and admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse. [L. '99, p. 351, § 60.]

Cited in 56 Wash. 630, 631, 632; 79 Wash. 190.

§ 3452. Drawer's Undertaking—Estoppel.—The drawer by drawing the instrument admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse; and engages that on due presentment the instrument will be accepted or paid, or both, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored, and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. But the drawer may insert in the instrument an express stipulation negativing or limiting his own liability to the holder. [L. '99, p. 351, § 61.]

Cited in 56 Wash. 630, 631, 632.

§ 3453. Acceptor's Undertaking—Estoppel. — The acceptor by accepting the instrument engages that he will pay it according to the tenor of his acceptance; and admits—

1. The existence of the drawer, the genuineness of his signature, and his capacity and authority to draw the instrument; and

2. The existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse. [L. '99, p. 351, § 62.]

Cited in 56 Wash. 630, 631, 632.

§ 3454. Signer, an Indorser, Unless Intention Clearly Indicated.—A person placing his signature upon an instrument otherwise than as maker, drawer or acceptor is deemed to be an indorser, unless he clearly indicates by appropriate words his intention to be bound in some other capacity. [L. '99, p. 352, § 63.]

§ 3455. Blank Signature by One not a Party—Liability.—Where a person, not otherwise a party to an instrument, places thereon his signature in blank before delivery, he is liable as indorser in accordance with the following rules:

1. If the instrument is payable to the order of a third person, he is liable to the payee and to all subsequent parties.

2. If the instrument is payable to the order of the maker or drawer, or is payable to bearer, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the maker or drawer.

3. If he signs for the accommodation of the payee, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the payee. [L. '99, p. 352, § 64.]

§ 3456. Warranties by Negotiator. — Every person negotiating an instrument by delivery or by a qualified indorsement, warrants—

1. That the instrument is genuine and in all respects what it purports to be;

2. That he has a good title to it;

3. That all prior parties had capacity to contract;

4. That he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair the validity of the instrument or render it valueless.

But when the negotiation is by delivery only, the warranty extends in favor of no holder other than the immediate transferee.

The provisions of subdivision 3 of this section do not apply to persons negotiating public or corporate securities, other than bills and notes. [L. '99, p. 352, § 65.]

See, also, § 3460, infra.

§ 3457. Warranties by Indorser. — Every indorser who indorses without qualification, warrants to all subsequent holders in due course—

1. The matters and things mentioned in subdivisions 1, 2 and 3 of the next preceding section; and

2. That the instrument is at the time of his indorsement valid and subsisting.

And, in addition, he engages that on due presentment, it shall be accepted or paid, or both, as the case may be, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored, and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. [L. '99, p. 352, § 66.]

Cited in 62 Wash. 658.

§ 3458. Liability of Indorser — When Negotiable by Delivery. — Where a person places his indorsement on an instrument negotiable by delivery he incurs all the liabilities of an indorser. [L. '99, p. 353, § 67.]

Cited in 62 Wash. 658.

§ 3459. Order of Liability—Agreements Admissible—Joint Payees, etc.—As respects one another, indorsers are liable prima facie in the order in which they indorse; but evidence is admissible to show that as between or among themselves they have agreed otherwise. Joint payees or joint indorsees who indorse are deemed to indorse jointly and severally. [L. '99, p. 353, § 68.]

§ 3460. Liability of Broker Negotiating Without Indorsement. — Where a broker or other agent negotiates an instrument without indorsement, he incurs all the liabilities prescribed by section 3456, unless he discloses the name of his principal, and the fact that he is acting only as agent. [L. '99, p. 353, § 69.]

Cited in 57 Wash. 597; 85 Wash. 470.

§ 3461. Presentment—When Necessary. — Presentment for payment is not necessary in order to charge the person primarily liable on the instrument; but if the instrument is, by its terms, payable at a special place, and he is able and willing to pay it there at maturity, such ability and willingness are equivalent to a tender of payment upon his part. But except as herein otherwise provided, presentment for payment is necessary in order to charge the drawer and indorsers. [L. '99, p. 353, § 70.]

Cited in 54 Wash. 557.

See infra, § 3471, when not necessary.

§ 3462. Time of Presentment.—Where the instrument is not payable on demand, presentment must be made on the day it falls due. Where it is payable on demand, presentment must be made within a reasonable time after its issue, except that in the case of a bill of exchange, presentment for payment will be sufficient if made within a reasonable time after the last negotiation thereof. [L. '99, p. 353, § 71.]

§ 3463. Presentment, Sufficiency of.—Presentment for payment, to be sufficient, must be made—

1. By the holder, or by some person authorized to receive payment on his behalf.

2. At a reasonable hour on a business day;

3. At a proper place as herein defined;

4. To the person primarily liable on the instrument, or if he is absent or inaccessible, to any person found at the place where the presentment is made. [L. '99, p. 354, § 72.]

See infra, § 3536.

§ 3464. Same, Place of.—Presentment for payment is made at the proper place—

1. Where a place of payment is specified in the instrument and it is there presented;

2. Where no place of payment is specified, but the address of the person to make payment is given in the instrument and it is there presented;

3. Where no place of payment is specified and no address is given and the instrument is presented at the usual place of business or residence of the person to make payment;

4. In any other case if presented to the person to make payment wherever he can be found, or if presented at his last known place of business or residence. [L. '99, p. 354, § 73.]

§ 3465. Exhibition of Instrument Necessary.—The instrument must be exhibited to the person from whom payment is demanded, and when it is paid must be delivered up to the party paying it. [L. '99, p. 354, § 74.]

§ 3466. Presentment at Bank, Time of.—Where the instrument is payable at a bank, presentment for payment must be made during banking hours, unless the person to make payment has no funds there to meet it at any time during the day, in which case presentment at any hour before the bank is closed on that day is sufficient. [L. '99, p. 354, § 75.]

See, also, infra, § 3477.

§ 3467. Same—To Personal Representative.—Where the person primarily liable on the instrument is dead, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment must be made to his personal representative if such there be, and if, with the exercise of reasonable diligence, he can be found. [L. '99, p. 354, § 76.]

§ 3468. Same—To One of Partners.—Where the persons primarily liable on the instrument are liable as partners, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment may be made to any one of them, even though there has been a dissolution of the firm. [L. '99, p. 354, § 77.]

See infra, § 3489, notice to one, notice to all.
See infra, § 3518, bill addressed to two or more.

§ 3469. Presentment to All Parties, When Necessary. — Where there are several persons not partners, primarily liable on the instrument and no place of payment is specified, presentment must be made to them all. [L. '99, p. 355, § 78.]

§ 3470. Presentment Unnecessary to Charge Drawer, When.—Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge the drawer where he has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will pay the instrument. [L. '99, p. 355, § 79.]

§ 3471. Presentment Unnecessary to Charge Indorser, When.—Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge an indorser where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation and he has no reason to expect that the instrument will be paid if presented. [L. '99, p. 355, § 80.]

See supra, § 3461, when necessary.

§ 3472. Excusable Delay.—Delay in making presentment for payment is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder, and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause for delay ceases to operate, presentment must be made with reasonable diligence. [L. '99, p. 355, § 81.]

See infra § 3559.

§ 3473. Presentment Unnecessary. — Presentment for payment is dispensed with—

1. Where after the exercise of reasonable diligence presentment as required by this act cannot be made;

2. Where the drawee is a fictitious person;

3. By waiver of presentment, express or implied. [L. '99, p. 355, § 82.]

§ 3474. When Dishonored.—The instrument is dishonored by nonpayment when—

1. It is duly presented for payment and payment is refused or cannot be obtained; or

2. Presentment is excused and the instrument is overdue and unpaid. [L. '99, p. 355, § 83.]

§ 3475. Dishonor Attaches Liability to Secondary Parties. — Subject to the provisions of this act, when the instrument is dishonored by nonpayment, an immediate right of recourse to all parties secondarily liable thereon accrues to the holder. [L. '99, p. 355, § 84.]

§ 3475½. No Grace—Sundays and Holidays.—Every negotiable instrument is payable at the time fixed therein without grace. When the day of maturity falls upon Sunday, or a holiday, the instrument is payable on the next succeeding business day. [L. '15, p. 547, § 1. Cf. L. '99, p. 355, § 85.]

See infra, § 3536, application of this section.
See infra, § 3584, Sundays and holidays.

§ 3476. Computation of Time.—Where the instrument is payable at a fixed period after date, after sight, or after the happening of a specified event, the time of payment is determined by excluding the day from which the time is to begin to run, and by including the date of payment. [L. '99, p. 356, § 86.]

See infra, § 3533, fixed by presentment.

§ 3477. "Payable at Bank," an Order on Bank.—Where the instrument is made payable at a bank it is equivalent to an order to the bank to pay the same for the account of the principal debtor thereon. [L. '99, p. 356, § 87.]

See, also, supra, § 3466.

§ 3478. Payment in Due Course.—Payment is made in due course when it is made at or after the maturity of the instrument to the holder thereof in good faith and without notice that his title is defective. [L. '99, p. 356, § 88.]

§ 3479. Notice of Dishonor Necessary to Charge.—Except as herein otherwise provided, when a negotiable instrument has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment, notice of dishonor must be given to the drawer and to each indorser, and any drawer or indorser to whom such notice is not given is discharged. [L. '99, p. 356, § 89.]

See infra, § 3504, not required when.

§ 3480. Who may Give Notice.—The notice may be given by or on behalf of the holder, or by or on behalf of any party to the instrument who might be compelled to pay it to the holder, and who, upon taking it up, would have a right to reimbursement from the party to whom the notice is given. [L. '99, p. 356, § 90.]

§ 3481. Notice by Agent.—Notice of dishonor may be given by an agent either in his own name or in the name of any party entitled to give notice, whether that party be his principal or not. [L. '99, p. 356, § 91.]

for the benefit of the holder and all parties subsequent to the party to whom notice is given. [L. '99, p. 357, § 93.]

§ 3484. Agent may Notify Parties or Principal.—Where the instrument has been dishonored in the hands of an agent, he may either himself give notice to the parties liable thereon, or he may give notice to his principal. If he give notice to his principal, he must do so within the same time as if he were the holder, and the principal upon the receipt of such notice has himself the same time for giving notice as if the agent had been an independent holder. [L. '99, p. 357, § 94.]

§ 3485. Sufficiency of Notice.—A written notice need not be signed, and an insufficient written notice may be supplemented and validated by verbal communication. A misdescription of the instrument does not vitiate the notice unless the party to whom the notice is given is in fact misled thereby. [L. '99, p. 357, § 95.]

§ 3486. Notice may be Written or Oral.—The notice may be in writing or merely oral and may be given in any terms which sufficiently identify the instrument, and indicate that it has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment. It may in all cases be given by delivering it personally or through the mails. [L. '99, p. 357, § 96.]

Cited in 62 Wash. 660.

§ 3487. Notice, to Whom Given.—Notice of dishonor may be given either to the party himself or to his agent in that behalf. [L. '99, p. 357, § 97.]

§ 3488. Notice, When Party Deceased.—When any party is dead, and his death is known to the party giving notice, the notice must be given to a personal representative, if there be one, and if with reasonable diligence he can be found. If there be no personal representative, notice may be sent to the last residence or last place of business of the deceased. [L. '99, p. 357, § 98.]

§ 3489. Notice to One of Partners.—Where the parties to be notified are partners, notice to any one partner is notice to the firm even though there has been a dissolution. [L. '99, p. 357, § 99.]

See supra, § 3468, presentment to one partner.

§ 3490. Joint Parties, Notice to Each.—Notice to joint parties who are not partners must be given to each of them, unless one of them has authority to receive such notice for the others. [L. '99, p. 357, § 100.]

§ 3491. Insolvency—Notice to Whom.—Where a party has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, notice may be given either to the party himself or to his trustee or assignee. [L. '99, p. 358, § 101.]

§ 3492. Notice Immediately upon Dishonor.—Notice may be given as soon as the instrument is dishonored; and unless delay is excused as hereinafter provided, must be given within the times fixed by this act. [L. '99, p. 358, § 102.]

§ 3493. Parties Living in Same Place, Notice When.—Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in the same place, notice must be given within the following times—

1. If given at the place of business of the person to receive notice, it must be given before the close of business hours on the day following.

2. If given at his residence, it must be given before the usual hours of rest on the day following.

3. If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the postoffice in time to reach him in the usual course on the day following. [L. '99, p. 358, § 103.]

§ 3494. Living in Different Places, Notice When.—Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in different places, the notice must be given within the following times—

1. If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the postoffice in time to go by mail the day following the day of dishonor, or if there be no mail at a convenient hour on that day, by the next mail thereafter.

2. If given otherwise than through the postoffice, then within the time that notice would have been received in due course of mail, if it had been deposited in the postoffice within the time specified in the last subdivision. [L. '99, p. 358, § 104.]

§ 3495. Notice by Mail.—Where notice of dishonor is duly addressed and deposited in the postoffice, the sender is deemed to have given due notice, notwithstanding any miscarriage in the mails. [L. '99, p. 358, § 105.]

§ 3496. Deposited in Postoffice, When.—Notice is deemed to have been deposited in the postoffice when deposited in any branch postoffice or in any letter-box under the control of the postoffice department. [L. '99, p. 358, § 106.]

§ 3497. Notice to Antecedent Parties.—Where a party receives notice of dishonor, he has, after the receipt of such notice, the same time for giving notice to antecedent parties that the holder has after the dishonor. [L. '99, p. 359, § 107.]

§ 3498. Notice, Where Addressed.—Where a party has added an address to his signature, notice of dishonor must be sent to that address; but if he has not given such address, then the notice must be sent as follows—

1. Either to the postoffice nearest to his place of residence, or to the postoffice where he is accustomed to receive his letters; or

2. If he live in one place, and have his place of business in another, notice may be sent to either place; or

3. If he is sojourning in another place, notice may be sent to the place where he is so sojourning.

But where the notice is actually received by the party within the time specified in this act, it will be sufficient, though not sent in accordance with the requirements of this section. [L. '99, p. 359, § 108.]

§ 3499. Waiver of Notice.—Notice of dishonor may be waived, either before the time of giving notice has arrived, or after the omission to give due notice, and the waiver may be express or implied. [L. '99, p. 359, § 109.]

§ 3500. What Parties Bound by Waiver of Notice.—Where the waiver is embodied in the instrument itself, it is binding upon all parties; but where it is written above the signature of an indorser, it binds only him. [L. '99, p. 359, § 110.]

§ 3501. Waiver of Protest Waives Notice of Presentment and Dishonor.—A waiver of protest, whether in case of a foreign bill of exchange or other negotiable instrument, is deemed to be a waiver not only of a formal protest, but also of presentment and notice of dishonor. [L. '99, p. 359, § 111.]

§ 3502. Notice of Dishonor Dispensed With, When.—Notice of dishonor is dispensed with when, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, it cannot be given to or does not reach the parties sought to be charged. [L. '99, p. 359, § 112.]

§ 3503. Excusable Delay.—Delay in giving notice of dishonor is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder, and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, notice must be given with reasonable diligence. [L. '99, p. 359, § 113.]

§ 3504. When Drawer not Entitled to Notice of Dishonor.—Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to the drawer in either of the following cases—

1. When the drawer and drawee are the same person;

2. Where the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract;

3. When the drawer is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment;

4. Where the drawer has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will honor the instrument;

5. Where the drawer has countermanded payment. [L. '99, p. 360, § 114.]

§ 3505. When Indorser not Entitled to Notice.—Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to an indorser in either of the following cases—

1. Where the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract, and the indorser was aware of the fact at the time he indorsed the instrument;

2. Where the indorser is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment;

3. Where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation. [L. '99, p. 360, § 115.]

See supra, § 3479, notice when necessary.

§ 3506. Notice of Nonacceptance, Effect of.—Where due notice of dishonor by nonacceptance has been given notice of a subsequent dishonor by nonpayment is not necessary, unless in the meantime the instrument has been accepted. [L. '99, p. 360, § 116.]

§ 3507. Omission of Notice.—An omission to give notice of dishonor by nonacceptance does not prejudice the rights of a holder in due course subsequent to the omission. [L. '99, p. 360, § 117.]

§ 3508. Protest Required Only on Foreign Bills.—Where any negotiable instrument has been dishonored it may be protested for nonacceptance or nonpayment, as the case may be; but protest is not required except in the case of foreign bills of exchange. [L. '99, p. 360, § 118.]

See infra, § 8298, notaries may.
See, also, infra, § 3542.

§ 3509. Discharge of Instrument, How Effected.—A negotiable instrument is discharged—

1. By payment in due course by or on behalf of the principal debtor;

2. By payment in due course by the party accommodated, where the instrument is made or accepted for accommodation;

3. By the intentional cancellation thereof by the holder;

4. By any other act which will discharge a simple contract for the payment of money;

5. When the principal debtor becomes the holder of the instrument at or after maturity in his own right. [L. '99, p. 360, § 119.]

Cited in 75 Wash. 516; 78 Wash. 31.

§ 3510. Discharge of Parties Secondarily Liable.—A person secondarily liable on the instrument is discharged—

1. By any act which discharges the instrument;
2. By the intentional cancellation of his signature by the holder;
3. By the discharge of a prior party;
4. By a valid tender of payment made by a prior party;
5. By a release of the principal debtor, unless the holder's right of recourse against the party secondarily liable is expressly reserved;
6. By any agreement binding upon the holder to extend the time of payment, or to postpone the holder's right to enforce the instrument, unless made with the assent of the party secondarily liable, or unless the right of recourse against such party is expressly reserved. [L. '99, p. 361, § 120.]

Cited in 66 Wash. 661; 75 Wash. 517; 87 Wash. 598, 600, 601, 602.

§ 3511. Renegotiation by Secondary Party.—Where the instrument is paid by a party secondarily liable thereon, it is not discharged; but the party so paying it is remitted to his former rights as regards all prior parties, and he may strike out his own and all subsequent indorsements, and again negotiate the instrument, except—

1. Where it is payable to the order of a third person, and has been paid by the drawer; and
2. Where it was made or accepted for accommodation, and has been paid by the party accommodated. [L. '99, p. 361, § 121.]

Cited in 78 Wash. 31.

§ 3512. Holder's Renunciation of Rights.—The holder may expressly renounce his rights against any party to the instrument, before, at, or after its maturity. An absolute and unconditional renunciation of his rights against the principal debtor made at or after the maturity of the instrument discharges the instrument. But a renunciation does not affect the rights of a holder in due course without notice. A renunciation must be in writing, unless the instrument is delivered up to the person primarily liable thereon. [L. '99, p. 361, § 122.]

Cited in 58 Wash. 359; 87 Wash. 42, 598, 599.

§ 3513. Unintentional Cancellation—Burden of Proof.—A cancellation made unintentionally, or under a mistake, or without the authority of the holder, is inoperative; but where an instrument or any signature thereon appears to have been canceled the burden of proof lies on the party who alleges that the cancellation was made unintentionally, or under a mistake or without authority. [L. '99, p. 362, § 123.]

§ 3514. Material Alterations, Effect of.—Where a negotiable instrument is materially altered without the assent of all parties liable thereon, it is avoided, except as against a party who has himself made, authorized or assented to the alteration, and subsequent indorsers. But when an instrument has been materially altered and is in the hands of a holder in due course, not a party to the alteration, he may enforce payment thereof according to its original tenor. [L. '99, p. 362, § 124.]

Cited in 57 Wash. 353; 58 Wash. 359; 74 Wash. 655, 662; 87 Wash. 598.

§ 3515. Material Alterations Defined.—Any alteration which changes—

1. The date;
2. The sum payable, either for principal or interest;
3. The time or place of payment;
4. The number or the relations of the parties;
5. The medium or currency in which payment is to be made;

Or which adds a place of payment where no place of payment is specified, or any other change or addition which alters the effect of the instrument in any respect, is a material alteration. [L. '99, p. 362, § 125.]

Cited in 57 Wash. 353; 58 Wash. 359; 71 Wash. 222; 74 Wash. 655.

§ 3516. Bill of Exchange Defined.—A bill of exchange is an unconditional order in writing addressed by one person to another, signed by the person giving it, requiring the person to whom it is addressed to pay on demand or at a fixed or determinable future time a sum certain in money to order or to bearer. [L. '99, p. 362, § 126.]

Cited in 65 Wash. 672; 74 Wash. 329; 78 Wash. 125.

§ 3517. Bill not an Assignment—Drawee Liable on Acceptance.—A bill of itself does not operate as an assignment of the funds in the hands of the drawee available for the payment thereof, and the drawee is not liable on the bill unless and until he accepts the same. [L. '99, p. 363, § 127.]

Cited in 74 Wash. 329; 78 Wash. 125.

§ 3518. Joint Drawees.—A bill may be addressed to two or more drawees jointly, whether they are partners or not; but not to two or more drawees in the alternative or in succession. [L. '99, p. 363, § 128.]

§ 3519. Inland and Foreign Bills Defined.—An inland bill of exchange is a bill which is, or on its face purports to be, both drawn and payable within this state. Any other bill is a foreign bill. Unless the contrary appears on the face of the bill, the holder may treat it as an inland bill. [L. '99, p. 363, § 129.]

§ 3520. Bill may be Promissory Note.—Where in a bill drawer and drawee are the same person, or where the drawee is a fictitious person, or a person not having capacity to contract, the holder may treat the instrument, at his option, either as a bill of exchange or a promissory note. [L. '99, p. 363, § 130.]

Cited in 61 Wash. 421.

§ 3521. Referee in Case of Need.—The drawer of a bill and any indorser may insert thereon the name of a person to whom the holder may resort in case of need, that is to say in case the bill is dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment. Such person is called the referee in case of need. It is in the option of the holder to resort to the referee in case of need or not as he may see fit. [L. '99, p. 363, § 131.]

§ 3522. Acceptance Defined.—The acceptance of a bill is the signification by the drawee of his assent to the order of the drawer. The acceptance must be in writing and signed by the drawee. It must not express that the drawee will perform his promise by any other means than the payment of money. [L. '99, p. 363, § 132.]

Cited in 74 Wash. 329; 78 Wash. 126.

§ 3524. Acceptance on Separate Paper.—Where an acceptance is written on a paper other than the bill itself, it does not bind the acceptor except in favor of a person to whom it is shown and who, on the faith thereof, receives the bill for value. [L. '99, p. 364, § 134.]

§ 3525. Promise to Accept, Effect of.—An unconditional promise in writing to accept a bill before it is drawn is deemed an actual acceptance in favor of every person who, upon the faith thereof, receives the bill for value. [L. '99, p. 364, § 135.]

§ 3526. Grace.—The drawee is allowed twenty-four hours after presentment in which to decide whether or not he will accept the bill; but the acceptance if given dates as of the day of presentation. [L. '99, p. 364, § 136.]

§ 3527. When Acceptance Presumed.—Where a drawee to whom a bill is delivered for acceptance destroys the same, or refuses within twenty-four hours after such delivery, or within such other period as the holder may allow, to return the bill accepted or nonaccepted to the holder, he will be deemed to have accepted the same. [L. '99, p. 364, § 137.]

§ 3528. Time of Acceptance.—A bill may be accepted before it has been signed by the drawer, or while otherwise incomplete, or when it is overdue, or after it has been dishonored by a previous refusal to accept, or by nonpayment. But when a bill payable after sight is dishonored by nonacceptance and the drawee subsequently accepts it, the holder, in the absence of any different agreement, is entitled to have the bill accepted as of the date of the first presentment. [L. '99, p. 364, § 138.]

§ 3529. Acceptance Either General or Qualified.—An acceptance is either general or qualified. A general acceptance assents without qualification to the order of the drawer. A qualified acceptance in express terms varies the effect of the bill as drawn. [L. '99, p. 364, § 139.]

Cited in 78 Wash. 126.

§ 3530. General Acceptance Defined.—An acceptance to pay at a particular place is a general acceptance, unless it expressly states that the bill is to be paid there only and not elsewhere. [L. '99, p. 364, § 140.]

§ 3531. Qualified Acceptance Defined.—An acceptance is qualified, which is—

1. Conditional, that is to say, which makes payment by the acceptor dependent on the fulfillment of a condition therein stated;

2. Partial, that is to say, an acceptance to pay part only of the amount for which the bill is drawn;

3. Local, that is to say, an acceptance to pay only at a particular place;

4. Qualified as to time;

5. The acceptance of some one or more of the drawees, but not of all. [L. '99, p. 364, § 141.]

Cited in 78 Wash. 126, 127.

§ 3532. Qualified Acceptance, Rights of Parties Under.—The holder may refuse to take a qualified acceptance, and if he does not obtain an unqualified acceptance, he may treat the bill as dishonored by nonacceptance. Where a qualified acceptance is taken, the drawer and indorsers are discharged from liability on the bill, unless they have expressly or impliedly authorized the holder to take a qualified acceptance, or subsequently assent thereto. When the drawer or an indorser receives notice of a qualified acceptance, he must, within a reasonable time, express his dissent to the holder, or he will be deemed to have assented thereto. [L. '99, p. 365, § 142.]

§ 3533. Presentment for Acceptance, When Necessary.—Presentment for acceptance must be made—

1. Where the bill is payable after sight, or in any other case, where presentment for acceptance is necessary in order to fix the maturity of the instrument; or

2. Where the bill expressly stipulates that it shall be presented for acceptance; or

3. Where the bill is drawn payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee.

In no other case is presentment for acceptance necessary in order to render any party to the bill liable. [L. '99, p. 365, § 143.]

§ 3534. Discharge of Drawer by Failure to Present.—Except as herein otherwise provided, the holder of a bill which is required by the next preceding section to be presented for acceptance must either present it for acceptance or negotiate it within a reasonable time. If he fail to do so, the drawer and all indorsers are discharged. [L. '99, p. 365, § 144.]

§ 3535. Presentment to Whom and When.—Presentment for acceptance must be made by or on behalf of the holder at a reasonable hour, on a business day and before the bill is overdue, to the drawer or some person authorized to accept or refuse acceptance on his behalf; and—

1. Where a bill is addressed to two or more drawees who are not partners, presentment must be made to them all, unless one has authority to accept or refuse acceptance for all, in which case presentment may be made to him only.

2. Where the drawee is dead, presentment may be made to his personal representative;

3. Where the drawee has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, presentment may be made to him or to his trustee or assignee. [L. '99, p. 365, § 145.]

§ 3536. Presentment on What Days.—A bill may be presented for acceptance on any day on which negotiable instruments may be presented for payment under the provisions of sections 3463 and 3475½. [L. '15, p. 547, § 2. Cf. L. '99, p. 366, § 146.]

§ 3537. Failure to Present Excusable, When.—Where the holder of a bill drawn payable elsewhere than at the place of business or the residence of the drawee has not time with the exercise of reasonable diligence to present the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment on the day that it falls due, the delay caused by presenting the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment is excused and does not discharge the drawers and indorsers. [L. '99, p. 366, § 147.]

§ 3538. Presentment Excused, When.—Presentment for acceptance is excused and a bill may be treated as dishonored by nonacceptance, in either of the following cases—

1. Where the drawee is dead, or has absconded, or is a fictitious person, or a person not having capacity to contract by bill;

2. Where, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, presentment cannot be made;

3. Where, although presentment has been irregular, acceptance has been refused on some other ground. [L. '99, p. 366, § 148.]

§ 3539. Dishonor by Nonacceptance.—A bill is dishonored by nonacceptance,—

1. When it is duly presented for acceptance and such an acceptance as is prescribed by this act is refused or cannot be obtained; or

2. When presentment for acceptance is excused and the bill is not accepted. [L. '99, p. 366, § 149.]

§ 3540. Dishonored When not Promptly Accepted.—Where a bill is duly presented for acceptance, and is not accepted within the prescribed time, the person presenting it must treat the bill as dishonored by nonacceptance or he loses the right of recourse against the drawer and indorser. [L. '99, p. 367, § 150.]

§ 3541. Effect of Dishonor by Nonacceptance.—When a bill is dishonored by nonacceptance, an immediate right of recourse against the drawers and indorsers accrues to the holder and no presentment for payment is necessary. [L. '99, p. 367, § 151.]

§ 3542. Protest Necessary on Foreign Bills.—Where a foreign bill appearing on its face to be such is dishonored by nonacceptance, it must be duly protested for nonacceptance, and where such a bill which has not previously been dishonored by nonacceptance is dishonored by nonpayment it must be duly protested for nonpayment. If it is not so protested, the drawer and indorsers are discharged. Where a bill does not appear on its face to be a foreign bill, protest thereof in case of dishonor is unnecessary. [L. '99, p. 367, § 152.]

See § 3508, supra.

§ 3543. What Protest must Specify.—The protest must be annexed to the bill, or must contain a copy thereof, and must be under the hand and seal of the notary making it, and must specify—

1. The time and place of presentment;

2. The fact that presentment was made and the manner thereof;

3. The cause or reason for protesting the bill;

4. The demand made and the answer given, if any, or the fact that the drawee or acceptor could not be found. [L. '99, p. 367, § 153.]

See infra, § 8300, record of protests.

§ 3544. Who may Make Protest.—Protest may be made by,—

1. A notary public; or

2. By any respectable [responsible] resident of the place where the bill is dishonored, in the presence of two or more credible witnesses. [L. '99, p. 367, § 154.]

See infra, § 8298, notaries may.

§ 3545. When Protest must be Made.—When a bill is protested, such protest must be made on the day of its dishonor, unless delay is excused as herein provided. When a bill has been duly noted, the protest may be subsequently extended as of the date of the noting. [L. '99, p. 367, § 155.]

§ 3546. Place of Protest.—A bill must be protested at the place where it is dishonored, except that when a bill drawn payable at the place of business, or residence, of some person other than the drawee, has been dishonored by nonacceptance, it must be protested for nonpayment at the place where it is expressed to be payable, and no further presentment for payment to, or demand on, the drawee is necessary. [L. '99, p. 368, § 156.]

§ 3547. Protest for Both Nonacceptance and Nonpayment.—A bill which has been protested for nonacceptance may be subsequently protested for nonpayment. [L. '99, p. 368, § 157.]

§ 3548. Insolvency, Effect of.—Where the acceptor has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, before the bill matures, the holder may cause the bill to be protested for better security against the drawer and indorsers. [L. '99, p. 368, § 158.]

§ 3549. Protest Excused, When.—Protest is dispensed with by any circumstances which would dispense with notice of dishonor. Delay in noting or protesting is excused when delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder and not imputable to his default, misconduct, or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, the bill must be noted or protested with reasonable diligence. [L. '99, p. 368, § 159.]

§ 3550. Lost Bill.—Where a bill is lost or destroyed or is wrongly detained from the person entitled to hold it, protest may be made on a copy or written particulars thereof. [L. '99, p. 368, § 160.]

§ 3551. Acceptance for Honor.—Where a bill of exchange has been protested for dishonor by nonacceptance or protested for better security and is not overdue, any person not being a party already liable thereon may, with the consent of the holder, intervene and accept the bill supra protest for the honor of any party liable thereon or for the honor of the person for whose account the bill is drawn. The acceptance for honor may be for part only of the sum for which the bill is drawn; and where there has been an acceptance for honor for one party, there may be a further acceptance by a different person for the honor of another party. [L. '99, p. 368, § 161.]

§ 3552. How Made.—An acceptance for honor supra protest must be in writing and indicate that it is an acceptance for honor, and must be signed by the acceptor for honor. [L. '99, p. 369, § 162.]

§ 3553. Presumed for Honor of Drawer.—Where an acceptance for honor does not expressly state for whose honor it is made, it is deemed to be an acceptance for the honor of the drawer. [L. '99, p. 369, § 163.]

§ 3554. Liability of Acceptor for Honor.—The acceptor for honor is liable to the holder and to all parties to the bill subsequent to the party for whose honor he has accepted. [L. '99, p. 369, § 164.]

§ 3555. Acceptor for Honor's Undertaking.—The acceptor for honor by such acceptance engages that he will on due presentment pay the bill according to the terms of his acceptance: Provided, it shall not have been paid by the drawee: And provided also, that it shall have been duly presented for payment and protested for nonpayment and notice of dishonor given to him. [L. '99, p. 369, § 165.]

§ 3556. Maturity of Bill Accepted for Honor.—Where a bill payable after sight is accepted for honor, its maturity is calculated from the date of the noting for nonacceptance and not from the date of the acceptance for honor. [L. '99, p. 369, § 166.]

§ 3557. When Protest Necessary.—Where a dishonored bill has been accepted for honor supra protest or contains a reference in case of need, it must be protested for nonpayment before it is presented for payment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need. [L. '99, p. 369, § 167.]

§ 3558. Presentment for Payment to Acceptor for Honor.—Presentment for payment to the acceptor for honor must be made as follows:

1. If it is to be presented in the place where the protest for nonpayment was made, it must be presented not later than the day following its maturity.

2. If it is to [be] presented in some other place than the place where it was protested, then it must be forwarded within the time specified in section 3494. [L. '99, p. 369, § 168.]

§ 3559. Delay in Presentment Excused.—The provisions of section 3472 apply where there is delay in making presentment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need. [L. '99, p. 370, § 169.]

§ 3560. Protest Necessary.—When the bill is dishonored by the acceptor for honor it must be protested for nonpayment by him. [L. '99, p. 370, § 170.]

§ 3561. Payment for Honor.—Where a bill has been protested for nonpayment, any person may intervene and pay it supra protest for the honor of any person liable thereon or for the honor of the person for whose account it was drawn. [L. '99, p. 370, § 171.]

§ 3562. Attestation by Notary.—The payment for honor supra protest in order to operate as such and not as a mere voluntary payment must be attested by a notarial act of honor, which may be appended to the protest or form an extension to it. [L. '99, p. 370, § 172.]

§ 3563. Declaration Necessary.—The notarial act of honor must be founded on a declaration made by the payer for honor, or by his agent in that behalf, declaring his intention to pay the bill for honor and for whose honor he pays. [L. '99, p. 370, § 173.]

§ 3564. Preference Between Two Offering Payment.—Where two or more persons offer to pay a bill for the honor of different parties, the person whose payment will discharge most parties to the bill is to be given the preference. [L. '99, p. 370, § 174.]

§ 3565. Payer for Honor Subrogated.—Where a bill has been paid for honor, all parties subsequent to the party for whose honor it is paid are discharged, but the payer for honor is subrogated for, and succeeds to, both the rights and duties of the holder as regards the party for whose honor he pays and all parties liable to the latter. [L. '99, p. 370, § 175.]

§ 3566. Refusal to Receive Payment Supra Protest.—Where the holder of a bill refuses to receive payment supra protest, he loses his right of recourse against any party who would have been discharged by such payment. [L. '99, p. 370, § 176.]

§ 3567. Payer for Honor Entitled to Bill and Protest.—The payer for honor, on paying to the holder the amount of the bill and the notarial expenses incidental to its dishonor, is entitled to receive both the bill itself and the protest. [L. '99, p. 370, § 177.]

§ 3568. When Set Constitutes One Bill.—Where a bill is drawn in a set, each part of the set being numbered and containing a reference to the other parts, the whole of the parts constitutes one bill. [L. '99, p. 370, § 178.]

§ 3569. Negotiation of Parts to Different Holders.—Where two or more parts of a set are negotiated to different holders in due course, the holder whose title first accrues is as between such holders the true owner of the bill. But nothing in this section affects the rights of a person who in due course accepts or pays the part first presented to him. [L. '99, p. 371, § 179.]

§ 3570. Indorsement to Different Parties—Liability.—Where the holder of a set indorses two or more parts to different persons, he is liable on every such part, and every indorser subsequent to him is liable on the part he has himself indorsed, as if such parts were separate bills. [L. '99, p. 371, § 180.]

§ 3571. Acceptance of Different Parts.—The acceptance may be written on any part and it must be written on one part only. If the drawee accepts more than one part, and such accepted parts are negotiated to different holders in due course, he is liable on every such part as if it were a separate bill. [L. '99, p. 371, § 181.]

§ 3572. Payment, When a Part not Delivered.—When the acceptor of a bill drawn in a set pays it without requiring the part bearing his acceptance to be delivered up to him, and that part at maturity is outstanding in the hands of a holder in due course, he is liable to the holder thereon. [L. '99, p. 371, § 182.]

§ 3573. Discharge of Part Discharges Whole.—Except as herein otherwise provided where any one part of a bill drawn in a set is discharged by payment or otherwise the whole bill is discharged. [L. '99, p. 371, § 183.]

§ 3574. Promissory Note Defined.—A negotiable promissory note within the meaning of this act is an unconditional promise in writing made by one person to another signed by the maker engaging to pay on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time, a sum certain in money to order or to bearer. Where a note is drawn to the maker's own order, it is not complete until indorsed by him. [L. '99, p. 371, § 184.]

§ 3575. Check Defined.—A check is a bill of exchange drawn on a bank, payable on demand. Except as herein otherwise provided, the provisions of this act applicable to a bill of exchange payable on demand apply to a check. [L. '99, p. 371, § 185.]

Cited in 65 Wash. 672; 85 Wash. 467.

§ 3576. Presentment of Check.—A check must be presented for payment within a reasonable time after its issue or the drawer will be discharged from liability thereon to the extent of the loss caused by the delay. [L. '99, p. 372, § 186.]

Cited in 85 Wash. 467, 471.

§ 3577. Certification an Acceptance.—Where a check is certified by the bank on which it is drawn, the certification is equivalent to an acceptance. [L. '99, p. 372, § 187.]

§ 3578. Certification Discharges Drawer.—Where the holder of a check procures it to be accepted or certified, the drawer and all indorsers are discharged from liability thereon. [L. '99, p. 372, § 188.]

§ 3579. Check, not an Assignment.—A check of itself does not operate as an assignment of any part of the funds to the credit of the drawer with the bank, and the bank is not liable to the holder unless and until it accepts or certifies the check. [L. '99, p. 372, § 189.]

§ 3581. Definition of Terms.—In this act unless the context otherwise requires,—

"Acceptance" means an acceptance completed by delivery or notification.

"Action" includes counterclaim and setoff.

"Bank" includes any person or association of persons carrying on the business of banking, whether incorporated or not.

"Bearer" means the person in possession of a bill or note which is payable to bearer.

"Bill" means bill of exchange, and "note" means negotiable promissory note.

3589. Commissioners to fix rate of bounty offered.
3590. Notice of offering bounty.
3591. Payment of bounties—Records of.
3592. Revocation of offer.
3593. State bounties on cougar, lynx, wildcat, coyote and wolf.
3594. Proof of killing—Burning identification.
3595. Penalty for fraud.
3596. County credit for bounties paid.
3597. Bounty on seals and sea-lions.
3598. Proof of killing—Affidavit.
3599. Delivery of scalps—Certificate—Destruction of scalps.
3600. Scalp, of what to consist.

§ 3587. County Commissioners may Offer Bounties for Killing Wild Animals.—The county commissioners of the several counties of this state are hereby authorized to offer and pay out of the county funds of the county treasury a bounty for the scalps of cougars, or panthers, or mountain lions, black or cinnamon bears, wildcats, black and gray wolves, muskrats, squirrels, lynx, and coyotes. [Cf. L. '77, p. 324, § 1; L. '79, p. 141, § 2; Cd. '81, § 2557; L. '86, p. 112, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2418.]

For former laws on this subject see L. '54, pp. 407, 408; L. '63, pp. 494, 495; L. '71, p. 62; repealed by L. '73, p. 483.

§ 3588. Limit of Amount of Such Bounties.—The bounty provided for in this act, shall not exceed, for each scalp, as follows: For each mountain lion, cougar, or panther, not more than five dollars; for each black or cinnamon bear, not more than four dollars; for each black or gray wolf, not more than five dollars; for each wildcat, not more than two dollars; for each coyote, not more than one dollar; for each lynx, not more than two dollars; for each muskrat caught within fifty yards of any dike or dam, not less than ten nor more than twenty cents; and for each squirrel, not more than five cents: Provided, that in the county of Clarke, the board of commissioners may offer and pay double the amount specified as a bounty for killing the animals named. [Cf. L. '77, p. 324, § 2; L. '79, p. 141, § 3; Cd. '81, § 2558; L. '86, p. 112, § 2; 1 H. C., § 2419.]

"Act" in this section refers to §§ 3587–3592.

§ 3589. Commissioners to Fix Rate of Bounty Offered.—Whenever, in the opinion of the board of county commissioners, it shall be necessary to offer a bounty as provided in this act, they shall so order in open court, and cause the order to be spread upon the minutes of the session. Said order shall fix the rate to be offered by the county for scalps, and may contain anything else necessary for carrying out and not inconsistent with the provisions of this act. [Cf. L. '77, p. 324, § 3; L. '79, p. 142, § 4; Cd. '81, § 2559; 1 H. C., § 2420.]

§ 3590. Notice of Offering Bounty.—It shall be the duty of the county auditor, whenever the county commissioners shall order that a bounty shall be paid, as provided in the preceding section, to give notice of the order of the board by posting, or causing to be posted, one notice in each precinct in the county; said notice shall state the amounts fixed by the board per scalp for each animal. [Cf. L. '77, p. 324, § 4; L. '79, p. 142, § 5; Cd. '81, § 2560; 1 H. C., § 2421.]

§ 3591. Payment of Bounties—Records of.—Whenever any persons shall have any scalp of any animal named in this act upon which they wish to obtain bounty, they shall present the same to the county auditor, whose duty it shall be to examine the same, and ascertain if they have both ears upon them, and such person shall also present to the auditor a bill certified by affidavit that the animal or animals were killed within the county, and that it is just and correct; said bill shall be audited by the county auditor, and presented to the board of county commissioners at their next regular meeting, whose duty it shall be to order the same paid out of the treasury in like moneys [manner] as other claims against the county. It shall also be the duty of the auditor to keep a book provided for the purpose, in which he shall enter the names of all persons presenting scalps, the number and kind presented, and, after allowance by the board, the amount allowed to each person, which book shall be presented at each regular session for their examination and approval. The said auditor shall destroy said scalps, and return the proceedings to each regular session of the board of county commissioners. [Cf. L. '77, p. 324, §§ 5, 6; L. '79, p. 142, §§ 6, 7; Cd. '81, § 2561; 1 H. C., § 2422.]

"Act" in this section refers to §§ 3587–3592.
See infra, § 3594, identification to secure state bounty.

§ 3592. Revocation of Offer.—The county commissioners may, at any regular term of the court, revoke their orders offering bounty for scalps. [Cf. L. '77, p. 325, § 7; L. '79, p. 142, § 8; Cd. '81, § 2562; 1 H. C., § 2423.]

§ 3593. State Bounties on Cougar, Lynx, Wildcat, Coyote, and Wolf.—Any person who shall kill any cougar, lynx, wildcat, coyote or timber wolf in the state of Washington shall be entitled to a bounty therefor as follows: For each cougar, twenty dollars ($20); for each lynx or wildcat, five dollars ($5); for each coyote, one dollar ($1); and for each timber wolf, fifteen dollars ($15). [L. '09, p. 689, § 1.]

Wolves other than "timber" wolves: See § 3587, supra.

§ 3594. Proof of Killing—Burning Identification.—Upon the production to the county auditor of any county of the entire hide or pelt and right fore leg to the knee joint intact of any cougar, lynx, wildcat, coyote or timber wolf, killed in such county, each of which hides or pelts shall show two ears, eye holes, skin to tip of nose, and right fore leg to the knee joint intact, the county auditor shall require satisfactory proof that such animal was killed in such county. When the county auditor is satisfied that such animal was killed in his county, he shall cut from such hide or pelt the bone of the right fore leg to the knee as aforesaid which shall be burned in the presence of such auditor and one other county official, who shall certify to the date and place of such burning. [L. '09, p. 689, § 2. Cf. L. '05, p. 122, § 2.]

See supra, § 3591, identification to secure county bounties.

§ 3595. Penalty for Fraud.—Any person or persons obtaining or attempting to obtain said bounty on the hide or pelts of any cougar, wildcat, lynx, coyote, or timber wolf, killed more than thirty days prior to the date of obtaining or attempting to obtain said bounty or that was killed outside of the boundaries of the county in which the same was offered, or make any other false or fraudulent representation for the purpose of obtaining such bounty, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the state penitentiary for a period of time not to exceed five years, or shall be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the court. [L. '09, p. 689, § 3. Cf. L. '05, p. 24, § 6; L. '05, p. 122, § 4.]

§ 3596. County Credit for Bounties Paid.—The amount paid by any county for scalps under this act shall be credited to it by the state auditor upon receipt by the state auditor of a sworn statement from the county auditor as to the amount of warrants issued under the provisions of this act in said county, which statement shall be rendered to the state auditor by each county quarterly, and the state auditor shall make a charge against the general fund of the state for any such credits: Provided, that the credits herein provided for shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) for each biennial period. [L. '05, p. 24, § 4; L. '09, p. 690, § 4.]

"Act" refers to §§ 3593–3596.

§ 3597. Bounty on Seals and Sea-lions.—There shall be paid a bounty in the sum of one dollar for the killing of each common seal (phoca vitulina) and the sum of two dollars and fifty cents for the killing of each sea-lion, when killed within the waters of the state of Washington, or within the waters of the Pacific Ocean within one marine league of the Washington shore: Provided, however, that no more than twenty-five hundred dollars shall be paid in any year as a bounty under the provisions of this act. [L. '03, p. 344, § 1.]

"Act" refers to the following sections of this Title.

§ 3598. Proof of Killing Affidavit.—Any person killing or causing to be killed within the waters of the state of Washington, or within the Pacific Ocean within one marine league of the Washington shore, any common seal (phoca vitulina), or any sea-lion, shall scalp or cause to be scalped said seal or sea-lion and shall take the scalp to the fish commissioner of the state of Washington, or any deputy, and shall make an affidavit that the animal from which the scalp was taken, was killed within the state of Washington, or in the Pacific Ocean within one marine league of the Washington shore, together with date of killing, which said affidavit shall be in the following form:

State of Washington,
County of ——, } ss.

I, (A. B.), being first duly sworn, on oath depose and say, that I killed (in case the party making the affidavit did not kill, then he must include herein that he saw killed, and here insert the kind killed and the place and the time when killed), said animals within the state of Washington, or (if in the waters of the Pacific Ocean), within one marine league of the Washington shore, and that the scalp or scalps, which are here presented, are the identical scalps taken from said animals and which animals were killed within the year 190—.

Signed, ——.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this —— day of ——, 190—.

—— ——,

Fish commissioner of the state of Washington.

That thereupon said fish commissioner, or his deputy shall immediately investigate the truth of said affidavit and all allegations therein, and shall be authorized to demand additional evidence, and the fish commissioner and any deputy appointed by him, is hereby authorized to administer oaths and take the affidavit hereinbefore provided. [L. '03, p. 345, § 2.]

§ 3599. Delivery of Scalps—Certificate—Destruction of Scalps.—The party killing said animals and presenting said affidavit mentioned in the preceding section shall be required to deliver all scalps to the fish commissioner, or the deputy taking the affidavit. Thereupon the fish commissioner, upon being satisfied the party making the affidavit actually killed or caused to be killed the number of animals named in his affidavit, and the scalps presented are in number identical with the number and kind stated in the affidavit, and all delivered to the fish commissioner, shall issue a certificate in duplicate which shall be in the following form:

State of Washington, }
County of ——, } ss.

No. ——.

This is to certify, that —— has satisfactorily proved to me that he killed —— within the waters of the state of Washington, and is entitled to receive from the state treasurer the sum of —— therefor.

—— ——,

Fish commissioner of the state of Washington.

Provided, that in case the affidavit and scalps herein provided are presented to a deputy fish commissioner, the deputy shall investigate the statements contained in said affidavit, and he shall forward the said affidavit, together with his report in writing thereon, to the fish commissioner, and the fish commissioner shall thereupon investigate the same and if satisfied of the truth of said affidavit, shall issue the certificate hereinbefore mentioned, but the deputy fish commissioner shall not destroy the scalps delivered to him until the fish commissioner issues the certificate. No deputy shall be permitted to issue any certificate hereunder. Each certificate and duplicate shall be correctly and consecutively numbered, the original shall be delivered to the party making affidavit, and the duplicate shall be numbered the same as the original and shall be immediately forwarded to the state auditor to be filed in his office. The party receiving such (such) certificate, or his assigns or order, upon presentation of such certificate to the state auditor shall be entitled to be paid the amount thereof and the state auditor upon said certificate being presented to him shall compare the same with the duplicate thereof and if found in all respects correct shall issue a warrant for the amount thereof. The fish commissioner shall immediately after issuing the certificate hereinbefore mentioned, destroy all scalps presented, but shall preserve and keep of record all affidavits, and shall keep correct record of the number and amount of each certificate issued, in a book provided for that purpose, and when the total amount of certificates issued shall equal twenty-five hundred dollars ($2,500) in any one year, no more certificates shall be issued for that year, and no further bounty paid for that year. [L. '03, p. 345, § 3.]

§ 3600. Scalp, of What to Consist.—A scalp, referred to in this act, shall consist of both ears, of the seal or sea-lion, connected by a strip of skin that grew between them, at least two inches wide, intact. [L. '03, p. 347, § 4.]

3601-25. Names prohibited.
3601-26. Act exclusive—Existing contracts not impaired.
3601-27. Offenses.

§ 3601-1. Creation of Building and Loan Associations, etc.—Ten or more persons, citizens of the state of Washington, may form a savings and loan association or savings and loan society for the purpose of accumulating the savings and funds of its members and lending its shareholders or others the funds so accumulated by the making and acknowledging in quadruplicate and by filing as hereinafter required articles of incorporation specifying:

(a) The name of the proposed association, which shall terminate with the words "Savings and Loan Association," or "Savings and Loan Society."

(b) The city, town or village and the county wherein the principal place of business of the association is to be located and which must be within the state of Washington.

(c) The number of its directors, which shall not be less than seven nor more than fifteen. The first board of directors shall hold office for a term to be specified in said articles of not less than two, and not more than six months from the time said association is authorized to do business.

(d) The names, occupation and postoffice addresses of its first directors.

(e) The names, occupation and postoffice addresses of the subscribers to the articles of incorporation, and a statement of the number of shares which each has agreed to take. The matured value of the total number of shares so subscribed shall be at least twenty-five thousand dollars.

(f) The limit of capital to be accumulated.

(g) The time of duration of said association, which shall not exceed fifty years.

Said articles shall be filed in the first instance in the office of the state auditor pending his approval thereof and of the by-laws of said association as hereinafter provided for.

The articles of incorporation may be amended by a vote of at least two-thirds in number of the shareholders voting at any general meeting, or by a special meeting called for that purpose, and a copy of the resolution making said amendment shall be certified in quadruplicate by the president and secretary under the seal of said corporation, and when so certified shall be so filed and kept the same as in the case of original articles, and from the time of said filing, said amendment shall have the same effect as if embraced in the original articles of incorporation: Provided, however, that no increase in the authorized capital shall be made unless three-fourths of the capital previously authorized has actually been issued. [L. '13, p. 326. § 1.]

§ 3601–2. By-laws—Approval.—Each association shall adopt by-laws for its government and therein describe the manner in which its business shall be transacted, which by-laws shall be in conformity with the provisions of this act, and the laws of this state, and at all times be open to the inspection of the state auditor and the members of the association at its home office. All by-laws shall be subject to the approval of the state auditor before going into effect, and in case any provision in such by-laws shall be contrary to the provisions of this act, or to the laws of this state, or be detrimental to the interests of the members of such organization, or against public policy, he may, under the advice and consent of the attorney general, require the same to be stricken out. [L. '13, p. 327, § 2.]

"This act" refers to this chapter.

§ 3601–3. Responsibility of Incorporators.—Whenever said articles of incorporation are in due form and regularly executed and the by-laws have been duly approved as above required, the state auditor thereupon shall ascertain from the best source of information at his command the responsibility, character and general fitness of the incorporators. If he shall be satisfied concerning the several matters specified above, he shall, within a reasonable time, issue under his hand and official seal a certificate reciting in substance the filing in his office of the articles of incorporation and by-laws; that said articles and by-laws conform to all the requirements of law; that he has approved the same, and that he verily believes the incorporators are fit and proper to conduct the business of a savings and loan association as defined in this act and said by-laws. Said certificate shall be made in quadruplicate and attached to each copy of the articles of incorporation, one of which shall be retained by the state auditor and the other three shall be returned to the incorporators who shall forthwith file one copy thereof in the office of the secretary of state, one in the office of the auditor of the county in which the chief place of business of said association is located, and the other shall be retained by the association, whereupon the incorporation of said association shall be deemed complete. [L. '13, p. 328, § 3.]

§ 3601–4. Oath of Directors—Bonds.—Each officer and director, when appointed or elected, shall take an oath that he will, so far as the duty devolves upon him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of such association, and will not knowingly violate the by-laws or any of the provisions of law applicable to such association.

Each officer or agent having the custody of money or securities of an association shall be required to give bond to such association in an amount to be determined by the board of directors of such association commensurate with his liability. [L. '13, p. 328, § 4.]

§ 3601–5. Limitation on Charges, etc.—The membership of the association shall consist of those persons holding shares therein.

The by-laws may provide for an entrance, membership or withdrawal fee, but the total of such fees shall not exceed two dollars upon each share, and no other fee, penalties, fines or forfeitures shall be charged, except reasonable charges for expenses in closing loans, and for delinquency in making payments on stock and loans.

The above provision shall not apply to dividends which may revert to the association as provided in section 3601–7. [L. '13, p. 329, § 5.]

§ 3601–6. Value of Shares—Free Shares—Stock.—The capital of every such association shall consist of the accumulated payments made by its members and dividends credited thereon, and shall be represented by shares. Every share issued shall have a matured value of one hundred dollars. Every such association shall be either permanent or serial in character as provided by the terms of its by-laws. A permanent association may issue shares at any time and credit its dividends upon the pass-books of its members. A serial association may issue shares in series and credit its dividends equally upon each share issued in such series. No shares of a prior series shall be issued after the issuing in a later series, when issued upon the serial plan, except at the book value at the last distribution of profits plus the dues and accumulated earnings thereon since such distribution.

Shares which have not been transferred to the association as security for the repayment of a loan shall be called free shares. Shares that have been so transferred shall be called pledged shares.

No preferred stock shall be issued, i. e., stock upon which a different or stipulated rate of dividends shall be guaranteed or paid before or regardless of the amount of dividends distributed to other classes of shares, neither shall any shares be issued which shall be exempt from bearing their pro rata portion of loss: Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be held to prohibit any association already having reserve stock outstanding from continuing to have an equal amount of such stock outstanding, and from issuing, if necessary, additional reserve fund stock so as to equal five per cent of the capital as defined in this section; and when so provided in its by-laws, such reserve fund stock may participate in all earnings equitably with the general stock and be chargeable with all real estate taken under foreclosure or otherwise in the adjustment of delinquent loans together with all direct losses of whatever nature sustained by the association in the general course of business and in consideration of such guaranty against loss, and when provided in the by-laws such stock may receive additional dividends, and such stock shall not be subject to withdrawal until all other classes of stock and all other liabilities of the association shall first have been liquidated, and any such association may agree to mature its other classes of stock at a fixed time, providing any deficiency arising therefrom shall be chargeable only to such reserve fund stock.

Any association may issue the shares classified below when so provided by its by-laws:

(a) Installment shares upon which a regular stipulated payment of dues shall be made at stated periods expressed in the by-laws.

(b) Savings shares, upon which payments shall be made in such sums and at such times as the holder thereof may elect until the shares reach their matured value or are withdrawn.

(c) Fully paid shares, upon which a single payment amounting to one hundred dollars per share shall be paid at the time of subscription.

(d) Juvenile shares. Any association may issue juvenile shares to, or in the name of, any minor which shall be held for the exclusive right and benefit of such minor and free from the control or lien of all other persons; and the accumulated savings on these shares together with the dividends credited thereon shall be paid to the persons in whose name the shares have been issued and the receipt or acquittance of such minor shall be valid and sufficient release and discharge to the association for such accumulated savings, together with the dividends credited thereon or any part thereof. [L. '13, p. 329, § 6.]

§ 3601–7. Dividends.—Profits and losses shall be ascertained and distributed semi-annually or annually. Dividends shall be taken from the net earnings of the association and, subject to the provisions of section 3601–6 relating to reserve fund stock shall be distributed ratably to all classes of shares and to each share in proportion to the accumulation made thereon: Provided, that when stock is withdrawn within two years of its issuance, the withdrawing member shall receive only such proportion of the dividends as may be provided in the by-laws, but when such stock is more than two years old, the withdrawing member shall receive at least seventy-five per cent of the dividends. The remaining dividends may revert to the undivided earnings. No dividends shall be credited or paid except by a vote of the board of directors duly entered upon the minutes, whereupon shall be recorded the vote by ayes and nays. It shall be lawful for the association, in addition to the contingent fund required by section 3601–13, to hold in its fund of undivided earnings, such sums as the board of directors may from time to time deem necessary or wise: Provided, however, that when the undivided earnings, including the contingent fund, exceed fifteen per cent of the dues and dividends credited to members, the board of directors shall declare such extra dividend in excess of the dividend regularly apportioned, as may be necessary to distribute among the shareholders the accumulation in excess of such authorized surplus. [L. '13, p. 331, § 7.]

§ 3601–8. Loans, How Made—Investments.—For every loan made, except a loan from one association to another, a note or bond secured by first mortgage on improved real estate shall be taken, which security shall be conservatively worth at least twice the value of the loan. No mortgage loan shall be made except upon the report in writing of an appraiser or a committee of appraisers appointed by the board of directors, which report shall state the conservative value of the mortgage security. The directors in their discretion may also loan upon the security of the shares in the association to the amount of ninety per cent of their withdrawal value, and may loan upon or invest in bonds of the United States and of the state of Washington, and in such classes of bonds and warrants of the counties, school districts and other municipalities, as well as local improvement districts, in this state, as the state auditor may from time to time approve. Any association having a surplus for which there is no demand for loaning purposes or for the payment of withdrawals or matured shares, may loan the same to another domestic association, and such association may borrow from other associations or otherwise for loaning purposes or for the payment of withdrawals or matured shares: Provided, that no association shall borrow any amount or amounts which in the aggregate shall exceed twenty-five per cent of the actual value of mortgages on deposit with the state auditor, as shown by the last preceding semi-annual statement of the borrowing associations, as provided in section 3601–9.

In borrowing said amount or amounts for the purposes specified, any such association may, at its election, borrow the same or any part thereof upon its debenture bonds, maturing on or before five years after date and bearing interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually. In no case shall any such bonds be issued when there are sufficient funds on hand or receivable in time to meet approved applications for loans or for the payment of maturing stock or withdrawals of stock. Such debenture bonds may be retired by action of the board of directors at any time after one year from date of issue, by the secretary of the association giving notice in writing sixty days or more prior to the next interest date to the recorded holders thereof, and on return of said retired bonds, together with the coupons attached, said holders shall receive their par value. At the expiration of said interest period, the bonds so called shall cease to draw interest. Whenever the state auditor shall deem any indebtedness incurred under the provisions of this section to be detrimental to the interests of the shareholders of any such association, he shall notify such association to reduce its indebtedness to such amount as he shall consider reasonable, giving such association such reasonable time as may be necessary to effect such reduction of indebtedness. [L. '13, p. 332, § 8.]

§ 3601–9. Securities Deposited With State.—Every savings and loan association heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the laws of this state, and governed by this act, shall deposit and keep with the state auditor, or with a duly chartered trust company of this state, approved by the state auditor, in trust for all its members and creditors, all mortgages and notes secured thereby, received by it in the usual course of business. When deposited with a trust company such company shall certify to the state auditor the possession of such securities, and the same shall not be surrendered without the authority or sanction of the state auditor. All associations except such as confine their business operations wholly to the county in which such associations are incorporated and adjoining counties, not having or owning mortgages to the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars, shall deposit with the state auditor additional securities to make with the securities so owned and deposited a total value of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars. Such additional securities shall consist of bonds of the United States and of the state of Washington, and such classes of bonds and warrants of the counties, school districts and other municipalities, as well as local improvement districts, in said state, as the state auditor may from time to time approve, and such additional securities may be withdrawn from time to time when mortgage securities of corresponding value shall be deposited, as provided in this act, or when other securities of like character are substituted therefor, and it shall be the duty of the state auditor, from time to time, to examine said associations to ascertain whether all of its securities are deposited, as required by this act: Provided, that all securities heretofore taken in any other state, territory or nation, by any association organized under the laws of this state, and subject to the provisions of this act, and there deposited under the laws of such state, territory or nation, with some officer, authorized to receive the same, shall not be deposited with the auditor of the state of Washington. But in every such case a certificate of such deposit shall be filed with the auditor of this state, and renewed annually, together with a statement verified by the affidavit of some officer of such association, who has knowledge of the facts, showing all of the securities taken by such association, in such other state, territory or nation, at the time of the filing of such certificate; and in case any securities taken in any such state, territory or nation are not deposited there, then the same shall be deposited here, as required by this act.

Every foreign association doing business in this state and governed by this act shall deposit and keep with the auditor of this state, or with a duly chartered trust company of this state, approved by the state auditor, in trust for all its members and creditors in this state, all mortgages heretofore received by it in this state and now in effect, and all mortgages hereafter received by it in the usual course of its business in this state. Such securities shall be kept and dealt with by the state auditor or by such trust company in like manner as the securities deposited by savings and loan associations organized under the laws of this state. Every association governed by this act shall on or before the first day of February and on or before the first day of August in each year, file with the state auditor a verified statement of the total amount due to the association from the borrowers, upon the mortgage loans on deposit with the state auditor upon respectively the thirty-first day of December and the thirtieth day of June last preceding. Payments upon stock pledged to the association for a loan, which payments are accumulated for the purpose of meeting the loan at or prior to its maturity, shall be considered as payments upon such loan within the intent of this section. [L. '13, p. 333, § 9.]

§ 3601–10. Surrender of Securities.—All interest and dividends which may accrue on securities held by the state auditor or such trust company as provided for herein and all dues, or monthly payments, which may become payable on stock pledged as security for loans, and notes and mortgages for which are deposited in accordance with the provisions of this act, may be collected and retained by the association depositing such securities or mortgages, so long as such association remains solvent and faithfully performs all contracts with its members, and when any mortgage shall have been fully paid to said association the same shall be surrendered by said state auditor, or under his order, upon filing with him a certificate of the auditor of the county where the real estate is situated, to the effect that the satisfaction of said mortgage has been filed for record. Any mortgage upon which default has been made may be surrendered as aforesaid, upon filing with the state auditor an affidavit sworn to by the president and secretary of the association owning the same, stating that such mortgage is in default and that it is withdrawn for the purpose of foreclosure. [L. '13, p. 335, § 10.]

§ 3601-11. May Hold Real Estate—Limitation.—Any savings and loan association may purchase at any sale, public or private, any real estate upon which it may have a mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance or in which it may have any interest, and may sell, convey, lease or mortgage the same at pleasure to any person or persons, but shall not otherwise acquire or deal in real estate: Provided, that any such association may acquire such real estate or a leasehold interest therein as may be necessary or convenient for a location for the transaction of its business: Provided further, that no such association shall use more than ten per cent of its assets at any time in acquiring real estate for its business location: Provided further, that all real estate except that used for its business location shall be sold by said association within five years from and after the time that title thereto is acquired. [L. '13, p. 335, § 11.]

§ 3601-12. Checking Accounts Prohibited.—No savings and loan association shall carry any demand, commercial or checking account and no such association shall receive any savings account or any sum of money on deposit without issuing shares of stock for the same. [L. '13, p. 336, § 12.]

§ 3601-13. Contingent Fund.—At each periodical distribution of profits, unless such association already has issued paid-up reserve fund stock equal to five per cent of the amount credited to members to which losses may be chargeable as provided in section 3601-6, the board of directors shall reserve and carry to a contingent fund, a sum equal to at least five per cent of the net earnings during the period since the last previous dividend was declared, until such contingent fund shall be equal to at least five per cent of the amount credited to members. The directors may at any time carry to such contingent fund any further portion of the undivided earnings that in their discretion may seem wise, except as herein provided. Losses of the association may be paid therefrom, and whenever the contingent fund is reduced below five per cent the board of directors shall at each periodical distribution of profits carry to such contingent fund at least five per cent of the net earnings during the period since the last dividend was declared until such contingent fund shall again be equal to at least five per cent of the amount credited to members. [L. '13, p. 336, § 13.]

§ 3601–14. Losses.—Whenever the losses of an association exceed the contingent fund, or the reserve fund, if reserve fund stock has been issued as provided in section 3601–6, they may be charged against the undivided earnings, if any, and in the event that they also exceed such undivided earnings, shall be charged pro rata against all classes of shares according to the withdrawal value thereof. [L. '13, p. 336, § 14.]

§ 3601–15. Expenses.—The expenses of such association shall be paid from its earnings, and no deduction from dues shall be made either directly or indirectly for that purpose. No such association shall pay or be or become liable to pay either directly or indirectly in the course of any calendar year as salaries, commissions, fees or other compensation to its officers, directors, auditor, attorneys, agents, clerks and all other employees and for rent, advertising, and all other operating expenses, sums of money the aggregate of which shall exceed two and one-half per cent of the average amount of assets of such association during such year. The term "operating expenses" as used in this connection shall not be construed to include membership fees, taxes, assessments, repairs or insurance on real estate or commissions on the sale of real estate, or on the placing of loans, or any interest which the association may have paid or become liable to pay, proper legal charges for searching titles or the preparation of legal papers, expenses of foreclosure suits or other bona fide litigation, nor charges for examinations made by the direction of the state auditor. The provisions of this section, in so far as they limit the expenditure for expenses, shall not apply to any association whose accumulated capital is less than forty thousand dollars: Provided, however, that the annual expenses of every such latter association shall not exceed a total of one thousand dollars. The provisions of this section shall apply as well to foreign as to domestic corporations doing business under the permission and certificate of the state auditor and said auditor shall not renew such permission or issue such certificate to any corporation that shall have violated the provisions of this section. [L. '13, p. 337, § 15.]

§ 3601–16. Withdrawal of Shares—Payment of Value.—Shares shall not be withdrawn until after a lapse of three months from the time of issuance of such shares and not then except at the option of the association, and after one day's written notice of intention to withdraw such shares shall have been given subsequent to the expiration of such three months; but shares may be withdrawn at any time after one year from the time of issuance and after one day's written notice of such withdrawal has been given to the association. The withdrawing shareholder shall be paid the amount of the withdrawal value of the shares, as shown by the last prior distribution of profits and as determined by the by-laws, together with all the dues paid thereon since such distribution: Provided, that upon withdrawal of shares pledged to the association for a stock loan or stock loans, the association shall first deduct therefrom the indebtedness due the association. Withdrawals shall be paid in the order of their filing, except as hereinafter provided, and it shall be the duty of the secretary or other officer discharging such duties to enter upon each notice the order and date of such filing. Except as hereinafter provided, not more than two-thirds of the receipts of the association in any month shall be applied to the payment of withdrawals and matured shares without the consent of the board of directors. Whenever an application for withdrawal shall have been on file or the payment of matured shares demanded and either shall have remained unpaid for a period of six months, all the receipts of the association in any month from dues, loans repaid, and the proceeds of all other investments, shall, after the payment of expenses and general indebtedness, be applied toward the payment of withdrawals and matured stock; and the board of directors, or the state auditor, in his discretion, may direct that withdrawals be paid upon a ratable and proportionate basis. After filing the notice of withdrawal provided herein, the withdrawing member shall be entitled to the dividends credited to the same class of shares, until the final payment of his shares is made; and membership in the association shall remain unimpaired so long as any accumulation remains to his credit. No officer, director, attorney, clerk or agent of such association, and no person in any way interested or concerned in the management of its affairs shall discount or directly or indirectly purchase a share of any such association, whether filed for withdrawal or not, except by payment therefor of the withdrawal value of such share as determined herein. The board of directors of any association may retire all classes of free shares by enforcing withdrawals of the same: Provided, that the by-laws shall clearly state the manner in which such withdrawals may be enforced: And provided also, that the holders thereof shall be paid the full value of the shares, including, in such case, their proportion of the contingent fund. [L. '13, p. 337, § 16.]

§ 3601–17. Exemption from Taxation.—Shares held by members shall be exempt from taxation and the association itself shall not be taxable, except that its tangible personal and real property shall be taxed as other tangible personal and real property is taxed. [L. '13, p. 339, § 17.]

§ 3601–18. Annual Reports—License Fees.—On or before the first day of September in each year every savings and loan association doing business in this state shall deposit with the state auditor a report of its affairs and operations for the year ending on the thirtieth day of June immediately preceding. Such report shall be verified under oath by the president and secretary or by three directors of the association, and shall contain such information as the state auditor from time to time request. Upon filing such report, there shall be paid to the state auditor for the state general fund, in lieu of all other corporation fees or licenses, a fee determined as follows: If the assets of the association as shown by said report amount to fifty thousand dollars or less, a fee of ten dollars; if more than fifty thousand dollars and less than one hundred thousand dollars a fee of twenty dollars; if more than one hundred thousand dollars and less than two hundred thousand dollars, a fee of thirty dollars; if more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars and less than five hundred thousand dollars, a fee of forty dollars; if more than five hundred thousand dollars and less than one million dollars, a fee of sixty dollars; and if more than one million dollars, a fee of one hundred dollars. If such association shall fail to furnish to the auditor of the state any report required by this act, at the time so required, it shall forfeit the sum of twenty-five dollars per day for every day such report shall be delayed or withheld; and an action shall be started in the name of the state to recover such penalty and the same shall be paid into the treasury of the state. After receiving such report, the auditor, if satisfied that such association has complied with all the provisions of this act and is entitled to do business in this state, shall issue a certificate stating the compliance with such provisions, and that such association is entitled to do business in this state, which certificate shall be in force for the period of one year unless sooner revoked. [L. '13, p. 39, § 18.]

§ 3601–19. Examination—Inspector—Expenses.—The state auditor shall have supervision of all such associations doing business in this state, and shall be charged with the execution of the laws of this state relating thereto. At least annually but not oftener than twice a year except in cases of extreme necessity he shall make or cause to be made an examination into the affairs of all such associations doing business in this state. Such examinations shall be made by an inspector of savings and loan associations to be appointed by the state auditor, and who shall hold office during his pleasure. Such inspector shall be paid for the time actually spent in examining the affairs of any association at the rate of eight dollars per diem and railroad fare. Such compensation shall be paid by the association and where several associations are examined in the course of a single trip made by the examiner, the railroad fare shall be equitably proportioned by the state auditor among the associations so examined. All examinations made by such inspector shall be full and complete, and in making the same he shall have full access to, and may compel the production of all books, papers, moneys, and records of the association under examination, and may administer oaths to and examine the officers of such association or any person connected therewith as to its business and affairs, and any willful false swearing shall be deemed perjury and be punishable as such: Provided, whenever by the laws of the state under which any foreign association is organized, annual examinations of such association are required and are made pursuant thereto, then such foreign association shall not be examined hereunder: Provided, such foreign association shall furnish to the auditor of this state annually a certificate of the proper officer of such other state that he has made an examination pursuant to the laws of such other state, and that the affairs of such association are in accord with the laws of such other state: And provided further, that the auditor of this state may, whenever he deems it advisable, cause examination of such foreign association to be made as is required in the case of associations organized under the laws of this state. [L. '13, p. 340, § 19.]

§ 3601–20. State Auditor to Take Charge of Association, When—Receiver.—Whenever it shall appear to the state auditor that the affairs of any savings and loan association are in an unsound condition or that it is conducting its business in an unsafe or unlawful manner, the state auditor shall at once notify the board of directors of such association, giving them twenty days in which to restore its affairs to a safe and sound condition or to discontinue its illegal practices. If after twenty days such restoration shall not have been made, or such illegal practices shall not have been discontinued, the state auditor shall direct the inspector of savings and loan associations to take possession of all books, records and assets of every description of such association and hold and retain the possession of same pending the further proceedings herein specified. Should the board of directors, secretary or person in charge of such association refuse to permit the said inspector to take possession as aforesaid, the state auditor shall communicate such fact to the attorney general, whereupon it shall become the duty of the attorney general at once to institute such proceedings as may be necessary to place such inspector in immediate possession of the property of such association. Upon taking possession of the effects of the association as aforesaid said inspector shall prepare a full and true statement of the affairs and conditions of such association, including an itemized statement of its assets and liabilities, and shall receive and collect all debts, dues and claims belonging to it and pay the immediate and reasonable expenses of his trust. Said inspector shall be required to execute to the state auditor a good and sufficient bond in a sum required by the state auditor conditioned upon the faithful discharge of his duties as custodian of such association, which said bond shall be approved by the state auditor, and the expense of which shall be borne by the association under examination.

When the condition of such association has been fully ascertained, and it shall appear that the affairs of said association are in fact in an unsound condition, or that it is in fact continuing its business in an unsafe or unlawful manner, the state auditor shall report the facts to the attorney general and it shall thereupon become the duty of the attorney general to institute proceedings in the superior court of the proper county for the appointment of a receiver and for the dissolution of such association, or such other proceedings as the occasion may require. [L. '13, p. 341, § 20.]

§ 3601–21. Disbarred from State, When—Re-entry.—Any savings and loan association organized under the laws of any other state or territory that shall remove any action that shall be commenced against it in a court of this state to a United States court, or that shall fail to pay any judgment rendered against it upon a suit in any court in this state within sixty days after the rendition of final judgment in such case, or that shall fail to make reports to the state auditor as provided in this act, or to do any other act to be done or performed as required by law, and after the continued failure to do such act for twenty days after notice in writing from the state auditor of such failure, shall have no right or authority to do or transact any further business within the limits of this state, and the state auditor shall thereupon cause notice of the termination of such authority to do business to be mailed to such association, and to be published in some newspaper of general circulation at the capital of the state, and shall communicate the facts to the attorney general of this state; who shall institute such proceedings in the matter as the case may require: Provided, any such corporation may be again authorized to commence business upon such terms as the state auditor may deem just and proper, and upon full compliance with the provisions of this act. [L. '13, p. 342, § 21.]

§ 3601–22. Penalties.—Any officer, director or agent of any savings and loan association or any other person who shall sell or issue or knowingly cause to be sold or issued to any resident of this state, any stock of said association while said association does not have on deposit with the state auditor as required by this act, securities of the value and at the time herein prescribed, or while such association shall not have the certificate of the state auditor authorizing it to do business as herein prescribed shall be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 343, § 22.]

Cited in 83 Wash. 12.

§ 3601-23. Act Exclusive as to New Organizations.—After the passage and approval of this act, it shall be unlawful for any person, association or persons or domestic associations not already organized and doing business under sections 3601 to 3638, both inclusive, of Remington & Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington, to conduct a business in the form or of a character similar to that authorized by this act without first incorporating under this act. After the passage and approval of this act no foreign association not already lawfully engaged in the state of Washington in the business of a savings and loan association shall be permitted to conduct such a business in this state, and hereafter no savings and loan associations organized under the laws of this state not already lawfully engaged in the business of a savings and loan association outside of the state of Washington shall be permitted to engage in business outside of this state: Provided, that no such association shall loan on property outside of this state more than the aggregate of the amount from time to time standing to the credit of members outside of the state. [L. '13, p. 343, § 23.]

Cited in 83 Wash. 12, 13; 87 Wash. 109.

§ 3601-24. Advertising Limited.—It shall be unlawful for any savings and loan association to make, publish, or circulate any advertisement, sign, circular or statement intended or calculated to induce persons to purchase stock of such association in the belief that such stock is subject to withdrawal on demand or that a stipulated or agreed rate of interest or dividend is payable thereon, except as provided in section 3601-6. [L. '13, p. 343, § 24.]

Cited in 83 Wash. 12, 13.

§ 3601-25. Names Prohibited.—After the passage and approval of this act, no person, association of persons, or corporation conducting a business not in the form and of a character similar to that authorized by this act shall have or continue to use for a part of its title or corporate name any combination of two or more of the following words, to wit: "building," "savings," "loan," "home,' "association" or "society." [L. '13, p. 344, § 25.]

§ 3601-26. Act Exclusive—Existing Contracts not Impaired.—The powers, rights, duties, privileges and obligations of every association heretofore or hereafter organized and doing business in the form or of a character similar to that authorized by this act, shall be governed, controlled, construed, extended, limited and determined by the provisions of this act, to the same extent and effect as if said association had been organized and incorporated under or pursuant to the provisions of this act, and the articles of incorporation, by-laws, and rules of every such association heretofore made or existing are hereby modified, altered and amended to conform with the provisions of this act and the same are declared void where such articles of incorporation, by-laws or rules are inconsistent with the provisions of this act; except that the obligations of any existing association, whether between such association and its shareholders or any one of them or any other person or persons or any valid contract between the shareholders of such association existing at the time this act takes effect shall not be in any way impaired by the provisions of this act; and with such exceptions every savings and loan association shall possess the powers, rights, duties and privileges, and be subject to the obligations, restrictions and liabilities conferred and imposed by this act, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in its articles of incorporation, by-laws or rules. All obligations to any such association heretofore contracted shall be enforceable by it and in its name, and demands, claims and rights of action against any such association may be enforced against it as fully and completely as they might have been enforced before. [L. '13, p. 344, § 26.]

§ 3601–27. Offenses.—Every officer, director, agent or other employee of any savings and loan association, who shall willfully violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 345, § 27.]

§ 3640½. Reservation by Private Owner.—Any person owning any land, exclusive of encumbrances of any kind, situate two miles outside of the corporate limits of any incorporated city or town, may have the same reserved exclusively for burial and cemetery purposes by complying with the terms of the next section, provided said lands so sought to be reserved shall not exceed in area one acre. [L. '01, p. 307, § 1.]

§ 3641. Plat and Survey—Dedication.—Such person or persons shall cause such land to be surveyed and platted. A deed of dedication of said tract for burial and cemetery purposes with a copy of said plat shall be filed with the county auditor of the county in which said lands are situated and the title thereto shall be and remain in the owner, his heirs and assigns, subject to the trust aforesaid. [L. '01, p. 308, §§ 2, 3.]

§ 3642. Exemption from Taxes and Debts.—Upon compliance with the requirements of the preceding section said lands shall forever be exempt from taxation, judgment and other liens and executions. [L. '01, p. 308, § 4.]

See note to § 3640.

§ 3643. Cemetery Associations—Method of Incorporation.—Ten or more persons residing within any county of this state may associate themselves together be [by] an agreement in writing in the manner and form prescribed in sections 3740 to 3751, inclusive, infra, for the purpose of organizing themselves into a cemetery association, and upon complying with the provisions of said act, so far as applicable, they shall be and remain a corporation. [L. '99, p. 44, § 1.]

Cited in 59 Wash. 44, 47.

See, also, supra, § 3639.

§ 3644. Corporate Powers.—All such associations shall have power to prescribe the terms on which members may be admitted, the number of its trustees and officers and the time and manner of their election or appointment and the time and place of meeting for the trustees and for the association, and to pass all such other by-laws as may be necessary for the good government of such association. [L. '99, p. 45, § 2.]

§ 3645. Lands Exempt from Taxation—Funds Irreducible—Application—Debts.—Such association shall be authorized to purchase or take by gift or devise, and hold land exempt from execution and from any appropriation to public purposes, for the sole purpose of a cemetery not exceeding eighty acres, which shall be exempt from taxation if intended to be used exclusively for burial purposes, and in nowise with a view to profit of the members of such association: Provided, that when the land already held by the association is all practically used then the amount thereof may be increased by adding thereto not exceeding twenty acres at a time. Such association may by its by-laws provide that a stated percentage of the moneys realized from the sale of lots, donations or other sources of revenue, shall constitute an irreducible fund, which fund may be invested in such manner or loaned upon such securities as the association or the trustees thereof may deem proper. The interest or income arising from the irreducible fund, provided for in any by-laws, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be devoted exclusively to the preservation and embellishment of the lots sold to the members of such association, and where any by-law has been enacted for the creation of an irreducible fund as herein provided for it cannot thereafter be amended in any manner whatever except for the purpose of increasing such fund. After paying for the land all the future receipts and income of such association subject to the provisions herein for the creation of an irreducible fund, whether from the sale of lots, from donations, rents or otherwise, shall be applied exclusively to laying out, preserving, protecting and embellishing the cemetery and the avenues leading thereto, and in the erection of such buildings as may be necessary or convenient for the cemetery purposes, and to paying the necessary expenses of the association. No debts shall be contracted in anticipation of any future receipts except for originally purchasing, laying out and embellishing the grounds and avenues, for which debts so contracted such association may issue bonds or notes and secure the same by way of mortgage upon any of its lands, excepting such lots as shall have been conveyed to the members thereof; and such association shall have power to adopt such rules and regulations as they shall deem expedient for disposing of and for conveying burial lots. [L. '99, p. 45, § 3.]

Cited in 59 Wash. 44.

See supra, § 3640, note.

§ 3646. May Sell Unsuitable Land.—It shall be lawful for said trustees, wherever in their opinion any portion or portions of their lands are unsuitable for burial purposes, to sell such portion or portions, and apply the avails thereof to the general purposes of such association. [L. '99, p. 46, § 4.]

§ 3647. Burial Lots Entitled to All Exemptions.—Burial lots, sold by such association, shall be for the sole purpose of interment, and shall be exempt from taxation; execution, attachment or other claims, lien or process whatsoever, if used as intended, exclusively for burial purposes and in no wise with a view to profit. [L. '99, p. 46, § 5.]

§ 3649. Plan of Grounds—Recording—Duties.—All such associations shall cause a plan of their grounds and of the blocks and lots by them laid out, to be made and recorded, such blocks and lots to be numbered by regular consecutive numbers, and shall have power to inclose, improve and adorn the grounds and avenues, to erect buildings for the use of the association and to prescribe rules for the designation and adorning of lots and for erecting monuments in the cemetery, and to prohibit any use, division, improvement or adornment of a lot which they may deem improper. An annual exhibit shall be made of the affairs of the association. The plan, or plat, hereinbefore required, shall be recorded by the proper county auditor for a fee not to exceed ten cents a lot, and if the actual cost of recording the same shall be less than ten cents a lot, then said auditor shall record the same at the actual cost thereof. [L. '99, p. 46, § 6; L. '05, p. 123, § 1.]

§ 3650. Trust Funds—Authority to Accept.—All associations and companies owning cemeteries may take and hold any property, real and personal, bequeathed or given upon trust, to apply the income thereof under the direction of the trustees or managers of such associations or companies, for the improvement or embellishment of such cemeteries, or the erection or preservation of any buildings, structures, fences or walks erected or to be erected upon the lands of such cemetery associations or companies, or upon the lots or plots of any of the proprietors, or for the repair, preservation, erection or removal of any tomb, monument, gravestone, fence, railing, or other erection in or around any cemetery lot or plot, or for planting and cultivating trees, shrubs, flowers or plants in or around any such lot or plot, or for improving or embellishing such cemeteries or any of the lots or plots in any other manner or form consistent with the design and purposes of such associations and companies, according to the terms of such grant, devise or bequest. [L. '05, p. 231, § 1.]

§ 3651. Mutilation, etc., Prohibited—Penalty.—Any person who shall willfully destroy, mutilate, deface, injure or remove any tomb, monument or gravestone, or other structure in any cemetery, or any fence railing or other work for the protection or ornament of a cemetery or tomb, monument or gravestone or other structure aforesaid or of any cemetery lot within a cemetery or shall willfully destroy, cut, break or injure any tree, shrub or plant within the limits of a cemetery shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof before any court of competent jurisdiction be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and imprisonment in the county jail for a term not less than one nor more than thirty days, according to the nature and aggravation of the offense and such offender shall also be liable in an action of trespass in the name of said association, to pay all such damages as have been occasioned by his unlawful act or acts, which wrong, when recovered shall be applied to the reparation and restoration of the property destroyed or injured as above. [L. '99, p. 47, § 7.]

See supra, § 2493, opening road through, prohibited.
See supra, § 2491, opening grave to steal body.

§ 3652. County, Town, and City may Provide for Burial of Dead.—Each and every county, town, or city shall have power to provide a hearse and pall for burial of the dead, and to procure and hold lands for burying grounds, and to make regulations, and fence the same, and to preserve the monuments erected therein, and to levy and collect the necessary taxes for that purpose, in the same manner as other taxes are levied and collected. [L. '57, p. 28, § 3; 1 H. C., § 2427.]

See infra, § 7507, power of first class cities over.
See infra, § 7612, second class cities may provide.
See infra, § 9339½, townships may establish.

§ 3653. Cemeteries—Cities may Own and Regulate.—Any city may acquire, hold and improve lands for cemetery purposes and may sell lots therein and may provide by ordinance that a certain specified percentage of the moneys for any lot sold may be set aside and invested, and the income from said investment be used in the care of said lots, and may take and hold any property, real or personal, bequeathed or given upon trust, and apply the income thereof for the improvement or embellishment of such cemeteries or the erection or preservation of any buildings or structures, fences or walks erected or to be erected upon the cemeteries of such city, or for the repair, preservation, erection or renewal of any tomb, monument, gravestone, fence, railing or other erection at or around any cemetery, lot or plat, or for planting and cultivating trees, shrubs, flowers or plants in or around such lot or plat or for improving or embellishing such cemetery in any other manner or form consistent with the design and purpose of such city, according to the terms of such grant, devise or bequest. [L. '09, p. 602, § 1.]

§ 3654. Cemetery Board, Duty.—It shall be the duty of the cemetery board and other body or commission having in charge the care and operation of cemeteries to invest all sums set aside from the sale of lots, and all sums of money received, and to care for the income of all money and property held in trust for the purposes designated herein: Provided, however, that all investments shall be made in municipal, county, school or state bonds, or in first mortgages on good and improved real estate. [L. '09, p. 603, § 2.]

§ 3655. Investments.—All investments shall be approved by the council or legislative body of the city. [L. '09, p. 603, § 3.]

§ 3656. Separate Fund.—All moneys received or obtained in the manner herein provided shall be deposited with the city treasurer of said city, and shall be kept separate and apart in a fund known as the cemetery improvement fund, and shall be paid out by the said treasurer only upon warrants drawn by the order of the cemetery board and indorsed by the mayor and attested by the city comptroller of said city, or other authorized officer. [L. '09, p. 603, § 4.]

§ 3657. Records—Audit.—Accurate books of account shall be kept of all transactions pertaining to said fund, which books shall be open to the public for inspection and shall be audited by the auditing committee of said city. [L. '09, p. 603, § 5.]

§ 3658. Management of Funds.—The said city shall, by ordinance, make all necessary rules and regulations concerning the control and management of said fund to properly safeguard the same, but shall in no wise be liable for any of said funds except a misappropriation thereof, and shall not have power to bind the city or said fund for any further liability than whatever net interest may be actually realized from such investments, and shall not be liable to any particular person for more than the proportionate part of such net earnings. [L. '09, p. 603, § 6.]

For former laws on this subject see L. '63, pp. 426, 427; L. '65, p. 26; L. '75, pp. 43–46; L. '77; pp. 286, 287.

See supra, § 1104 et seq., and notes, foreclosure of chattel mortgages.

§ 3660. Affidavit of Good Faith—Acknowledgment—Recording.—A mortgage of personal property is void as against all creditors of the mortgagor, both existing and subsequent, whether or not they have or claim a lien upon such property, and against all subsequent purchasers, pledgees, and mortgagees and encumbrancers for value in good faith, unless it is accompanied by the affidavit of the mortgagor that it is made in good faith, and without any design to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors, and unless it is acknowledged and filed within ten days from the time of the execution thereof in the office of the county auditor of the county in which the mortgaged property is situated as provided by law. [L. '15, p. 277, § 1. Cf. L. '79, p. 105, § 2. Cd. '81, § 1987; 1 H. C., § 1648.]

See references to last section.

See infra, § 8786, auditor to record.

See infra, § 3662, a later enactment, making a mortgage that is merely "filed and indexed" notice to "all the world," and § 3665, making it "optional" to record mortgages for over three hundred dollars.

§ 3661. Must be Filed Within Ten Days.—Every such instrument within ten days from the time of the execution thereof shall be filed in the office of the county auditor of the county in which the mortgaged property is situated, and such auditor shall file all such instruments when presented for the purpose, upon the payment of the proper fees therefor, indorse thereon the time of reception, the number thereof, and shall enter in a suitable book to be provided by him at the expense of his county, with an alphabetical index thereto, used exclusively for that purpose, ruled into separate columns with appropriate heads: "The time of filing," "Name of mortgagor," "Name of mortgagee," "Date of instrument," "Amount secured," "When due," and "Date of release." An index to said book shall be kept in the manner required for indexing deeds to real estate, and the county auditor shall receive for the services required by this act the sum of fifteen cents for every instrument, and the moneys so collected shall be accounted for as other fees of his office. Such instrument shall remain on file for the inspection of the public. [L. '99, p. 158. § 2.]

Cited in 66 Wash. 298, 299.

"Every such instrument," refers to the mortgages mentioned in § 3659.

See supra, § 3660, and infra, § 3668, when to be recorded.

See infra, § 3665, recording mortgages over three hundred dollars.

Recording assignments of, see infra, § 8800.

§ 3662. Constructive Notice.—Every mortgage filed and indexed in pursuance of this act shall be held and considered to be full and sufficient notice to all the world, of the existence and conditions thereof, but shall cease to be notice, as against creditors of the mortgagors and subsequent purchasers and mortgagees in good faith after the expiration of the time such mortgage becomes due, unless before the expiration of two years after the time such mortgage becomes due, the mortgagee, his agent or attorney, shall make and file as aforesaid an affidavit setting forth the amount due upon the mortgage, which affidavit shall be annexed to the instrument to which it relates and the auditor shall indorse on said affidavit the time it was filed. [L. '99, p. 158, § 3.]

Cited in 77 Wash. 116, 117.

This act refers to §§ 3659 and 3661–3667.

§ 3663. Effect of Affidavit—Limitation.—The effect of any such affidavit shall not continue beyond one year from the time when such mortgage would otherwise cease to be valid as against such creditors and subsequent purchasers and mortgagees in good faith; unless before the time when any such mortgage would otherwise cease to be valid, as aforesaid, a similar affidavit be filed and annexed as provided in the preceding section, and with like effect. [L. '99, p. 159, § 4.]

§ 3664. Form of Mortgage for Less Than One Hundred Dollars.—A mortgage contemplated by this act which is given to secure the sum of one hundred dollars or less, exclusive of interest and costs of foreclosure, may be made in substantially the following form:

This mortgage made this —— day of —— in the year —— by A. B., of ——, mortgagor, to C. D., of ——, mortgagee.

Witnesseth: That the mortgagor mortgages to the mortgagee (here describe the property) as security for the payment to him of —— dollars, on (or before) the —— day of —— in the year ——, with interest thereon (or security for the payment of a note or obligation, describing it, etc.).

See note to § 3662.

§ 3665. Recording Mortgages in Excess of Three Hundred Dollars. A mortgage given to secure the sum of three hundred dollars or more exclusive of interest, costs and attorneys or counsel fees may be recorded and indexed with like force and effect as if this act had not been passed, but such mortgage or a copy thereof must also be filed and indexed as required by this act. [L. '99, p. 159, § 6.]

Cited in 66 Wash. 299.

See note to § 3662.

§ 3666. Property in Two Counties.—In case the property mortgaged exists in two or more counties, a copy of such mortgage may be filed in each of such counties with like force and effect as the original mortgage. [L. '99, p. 159, § 7.]

§ 3667. Certificate of Satisfaction.—Whenever any mortgage, filed under the provisions of this act, has been paid, or the conditions thereof satisfied, the mortgagee, or his assignee or personal representatives, shall make to the mortgagor, his assignee or personal representatives a certificate in writing, under his hand, stating the date of the mortgage and a description of the property thereby mortgaged, and that the same has been discharged in full; and on delivering said certificate in writing to the officer with whom such mortgage is filed, the said officer shall deliver said mortgage to the person producing such certificate on payment of the sum of ten cents for filing said certificate, and shall file said certificate in his office, indorsing thereon the true date of filing the same, and shall keep and preserve said certificate among the records in his office, and shall write the word "satisfied" with the date opposite to such mortgage, in the index in which such mortgages are entered under the heading "release." [L. '99, p. 160, § 8.]

Satisfaction after record of an assignment, see infra, § 8800.
See infra, § 8799, court may order cancellation.

§ 3668. Recording, Effect of Failure.—A mortgage of personal property must be recorded in the office of the county auditor of the county in which the mortgaged property is situated, in a book kept exclusively for that purpose. When personal property mortgaged is thereafter removed from the county in which it is situated, it is, except as between the parties to the mortgage, exempted from the operation thereof, unless either,—

1. The mortgagee within thirty days after such removal causes the mortgage to be recorded in the county to which the property has been removed; or

2. The mortgage be recorded in the custom-house; or

3. The mortgagee within thirty days after such removal takes possession of the property: Provided, that a mortgage on any vessel or boat, or part of a vessel or boat, over twenty tons burden, shall be recorded in the office of the collector of customs, where such vessel is registered, enrolled, or licensed, and need not be recorded elsewhere. [L. '79, p. 105, § 3 in pt.; Cd. '81, § 1988; 1 H. C., § 1649.]

See supra, § 3661, superseding the first sentence of this section.

§ 3669. Penalty for Removing Mortgaged Property.—Any mortgagor of personal property, or the successor in interest of such mortgagor, who, with intent to hinder, delay or defraud the mortgagee thereof, or his or her assigns or legal representatives, shall injure or destroy such property or any part thereof, or shall conceal such property or any part thereof, or shall remove the same or any part thereof from the county where it was situated at the date of the mortgage before it is duly released, without the consent in writing of the mortgagee, or shall sell or dispose of the same, or any interest therein, where he parts with the possession thereof, without the consent in writing of the mortgagee, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding six months or by a fine of not more than twice the value of such property, or by both such fine and imprisonment. [Cf. L. '79, p. 106, § 14; Cd. 81, § 1999; 1 H. C., § 1662; L. '93, p. 224, § 1.]

See notes to § 1104, supra.

CHAPTER II.

Conditional Sales.

§ 3670. Contracts to be Filed When.—That all conditional sales of personal property, or leases thereof, containing a conditional right to purchase, where the property is placed in the possession of the vendee, shall be absolute to all bona fide purchasers, pledgees, mortgagees, encumbrancers and subsequent creditors, whether or not such creditors have or claim a lien upon such property, unless within ten days after the taking of possession by the vendee, a memorandum of such sale, stating its terms and conditions and signed by the vendor and vendee, shall be filed in the auditor's office of the county, wherein, at the date of the vendee's taking possession of the property, the vendee resides. See infra, § 5291, bill of sale to be recorded if vendor retains possession.

§ 3671. Auditor to Index.—It shall be the duty of the county auditor wherein any such memorandum is presented to him for that purpose, to file all such instruments, upon payment of proper fees therefor, indorse thereon the time of reception, the number thereof, and he shall enter in a suitable book to be provided by him at the expense of his county, with an alphabetical index thereto, and exclusively for that purpose, ruled into separate columns with appropriate heads, "The time of filing." "Name of vendor," "Name of vendee." "Date of instrument," "Amount of purchase price," and "Date of release." An index of said book shall be kept in the manner required for indexing deeds to real estate, and the county auditor shall receive for the services required by this chapter the sum of twenty-five cents for each instrument, and the money so collected shall be accounted for as other fees of his office. Such instrument shall remain on file for the inspection of the public until full payment has been made thereon, and shall be satisfied or canceled in the same manner and upon payment of same fees as chattel mortgages are satisfied or canceled. [L. '93, p. 254, § 2; L. '03, p. 6, § 2.]

§ 3676. Election in Each District.—At the next general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1914, one representative in the congress of the United States shall be elected in each of the congressional districts by the qualified electors therein and the votes for said representatives shall be given, received, returned and canvassed as the same are now given, received, returned and canvassed for electors for President and Vice-President of the United States. L. '13, p. 276, § 6.]

§ 3676a. Election to Fill Vacancy—Primary—Time for Writ.—That whenever any vacancy exists in the office of United States senator or representative in congress from this state, or representative in congress from any congressional district of this state by death, resignation, disability or failure to qualify, of persons elected to such office, and there shall be a necessity for the filling of such vacancy, or threatened vacancy, for the term or the remainder of the unexpired term, the governor shall issue a writ of election to fill such vacancy, which writ shall fix the time for such election not less than twenty-five days after the issuance thereof, and such writ shall also fix a day not less than fifteen days after the issuance of the writ, and not less than ten days before the special election called therein, for the holding of a special primary for the purpose of nominating candidates to be voted for at such special election. [L. '15, p. 232, § 1. Cf. L. '13 p. 276, § 5; L. '09, Ex. Sess., p. 62, § 1.]

§ 3676b. Contents of Writ—Notice of Election and Primary.—The writ shall name the district in and the term or part of term for which the vacancy exists, or is about to exist, and the governor shall immediately notify each county auditor within such district of the issuance of such writ, and each auditor shall publish notices of such special election and such special primary in accordance with such writ, by publishing such notices at least once in the county official paper, if there be one, and if there be no county official paper, then in some other paper of general circulation in the county, and also by posting such notices in each precinct in his county: Provided, however, that when the time named in such writ for the holding of such special primary is not more than fifteen (15) days before the time fixed for the holding of the special election, the notices of such official election shall be combined in and be made a part of the notices of such special primary: And provided further, that the time for either such special election of such special primary may be held at the same time as holding the corresponding regular elections and when either such special election or such special primary is so held, the writ shall so provide that for such election names of the candidates for such congressional office may be placed on the regular ballots and voted for as other candidates at such election. [L. '09, Ex. Sess., p. 62, § 2.]

§ 3676c. Registration—Conduct of Election—Canvass of Vote. Whenever either such special election or special primary shall be held at the same time as the regular corresponding election, the registration of voters for such general election, in precincts where registration is required, shall be sufficient for such special election or special primary, and the officers of the election shall be the same, and the election shall be merged with and become a part of the regular election. Whenever the writ of election shall fix a different date for either such special election or such special primary, the election officers of the last preceding corresponding election shall be taken to be the election officers for such special election or such special primary, as the case may be, and the registration for the last general election in precincts where registration is required, shall be deemed a sufficient registration for such special election or such special primary: Provided, however, any person having registered since such last general election, and otherwise qualified may vote, but no person shall be allowed to vote at such special election or special primary, who shall have registered within three (3) days of the election at which he offers to vote. Canvass of votes at any such special primary shall be made in each county within five (5) days after such primary, and returns sent immediately to the secretary of state, where the returns from all the counties shall be canvassed and the candidate of each party shall be determined in the same manner as now provided by law, and the names thereof shall be certified at once to the several county auditors in the district. No name shall be printed on the primary ballots that shall not have been filed with the secretary of state at least ten (10) days before the special primary. [L. '09, Ex. Sess., p. 63, § 3.]

§ 3676d. General Election Laws to Apply.—The general election laws and the laws relating to primary elections shall apply to the special elections herein provided for, in so far as the same are not inconsistent with this act and shall be construed with and made a part of this act for the purpose of carrying out the spirit and intent thereof. [L. '09, Ex. Sess., p. 64, § 4.]

CHAPTER I.

Organization and Management Generally.

§ 3677. How Organized—Conditions and Liabilities.—Corporations for manufacturing, mining, milling, wharfing and docking, mechanical banking, mercantile, improvement and building purposes, or for the building, equipping and managing water flumes for the transportation of wood and lumber, or for the purpose of building, equipping and running railroads, or constructing canals or irrigation canals, or engaging in any other species of trade or business, may be formed according to the provisions of this chapter; such corporations and the members thereof being subject to all the conditions and liabilities herein imposed, and to none others: Provided, that no such corporation shall commence business or institute proceedings to condemn land for corporate purposes until the whole amount of its capital stock has been subscribed: And provided further, that the provisions of the foregoing proviso shall not apply to corporations engaged exclusively in loaning money on real estate, nor to corporations engaged exclusively in raising money from, and loaning or repaying it to, their own members, and which confine their loaning and business operations wholly to the counties of their principal place of business, respectively, and to the counties adjacent and adjoining thereto. [Cf. L. '66, p. 57, § 1; L. '67, p. 137, § 1; L. '69, p. 330, § 1; L. '73, p. 398, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2421; L. '86, p. 84, § 1; L. '91, p. 214, § 1; 1 H. C., § 1497; L. '95, p. 338, § 1.]

§ 3678. Provisions as to Formation of, Extend to Water Companies. The provisions of this chapter shall extend to and apply to all associations already formed under any law of this state [or] hereafter to be formed under the provisions of this act, for the purpose of supplying any cities or towns in this state, or the inhabitants thereof, with pure and fresh water. [L. '69, p. 340, § 29; L. '73, p. 408, § 27; Cd. '81, § 2447; 1 H. C., § 1521.]

Water and water-power companies, see infra, § 9504 et seq.

§ 3679. Articles of Incorporation, Contents, etc.—Any two or more persons, who may desire to form a company for one or more of the purposes specified in section 3677, shall make and subscribe written articles of incorporation in triplicate, and acknowledge the same before any officer authorized to take the acknowledgment of deeds, and file one of such articles in the office of the secretary of state, and another in the office of the county auditor of the county in which the principal place of business of the company is intended to be located, and retain the third in the possession of the corporation. Said articles shall state the corporate name of the company, the objects for which the same shall be formed, the amount of its capital stock, the time of its existence, not to exceed fifty years: Provided, that this limit of existence shall not apply to any life, accident and health insurance company, the number of shares of which the capital stock shall consist, the number of trustees and their names, who shall manage the concerns of the company for such length of time (not less than two nor more than six months) as may be designated in such certificate, and the name of the city, town, or locality and county in which the principal place of business of the company is to be located. Amendments may be made to the articles of incorporation by a majority vote of its trustees and the vote or written assent of two-thirds of the capital stock of such corporation. If the written assent of two-thirds of the capital stock has not been obtained then the vote of said stock may be taken at any regular meeting of the stockholders, or at any special meeting of the stockholders called for that purpose in the manner provided in the by-laws of such corporation for special meetings of the stockholders. The president and secretary of said corporation shall certify said amendments in triplicate under the seal of said corporation to be correct and file and keep the same as in the case of original articles and from the time of filing said amendments such corporation shall have the same powers and it and the stockholders thereof shall be subject to the same liabilities as if such amendments had been embraced in the original articles of incorporation. Nohting contained in this section shall be construed to cure or amend any defect existing in any original articles of incorporation in that such articles did not set forth the matters required to make the same valid at the time of filing, nor to cure or amend any defect in the execution thereof. The time of existence of such corporation shall not be extended by amendments beyond the time fixed in the original articles of incorporation:

Provided, that when valid articles of incorporation have heretofore been duly filed with the secretary of state and errors have been made in the duplicate filed with the county auditor, such defects may be cured by filing with said county auditor, a certified copy of the original articles filed with the secretary of state, and when said certified copy is filed, it shall have the same force and effect as though the duplicate had been filed with the county auditor at the same time the original was filed with the secretary of state. [L. '15, p. 272, § 1. Cf. L. '05, p. 27, § 1. Cf. L. '66, p. 57, § 2; L. '69, p. 330, § 2; L. 73, p. 398, § 2; L. '79, p. 155, §§ 1–3; Cd. '81, § 2422; 1 H. C., § 1498.]

§ 3680. Duplication of Corporate Names Prohibited.—Private corporations may be formed in the manner prescribed by the laws of this state governing corporations for any purpose for which individuals may lawfully associate. No corporation shall take the name of a corporation theretofore organized under the laws of this state, nor of any foreign corporation having complied with the laws of this state, nor one so nearly resembling the name of such other corporation as to be misleading. The secretary of state shall refuse to file said articles of incorporation of any association or corporation violating the provisions of this section. [L. '03, p. 124, § 1.]

§ 3681. Change of Name—Procedure.—Whenever any corporation heretofore or hereafter organized under the laws of this state (including such as were organized under the laws of the territory of Washington) shall execute and file in the office of the secretary of state and in the office of the county auditor of the proper county supplemental articles of incorporation changing its corporate name, such corporation shall file in the office of such county auditor, at the time of filing such supplemental articles or within ten days thereafter, a written notice, signed by its president, vice-president or secretary, setting forth its former corporate name and its corporate name as changed and stating that supplemental articles making such change of name have been filed in the office of the secretary of state and in the office of the county auditor of the county (naming it). It shall be the duty of the county auditor, on payment of the proper recording fee, to record such notice as deeds are recorded and to index such notice in the general index in his office under the former corporate name as grantor and under the changed corporate name as grantee. A like notice may at the option of such corporation be filed in the office of the county auditor of any other county, and the county auditor of such other county shall record and index the same in the manner hereinbefore provided. Corporations which have heretofore filed supplemental articles changing their corporate names shall file the notice herein provided for within six months after the taking effect of this act. [L. '05, p. 215, § 1.]

§ 3682. Copies of Articles as Evidence.—A copy of any certificate of incorporation filed in pursuance of this chapter, and certified by the auditor of the county in which it is filed, or his deputy, or by the secretary of state, shall be received in all the courts and places as prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated. [Cf. L. '66, p. 57, § 3; L. '69, p. 331, § 3; L. '73, p. 399, § 3; Cd. '81, § 2423; 1 H. C., § 1499.]

§ 3683. Corporate Powers Enumerated.—When the certificate shall have been filed, the persons who shall have signed and acknowledged the same, and their successors, shall be a body corporate and politic in fact and in name, by the name stated in their certificate, and by their corporate name have succession for the period limited, and shall have power,—

1. To sue and be sued in any court having competent jurisdiction;
2. To make and use a common seal, and to alter the same at pleasure;
3. To purchase, hold, mortgage, sell, and convey real and personal property;
4. To appoint such officers, agents, and servants as the business of the corporation shall require, to define their powers, prescribe their duties, and fix their compensation;

5. To require of them such security as may be thought proper for the fulfillment of their duties, and to remove them at will; except that no trustee shall be removed from office unless by a vote of two-thirds of the stockholders, as hereinafter provided;

6. To make by-laws not inconsistent with the laws of this state or the United States;

7. The management of its property, the regulation of its affairs, the transfer of its stock, and for carrying on all kinds of business within the objects and purposes of the company as expressed in the articles of incorporation. [Cf. L. '66, p. 57, § 4; L. '69, p. 331, § 4; L. '73, p. 399, § 4; Cd. '81, § 2424; 1 H. C., § 1500.]

§ 3684. May Own Stock of Other Corporations.—That any corporation heretofore or hereafter organized under the laws of this state or of any other state or territory of the United States and doing business in this state shall have power and authority to subscribe for, acquire by purchase or otherwise and to own, hold, sell, assign and transfer shares of the capital stock of any other corporation and by its duly authorized officer or proxy to vote such shares at any and all stockholders' meetings of the corporation whose shares are so held, and to have and exercise all the rights, powers and privileges of any other stockholder, except that such corporate owner cannot be a member of the board of trustees. All existing holdings by any such corporation in the shares of the capital stock of any other corporation are hereby validated. [L. '05, p. 51, § 1.]

Cited in 56 Wash. 217.

See supra, § 3324, superseding this section as to banking corporations.

§ 3685. Certain Corporations Authorized to Hold Property.—All private corporations incorporated by the legislative assembly of the territory of Washington, prior to the tenth day of June, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, other than for religious purposes, be and they are hereby authorized to hold, acquire, own, and possess real and personal property to the extent and to such an amount as to said corporations may seem meet, anything in the acts incorporating said private corporations to the contrary notwithstanding. [L. '91, p. 73, § 1; 1 H. C., § 1501.]

§ 3686. Corporate Powers, How Exercised—By-laws, etc.—The corporate powers of a corporation shall be exercised by a board of not less than two trustees, who shall be stockholders in the company, and at least one of whom shall be a resident of the state of Washington, and a majority of them citizens of the United States, who shall, before entering upon the duties of their office, respectively take and subscribe to an oath, as provided by the laws of this state, and who shall, after the expiration of the term of the trustees first elected, be actually elected by the stockholders, at such time and place, within this state, and upon such notice and in such manner, as shall be directed by the by-laws of the company; but all elections shall be by ballot, and each stockholder, either in person or by proxy, shall be entitled to as many votes as he may own, or represent by proxy, shares of stock, and the person or persons receiving the greatest number of votes shall be trustee or trustees: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall prevent any corporation, by their by-laws, limiting such bona fide shareholder to a single vote, or one vote for every full share of paid-up stock, or its equivalent in assessable stock, disregarding the number of shares of stock he may own. It shall be competent, at any time, for two-thirds of the stockholders of any corporation organized under this chapter to expel any trustee from office, and to elect another to succeed him. In all cases where a meeting of the stockholders is called for the purpose of expelling a trustee and electing his successor, such notice shall be given of the meeting as the by-laws of the company may require. Whenever any vacancy shall happen among the trustees by death, resignation or otherwise, except by removal and the election of his successor as herein provided, it shall be filled by appointment of the board of trustees. Every such corporation shall at all times keep at its principal place of business in this state an officer or officers, agent or agents, upon whom service of legal process may be made, in conformity with the law: Provided, that service of such process may be made at any time upon any resident trustee of such corporation. [Cf. L. '66, p. 58, § 5; L. '69, p. 332, § 5; L. '73, p. 400, § 5; Cd. '81, § 2425; 1 H. C., § 1502; L. '95, p. 61, § 1.]

§ 3687. Not to be Dissolved Because Trustees were not Elected, etc. If it shall happen at any time that an election of trustees shall not be made on the day designated by the by-laws of the company, the corporation shall not, for that reason, be dissolved; but it shall be lawful on any other day to hold an election for trustees, in such manner as shall be provided for in the by-laws of the company, and all acts of the trustees shall be valid and binding upon the company until their successors are elected and qualified. [Cf. L. '66, p. 59, § 6; L. '69, p. 333, § 6; L. '73, p. 400, § 6; Cd. '81, § 2426; 1 H. C., § 1503.]

§ 3688. Decision of Majority as Quorum is Valid as Corporate Act. A majority of the whole number of trustees shall form a board for the transaction of business, and every decision of a majority of the persons duly assembled as a board shall be valid as a corporate act.

§ 3689. Notice of First Meeting, How to be Given.—The first meeting of the trustees shall be called by a notice, signed by one or more persons named as trustees in the certificate, setting forth the time and place of the meeting, which notice shall be delivered personally to each trustee, or published at least twenty days in some newspaper in the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation, or if no newspaper is published in the county, then in some newspaper nearest thereto in the state. [L. '66, p. 59, § 8; L. '69, p. 333, § 8; L. '73, p. 401, § 8; Cd. '81, 2428; 1 H. C., § 1505.]

§ 3690. Place of Meetings.—Meetings of the stockholders of a corporation shall be held at its principal place of business within this state. Meetings of the board of trustees or directors of corporations, organized and existing under the laws of this state, may be held at such place or places within or without the state as may be designated in the articles of incorporation or by-laws. In case the meetings of the board of directors or trustees of a corporation shall be held outside of the state of Washington, either the original or full and complete copies or duplicate of all proceedings had at such meeting or meetings certified by the secretary under the corporate seal shall be sent to and kept at the principal office or place of business of the corporation in this state and shall be part of the records of the corporation in this state. [L. '07, p. 205, § 1.]

§ 3691. Duty to File Statement.—Every corporation heretofore organized under the laws of the territory or state of Washington, and every corporation which may hereafter be organized under the laws of this state, shall, on or before the second Tuesday of January of each year, and at such other times as such corporations may elect so to do, file with the county auditor of the county in which such corporation has its principal place of business, a statement, sworn to by its president and attested by its secretary and sealed with its corporate seal, containing a list of all its officers and their respective titles of office, names and addresses, and the term of office for which they have been chosen. [L. '95, p. 355, § 1.]

Cited in 60 Wash. 549.

§ 3692. Corporations Hereafter Formed to File Statement.—Every corporation which shall be hereafter organized under the laws of this state shall, within thirty days after it shall have filed its certificate of incorporation with the county auditor of the county in which it has its principal place of business, file with such county auditor a statement, sworn to by its president and attested by its secretary and sealed with its corporate seal, containing a list of all of its officers and their respective titles of office, names and address, and the term of office for which they have been chosen. [L. '95, p. 355, § 2.]

See infra, § 9194, payment of inheritance tax as prerequisite to transfer.

§ 3694. Subscriptions, Assessments, Sale of Shares, etc.—The stockholders of any corporation formed under this chapter may, in the by-laws of the company, prescribe the times, manner, and amounts in which payments of the sums subscribed by them, respectively, shall be made; but in case the same shall not be so prescribed, the trustees shall have the power to demand and call in from the stockholders the sums by them subscribed, at such time and in such manner, payments or installments, as they may deem proper. In all cases notice of each assessment shall be given to the stockholders personally, or by publication in some newspaper published in the county in which the principal place of business of the company is located; and if none be published in such county, then in the newspaper nearest to said principal place of business in the state. If after such notice has been given, any stockholder shall make default in the payment of assessments upon the shares held by him, so many of said shares may be sold as will be necessary for the payment of the assessment upon all the shares held by him, her, or them. The sale of said shares shall be made as prescribed in the by-laws by the company, but shall in no case be made at the office of the company. No sale shall be made except at public auction, to the highest bidder, after a notice of four weeks, published as above directed in this section, and at such sale the person who shall pay the assessment so due, together with the expenses of advertising and sale for the smallest number of shares, or portion of a share, as the case may be, shall be deemed the highest bidder; Provided, that the amount of the capital stock of any bank incorporated under this act shall not be less than twenty-five thousand dollars, to be divided into shares of one hundred dollars each, all of which shares shall be subscribed, and three-fifths of such capital stock shall be paid in before commencement of business, the remainder to be subject to the call of the trustees; and it shall be the duty of the directors of any such bank to file with their articles of incorporation their affidavit that three-fifths of the capital stock of such bank has been actually paid in. [Cf. L. '66, p. 60, § 10; L. '69, p. 333, § 10; L. '73, p. 401, § 10; Cd. '81, § 2430; L. '86, p. 85, § 2; 1 H. C., § 1507.]

§ 3698. Restrictions upon Issuing Notes, etc.—Liability.—No corporation organized under this chapter shall, by any implication or construction, be deemed to possess the power of issuing bills, notes, or other evidence of debt for circulation as money. Each and every stockholder shall be personally liable to the creditors of the company, to the amount of what remains unpaid upon his subscription to the capital stock, and not otherwise: Provided, that the stockholders of every bank incorporated under this act or the territory of Washington shall be held individually responsible, equally and ratably, and not one for another, for all contracts, debts and engagements of such association accruing while they remain such stockholders, to the extent of the amount of their stock therein at the par value thereof, in addition to the amount invested in such shares; and all such banking corporations shall file, on the first Monday in June, each year, with the state auditor, a report sworn to by its president, vice-president, or cashier, of the resources and liabilities, stating the amount of deposits, the aggregate of loans, and the amount upon each class of securities, the names and residence of the shareholders and number of their shares, the directors or officers for the time being, and any other matters affecting the safety of their deposits or the interest of their creditors; and such banking corporations shall have power to exercise, by its board of trustees, or duly authorized officers or agents, all such incidental powers as shall be necessary to carry on the business of banking by discounting and negotiating promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange, and other evidences of debt; by receiving deposits, buying and selling, exchange, coin and bullion, by loaning money on real estate or personal security; to accept and execute all trusts, fiduciary or otherwise, as may be committed to such bank or corporation, by any person, persons, or corporation, or by the order or direction of any court; and may do any other business pertaining to banking. No corporation can issue any of its notes or other evidences of debt to circulate as money: Const., Art. XII, § 11.

See infra, §§ 6560, 6562, penalty for payment of wages in orders, etc.

§ 3699. Power to Buy and Issue Notes, etc.—All private corporations incorporated by the legislative assembly of the territory of Washington prior to the first day of January, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, other than corporations created for religious purposes, be and they hereby are authorized [and] empowered to issue notes, bonds, mortgages or other evidences of indebtedness and to secure the payment of the same by mortgage, trust deed or otherwise encumbering any real or personal property owned by said corporations. Said corporations shall have power to buy, sell or otherwise deal in notes, bonds and stock of other corporations and shall have power through their duly authorized officers to execute any and all instruments necessary to carry out the powers conferred upon said corporations by the provisions of this section. [L. '93, p. 279, § 1.]

§ 3700. Liability of Executor, etc., Holding Stock as Collateral.—No person holding stock as executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee, or holding it as collateral security or in pledge, shall be personally subject to any liability as a stockholder of the company; but the person pledging the stock shall be considered as holding the same, and shall be liable as a stockholder, and the estate and funds in the hands of the executor, administrator, or guardian or trustee shall be liable in like manner and to the same extent as the testator or intestate, or the ward or person interested in the trust fund would have been if he or she had been living and competent to act and hold the stock in his or her name. [L. '66, p. 62, § 17; L. '69, p. 335, § 17; L. '73, p. 403, § 15; Cd. '81, § 2435; 1 H. C., § 1512.]

§ 3701. Books of Corporation to Show What.—It shall be the duty of the trustees of every company incorporated under this chapter to keep a book containing the names of all persons, alphabetically arranged, who are or shall be stockholders of the corporation, and showing the number of shares of stock held by them respectively, and the time when they became the owners of such shares, which book, during the usual business hours of the day, on every day excepting Sunday and legal holidays, shall be open for the inspection of stockholders and creditors of the company, at the office or principal place of business of the company; and any stockholder or creditor of the company shall have the right to make extracts from such book, or demand and receive from the clerk or other officer having the charge of such book a certified copy of any entry therein, or to demand and receive from any clerk or officer a certified copy of any paper placed on file in the office of the company; and such book and certified copy shall be presumptive evidence of the fact therein stated in any action or proceeding against the company or any one or more

§ 3703. Officer's Misrepresentations to Stockholders or Persons Dealing in Stock—Penalty.—Any superintendent, director, secretary, manager, agent, or other officer of any corporation formed or existing under the laws of this state, or transacting business in this state, or any person pretending or holding himself out as such superintendent, director, secretary, manager, agent or other officer, who shall willfully subscribe, sign, indorse, verify or otherwise assent to the publication, either generally or privately, to the stockholders or to other persons dealing with such corporation [or its stock,] any willfully untrue or willfully and fraudulently, exaggerated report, prospectus, account, statement of operations, values, business profits, expenditures, or prospects, or other paper or document intended to produce or give, or having a tendency to produce or give, to the shares of stock in such corporation a greater value than they really possess, or with the intention of defrauding any particular person or persons, or the public or persons generally, shall be deemed guilty of an offense against the laws of the state of Washington, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary, not less than one nor more than five years, or in the county jail not more than one year, or by a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars or by both. [L. '03, p. 141, § 1.]

§ 3704. Capital Stock, How Increased or Diminished.—Any company incorporated under this chapter may, by complying with the provisions herein contained, increase or diminish its capital stock to any amount which may be deemed sufficient and proper for the purposes of the corporation; but before any corporation shall be entitled to diminish the amount of its capital stock, if the amount of its debts and liabilities shall exceed the sum to which the capital is proposed to be diminished, such amount shall be satisfied and reduced so as not to exceed the diminished amount of the capital: Provided, that the deposits in any trust company or banking corporation shall not be included in ascertaining the debts and liabilities of such trust company or banking corporation for the purposes of this section: Provided further, that this act shall not relieve such trust company or banking corporation or the stockholders of any such trust company or banking corporation from liability, although contingent, or remote, incurred or entered into by such trust company or banking corporation prior to the reduction of its capital, including liability for deposits: Provided further, that before any banking corporation, or trust company, can reduce its capitalization, a notice, in writing, must be mailed to the last known postoffice address of its depositors setting forth the fact that the said banking corporation, or trust company, intends to decrease its capitalization, showing the amount of its capitalization and the amount to which it intends to decrease same; and proof of the mailing of such notices shall be made by affidavit of the party mailing the same, showing the names and addresses of the persons to whom mailed. [L. '99, p. 174, § 1. Cf. L. '66, p. 63, § 20; L. '69, p. 337, § 20; L. '73, p. 404, § 18; Cd. '81, § 2438; 1 H. C., § 1515.]

§ 3708. Dissolution Proceedings—Publication of Notice—Order.—Any corporation formed under this chapter may dissolve and disincorporate itself by presenting to the superior judge of the county in which the office of the company is located a petition to that effect, accompanied by a certificate of its proper officers, and setting forth that at a meeting of the stockholders, called for the purpose, it was decided, by a vote of two-thirds of all the stockholders, to disincorporate and dissolve the corporation. Notice of the application shall then be given by the clerk, which notice shall set forth the nature of the application, and shall specify the time and place at which it is to be heard, and shall be published in some newspaper of the county once a week for eight weeks, or if no newspaper is published in the county, by publication in the newspaper nearest thereto in the state. At the time and place appointed, or at any other time to which it may be postponed by the judge, he shall proceed to consider the application, and if satisfied that the corporation has taken necessary preliminary steps and obtained the necessary vote to dissolve itself, and that all claims against the corporation are discharged, he shall enter an order declaring it dissolved. [L. '66, p. 64, § 24; L. '69, p. 338, § 24; L. '73, p. 405, § 22; Cd. '81, § 2442; 1 H. C., § 1519.]

§ 3708½. Removing Principal Place of Business—Notice.—Any corporation desiring at any time to remove its principal place of business into some other county in the state shall file in the office of the county auditor a certified copy of its certificate of incorporation. If it is desired to remove its principal place of business to some other city, town, or locality within the same county, publication shall be made of such removal at least once a week for four weeks in the newspaper published nearest to the city, town, or locality from which the principal place of business of such corporation is desired to be removed. The formation or corporate acts of any corporation hereafter formed under this chapter shall not be rendered invalid by reason of the fact that its principal place of business may not have been designated in its certificate of incorporation: Provided, that within three months from the passage of this chapter, such corporation shall cause publication to be made once a week for at least four weeks in the newspaper published nearest the city, town, or locality, and where the principal place of business of such corporation has been in fact located, designating the city, town, or locality and county where its principal place of business shall be located. On compliance with the provisions of this section in the several cases herein mentioned, the principal place of business of any corporation shall be deemed established or removed at, or to any designated city, town, or locality and county in the state. [L. '66, p. 65, § 26; L. '69, p. 339, § 26; L. '73, p. 406, § 24; Cd. '81, § 2444; 1 H. C., § 1520.]

§ 3709. Fees for Filing Articles of Incorporation.—Every corporation incorporated under the laws of this state, or of any state or territory in the United States or of any foreign state or county, required by law to file articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state, shall pay to the secretary of state a filing fee of twenty-five dollars. [L. '07, p. 270, § 1. Cf. L. '97, p. 134, § 1.]

Cited in 42 Wash. 677, 678; 61 Wash. 91.

§ 3710. For Amendatory Articles.—Every corporation, foreign or domestic, desiring to file in the office of the secretary of state articles amendatory or supplemental, or certificates of increase or decrease of capital stock, shall pay to the secretary of state a fee of ten dollars. [L. '07, p. 270, § 2. Cf. L. '97, p. 134, § 2.]

§ 3711. For Filing Appointment of Agent.—Every foreign corporation filing in the office of the secretary of state a certificate of the appointment of an agent residing in this state, or a certificate of the revocation of such appointment of the resident agent, shall pay to the secretary of state a fee of five dollars. [L. '07, p. 270, § 3.]

§ 3712. For Certified Copies.—The fee for furnishing a certified copy of articles of incorporation, or articles amendatory or supplemental, or certificates of increase or decrease of capital stock, or certificate of appointment of resident agent, or certificate of revocation of appointment of resident agent, shall be five dollars. [L. '07, p. 271, § 4. Cf. L. '97, p. 134, § 3.]

Cited in 50 Wash. 488.

§ 3713. Recording Fees.—There shall be no charge for recording any of the documents mentioned in this act or for making or certifying to copies of same other than the fees in this act prescribed, unless the document to be recorded or the copy to be certified shall exceed twenty folios, in which case there shall be a further charge of fifteen cents per folio for all such excess. [L. '07, p. 271, § 5. Cf. L. '97, p. 134, § 4.]

"Act" in this section refers to §§ 3709–3715, 3716–3719.

§ 3714. Annual License Fee.—Every corporation incorporated under the laws of this state, and every foreign corporation having its articles of incorporation on file in the office of the secretary of state shall, on or before the first day of July of each and every year, pay to the secretary of state, for the use of the state, the following license fees: Every corporation having a capital stock, fifteen dollars. Every corporation failing to pay the said annual license fee, on or before the first day of July of each and every year, and desiring to pay the same thereafter, and before the first day of January next following, shall pay to the secretary of state, for the use of the state, in addition to the said license fees, the following further fee, as a penalty for such failure: The sum of two dollars and fifty cents: Provided, however, that building and loan companies paying special fees provided for in this [the] act under which same are incorporated shall not be required to pay the regular fee provided herein. [L. '07, p. 271, § 6. Cf. L. '97, p. 135, § 5.]

§ 3715. Actions—Payment of Fee Condition Precedent—Prima Facie Evidence of Payment.—No corporation shall be permitted to commence or maintain any suit, action or proceeding in any court of this state, without alleging and proving that it has paid its annual license fee last due. A certificate of the payment of such annual license fee, or any duplicate of such certificate under the seal of the secretary of state, shall be prima facie evidence of such payment; and the secretary of state is hereby required to issue such duplicate certificates, upon request, at a charge of twenty-five cents for each thereof. The state board of tax commissioners may institute suits to enforce the payment of any license fee, due from any corporation under this or any other law. Failure upon the part of any corporation to pay its annual license fee for a period of one year, from and after the date when such payment first became due, shall be prima facie evidence of the insolvency of such corporation, and the fact of such insolvency may be shown by the state or by any private person or corporation: Provided, that as to corporations now delinquent in the payment of their annual license fees for a period of one or more years, such presumption of insolvency shall not exist until after one year from the date of the passage of this act and the continuation of such delinquency. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to strike from the records of his office the names of all incorporations which have neglected for a period of two years to pay their annual license fees; and any corporation thereafter organized may take and shall have the exclusive right to use the corporate name of any corporation so stricken from the records: Provided, that no corporate name shall be so stricken from the records for a period of one year, from the date of the passage of this act. "Act" in this section refers to §§ 3709–3715, 3716–3719.

§ 3715a. Striking Delinquent Corporations — Reinstatement. — Every corporation whose name has been, or shall hereafter be, stricken from the records of the office of the secretary of state in pursuance of law for failure to pay its annual license fee for two years is hereby authorized and permitted to apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement at any time after its name has been stricken from the records of the office of the secretary of state. Any corporation stricken from the records and dissolved, as provided in this chapter may at any time thereafter hold a meeting of stockholders, in the same manner as provided during its corporate existence, and pass such resolutions as may be necessary to close out its affairs and wind up the business of such corporation, and where such stricken and dissolved corporation has heretofore held such meetings of stockholders for the purpose of passing resolutions to wind up their affairs, such method of procedure is hereby validated and approved. [L. '11, p. 135, § 1; L. '09, Ex. Sess., p. 57, § 1.]

§ 3715b. Condition—Prepayment of Fees and Penalty.—Any corporation so applying for reinstatement shall at the time of its application pay to the secretary of state, for the use of the state, all license fees and penalties then due from it and the sum of one hundred dollars as additional penalty: Provided, that this shall apply to the reinstatement of corporations, the names of which shall have been stricken at the present time, and hereafter whenever any corporation shall have its name stricken from the records by the secretary of state it shall, in applying for reinstatement, pay all license fees and penalties then due from it and the additional sum of twenty dollars for each and every year that its name has been stricken from the records, and upon the making of such application and such payment, it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to enter upon his records a notation that such corporation is reinstated. [L. '13, p. 135, § 2; L. '09, Ex. Sess., p. 57, § 2.]

Cited in 67 Wash. 381.

§ 3715c. Rights Restored.—Thereafter such corporation shall have and enjoy the same rights and powers as if its name had never been stricken from the records, and all things done by it in the exercise of its corporate powers before such reinstatement are hereby validated and confirmed. [L. '09, Ex. Sess., p. 57, § 3.]

§ 3715d. Dissolution for Nonpayment.—If, however, within the period named within which a corporation may make application to be reinstated such corporation shall not have made such application, the secretary of state shall enter upon his records a notation that such corporation is dissolved, and it shall thereupon be dissolved and the trustees of such corporation shall hold the title to the property of the corporation for the benefit of its stockholders and creditors to be disposed of under appropriate court proceedings. § 3715e. Adoption of Name of Delinquent Corporation.—The name of no corporation which has been stricken from the records of the office of the secretary of state for nonpayment of its annual license tax shall be adopted by another corporation until the expiration of the time within which such delinquent corporation is allowed in which to apply for reinstatement, or while such application for reinstatement is pending. [L. '09, Ex. Sess., p. 58, § 5.]

§ 3716. Fee for Certifying to Corporation Laws.—The fee for furnishing and certifying to a printed compilation of the corporation laws of this state shall be five dollars. [L. '07, p. 272, § 8.]

"Act" in this section refers to §§ 3709–3715, 3716–3719.

§ 3718. Fees Due in Advance.—All fees provided for in this act are due in advance and shall be paid to the secretary of state before the services desired are performed. [L. '07, p. 272, § 10.]

See note to last section.

§ 3719. Disposition of Fees.—All fees received by the secretary of state under the provisions of this act shall be by him paid into the state treasury as provided by law. [L. '07, p. 273, § 11.]

See note to § 3717.

CHAPTER II.

Foreign Corporations.

§ 3720. Power of, to Do Business in This State.—Any corporation incorporated under the laws of any state or territory in the United States, or of any foreign country, state, or colony, for any of the purposes for which domestic corporations are authorized to be formed under the laws of this state, shall have full power and is hereby authorized to sue and to be sued in any court having competent jurisdiction, to acquire, purchase, hold, mortgage, sell, convey, or otherwise dispose of, in the corporate name, all real estate or personal property necessary or convenient to carry into effect the objects and purposes of its corporation, and also any interest in real estate, by mortgage or otherwise do [due] to or loans made by such foreign corporations within the boundaries of this state, either prior to or after the passage of this act, and generally do and perform every act and transact every kind of business within this state in the same manner and to the same extent as corporations incorporated and organized under the laws of this state are authorized to do under the laws of this state, by a compliance with all the conditions prescribed by the next two succeeding sections of this chapter: Provided, however, that this chapter shall not be [so] construed as to allow such foreign corporation to transact business within the state on more favorable conditions than are prescribel by law for a similar corporation organized under the laws of this state: And provided further, that no corporation, the majority of the capital stock of which is owned by aliens, other than those who in good faith have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, shall acquire the ownership of any lands in this state other than lands containing valuable deposits of minerals, metals, iron, coal, or fireclay, and the necessary land for mills and machinery to be used in the development thereof, and the manufacture of the products therefrom, except where acquired under mortgage, or in good faith in the ordinary course of justice in the collection of debts: Provided, further, that no foreign corporation which is hereafter organized which has among its other powers the business of dealing in real estate, and buying and selling the same, and for the purpose of carrying on a real estate brokerage business, shall be permitted to transact such business of buying and selling and dealing in real estate, and carrying on a brokerage business therein in this state; but this prohibition shall not extend to any other business for the transaction of which such corporation may be organized. [Cf. L. '71, p. 101, § 1; L. '75, p. 109, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2479; L. '86, p. 87, § 1; L. '90, p. 288, § 1; 1 H. C., § 1524.]

For power to appropriate lands, compare L. '79, p. 148.

See infra, § 3729, penalty for violating this chapter.

§ 3721. Certified Copy of Charter, etc., to be Filed and Recorded. Such corporation shall cause to be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state a certified copy of its charter, articles of incorporation, memorandum of association, or certificate of incorporation, certified to by the officer who is the custodian of the same according to the laws of the state or territory, country, or colony, where such corporation is incorporated, or who is authorized to issue certificates of incorporation according to the laws of such state, territory, or foreign country or colony. The instruments herein required to be filed and recorded shall be attested by such certifying officer under his hand and seal of office, which attestation shall be prima facie proof of the facts therein stated, and of the genuineness of the certificate. If such officer has no official seal, his certificate shall state that fact over his signature, and thereupon the secretary of state, or of the territory, in case of corporations within the United States, and the consul general, consul, vice-consul, deputy consul, consular agent, or commercial agent of the United States, at or nearest to the place where such certificate is made, in the case of corporations not within the United States, shall certify under his hand and seal of office to the genuineness of the signature of the officer making the certificate, and to the fact that at the time of making such certificate the person making the same held the office described in the certificate. [L. '71, p. 101, § 2; L. '75, p. 109, § 2; Cd. '81, § 2480; L. '86, p. 87, § 1; L. '90, p. 289, § 2; 1 H. C., § 1525.]

§ 3722. Appointment of Agent to be Filed and Recorded.—Such corporations shall also constitute and appoint an agent, who shall reside at the place in the state where the principal business of the corporation is to be carried on, to be designated as hereinafter required. Such appointment shall be in writing, signed by the president or chief officer of such corporation, and shall be attested by its corporate seal, and shall contain the name of the agent, his place of residence and the place where the principal business of such corporation is to be carried on; and shall authorize such agent to accept service of process in any action or suit pertaining to the property, business or transactions of such corporation within this state in which such corporation may be a party. The signature of such president or chief officer, attested by the corporate seal to such written appointment, shall be sufficient proof of the appointment of such agent. Such appointment, when duly executed, shall be filed for record in the office of the secretary of state by such corporation, and shall be there recorded; and such corporation shall have and keep continually some resident agent, empowered as aforesaid during all the time such corporation shall conduct or carry on any business within this state, and service of any process, pleading, notice or other paper shall be taken and held as due service on such corporation. Such corporation may change its agent or its principal place of business, from time to time, by filing and recording with the secretary of state a new appointment, stating the change of such agent or the change in the principal place of business; and in the event such foreign corporation shall withdraw from this state and cease to transact business therein it shall continue to keep and maintain such agent within this state upon whom service of process, pleadings and papers may be made, until the statute of limitations shall have run against anyone bringing an action against said corporation, which accrued prior to its withdrawal from this state. In case said corporation shall revoke the authority of its designated agent after its withdrawal from this state and prior to the time when the statutes of limitations would have run against causes of action accruing against it, then in that event service of process, pleadings and papers in such actions may be made upon the secretary of state of the state of Washington, and the same shall be held as due and sufficient service upon such corporation. [L. '09, p. 72, § 1. Cf. L. '90, p. 290, § 3; 1 H. C., § 1526.]

Cited in 4 Wash. 688; 51 Wash. 620.

§ 3723. Penalty for Failure to File Copy of Charter and Appointment of Agent.—Any foreign corporation doing business in this state which shall fail to comply with the provisions of the two preceding sections, shall be subject to a penalty of two hundred and fifty dollars to be recovered in a civil action to be instituted by the attorney general in the name of the state of Washington, upon his being furnished with a sworn statement of facts sufficient to justify such action. [L. '99, p. 100, § 1.]

§ 3724. Disposition of Penalties.—All penalties so recovered shall be paid into the general fund of the state treasury. [L. '99, p. 101, § 2.]

§ 3725. Not to File or Record Certified Copies, When.—No corporation which has heretofore complied with the laws of the state or territory of Washington hitherto existing, regarding foreign corporations, and has kept a duly appointed agent within the boundaries of the state as heretofore required, shall be required to file for record, or cause to be recorded, the certified copies required by this act, or to execute or file for record, or cause to be recorded, a new appointment of agent as herein required. [L. '90, p. 290, § 4; 1 H. C., § 1527.]

"This act": See note to § 3720.
Compare L. '71, p. 102, § 3.

§ 3726. Assessor to Ascertain Names of Corporations, Agents, etc. It shall be the duty of each and every county assessor in this state to ascertain each and every year, at the time of the tax assessment of his county, the name of every foreign corporation doing business by agent or otherwise within his county, the nature of such business, and the name of the agent of each of such corporations, if any there be, together with such agent's place of address, and shall, within ten days from and after the compilation of such assessment, make out and deliver to the county auditor of his county a full and complete list of the names of such corporations doing business in his county, together with the nature of the business so carried on by each of such corporations, and the name of the resident agent of each of such corporations, if any there be, and the place of residence of each of such agents. [Cd. '81, § 2482; 1 H. C., § 1528.]

§ 3727. County Auditors to Report Names of Corporations, Agents, etc.—It shall be the duty of each and every county auditor in this state to make out and transmit to the secretary of state, within thirty days after the receipt by him from such county assessor of the lists provided in the last preceding section, a full, true, and concise statement of the names of such corporations, their place of business, the nature of business conducted by such corporations, and the name of each and every agent of each of such corporations, if any there be, and the places of residence of such agents. [Cd. '81, § 2483; 1 H. C., § 1529.]

§ 3728. Fees Allowed for Recording.—The fees for recording, under the provisions of this chapter, shall be the same as are allowed by law to the secretary of state for certified copies of papers on file in his office. [Cd. '81, § 2484; 1 H. C., § 1530.]

§ 3729. Agent is Guilty of Misdemeanor, When—How Punished.—Any agent of any foreign corporation, conducting or carrying on business within the limits of this state, for and in the name of such corporation, contrary to any of the provisions of this chapter, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. [Cd. '81, § 2485; 1 H. C., § 1531.]

Cited in 40 Wash. 538.

§ 3730. Assessor is Guilty of Misdemeanor, When—How Punished.—Any county assessor failing to make out and deliver to the county auditor of his county a list, within the time and in the manner provided in section 3726, and any county auditor failing to make out and transmit to the secretary of state a statement, within the time and in the manner provided in section 3727, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding three hundred dollars. [Cd. '81, § 2486; 1 H. C., § 1532.]

CHAPTER III.

Educational, Religious, Social and Charitable Corporations and Associations.

§ 3731. Benevolent and Charitable Institutions—Articles must Show What.—Any two or more persons desirous of forming a corporation for a college, seminary, church, library, or benevolent, temperance, charitable or scientific society, shall make and subscribe written articles of incorporation in triplicate, and acknowledge the same before any officer authorized to take the acknowledgments of deeds, and file one of such articles in the office of the secretary of state, and another in the office of the county auditor of the county in which the principal place [of] business of the corporation is intended to be located, and retain the third in the possession of the corporation. Such articles shall specify,—

1. The corporate name and location and chief place of business of such corporation;

2. If a joint stock company, the amount of capital stock, and the amount constituting a share; if not a joint stock company, then the terms of admission to membership;

3. The object for which the corporation is formed;

4. By what officers the affairs of said corporation shall be managed, and when such officers are to be elected, or, if appointed, when and by whom such appointments are to be made. [Cf. L. '66, p. 67, § 1; L. '69, p. 331, § 1; L. '73, p. 409, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2450; 1 H. C., § 1638; L. '95, p. 348, § 1.]

See infra, § 3740 et seq., associations for same purposes.
See next chapter, corporations not for profit.

§ 3732. Powers of Such Corporations Enumerated.—When such articles shall have been filed as aforesaid, the persons who shall have signed and verified the same, and their successors, shall be a body politic and corporate, with perpetual succession; they shall be capable, in law, of suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered, in all the courts of the state; they may have a common seal, alter and change the same at pleasure; acquire, mortgage, and sell property, personal and real, for the purpose of carrying out the objects of the corporation, and make by-laws, rules, and regulations, as they may deem proper and best for the welfare and the good order of the corporation; and may amend the articles of incorporation by supplemental articles, executed and filed the same as the original articles: Provided, that such by-laws, rules, and regulations be not contrary to the constitution and laws of the United States and the existing laws of the state. [L. '66, p. 68, § 2; L. '69, p. 342, § 2; L. '73, p. 409, § 2; Cd. '81, § 2451; L. '86, p. 86, § 1; 1 H. C., § 1639.]

§ 3733. Fraternal Societies as Bodies Corporate—Articles of, to Show What.—Any lodge, encampment of [or] other subordinate lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, or other fraternal society, desiring to incorporate, shall make articles of incorporation in triplicate, and file one of such articles in the office of the secretary of state and another in the office of the county auditor of the county in which the meetings of such lodge, chapter or encampment are held; such articles shall be signed by the presiding officer and the secretary of such lodge, chapter or encampment, and attested by the seal thereof, and shall specify:

(1) The name of such lodge or other society, and the place of holding its meetings; (2) the name of the grand body from which it derives its rights and powers as such lodge or society; (3) the names of the presiding officer and the secretary having the custody of the seal of such lodge or society; (4) what officers shall join in the execution of any contract by such lodge or society to give it force and effect in accordance with the usages of such lodges or society. [L. '03, p. 118, § 1. Cf. L. '73, p. 410, § 3; Cd. '81, § 2452; 1 H. C., § 1640.]

§ 3734. Filing Fee.—The secretary of state shall file such articles of incorporation in his office and issue a certificate of incorporation to any such lodge or other society upon the payment of the sum of five dollars. [L. '03, p. 118, § 2.]

§ 3735. Powers—Not Subject to License Fees.—Such lodge or other society shall be a body politic and corporate with all the powers and incidents of a corporation upon its compliance with sections 3733 and 3734; Provided, however, that such fraternal corporation shall not be subject to any license fee or other corporate tax of commercial corporations. [L. '03, p. 118, § 3.]

§ 3736. Reincorporation.—Any lodge or society, or the members thereof, having heretofore attempted to incorporate as a body under the provisions of sections 3740–3751, such lodge or society may incorporate under its original corporate name by complying with the provisions of sections 3733 and 3734: Provided, that such lodge or society shall attach to and file with the articles of incorporation provided for in this act a certificate duly signed, executed and attested by the officers of the said corporation consenting to such reincorporation and waiving all rights of the original corporation to such corporate name. [L. '03, p. 119, § 4.]

"Act" includes this and the three preceding sections.

§ 3737. Degrees may be Conferred by Incorporated Colleges.—Any college or seminary hereafter incorporated by the provisions of this chapter, shall have power, and is hereby invested with authority, to confer the degrees usually conferred by such institution. [L. '66, p. 68, § 3; L. '69, p. 342, § 3; L. '73, p. 411, § 4; Cd. '81, § 2453; 1 H. C., § 1641.]

§ 3738. Corporations, Manner of Dissolving.—Any corporation desiring its dissolution may, by a three-fourths vote of all its members at some regular meeting, execute a surrender of all its corporate powers, and upon the filing of duplicate surrenders with the said auditor and secretary of state, the said corporation shall be dissolved to all intents and purposes. [L. '66, p. 68, § 4; L. '69, p. 342, § 4; L. '73, p. 411, § 5; Cd. '81, § 2454; 1 H. C., § 1642.]

§ 3739. Validating Defective Articles.—All instruments purporting to be articles of incorporation for a college, seminary, church, library, or benevolent, charitable, or scientific society, made and executed in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing sections of this chapter, except that the same have been acknowledged before an officer authorized by law to take the acknowledgment of deeds, and have not been sworn to by the trustees as by said laws required, or have been filed with the auditor of the county where the chief place of business of the corporation so purporting to be formed is located, instead of being recorded as by said laws required, or which are defective in both said respects, are hereby declared to be, and are hereby made to be, good and valid articles of incorporation; and the corporations formed, or attempted to be formed by virtue of said articles of incorporation, are hereby declared to be, and are hereby made, good and valid, and existing corporations, with the same and as full powers, rights and liabilities as they would have had if the said articles of incorporation had been executed and recorded as by said law required, and that all acts, deeds, and proceedings had or done by said corporations, or under said articles of incorporation, and all rights acquired as to both real and personal property, and all obligations of every kind incurred by such corporations, are hereby made of the same force, effect and validity as if said articles of incorporation had been executed as required by law. [L. '95, p. 24, § 1.]

§ 3740. Social and Charitable Associations—Agreement of Association.—Two or more persons within this state who associate themselves together by an agreement in writing, as hereinafter described, with the intention of forming a corporation for any of the purposes hereinafter specified, upon complying with the provisions of sections 3743, 3744 and 3745 of this chapter, shall be and remain a corporation. [L. '95, p. 400, § 1.]

See, also, § 3731, supra.

§ 3741. Association, Objects of.—Such association may be formed for any educational, charitable, benevolent or religious purposes; for the prosecution of any antiquarian, historical, literary, scientific, medical, artistic, monumental or musical purpose; for supporting any missionary enterprise having for its object the dissemination of religious or educational instruction; for promoting temperance or morality in this state; or other charitable or social bodies of a like character and purpose; for the establishment and maintenance of social clubs, and of places for reading-rooms, libraries or social meetings. [L. '95, p. 400, § 2.]

§ 3742. Agreement to State What.—The agreement shall state that the subscribers thereto associate themselves with the intention of forming a corporation, the name of the corporation, the purposes for which it is formed, the town or city—which shall be in this state—in which it is located, and if it has a capital stock, the amount thereof, and the number and par value of its shares. The name shall be one not previously in use by any existing corporation, and shall be changed only as hereinafter provided. [L. '95, p. 400, § 3.]

§ 3743. Subscribers, First Meeting of.—The first meeting of the subscribers to such agreement shall be called by a notice signed by one or more thereof, stating the time, place and purpose of the meeting; a copy of which notice shall, seven days at least before the day appointed for the meeting, be given to each subscriber, or left at his usual place of business or place of residence, or deposited in the postoffice, postpaid, and addressed to him at his place of business or of residence. And whoever gives such notices shall make affidavit of his doings, which shall be recorded in the records of the corporation. [L. '95, p. 400, § 4.]

§ 3744. Temporary Secretary, Duties of.—At such first meeting, including any necessary or reasonable adjournment, an organization shall be effected by the choice by ballot of a temporary secretary, and by the adoption of by-laws, and the election of a president, secretary, treasurer and a board of trustees, not less than three nor more than twenty-five in number, and such other officers as may be provided for by the by-laws. At such first meeting no person shall be eligible as an officer or trustee who has not subscribed to the agreement of the association, but any corporation now or hereafter organized under this act, may, by a by-law, increase or diminish the number of trustees, within the limits hereinbefore provided. The temporary secretary shall make and attest a record of the proceedings until the secretary has been chosen. [L. '95, p. 401, § 5; L. '05, p. 239, § 1.]

§ 3745. Certificate, Contents and Filing of—Agreement, Form of, etc.—The president, secretary and a majority of the trustees shall forthwith make, sign and swear to a certificate setting forth a true copy of the agreement of association, with the names of the subscribers thereto, the date of the first meeting and the successive adjournments thereof, if any, and shall file such certificate in the office of the county auditor of the county wherein the organization is effected and in the office of the secretary of state, who, upon payment of a fee of five dollars, shall cause the same to be recorded in a book to be kept for that purpose, and shall thereupon issue a certificate in the following form:—

STATE OF WASHINGTON.

Be it known that, whereas, (here the names of the subscribers to the agreement of association shall be inserted) have associated themselves with the intention of forming a corporation under the name of (here the name of the corporation shall be inserted), for the purpose (here the purpose declared in the agreement of association shall be inserted), with a capital of (here the amount of the capital stock shall be inserted, or if there is no capital stock this clause shall be omitted), and have complied with the provisions of the laws of this state in such case made and provided, as appears from the certificate of the president, secretary and a majority of the trustees of said corporation, recorded in this office; now, therefore, I (here the name of the secretary shall be inserted), secretary of the state of Washington do hereby certify that said (here the names of the subscribers to agreement of association shall be inserted), their associates and successors, are legally organized and established as and are hereby made an existing corporation, under the name of (here the name of the corporation shall be inserted), with the powers, rights, and privileges and subject to the limitations, duties and restrictions which by law appertain thereto.

Witness my official signature subscribed and the seal of the state of Washington hereunto affixed, this —— day of ——, in the year ——.

(In these blanks the day, month and year of execution of the certificate shall be inserted.)

The secretary shall sign the same and cause the seal of the state to be thereto affixed, and such certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the existence of such corporation. He shall also cause a record of such certificate to be made, and such corporation shall forthwith cause a certified copy of such record to be filed in the office of the auditor of the county wherein such corporation is located. [L. '95, p. 401, § 6.]

§ 3746. By-laws to Contain What.—The corporation may prescribe by its laws the manner in which, and the officers and agents by whom the purposes of its incorporation may be carried out. The corporation may hold real and personal estate, and may hire, purchase or erect suitable buildings for its accommodation, to be devoted to the purposes set forth in its agreement of association, and may receive and hold in trust, or otherwise, funds received by gift or bequest, to be devoted by it to such purposes. And for the purposes of the corporation shall have power to issue its promissory notes, bonds or other obligations, to be secured by mortgages on its real estate and other property in such manner as may be provided by its by-laws. The board of trustees shall have power to sell or dispose of the whole or any part of the property, either real or personal, which the corporation may from time to time own, and to acquire other property, but shall not sell or dispose of or purchase real estate unless authorized so to do by the vote of two-thirds of all the stock represented or two-thirds of the members present at a meeting called for that purpose, written notice of which shall have been given to all stockholders or members at least thirty days previous thereto by mail, in such manner as shall be provided by the by-laws, which two-thirds vote must comprise at least a majority of all the stock or of the members of the corporation. Such notice shall set forth in full the matter or proposition to be considered at such meeting. Voting by proxy shall be allowed at such meeting. [L. '95, p. 402, § 7; L. '07, p. 127, § 1.]

§ 3747. Beneficiaries.—The corporation organized for any purpose mentioned in section 3741 may, for the purpose of assisting widows, orphans or other persons depending upon deceased members, provide in its by-laws for the payment by each member of a fixed sum, to be held by such association until the death of a member occurs, and then to be forthwith paid to the person or persons entitled thereto; and such fund so held shall not be liable to attachment by garnishment or other process. And the associations may be formed under this act for the purpose of rendering assistance to such persons, and in the manner herein specified. [L. '95, p. 402, § 8.]

§ 3748. Death Fund.—Any such beneficiary corporation or society may hold at any one time as a death fund, belonging to the beneficiaries of anticipated deceased members, an amount not exceeding one assessment from a general or unlimited membership, or an amount not exceeding in the aggregate one assessment from each limited class or division of its members: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be held to restrict such fund to less than ten thousand dollars. Such funds, while held in trust, shall be deposited in safe banking institutions, subject to sight drafts for distribution to the beneficiaries aforesaid. [L. '95, p. 403, § 9.]

§ 3749. Exempt from Operations of Insurance Laws.—The provisions of the general laws relative to life insurance companies shall not apply to such beneficiary corporations, associations and societies. [L. '95, p. 403, § 10.]

§ 3750. Not Retroactive—Pre-existing Societies may Adopt.—Certificate.—Nothing contained in this act shall affect the existence of any association or corporation heretofore formed under the provisions of any law in this state for any of the purposes mentioned in section 3741 of this chapter [and] any such corporation may, at a meeting called for the purpose, vote to adopt the provisions of this act, and upon so voting and complying with the provisions of this section shall have the powers and privileges and be subject to the duties and obligations of corporations formed under this act. After so voting the corporation may file with the secretary of the state a certificate signed and sworn to by its president, secretary, and a majority of its board of trustees, setting forth a copy of its articles of incorporation and of said vote, and the date of the meeting at which the vote was adopted, and the secretary of state, upon payment of a fee of five dollars, shall cause the same to be recorded, and shall issue a certificate in the following form:—

STATE OF WASHINGTON.

Be it known that, whereas, (here the names of the original incorporators shall be inserted) have formally associated themselves with the intention of forming a corporation under the name of (here the name of the incorporation shall be inserted) for the purpose (here the purpose declared in the original articles of incorporation shall be inserted), under the provisions of (here the designation of the statute under the provisions of which organization was effected, shall be inserted), with a capital of (here the amount of capital stock as it stands fixed at the date of the certificate shall be inserted; or if there is no capital stock this clause shall be omitted), and the provisions of the laws in this state in such case made and provided have been complied with, as appears from a certificate of the proper officers of said corporation, recorded [in] this office; now, therefore, I (here the name of the secretary is to be inserted), secretary of the state of Washington, do hereby certify that said (here the name of the corporation shall be inserted) is legally organized and established as an existing corporation, with the powers, rights and privileges, and subject to the limitations, duties and restrictions which by law appertain thereto.

Witness my official signature hereunto subscribed and the seal of [the] state of Washington hereunto affixed, this —— day of ——, in the year ——. (In these blanks the day, month and year of execution of the certificate shall be inserted.)

This certificate shall be signed, sealed and recorded, and filed in the same manner, and shall have the same effect as the certificate provided in section 3745. [L. '95, p. 403, § 11.]

"This act" refers to §§ 3740–3751.

§ 3751. Agreement, Amendment to—Certificate. — Whenever it is desired to amend in any particular within the scope of this act, the provisions of the articles of agreement of any corporation organized or qualified under this act, such amendment or amendments shall be effected by the filing with the secretary of state of a certificate signed and sworn to by the president, secretary and a majority of the board of trustees, which certificate shall be authorized by a vote of at least two-thirds of the stock represented or members of the corporation present at a meeting called and held for that purpose, in the manner prescribed by the by-laws and the secretary of state shall, upon payment of a fee of five dollars, cause such certificate to be recorded, and shall issue a certificate in the following form:—

STATE OF WASHINGTON.

Be it known that, whereas, (here the name of the corporation shall be inserted), a corporation heretofore duly organized, has, in accordance with the provisions of the laws of this state in such case made and provided, amended its articles of agreement as follows: (here shall be inserted the nature of the amendment or amendments), as appears from a certificate of the proper officers of said corporation recorded in this office. Now, therefore, I (here the name of the secretary is to be inserted), secretary of the state of Washington, do hereby certify that such amendment (or amendments) ha— been duly adopted as, and now are, a part of the articles of agreement of said corporation.

Witness my official signature hereunto subscribed and the seal of the state of Washington hereunto affixed, this —— day of —— in the year ——. (In these blanks the day, month and year of execution of this certificate shall be inserted.)

This certificate shall be signed, sealed and recorded, and filed in the same manner and shall have the same effect as the certificate provided for in section 3745. [L. '95, p. 404, § 12; L. '07, p. 128, § 2.]

"Act" in this section refers to §§ 3740–3751.

§ 3751–1. Corporations Sole — Church and Religious Societies. — Any person, being the bishop, overseer or presiding elder of any church or religious denomination in this state, may, in conformity with the constitution, canons, rules, regulations or discipline of such church or denomination, become a corporation sole, in the manner prescribed in this act, as nearly as may be; and, thereupon, said bishop, overseer or presiding elder, as the case may be, together with his successors in office or position, by his official designation, shall be held and deemed to be a body corporate, with all the rights and powers prescribed in the case of corporations aggregate; and with all the privileges provided by law for religious corporations. [L. '15, p. 251, § 1.]

§ 3751–2. Corporate Powers.—Every corporation sole shall, for the purpose of the trust, have power to contract in the same manner and to the same extent as a natural person, and may sue and be sued, and may defend in all courts and places, in all matters and proceedings whatever, and shall have authority to borrow money and give promissory notes therefor, and to secure the payment of the same by mortgage or other lien upon property, real and personal; to buy, sell, lease, mortgage and in every way deal in real and personal property in the same manner as a natural person may, and without the order of any court; to receive bequests and devises for its own use or upon trusts, to the same extent as natural persons may; and to appoint attorneys in fact. [L. '15, p. 252, § 2.]

§ 3751–3. Filing Articles—Property Held in Trust.—Articles of incorporation shall be filed in like manner as provided by law for corporations aggregate, and therein shall be set forth the facts authorizing such incorporation, and declare the manner in which any vacancy occurring in the incumbency of such bishop, overseer or presiding elder, as the case may be, is required by the constitution, canons, rules, regulations or discipline of such church or denomination to be filed, which statement shall be verified by affidavit, and for proof of the appointment or election of such bishop, overseer or presiding elder, as the case may be, or any succeeding incumbent of such corporation, it shall be sufficient to file with the secretary of state and in the office of the county auditor of the county in which such bishop, overseer or presiding elder, as the case may be, resides, the original or a copy of his commission, or certificate, or letters of election or appointment, duly attested: Provided, all property held in such official capacity by such bishop, overseer or presiding elder, as the case may be, shall be in trust for the use, purpose, benefit and behoof of his religious denomination, society or church. [L. '15, p. 252, § 3.]

§ 3751–4. Existing Corporations Sole.—Any corporation sole heretofore organized and existing under the laws of this state may elect to continue its existence under this title by filing a certificate to that effect, under its corporate seal and the hand of its incumbent, or by filing amended articles of incorporation, in the form, as near as may be, as provided for corporations aggregate, and from and after the filing of such certificate of amended articles, such corporation shall be entitled to the privileges and subject to the duties, liabilities and provisions in this title expressed. [L. '15, p. 253, § 4.]

CHAPTER IV.

Corporations not Formed for Profit.

§ 3752. Purpose. — Corporations may be formed under the provisions of this chapter for any lawful purpose except the carrying on a business, trade, avocation or profession for profit. [L. '07, p. 255, § 1].

§ 3753. Membership—No Capital Stock.—The incorporators and members of a corporation formed under the provisions of this chapter may be individuals, copartnerships or corporations. It shall have no capital stock, and shares therein shall not be issued. The interest of each incorporator or member shall be equal to that of any other, and no incorporator or member can acquire any interest which will entitle him to any greater voice, vote, authority or interest in the corporation than any other member. [L. '07, p. 256, § 2.]

§ 3754. Membership Assignable.—The corporation may issue membership certificates, which certificates shall be assignable under such provisions, rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the by-laws of the company. [L. '07, p. 256, § 3.]

§ 3755. Termination of Membership.—A membership in a corporation formed hereunder may be terminated by voluntary withdrawal, by expulsion and by death. Losses of membership through any such causes and the incidents thereof shall be governed by the by-laws of the company. [L. '07, p. 256, § 4.]

§ 3756. Organization—Articles.—Not less than five individuals, copartnerships, or corporations shall be required to form a corporation hereunder. Articles of incorporation shall be prepared, executed and acknowledged in triplicate; one copy shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, another in the office of the county auditor of the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation is located, and the third retained in the possession of the corporation.

Such articles shall state the name of the corporation, the purposes for which it is formed, the place where its principal place of business will be, the term for which it is to exist, not exceeding fifty years, the number of the trustees thereof, and the names of the trustees who shall manage the affairs of the corporation for such length of time, not less than two months, nor more than six months, as may be designated in such articles, until the trustees shall be elected by the members. The formation of the corporation shall be complete upon the filing of the articles as herein provided. [L. '07, p. 256, § 5.]

§ 3757. By-laws—Adoption, Condition Precedent to Transaction of Business.—Before transacting any business or acquiring any property the members of the corporation must meet and adopt by-laws. The vote of a majority of all the members of the corporation shall be necessary to the adoption of such by-laws and when adopted the same must be written in a book to be kept by the corporation. The corporation may by its by-laws provide for the time, place and manner of calling and conducting its meetings, the number of trustees, the time of their election, their term of office, the mode and manner of their removal, the mode and manner of filling vacancies on the board caused by death, resignation, removal or otherwise, the power and authority of the trustees, the compensation of the trustees or of any officer, the mode and manner of conducting business, the mode and manner of conducting elections, the qualifications for membership, on what conditions there may be a succession of membership, the manner in which membership shall cease, the mode and manner of expulsion of a member, the termination of a member's interest in the corporate property upon the cessation of his membership, and whether he shall be remunerated therefor, and if so in what manner, the amount of membership fee, and the dues, installments of labor which each member may be required to pay or perform, if any, the charges which may be made for services rendered or supplies furnished the members of the corporation by it, the manner of collection or enforcement of membership fees, dues or charges, and the method of forfeiting the membership interest for nonpayment or nonperformance, the method, time and manner of permitting the withdrawal of a member if at all, and how his interest may be ascertained and payment made thereof, if the company decide that he should be reimbursed therefor, the formation of a surplus fund and the manner and proportions in which such surplus fund shall be distributed, either upon the order of the corporation or upon its dissolution, and generally, all such other matters as may be proper to carry out the purpose for which the corporation was formed. [L. '07, p. 257, § 6.]

§ 3758. Powers of Corporation. — Corporations formed under this chapter shall have power of succession by their corporate name for fifty years, in such name may sue and be sued in any court, may make and use a common seal and alter the same at pleasure, may receive gifts and devises, may purchase, hold and convey real and personal property, as the purposes of the corporation may require, may appoint such subordinate agents or officers as the business may require, may demand assessments of members and sell or forfeit their interests in the corporation for default with respect to any lawful provision of the by-laws, may enter into any lawful contracts and incur obligations essential to the transaction of its affairs for the purpose for which it was formed, may borrow money and issue notes, bills or evidence of indebtedness, and may mortgage its property to secure the same as its by-laws may provide, and, generally, may do all things necessary or proper to carry out the purpose of its creation. [L. '07, p. 258, § 7.]

§ 3759. Change of Purposes.—The purpose or purposes for which a corporation is created hereunder may be altered, modified, enlarged, or diminished by the vote of two-thirds of all the members at a special meeting called for such purpose. Notice of which meeting shall be given in the same manner provided by the by-laws for the giving of notice for the election of trustees. [L. '07, p. 258, § 8.]

§ 3760. Amendment of By-laws.—The by-laws of the corporation shall prescribe the manner in which they may be amended. [L. '07, p. 258, § 9.]

ment of dissolution in an action brought by the state to forfeit its franchise. [L. '07, p. 258, § 10.]

§ 3762. Not to Engage in Business for Gain, etc.—Any corporation formed under the provisions of this chapter that shall engage in any business, trade, avocation or profession for gain or which shall enter into any agreement or combination in restraint of trade, or to fix or establish the price of any commodity, or to limit or regulate the production or distribution of any commodity, or which shall attempt to restrain trade, or fix or establish the price of any commodity, or limit or regulate the production or distribution of any commodity shall forfeit its right to exist as a corporation and judgment of dissolution may be entered in an action brought by the state to have such forfeiture declared. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to forbid such a corporation accumulating a surplus fund through membership fees and dues, or from charges made its members for services rendered or supplies furnished them by it, and the distribution of such fund among the members in the manner provided by the by-laws. [L. '07, p. 259, § 11.]

§ 3763. Existing Corporations may Reorganize Under Chapter.—Any corporation heretofore formed under any law of this state, the purpose or purposes for the creation of which is such that it might have been formed and carry on business hereunder, may avail itself of the privileges and incur the liabilities prescribed by this chapter upon a majority vote of all the members to the effect that it desires to reorganize hereunder, the result of such vote to be evidenced by a certificate executed by the president and secretary under the seal of the corporation and filed in the office of the secretary of state and of the county auditor of the county where the principal place of business of the corporation is located. Upon the filing of such certificate it shall be endowed with all the privileges and affected by all the liabilities prescribed hereunder, but the time of its existence fixed by its articles shall not be enlarged by such action. [L. '07, p. 259, § 12.]

§ 3764. Filing and License Fee.—All corporations formed under the provisions of this chapter shall pay to the secretary of state, for the use of the state, the same fee for filing its articles of incorporation and the same annual license fee, as is prescribed by law for other corporations having a capital stock. [L. '07, p. 260, § 13.]

CHAPTER V.

Patrons of Husbandry.

§ 3765. Manner of Incorporating a Grange.—Any grange of the Patrons of Husbandry, desiring hereafter to incorporate, may incorporate and become a body politic in this state by filing in the office of the secretary of state, and in the office of the county auditor of the county wherein such grange holds its meetings of business, a certificate or articles embodying,—

1. The name of such grange and the place of holding its meetings;

2. What elective officers the said grange will have; when such officers shall be elected; how and by whom the business of the grange shall be conducted and managed, and what officers shall join in the execution of any contract of such grange to give force and effect in accordance with the usages of the order of the Patrons of Husbandry. Such articles shall be subscribed by the master of such grange, attested by the secretary with the seal of the grange;

3. A copy of the by-laws of such grange shall also be filed in the said office of the secretary of state and the county auditor of the proper county;

4. The names of all such officers at the time of filing the application, and the time for which they may be respectively elected. When such articles shall have been filed, such grange shall be a body politic and corporate, with all the incidents of a corporation, subject, nevertheless, to the laws now in force or hereafter to be passed regulating corporations. [L. '75, p. 97, § 1; 1 H. C., § 1643.]

§ 3766. In What Pursuits Such Corporation may Engage.—Said grange may engage in any industrial pursuit, manufacturing, mining, milling, wharfing, docking, commercial, mechanical, mercantile, building, farming, equipping or running railroads, or generally engage in any species of trade or industry; loan money on security, purchase and sell on real estate; but when desiring to engage in either or any of the above pursuits or industries, said grange shall be subject to all the conditions, and liabilities imposed by the provisions of the general corporation laws, and in addition to the conditions to be performed as recited in the last preceding section, shall file additional articles with said secretary of state and the county auditor of the proper county, stating the object, business, or industry proposed to be pursued or engaged in, the amount of capital stock, the time of its existence, not to exceed fifty years; the number of shares of which the capital stock shall consist, and price per share, and the names of officers necessary to manage said business, and the places where said officers shall pursue the same. [L. '75, p. 97, § 2; 1 H. C., § 1644.]

§ 3766a. General Rights and Liabilities. — As a business corporation, said grange, after having complied with the provisions of the last preceding section, shall be to all intents and purposes a domestic corporation, with all the rights, privileges, and immunities allowed, and all the liabilities imposed, by the laws of the state relating to corporations engaged in the same kinds of business. [L. '75, p. 98, § 3; 1 H. C., § 1645.]

CHAPTER VI.

Co-operative Associations.

§ 3766–1. Co-operative Associations — Who may Organize — Purposes.—Any number of persons, not less than five, may associate themselves together as a co-operative association, society, company or exchange for the transaction of any lawful business on the co-operative plan. For the purposes of this act the words "association," "company," "exchange," "society" or "union" shall be construed the same. [L. '13, p. 50, § 1.]

§ 3766–2. Articles — Contents. — Every association formed under this act shall prepare articles of association in writing, which shall set forth:

1. The name of the association.
2. The purpose for which it was formed.
3. Its principal place of business.
4. The term for which it is to exist which shall not exceed fifty years.
5. The amount of capital stock, the number of shares and the par value of each share. [L. '13, p. 50, § 2.]

§ 3766–3. Articles—Verification—Filing—When Legally Organized.—The original articles of associations organized under this act or a true copy thereof verified to be such by the affidavits of two of the signers thereof, shall be filed with the secretary of state. Whenever a certified copy of the same accompanied by a certificate of the secretary of state showing that the same has been filed in his office, is filed with the county auditor of the county in which is located the principal place of business of said association, the said association shall be deemed to be legally organized. [L. '13, p. 50, § 3.]

§ 3766–4. Filing Fees.—For filing articles of association organized under this act there shall be paid to the secretary of state the sum of twenty-five dollars and for the filing of an amendment of such articles there shall be paid the sum of ten dollars. For recording such articles of association or an amendment thereto, the county auditor shall charge the sum of fifteen cents for each one hundred words thereof, and fifteen cents for filing and indexing the same. [L. '13, p. 51, § 4.]

§ 3766–5. Trustees — Election — Duties — Election of Officers. — Every such association shall be managed by a board of not less than three trustees. The trustees shall be elected by and from the stockholders of the association at such time and for such term of office as the by-laws may prescribe, and shall hold office during the term for which they were elected and until their successors are elected and qualified; but a majority of the stockholders shall have the power at any regular or special meeting, legally called for that purpose to remove any trustee or officer for cause, and fill the vacancy. The officers of every such association shall be a president, one or more vice-presidents, a secretary and a treasurer who shall be elected annually by the trustees. Each of said officers must be a member of the association. All elections shall be by ballot. [L. '13, p. 51, § 5.]

§ 3766–6. Amendments—How Adopted—Recording.—The articles of association may be amended by a majority vote of the stockholders at any regular stockholders' meeting or at any special stockholders' meeting called for that purpose, on twenty days' written notice being given to the stockholders. Said power to amend shall include the power to increase or diminish the amount of capital stock and the number of shares: Provided, the amount of the capital stock shall not be diminished below the amount of the paid-up capital stock at the time such amendment is adopted. Within thirty days after the adoption of an amendment to its articles of association, the association shall cause a copy of such amendment adopted to be recorded in the office of the secretary of state and of the county auditor of the county where its principal place of business is located. [L. '13, p. 51, § 6.]

§ 3766–7. Business Authorized to be Conducted—Lawful Business Defined.—An association created under this act, being for mutual welfare, the words "lawful business" shall extend to every kind of lawful effort for business, agricultural, dairy, mercantile, mining, manufacturing or mechanical business, on the co-operative plan. [L. '13, p. 52, § 7.]

§ 3766–8. Stock—Issues—Limit—Vote.—No stockholder in any such association shall own more than one-fifth of the stock of the association, except as hereinafter provided. No stockholder at any meeting shall be entitled to more than one vote. [L. '13, p. 52, § 8.]

§ 3766–9. Subscription of Stock in Other Associations.—At any regular meeting or any regularly called special meeting at which at least a majority of all the stockholders shall be present, or represented, an association organized under this act may by a majority vote of the stockholders present or represented, subscribe for shares and invest its reserve fund or any part thereof in the capital stock of any other co-operative association. [L. '13, p. 52, § 9.]

§ 3766–10. Purchasing Business of Other Associations—Payment—Stock Issued.—Whenever an association organized under this act shall purchase any stock of another association or the interest or any part thereof of any person or persons, firm or partnership engaged in any lawful business as defined in section 3766–7, it may pay for the same in whole or in part by issuing to the selling association or person, firm or partnership, shares of its capital stock to an amount which at par value, would equal the fair market value of the stock or interest so purchased and in such case the transfer to the association of such stock or interest so purchased at such valuation shall be equivalent to payment in cash for the shares of stock so issued. [L. '13, p. 52, § 10.]

§ 3766–11. Certificates of Stock—When Held in Trust—Issued.—In case the cash value of such stock or interest so purchased exceeds one-fifth of the par value of the purchasing association, the trustees of the purchasing association are authorized to hold the shares in excess of one-fifth of the par value of the purchasing association, in trust for the vendor and dispose of the same to such person or persons and within such time as may be mutually agreed upon by the parties in interest, and shall pay the proceeds thereof as currently received to the former owners thereof. Certificates of stock shall not be issued to any subscriber until fully paid for, but the by-laws of the association may allow subscribers to stock to vote as stockholders: Provided, that one-fifth of the stock subscribed for has been paid for by such subscriber. [L. '13, p. 53, § 11.]

§ 3766–12. Stockholders may Vote by Mail.—At any regular, called, general or special meeting of the stockholders, a written vote received by mail from any absent stockholder and signed by him may be read in such meeting and shall be equivalent to a vote of each of the stockholders so signing: Provided, he has been previously notified in writing of the exact motion or resolution upon which such vote is taken and a copy of same is forwarded with and attached to the vote so mailed by him. [L. '13, p. 53, § 12.]

§ 3766–13. Earnings—Apportionment.—The trustees shall apportion the net earnings by first paying dividends on the paid-up capital stock at a rate not exceeding eight per cent per annum; then setting aside not less than ten per cent nor more than twenty-five per cent of the remainder annually of the net profits for a reserve fund and the remainder of said net profits by dividends proportioned upon the amount of business transacted with said association and proportioned upon the wages and salaries of employees: Provided, that nonshareholders shall only be entitled to one-half as much dividends from said net profits as shareholders: And provided further, that no dividend shall be paid out or declared on any business transacted with the association by any person, persons, firm or corporation engaged in the buying, selling or handling of agricultural products for profit or to any sale to said association by any person or persons, firm or corporation engaged as a wholesaler or jobber in the distribution of manufactured products. Dividends remaining uncalled for six months after the same have been declared shall revert to the association. [L. '13, p. 53, § 13.]

§ 3766–14. Distribution of Dividends.—The profits or net earnings of such association shall be distributed to those entitled thereto at such time and in such manner not inconsistent with this act as its by-laws shall prescribe, which shall be as often as once a year. [L. '13, p. 54, § 14.]

§ 3766–15. Annual Reports — Contents — Filing. — Every association organized under the terms of this act shall, annually on or before the first day of March of each year, make a report to the secretary of state; such report shall contain the name of the company, its principal place of business in this state and a general statement as to its business, showing the total amount of business transacted, the amount of capital stock subscribed for and paid in, the number of stockholders, the total expenses of operation, the amount of its indebtedness or liability and its profits and losses. [L. '13, p. 54, § 15.]

§ 3766–16. Co-operative Associations Heretofore Organized—May Adopt Provisions of This Act.—All co-operative associations heretofore organized and doing business under prior statutes, or which have attempted to so organize and do business shall have the benefit of all the provisions of this act and be bound thereby on filing with the secretary of state signed and sworn to by the president and secretary, manager or other officer managing said business, to the effect that said co-operative company or association has by a majority vote of its stockholders decided to accept the benefits of and to be bound by the provisions of this act. No association organized under this act shall be required to do or perform anything not specifically required herein in order to become an association or to continue its business as such. [L. '13, p. 54, § 16.]

§ 3766–17. Use of Term "Co-operative" Limited to Associations Under This Act.—No corporation or association organized or doing business for profit in this state shall be entitled to use the term "co-operative" as a part of its corporate or other business name or title, unless it has complied with the provisions of this act; and any corporation or association violating the provisions of this section may be enjoined from doing business under such name at the instance of any stockholder or any association legally organized hereunder. [L. '13, p. 55, § 17.]

§ 3766–18. When to Do Business—Liability.—No co-operative association organized under the provisions of this act shall be permitted to do business until three-fourths of the capital stock shall have been subscribed for and one-fourth of the capital stock of said association shall have been paid in to said association. The liability of each stockholder shall be limited to the amount remaining unpaid on his subscription to the capital stock of said association. [L. '19, p. 55, § 18.]

§ 3766–19. May Pass By-laws.—Any association formed under this act may pass by-laws to govern itself in the carrying out of the provisions of this act which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act. [L. '13, p. 55, § 19.]

§ 3766–20. Constitutionality.—If any section or part of a section of this act shall for any cause be held unconstitutional such fact shall not affect the remainder of this act. [L. '13, p. 55, § 20.]

§ 3800. Walla Walla County.—Walla Walla county shall be and consist of all that territory commencing at a point where the boundary line between Washington and Oregon intersects the Columbia River; thence up the main channel of the Columbia to the mouth of the Snake River; thence up the main channel of said river to where the range line between ranges thirty-six and thirty-seven intersects said point; thence south on said range line to the northwest corner of township number nine north, range thirty-seven east; thence east on the north boundary line of township number nine north, range thirty-seven east, to the northeast corner of said township; thence south on the line between ranges thirty-seven and thirty-eight east, of the Willamette Meridian, to the northeast corner of township number six north, range thirty-seven east; thence along the north boundary line of township number six north, range thirty-eight east, to the northeast corner of said township; thence due south to the line dividing the state of Washington from the state of Oregon; thence due west on said dividing line to the place of beginning. [L. '54, p. 472; L. '58, p. 51; L. '67, p. 50; L. '68, p. 60; L. '69, p. 297; L. '75, p. 133; L. '79, p. 226; 1 H. C., § 33.]

§ 3801. Whatcom County.—Whatcom county shall be and consist of all that territory commencing on the forty-ninth parallel at the point dividing the American and British possessions in the Gulf of Georgia; thence along said boundary line to where it deflects at the north entrance to the Canal De Haro; thence along the northeasterly boundary of San Juan county to the ninth standard parallel (or the northwest corner of Skagit county); thence due east along said parallel to the summit of the Cascade Mountains; thence northerly along the summit of said mountains to the forty-ninth parallel of north latitude; thence west along said parallel to the place of beginning. [L. '54, p. 475; L. '59, p. 60; L. '67, p. 44; L. '58, p. 53; L. '69, p. 291; L. '77, p. 426; 1 H. C., § 34.]

§ 3802. Whitman County.—Whitman county shall be and consist of all that territory commencing at a point where the range line between ranges thirty-eight and thirty-nine east intersects the fifth standard parallel, being the northeast corner of Adams county; thence east on said parallel to the boundary line between Idaho and Washington; thence south on said boundary line to the mid-channel of Snake River; thence down the mid-channel of Snake River to its intersection with the mid-channel of the Palouse River; thence north along the mid-channel of the Palouse River to the point where the same intersects the range line between ranges thirty-eight and thirty-nine east; thence north along said range line to the place of beginning. [L. '71, p. 134; L. '75, p. 189; L. '83, pp. 87, 93; 1 H. C., § 35.]

§ 3803. Yakima County.—Yakima county shall be and consist of all that territory commencing at the northwest corner of township number six north of range number twelve east; thence east along the north boundary of township number six north until said line intersects the range line between range twenty-three east and range twenty-four east; thence north along said range line to the Columbia River; thence north up the mid-channel of said river to the southeast corner of Kittitas county; thence along the southern boundary of Kittitas county to the summit of the Cascade Range; thence southerly to the southeast corner of Lewis county; thence west along the line of said county to the northeast corner of Skamania county; thence (along the east line of Skamania county to the line between townships six and seven north; thence east along said line) to the place of beginning. [L. '67, p. 50; L. '68, p. 60; L. '69, p. 296; L. '73, p. 571; L. '86, p. 168; 1 H. C., § 36; L. '05, p. 185, § 1.]

CHAPTER II.

Change of Boundaries.

§ 3804. Suit to Establish Boundary Lines.—Whenever the boundary line between two or more adjoining counties in this state shall be in dispute, or shall have been lost by time, accident or any other cause, or shall have become obscure or uncertain, one or more of said counties, in its corporate name, may bring and maintain suit against such other adjoining county or counties, in equity, in the superior court of this state, and such court as a court of equity shall hear and determine all such suits, and by decree establish the location of such boundary line or lines. [L. '97, p. 204, § 1.]

See Const., Art. XI, § 3; Const., Art. II, § 28, subd. 18.

§ 3805. Before Whom Tried.—Said suit shall be tried before a judge of the superior court who is not a resident of a county, a party to such suit, or of a judicial district embracing any such county. [L. '97, p. 204, § 2.]

§ 3806. Residents of Disputed Territory may Intervene.—A majority of the voters living in the territory embracing such disputed, lost, obscure or uncertain boundary line may, by petition, duly verified by one or more of them, intervene in said suit, and thereupon said court shall have jurisdiction and power, in locating and establishing said boundary line or lines, to strike or transfer from one county to another a strip or portion of such territory not exceeding two miles in width. [L. '97, p. 204, § 3.]

§ 3807. "Territory" Defined.—The term "territory," as used in this chapter, shall be held and construed to mean and include that part or section of said counties lying along said line and within one mile on either side thereof. [L. '97, p. 204, § 4.]

§ 3808. Boundaries, etc., Questions of Fact.—The boundaries of such territory, the number of voters living therein, and the sufficiency of such petition are questions of fact to be determined by said court. [L. '97, p. 204, § 5.]

§ 3809. Court may Move Boundary Line, etc.—The court shall have power to move or establish such boundary line on any government section line or subdivisional line thereof, of the section in or through which said disputed, lost, obscure or uncertain boundary line may be located, or if such boundary line is in unsurveyed territory, then the court shall have power to move or establish such boundary line so it will conform to extensions of government section lines already surveyed in that vicinity. [L. '97, p. 204, § 6.]

§ 3810. Practice.—The practice, proceedings, rules of evidence, and appeals to the supreme court as in civil actions, is preserved under this chapter. [L. '97, p. 205, § 7.]

§ 3811. Copies of Decree to be Furnished Certain Officials.—The clerk of the court in whose office a decree is entered under the provisions of this chapter, shall forthwith furnish certified copies thereof to the secretary of state, and to the auditors of the counties, which are parties to said suit; and said secretary of state, and said county auditors, shall file and record said copies of said decree in their respective offices. [L. '97, p. 205, § 8.]

§ 3812. Petition and Notices of Election—Requisites of.—Where a port, harbor, inlet, bay, or mouth of river shall be embraced within two adjoining counties, and upon the shore of said harbor, bay, inlet, or mouth of river an incorporated city shall have been or may hereafter be located, and the harbor of the said city shall lie in such two counties, and it shall become necessary, in order to place the said harbor or port within the limits of one county, or to extend the corporate limits of such city, to embrace the full extent of said shore line of such harbor, port, or bay, and the waters of said harbor, together with a strip of the adjacent and contiguous upland territory not exceeding three miles in width (to be measured back from high-water mark) and six miles in length, and not being at a greater distance in any part of said strip from the courthouse in the county seat of the county to which said territory is proposed to be annexed, as said county seat and courthouse are now situated, than the distance of ten miles—in all such cases, when a majority of the qualified electors living upon any territory in any county of this state within which said harbor shall partly be embraced shall desire to have such territory stricken from the county of which it shall then be a part, and added to and made a part of the county contiguous thereto, they may present a petition describing with proper certainty the bounds and area of such territory, with the reasons for making such application, to the board of county commissioners of the county in which such territory shall be, who shall proceed to ascertain if such petition contains the requisite number of petitioners, who shall be bona fide residents of the territory sought to be stricken off and transferred to the contiguous county, and if satisfied that the petition is signed by a majority of the bona fide electors of such territory, and that there will remain in the county from which such territory is taken more than four thousand inhabitants, the said board shall make an order that a special election shall be held within the limits of the territory described in the petition, upon a date to be named in the said order. Notices of such election shall contain a description of the territory proposed to be transferred, the names of the counties from and to which such transfer is intended to be made, and shall be posted and published as required for general elections. [L. '91, p. 330, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2467.]

See infra, § 3826 et seq., new county constructed out of old—debts and property.

§ 3813. Conduct of Election, etc.—The said election shall be conducted in all respects as general elections are conducted under the law governing general elections, so far as they may be applicable, except that there shall be triplicate returns made, one to each of the respective county auditors, another to the office of the secretary of state. The ballots used at such election shall contain the words "For transferring territory," or "Against transferring territory." The votes shall be canvassed, as by law required, within twenty days, and if three-fifths of the votes cast in said territory at such election are "For transferring territory," the territory described in such petition shall become a part of and be added to and made a part of the county contiguous thereto, and within thirty days after the canvass of the returns of the elections held under the provisions of this chapter the governor shall issue his proclamation of the change of said county lines. [L. '91, p. 331, § 2; 1 H. C., § 2468.]

§ 3814. Proceedings not to be Disturbed by Change.—All assessments and collection of taxes, and all judicial or other official proceedings commenced prior to the said governor's proclamation transferring such territory of the contiguous county, shall be continued, prosecuted, and completed in the same manner as if no such transfer had been made. [L. '91, p. 332, § 3; 1 H. C., § 2469.]

§ 3815. Certain Officers to Continue.—All township, precinct, school, and road district officers within such transferred territory shall continue to hold their respective offices within the county to which they may be transferred until their respective terms of office expire, and until their successors are elected and qualified. [L. '91, p. 332, § 4; 1 H. C., § 2470.]

§ 3816. Liability for Existing Debts.—Every county which shall thus be enlarged from territory taken from another county shall be liable for a just proportion of the existing debts of the county from which such territory shall have been stricken, which such proportion of indebtedness shall be paid by the county to which such territory shall have been transferred at such time and in such manner as may be agreed upon by the boards of county commissioners of both counties interested: Provided, that the county to which such territory may be transferred and attached shall not be liable for any portion of the debt of the county from which such territory has been taken, incurred in the purchase of any county property, or the construction of any county building then in use or under construction, which shall fall within and be retained by the county from which such territory shall have been taken. [L. '91, p. 332, § 5; 1 H. C., § 2471.]

§ 3817. Appraisement of Property and Indebtedness.—The county auditors of the respective counties interested in the transfer of territory, as in this chapter provided, are hereby constituted a board of appraisers and adjusters, to appraise the property, both real and personal, owned by the county from which such territory shall have been taken, and to adjust the indebtedness of such county with the county to which such territory shall have been transferred, in proportion to the amount of taxable property within the territory taken from the one county and transferred to the other. [L. '91, p. 332, § 6; 1 H. C., § 2472.]

§ 3818. Arbitration of Differences.—If the board of appraisers and adjusters provided for in this chapter shall not agree on any subject, value, or settlement as herein stated, they shall choose a third man from an adjoining county to settle their differences, and the decision thus arrived at shall be final. [L. '91, p. 333, § 7; 1 H. C., § 2473.]

§ 3819. Expense of Proceedings.—The expense of proceedings and election provided for in this chapter shall be paid by the county to which the territory shall be attached, after such election. [L. '91, p. 333, § 8; 1 H. C., § 2474.]

§ 3820. Transcript of Records, etc.—The county auditor of the county to which any territory may be transferred and attached under the provisions of this chapter is hereby authorized and empowered to take transcripts of all records, books, papers, etc., on file in the office of the county auditor of the county from which said territory has been transferred, which may be necessary to perfect the records of the county to which such territory may be attached, and for this purpose he shall have access to the records of the county from which such territory is stricken, free of cost. [L. '91, p. 333, § 9; 1 H. C., § 2475.]

§ 3821. Construction—Limitations.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to authorize the annexing of territory of one county to a neighboring county where the territory proposed to be annexed, or any part thereof, is at a greater distance than ten miles from the courthouse in the county seat of the county to which said territory is proposed to be annexed, as said courthouse is now located, nor to authorize the annexation of any territory at a greater distance than three miles from high-water mark of tide water, but such annexation shall be strictly confined within said limits. [L. '91, p. 333, § 10; 1 H. C., § 2476.]

This section was repealed by Laws of 1903, chapter 121, p. 229, § 2; but the latter act was repealed by Laws of 1905, chapter 34, p. 58, § 1.

CHAPTER III.

General Rights, Duties and Powers.

§ 3822. Powers of Counties as Bodies Corporate.—The several counties in this state shall have capacity as bodies corporate to sue and be sued in the manner prescribed by law; to purchase and hold lands within its own limits; to make such contracts, and to purchase and hold such personal property, as may be necessary to its corporate or administrative powers, and to do all other necessary acts in relation to all the property of the county. See Art. XI, § 11, of the Const., police power to enforce sanitary regulations.

See Art. XI, § 9, of the Const., limitation forbidding the release or discharge of state taxes levied for state purposes.

§ 3823. Corporate Name of County.—The name of a county, designated in the law creating it, is its corporate name, and it must be known and designated thereby in all actions and proceedings touching its corporate rights, property, and duties. [Cd. '81, § 2654; 1 H. C., § 2438.]

Cited in 8 Wash. 237.

See supra, §§ 950, 951, actions by and against.

See notes to last section.

§ 3824. Powers—How Exercised.—Its powers can only be exercised by the county commissioners, or by agents or officers acting under their authority or authority of law. [Cd. '81, § 2655; 1 H. C., § 2439.]

Cited in 22 Wash. 413.

§ 3825. Conveyance of Land to Counties.—Every conveyance of lands, or transfer of other property, made in any manner for the use of such county, shall have the same force and effect as if made to said county in its proper and corporate name. [L. '54, p. 329, § 2; Cd. '81, § 2656; 1 H. C., § 2440.]

§ 3826. Division of County, Effect of.—Whenever a new county shall be, or shall have been, organized over territory which shall have been included within the limits of any other county or counties, the new county shall be liable for a reasonable proportion of the debts of the county from which it was taken, and entitled to its proportion of the property of the county. [L. '54, p. 330, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2657; 1 H. C., § 2441.]

See supra, § 3804 et seq., changing county lines.

§ 3827. Apportionment of Indebtedness.—The auditor of the old county shall give the auditor of the new county reasonable notice to meet him on a certain day at the county seat of the old county, or at some other convenient place, to settle upon and fix the amount which the new county shall pay. In doing so, they shall not charge either county with any share of debts arising from the erection of public buildings, or out of the construction of roads or bridges which shall be and remain, after the division, within the limits of the other county, and of the other debts they shall apportion to each county such a share of the indebtedness as may be just and equitable, taking into consideration the population of such portion of territory so forming a part of the said counties while so united, and also the relative advantages derived from the old county organization. [L. '54, p. 330, § 2; Cd. '81, § 2658; 1 H. C., § 2442.]

Cited in 72 Wash. 325, 328.

§ 3828. Disagreement Between Auditors—Third Person.—In case the two auditors cannot agree, they shall call a third person, not a citizen of either county, or in any other manner interested, whose decision shall be binding. In case they cannot agree upon such third person, they shall each name one and decide by lot which it shall be. [L. '54, p. 330, § 3; Cd. '81, § 2659; 1 H. C., § 2443.]

§ 3829. Payment of Indebtedness.—The auditor of the county indebted upon such decision shall give to the auditor of the other county his order upon the treasurer for the amount to be paid out of the proper fund, as in other cases, and also make out a transfer of such property as shall be assigned to either county. [L. '54, p. 330, § 4; Cd. '81, § 2660; 1 H. C., § 2444.]

§ 3830. Survey of Boundary—Costs of.—All common boundaries and common corners of counties not adequately marked by natural objects or lines, or by surveys lawfully made, must be definitely established by surveys jointly made by the surveyors of all the counties affected thereby, and approved by the board of county commissioners of such counties, or by a survey made by the surveyor general, on application by the board of county commissioners of any county affected thereby. The cost of making such surveys must be apportioned equally among the counties interested, and the board of county commissioners must audit the same, and the amounts must be paid out of the general county fund. [Cd. '81, § 2661; 1 H. C., § 2445.]

§ 3831. Collection of Taxes Levied—Apportionment.—When a county is divided or the boundary is altered, all taxes levied before the division was made or boundaries changed, must be collected by the officers of the county in which the territory was situated before the division or change. And the auditor or auditors of the county or counties so divided or having boundaries changed, shall apportion the amount of the real property taxes so collected after division or change of boundary to the old county or counties and the new county or counties, in the ratio of the assessed value of such property situated in the territory of each county or counties respectively, and the old county that may have been divided or whose boundaries may have been changed, shall retain all of the personal property taxes on the said tax-rolls, as compensation for cost of collection of the entire taxes: Provided, that in such accounting neither county shall be charged with any debt or liability then existing incurred in the purchase of any county property, or in the purchase or construction of any county buildings then in use or under construction, which shall fall within and be retained by the county: Provided further, that this shall not be construed to affect the rights of creditors: And provided further, that any such county property or buildings shall be the property of and owned by the county wherein the same is situated. In case the auditors of the interested counties are not able to agree upon the proportion to be awarded to each county, the same shall be determined by the judge of the superior court of the district in which all of the interested counties are situated, if they be in one district, and have one common judge, and if not, by the judges sitting en banc of the judicial district in which each and any of the said counties may be situated. Said auditors shall make said apportionment within sixty days after the creation of any new county or the changing of boundaries of any old county, and if they do not, within said time, agree upon said apportionment, thereafter either or any county affected may petition the judge or judges of any court given jurisdiction by this act, and upon ten days' notice to any other county affected, the same may be brought on for hearing and summarily disposed of by said judge or judges, after allowing each side an opportunity to be heard. [L. '09, p. 150, § 1. Cf. Cd. '81, § 2662; 1 H. C., § 2446.]

§ 3831-1. Buildings for County and City—Joint Construction.—Where the county seat of any county in this state shall be within the corporate limits of any incorporated city such county and city may contract one with the other for the joint purchase, acquisition, leasing, ownership, control and disposition of land and other property suitable as a site for a county courthouse and city hall and for the joint construction, ownership, control and disposition of a building or buildings thereon for the use by such county and city as a county courthouse and city hall. Any such county or city now owning a site or any interest therein, or a site with buildings thereon, may, upon such terms as shall appear fair and just to the board of county commissioners of such county or to the city council or commission of such city, contract with reference to the joint ownership, acquisition, leasing, control, improvement and occupation of such property as herein provided. [L. '13, p. 272, § 1.]

§ 3831-2. Contract—Terms.—All contracts made in pursuance hereof shall be for such period of time and upon such terms and conditions as shall be agreed upon. Such contract shall fully set forth the amount of money to be contributed by such county and city towards the acquisition of such site and the improvement thereof and for the manner in which such property shall be improved and the character of the building or buildings to be erected thereon. Such contract may provide for the amount of money to be contributed annually by such county and city for the upkeep and maintenance of such property and the building or buildings thereon, or it may provide for the relative proportion of such expense which such county and city shall annually pay. Such contract shall specify the parts of such building or buildings which shall be set apart for the exclusive use and occupation of such county and city. [L. '13, p. 272, § 2.]

§ 3831-3. Funds.—The money to be contributed by such county or city may be raised by a sale of the bonds of such county or city, or by general taxation as now or hereafter authorized by law. Any such county or city now possessing funds or having funds available for a county courthouse or city hall from the sale of bonds or otherwise, is herewith authorized to contract for the expenditure of such funds as herein provided. [L. '13, p. 273, § 3.]

§ 3831-4. Approval of Contract.—Such contract shall be made only after a proper resolution of the board of county commissioners of such county and ordinance of such city duly passed specifically authorizing the same. Such contract when made shall be binding upon such county or city during the life of the same or until the same be modified or abrogated by mutual consent evidenced by a proper resolution and ordinance of such county and city. [L. '13, p. 273, § 4.]

§ 3831-5. Joint Armory Sites.—Any city or county in the state of Washington is hereby authorized and empowered to expend money from its or their current expense funds in payment in whole or in part for an armory site whenever the legislature of the state of Washington shall appropriate money for or authorize the construction of an armory within such city or county for use of such organization or organizations of the National Guard of Washington, as may be stationed within such city or county. [L. '13, p. 273, § 1.]

§ 3831-6. Warrants Declared Valid.—All warrants and obligations heretofore issued or incurred by any county in the state of Washington for the purchase of, or in payment for, any armory site upon which an armory building may have been constructed with the aid, in whole or in part, of appropriations of the legislature of the state of Washington, are hereby declared legal and valid. [L. '13, p. 275, § 1.]

CHAPTER IV.

Removal of County Seats.

§ 3832. Petition for.—Whenever the inhabitants of any county of this state desire to remove the county seat of the county from the place where it is fixed by law or otherwise, they shall present a petition to the board of county commissioners of their county praying such removal, and that an election be held to determine to what place such removal must be made: Provided, that the petition for removal shall set forth the names of the towns or cities to which such county seat is proposed to be removed. [L. '90, p. 318, § 1; H. C., § 2458.]

Cited in 8 Wash. 66, 483; 12 Wash. 423, 434; 81 Wash. 360.

See Const., Art. II, § 28, subd. 18, limitation on special legislation for changing county seats.

See Const., Art. XI, § 2, requiring a three-fifths vote at a general election, and prohibition against further submission until four years have intervened.

§ 3833. Question—How Submitted.—If the petition is signed by qualified electors of the county equal in number to at least one-third of all the votes cast in the county at the last preceding general election, the board must, at the next general election of county officers, submit the question of removal to the electors of the county. [L. '90, p. 318, § 2; 1 H. C., § 2459.]

Cited in 8 Wash. 66, 483; 81 Wash. 360.

§ 3834. Election—Notice of—How Conducted.—Notice of such election, clearly stating the object, shall be given, and the election must be held and conducted, and the returns made, in all respects in the manner prescribed by law in regard to elections for county officers. [L. '90, p. 318, § 3; 1 H. C., § 2460.]

Cited in 8 Wash. 483; 81 Wash. 360.

§ 3835. Manner of Voting.—In voting on the question, each elector must vote for or against the place named in the petition, plainly designating same on his ballot. [L. '90, p. 318, § 4; 1 H. C., § 2461.]

Cited in 8 Wash. 483; 81 Wash. 360.

§ 3836. Notice of Result.—When the returns have been received and compared, and the results ascertained by the board, if three-fifths of the legal votes cast by those voting on the proposition are in favor of any particular place, the board must give notice of the result by posting notices thereof in all the election precincts in the county. [L. '90, p. 318, § 5; 1 H. C., § 2462.]

Cited in 8 Wash. 66; 16 Wash. 276; 81 Wash. 360.

§ 3837. Removal to Take Place, When.—In the notice provided for in the last section, the place selected to be the county seat of the county must be so declared from a day specified in the notice not more than ninety days after the election. After the day named in the notice the place chosen is the seat of the county; and it shall be the duty of the several county officers, whose offices are required by law to be kept at the county seat, to remove their respective offices, files, records, office fixtures, furniture, and all public property pertaining to their respective offices to said county seat. [L. '90, p. 318, § 6; 1 H. C., § 2463.]

Cited in 16 Wash. 276; 81 Wash. 360.

§ 3838. Statement of Result to be Filed—Notice.—Whenever any election has been held as provided for in the preceding sections of this chapter, the statement made by the board of county commissioners, showing the result thereof, must be deposited in the office of the county clerk, and whenever the board gives the notice prescribed by the last preceding section, they must transmit a certified copy thereof to the secretary of state. [L. '90, p. 319, § 7; 1 H. C., § 2464.]

Cited in 81 Wash. 360.

§ 3839. Failure of Election—Effect of.—When an election has been held and no one place receives three-fifths of all the votes cast at such election on such question, the former county seat shall remain the county seat, and no second election must be held within four years thereafter. [L. '90, p. 319, § 8; 1 H. C., § 2465.]

Cited in 81 Wash. 360.

§ 3840. Successive Removals, Restriction upon.—When the county seat of a county has been removed by a popular vote of the people of the county, it may be again removed, from time to time, in the manner provided by this chapter: Provided, no two elections to effect such removal be held within four years. [L. '90, p. 319, § 9; 1 H. C., § 2466.]

Cited in 5 Wash. 493; 81 Wash. 360.

CHAPTER V.

Sale or Disposal of County Property.

§ 3841. Commissioners may Sell and Convey, How.—Whenever it shall appear to the board of county commissioners of any county in this state that it is for the best interests of such county and the people thereof that any part or parcel, or portion of such part or parcel, of the property, whether real, personal, or mixed, belonging to said county should be sold, it shall be the duty of such board, and they are hereby authorized and empowered, to sell and convey such property, under the limitations and restrictions and in the manner hereinafter provided. See infra, § 3848 et seq., sale of escheated property.

See infra, § 9272, resale of lands acquired by county at tax sale.

§ 3842. Notice of Sale—Hearing.—The board of county commissioners so desiring to sell shall first give notice of their intention to make such sale, by publication at least once a week for the term of four weeks in three different newspapers of such county, if there are three published in such county, and also place a notice in a conspicuous place in the courthouse for the same length of time. Such notice so published shall particularly designate and describe the property or portion thereof which it is proposed to sell, and shall contain full notice that the board of county commissioners will meet on a certain day and hour of such day at their usual place of meeting to hear and determine the advisability of making such sale: Provided, that such meeting shall be held at a time not more than one week after the expiration of the time hereinbefore designated for the publication of the notice of such meeting. The board shall at such meeting hear evidence and take testimony, should any be offered, as to the propriety and advisability of making such proposed sale, and any taxpayer in the county, either in person or by counsel, shall have the right to be heard for or against such proposition: Provided, that the board may limit the number to be heard to not less than three on either side, for or against the proposed sale. [L. '91, p. 145, § 2; 1 H. C., § 3060.]

§ 3843. Finding of Board, and Record Thereof.—The board shall within three days after such meeting make their findings as to the propriety and advisability of making such sale and their determination thereon, which said finding and determination shall be spread upon their minutes and be made matter of record. [L. '91, p. 146, § 3; 1 H. C., § 3061.]

§ 3844. Effect of Determination—Notice of Sale.—If the findings and determination of the board shall be against such sale, all proceedings in that regard shall then and there terminate without further action or order; but if the board shall find and determine in favor of such sale, they shall then enter an order on their minutes directing the auditor of the county to give notice that such sale will be made, and the auditor shall give such notice in the manner prescribed in section 3842, of this chapter: Provided, that such sale shall not be made in less than thirty nor more than forty-five days from the date of the first publication of notice thereof; and such notice shall designate the hour and day when such sale shall take place. And the sale shall be made by the sheriff by public auction and at the door of the court-house of the county, to the highest and best bidder. Such sale may be postponed by the board of commissioners, but in no case for longer than thirty days. [L. '91, p. 146, § 4; 1 H. C., § 3062.]

§ 3845. Terms of Sale.—If the property to be sold be personal or mixed, or both, the sale thereof shall be for cash, in case such property be real, then the sale thereof shall be on such terms as the board may designate: Provided, that any and all deferred payments shall be secured by such good and sufficient means as may to the board seem necessary; but no conveyance of the property so sold shall be made until full payment be made therefor: Provided, that in any case where any building, bridge, or other structure belonging to any county in this state shall have been torn down or destroyed, either by accident or by order of the board of county commissioners of such county, said board of county commissioners shall by order entered on their journal, determine the advisability of selling all or any part of the material which was formerly a part of the building, bridge or other structure so destroyed or torn down, or other personal property of any kind whatever, not exceeding two hundred dollars ($200) in value, and if it be determined that such sale is advisable the board may make such sale, either with or without public notice, and in such manner as the board may determine will be most beneficial to the county. The proceeds of such sale shall be paid by the purchaser to the county treasurer who shall issue his receipt therefor to the purchaser, and which receipt shall be evidence of the title of the purchaser. [L. '15, p. 22, § 1. Cf. L. '91, p. 146, § 5; 1 H. C., § 3063.]

§ 3845½. Validating Sales of Materials.—That any sale of property made in accordance with the terms of the proviso contained in the preceding section between the date of the approval by the governor of this act and the time when this act goes into effect, which is made in all respects in accordance with the terms of this act, shall be, and the same is, hereby approved and confirmed and this section shall be printed in any revision of the code of the state of Washington. [L. '15, p. 23, § 2.]

§ 3846. Receipt of Proceeds—Conveyance.—The county treasurer shall attend at such sale and receive all proceeds of the same, and on full and entire payment he shall make, execute, and deliver to the purchaser of the property so sold a deed for the same, which deed shall fully set out all the proceedings had in relation to the said sale of the property therein described, and shall be attested by the county auditor, and when so executed and delivered it shall vest all the title which the county had in the property so sold in the grantee. [L. '91, p. 147, § 6; 1 H. C., § 3064.]

§ 3847. Application of Various Provisions.—The provisions of this chapter shall be held to apply to all property now owned by any county in this state and to all property hereafter acquired by any county. [L. '91, p. 147, § 7; 1 H. C., § 3065.]

§ 3848. Sale of Escheated Property.—The county commissioners of the several counties of this state be, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to sell and convey at public sale, for cash or on credit, in such manner as they may deem advantageous, any real estate or other property, which may have escheated to the county by operation of law. [L. '83, p. '57, § 1.]

This and the two following sections appear to be impliedly repealed by §§ 1358, 1362, supra, at least in so far as it relates to real estate, which now escheats to the state, under § 1356.

See supra, § 1364, subd. 8, and § 1341.

See infra, § 6610, state board of land commissioners to accept and control lands escheated to state.

See infra, § 6635–4, agent to handle escheated lands.

See infra, § 7141 et seq., disposition of lost or unclaimed property.

See infra, §§ 7146, 7147, disposition of unclaimed moneys.

See infra, § 7515–10, escheats of absentees.

§ 3849. Time, When to be Made.—No such sale shall be made before the expiration of five years after the property has vested in the county. [L. '83, p. 57, § 2.]

See notes to last section.

§ 3850. Conveyance, How Made.—In case of a sale, a conveyance shall be executed to the purchaser, by the chairman of the board of county commissioners, and the county auditor, attested by his seal of office. Such conveyance shall refer to the order of the board directing such sale and shall be deemed to convey all the estate, right, title and interest of the county in and to the property sold. [L. '83, p. 57, § 3.]

§ 3851. Leases of County Property.—The board of county commissioners of any county in this state, wherever it shall appear that it is for the best interests of such county and the people thereof, that any part, parcel or portion of the real property and its appurtenances to said county belonging, should be leased for a year or term of years, are hereby authorized and empowered to lease such property under the limitations and restrictions and in the manner hereinafter provided. [L. '01, p. 183, § 1.]

See infra, § 9274, lease of mining claim acquired at tax sale.

§ 3852. Application in Writing—Deposit—Forfeiture.—Any person or persons desiring to lease any of such lands shall make application in writing to the board of county commissioners of such county; each application shall be accompanied with a deposit of not less than ten dollars or such other sum as the county commissioners may require, not to exceed twenty-five dollars; such deposit shall be in the form of a certified check or certificate of deposit on some bank in said county, or may be paid in cash. In case the lands so applied for shall be leased at the time they are offered, then such deposit shall be returned to such applicant by the board of county commissioners, but if the party making such application shall fail or refuse to comply with the terms of his application and to execute such lease, then such deposit shall be forfeited to the county, and the board of county commissioners shall pay the said deposit over to the county treasurer, who shall place the same to the credit of the current expense fund of the county. [L. '01, p. 183, § 2.]

§ 3853. Notice of Intention to Lease—Contents.—When, in the judgment of the board of county commissioners, it is found desirable to lease the land applied for, they shall first give notice of their intention to make such lease by publishing a notice in a newspaper of general circulation within the county where such property is situated, for at least once a week for the term of three weeks, and shall also post a notice of such intention in a conspicuous place in the courthouse in said county for the same length of time; such notice so published and posted shall designate and describe the property which is proposed to be leased, together with the improvements thereon and appurtenances thereto, and shall contain a notice that the board of county commisisoners will meet at the county courthouse on a day and at an hour, in such notice designated, for the purpose of leasing said property which day and hour for such leasing shall be at a time not more than a week after the expiration of the time required by this act for the publication of the notice of such meeting. [L. '01, p. 183, § 3.]

§ 3854. Lease—Term.—At the day and hour designated in such notice or at any subsequent time to which such meeting may be adjourned by said board of county commissioners, but not more than thirty days after the day and hour designated for the meeting in said published notice, the board of county commissioners may, at their discretion, lease the property in such notice described for a term of years and upon such terms and conditions as to the said board of county commissioners shall seem just and right in the premises; but for no longer term in any one instance than ten (10) years, and no renewal of a lease once executed and delivered shall be had, except by a re-leasing and reletting of said property according to the terms and conditions of this act: Provided, that where a county owns property within the corporate limits of any city or town suitable for municipal purposes, or for commercial buildings, or owns property suitable for manufacturing or industrial purposes, the board of county commissioners may lease same for said purposes for any period not to exceed thirty-five years. Where property is leased for municipal purposes or for commercial buildings or manufacturing or industrial purposes the lessee therein shall prior to the execution of such lease file with said board of county commissioners general plans and specifications of the building or buildings to be erected thereon for such purposes. All leases when executed shall provide that the same shall be canceled by failure of the lessee to construct such building or buildings or other improvements for such purposes within two years from date of such lease, and in case of failure so to do the lease and all improvements thereon, including the rentals paid, shall thereby be forfeited to the county. No change or modification of said plans shall be made unless same be first approved by the board of county commissioners. If at any time during the life of said lease the lessee shall fail to use the same for the purposes leased, without first obtaining permission in writing from the board of county commissioners so to do, said lease shall be forfeited. Any lease made for a longer period than ten (10) years shall contain provisions requiring the lessee to permit the rentals for every five-year period thereafter, or part thereof, at the commencement of such period, to be readjusted and fixed by the board of county commissioners. In the event that the lessee and said board of county commissioners cannot agree upon the rentals for said five-year period, the lessee shall submit to have said disputed rentals for said subsequent period adjusted by arbitration. The lessee shall pick one arbitrator and the board of county commissioners one, and the two so chosen shall select a third. No board of arbitrators shall reduce the rentals below the sum fixed or agreed upon for the last preceding period. All buildings, factories or other improvements made upon property leased under this proviso shall belong to and become property of such county, unless otherwise stipulated, at the expiration of the lease. No lease so made shall be assigned without such assignment being first authorized by resolution of said board of county commissioners and the consent in writing of at least two (2) members of said board indorsed on such leases and all leases when drawn shall contain this provision. [L. '13, p. 552, § 1. Cf. L. '01, p. 184, § 4; L. '03, p. 70, § 1.]

§ 3855. Objections must be in Writing—Publication.—Any person may appear at such meeting of the county commissioners, designated in said notice, or any adjourned meeting thereof, and make objection to the leasing of such property, which objection shall be stated in writing, and in passing upon such objection the board of county commissioners shall, in writing, briefly give their reasons for accepting or rejecting the same, and such objections, and the reasons for accepting or refusing the same shall, by said board of county commissioners, be published in the next subsequent weekly issue of the newspaper in which said notice of hearing was published. [L. '01, p. 184, § 5.]

§ 3856. Applicable to all Property—Highest Bidder.—The provisions of this act shall be held to apply to all property now owned by any county in this state and to all property hereafter acquired by any county in this state, and any lease executed under this act, shall be considered as a vested and binding contract between the county owning such property and the lessee in said lease named, and no lease shall be made except to the highest responsible bidder for the rental of such county property at the time of hearing set forth in the notice of intention to lease. [L. '01, p. 185, § 6.]

§ 3857. Lease to be in Duplicate—Contents.—Upon the decision of the board of county commissioners to lease the lands applied for, a lease shall be executed in duplicate to the lessee by the chairman of the board of county commissioners and the county auditor attested by his seal of office which lease shall also be signed by the lessee; such lease shall refer to the order of the board directing such lease, with a description of the lands conveyed, the periods of payment, and the amounts to be paid for each period. [L. '01, p. 185, § 7.]

§ 3858. County Dedication of Lands for Streets and Alleys.—That the boards of county commissioners of the several counties of this state be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to dedicate to public use land for public streets and alleys in any incorporated city or town within their respective counties through lands belonging to the several counties of this state. [L. '03, p. 136, § 1.]

§ 3859. Recording Copy of Order.—That whenever the board of county commissioners of any county in this state shall deem it for the best interests of the public that any land belonging to the said county in any incorporated city or town thereof should be dedicated to the public use for streets or alleys, they shall make and enter an order upon their records, designating the land so dedicated, and shall cause a certified copy of such order and dedication so entered upon their records to be recorded in the auditor's office of the county in which the land is situated, and from and after the entry of such order of dedication and the recording thereof as herein provided, such lands shall be thereby dedicated to the public use. [L. '03, p. 136, § 2.]

CHAPTER VI.

County Officers, Terms of Office, Courtrooms, etc.

§ 3860. Tenure of Office.—The official term of district, county, and precinct officers shall be for the term of two years, or until their successors are duly elected and qualified; and their term of office shall begin the first [second] Monday in January next, following the day of election, and continue two years, or until their successors are duly elected and qualified. [L. '67, p. 7, § 4; L. '71, p. 35, § 3; L. '77, p. 330, § 2; Cd. '81, § 3153; L. '86, p. 101, § 2; 1 H. C., § 324.]

See Const., Art. XXVII, §§ 1, 14.

See infra, § 3869 et seq., terms of county commissioners.

§ 3861. Officer must Complete Business to End of Term.—It shall be the duty of all officers in this act named to complete the business of their respective offices, to the time of the expiration of their respective terms, and in case any officer, at the close of his term, shall leave to his successor official labor to be performed which it was his duty to perform, he shall be liable to his successor for the full value of such services. [L. '90, p. 315, § 43; 1 H. C., § 325.]

See infra, § 4006.

See infra, § 8763, validating sheriff's deeds.

§ 3862. Offices for County Officials.—The boards of county commissioners of the several counties of the state shall provide a suitable furnished office for each of the county officers in their respective courthouses. [Cf. L. '54, p. 422, § 15; L. '69, p. 306, § 15; Cd. '81, § 2677; 1 H. C., § 282; L. '93, p. 185, § 1.]

§ 3863. Closed Saturday Afternoon — Summer Months.—All elective and appointive officers of counties of the first class and all elective and appointive officers in cities of the first class are permitted to close any branch or branches of their respective offices at 1 o'clock P. M. on Saturday of each week, during the months of June, July, August and September. [L. '09, p. 638, § 1.]

§ 3864. County to Furnish Courthouse and Incidental Expenses.—The county in which the court is held shall furnish the courthouse, a jail or suitable place for confining prisoners, books for record, stationery, lights, wood, attendance, and other incidental expenses of the courthouse and court. [L. '63, p. 425, § 11; L. '69, p. 421, § 10; Cd. '81, § 2111; 1 H. C., § 3055a.]

§ 3865. To Provide Suitable Place for Holding Court.—Until proper buildings are erected at a place fixed upon for the seat of justice in any county, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to provide some suitable place for holding the courts of such county. [L. '54, p. 423, § 23; Cd. '81, § 2688; 1 H. C., § 285.]

CHAPTER VII.

County Commissioners.

§ 3867. Election—Quorum.—There shall be established in each organized county in this state a board of county commissioners, to consist of three qualified electors, to be elected by the qualified electors at the general election in eighteen hundred and eighty-two and biennially thereafter [as hereinafter provided], and two of said board of commissioners shall constitute a quorum to do business. [Cf. L. '54, p. 420, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2663; 1 H. C., § 265.]

See Const., Art. XI, § 5, creation of.

See infra, § 4032 et seq., compensation of county commissioners. The words "biennially thereafter" should read "and thereafter as hereinafter provided" to conform to the following sections.

§ 3868. Division into Commissioners' Districts.—The board of county commissioners of each county in this state, heretofore divided and numbered as provided by law into three districts in such manner so as to leave one or more fractional voting precincts in any of said districts, shall, at their first session after this act goes into effect, or within three months thereafter, redistrict all of such commissioners' districts in the manner provided herein. Such districts shall comprise as nearly as possible one-third of the population of the county: Provided, however, that the territory comprised in any voting precincts of such districts shall remain compact, and shall not be divided by the lines of said districts. The lines of the districts provided for by this section shall not be changed oftener than once in four years and only when a full board of commissioners is present. Counties hereafter organized shall be divided into districts in the manner provided herein, and shall be designated and known as districts numbered 1, 2 and 3. [L. '90, p. 317, §§ 1, 2; 1 H. C., § 266; L. '93, p. 63, § 2.]

§ 3869. Terms of Office.—The county commissioners to be elected at the next general election after the taking effect of this act, in each of the organized counties of this state, shall be elected for the following terms of office, to wit: The commissioner elected from district number 1 shall serve four years, and the commissioners elected from districts number 2 and 3 shall serve two years each. [L. '91, p. 116, §§ 1, 2; 1 H. C., § 267.]

Cited in 9 Wash. 531; 68 Wash. 18; 81 Wash. 19.

"This act" embraces the above and the next five succeeding sections.

§ 3870. In Districts Numbered 2 and 3.—At the next general election thereafter there shall be a commissioner elected from the districts number 2 to serve four years, and a commissioner elected from districts number 3 to serve two years. [L. '91, p. 116, § 3; 1 H. C., § 269.]

Cited in 9 Wash. 531.

§ 3871. In Districts Numbered 3 and 1.—At the next general election thereafter there shall be a commissioner elected from the districts number 3 to serve four years, and a commissioner elected from districts number 1 to serve two years. [L. '91, p. 117, § 4; 1 H. C., § 270.]

Cited in 9 Wash. 531.

§ 3872. Rule of Succession.—The terms of office of county commissioners thereafter elected shall be in accordance with the above provisions, the commissioner elected to serve the long term to be elected successively from the three districts in each county in their numerical order, commencing with district number 1. [L. '91, p. 117, § 5; 1 H. C., § 271.]

Cited in 81 Wash. 19.

§ 3873. Elected by Electors of Entire County.—One county commissioner shall be elected from among the qualified electors of each of said districts by the qualified electors of the county, and the person receiving the highest number of votes for the office of commissioner for the district in which he resides shall be declared duly elected from that district. [L. '91, p. 117, § 6; 1 H. C., § 272; L. '93, p. 62, § 1; L. '95, p. 267, § 1.]

§ 3874. Nominations by Districts.—The qualified electors of each county commissioner district, and they only, shall nominate from among their own number, candidates for the office of county commissioner of such commissioner district to be voted for at the following general biennial election. Such candidates shall be nominated in the same manner as candidates for other county and district offices are nominated, except as above provided. [L. '09, p. 845, § 1.]

§ 3875. Term of Appointee.—Whenever it shall become necessary to elect or appoint a commissioner to fill any vacancy occasioned by death, resignation, or otherwise, the person so elected or appointed shall hold his office for the unexpired term for which his predecessor was elected, and until his successor is elected and qualified. [Cf. L. '54, p. 420, § 2; Cd. '81, § 2665; 1 H. C., § 275.]

See Const., Art. XI, § 6, as to filling vacancies.

§ 3876. Oath.—Before any commissioner shall enter upon the duties of his office, he shall take and subscribe an oath or affirmation before some person authorized to administer the same, faithfully to discharge the duties of a commissioner of the county in which he resides, and deposit the same with the clerk of the board of county commissioners of his county, to be by him filed in his office: [L. '54, p. 420, § 4; Cd. '81, § 2666; 1 H. C., § 276.]

§ 3877. Bond of Commissioners.—Each county commissioner in this state, before he enters upon the duties of his office, shall give a bond to the county, with at least two sureties thereon, in the amount hereinafter specified; which bond and the sureties thereon shall be approved by the clerk of the superior court of the proper county. The said bond, when so approved, shall be filed and recorded by said clerk in his office. Said bond shall be payable to the county, and the same shall be conditioned that such commissioner shall well and faithfully discharge the duties of his office, and not approve, audit or order paid any illegal, unwarranted or unjust claim against the county for personal services: Provided, that the county commissioners heretofore elected, and who shall have already entered upon the duties of their office, shall have ninety days from and after the day this act goes into effect in which to make and file their bonds. The amount for which said bonds shall be given is as follows:—

In counties of the first, second, third, fourth and fifth classes, twenty thousand dollars ($20,000);

In counties of the sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth classes, fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000);

In counties of the eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth classes, ten thousand dollars ($10,000);

In counties of the sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth and twentieth classes, seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500);

In counties of the twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-third and twenty-fourth classes, five thousand dollars ($5,000);

In counties of the twenty-fifth, twenty-sixth, twenty-seventh, twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth classes, two thousand dollars ($2,000). [L. '93, p. 177, § 7.]

§ 3878. Quarterly Sessions.—The board of county commissioners in the several counties in this state shall hold regular sessions at the seat of justice of their respective counties, commencing on the first Mondays of January, April, July and October, at each of which they may transact any business which may be required or permitted by law, and may adjourn from time to time as they may deem expedient or desirable in order to properly transact the business of such county. [Cf. L. '54, p. 420, § 5; Cd. '81, § 2667; 1 H. C., § 277; L. '93, p. 252, § 1.]

See infra, § 3930, duty to count money in treasury quarterly.

The next section was enacted one day prior to the above section.

§ 3879. Limitation of Time of Sessions.—The board of county commissioners in the several counties in this state may hold regular sessions at the county seat of their respective counties commencing on the first Mondays of February, May, August and November, at each of which they may transact any business which may be required by law, but counties so desiring may omit the February and August terms: Provided always, that the number of days (on) which the county commissioners may hold regular sessions in counties of the fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth and nineteenth classes shall not exceed thirty days in the aggregate in any one year: And provided always, that the number of days (on) which the county commissioners may hold regular sessions in counties of the twentieth, twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-third and twenty-fourth classes shall not exceed twenty-five days in the aggregate in any one year: And provided always, that the number of days which the county commissioners may hold regular sessions in counties of the twenty-fifth, twenty-sixth, twenty-seventeenth, twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth classes shall not exceed twenty days in the aggregate in any one year. [L. '93, p. 175, § 1.]

§ 3880. Special Sessions.—The said board of county commissioners are hereby authorized to hold extra sessions when the business of the county may require the same, which extra sessions may be by adjourned terms from any regular term, the order therefor being entered on record in the minutes of such regular term of which it is a continuation, or by ten days' notice from two of the commissioners to the third, or by the written consent of the three commissioners filed with the county auditor: Provided, that due notice be given of the time of holding the term and the business to be transacted. [Cf. L. '54, p. 420, § 7; L. '69, p. 304, § 7; Cd. '81, § 2669; 1 H. C., § 279.]

This section is not in harmony with the next section.

§ 3881. Extra Sessions.—The county commissioners in any and all of the classes of counties may hold extra sessions when the business of the county requires it, but shall receive no pay or compensation therefor, unless ordered as hereinafter provided by the superior court holding terms in the county where such extra sessions are held: Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed as affecting the present law regarding the meeting of the board of commissioners for the purpose of equalizing the taxes of the various counties in this state. [L. '93, p. 175, § 2.]

See last section and notes. "Section" interpolated for "act."

§ 3882. Chairman of Board—Powers of.—The county commissioners aforesaid, at their first session after the biennial election, shall elect one of their number to preside at the meetings of the board, and he shall sign all documents requiring the signature of the board, and the signature of such person as chairman of the board of county commissioners shall be as legal and binding as if the whole board had affixed their names: Provided, that in case such chairman shall be absent at any meeting of the board, all documents requiring the signature of the board shall be signed by both members present. [Cf. L. '54, p. 421, § 14; Cd. '81, § 2676; 1 H. C., § 273.]

§ 3883. Clerk of the Board.—The auditor of the county shall be the clerk of the board of county commissioners, and attend their meetings and keep a record of their proceedings. [Cf. L. '54, p. 420, § 6; Cd. '81, § 2668; 1 H. C., § 278.]

Cited in 28 Wash. 83.

§ 3884–1. Compensation for Extra Services—Allowance by Court. Whenever a member of the board of county commissioners of any county shall have a claim for compensation for per diem and expenses for attendance upon any special or extra session of the board of county commissioners of which he is a member or a claim for compensation for extra services or expenses incurred as such commissioner such claim shall be verified by him and after being approved by a majority of the board of county commissioners of such county shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court and be approved by the superior judge of such county or any superior judge holding court in such county. If the judge so approve it or any part thereof the same shall be certified by the clerk under the seal of his office and be returned to the county auditor who shall draw a warrant therefor: Provided, the superior judge may make such investigation as he shall deem necessary to determine the correctness of such claim and may, after such investigation, approve or reject any part of such claim: Provided further, the superior court shall not be required oftener than once in each month to pass upon any such claims and the court may fix a time in each month by general order filed with the clerk of the board of county commissioners on or before which such claims must be filed with the clerk of the superior court. [L. '11, p. 337, § 1.]

§ 3888. Mileage, How Computed.—County commissioners in counties of the eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth. twentieth, twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-third, twenty-fourth, twenty-fifth, twenty-sixth, twenty-seventh, twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth classes, may charge and receive mileage as hereinafter stated and not otherwise.

First: For attendance on any regular session of the board of county commissioners, ten cents per mile for each mile traveled in going to and returning from the county seat:

Provided, that only one such trip shall be charged for at each regular session.

Second: For attendance upon extra sessions of said board, and for other necessary traveling on county business, such mileage not exceeding ten cents per mile for each mile traveled, as may be allowed or ordered by the superior court of the proper county under the provisions of this act. [L. '93, p. 177, § 8; L. '05, p. 230, § 1.]

§ 3889. Postponement of Action, When.—When two only of the members shall be present at the meeting of the board, and a division shall take place on any question, the matter under consideration shall be postponed to the next subsequent meeting. [L. '54, p. 421, § 9; L. '69, p. 304, § 9; Cd. '81, § 2671; 1 H. C., § 280.]

§ 3890. General Powers and Duties.—The several boards of county commissioners are authorized and required,—

1. To provide for the erection and repairing of courthouses, jails, and other necessary public buildings for the use of the county;

2. To lay out, discontinue, or alter county roads and highways within their respective counties, and do all other necessary acts relating thereto according to law, except within the limits of incorporated cities and towns, where, by the terms of the acts of incorporation, jurisdiction over the roads in the limits of said incorporations is vested in the corporate authorities thereof;

3. To license and fix the rates of ferriage; to grant grocery and other licenses authorized by law to be by them granted;

4. To fix the amount of county taxes to be assessed according to the provisions of law, and cause the same to be collected as prescribed by law;

5. To allow all accounts legally chargeable against such county not otherwise provided for, and to audit the accounts of all officers having the care, management, collection, or disbursement of any money belonging to the county or appropriated to its benefit;

6. To have the care of the county property and the management of the county funds and business, and in the name of the county to prosecute and defend all actions for and against the county, and such other powers as are or may be conferred by law. [Cf. L. '54, p. 421, § 11; L. '67, p. 51, § 11; L. '69, p. 305, § 11; Cd. '81, § 2673; 1 H. C., § 281.]

§ 3890½. Funds from Forest Reserves—Expenditure for Schools and Roads.—County commissioners of the respective counties to which the money [received from the federal government from forest reserves] is distributed are hereby authorized and directed to expend said money for the benefit of the public schools and public roads thereof, and not otherwise. [L. '07, p. 406, § 2.]

Duty of state treasurer to distribute such money to the counties within the forest reserves: See infra, § 9026a.

§ 3891. Commissioners not to be Concerned in Contracts.—No county commissioner shall, directly or indirectly, be concerned in any contract wherein the county is a party, under the penalty of two hundred dollars, to be recovered by an action at law for the use of the county, and such commission [commissioner] shall forfeit any compensation he must receive on such contract. [Cf. L. '54, p. 423, § 21; Cd. '81, § 2686; 1 H. C., § 286; L. '95, p. 190, § 1.]

§ 3892. Power to Fill Vacancies.—In all cases of vacancy occurring in any of the county offices in this state, either by death, resignation, or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of the county in which such vacancy occurs, at the first session thereafter, or as soon thereafter as practicable, to appoint a suitable elector of the proper county to fill such vacancy; such officer to remain in or hold the office to which he may have been appointed until the first general election after his appointment. [L. '67, p. 57, § 28; Cd. '81, § 2689; 1 H. C., § 287.]

See next section.
See Const., Art. XI, § 6, power to fill vacancies.

§ 3893. Vacancy in Precinct Offices.—Whenever a vacancy occurs in any county or precinct office, except when otherwise provided by law, it shall be filled by appointment by the board of county commissioners at the first regular or special session of their board after that vacancy occurs: Provided, that if the commissioners be not apprised of the vacancy at their first session after the vacancy occurs, it may be filled at any subsequent session of their board. [Cd. '81, § 3065.]

See Const., Art. XI, § 6.
This section seems to govern precinct officers. See last section for county offices.

§ 3894. May Compound Debt Due County, When.—The county commissioners of their respective counties shall have power to compound and release in whole or in part any debt due to their county, when in their opinion the interest of their county will not be prejudiced thereby, except in cases where they or either of them are personally interested. [Cf. L. '54, p. 422, § 20; Cd. '81, § 2681; 1 H. C., § 289.]

See Const., Art. XI, § 9, no commutation authorized for state taxes.

§ 3895. May Order Convicts to Work.—The county commissioners in their respective counties may order all persons who shall be confined in the county jails of their respective counties, convicted of any crime or misdemeanor, to work on the roads of their respective counties, under the direction of the sheriff; but such convicts shall not be put to labor at a greater distance from the jail or place of confinement than five miles: Provided, that if any such convict shall refuse to perform such labor he shall be kept in close confinement on bread and water. The sheriff having the custody of such convicted persons may, to secure them from escape, attach a ball and chain to said convicts. [L. '67, p. 56, § 24; Cd. '81, § 2685; 1 H. C., § 290.]

This section is in part superseded by the next two sections: See, also, § 2279, supra.

See supra, §§ 1933, 2209, fines how worked out.

See infra, § 8494, prisoners compelled to work when and how.

§ 3896. Same.—The board of county commissioners of any county, may in their discretion, order the sheriff to cause all persons under sentence of imprisonment in the county jail, except females and persons incapable of performing manual labor, to be put to work and perform labor on the public roads and highways within such counties. [L. '07, p. 55, § 1.]

As to repeal of this section, see § 2304, the force of which is doubtful. See note to preceding section.

See § 2279, supra.

§ 3897. Supervision of Work of Convicts.—All work done by prisoners as herein provided shall be under the direction of the county commissioners: Provided, that when the work is done on any of the roads or highways leading to and within the corporate limits of any incorporated city or town it shall be done according to the directions of the proper authorities of such city or town. [L. '07, p. 55, § 2.]

As to repeal of this section, see § 2304, the force of which is doubtful. See note to § 3895.

§ 3898. Transcribing Mutilated Records.—It shall be the duty of the county commissioners of any county in this state, when any of the county records of their county become so mutilated that the handling of the same becomes dangerous to the public safety of said records, and in the judgment of said county commissioners it may become necessary to order the transcribing of said records at a sum not exceeding eight cents per folio of one hundred words, in books to be provided for that purpose by said county. [L. '93, p. 23, § 1.]

§ 3899. Auditor to Certify.—The books containing the records so transcribed shall be certified by the county auditor under whose direction said transcribing was done, as being a true copy of the original book in the same number and class. [L. '93, p. 24, § 2.]

§ 3900. Original Records Preserved.—All the original record books shall after the transcribing thereof be filed away in the auditor's office and only be used in case of contest on the correctness of the transcribed records. [L. '93, p. 24, § 3.]

§ 3902. Seal of Commissioners — Evidence. — The county commissioners of each county shall have and use a seal for the purpose of sealing their proceedings, and copies of the same, when signed and sealed by the said county commissioners and attested by their clerk, shall be admitted as evidence of such proceedings in the trial of any cause in any court in this state; and until such seal shall be provided, the private seal of the chairman of such board of county commissioners shall be adopted as a seal. [Cf. L. '54, p. 421, § 10; Cd. '81, § 2672; 1 H. C., § 294.]

See infra, § 3934, seal of the county commissioners' court.

§ 3903. Examination of Accounts, etc.—At the July session, the board of county commissioners shall examine and compare the accounts and statements of the county auditor and county treasurer, aside from the regular settlement with such treasurer, and shall enter upon their record a summarized statement of the receipts and expenditures of the preceding year. At the January, April, July and October sessions, the board of county commissioners, together with the auditor, shall count the funds in the county treasury, and ascertain whether it contains the proper amount of funds. [Cf. L. '54, p. 422, § 16; Cd. '81, § 2678; 1 H. C., § 295; L. '93, p. 252, § 2.]

§ 3904. Power to Administer Oaths. — The county commissioners are authorized and empowered to administer all oaths or affirmations necessary in discharging the duties of their office, and have the same power as justices of the peace to commit for contempt any witness refusing to testify before them. [Cf. L. '54, p. 423, § 22; L. '69, p. 308, § 26; Cd. 581, § 2687; 1 H. C., § 296.]

§ 3905. Record of Proceedings.—The board of county commissioners shall cause to be recorded, in a book to be kept for that purpose, all their proceedings and determinations touching all matters properly cognizable before them; and all books, accounts, vouchers, papers, and accounts touching the business or property of the county shall be carefuly kept by the clerk, and open to the inspection of every person. [L. '54, p. 421, § 13; Cd. '81, § 2675; 1 H. C., § 297.]

§ 3906. Reduction of County Expenses.—It shall be the duty of every board of county commissioners to reduce the expenditures of their respective counties to the lowest practicable sum consistent with law. [L. '93, p. 427, § 1.]

§ 3907. Limitations on. — No deputies or assistance of any kind shall be allowed to any officer or person receiving compensation from a county unless the same is necessary. No higher compensation shall be allowed for any deputy of, or assistance for, such officer or person than is necessary. No other expenditure for or connected with such officer or person, or his office or employment, or the performance of his official duties, or any of them, than shall be necessary. In case the payment of any fee or fees is required for the performance of any duty of such officer or person, the total amount allowed and expended by any board of county commissioners for, on account of, or connected with such person or officer, his office or employment, and the performance of the duties thereof, including the salary allowed by law to such officer or person, shall not exceed the amount of the legal fees collected on account of such officer or employment and the performance of the duties thereof: Provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to the office of county attorney: Provided further, that the fees properly chargeable to counties shall be included in the total of the earnings of such officer. [L. '93, p. 427, § 2.]

See note to § 6535, infra.

§ 3908. Employment of Special Attorneys. — It shall be unlawful for any board of county commissioners in any county of this state to employ, contract with or pay any special attorney or counsel to perform any duty which the attorney general or any prosecuting attorney is authorized or required by law to perform, unless the contract of employment of said special attorney or counsel shall have been first reduced to writing and approved by the superior judge of said county or a majority of the judges thereof, in writing indorsed thereon: Provided, this section shall not prohibit the appointment of deputy prosecuting attorneys in the manner provided by law. [L. '05, p. 50, § 1.]

Power to employ attorneys, see supra, § 3890, and infra, § 3961, and note.

§ 3909. Appeals—When and How Taken.—Any person may appeal from any decision or order of the board of county commissioners to the superior court of the proper county. Such appeal shall be taken within twenty days after such decision or order, and the party appealing shall within said time serve notice on the county commissioners that the appeal is taken, which notice shall be in writing and shall be delivered to at least one of the county commissioners personally, or left with the clerk of the board, the party appealing shall, within ten days after the service of the notice of appeal give a bond to the county with one or more sureties, to be approved by the clerk of the board, conditional for the payment of all costs which shall be adjudged against him on such appeal in the superior court. The practice regulating appeals from and writs of certiorari to justice's courts shall, so far as the same may be applicable, govern in matters of appeal from the decision or order of the board of county commissioners. Nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent a party having a claim against any county in this state from enforcing the collection thereof by civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction, after the same may have been presented and disallowed in whole or in part by the board of county commissioners of the proper county: Provided, that such action be brought within three months after such claim has been acted upon by such board. [Cf. L. '54, p. 423, § 24; L. '79, pp. 143, 144; Cd. '81, § 2695; 1 H. C., § 298; L. '93, p. 291, § 1.]

CHAPTER VIII.

County Blanks and Printing.

§ 3910. State Auditor to Compile Uniform Blanks.—The state auditor, with the aid and advice of the attorney general, shall compile the forms for all public blanks used in the counties of this state in conformity with the general statutes thereof. The various blanks for each county shall be uniform throughout the state. [L. '97, p. 47, § 1.]

§ 3911. Material Provided by the State. — The material used in said blank forms and the printing and binding thereof shall be provided for by the state printing board in the same manner and under the same rules and regulations as other public printing is now provided for under the general statutes of this state. [L. '97, p. 48, § 2.]

"The state printing board" is obsolete.

§ 3912. Contracting for Public Printing. — In all counties where two or more weekly newspapers are published, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners, at their May [April] meeting each year, to let the advertising and official publication of all notices to the publisher thereof who is the best and lowest responsible bidder: Provided, that in all cases the county commissioners shall consider the question of circulation in awarding the county printing contract, with [a] view to giving said printing the widest publicity; and no newspaper shall be eligible as a competitor, nor shall a contract be let to any newspaper, unless the same shall have been established for at least six months, and has a general and bona fide circulation throughout the county in which it is published: And provided further, that in counties where there is no newspaper published, the commissioners of such county, shall cause the printing of said county to be done in some newspaper in the state, of general circulation in the county, have [having] no resident newspaper, and the newspaper to which such contract is let, shall be designated as the official newspaper of the county: Provided, that the county commissioners shall require a bond, in double the amount involved in the contract, for the correct and faithful performance of the work: Provided further, that the term of the successful bidder shall not commence until the first of July succeeding the May [April] term. [Cf. L. '73, p. 478, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2692; L. '86, p. 108, § 1; 1 H. C., § 2936.]

See §§ 3878, 3879, supra, quarterly sessions of the board.
See infra, § 9257, publication of delinquent tax list.

§ 3913. County Auditors to Advertise for County Printing. — It shall be the duty of the county auditor, at least five weeks before, and not more than eight weeks before the meeting of the county commissioners at the May term, to advertise for proposals for the public printing, for the term of one year, which advertisement shall be inserted for four (4) successive weeks in the official newspaper of the county, or if there be no official newspaper, then in some newspaper adjacent to said county, having a general circulation in said county, as provided in section 3912: Provided, that the county commissioners shall not be compelled in any event to accept any bid for a greater price than one dollar per square, nonpareil, for first insertion, straight matter, and fifty cents per square for each subsequent insertion: And provided further, that the county auditor, when calling for bids shall state how the matter shall be set, in what kind of type, solid or leaded. [L. '07, p. 565, § 1. Cf. L. '73, p. 478, § 2; Cd. '81, § 2693; L. '86, p. 108, § 2; 1 H. C., § 2937.]

CHAPTER IX.

County Auditors.

§ 3915. Election.—There shall be elected at each general election in each county in this state one county auditor, who shall have the qualification of an elector, and who shall continue in office for the term of two years, and until his successor is elected and qualified; said county auditor shall be ex-officio clerk of the board of county commissioners, and recorder of deeds and other instruments in writing, which by law are to be recorded in and for the county for which he may be elected. The election of said officer shall be conducted and the returns made in the manner and form prescribed by the law regulating elections. [L. '54, p. 424, §§ 1–3; Cd. '81, § 2707; 1 H. C., § 179.]

Cited in 15 Wash. 640.

The proviso in the above section is omitted as repealed by implication by §§ 4932, 4933, infra.

See infra, § 4032 et seq., salaries of auditors specified.

See infra, § 8790, recording of instruments.

See infra, § 8814, registrar of land titles.

§ 3916. Oath and Bond.—Every auditor, within fifteen days after receiving his certificate of election, and before he shall enter upon the discharge of the duties of his office, shall take and subscribe an oath before an officer authorized to administer the same, faithfully and impartially to perform the duties of his office, as prescribed by law, to the best of his abilities; which oath shall be indorsed on the back of his certificate of election, recorded in a book kept for that purpose in his office, and filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county for which he may be elected. He shall also give a bond to his county, with good and sufficient sureties, in the penal sum of not less than three thousand dollars, the amount to be fixed and the sureties to be approved by the county commissioners of his county, conditioned that he will faithfully and impartially fulfill the duties of his office. [Cf. L. '54, p. 424, § 4; Cd. '81, § 2708; 1 H. C., § 180.]

Cited in 4 Wash. 235, 237.

See infra, § 8328, approval and filing of bond.

§ 3917. Duties as Clerk of Board of County Commissioners.—The county auditor, as clerk of the board of county commissioners, must,—

1. Record all the proceedings of the board;

2. Make full entries of all their resolutions and decisions on all questions concerning the raising of money for and the allowance of accounts against the county;

3. Record the vote of each member on any question upon which there is a division, or at the request of any member present;

4. Sign all orders made and warrants issued by order of the board for the payment of money;

5. Record the reports of the county treasurer of the receipts and disbursements of the county;

6. Preserve and file all accounts acted upon by the board;

7. Preserve and file all petitions and applications for franchises, and record the action of the board thereon;

8. Record all orders levying taxes; and

9. Perform all other duties required by law or any rule or order of the board. [Cd. '81, § 2709; 1 H. C., § 181.]

Cited in 1 Wash. 509; 15 Wash. 436, 640; 59 Wash. 12.

See infra, § 9200, clerk of board of equalization.

§ 3918. Duties in Auditing Bills, etc.—He shall audit all claims, demands and accounts against the county which by law are chargeable to said county, except such cost or fee bills as are by law to be examined or approved by some other judicial tribunal or officer. Such claims as it is his duty to audit shall be presented to the board of county commissioners for their examination and allowance. For claims allowed by the county commissioners, as also for cost bills and other lawful claims duly approved by the competent tribunal designated by law for their allowance, he shall draw a warrant on the county treasurer, made payable to the claimant or his order, bearing date from the time of and regularly numbered in the order of their issue, and he shall carefully keep proper warrant books, and when a warrant is issued the stub shall be carefully retained, upon which shall be recorded the number, date, name of payee, amount, nature of claims or services briefly stated and by whom allowed. He shall also retain all original bills and indorse thereupon claimant's name, nature of claim, the action had and if warrant be issued, dating and numbering said voucher or claim the same as the warrant. Nothing herein contained shall prevent claimants, at the time of issuing said warrants, from having the same broken, or issued in smaller warrants by the said auditor, using two or more warrants in lieu of one. In all such cases, however, when broken warrants are issued, the auditor issuing the same is required to preserve as many stub entries as he issues broken warrants, noting upon such stub the claim for which issued, the same as in other cases, together with a note of the number of broken warrants which aggregate the amount of the entire claim allowed: Provided, no single warrant shall be issued for a greater amount than five hundred dollars: Provided, further, that the above restrictions shall not apply to warrants issued when there is cash on hand in the county treasury to pay the same on presentation. All claims of the county auditor against the county for services shall be audited and allowed by the board of county commissioners as other claims are audited and allowed. Said warrants shall in all respects be audited, approved, issued, numbered, registered and paid the same as any other county warrant. The words "county warrant," as herein designated, shall be synonymous with "county order" or "county scrip." In this as well as in all other laws of this state, such terms are convertible, and shall be considered to mean one and the same thing. [Cf. L. '54, p. 425, § 5; L. '69, p. 310, § 5; Cd. '81, § 2710; 1 H. C., § 182; L. '93, p. 280, § 1.]

§ 3919. Restrictions on Issuance of Warrants.—No county auditor or clerk of the board of county commissioners shall issue any county warrant within less than ten days from and after the date of the allowance of such warrant. [L. '93, p. 76, § 2.]

§ 3920. Shall Settle Accounts.—The auditor must examine and settle the accounts of all persons indebted to the county, or holding moneys payable into the county treasury, and must certify the amount to the treasurer, and upon the presentation and filing of the treasurer's receipt therefor, give to such person a discharge, and charge the treasurer with the amount received by him. [Cd. '81, § 2711; 1 H. C., § 183.]

§ 3921. Account Current to be Kept With County Treasurer.—He shall keep an accurate account current with the treasurer of the county and shall charge him with all moneys received as shown by his receipts issued, and shall credit him with all disbursements on account of moneys paid out according to the record of the settlements of said treasurer with the board of county commissioners. [Cf. L. '54, p. 425, § 6; Cd. '81, § 2712; 1 H. C., § 184; L. '93, p. 281, § 2.]

§ 3922. To Render Statement to State Auditor.—Immediately after the completion of the annual settlement of the treasurer with the board of county commissioners of each county, the county auditor shall make out and transmit to the state auditor a full and complete verified statement of the state fund account with the county for the past fiscal year. Said statement shall show—

1. The total amount of tax levy for the current year as returned on the original assessment-roll;

2. The amount of the supplemental taxes levied by the treasurer;

3. The amount collected from delinquent tax-rolls of previous years, since last report;

4. The amount of errors, double assessments and rebates allowed on settlement of treasurer with the board of county commissioners;

5. The amount paid to state treasurer since the last annual settlement, and all such other credits as the county may be entitled to receive in abatement of state taxes;

6. The balance of delinquent tax account for the current year.

Said statement shall be verified by the certificate and official seal of the county auditor. The state auditor, upon receipt of such verified statement, shall proceed from the data furnished to balance up the county's account with the state for the current year, and credit the delinquent tax accounts of previous years, respectively, as shown to have been collected. [Cd. '81, § 2571; 1 H. C., § 185; L. '93, p. 281, § 3.]

§ 3923. To Publish Exhibit of County Finances.—He shall, immediately after the July settlement between the county treasurer and the county commissioners, make out a full and complete exhibit of the finances of the county. Such exhibit shall be made out immediately after the July term of said board of county commissioners, and the county auditor shall cause the same to be published in some newspaper, if any is printed within the county; if not, he shall post the same in a conspicuous place in his office. [Cf. L. '67, p. 130, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2713; 1 H. C., § 186; L. '93, p. 282, § 4.]

§ 3924. What Exhibit must Show.—Such exhibit shall show—

1. The amount of taxes assessed in the county the preceding year for state, county, road, bridge, school and other purposes;
2. The amount of taxes collected on such assessment;
3. The amount of money received from other sources;
4. The amount received into the treasury;
5. The amount still due and not collected;
6. The number of orders issued, the several purposes for which they were issued, the amount for each purpose, and the total amount;
7. The total amount of orders redeemed;
8. The amount of outstanding orders;
9. The present condition of the treasury;
10. Remarks. [Cf. L. '67, p. 131, § 2; Cd. '81, § 2714; 1 H. C., § 187; L. '93, p. 282, § 5.]

§ 3925. May Appoint Deputies.—The county auditors of the several counties may appoint deputy auditors, who shall be appointed in writing, and shall, before entering upon the discharge of the duties of their office, take and subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their office, which oath shall be indorsed on the appointment and recorded in the office of the county auditor. The county auditor shall be responsible for the acts of their deputies, and revoke their appointments at pleasure. [L. '54, p. 425, § 7; Cd. '81, § 2716.]

See notes to § 3907, supra, compensation of.

§ 3926. Authorized to Administer Oaths.—Auditors and their deputies are authorized to administer oaths necessary in the performance of their duties and in all other cases where oaths are required by law to be administered and to take acknowledgments of deeds and other instruments in writing: Provided, that any deputy of any county auditor, in administering such oath or taking such acknowledgment, shall certify to the same in his own name as deputy, and not in the name of his principal, and shall attach thereto the seal of the office in which he is deputy: Provided, that all oaths administered or acknowledgments taken by any deputy of any county auditor certifying to the same in the name of his principal by himself as such deputy, prior to the taking effect of this act, be and the same are hereby legalized and made valid and binding. [Cf. L. '54, p. 425, § 8; Cd. '81, § 2717; 1 H. C., § 188; L. '93, p, 282, § 6.]

Cited in 8 Wash. 472.

§ 3927. To Register Warrants.—It shall be the duty of the county auditor, not earlier than ten days after the adjournment of the board of county commissioners, at any regular, adjourned, or special term of said board, and not earlier than ten days after the receipt of any superior court cost bill, to make out a register of all warrants legally authorized and directed to be issued by such board of county commissioners or such cost bill and to make out under his hand and seal of office a certified copy of such register of warrants, and to forthwith deliver the same to the treasurer of the county, who shall record the same in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, and file and carefully preserve the original in his office for future reference. The register of warrants hereby authorized to be made by the county auditor shall be part of the records of such county, and shall have all the force and effect of the same. [Cd. '81, § 2718; 1 H. C., § 189; L. '93, p. 283, § 7.]

§ 3927–1. Issuance of Warrants Against Certain Districts. — All warrants for the payment of claims against diking, ditch, drainage and irrigation districts and school districts of the second and third class shall be drawn and issued by the county auditor of the county wherein such district is located, upon vouchers properly approved by the respective commissioners, trustees or directors of such district. [L. '15, p. 248, § 1.]

§ 3928. Cancellation of Unclaimed Warrants.—In each of the counties of the state of Washington where warrants have been drawn and remain uncalled for for a period of six years from the date of their issue, the county commissioners of any county, in which such warrants remain shall cancel the same, whereupon it shall be the duty of the auditor and treasurer of any such county to cancel all record of such warrants, so as to leave the funds upon which said warrants were originally drawn intact, as if such warrants had not been so drawn. [L. '09, p. 630, § 1. Cf. L. '86, p. 161; 1 H. C., § 2447.]

See infra, § 7127 et seq., disposition of unclaimed and lost property.

§ 3929. To Examine Books of Treasurer.—The auditor must, between the first and tenth of each month, examine the books of the treasurer, and see that the same have been correctly kept. [Cd. '81, § 2719; 1 H. C., § 190.]

§ 3930. To Count Money in Treasury Quarterly.—The board of county commissioners and county auditor must, at the January, April, July and October settlements with the county treasurer, count the money in the county treasury, and make and verify in duplicate statements, showing—

1. The amount of money that ought to be in the treasury;
2. The amount and kind of money actually therein. [Cd. '81, § 2720; 1 H. C., § 191; L. '93, p. 283, § 8.]

See infra, § 3944, inspection of treasurer's accounts.
See infra, § 3954, county treasurer's statement.

§ 3931. Restriction upon Auditor, etc.—The person holding the office of county auditor or deputy, or performing its duties, shall not practice as an attorney, nor represent any person making any claim against the county, or seeking to procure any legislative or other action by said county board. And the county auditor, during his term of office, and any deputy by him appointed, is hereby disqualified from performing the duties of any other county officer or acting as deputy for any other county officer. Nor shall any other county officer or his deputy act as auditor or deputy, or perform any of the duties of said office. [Cd. '81, § 2722; 1 H. C., § 193.]

§ 3932. Temporary Appointment Made, When.—In case the auditor is unable to attend to the duties of his office during any session of the board of county commissioners, and having no deputy by him appointed in attendance, the said board may temporarily appoint a suitable person, not herein disqualified, to perform the auditor's duties. [L. '69, p. 313, § 15; Cd. '81, § 2723; 1 H. C., § 194.]

§ 3933. Proceedings of Board to be Published.—It shall be the duty of the county auditor of each county, within fifteen days after the adjournment of each regular term, to publish a summary of the proceedings of the board of county commissioners at such term, in any newspaper published in the county, or having a general circulation therein; or the auditor may post copies of such proceedings in three of the most public places in the county. [L. '69, p. 313, § 17; Cd. '81, § 2724; 1 H. C., § 195.]

§ 3934. Seal of County Commissioners—Use and Effect of.—The seal of the county commissioners' court for each county, used by the county auditor as clerk to attest the proceedings of the board of county commissioners, shall be and remain in the custody of the county auditor as clerk of the said board, and said auditor is hereby authorized to use such seal in attestation of all his official acts, whether as clerk of said court, as auditor, or recorder of deeds; and all certificates, exemplifications of records, or other acts by him performed as county auditor, certified under the seal of said county commissioners' court, heretofore made or hereafter to be made pursuant to this section, in this state, shall be as valid and legally binding as though attested by a seal of office of the said county auditor. [Cd. '81, § 2724; 1 H. C., § 196.]

See supra, note to § 3902.

§ 3935. Duties of Retiring Auditor.—Each auditor, on retiring from office, shall deliver to his successor the seal of office, and all the books, records, and other instruments of writing belonging to said office, and shall take his receipt therefor; and in case of the death of the auditor, his legal representatives shall deliver over the seal, books, records, and papers as aforesaid. [L. '69, p. 314, § 22; Cd. '81, § 2725; 1 H. C., § 197.]

§ 3936. Fees.—County auditors shall collect the following fees for their official services:

For filing each instrument, when filed for recording, ten cents.

For filing each instrument other than for recording (except chattel mortgages and conditional sale contracts), twenty-five cents.

For filing each chattel mortgage and conditional sale contract and entering same as required by law, fifty cents.

For indexing each instrument, except chattel mortgages and conditional sale contracts, for the first two names, five cents.

See infra, § 9292, ex-officio tax collector in cities of third and fourth classes.

§ 3939. Deputies.—County treasurers may appoint one or more deputies, and may take from them bond, with sureties; they shall have power to remove their deputies at pleasure, and every county treasurer and his sureties shall be liable for all official acts of his deputies. [L. '54, p. 427, § 4; Cd. '81, § 2741.]

Cited in 57 Wash. 656.

§ 3940. To Receive and Disburse Moneys.—He shall receive all moneys due and accruing to the county and disburse the same on the proper orders issued and attested by the county auditor. Upon receipt of all moneys other than taxes he shall issue his receipt therefore [therefor] in duplicate, one of which receipts he shall deliver immediately to the person or persons making such payment, and the duplicate of such receipt must be immediately filed by such treasurer in the office of the county auditor. [Cf. L. '54, p. 427, § 3; Cd. '81, § 2740; 1 H. C., § 212; L. '93, p. 250, § 1.]

Cited in 45 Wash. 456.

§ 3941. To Keep Office at County Seat—May Administer Oaths.—The county treasurer shall keep his office at the seat of justice of his county, and shall keep the same open for transaction of business during business hours, and he and his deputy are authorized to administer all oaths necessary in the discharge of the duties of his office. [L. '54, p. 27, § 5; Cd. '81, § 2742; 1 H. C., § 213.]

§ 3942. Accounts, How Kept.—He shall so arrange and keep his books, that the amount received and paid out, on account of separate and distinct funds, or specific appropriations, shall be exhibited in separate accounts, as well as the whole receipts and expenditures by one general account. [L. '54, p. 427, § 6; Cd. '81, § 2743; 1 H. C., § 214.]

§ 3943. Moneys, How Kept.—The county treasurer must keep all moneys belonging to this state, or to any county of this state, in his own possession until disbursed according to law. He must not place the same in the possession of any person to be used for any purpose; nor must he loan or in any manner use or permit any person to use the same, except as provided by law; but it shall be lawful for a county treasurer to deposit in his own name, as county treasurer, any such moneys in any national, state or private bank or banks doing a general banking business in his county: Provided, that before any such deposit is made the bank in which it is proposed to make the same shall first give to such county treasurer a bond, with sureties to be approved by him, in such amount and with such conditions as he may require. Action may be brought on such bond either by such treasurer or by the county of which he is treasurer. But nothing done under the provisions of this section shall alter or affect the liability of any county treasurer or of the sureties on his official bond. [L. '95, p. 132, § 1.]

§ 3944. To Keep Books, etc., Open for Inspection.—The books, accounts and vouchers of the treasurer are at all times subject to the inspection and examination of the board of county commissioners and the grand jury. [Cf. L. '54, p. 427, § 7; Cd. '81, § 2744; 1 H. C., § 215; L. '95, p. 132, § 4.]

See supra, § 3930, to count money quarterly, commissioners and auditor.

§ 3945. Payment of Warrants—Interest.—He shall pay all orders of the county auditor when presented, if there be money in the treasury for that purpose, and write on the face of such order the date of redemption, and his signature. If there be no funds to pay such order when presented, he shall indorse thereon, "Not paid for want of funds," and the date of such indorsement, over his signature, which shall entitle such order thenceforth to draw legal interest: Provided, that such interest shall cease from the date of notice, by publication in some newspaper printed or circulated in his county, to be given by the county treasurer, that there are funds to redeem such outstanding orders, which notice such treasurer shall give in such case; and if there be no such newspaper, then by posting such notice at three public places in such county. [L. '54, p. 427, § 8; Cd. '81, § 2745; 1 H. C., § 216.]

Cited in 8 Wash. 497.

§ 3946. Order of Redemption.—All warrants drawn on the funds of the county shall be redeemed by the treasurer in the order of their issuance. [Cf. L. '54, p. 428, § 10; Cd. '81, § 2747; L. '86, p. 162, § 1; 1 H. C., § 217; L. '93, p. 250, § 2.]

Cited in 15 Wash. 323.

§ 3947. Order of Payment of All Municipal Warrants—Interest.—All county, school, city and town warrants shall be paid according to their number, date and issue, and shall draw interest from and after their presentation to the proper treasurer: Provided, that no compound interest shall be paid directly or indirectly on any of said warrants. [L. '93, p. 76, § 1.]

Cited in 68 Wash. 556.

§ 3948. Shall Note Interest Paid on Warrants.—When the county treasurer shall redeem any order on which interest is due, he shall note on such order the amount of interest by him paid thereon, and shall enter on his account the amount of such interest, distinct from the principal. [L. '54, p. 427, § 9; Cd. '81, § 2746; 1 H. C., § 218.]

§ 3949. Calls to be Made, When.—Whenever the treasurer of any county, city, town or other municipality shall have in his hands, as such treasurer, the sum of five hundred dollars belonging to any fund upon which warrants are outstanding, it shall be his duty to make a call for such warrants to that amount in the order of their issue, and he shall cause such call to be published in some newspaper printed and published in the county, city, town or other municipality, as the case may be, in the first issue of such newspaper after such sum shall have been accumulated, and if there be no such newspaper, then such call shall be posted in three conspicuous places in such county, city, town or other municipality, and such call shall describe by number the warrants so called, and specify the funds upon which the same were drawn: Provided, that the commissioners of any county, or the council or other governing body of any city, town or other municipality may prescribe a less sum than five hundred dollars, upon the accumulation of which such call shall be made as to any particular fund: And provided further, that if the warrant longest outstanding on any fund shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars, or shall exceed the sum fixed by the county commissioners or other governing board, then no call need be made for warrants on such fund until the amount due on such warrants shall have accumulated: And provided further, that no more than two calls shall be made by any treasurer in any one month: And provided further, that it shall be the duty of any such treasurer to pay on demand, in the order of their issue, any warrants when there shall be in the treasury sufficient funds applicable to such payment. [L. '95, p. 379, § 1.]

Cited in 15 Wash. 192.

§ 3950. Penalty for Failure to Call.—Any such treasurer who shall knowingly fail to call for or pay any warrant in accordance with the provisions of the last section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and such conviction shall be sufficient cause for removal from office. [L. '95, p. 379, § 2.]

§ 3951.—General Statement to County Commissioners at July Session.—The treasurer of each county must, at the regular July session of the board of county commissioners, make a verified statement to said board showing the whole amount of his collections during the preceding year (stating particularly the source of each portion of the revenue) from all sources paid into the county treasury, the funds among which the same was distributed, together with the amount to each fund, the total amount of warrants certified to him by the county auditor, and the total amount of warrants paid by him during the same time, and the total amount of warrants remaining unpaid on the thirtieth day of June immediately preceding, and the funds on which the same are drawn, and generally make a full and specific showing of the financial condition of the county. [Cf. L. '54, p. 428, § 11; Cd. '81, § 2748; 1 H. C., § 219; L. '83, p. 45, § 1; L. '93, p. 251, § 3.]

See infra, § 9229, annual report.

§ 3952. Settlement, etc., of Retiring Treasurer.—The county treasurer shall make complete settlement with the board of county commissioners, as required by law, and shall, at the expiration of his term of office, deliver to his successor all public money, books and papers in his possession. [L. '54, p. 428, § 13; Cd. '81, § 2750; 1 H. C., § 220.]

§ 3953. Death of Treasurer.—In case of the death of any county treasurer his legal representatives must deliver up all official moneys, books, accounts, papers, and documents which come into their possession. No percentage must be allowed to the treasurer on any money by him received from his predecessor in office, or from the legal representatives of such predecessors. [L. '95, p. 132, § 3.]

§ 3954. Settlement at Quarterly Sessions of Commissioners.—Each county treasurer shall attend with his books and vouchers before the board of county commissioners at the regular quarterly sessions of said board in January, April, July and October of each year and settle his accounts before said board:—

1. For all money received by him, filing a certified statement, showing under separate headings amounts received from each and every source;

2. For all moneys disbursed by him since the date of the last preceding settlement, and in such settlement the board must allow the treasurer the following credits: (1) The amount of principal and interest paid on account of redemption of warrants issued upon the several funds of the county; (2) The amount paid the state treasurer since the last preceding or quarterly settlement, as per vouchers; (3) The amount paid on account of redemption of orders issued by the several school districts of the county; (4) All claims for credits or disbursements not above specified. He shall at such settlement also present, together with such vouchers and claims for credits, a certified list of such vouchers and claims arranged numerically under the separate headings of the funds from which such vouchers have been paid or on which such claims have accrued, or are made, which list must be checked, compared and made to correspond with the treasurer's books and vouchers by the board of county commissioners and the auditor at the time of such settlement. On completion of such comparison, such list, when found to be correct, shall be certified to by the chairman of said board and attested by the auditor, and shall, together with the vouchers and claims presented, be filed in the office of said auditor, and such county treasurer be given credit therefor on the record of proceedings of said board, said record to show the amount credited on account of each fund, and whether for principal or interest. The auditor shall thereupon deliver to the county treasurer a transcript of such order and shall forthwith proceed to credit such officer with the sums therein specified. [Cf. 1 H. C., § 221; L. '93, p. 251, § 4.]

See supra, § 3930, duties of commissioners and auditor at quarterly sessions.

§ 3955. Suspension of Treasurer by Commissioners, When.—Whenever an action based upon official misconduct is commenced against any county treasurer the county commissioners may, in their discretion, suspend him from office until such suit is determined, and may appoint some person to fill the vacancy. [Cf. L. '54, p. 428, § 12; Cd. '81, § 2749; 1 H. C., § 222; L. '95, p. 132, § 2.]

§ 3956. Official Seals.—The county treasurer in each of the organized counties of the state of Washington shall be by his county provided with a seal of office for the authentication of all tax deeds, papers, writing and documents required by law to be certified or authenticated by him. Such seal shall bear the device of crosskeys and the words: Official Seal Treasurer —— County, Washington; and an imprint of such seal, together with the certificate of the county treasurer that such seal has been regularly adopted, shall be filed in the office of the county auditor of such county. [L. '03, p. 13, § 1.]

§ 3957. Validity of Former Instruments.—In all cases in which the county treasurer of any county in the state of Washington shall have executed a tax deed or deeds prior to the taking effect of this act, either to his county or to any private person or persons or corporation whomsoever, said deed or deeds shall not be deemed invalid by reason of the county treasurer who executed the same not having affixed a seal of office to the same, or having affixed a seal not an official seal; nor shall said deed or deeds be deemed invalid by reason of the fact that at the date of the execution of said deed or deeds there was in the state of Washington no statute providing for an official seal for the office of county treasurer. [L. '03, p. 14, § 2.]

CHAPTER XI.

Prosecuting Attorneys.

§ 3958. County Attorney as Prosecuting Attorney.—That all officers elected as county attorneys at the last general election be, and they are hereby declared to be, prosecuting attorneys for the counties for which they were respectively elected, and shall be known and designated as such, and perform all the duties prescribed by law as the duties of the prosecuting attorneys. [L. '91, p. 6, § 1; 1 H. C., § 223.]

See supra, § 3908, restriction on employment of attorneys by county commissioners.

§ 3962. To Advise Board of Commissioners.—Each prosecuting attorney, when required by the board of county commissioners or by the president of such board, shall give to such board of county commissioners, in writing if so required, his legal opinion touching any subject upon which such board may be called or required to act upon relating to the management of county affairs. [L. '77, p. 247, § 8; Cd. '81, § 2163; L. '83, p. 73, § 12; L. '86, p. 61, § 7; 1 H. C., § 226.]

§ 3963. To Advise County Officers.—The prosecuting attorney in each county is hereby required to give legal advice, when required, to all county and precinct officers, and directors and superintendents of common schools, in all matters relating to their official business; and when so required, he shall draw up, in writing, all contracts, obligations, and like instruments of an official nature, for the use of said officers. [L. '77, p. 247, § 9; Cd. '81, § 2169; L. '83, p. 74, § 13; L. '86, p. 61, § 8; 1 H. C., § 227.]

Cited in 45 Wash. 502.

§ 3964. Further Duties.—It shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney to visit, once in each year, the offices of the county auditor of his county, and he shall then examine the official bonds of all county and precinct officers on file in such offices, and it is made his duty to report to the board of county commissioners of his county any defect in the bonds of any public officer in such county. He shall also, once in each year, examine the public records and books of the auditor, assessor, treasurer, superintendent of common schools, and sheriff of his county, and report to the board of county commissioners any failure, refusal, omission, or neglect of such officers to keep such records and books as required by law. [L. '77, p. 247, § 10; Cd. '81, § 2170; L. '83, p. 74, § 14; L. '86, p. 61, § 9; 1 H. C., § 228.]

§ 3965. Prosecuting Attorney's Report.—Each prosecuting attorney shall, on the thirty-first day of December in each year, make to the governor of the state a report setting forth the amount and the nature of business transacted by him in that year, with such other statements and suggestions as he may deem useful [L. '86, p. 62, § 13; 1 H. C., § 230.]

§ 3966. Disability of Prosecuting Attorney.—When any prosecuting attorney fails, from sickness or other causes, to attend a session of the superior court of the county for which he was elected or is unable to perform his duties at such session, the court or judge may appoint some qualified person to discharge the duties of such session, and the person so appointed shall receive a compensation to be fixed by the court, to be deducted out of the stated salary of such prosecuting attorney, not exceeding, however, one-fourth of the quarterly salary of such prosecuting attorney: Provided, that in counties wherein there is no person qualified for the position of prosecuting attorney, or wherein no qualified person will consent to perform the duties of that office, the judge of the superior court of that county shall appoint some suitable person, a duly admitted and practicing attorney at law and resident of the state of Washington, to perform the duties of prosecuting attorney for such county, and he shall receive such reasonable compensation for his services as shall be fixed and ordered by the court, the same to be paid by the county for which such services are performed. [Cf. L. '58, p. 13, § 6; L. '60, p. 335, § 5; L. '77, p. 248, § 15; Cd. '81, § 2166; L. '83 p. 74, § 19; L. '86, p. 62, § 14; 1 H. C., § 231; L. '93, p. 83, § 1.]

Cited in 21 Wash. 62.

§ 3967. Duties in Criminal Proceedings.—The prosecuting attorney, when not in attendance upon the superior court, shall institute and prosecute proceedings before magistrates for the arrest of persons charged with or reasonably suspected of a felony, when he has information that any such offense has been committed, and shall for that purpose attend when required by them. The prosecuting attorney shall also attend and appear before and give advice to the grand jury when cases are presented to them for their consideration, and shall draw all indictments when required by the grand jury. It shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorneys elected under this chapter to carefully tax all cost bills in criminal cases arising in their respective counties, and they shall take care that no useless witness fees are taxed as part of such costs, and that the officers authorized to execute process tax no other or greater fees than the fees allowed by law: Provided, that if they are not present at the trial of any criminal case, before any justice of the peace, and the cost bill in such case is lodged with the county commissioners for such payment, the said prosecuting attorney shall have the right to receive and retax the same, and it is made his duty so to do, if the board of county commissioners deem the bill exorbitant or improperly taxed. [Cf. L. '79, p. 96, § 18; Cd. '81, § 2146; L. '86, p. 63, § 18; 1 H. C., § 233.]

Cited in 7 Wash. 449; 13 Wash. 487; 18 Wash. 610; 21 Wash. 61.

§ 3968. To Prosecute Violation of Election Laws.—It shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney of each county to present all violations of the election laws which may come to his knowledge to the special consideration of the proper jury. [L. '66, p. 52, § 10; Cd. '81, § 3150; 1 H. C., § 445.]

§ 3969. Special Emoluments Prohibited.—No prosecuting attorney shall receive any fee or reward from any person, on behalf of any prosecution, for any of his official services, except as provided in this chapter, nor shall he be engaged as attorney or counsel for a party in any civil action [or for] a party to any criminal proceedings depending upon the same facts as such criminal [civil] proceedings. [Cf. L. '58, p. 13, § 8; L. '77, p. 248, § 13; Cd. '81, § 2164; L. '83, p. 74, § 17; L. '86, p. 62, § 12; L. '88, p. 189, § 1; 1 H. C., § 234.]

The word "criminal" in the last line should read "civil."

CHAPTER XII.

County Assessors.

§ 3971. Election.—At the general election of eighteen hundred and ninety in this state, and at each subsequent general election, there shall be elected in each county a county assessor, who shall have the qualifications of a voter, and shall continue in office for two years, or until his successor is elected and qualified. [Cf. L. '69, p. 402, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2752; L. '86, p. 164, § 1; L. '90, p. 478, § 1; 1 H. C., § 235.]

See infra, § 4032 et seq., salaries classified.

§ 3972. Bond and Oath.—Every person elected or appointed to the office of assessor shall file with the board of county commissioners, within the time provided by law, his bond, payable to the state of Washington, with two or more good freehold sureties, to be approved by the said board, in the penal sum to be fixed by the board of county commissioners, conditioned that he will diligently, faithfully and impartially perform the duties enjoined on him by law; and he shall, moreover, take and subscribe on said bond an oath that he will, according to the best of his judgment, skill, and ability, diligently, faithfully and impartially perform all the duties enjoined on him by this chapter; and if any person so elected or appointed fails to give bond or fails to take the oath required within the time prescribed such failure shall be deemed a refusal to serve. [Cf. L. '54, p. 428, § 2; Cd. '81, § 2753; L. '90, p. 297, § 46; 1 H. C., § 236; L. '93, p. 342, § 46; L. '97, p. 156, § 44.]

See infra, § 8328, approval and filing of bond.
"Chapter" interpolated for "act."

§ 3973. May Appoint Deputies.—Any assessor, who deems it necessary to enable him to complete the listing and the valuation of the property of his county within the time prescribed by law, may appoint one or more well-qualified citizens of his county to act as his assistants or deputies, and assign them to such portion of his county as he thinks proper; and each assistant so appointed shall, under the direction of the assessor, after taking the required oath, perform all the duties enjoined upon, vested in or imposed upon assessors by the provisions of this chapter; and each of such deputies shall receive for his services while actually employed in such work the sum which may be designated and allowed by the board of county commissioners, not exceeding three and one-half dollars per day: Provided, that no assessor shall appoint any deputy unless the same be actually necessary, and then for no longer time than may be actually needed: Provided, further, that the county commissioners may limit the number of deputies to be employed by the assessor. [L. '91, p. 247, § 47; 1 H. C., § 1061; L. '93, p. 342, § 47; L. '97, p. 157, § 45.]

"Chapter" interpolated for "act."

For further provisions relating to duties of assessor, see § 9101 et seq., "Taxation."

CHAPTER XIII.

County Engineers.

§ 3974. Election—Bond.—The county surveyor shall hereafter be designated as county engineer. He shall be a qualified elector of his county, and a competent civil engineer and surveyor. The county engineer of each organized county shall be elected at the general election for the term of two years, and shall give a bond to the people of this state in the penal sum of two thousand five hundred dollars, to be approved by the county commissioners, conditioned for the faithful and impartial discharge of the duties of his office. [L. '07, p. 351, § 1. Cf. L. '95, p. 135, § 1.]

Cited in 48 Wash. 463.

For former acts on this subject see L. '55, pp. 26–28; L. '66, pp. 554–556; Cd. '81, §§ 2758–2765; L. '86, p. 104, § 1; H. C., §§ 239–244; L. '05, p. 135, § 1; Bal. Code, § 490.

See infra, § 4032 et seq., compensation.

See infra, § 8328, approval and filing of bond.

§ 3975. Duties of Surveyor and Deputies.—The certificate of the county engineer, or his deputy, of any survey made by him of any lands in the county shall be presumptive evidence of the facts therein contained, unless such engineer or deputy shall be interested therein. The county engineer, in person or by deputy, shall make and execute all surveys, and shall be engineer in charge of all construction within his county required by the county commissioners, or by order of any court, or by application of any person therefor: Provided, that nothing contained in this section shall constrain the county commissioners to place the county engineer in charge of engineering work if they for any cause, believe him incompetent to take charge of such work. [L. '95, p. 136, § 3.]

"Engineer'" used in place of "surveyor" in this and following sections. See preceding section.

§ 3976. Disqualification.—Whenever a survey may be required of any land in which the county engineer, or either of his deputies, shall be interested, or when, from any cause, there shall be no engineer or deputy engineer of the county to be found, or able to act, such survey may be made by any surveyor the county commissioners may appoint. [L. '95, p. 136, § 4.]

§ 3977. Duties in Respect to Roads.—The county engineer shall prepare profiles of all roads hereafter established and of all roads which are ordered to be improved, and shall recommend to the board of county commissioners what improvements shall be made to the roads and bridges in the county, together with an estimated cost of such improvement. He shall at least annually inspect or cause to be inspected, all bridges of the county, and make a report in writing to the board of county commissioners with such recommendations for the repair and maintenance as he finds necessary. [L. '07, p. 351, § 3.]

§ 3978. Records.—The office of county engineer shall be one of record and there shall be recorded and filed in his office, all matters concerning the public roads, highways, bridges, ditches or other surveys of his county, with the original papers, documents, petitions, surveys, repairs and other papers, in order to have the complete history of any such road, highway, bridge, ditch or other survey: Provided, that in any county where there is no qualified engineer, the records of said office shall be kept in the office of the county auditor. [L. '07, p. 351, § 4.]

§ 3979. Office, Where Located.—The county engineer shall keep his office at the county seat in such room or rooms as are provided by the county, and he shall be furnished with all necessary cases and other suitable articles, and also with all blank books and blanks necessary to the proper discharge of his official duties. The records and books in the county engineer's office shall be public records, and shall at all proper times be open to the inspection and examination of the public. [L. '95, p. 138, § 10.]

Cited in 50 Wash. 357.

§ 3979a. To Keep Highway Plat-book.—He shall keep in his office a highway plat-book in which he shall have accurately platted all public roads and highways established by the board of county commissioners. [L. '07, p. 351, § 2.]

§ 3980. To Keep Records.—Each county engineer shall record in a suitable book all surveys made by him and his deputies, except such as are made for a temporary purpose, and surveys of highways and village plats; and he shall make a complete record of all construction notes, and shall also record the survey of any other surveyor, which shall be made in his county, whenever demanded by any person: Provided, the fees for recording the same shall be paid the same as provided for county auditors: Provided further, that such survey appears to have been made in accordance with the laws of the state. The record book shall be so constructed as to have one page for diagrams, to be numbered progressively, and the opposite page for notes and remarks; and no diagram shall be so constructed as to scale less than one inch to twenty chains. The course and distance of all lines run, and the number of acres contained in each piece of land surveyed, shall be entered on the diagram of any section subdivided according to the survey thereof, and shall be considered part of the record. The record shall show in addition the time when, the name of any person by whom, and the person for whom such survey was made, a description of all witness trees marked on the survey, with their respective courses and distances, and the variation of the magnetic from the true meridian. He shall make an index to such record book, referring in suitable manner to each survey so recorded. [L. '95, p. 136, § 5.]

See § 3936, supra, schedule of fees of county auditor.

§ 3981. Books to be Delivered to Successor.—When the term of office of any county engineer shall expire, or he shall resign or be removed, he shall deliver over all the books and papers relating to his office to his successor therein; and any county engineer who, on the expiration of his term of office, or on his resignation or removal, shall neglect for the space of one month after his successor shall be elected or appointed, and qualified, to deliver such books and papers as aforesaid, and any administrator of any deceased county engineer who shall neglect for the space of one month to deliver to such successor all such books and papers which shall come to his hands, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, and a similar sum for every month thereafter during which he shall so neglect to deliver the same as aforesaid. [L. '95, p. 137, § 6.]

§ 3982. Chainmen, Oath of.—Every chainman and marker employed in making surveys, pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, shall first take an oath that he will faithfully discharge his duties as such, which oath the county engineer, or the deputy making the survey, is hereby authorized to administer. [L. '95, p. 137, § 7.]

§ 3983. Collection of Plats, etc.—All field-notes, construction notes and plats of surveys heretofore executed for and now in possession of the county, and not heretofore recorded in the engineer's office, shall be collected by the engineer, perfected and recorded in his office in the same manner as records of surveys are required to be made by the provisions of this chapter. [L. '95, p. 137, § 8.]

Cited in 12 Wash. 630.

§ 3984. Location of Boundaries and Corners.—Whenever a majority of the resident owners of any section or part or parts of any section of land in this state, after having given at least ten days' notice to all other persons, or to their agents, holding land in the same section or part or parts of the section, as the case may be, who reside in the township, shall desire to have their corners and lines, or any of them, established, relocated or perpetuated, such engineer shall proceed to make the required surveys, and the expense thereof shall be borne by all the persons benefited in proportion to the amount of work done for each, to be determined by the engineer; and if any person thus benefited, whether a nonresident or otherwise, shall refuse or neglect to pay his share of such expense, such engineer shall certify the same, and to whom due, to the county assessor, who shall assess it upon the land of such person, to be collected in the same manner as other taxes, and held subject to the order of the person named in the engineer's certificate as being entitled to the same. [L. '95, p. 137, § 9.]

See supra § 947 et seq., establishment of lost boundaries, etc.

CHAPTER XIV.

Sheriffs.

§ 3985. Election—Term, Bond.—There shall be elected in each county in this state a sheriff, who shall possess the qualifications of a voter, and hold his office for the term of two years, and shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, execute a bond, with at least three sureties, in a penal sum not less than two thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. [Cf. L. '54, p. 434, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2766; 1 H. C., § 168.]

See supra, § 497, schedule of fees.

See infra, § 4065, traveling expenses, allowance of.
See infra, § 8328, approval and filing of bond.
Liability for misconduct, etc., see § 4000, infra.

§ 3986. Certificate of Election, etc., to be Recorded.—Every sheriff shall, before he enters on the duties of his office, cause his certificate of election or appointment, with the oath of office indorsed thereon, and his bond, with the approval thereon, to be recorded in the office of the auditor of the county. [L. '54, p. 435, § 9; Cd. '81, § 2774; 1 H. C., § 171.]

§ 3987. General Duties.—The sheriff is the chief executive officer and conservator of the peace of the county. In the execution of his office, it is his duty,—

1. To arrest and commit to prison all persons who break the peace, or attempt to break it, and all persons guilty of public offenses;

2. To defend his county against those who, by riot or otherwise, endanger the public peace or safety;

3. To execute the process and orders of the courts of justice or of judicial officers, when delivered to him for that purpose, according to the provisions of this code or other statutes;

4. To execute all warrants delivered to him for that purpose by other public officers, according to the provisions of particular statutes;

5. To attend the sessions of the courts of record held within his county, and to obey their lawful orders or directions.

The county is not responsible for the acts of the sheriff. [L. '91, p. 83, § 1; 2 H. C., § 76.]

See infra, § 3999, special duties as to preserving peace.
See infra, § 8497 et seq., jails.
See infra, § 5325, ex-officio game warden.

§ 3988. To Keep Office at County Seat.—The sheriff must keep his office at the county seat of the county of which he is sheriff. [L. '91, p. 84, § 2; 2 H. C., § 77.]

§ 3989. Office Hours.—The sheriff's office must be kept open on the days and during the hours required for the clerk's office to be kept open. [L. '91, p. 84, § 3; 2 H. C., § 78.]

See supra, § 73, county clerk's office, when to be kept open.

§ 3990. May Appoint Deputies.—Each sheriff may appoint as many deputies as he may think proper, for whose official acts he shall be responsible to the amount of their [his] bond, and may revoke such appointments at his pleasure; and persons may also be deputed by any sheriff in writing to do particular acts; and the sheriff shall be responsible on his official bond for the default or misconduct in office of his deputies. [Cf. L. '54, p. 434, § 2; L. '71, p. 110, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2767; 2 H. C., § 79.]

§ 3992. Duplicate Receipts.—It is the duty of each sheriff in this state to make duplicate receipts for all payments for his services in every case, and for every service, specifying the particular items thereof, at the time when the same is paid, whether so paid by virtue of the laws of this state or of the United States; such duplicate receipts for each month shall be numbered consecutively, commencing with number one in each calendar month. [L. '09, p. 384, § 1.]

See supra, § 497, schedule of fees of sheriff.

§ 3993. Original and Duplicate.—One of such duplicate receipts shall have written or printed upon it the word Original and the other of said duplicate receipts shall have written or printed upon it the word Duplicate. [L. '09, p. 385, § 2.]

§ 3994. Duplicate to Payer.—At the time of the payment of any such fees, such sheriff shall deliver to the person making such payment, either personally or by mail, the copy of such duplicate receipts designated Duplicate. [L. '09, p. 385, § 3.]

§ 3995. Original Receipt Filed.—The said duplicate receipts designated Original for each month shall be attached to the verified statement (for the corresponding month) provided for and prescribed in section 4068, infra, and such sheriff shall file with the county treasurer of his county all of said original duplicate receipts for each month with such verified statement. [L. '09, p. 385, § 4.]

§ 3996. Salary Withheld Unless Chapter Complied With.—It shall not be lawful for any sheriff to receive any salary for the preceding month unless the provisions of this chapter have been first complied with. [L. '09, p. 385, § 5.]

§ 3997. Penalty.—Any sheriff violating any of the provisions of this act, or failing to perform any of the duties required by this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars for each offense. [L. '09, p. 385, § 6.]

§ 3998. Powers of Deputy.—Every deputy sheriff shall possess all the power, and may perform any of the duties, prescribed by law to be performed by the sheriff or by his deputies; shall serve or execute, according to law, all process, writs, precepts, and orders, issued or made by lawful authority, and to him directed, and he shall attend upon all courts of record at every session. [L. '54, p. 434, § 3; Cd. '81, § 2768; L. '86, p. 174, § 1; 2 H. C., § 80.]

Cited in 6 Wash. 566, 567; 40 Wash. 435.

§ 3999. Duties in Respect to Public Peace.—It shall be the duty of sheriffs and of their deputies to keep and preserve the peace in their respective counties, and quiet and suppress all affrays, riots, unlawful assemblies, and insurrections, for which purpose, and for the service of process in civil or criminal cases, and in apprehending or securing any person for felony or breach of the peace, they may call to their aid such persons or power of their county as they may deem necessary. [L. '54, p. 434, § 4; Cd. '81, § 2769; 1 H. C., § 169.]

Cited in 3 Wash. 392.

§ 4000. Liability for Misconduct, etc.—Whenever any sheriff shall neglect to make due return of any writ or other process delivered to him to be executed, or shall be guilty of any default or misconduct in relation thereto, he shall be liable to fine or attachment, or both, at the discretion of the court, subject to appeal; such fine, however, not to exceed two hundred dollars, and also to an action for damages to the party aggrieved. [L. '54, p. 434, § 6; Cd. '81, § 2771; 1 H. C., § 170.]

See supra, § 159, action against sheriff, limitation of.

§ 4001. Service of Process When Sheriff Disqualified.—When there is no sheriff of a county, or he is disqualified from any cause from discharging any particular duty, it shall be lawful for the officer or person commanding or desiring the discharge of that duty to appoint some suitable person, a citizen of the county, to execute the same: Provided, that final process shall in no case be executed by any other person than the legally authorized officer; or in case he is disqualified, some suitable person appointed by the court, or judge thereof, out of which the process issues, who shall make such appointment in writing; and before such appointment shall take effect, the person so appointed shall give security to the party interested for the faithful performance of his duties, which bond of suretyship shall be in writing, be approved by the court or judge appointing him, and be placed on file with the papers in the case. [L. '69, p. 172, § 687; Cd. '81, § 745; 2 H. C., § 796.]

See § 2887, vacation of office on conviction of failure to complain.

§ 4005. Sheriffs, etc., to Surrender Writs to Successors.—All sheriffs, constables and coroners in the state of Washington, upon the completion of their term of office and the qualification of their successors, shall deliver and turn over to such successors all writs and other processes in their possession not wholly executed, and all personal property in their possession or under their control held under such writs or processes, and take receipts therefor in duplicate, one of which shall be filed in the office from which such writ or process issued as a paper in the action, which receipt shall be a good and sufficient discharge to such officer of and from further charge of the execution of such writs and processes; and shall also deliver to their successors all papers and property in their possession or under their control as such officers. And it shall be the duty of such successors to execute or complete the execution of all such writs and processes so delivered to them, and to finish and complete any and all business pertaining to such offices so turned over to them. [L. '95, p. 22, § 1.]

§ 4006. Successor to Complete Process.—In all cases where any sheriff, constable or coroner in the state of Washington has executed any writ or other process delivered to him by his predecessor, or has completed any business commenced by his predecessor under any writ or process, and has finished and completed any other business commenced by such predecessor pertaining to such offices, and in all cases where any sheriff, constable or coroner has executed any writ or other process, or completed any business connected with his office after the expiration of his term of office, which writ or process he had commenced to execute, or which business he had commenced to perform prior to the expiration of his term of office, the same shall be valid and effectual for all purposes. [L. '95, p. 23, § 2.]

See infra, § 8763, validating sheriff's deeds, etc.

CHAPTER XV.

Coroners and Inquests.

§ 4007. Election—Term—Bond.—There shall be elected at each biennial election, in every county in this state, a coroner, who shall hold his office for two years and until his successor shall be elected and qualified, and shall take an oath of office and file a copy thereof. He shall execute a bond to his county in the sum of one thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office. [Cf. L. '54, p. 436, § 1; Cd. '81, § 2775; 1 H. C., § 245.]

See infra, § 4011, to act as sheriff when.
See infra, § 6516, ineligible to office of justice of the peace.
See infra, § 8328, approval and filing of bond.

§ 4008. Deputy—Appointment.—In counties having fifty thousand, or more, inhabitants, the coroner thereof is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint one deputy, and take a bond or security from such deputy, not exceeding in amount the sum of one thousand dollars, for his indemnity. Such appointment shall be in writing and signed by the coroner. [L. '05, p. 112, § 1.]

§ 4009. Oath of Deputy.—Each deputy shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe an oath or affirmation, in like form as required of the coroners, which shall be filed in the office of the county clerk. [L. '05, p. 112, § 2.]

§ 4010. Deputy's Power and Compensation.—Deputy coroners, duly appointed and qualified, may perform any and all the duties of the coroner in the name of the coroner, and the acts of such deputy shall be held to be the act of the coroner: Provided, that such deputy shall receive no compensation from the county. [L. '05, p. 112, § 3.]

§ 4011. Coroner to Act as Sheriff, When.—The coroner shall perform the duties of the sheriff in all cases where the sheriff is interested or otherwise incapacitated from serving; and whenever the coroner acts as sheriff he shall possess the powers and perform all the duties of sheriff, and shall be liable on his official bond in like manner as the sheriff would be; and shall be entitled to the same fees as are allowed by law to the sheriff for similar services: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the court from appointing a suitable person to discharge such duties, as provided by section 4002. [Cf. L. '54, p. 436, § 2; Cd. '81, § 2776; 2 H. C., § 81; L. '97, p. 21, § 1.]

See supra, § 4001, service when sheriff disqualified.

See infra, § 8338, on failure of sheriff to file bond.

§ 4012. Inquest, When, Where and How to be Held.—When information is given to any coroner that the body of any person, the cause of whose death is unknown, and there shall exist reasonable grounds for the belief that such death has been caused by unlawful means at the hands of another, he shall go to the place where the body is, and forthwith summon six good and lawful persons, qualified by law to serve as jurors, to appear before him forthwith, at the place where the body of the deceased is, to inquire into the cause of the death. [L. '54, p. 436, § 3; Cd. '81, § 2777; 1 H. C., § 246.]

See infra, § 7390, inquests at coal mines.

§ 4013. Failure of Juror to Attend—Penalty.—Every person summoned as a juror who shall fail to appear without having a reasonable excuse shall forfeit any sum not exceeding twenty dollars, to be recovered by the coroner, in the name of the state, before any justice of the peace in the proper county, and when collected to be paid over to the county treasurer for the use of the county. [L. '54, p. 436, § 4; Cd. '81, § 2778; 1 H. C., § 247.]

§ 4014. Oath of Jury—Duty of.—When four or more of the jurors attend, they shall be sworn by the coroner to inquire who the person was, and when, where, and by what means he came to his death, and into the circumstances attending his death, and to render a true verdict therein, according to the evidence afforded them, or arising from the inspection of the body. [L. '54, p. 436, § 5; Cd. '81, § 2719; 1 H. C., § 248.]

§ 4015. Power to Summon and Examine Witnesses and Physicians.—The coroner may issue subpoenas for witnesses to the sheriff or any constable of the county, returnable forthwith or at such time and place as he may appoint, which may be served by any competent person. He must summon and examine as witnesses, on oath by him administered, every person, who, in his opinion or that of any of the jury, has any knowledge of the facts, and he may summon a surgeon or physician to inspect the body and give under oath a professional opinion as to the cause of the death. The fees for the coroner's physician or surgeon shall not be less than ten ($10) dollars: Provided, that in counties between the first and eighth classes inclusive the fee herein provided shall not apply. [L. '01, p. 272, § 1. Cf. L. '54, p. 436, § 6; Cd. '81, § 2780; 1 H. C., § 249.]

§ 4016. Fees.—Coroners shall collect for their official services, the following fees:

For each inquest held, besides mileage	$10.00
For issuing a venire	1.00
For drawing all necessary writings, per folio	.10
For mileage each way, per mile	.10

For performing the duties of a sheriff, he shall receive the same fees as a sheriff would receive for the same service. [L. '07, p. 88, § 1. See p. 93.]

See supra, § 497, fees of sheriff.

§ 4017. Compelling Attendance of Witness.—A witness served with a subpoena may be compelled to attend and testify, or be punished by the coroner for disobedience, in like manner as upon a subpoena issued by a justice of the peace. [L. '54, p. 437, § 7; Cd. '81, § 2781; 1 H. C., § 250.]

§ 4018. Verdict must Show What.—After inspecting the body and hearing the testimony, the jury shall render their verdict, and certify the same in writing signed by them, and setting forth who the person killed is, if known, and when, where, and by what means he came to his death; and if he was killed, or his death occasioned by the act of another by criminal means, who is guilty thereof, if known. [L. '54, p. 437, § 8; Cd. '81, § 2782; 1 H. C., § 251.]

§ 4019. Testimony to be Reduced to Writing and Witnesses Recognized, When.—In all cases where murder or manslaughter is supposed to have been committed, the testimony of witnesses taken before the coroner's jury shall be reduced to writing by the coroner, or under his direction, and he shall also recognize such witnesses to appear and testify in the superior court of the county, and shall forthwith file the written testimony, inquisition, and recognizance with the clerk of such court. [L. '54, p. 437, § 9; Cd. '81, § 2783; 1 H. C., § 252.]

§ 4020. Proceedings upon Arrest.—If, however, the person charged with the commission of the offense be arrested, the coroner shall deliver the same, with the testimony taken, to the magistrate before whom such person may be brought, who shall return the same, with the depositions and statements taken before him, and the recognizance, to the clerk of the superior court of the county. [L. '54, p. 437, § 10; Cd. '81, § 2784; 1 H. C., § 253.]

§ 4021. Warrant of Arrest.—If the jury find that the person was killed, and the party committing the homicide be ascertained by the inquisition, and be not in custody, the coroner shall issue a warrant for the arrest of the person charged, returnable forthwith to the nearest justice of the peace, judge, or committing magistrate. [L. '54, p. 437, § 11; Cd. '81, § 2785; 1 H. C., § 254.]

§ 4022. Form of Warrant.—The coroner's warrant shall be in substantially the following form:—

State of Washington, }
County of ——. } ss.

To any Sheriff or Constable of the County.

An inquisition having been this day found by the coroner's jury, before me, stating that A B has come to his death by the act of C D, by criminal means (or as the case may be, as found by the inquisition), you are therefore commanded, in the name of the state of Washington, forthwith to arrest the above-named C D, and take him before the nearest or most accessible magistrate in this county.

Given under my hand this —— day of ——, A. D. 18—.

E F, Coroner of the County of ——.

[L. '54, p. 437, § 12; Cd. '81, § 2786; 1 H. C., § 255.]

See Const., Art. IV, § 27.

§ 4023. Warrant, How and Where to be Served.—The coroner's warrant may be served in any county, and the officers serving it shall proceed thereon, in all respects, as upon a warrant of arrest. [L. '54, p. 438, § 13; Cd. '81, § 2787; 1 H. C., § 256.]

§ 4024. Burial by Coroner—Expense of.—In all cases where no demand for the body for burial shall be made by friends of the deceased, the coroner shall provide for such burial at an expense not exceeding seventy-five dollars, to be paid by the estate of the deceased if it be sufficient. [L. '54, p. 438, § 14; Cd. '81, § 2788; 1 H. C., § 257; L. '01, p. 11, § 1.]

§ 4025. Property of Deceased—Disposition of.—The coroner must, within thirty days after the inquest upon a dead body, deliver to the county treasurer any money or other property which may be found upon the body, unless claimed in the meantime by the legal representatives of the deceased. If he fail to do so, the treasurer may proceed against the coroner to recover the same by a civil action in the name of the county. [L. '54, p. 438, § 15; Cd. '81, § 2789; 1 H. C., § 258.]

§ 4026. Duty of Treasurer as to Such Property.—Upon the delivery of money to the treasurer, he shall place it to the credit of the county; if it be other property, he shall, within thirty days, sell it at public auction, upon reasonable public notice, and shall in like manner place the proceeds to the credit of the county. [L. '54, p. 438, § 16; Cd. '81, § 2790; 1 H. C., § 259.]

§ 4027. Money to be Delivered to Representatives, When and How. If the money in the treasury be demanded within six years by the legal representatives of the deceased, the treasurer shall pay it to them, after deducting the fees and expenses of the coroner and of the county in relation to the matter; or the same may be so paid at any time thereafter, upon the order of the board of county commissioners of the county. [L. '54, p. 438, § 17; Cd. '81, § 2791; 1 H. C., § 260.]

§ 4028. Account of Coroner Audited, When.—Before auditing and allowing the account of the coroner, the board of county commissioners shall require from him a statement in writing, of any money or other property found upon persons on whom inquests have been held by him, verified by his oath, to the effect that the statement is true, and that the money or property mentioned in it has been delivered to the legal representatives of the deceased, or to the county treasurer. [L. '54, p. 438, § 18; Cd. '81, § 2792; 1 H. C., § 261.]

§ 4029. Justice of the Peace to Act as Coroner, When.—If the office of coroner be vacant, or he be absent or unable to attend, the duties of his office may be performed by any justice of the peace in the county, with the like authority, and subject to the same obligations and penalties, as the coroner. [L. '54, p. 438, § 19; Cd. '81, § 2793; 1 H. C., § 262.]

§ 4030. Fees of.—A justice of the peace acting as coroner, shall be entitled to the same fees, payable in the same manner. [L. '54, p. 438, § 21; 1 H. C., § 264; Cd. '81, § 2795.]

The act of 1913, p. 165 (3 Rem. & Bal. Code, §§ 4030–1, et seq.), is omitted as unconstitutional: See state ex rel. Maulsby v. Fleming, 88 Wash. 583.

Cited in 11 Wash. 438; 12 Wash. 396, 416; 68 Wash. 491; 82 Wash. 122.

§ 4066. Collection and Disposition of Fees.—All salaried officers of the several counties of this state shall charge and collect for the use of their respective counties, and pay into the county treasury on the first Monday in each month, all the fees now or hereafter allowed by law, paid or chargeable in all cases except such fees as are a charge against the county or state. [L. '90, p. 313, § 33; 1 H. C., § 3004.]

Cited in 68 Wash. 491.

See infra, § 4073, time for payment of fees into treasury.

See infra, § 4072, disposition of fees.

§ 4067. Each Officer must Keep Fee-book.—Each of the officers authorized to receive fees under the provisions of this act shall keep a fee-book, open to public inspection during office hours, in which must be entered at once and detailed all fees or compensation of whatever nature, kind, or description, collected or chargeable. On the first Monday of each and every month, the officer must add up each column in his fee-book to the first of the month, and set down the totals. On the expiration of the term of such officer he must deliver to the county auditor all fee-books kept by him. [L. '90, p. 313, § 34; 1 H. C., § 3018.]

See infra, § 4078, posting schedule of fees.

§ 4068. Fees—Statements of, to be Verified—Form of Affidavit.—The fees and compensation collected and chargeable for the county in each month shall be paid to the county treasurer on the first Monday of the following month, and must be accompanied by a statement and copy of the fee-book for the month last past, duly verified by the officer making such payment, and certified to by the proper officer. The affidavit shall be in the following form:

State of Washington, }
County of ——. } ss.

I, —— county ——, do swear that the fee-book in my office contains a true statement in detail of all fees and compensation of every kind and nature, for official services rendered by me, paid or chargeable, my deputies or assistants, for the month of ——, A. D. 19—, and that said fee-book shows the full amount received or chargeable in said month, and since my last monthly payment; and neither myself nor to my knowledge or belief, any of my deputies or assistants, have rendered any official services, except for the county or state, which is not fully set out in said fee-book; and that the foregoing statement thereof is a full, true and complete copy thereof. Subscribed and sworn to before me this —— day of —— 19—.

The certificate of the checking officer shall be in the following form:

State of Washington, }
County of ——. } ss.

This is to certify that I have checked the records of the office of the county —— for the month of —— 19—, and find the same to be properly entered on his fee-book, and that the foregoing statement is a full, true and complete copy thereof.

Witness my hand and official seal this —— day of ——, 19—. [L. '90, p. 313, § 35; 1 H. C., § 3005; L. '07, p. 107, § 3.]

§ 4069. Officer's Monthly Statement to Auditor.—Each of the salaried officers authorized to receive fees under the laws of this state, shall on or before the first Monday of each month and at the end of his term of office submit to the county auditor a statement and copy of his fee-book for the month last past, duly verified as provided in the preceding section: Provided, that the county auditor shall submit the statement and copy of his fee-book to the county clerk. [L. '07, p. 107, § 1.]

§ 4070. Checking of Statements.—It shall thereupon be the duty of the county auditor and county clerk to check such statements submitted to him with the fee-book of their respective offices and the records pertaining thereto, and if they are found to be correct he shall return same after having attached thereto his official certificate. [L. '07, p. 107, § 2.]

§ 4071. Errors or Irregularities.—If any errors or irregularities are found by the checking officer he shall immediately notify the officer interested, and if within three days after such notification said errors or irregularities are not corrected by such officer, it shall be the duty of the checking officer to so notify the board of county commissioners in writing and upon receipt of such notification it shall be the duty of said board to proceed against such officer in the manner provided by law. [L. '07, p. 108, § 4.]

§ 4072. Disposition of Fees of Salaried Officers.—All officers enumerated in this section, who are paid a salary in lieu of fees, shall collect the fees herein prescribed for the use of the state or county, as the case may be, and shall pay the same into the state or county treasury, as the case may be, on the first Monday of each month. [L. '07, pp. 88–95, § 1.]

This is only part of the above section: See L. '07, p. 95. The officers enumerated in this section are clerk of the supreme court, clerks of the superior court, sheriffs, constables, county auditors, coroners, secretary of state, and notaries public.

For fees prescribed, see the following: Clerks of court, § 497, supra; sheriffs, § 497; constables, § 6530; county auditors, § 3936; coroners, § 4016; secretary of state, § 8999; notaries, § 8302.

For fees of jurors: See infra, § 4084.

§ 4073. Payment of Fees into County Treasury.—Every county officer, who, by the laws of this state is allowed a salary, shall, on the first Monday of each month, pay into the county treasury all moneys and sums which have come into his hands for fees and charges in his office, or by virtue of his office, during the preceding month. And no officer is permitted to retain to his own use or profit any sums paid him in his office or by virtue of his office, no matter from what source, but all of such moneys so paid him by virtue of the laws of this state, or of the United States, shall be the property of the county. [L. '93, p. 184, § 1.]

See infra, § 4081, payment of fees collected, penalty.

§ 4074. Salary Fund Created—Transfer of Funds to.—For the purpose of paying the salaries provided for in this act, all fees directed to be paid into the county treasury shall be set apart therein as a separate fund, to be known as the salary fund, to be applied to the payment of said salaries; should the amount received from such source be insufficient, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer, from time to time, to transfer to said fund from the general county fund such sums as may be necessary to pay said salaries as they become due, notifying the county auditor of such transfer. At the regular term of county commissioners' court they shall transfer any excess of the salary fund to the general county fund, should they deem it expedient so to do. [L. '90, p. 314, § 36; 1 H. C., § 3006.]

See infra, § 9212, county current expense fund.

§ 4075. Payment of Salaries.—The salaries of such officers named in this act as are entitled to salaries shall be paid monthly out of the county treasury, and from the funds hereinbefore provided, and it shall be the duty of the county auditor, on the first Monday of each and every month, to draw his warrant upon the county treasurer in favor of each of said officers for the amount of salary due him, under the provisions of this act, for the preceding month: Provided, the county commissioners shall have entered an order on the record journal empowering him so to do. [L. '90, p. 314, § 37; 1 H. C., § 3007.]

"This act": Act of 1890, p. 312.

§ 4076. Salary Warrant, When may be Drawn.—The auditor shall not draw his warrant for the salary of any such officer for any month until the latter shall have first filed his duplicate receipt with the auditor, properly signed by the treasurer, showing that he has made the statement and settlement for that month required in this act. [L. '90, p. 314, § 38; 1 H. C., § 3008.]

§ 4077. Itemized Receipt for Fees to be Given—Penalty.—Every officer, upon receiving any fees for official duty, service, or reward, may be required by the person paying the same to make out in writing, and deliver to such person, a particular account of such fees, specifying for what they accrued, respectively, and shall receipt the same; and if he refuse or neglect so to do when required, he shall be liable to the party paying the same in treble the amount so paid. [L. '90, p. 315, § 40; 1 H. C., § 3010.]

§ 4078. Statement of Fees to be Posted.—It shall be the duty of each county officer entitled to collect fees herein from the public, to keep posted in his office a plain and legible statement of the fees allowed by law; a failure so to do shall subject the officer to a fine of one hundred dollars and costs, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction. [L. '90, p. 315, § 41; 1 H. C., § 3011.]

§ 4079. Receiving Illegal Fees, Office may be Declared Vacant for, When.—The board of county commissioners of any county in this state, upon receiving a certified copy of the record of conviction of any officer for receiving illegal fees, or where the officer collects fees and fails to account for the same, upon proof thereof must declare his office vacant, and appoint his successor. [L. '90, p. 315, § 42; 1 H. C., § 3012.]

§ 4080. Taking Illegal Fees, How Punished.—If any officer shall take more or greater fees than are herein allowed, he shall be liable to indictment, and on conviction shall be removed from office and fined in any sum not exceeding one thousand dollars. [Cd. '81, § 2090; 1 H. C., § 3019.]

See, also, § 2612, supra.

§ 4081. Failure to Pay Over Fees is Embezzlement.—Any county officer who is paid a salary, who shall fail to pay to the county treasury all sums that shall have come into his hands for fees and charges in his office, or by virtue of his office, whether under the laws of this state or of the United States, shall be deemed to be guilty of embezzlement in office, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than one year nor more than three years: Provided further, upon conviction, his office shall be declared to be vacant by the court pronouncing the sentence. [L. '93, p. 184, § 2.]

Cited in 15 Wash. 415; 56 Wash. 87, 88; 68 Wash. 492.

§ 4082. Withholding County Funds—Penalty for.—Any and all officers of a county, or their deputies, who shall collect fees for the county and neglect to turn the money into the county treasury, as herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined in any sum not exceeding two hundred dollars for each offense. [L. '90, p. 316, § 46; 1 H. C., § 3015.]

§ 4083. New or Altered Counties, How Classified. — Counties created or organized after the passage and approval of this act shall immediately come under and be governed by its provisions, so far as the same are applicable thereto: Provided, that when the population of any existing county shall have been reduced, by reason of the creation of any new county from the territory thereof, below the class and rank to which it was first entitled hereunder, it shall then be the duty of the county commissioners to designate, by order, the class to which said county has been reduced by reason thereof, and such county shall then enter the list of such class: Provided further, that the salary of county officers shall in no way be affected by reason of such division for the time for which they were elected. [L. '90, p. 316, § 47; 1 H. C., § 3016.]

See note to § 4075.

§ 4084. Schedule of Fees of Jurors, etc.—Each grand and petit juror shall receive for each day's attendance upon the superior court, besides mileage, three dollars.

Each talesman serving in the superior court, per day	$2.00
For each day's attendance upon a justice of the peace court	1.00
For serving on a coroner's jury, per day	2.00
Mileage, each way, per mile	.10

Fees of officers, witnesses, etc.: See § 497, supra.

§ 4085. Mileage of Jurors, etc., Clerk to Certify Amount, etc.—Whenever a juror, witness, or officer is required to attend a court, or travel on official business out of the limits of his own county, and entitled to mileage, in lieu thereof he may at his option receive his actual and necessary traveling expenses by the usually traveled route in going to and returning from the place where the court is held, or where the business is discharged. At the close of each term of the district court the clerk shall ascertain the amount due each juror for his mileage and per diem; and he shall also certify the amount of fees that may be due to the sheriff of any other county than that in which the court is held, who may have attended the term, having a prisoner in custody charged with or convicted of a crime, or for the purpose of conveying such prisoner to or from the county, which, when approved by the court or judge, shall be a charge upon the county to which the prisoner belongs; and he shall also certify the amount which may be due witnesses attending from another county in a criminal case for their fees, which, when approved by the court or judge, shall be a charge upon the county to which the case belongs. [Cf. L. '63, p. 424, §§ 6, 8; L. '69, p. 419, § 7; Cd. '81 § 2109; 1 H. C., § 3049.]

§ 4086. Official Oaths to be Administered Without Charge.—No fees shall be charged by any officer for administering and certifying the oath of office. [L. '69, p. 374, § 18; Cd. '81, § 2096; 1 H. C., § 3025.]

§ 4087. Pension Papers—Officers not to Charge Fees.—No judge, or clerk of court, county clerk, county auditor, or any other county officer, shall be allowed to charge any honorably discharged soldier or seaman, or the widow, orphan, or legal representative thereof, any fee for administering any oath or giving any official certificate for the procuring of any pension, bounty, or back pay, nor for administering any oath or oaths, and giving the certificate required upon any voucher for collection of periodical dues from the pension agent, nor any fee for services rendered in perfecting any voucher. [L. '91, p. 28, § 1; 1 H. C., § 3046.]

§ 4088. Requiring or Accepting Such Fees, Punishment for.—Any such officer who may require and accept fees for such services shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars. [L. '91, p. 28, § 2; 1 H. C., § 3047.]

§ 4089. Fees in Special Cases, Allowance of.—Each and every officer who shall be called on or required to perform service for which no fees or compensation are provided for in this chapter shall be allowed fees similar and equal to those allowed him for services of the same kind for which allowance is made herein. [L. '54, p. 375, § 4; L. '61, p. 41, § 5; Cd. '81, § 2098; 1 H. C., § 3027.]

CHAPTER I.

Diking Districts.

Assessments on state lands, see §§ 4251–4255 and 6872–6882, infra.

§ 4091. Organization of.—Any portion of a county requiring diking, which contains five or more inhabitants and freeholders therein, may be organized into a diking district, and when so organized, such district, and the board of commissioners hereinafter provided for, shall have and possess the power herein conferred or that may hereafter be conferred by law upon such district and board of commissioners, and said district shall be known and designated as diking district No. —— (here insert number) of the county of —— (here insert the name of county) of the state of Washington, and shall have the right to sue and be sued by and in the name of its board of commissioners hereinafter provided for, and shall have perpetual succession, and shall adopt and use a seal. The commissioners hereinafter provided for, and their successors in office, shall, from the time of the organization of such diking district, have the power, and it shall be their duty, to manage and conduct the business and affairs of the district; make and execute all necessary contracts, employ and appoint such agents, officers and employees as may be required, and prescribe their duties, and perform such other acts as hereinafter provided, or that may hereafter be provided by law. [L. '95, p. 304, § 1.]

This chapter supersedes §§ 1928–1934, 1 Hill's Code (L. '88, pp. 90–92). Compare Code '81, §§ 2519–2531; L. '83, pp. 30–32; L. '90, p. 730, § 1.

§ 4092. Districts, How Formed.—For the purpose of the formation of such diking districts a petition shall be presented to the board of county commissioners of the county in which said proposed diking district is located, which petition shall set forth the object for the creation of said district; shall designate the boundaries thereof and set forth therein the number of acres of land to be benefited by the proposed diking system, and shall also contain the names of all the freeholders residing within said proposed district, (so far as known), and shall contain a brief description of the proposed system of diking, the route over which the same is to be constructed, together with the proposed spurs or branches, if any there may be, and the termini thereof, and set forth the further fact that the establishment of said district and the proposed system of diking will be conducive to the public health, convenience and welfare, and increase the public revenue, and that the establishment of said district and said system of diking will be of special benefit to the property included therein. Said petition shall be signed by such a number as own at least a majority of the acreage in the proposed district, and shall pray that the same be organized under the provisions of this chapter. Said petitioners shall, at the time of the filing of said petition, file a bond with said commissioners, running to the state of Washington, in the penal sum of five hundred dollars, with two or more sureties, to be approved by the board of county commissioners, conditioned that they will pay all costs in case said district, for any reason, shall not be established. [L. '95, p. 304, § 2.]

§ 4093. Petitions to be Published, and by Whom Filed.—Said petition shall be presented at a regular or special meeting of the board of county commissioners of said county, and shall be published for at least two weeks in two successive issues of some weekly newspaper printed and published in said county, and in case no such newspaper be printed or published in such county, then in some such newspaper of general circulation therein, before the time at which the same is to be presented, together with a notice stating the time of the meeting at which the same shall be presented. When such petition is presented for hearing, the board of county commissioners shall hear the same, or may adjourn said hearing from time to time, not exceeding one month in all; and any person or corporation may appear before said board of county commissioners and make objections to the establishment of said district, or the proposed boundary lines thereof, and upon a final hearing said board of county commissioners shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as they deem to be proper, and shall establish and define such boundaries, and shall ascertain and determine the number of acres of land that will be benefited by said proposed system of dikes, the number of freeholders residing within said boundaries of the said proposed district, and shall find whether the proposed diking system will be conducive to the public health, welfare and convenience, increase the public revenue, and be of special benefit to the majority of the land included within the said boundaries of said proposed district so established by said board of county commissioners: Provided, that no changes shall be made by said board of county commissioners in said boundary lines to include any territory outside of the boundaries described in said petition; Provided further, that any person or persons owning land within the proposed boundaries and who did not sign said petition, or any person, persons, or corporations owning land not included within the proposed boundaries, may file a petition with the board of county commissioners asking that the proposed boundaries be extended to include other lands described therein; setting forth in said petition the reason therefor; but no person, persons, or corporations not owning lands included within the boundaries, as originally petitioned for, shall have the right to file such petition unless they ask therein to have their own lands included within the proposed boundaries: Provided, any corporation owning land included within the boundaries described in the original petition, may also petition the board of county commissioners for an extension of the proposed boundaries: Provided further, that the boundaries of any diking district heretofore or hereafter established may be extended by the board of county commissioners to include other lands in said county, upon petition signed by the owners of a majority of the acreage of said land within the proposed extension; which said petition for extension shall set forth and contain, with reference to the extension, such matters and things and data so far as applicable, as is provided for in the petition required for presentation to the board of county commissioners for the purpose of the formation of the original diking district; Provided further, that all necessary expense incident to making such extension, together with a proportionate share of the first cost of any system of dikes existing in the original diking district at the time of making such extension, shall be levied against and apportioned to the land included in such extension, as in this act provided. In such case, the board of county commissioners shall give like notice as provided for in this section of the hearing of the original petition, and the final hearing thereof may, in such case, be continued from time to time, for a period of not exceeding sixty days; and if, upon final hearing, the board of county commissioners deem it advisable and to the best interests of all concerned, they may grant the prayer of said petitioners in whole or in part, and said board of county commissioners of such county shall enter an order on the records of their office setting forth all facts found by them upon the final hearing of said petition, and which may be adduced by them from the evidence heard upon the final hearing thereof. [L. '05, p. 177, § 1. Cf. L. '95, p. 305, § 3.]

§ 4094. Election to Establish Districts—Commissioners—Notices—Costs.—Upon the entry of the findings on the final hearing of said petition as set forth in the last preceding section, said board of county commissioners of said county, if they find said proposed system of dikes will be conducive to the public health, welfare and convenience and will increase the public revenue and be of special benefit to the majority of the lands included within said boundaries, shall give notice of an election to be held in such proposed diking district for the purpose of determining whether the same shall be organized under the provisions of this chapter as a diking district of the state of Washington, and for the further purpose of choosing at such election three commissioners who shall be known and designated as "dike commissioners" for said district proposed to be organized, which said three commissioners shall, upon their election, be the district authorities of said diking district; and such notice shall particularly describe the boundaries as established by the board of county commissioners on its final hearing of said petition, and shall state the name of such proposed diking district and approximately the number of acres of land in said district to be benefited thereby, and the same shall be published for at least two weeks prior to such election in a weekly newspaper printed and published within the county within which said district is located, and in case no such newspaper be printed or published in such county, then in some such newspaper of general circulation therein, for two successive issues thereof, and shall be posted for the same period in at least four public places within the boundaries of said proposed district, which notice shall designate the place within the proposed district where the said election shall be held, and require the voters to cast ballots which shall contain the words "Diking district, yes," or "Diking district, no," and also the names of the persons voted for for commissioners of said diking district. The board of county commissioners shall appoint two judges, one inspector and two clerks for such election, whose compensation shall be the same as in other elections for the election of county and state officers, and shall be a charge upon said district, in case the same be established, and shall be paid in the same manner as other expenses are paid which are incurred in the establishment and construction of said improvement. In case said district be not established, then all costs and expenses shall be collectible from the bond hereinbefore provided for, and any person having a charge against said district shall have a right of action thereon. [L. '95, p. 307, § 4.]

§ 4095. Election, When Held—Commissioners, Qualification of.—Said election shall be held on the day designated in such notice, and shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of the state, and no person shall be entitled to vote at such election or at the elections of commissioners hereinafter provided for unless he shall be a qualified elector of the county in which such district is located, and shall own land in the district. It shall be the duty of the county auditor, upon the request of the board of county commissioners, to certify to the election officers of any such election the names of all persons owning land in the district as shown by the records of his office, and at any such election the election officers may require any such land owner, offering to vote, to take an oath that he is a qualified elector of the county before he shall be allowed to vote: Provided, that at any election held under the provisions of this act, an officer or agent of any corporation owning land in the district, duly authorized thereto in writing, may cast a vote on behalf of said corporation; when so voting he shall file with the election officers such written instrument of his authority. The board of county commissioners shall, on the Monday next succeeding such election, count and canvass the votes cast thereat, and if, upon said canvass and count, it appears that a majority of the votes cast are for "Dike Districts, yes," the board shall immediately enter an order upon its records declaring the proposed territory duly organized as a dike district, giving to such district a proper number, followed by the name of the county and state, and shall also declare the three persons receiving, respectively, the highest number of votes, the duly elected dike commissioners of such diking district. Said board shall cause a copy of the order entered of record, duly certified, to be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and from and after the date of such filing, said organization shall be deemed complete; and the members of said board of commissioners, so chosen at said election, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, shall qualify as county officers are required to qualify, and each shall enter into a bond, payable to the state of Washington, for the benefit of said district, with two or more sureties, in a penal sum of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of their duties as dike commissioners, to be approved by the board of county commissioners, and to be filed with the county clerk, of the county in which said district is situated. The said dike commissioners shall hold office until the next general election at which officers of said dike district are to be elected, and until such further time as their successors are elected and qualified. The members of each successive board of dike commissioners, whether elected or appointed, shall, before entering upon their duties, enter into a bond as herein provided, and after being approved by the board of county commissioners, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which said district is situated. [L. '15, p. 261, § 1. Cf. L. '95, p. 308, § 5; L. '99, p. 187, § 1.]

§ 4095–1. Validation of Defective Districts.—Whenever a petition for the formation of a diking district, under the provisions of section 4092, shall have been filed with the board of county commissioners of any county, and such petition shall have conformed to the requirements of said section, except that the description of the proposed system of diking, the route over which the same is to be constructed, and the proposed spurs or branches, and the termini thereof, shall not have been definitely set forth in said petition, or said petition shall have been defective in any particular, and whenever said petition shall have been published, as required in section 4093, and a hearing shall have been held thereon, and supplemental petitions shall have been filed, and the board of county commissioners shall have, at the final hearing, entered findings and an order granting the prayer of the petitioners, in whole or in part, as provided in said section 4093, and said board of county commissioners shall have given notice of an election to be held in such proposed diking district, and shall have appointed officers of election in the manner prescribed in section 4094, and such election shall have been held, and the board of county commissioners shall have counted and canvassed the votes cast thereat, and it shall have appeared that a majority of the votes cast were for "Dike District, Yes," and the board shall have entered an order upon its records declaring the proposed territory duly organized as a diking district, and given such district a proper number, followed by the name of the county and state, and declared the three persons receiving respectively the highest number of votes the duly elected dike commissioners of such diking district, and caused a copy of the order entered of record, to be duly certified and filed in the office of the secretary of state, in the manner prescribed in section 4095, the organization of said diking district so attempted to be organized shall be deemed complete, and the organization of any such diking district so attempted to be organized in the manner hereinabove set forth, is hereby validated, and said diking district is hereby declared to be a duly organized and established diking district. [L. '15, p. 483, § 1.]

§ 4096. General Election, When Held—Expenses of—Notice.—A general election for the election of a board of dike commissioners for such district shall be held upon the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March, 1916, and annually thereafter. The term of office of commissioners shall be for three years and until their successors are elected and qualified, but of the commissioners elected at the first election held under the provisions of this act the commissioner receiving the highest number of votes shall hold office for three years. The commissioner receiving the second highest number of votes shall hold office for two years, and the commissioner receiving the third highest number of votes shall hold office for one year. The term of office shall begin on the first Monday of the following April, and such election shall be held in accordance with the general election laws of the state of Washington for the election of county and state officers, and the expenses thereof shall be defrayed by said district, and the judges, clerks and inspectors of said election shall each receive as compensation for the services rendered at such election the sum of two dollars per day: Provided, that at least thirty days' notice immediately preceding any such general election shall be given thereof by the board of commissioners of such diking district, by posting the same in four public places within said district. Said notice shall contain the names of two electors of said district as judges of said election and the name of one elector of said district as inspector thereof, the same to be chosen by said board of commissioners. Said board of commissioners shall be a canvassing board to canvass the votes of each election, and they shall meet the day following such election and canvass said votes and declare the result thereof and issue certificates of election. [L. '15, p. 373, § 1.]

§ 4097. Eminent Domain—Powers of Districts.—All diking districts organized under the provisions of this act shall have the right of eminent domain with the power by and through its board or commissioners to cause to be condemned and appropriated private property for the use of said organization, in the construction and maintenance of a system of dikes and make just compensation therefor; that the property of private corporations may be subjected to the same rights of eminent domain as private individuals, and said board of commissioners shall have the power to acquire by purchase all of the real property necessary to make the improvements provided for by this act. All diking districts and the commissioners thereof now organized and existing, and all diking districts hereafter to be organized, and the commissioners thereof shall have in addition to the rights, powers and authority now conferred by any law of this state:

(1st) The right, power and authority to straighten, widen, deepen and improve any and all rivers, watercourses or streams, whether navigable or otherwise, flowing through or located within the boundaries of such diking district.

(2d) To construct all needed and auxiliary drains, ditches, canals, flumes, locks and all other necessary artificial appliances, in the construction of a diking system and which may be necessary or advisable to protect the land in any diking district from overflow, or to provide an efficient system of drainage for the land situated within such diking district, or to assist and become necessary in the preservation and maintenance of such diking system.

(3d) In the accomplishment of the foregoing objects, the commissioners of such diking districts are hereby given, in addition to the right and power of eminent domain now conferred by law upon the commissioners of any diking district, the right, power and authority by purchase, or the exercise of the power and authority of eminent domain, or otherwise, to acquire all necessary or needed rights of way in the straightening, deepening or widening of such rivers, watercourses or streams, and such auxiliary drains, ditches or canals hereinabove mentioned, and when so acquired shall have and are hereby given the right, power and authority, by and with the consent and approval of the United States government, in cases where such consent is necessary, to divert, alter or change the bed or course of any such river, watercourse or stream aforesaid, or to deepen or widen the same. [L. '15, p. 441, § 1. Cf. L. '95, p. 309, § 7; L. '07, p. 175, § 1.]

§ 4097–2. Construction of Drainage System—Resolution.—Before entering upon the construction of any system of drainage for the land situated within such diking district, the commissioners thereof shall adopt a resolution which shall contain a brief and general description of the proposed improvement, a statement that the costs thereof shall be paid by warrants drawn and payable in like manner as for the original construction of the dikes of such district, and fixing a time and place within such district for hearing objections to such proposed improvement or for the proposed method of paying the costs thereof. The time so fixed shall be not less than thirty days or more than sixty days from the date said resolution shall be adopted. Such resolution may be adopted by the commissioners upon their own motion and it shall be their duty to adopt such resolution at any time when a petition signed by the owners of sixty per cent or more of the acreage within such diking district is presented, requesting them to do so. [L. '15, p. 442, § 2.]

§ 4097–3. Notice of Hearing.—Notice of such hearing shall be given by posting in three (3) public places within such district a true copy of said resolution signed by the commissioners of the diking district and attested with the seal thereof, which notice shall be posted for at least ten (10) days prior to the day fixed in said resolution for said hearing. [L. '15, p. 443, § 3.]

§ 4097–4. Procedure in Absence of Objections.—At the time fixed, the commissioners shall meet and if no objections have been made to the proposed improvement or to the proposed method of paying the costs thereof, they shall adopt an order reciting that fact and shall thereupon proceed to construct such system of drainage and pay the costs thereof in accordance with the terms specified in the resolution. [L. '15, p. 443, § 4.]

§ 4097–5. Consideration of Objections.—But if objections in writing are filed either to the proposed improvement or to the proposed method of paying the costs thereof, the commissioners shall proceed to hear and consider the same and may, thereupon, order that such proposed improvement be abandoned for the time being or may direct such improvement to be constructed and the order of the commissioners in that regard shall be final and conclusive on all parties interested: Provided, however, that no such proceeding shall be abandoned unless the owners of at least twenty-five per cent of the acreage within said district shall have at or prior to said hearing, filed protests against the same. But nothing contained in this act shall be held to forbid the commissioners in their discretion overruling all protests and directing the construction of such improvement.

Commissioners shall likewise hear and consider all objections that may be filed to the proposed method of paying the cost of such improvement. [L. '15, p. 443, § 5.]

§ 4097-6. Assessment of Benefits.—In case the commissioners at such hearing shall determine that the benefits accruing to any lot or parcel of lands within said district by reason of the construction of such drainage system are greater or less than the amount theretofore fixed in the original or any subsequent proceeding for the construction of dikes, they shall determine the amount of such benefits to each lot or parcel of land and certify their findings and determination in that regard to the county auditor and the county auditor shall note the same on the transcript of the judgment (and in case there has been any readjustment of assessments of such diking district, then upon such transcript as readjusted). [L. '15, p. 444, § 6.]

§ 4097-7. Appeal to Superior Court—Trial De Novo.—Any person deeming himself aggrieved by the assessment for benefits made against any lot or parcel of land owned by him, may appeal therefrom to the superior court for the county in which the diking district is situated; such appeal shall be taken within the time and substantially in the manner prescribed by the laws of this state for appeals from justices' courts and all notices of appeal shall be filed with the said board, and the board of diking commissioners shall at the appellant's expense certify to the superior court so much of the record as appellant may request, and the hearing in said superior court shall be de novo, and the superior court shall have power and authority to reverse or modify the determination of the commissioners and to certify the result of its determination to the county auditor and shall have full power and authority to do any thing in the premises necessary to adjust the assessment upon the lots or parcels of land involved in the appeal in accordance with the benefits. [L. '15, p. 444, § 7.]

differ from the assessment theretofore made, as to any tract or parcel of land within said diking district, the diking commissioners in making their annual estimate shall segregate the amount necessary to be raised for the construction, repair and maintenance of the system of drainage or for the payment of the principal or interest of any bonds issued for drainage purposes from the amount necessary to be raised for all other diking purposes and the county auditor in apportioning said estimate for drainage purposes to the lands in such district shall base such apportionment upon the assessment fixed for drainage purposes and shall apportion the remainder of such estimate upon the basis fixed in the original or any subsequent proceeding for all other diking purposes. But in all other cases, the estimate and apportionment shall be made in accordance with existing laws. [L. '15, p. 445, § 8.]

§ 4097-9. Issuance of Bonds.—Authority is hereby given to any diking district heretofore organized, or that may be hereafter organized, to issue bonds of such diking district for the purpose of procuring funds with which to construct a drainage system, such bonds to be issued in accordance with the terms of section 4126-1. [L. '15, p. 445, § 9.]

"Section 4126-1, substituted for the references to the act of 1913.

§ 4097-10. Appeals to Supreme Court.—Either the dike commissioners or any land owner who has appealed to the superior court in accordance with the provisions of this act shall have a right to appeal to the supreme court within the time and in the manner prescribed by existing law. [L. '15, p. 445, § 10.]

§ 4098. Rights of Way Over State, County, etc., Property.—The right, power and authority to acquire the necessary and needed rights of way for any and all purposes now existing by law or created by this act, may be acquired by the commissioners of any diking district over, across and upon any land, or interest therein, of the state of Washington or any county of this state, and streets, avenues, alleys or public places of any city, town or municipal corporation of this state: Provided, however, that the construction of such dike or dikes shall not have the effect of impairing any right, power or authority now existing on the part of any city or town to construct in, upon, underneath, above or across such dike or dikes, sewers, water pipes, mains, or the granting of any franchise thereon, or the improvement by way of planking, replanking, paving, repaving or any other power, right or authority which but for this act such city or town would have in or to such street, avenue, alley or public place; except, however, that such right, power or authority on behalf of such city or town shall not be exercised either by such city or town or by any person, persons, firms or corporations to whom it might grant any right or franchise, which will materially impair the efficiency of such dike or dikes. The provisions of this section as regards said system of dikes to be located within the boundaries of any incorporated city or town shall apply to the extension or enlargement of any dike or dikes already existing upon, over and across any street, avenue, alley or public place of any city or town, as well as the original construction thereof. [L. '07, p. 176, § 2.]

"Act" in this section refers to §§ 4097, 4098–4101.

§ 4099. Organization—Matters to be Set Forth in Proceedings.—In all proceedings hereafter had to organize diking districts, all notices, petitions or proceedings shall contain and set forth all matters and things required by existing law, and in addition thereto shall contain and set forth, so far as is necessary or applicable, all matters and things required by the provisions of this act, and all diking districts now existing, which may exercise any of the rights, powers or authority conferred by the provisions of this act, the proceedings to obtain the benefits hereof, must contain such allegations, and such steps and proceedings must be taken, as is rendered necessary by the provisions of this act; and the commissioners of existing diking districts are hereby given the right, power and authority to institute all proceedings and to take all necessary steps to secure the benefits of the provisions of this act, and all proceedings to secure the benefits thereof and all judgments to be rendered in such proceedings, including the filing of transcripts and the making of levies, and all other proceedings, shall be in addition to proceedings, assessments or levies, theretofore made in any prior proceedings. [L. '07, p. 177, § 3.]

"Act" in this section refers to §§ 4097, 4098–4101.

§ 4100. Grant of Overflowed State Lands.—All the right, title and interest of the state of Washington in and to so much of the beds and shores of any navigable river, stream, waterway or watercourse located within the boundaries of any diking district up to and including the line of ordinary high tide in waters where the tide ebbs and flows, and up to and including the line of ordinary high water within the banks of all navigable rivers and lakes, to the extent that the same under any proceedings to be had under this act shall cease to become a part of such river, stream, waterway or watercourse by reason of the diversion of such river, stream, waterway or watercourse, under any proceedings had under this act, are hereby given, granted and vested in the respective diking districts now existing or hereafter to be formed; and the commissioners of such respective diking districts are hereby given the right, power and authority to sell such beds and shores in such manner and upon such notices and proceedings as govern, under existing laws of this state, the board of county commissioners in the sale and disposition of any real estate belonging to counties of this state. The proceeds of such sales are to be used for the benefits of such diking district in the payment of any expenses connected with the construction of such dikes or maintenance thereof: Provided, however, that the commissioners of such diking district may, in their discretion, exchange such abandoned beds and shores for other property needed in the straightening, deepening or widening of such rivers, watercourses or streams; and which exchange may be made upon such terms, conditions and in such areas as in the discretion of such commissioners they may deem advisable and for the best interests of such diking district, without any notice or other formality of proceedings whatever. [L. '07, p. 178, § 4.]

§ 4101. County Auditor Authorized to Sign Petition for County.—Whenever the county owns any land situated within the boundaries of a proposed diking district, the county auditor, when so directed by the board of county commissioners of the county in which such lands are situated, is hereby authorized to sign the petition praying for the formation of such diking district for and on behalf and as the act and deed of such county, and when so signed the same shall be considered in determining the question of a majority signature in acreage to the petition for the formation of such district. [L. '07, p. 178, § 5.]

§ 4102. Commissioners, Duty of.—Said board of dike commissioners hereinbefore provided for shall have the exclusive charge of the construction and maintenance of all dikes or dike systems which may be constructed within the said district, and shall be the executive officers thereof, with full power to bind said district by their acts in the performance of their duties, as provided by law. In case of vacancy or vacancies occurring in said board by the death, failure to elect, failure to qualify, resignation or removal of one or more of the members thereof from said district, such vacancy or vacancies shall be filled at once from the freeholders and qualified electors of said district by the judge of the superior court of said county, and said appointee shall serve the unexpired term, or until the next general election or until a successor is elected and qualified: Provided, that in counties where there may be more than one superior judge, the judge eldest in age shall make such appointment. [L. '95, p. 310, § 8.]

§ 4103. Diking, Method of Procedure—Estimates—Right of Way. Whenever it is desired to prosecute the construction of a system of

dikes within said district, said district, by and through its board of commissioners, shall file a petition in the superior court of the county in which said district is located, setting forth therein the route over which the same is to be constructed, with a complete description thereof, together with specifications for its construction, with all necessary plats and plans thereof, together with the estimated cost of such proposed improvement, showing therein the names of the land owners whose lands are to be benefited by such proposed improvement; the number of acres owned by each land owner, and the maximum amount of benefits per acre to be derived by each land owner set forth therein from the construction of said proposed improvement, and that the same will be conducive to the public health, convenience and welfare, and increase the value of all of said property for purposes of public revenue. Said petition shall further set forth the names of the land owners through whose land the right of way is desired for the construction of said dikes; the amount of land necessary to be taken therefor, and an estimate of the value of said lands so sought to be taken for such right of way, and the damages sustained by any person or corporation interested therein, if any, by reason of such appropriation, irrespective of the benefits to be derived by such land owners by reason of the construction of said system. Such estimate shall be made, respectively, to each person through whose land said right of way is sought to be appropriated. Said petition shall set forth as defendants therein all the persons or corporations to be benefited by said improvement, and all persons or corporations through whose land the right of way is sought to be appropriated, and all persons or corporations having any interest therein, as mortgagee or otherwise, appearing of record, and shall set forth that said proposed system of dikes is necessary for the protection of all the lands from overflow described in said petition, and that all lands sought to be appropriated for said right of way are necessary to be used as a right of way in the construction and maintenance of said improvements; and when the proposed improvement will protect or benefit the whole or any part of any public or corporate road or railroad, so that the traveled track or roadbed thereof will be improved by the construction of said dikes, such fact shall be set forth in said petition, and such public or private corporations owning said road or railroad shall be made parties defendant therein, and the maximum amount of benefits to be derived from such proposed improvement shall be estimated in said petition against said road or railroad. [L. '95, p. 310, § 9.]

§ 4104. Surveyors, When Employed.—In the preparation of the facts and data to be inserted in said petition and filed therewith for the purpose of presenting the matter to the said superior court, the board of commissioners of said diking district may employ one or more good and competent surveyors and draughtsmen to assist them in compiling data required to be presented to the court with said petition as hereinbefore provided, and such legal assistance as may be necessary, with full power to bind said district for the compensation of such assistants or employees employed by them, and such services shall be taxed as costs in the suit. [L. '95, p. 311, § 10.]

§ 4105. Summons to Contain, What—Service of.—A summons stating briefly the objects of the petition and containing a description of the land, real estate, premises or property sought to be appropriated, and those which it is claimed will be benefited by such improvement, and stating the court wherein said petition is filed, the date of the filing thereof and when the defendants are required to appear (which shall be ten days, exclusive of the day of service, if served within the county in which the petition is pending, and if in any other county, then twenty days after such service, and if served by publication, then within thirty days from the date of the first publication), shall be served on each and every person named therein as owner, encumbrancer, tenant or otherwise interested therein. Said summons must be subscribed by the commissioners, or their attorney, running in the name of the state of Washington and directed to the defendants; and service thereof shall be made by delivering a copy of such summons to each of the persons or parties so named therein, if a resident of the state, or in case of the absence of such person or party from his or her usual place of abode, by leaving a copy of such notice at his or her usual place of abode; or in case of a foreign corporation, at its principal place of business in this state with some person of more than sixteen years of age; in case of domestic corporations said service shall be made upon the president, secretary or other director or trustee of such corporation; in case of minors, on their guardians, or in case no guardian shall have been appointed, then on the person who has the care and custody of such minor; in case of idiots, lunatics or insane persons, on their guardian, or in case no guardian shall have been appointed, then on the person in whose care or charge they are found. In case the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be appropriated, or which it is claimed will be benefited by such improvement, is state, tide, school or county land, the summons shall be served on the auditor of the county in which the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be appropriated, or which it is claimed will be benefited, is situated. In all cases where the owner or person claiming an interest in such real or other property is a nonresident of this state, or where the residence of such owner or person is unknown, and an affidavit of one or more of the commissioners of said district shall be filed that such owner or person is a nonresident of this state, or that after diligent inquiry his residence is unknown or cannot be ascertained by such deponent, service may be made by publication thereof in a newspaper published in the county where such lands are situated once a week for three successive weeks; and in case no newspaper is published in such county, then such publication may be had in a newspaper published in the county nearest to the county in which lies the land sought to be appropriated, or which it is claimed will be benefited by said improvement. Such publication shall be deemed service upon each nonresident person or persons whose residence is unknown. Such summons may be served by any competent person over twenty-one years of age. Due proof of service of such summons by affidavit of the person serving the same, or by the printer's affidavit of publication, shall be filed with the clerk of such court before the court shall proceed to hear the matter. Want of service of such notice shall render the subsequent proceedings void as to the person not served; but all persons or parties having been served with summons as herein provided, either by publication or otherwise, shall be bound by the subsequent proceedings. In all cases not otherwise provided for, service of notice, order and other papers in the proceeding authorized by this chapter may be made as the superior court, or the judge thereof, may direct: Provided, that personal service upon any party outside of this state shall be of like effect as service by publication. [L. '95, p. 312, § 11.]

§ 4106. Appearance of Defendants — Jury — Verdict — Decree.— Any or all of said defendants may appear jointly or separately, and admit or deny the allegations of said petition, and plead any affirmative matter in defense thereof, at the time and place appointed for hearing said petition, or to which the same may have been adjourned. If the court or judge thereof shall have satisfactory proof that all of the defendants in said action have been duly served with said summons, as above provided, and shall be further satisfied by competent proof that said improvement is practicable, and conducive to the public health, welfare and convenience, and will increase the value of said lands for the purpose of public revenue, and that the contemplated use for which the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be appropriated is really a public use, and that the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be appropriated are required and necessary for the establishment of said improvement, the court or judge thereof shall cause a jury of twelve qualified persons to be impaneled to assess the damages and benefits as herein provided, if in attendance upon his court; and if not, he may, if satisfied that the public interests require the immediate construction of said improvement, direct the sheriff of his county to summon from the citizens of the county in which said petition is filed as many qualified persons as may be necessary in order to form a jury of twelve persons, unless the parties to the proceedings consent to a less number, such number to be not less than three, and such consent shall be entered by the clerk in the minutes of the trial. If necessary to complete the jury in any case, the sheriff, under direction of the court or judge thereof, shall summon as many qualified persons as may be required to complete the jury from the citizens of the county in which the petition is filed. In case a special jury is summoned, the cost thereof shall be taxed as part of the costs in the proceeding, and paid by the district seeking to appropriate said land, the same as other costs in the case; and no person shall be competent as a juror who is a resident of, or land owner in, the district seeking to appropriate said land. The jurors at such trial shall make in each case a separate assessment of damages which shall result to any person, corporation or company, or to the state, by reason of the appropriation and use of such land, real estate, premises or other property for said improvement, and shall ascertain, determine and award the amount of damages to be paid to said owner or owners, respectively, and to all tenants, encumbrancers and others interested, for the taking or injuriously affecting such land, real estate, premises or other property for the establishment of said improvement; and shall further find the maximum amount of benefits, per acre, to be derived by each of the land owners from the construction of said improvement. And upon a return of the verdict into court, the same shall be recorded as in other cases; whereupon a decree shall be entered in accordance with the verdict so rendered, setting forth all the facts found by the jury, and decreeing that said right of way be appropriated, and directing the commissioners of said drainage [diking] district to draw their warrant on the county treasurer for the amount awarded by the jury to each person, for damages sustained by reason of the establishment of said improvement, payable out of the funds of said diking district. § 4107. Assessment of Benefited Lands Formerly Omitted—Procedure—Appeals.—If at any time it shall appear to the board of diking commissioners that any lands within or without said district as originally established are being benefited by the diking system of said district and that said lands are not being assessed for the benefits received, or that any lands within said district are being assessed out of or not in proportion to the benefits which said lands are receiving from the maintenance of the diking system of said district, and said board of diking commissioners shall determine that certain lands, either within or without the boundaries of the district as originally established, should be assessed for the purpose of raising funds for the future maintenance of the diking system of the district, or that the assessments on land already assessed should be equalized by diminishing or increasing the same so that said lands shall be assessed in proportion to the benefits received, said commissioners shall file a petition in the superior court in the original cause, setting forth the facts, describing the lands not previously assessed and the lands the assessments on which should be equalized, stating the estimated amount of benefits per acre being received by each tract of land respectively, giving the name of the owner or reputed owner of each such tract of land, and praying that such original cause be opened for further proceedings for the purpose of subjecting new lands to assessment or equalizing the assessments upon lands already assessed, or both.

Upon the filing of such petition, summons shall issue thereon and be served on the owners of all lands affected, in the same manner as summons is issued and served in original proceedings, as near as may be, and if such new lands lie within the boundaries of any other diking district, said summons shall also be served upon the commissioners of such other diking district.

In case any of the new lands sought to be assessed in said proceeding lie within the boundaries of any other diking district, and the diking commissioners of such other district believe that the maintenance of the dike or dikes of such other district is benefiting lands within the district instituting the proceedings, said diking commissioners of such other districts shall intervene in such proceedings by petition, setting forth the facts, describing the lands in the district instituting the proceeding which they believe are being benefited by the maintenance of the diking system of their district, and praying that the benefits to such lands may be determined and such lands subjected to assessment for the further maintenance of the diking system of their district, to the end that all questions of benefits to lands in the respective districts may be settled and determined in one proceeding, and such petitioners in intervention shall cause summons to be issued upon such petition in intervention and served upon the commissioners of the diking district instituting the proceeding and upon the owners of all lands sought to be affected by such petition in intervention.

In case the owner of any such new lands sought to be assessed in said proceedings shall be maintaining a private dike against salt or fresh water for the benefit of said lands, and shall believe that the maintenance of such private dike is benefiting any lands within or without the district instituting the proceedings, or in case any such new lands sought to be assessed are included within the boundaries of some other diking district and are being assessed for the maintenance of the dikes of such other district, and the owner of such lands believes that the maintenance of the dike or dikes of such other district is benefiting lands included within the district instituting said proceedings, such owner or owners may by answer and cross-petition set forth the facts and pray that at the hearing upon said petition and cross-petition the benefits accruing from the maintenance of the respective dikes may be considered, to the end that a fair and equitable adjustment of the benefits being received by any lands from the maintenance of the various dikes benefiting the same, may be determined for the purpose of fixing the assessments for the future maintenance of such dikes, and may interplead in said proceeding such other diking district in which his lands sought to be assessed in said proceeding are being assessed for the maintenance of the dike or dikes of such other district.

No answer to any petition or petition in intervention shall be required, unless the party served with summons desires to offset benefits or to ask other affirmative relief, and no default judgment shall be taken for failure to answer any petition or petition in intervention, but the petitioners or petitioners in intervention shall be required to establish the facts alleged by competent evidence.

Upon the issues being made up, or upon the lapse of time within which the parties served are required to appear by any summons, the court shall impanel a jury to hear and determine the matters in issue, and the jury shall determine and assess the benefits, if any, which the respective tracts of land are receiving or will receive from the maintenance of the dike or dikes to be maintained, taking into consideration any and all matters relating to the benefits, if any, received or to be received from any dike, structure or improvement. and to credit, or charge, as the case may be, to each tract so situated as to affect any other tract or tracts, or having improvements or structures thereon or easements granted in connection therewith affecting any other tract or tracts included in such proceedings, and shall specify in their verdict the respective amount of benefits per acre, if any, assessed to each particular tract of land, by legal subdivisions. Upon the return of the verdict of the jury, the court shall enter its judgment in accordance therewith, as supplemental to the original decree, or in case a petition in intervention be filed by the diking commissioners of some other district than that instituting the proceeding, such judgment to be supplemental to all such original decrees, and thereafter, all assessments and levies for the future maintenance of any dike or dikes described in said judgment shall be based upon the respective benefits determined and assessed against the respective tracts of land as specified in said judgment. Every person or corporation feeling himself or itself aggrieved by any such judgment may appeal to the supreme court within thirty days after the entry thereof, and such appeal shall bring before the supreme court the propriety and justness of the verdicts of the jury in respect to the parties to the appeal. No bonds shall be allowed on such appeals. Nothing in this section contained shall be construed as affecting the right of diking districts to consolidation in any manner provided by law. [L. '13, p. 267, § 1. Cf. L. '95, p. 315, § 13; L. '01, p. 226, § 1.]

§ 4108. Proceedings, When may be Dismissed.—In case the damages or amount of compensation for such right of way, together with the estimated cost of the improvement, amount to more than the maximum amount of benefits which will be derived from said improvement, or if said improvement is not practicable, or will not be conducive to the public health, welfare and convenience, or will not increase the public revenue, the court shall dismiss such proceedings, and in such case a judgment shall be rendered for the costs of said proceedings against said district, and no further proceedings shall be had or done therein; and upon the payment of the costs, said organization shall be dissolved by decree of said court. [L. '95, p. 315, § 14.]

§ 4109. Damages, How Paid.—Any person or corporation claiming to be entitled to any money ordered paid by the court, as provided in this chapter, may apply to the court therefor, and upon furnishing evidence satisfactory to the court that he is entitled to the same, the court shall make an order directing the payment to such claimant of the portion of such money as he or it may be found entitled to; but if, upon application, the court or judge thereof shall decide that the title to the land, real estate or premises specified in the application of such claimant is in such condition as to require that an action be commenced to determine the title of claimants thereto, it shall refuse such order until such action is commenced and the conflicting claims to such land, real estate or premises be determined according to law. [L. '95, p. 315, § 15.]

§ 4110. Transcript to Contain, What—Assessments, When Due.—Upon the entry of the judgment upon the verdict of the jury, the clerk of said court shall immediately prepare a transcript, which shall contain a list of the names of all the persons and corporations benefited by said improvement and the amount of benefit derived by each, respectively, and shall duly certify the same, together with a list of the lands benefited by said improvements belonging to each person or corporation, and shall file the same with the auditor of the county, who shall immediately enter the same upon the tax-rolls of his office, as provided by law for the entry of other taxes, against the land of each of the said persons named in said list, together with the amounts thereof, and the same shall be subject to the same interest and penalties in case of delinquency as in case of general taxes, and shall be collected in the same manner as other taxes and subject to the same right of redemption and the lands sold for the collection of said taxes shall be subject to the same right of redemption as in the sale of lands for general taxes: Provided, that said assessment shall not become due and payable except at such time or times and in such amount as may be designated by the board of commissioners of said dike district, which designation shall be made to the county auditor by said board of commissioners of said diking district, by serving a written notice upon the county auditor designating the time and the amount of the assessment, said assessment to be in proportion to benefits, to become due and payable, which amount shall fall due at the time of the falling due of general taxes, and the amount so designated shall be added by the auditor to the general taxes of said person, persons or corporations, according to said notice, upon the assessment-rolls in his said office, and collected therewith: And provided further, that no one call for assessments by said commissioners shall be in an amount to exceed twenty-five per cent of the actual amount necessary to pay the costs of the proceedings, and the establishment of said district and system of dikes and the cost of construction of said work. [L. '95, p. 316, § 16.]

Cited in 81 Wash. 484.

§ 4111. Conditional Tax, How Levied.—In the event of the dismissal of said proceedings and the rendition of judgment against said district, as hereinbefore provided, said diking commissioners shall levy a tax upon all of the real estate within said district, taking as a basis the last equalized assessment of said real estate for state and county purposes, sufficient to pay said judgment, and the cost of levying said tax, and shall cause said tax-roll to be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court in which such judgment was rendered. If said tax is not paid within sixty days after the filing of said tax-roll, the court shall, upon the application of any party interested, direct said real estate to be sold in payment of said tax, said sale to be made in the same manner and by the same officer, as is or may be provided by law for the sale of real estate for taxes for general purposes; and the same rate of redemption shall exist as in the sale of real estate for the payment of taxes for general purposes. [L. '95, p. 317, § 17.]

§ 4112. Improvements, When Ordered—Contractor's Bond.—After the filing of said certificate said commissioners of such diking district shall proceed at once in the construction of said improvements, and in carrying on said construction or any extension thereof they shall have full charge and management thereof, and shall have the power to employ such assistance as they may deem necessary, and purchase all material that may be necessary in the construction and carrying on of the work of said improvement, and shall have power to let the whole or any portion of said work to any responsible contractor, and shall in such case enter into all necessary agreements with such contractor that may be necessary in the premises: Provided, that in case the whole or any portion of said improvement is let to any contractor, said commissioners shall require such contractor to give a bond in double the amount of the contract price of the whole or of such portion of said work covered by such contract, with two or more good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the board of commissioners of said diking district and running to said district as obligee therein, conditioned for the faithful and accurate performance of said contract by said contractor, his executors, administrators or assigns, according to the terms and conditions of said agreement, and shall cause said contractor to enter into a further and additional bond in the same amount, with two or more good and sufficient sureties to be approved by said board of commissioners of said diking district in the name of said district as obligee therein, conditioned that said contractor, his executors, administrators or assigns, or subcontractor, his executors, administrators or assigns, shall perform the whole or any portion of said work under contract of said original contractor; shall pay or cause to be paid all just claims of all persons performing labor or rendering services in the construction of said work, or furnishing materials, merchandise or provisions of any kind or character used by said contractor or subcontractor, or any employee thereof in the construction of said improvement: Provided further, that no sureties on said last-mentioned bond shall be liable thereon unless the persons or corporations performing said labor and furnishing said materials, goods, wares, merchandise and provisions, shall, within ninety days after the completion of such improvement, file their claim, duly verified, that the amount is just and due and remains unpaid, with the commissioners of said diking district. [L. '95, p. 317, § 18.]

§ 4113. Work, When to Begin—Changes, How Made.—The work on said improvement shall begin without delay, and shall be carried on with all expedition possible, and said board of commissioners of said diking district, or any contractor thereunder, shall have no power whatever to change the location of the dikes or the system of improvement or the manner of doing the work therein so as to make any radical changes in said improvement, without the written consent of all the land owners to be benefited thereby, and the land owners which may be damaged thereby. And in case any substantial changes in said system of improvement or the manner of the construction thereof shall be deemed necessary by said board of commissioners at any time during the progress thereof, and if the written consent to such changes cannot be procured from said land owners, then said commissioners, for and on behalf of said district, shall file a petition in the superior court of the county within which said district is located, setting forth therein the changes which they deem necessary to be made in the plans or manner of the construction of said improvement, and praying therein to be permitted to make such changes, and upon the filing thereof, the commissioners [clerk] shall cause a summons to be served, setting forth the prayer of said petition, under the seal of said court, which summons shall be served in the same manner as the service of summons in the case of the original petition, upon all the land owners or others claiming any lien or interest therein appearing of record in said district, and any or all of such parties so served may appear in said cause and submit their objections thereto, and after the time for the appearance of said parties has expired, the court shall proceed to hear said petition at once without further delay, and if it appears during the course of such proceedings that the property rights of any of said land owners will be affected by such proposed change in said improvement, then the court, after having passed upon all preliminary questions as in the original proceedings, shall cause a jury to be impaneled as in the case of the original proceedings for the establishment of said improvement, and upon the final hearing of said cause the jury shall return a verdict finding the amount of damages, if any, sustained by all persons and corporations the same as upon the original petition, by reason of such proposed change, and the amount of compensation to be paid to any persons or corporations therefor, and for any additional right of way that may be necessary to be appropriated by reason of said proposed change, and shall readjust the amount of benefits claimed to have been increased or diminished by any of said land owners by reason of such proposed change in said improvement, and the proceedings thereafter shall be the same as to rendering judgment, appeal therefrom, payment of compensation and damages, and filing of the certificate with the auditor, as hereinbefore provided for in the proceedings under the original petition, and said commissioners shall have a right thereafter to proceed with the construction of said improvement according to the changes made therein. [L. '95, p. 318, § 19.]

§ 4114. Contractors, When Paid.—During the construction of said improvement said commissioners shall have the right to allow payment thereof, in installments as the work progresses, in proportion to the amount of work completed: Provided, that no allowance or payment shall be made for said work to any contractor or subcontractor to exceed seventy-five per cent of the proportionate amount of the work completed by such contractor or subcontractor, and twenty-five per cent of the contract price shall be reserved at all times by said board of commissioners until such work is wholly completed, and shall not be paid upon the completion of said work until ninety days have expired for the presentation of all claims for labor performed and materials, goods, wares, merchandise and provisions furnished or used in the construction of said improvement; and upon the completion of said work and the payment of all claims hereinbefore provided for, according to the terms and conditions of said contract, said commissioners shall accept said improvement and pay the contract price therefor. [L. '95, p. 320, § 20.]

§ 4115. Private Dikes, How Connected—Additional Plans—Costs. In case any diking district organized under the provisions of this chapter desires to connect its system of dikes with the system of dikes of any other district theretofore organized or constructed, said last-mentioned diking district shall be made a party defendant in the proceedings in the superior court for the establishment of the improvement proposed to be constructed by such first-mentioned diking district, and the petition to be filed in said court, in addition to the facts to be set forth therein as hereinbefore provided for, shall set forth the further fact that said district is desirous of connecting its said system of dikes with the system of such other diking district, and shall set forth an estimate of the additional cost per annum, if any, for the future maintenance of the diking system so sought to be connected with, and also an estimate of the cost of any additional improvement in said system so sought to be connected with, if any, by reason of such connection, and shall also set forth the amount of compensation which should be made by said diking district for the privilege of connecting with the said system of dikes; and in case it shall be deemed necessary to enlarge or strengthen the system of dikes to be connected with by reason of such connection, there shall be filed with said petition, in addition to the plans, specifications and data hereinbefore provided to be filed, plans and specifications and the estimated cost of the proposed improvement to be made in the system sought to be connected with by reason of such connection, and the proceedings thereon shall be the same as in other cases for the establishment of diking districts under the provisions of this chapter: Provided, that the jury shall, in addition to the other findings provided for in other cases under the provisions of this chapter, find the amount of compensation to be paid said district with whose system connection is sought to be made, for any additional cost, if any, which may be thrown upon said district by reason of the increased cost of maintenance by reason of such connection, and shall estimate the amount of such increased cost of maintenance per annum, and also the amount of compensation to be made to said district for the privilege of joining on to its system of dikes; the compensation to be made for the increased cost of maintenance shall be paid per annum out of the revenue derived from the assessments to be levied as in other cases, and the compensation to be made as may be found by the jury to said district whose system is sought to be connected with for the privilege thereof, shall be paid such district as damages are paid in other cases under the provisions of this act; and all amounts so paid to said district sought to be connected with, as compensation for the cost of maintenance, shall be used as an additional fund for the maintenance of said diking system of such district, and the amount of compensation paid for the privilege of connecting with the system of such district shall also be added to the general fund of said district, to be used for the payment of the cost of maintenance of the system of such district sought to be connected with. [L. '95, p. 320, § 21.]

§ 4116. Enlarging Dikes, Costs of.—In case it shall be found necessary to enlarge or strengthen the system of dikes sought to be connected with, by reason of such connection, the jury shall determine the cost of such enlarging or strengthening, and said petitioner district shall have the right, by and through its representatives, assistants and employees, to make such improvement on the system of such other district as may have been found necessary upon the hearing of said petition, and the costs thereof shall be assessed against the land owners of said petitioner district to be benefited by the construction of said entire system, and no additional cost or burden, by reason of such improvement, shall be thrown upon the land owners of said district sought to be connected with. [L. '95, p. 321, § 22.]

§ 4117. Dikes, Protection Against Injury from Rivers.—Where any diking system is sought to be constructed by any district organized under the provisions of this chapter along any river or watercourse to prevent overflow therefrom, and it shall become necessary to provide against the washing away of the banks of said river or watercourse so as to prevent injury to such proposed diking system, or any system which may have already been completed, such district, by and through its board of commissioners, may make such portions of lands lying along said dikes which are threatened to be washed away by said river or watercourse part of the right of way of said dike system, and may construct along the banks of said river or watercourse, as a part of said diking system, such protection as may be necessary to protect said dike, and in such cases such tract or parcel of land may be condemned and appropriated under the law of eminent domain as provided herein as a part of the right of way of such dike system; and when not condemned or appropriated at the time said system is established and constructed, said diking district, by and through its board of commissioners, may, at any time thereafter, when any portion of said system is threatened to be washed away by such river or watercourse, file their petition with the court condemning and appropriating for the use of said district so much of the land lying along said river or watercourse as may be necessary to be used for the protection of said diking system, and the proceedings therein for the making of compensation therefor and the payment of damages by reason of such appropriation shall be the same, or as near as may be applicable, as other proceedings for the condemnation of right of way provided for in this chapter. [L. '95, p. 322, § 23.]

§ 4118. Condemnation, Appropriation for.—Whenever any land is appropriated along the bank of any river or watercourse, as provided for in the last preceding section, the expenses of such appropriation, including the costs and damages to be paid therefor—when such appropriation is taken subsequently to the construction of any system of dykes under the provisions of this chapter—shall be added to the annual cost of the maintenance of said system and be paid as such, as provided herein. [L. '95, p. 323, § 24.]

§ 4119. Public Highways—Construction on.—In the construction of any diking system under the provisions of this chapter, where it is desired to construct the same along the right of way of any public road which has heretofore been legally established, said district shall have a right to construct its dikes along such road: Provided, that the dikes so constructed along such road shall not destroy or impair the same for the use of the public convenience as a public highway; and in case of the construction or improvement of any dike along any public highway, such dike shall be constructed of sufficient width and in such manner as will be conducive to the public as a public highway. [L. '95, p. 323, § 25.]

§ 4120. Incorporated Towns may be Included.—Any town or city already incorporated, or which may hereafter be incorporated, may exercise the functions of a diking district under the provisions of this chapter, or the whole or any portion of any such town or city may be included with other territory in a common district under the provisions for the establishment thereof as provided for herein. [L. 95, p. 323, § 26.]

§ 4121. Maintenance, Cost of to be Certified to County Auditor.—The board of commissioners of any diking district organized under the provisions of this act shall, on or before the first day of November of each year, make an estimate of the cost of maintenance of the diking system in such district, which estimate shall include the cost of making any necessary repairs that it might become necessary to make in the maintenance of such system. Such estimate shall be for the succeeding year, and the amount so estimated shall be certified by the board of —— commissioners to the auditor of the county in which such district is located, on or before said date, and the amount thereof shall be levied against and apportioned to the land in such district benefited by said improvement, in proportion to the maximum benefit originally assessed, and such amount shall be added to the general taxes against said lands and collected therewith: Provided, however, that in case of emergency not in contemplation at the time of making such annual estimate the diking commissioners may incur additional obligations and issue valid warrants therefor in excess of such estimate, and all such warrants so issued shall be valid and legal obligations of such district; and all warrants heretofore issued for such purposes under the provisions of this act, are hereby declared to be valid and legal obligations of the district so issuing the same. [L. '13, p. 271, § 2. Cf. L. '95 p. 323, § 27; L. '05, p. 179, § 2.]

Cited in 81 Wash. 484.

§ 4122. Organization of Board—Warrants, How Issued.—The board of commissioners of such district shall elect one of their number chairman and one secretary, and shall keep minutes of all their meetings, and may issue warrants of such district in payment of all claims of indebtedness against such district. Such warrants shall be in form and substance the same as county warrants, or as near the same as may be practicable and shall draw the legal rate of interest from the date of their presentation to the treasurer for payment, as hereinafter provided, and shall be signed by the chairman and attested by the secretary of said board: Provided, that no warrants shall be issued by said board of commissioners in payment of any indebtedness of such district for less than the face or par value. [L. '95, p. 324, § 28.]

§ 4123. Bonds, When and How Issued.—Upon the establishment of any district under the provisions of this chapter and the establishment of a system of diking therein as provided for in this chapter, the board of commissioners of such diking district may, upon petition of a majority of all the land owners owning land within such district to be benefited thereby, issue bonds for the total amount of the costs of construction of said improvement, together with the costs of the establishment thereof, including damages assessed and compensation made to land owners for right of way and the expenses and costs of the entire proceeding, payable at a time not less than five years nor longer than ten years from the date thereof; and such commissioners may, at any time thereafter, issue such bonds in the manner and form herein prescribed for the purpose of funding any outstanding warrants or obligations of such district, and in case of such last said named issue all the outstanding warrants shall immediately become due and payable upon receipt of the money by the county treasurer from the sale of said bonds, and upon a call of such outstanding obligations to be issued by him, which call shall be made by said treasurer immediately upon receipt of the proceeds from the sale of said bonds by publication for two successive weeks in the county paper authorized to do the county printing, and such warrants and outstanding obligations shall cease to draw interest at the end of thirty days after the date of the first publication: Provided, that no bonds shall, under the provisions hereof, be sold for less than their par value. [L. '95, p. 324, § 29.]

§ 4124. Bonds, Numbers and Denominations of.—Said bonds shall be numbered from one upwards, consecutively, and be in denominations of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars. They shall bear the date of issue, shall be made payable to the bearer in not more than ten years nor less than five years from the date of their issue, and bear interest at a rate not exceeding seven per cent per annum, payable annually, with coupons attached for each interest payment. The bonds and each coupon shall be signed by the chairman of the board of diking commissioners, and shall be attested by the secretary of said board, and the seal of such district shall be affixed to each bond, but not to the coupons. [L. '95, p. 325, § 30.]

§ 4125. Bonds, Exchanged for Warrants.—Said bonds may be exchanged at not less than their par value for an equal amount of the warrants of the district issuing such bonds. [L. '95, p. 325, § 31.]

§ 4126. Sinking Fund to Liquidate.—Five years before said bonds shall become due the diking commissioners of such district issuing them are hereby authorized and required, annually, to levy an assessment sufficient to liquidate said bonds at maturity. Such assessment shall be collected by the county treasurer and kept as a separate fund for the sole purpose of liquidating said bonds in accordance with the provisions of the following section. [L. '95, p. 325, § 32.]

The "following" section, refers to § 4127.

§ 4126-1. Bonds—Extraordinary Demands on Funds.—Whenever by reason of any extraordinary occurrence or other casualty there occur such changes in conditions as to warrant, in the opinion of the commissioners of any diking district, an estimate for making repairs and improvements, including the yearly maintenance expense in an amount equal to twenty-five per cent of the estimated cost of the original improvements, as provided for in Remington & Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington, section 4103, the funds therefor may be provided by the issuance of bonds of said diking district, payable in not to exceed ten years, and to pay the same, such commissioners shall make a levy extending over such period of time and in such amount as shall be necessary to take care of such bonds and interest, and such levy when made shall state the year for which it is made and the amount thereof, and thereafter, the county auditor shall each year extend such levy without any further orders from said commissioners: Provided, however, that if for any cause whatsoever, said levy shall not be sufficient to take care of said bonds and interest or pay said fixed estimate a further levy shall be made for that purpose. Said bonds shall be sold at not less than par and shall bear interest not to exceed seven per cent per annum, and the proceeds thereof shall be used in such repairs, improvements or maintenance or warrants issued in payment therefor and for no other purpose: Provided, however, that such bonds shall only be issued when they are presented to and filed with such commissioners and shall become a part of their record, a petition of property owners owning at least sixty per cent of all the acreage in such district requesting the issuance of such bonds. [L. '13, p. 512, § 1.]

§ 4127. Treasurer, Duties of.—It shall be the duty of the treasurer of any county in which there may be a district issuing bonds under the provisions of this chapter, whenever he has upon hand two thousand dollars of the special fund for the payment of said bonds, to advertise in the newspaper doing the county printing for the presentation to him for payment of as many of the bonds issued under the provisions of this chapter as he may be able to pay with the funds in his hands, to be paid in numerical order of said bonds, beginning with bond number one, until all of said bonds are paid: Provided, that thirty days after the first publication of said notice of the treasurer calling in any of said bonds by their number said bonds shall cease to bear interest, which shall be stated in the notice. [L. '95, p. 325, § 33.]

§ 4128. Annual Assessments to Pay Interest.—It shall be the duty of such diking commissioners, annually, to levy an assessment sufficient for the payment of the coupons hereinbefore mentioned as they fall due. Said coupons shall be considered for all purposes as warrants drawn upon the funds of the district issuing bonds under the provisions of this chapter, and, when presented to the county treasurer and no funds are in the treasury to pay said coupons, it shall be his duty to indorse said coupons as presented for payment in the same manner as other warrants upon the funds of said district are indorsed, and thereafter said coupons shall bear interest at the same rate as other warrants so presented and unpaid. [L. '95, p. 326, § 34.]

Cited in 81 Wash. 484.

§ 4129. Bonds Registered.—Before the bonds are delivered to the purchaser they shall be presented to the county treasurer, who shall register them in a book kept for that purpose and known as the bond register, in which register he shall enter the number of each bond, the date of issue, the maturity, amount and rate of interest, to whom and when payable, and the proceeds derived from the sale of said bonds shall in all cases be paid by the purchaser thereof to the county treasurer. [L. '95, p. 326, § 35.]

§ 4130. Treasurer to Indorse Warrants—When and How Called.—All warrants issued under the provisions of this chapter shall be presented by the holders thereof to the county treasurer, who shall indorse thereon the day of presentation for payment, with the additional indorsement thereon, in case of nonpayment, that they are not paid for want of funds; and no warrant shall draw interest under the provisions of this act until it is so presented and indorsed by the county treasurer. And it shall be the duty of such treasurer, from time to time, when he has sufficient funds in his hands for that purpose, to advertise in the newspaper doing the county printing for the presentation to him for payment of as many of the outstanding warrants as he may be able to pay: Provided, that thirty days after the first publication of said notice of the treasurer calling in any of said outstanding warrants, said warrants shall cease to bear interest, which shall be stated in the notice. Said notice shall be published two weeks, consecutively, and said warrants shall be called in and paid in the order of their indorsement. [L. '95, p. 326, § 36.]

§ 4131. Questions Submitted to Jury.—Upon the trial of any questions of issue by a jury under the provisions of this chapter, the trial court may, in its discretion, submit all questions to be found by the jury in the form of separate findings, or may submit to such jury separate forms of verdict on all such questions to be found by the jury therein. [L. '95, p. 327, § 37.]

§ 4132. Lands of Public Corporations Subject to.—All state, county, school district or other lands belonging to other public corporations requiring to be diked as a protection from overflow shall be subjected to the provisions of this chapter, and such corporations, by and through the proper authorities, shall be made parties in all proceedings therein affecting said lands and shall have the same rights and liable to the same right of eminent domain as private persons, and their lands shall be subject to the right of eminent domain the same as the lands of private persons or corporations. [L. '95, p. 327, § 38.]

§ 4133. Benefits.—In case lands belonging to the state, county, school district or other public corporations are benefited by any improvement instituted under the provisions of this chapter, all benefits shall be assessed against such lands, and the same shall be paid by the proper authorities of such public corporations at the times and in the same manner as assessments are called and paid in case of private persons out of any general fund of such corporation. [L. '95, p. 327, § 39.]

See infra, §§ 4153, 4154, method of assessing benefits to county or public roads.

See infra, §§ 4251–4255 and 6872–6882, assessments on state lands.

§ 4134. Fees.—Fees for service of all process necessary to be served under the provisions of this chapter shall be the same as for like services in other civil cases, or as is or may be provided by law. [L. '95, p. 327, § 40.]

§ 4135. Commissioners, Compensation of—Objections to.—In performing their duties under the provisions of this chapter, the board of diking commissioners shall receive such compensation as may be just and reasonable for all necessary services actually performed, not exceeding three dollars per day, to be determined and allowed by the court upon presentation by said commissioners, or either of them, of an itemized statement duly verified by either member or all of said board, that the same is just, reasonable, necessary and actually performed and that no part of the same has ever been paid. In case such services are rendered by said board in the establishment and construction of said improvement, the amount thereof so allowed by the court shall be deemed to be a part of the cost of the construction and establishment of said improvement, and in case such compensation to be allowed by the court shall be for services rendered by said board in the repairing or maintenance of such improvement, such allowance shall be added to the annual cost of maintenance of such system: Provided, that any person interested therein may file objections to the allowance asked for, either in whole or in part, and such claims so filed shall not be passed upon or allowed by the court until the expiration of thirty days from the filing thereof. Said board of commissioners, or the members thereof presenting such claim for allowance, shall at the time of the filing thereof in the court, post notices in at least four public places within said district, which said notice shall set forth therein the fact that an application for allowance has been filed in said court, giving the date of the filing thereof and the amount of the allowance applied for, and demand that any and all persons having any interest therein shall file objections in said court, if any they have, to the allowance of said claim or any portion thereof, within thirty days from the filing of such application for allowance, and the court shall hear said application and the objections thereto, if any be made and filed, and shall, in its discretion, make such allowance and in such amount as it may deem to be just in the premises, and the same shall be paid as other claims against said district are paid. [L. '95, p. 327, § 41; L. '09, p. 630, § 1.]

§ 4136. Power of Court.—The court may compel the performance of the duties imposed by this chapter and may, in its discretion, on proper application therefor, issue its mandatory injunction for such purpose. [L. '95, p. 328, § 42.]

§ 4136-1. Consolidation of Diking Districts—Petition—Election.—Any two or more contiguous diking districts heretofore organized or which may hereafter be organized under the diking laws of the state of Washington, desiring to consolidate into one district, may, upon petition signed by the owners of real property representing a majority of the acreage therein to the commissioners of their respective districts, effect such consolidation by the commissioners of said districts so desiring to consolidate giving thirty days' notice of an election for such purpose to be held in each of said districts, setting forth in said notice the date of said election, and the object of the same, said notice to be given and posted in the same manner as notice of the annual election of commissioners, as provided in the general diking law, and the further publication of the same for at least three successive issues in a weekly newspaper published in the county in which such districts are located, and of general circulation in said districts: Provided, that where there is no newspaper so published and circulated, the publication of the notice of said election may be dispensed with. [L. '13, p. 106, § 1.]

§ 4136-2. Ballots.—At such election held pursuant to said notice, a printed ballot shall be furnished by the commissioners of said districts, having printed thereon: "For consolidation of Diking District No. —— and No. —— (here insert numbers), to be known as 'Consolidated Diking District No. —— (here insert number), of —— (here insert name of county) County, Washington.'" And "Against consolidation of Diking District No. —— and No. —— (here insert numbers)" in such form as to enable the voters to express their choice as to the proposition submitted. [L. '13, p. 106, § 2.]

§ 4136-3. Election—Canvass—Order.—The manner of conducting said election and the hours between the opening and closing of the polls and the officers of said election shall be the same as provided in the general diking law for the annual election of officers of diking districts, and in case a canvass of the votes cast at said election shall show a majority of the votes cast in each of the districts seeking to consolidate to be in favor of consolidation, an order shall at once be entered upon the minutes of each of said districts by the commissioners thereof, showing the result of said vote cast at said election, and setting forth therein the name of such consolidated district, and a copy of the minutes so entered duly certified by the commissioners of each of said districts shall be filed, one each with the auditor and treasurer of the county within which said districts are located, and one with the clerk of the superior court of such county, to be entered and filed by the clerk of such court in the original proceedings establishing said districts, and a certified copy of such entry shall be transmitted to the secretary of state by the clerk of said court, and thereafter the territory embraced in said districts so consolidated shall be known and designated as "Consolidated Diking District No. —— (here insert number) of —— (here insert name of county) County, Washington," as provided in said order, and thereafter the said district shall have the same powers and duties as other diking districts organized under the diking laws of the state of Washington. [L. '13, p. 107, § 3.]

§ 4136–4. Commissioners — Term of Office.—The diking commissioners of the districts constituting such consolidated district shall be the board of commissioners of such consolidated district and discharge the duties of such officers until the next general election for the election of diking commissioners, and until a board of commissioners for said consolidated district are elected and qualified, and thereafter the officers of said consolidated district shall be elected, qualified and perform the same duties as in case of other diking districts. [L. '13, p. 107, § 4.]

§ 4136–5. Indebtedness—Future Obligations.—In case of such consolidation all indebtedness and outstanding obligations, of the districts so consolidated, and all assessments levied and moneys collected and to be collected thereunder, shall remain unaffected by said proceedings for the consolidation of the same, and the payment of such indebtedness and obligations and the expenditure of moneys collected or to be collected under such previous assessments shall be made in the same manner, based upon the same assessments, and against and for the benefit of the same lands liable therefor prior to such consolidation, but the duties relating thereto shall be discharged by the commissioners of such consolidated district: Provided, however, that all assessments made for the future repair, improvement or maintenance of the diking system of said consolidated district shall be apportioned to and assessed against the land included in such consolidated district, in the same manner as though the same had been originally incorporated in one district, and in accordance with the general provisions of the diking laws relating thereto. [L. '13, p. 108, § 5.]

CHAPTER II.

Drainage Districts.

Assessments on state lands, see §§ 4251–4255 and 6872–6882, infra.

§ 4137. Organization of.—Any portion of a county, requiring drainage, which contains five or more inhabitants and freeholders therein may be organized into a drainage district, and when so organized such district and the board of commissioners hereinafter provided for shall have and possess the power herein conferred or that may hereafter be conferred by law upon such district and board of commissioners, and said district shall be known and designated as drainage district No. —— (here insert number), of the county of —— (here insert the name of the county), of the state of Washington, and shall have the right to sue and be sued by and in the name of its board of commissioners hereinafter provided for, and shall have perpetual succession and shall adopt and use a seal. The commissioners hereinafter provided for and their successors in office shall, from the time of the organization of such drainage district, have the power, and it shall be their duty, to manage and conduct the business and affairs of the district, make and execute all necessary contracts, employ and appoint such agents, officers and employees as may be required, and prescribe their duties, and perform such other acts as hereinafter provided, or that may hereafter be provided by law. '38, pp. 30, 31; L. '63, p. 485; L. '65, p. 29, §§ 1–3; L. '75, pp. 93–96; L. '77, pp. 314, 315; Cd. '81, §§ 2501–2516; L. '83 pp. 77–82; L. '93, p. 218, superseded.

See note to § 4091, supra.

§ 4138. Districts, How Formed.—For the purpose of the formation of such drainage districts a petition shall be presented to the board of county commissioners of the county in which said proposed drainage district is located, which petition shall set forth the object for the creation of said district, the number of acres to be benefited by the proposed drainage system, shall designate the boundaries thereof, shall contain the names of all the freeholders residing within said proposed district so far as known, a brief description of the proposed system of drainage, the designation of a good and sufficient outlet for the drainage of said district, which point of outlet may be within or without the boundaries of said district; the route over which said drainage system is to be constructed, together with the proposed spurs and branches, if any there may be, and the termini thereof, and shall set forth the further fact that the establishment of said district and the proposed system of drainage will be conducive to the public health, convenience and welfare, and increase the public revenue, and that the establishment of said district and system of drainage will be of special benefit to the property included therein. Said petition shall be signed by the owners of at least a majority of the acreage in the proposed district and shall pray that the same be organized under the provisions of this chapter. At the time of the filing of said petition said petitioners shall file a bond with said county commissioners running to the state of Washington, in the penal sum of five hundred ($500) dollars, executed in behalf of petitioners by one or more sureties to be approved by the board of county commissioners, conditioned that they will pay all costs in case said district, for any reason, shall not be established. [L. '13, p. 260, § 1; L. '95, p. 272, § 2.]

§ 4139. Petitions to be Published—Boundaries, How Located.—Such petition shall be presented at a regular or special meeting of the board of county commissioners of said county, and shall be published for at least two weeks in two successive issues of some weekly newspaper printed and published in said county, and in case no such newspaper be printed or published in such county, then in some such newspaper of general circulation therein, before the time at which the same is to be presented, together with a notice stating the time of the meeting at which the same shall be presented. When such petition is presented for hearing the board of county commissioners shall hear the same, or may adjourn said hearing from time to time, not exceeding one month in all; and any person or corporation may appear before said board of county commissioners and make objections to the establishment of said district, or the proposed boundary lines thereof, and upon final hearing said board of county commissioners shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as they may deem to be proper, and shall establish and define such boundaries, and shall ascertain and determine the number of acres of land that will be benefited by said proposed drainage system, the number of freeholders residing within said boundaries of the said proposed district, and shall find whether the proposed drainage system will be conducive to the public health, welfare and convenience, increase the public revenue, and be of special benefit to the majority of the lands included within said boundaries of the said proposed district so established by said board of county commissioners: Provided, that no changes shall be made by said board of county commissioners in said boundary lines so as to include any territory outside of the boundaries described in said petition: Provided, further, that any person or persons owning land within the proposed boundaries, and who did not sign said petition, or any person, persons or corporations owning land not included within the proposed boundaries, may file a petition with the board of county commissioners asking that the proposed boundaries be extended so as to include other lands described therein; setting forth in said petition the reasons therefor: Provided, however, that no person, persons or corporations not owning lands included within the proposed boundaries, as originally petitioned for, shall have the right to file such petition unless they ask therein to have their own lands included within the proposed boundaries: Provided, further, that any corporation owning land included within the boundaries described in the original petition, may also petition the board of county commissioners for an extension of the proposed boundaries: Provided, further, that the boundaries of any drainage district heretofore or hereafter established may be extended by the board of county commissioners so as to include other lands in said county upon petition signed by the owners of a majority of the acreage of said land within the proposed extension; which said petition for extension shall set forth and contain with reference to the extension such matters and things and data so far as applicable, as is provided for in the petition required for presentation to the board of county commissioners for the purpose of the formation of the original drainage district: Provided, further, that all necessary expense incident to making such extension, together with a proportionate share of the first cost of any drainage system existing in the original district at the time of making such extensions, shall be levied against and apportioned to the lands included in such extension, as in this chapter provided. In such case the board of county commissioners shall give the like notice as provided for in this section of the hearing of the original petition, and the final hearing thereof may, in such case, be continued from time to time for a period not exceeding sixty days, and if upon final hearing the board of county commissioners deem it advisable, and to the best interest of all concerned, they may grant the prayer of such petitioner or petitioners in whole or in part. And said board of county commissioners of such county shall enter an order on the records of their office setting forth all facts found by them upon the final hearing of said petition, and which may be adduced by them from the evidence heard on the final hearing thereof: And provided, further, that any drainage system constructed in the original drainage district may be extended into the said extension by the board of drainage commissioners of said drainage district, in the same manner, and by the same method of procedure as is provided by law for the construction of said drainage system within the said

§ 4140. Election to Establish District—Commissioner, How Chosen. Upon the entry of the findings on the final hearing of said petition as set forth in the last preceding section, said board of county commissioners of said county, if they find said proposed drainage system will be conducive to the public health, welfare and convenience, and will increase the public revenue and be of special benefit to the majority of the lands included within said boundaries, shall give notice of an election to be held in such proposed drainage district for the purpose of determining whether the same shall be organized under the provisions of this chapter as a drainage district of the state of Washington, and for the further purpose of choosing at such election three commissioners who shall be known and designated as "drainage commissioners" for said district proposed to be organized, which said three commissioners shall, upon their election, be the district authorities of said drainage district; and such notice shall particularly describe the boundaries as established by the board of county commissioners on its final hearing of said petition, and shall state the name of such proposed drainage district and approximately the number of acres of land in said district to be benefited thereby, and the same shall be published for at least two weeks prior to such election in a weekly newspaper printed and published within the county within which said district is located, and in case no such newspaper be printed or published therein, then in some such newspaper of general circulation therein, for two successive issues thereof, and shall be posted for the same period in at least four public places within the boundaries of said proposed district; such notice shall designate the place within the proposed district where the election shall be held, and require the voters to cast ballots which shall contain the words "Drainage District, yes," or "Drainage District, no," and also the names of persons voted for for commissioners of said drainage district. The board of county commissioners shall also appoint two judges, one inspector and two clerks for such election, whose compensation shall be the same as in other elections for the election of county and state officers and shall be a charge upon said district, in case the same be established, and shall be paid in the same manner as other expenses are paid which are incurred in the establishment and construction of said improvement. In case said district be not established, then all costs and expenses shall be collectible from the bond hereinbefore provided for, and any person having a charge against said district shall have a right of action thereon. [L. '95, p. 274, § 4.]

§ 4141. Election of Drainage Commissioners—Bonds of.—Such election shall be held on the day designated in such notice, and shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of the state of Washington, and no person shall be entitled to vote at such election unless he shall be a qualified elector of the county in which such district is located, and shall have resided within the limits of such district, as established by the board of county commissioners, for at least thirty days next preceding such election. The board of county commissioners shall meet on the Monday next succeeding such election and proceed to canvass the votes cast thereat, and if, upon such canvass, it appears that a majority of the votes cast are for drainage district, "Yes," the board shall have an order entered upon their minutes and declaring such territory duly organized as a drainage district under the name and style of Drainage District No. —— (here insert number) of (here insert name of county) of the state of Washington, and shall declare the three persons receiving respectively the highest number of votes to be duly elected as a board of commissioners for such drainage district. Said board shall cause a copy of said order, duly certified, to be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and from and after the date of filing such organization shall be deemed complete, and such board of commissioners so chosen at such election shall be entitled to enter immediately upon the duties of their office, and upon qualifying as county officers are required to qualify, and giving a bond to the state of Washington for the benefit of said drainage district, for the faithful performance of their duties as such board of drainage commissioners in the penal sum of twenty-five hundred dollars, with two or more sureties, to be approved by the board of county commissioners, and shall hold such office until the next general election for the election of officers in such drainage district, and until their successors are elected and qualified. Each board of commissioners thereafter, which may be constituted either by appointment or election, shall enter into a like bond and of like effect before entering upon their duties, which bond shall be approved by the judge of the superior court of the county in which said district is located, and shall be filed in said court. [L. '95, p. 275, § 5; L. '09, p. 563, § 1.]

§ 4142. General Election, When—Expenses of—Notice of.—A general election for the election of a board of drainage commissioners of such district shall be held upon the first Tuesday after the first Monday in December of each year thereafter, and the term of office shall begin the second Monday of the following January, and such election shall be held in accordance with the general election laws of the state of Washington for the election of county and state officers, and the expenses thereof shall be defrayed by said district, and the judges, clerks and inspectors of said election shall each receive as compensation for the services rendered at such election the sum of two dollars per day: Provided, that at least thirty days' notice immediately preceding any such general election shall be given thereof by the board of commissioners of such drainage district, by posting the same in four public places within said district. Said notice shall contain the names of two electors of said district as judges of said election and the name of one elector of said district as inspector thereof, the same to be chosen by said board of commissioners. Said board of commissioners shall be a canvassing board to canvass the vote of each election, and they shall meet the day following such election and canvass said votes and declare the result thereof and issue certificates of election. [L. '95, p. 276, § 6.]

§ 4143. Eminent Domain.—All drainage districts organized under the provisions of this chapter shall have the right of eminent domain, with the power by and through its board of commissioners, to cause to be condemned and appropriated private property for the use of said corporation in the construction and maintenance of a system of drainage, and make just compensation therefor: Provided, that the property of private corporations may be subjected to the same rights of eminent domain as that of private individuals: Provided, further, that the said board of commissioners shall have power to acquire by purchase all the real property necessary to make the improvements herein provided for. [L. '95, p. 277, § 7.]

§ 4144. Commissioners, Duties of.—Said board of drainage commissioners hereinbefore provided for, shall have exclusive charge of the construction and maintenance of all drainage systems which may be constructed by said district and shall be the executive officers thereof, with full power to bind said district by their acts in the performance of their duties as provided by law. In case of vacancy or vacancies occurring in said board by the death, failure to elect, failure to qualify, resignation or removal of one or more of the members thereof from said district such vacancy or vacancies shall be filled at once from the freeholders and qualified electors of said district by the judge of the superior court of said county, and said appointee shall serve the unexpired term or until the next general election: Provided, that in counties where there may be more than one superior judge, the judge eldest in age shall make such appointment. [L. '13, p. 264, § 3; L. '95, p. 277, § 8.]

§ 4145. Drainage—Method of Procedure.—Whenever it is desired to prosecute the construction of a system of drainage by said drainage district, said district, by and through its board of commissioners, shall file a petition in the superior court of the county in which said district is located, setting forth therein the route and termini of said system, with a complete description thereof, together with specifications for its construction, with all necessary plats and plans thereof, with drafts of any artificial appliances or equipment necessary in aid thereof, together with the estimated cost of such proposed improvement, showing therein the names of the land owners whose lands are to be benefited by such proposed improvement; the number of acres owned by each land owner, and the maximum amount of benefits per acre to be derived by each land owner set forth therein from the construction of said proposed improvement, and that the same will be conducive to the public health, convenience and welfare, and increase the value of all of said property for purposes of public revenue. Said petition shall further set forth the names of the land owners through whose land the right of way is desired for said improvement; the amount of land necessary to be taken therefor, and an estimate of the value of said lands so sought to be taken for such right of way, and the damages sustained by any person or corporation interested therein, if any, by reason of such appropriation, irrespective of any benefits to be derived by such land owners by reason of the construction of said improvement. Such estimate shall be made, respectively, to each person through whose land said right of way is sought to be appropriated. Said petition shall set forth as defendants therein all the persons or corporations to be benefited by said improvement, and all persons or corporations through whose land the right of way is sought to be appropriated, and all persons or corporations having any interest therein, as mortgagee or otherwise, appearing of record, and shall set forth that said proposed system of drainage is necessary to drain all of said lands described in said petition, and that all lands sought to be appropriated for said right of way are necessary to be used as a right of way in the construction and maintenance of said improvement; and when the proposed improvement will protect or benefit the whole or any part of any public or corporate road or railroad, so that the traveled track or roadbed thereof will be improved by its construction, such fact shall be set forth in said petition, and such public or private corporations owning said road or railroad shall be made parties defendant therein, and the maximum amount of benefits to be derived from said proposed improvement shall be estimated in said petition against said road or railroad: Provided, however, that all maps, plats, field-notes, surveys, plans, specifications, or other data heretofore made, ascertained or prepared under laws heretofore enacted on the subject of this chapter, may be used under the provisions of this chapter. [L. '13, p. 264, § 4; L. '95, p. 277, § 9; L. '05, p. 362, § 2.]

§ 4146. Surveyors and Draftsmen.—In the preparation of the facts and data to be inserted in said petition and filed therewith for the purpose of presenting the matter to the superior court, the board of commissioners of said drainage district may employ one or more good and competent surveyors and draftsmen to assist them in compiling data required to be presented to the court with said petition, as hereinbefore provided, and such legal assistance as may be necessary, with full power to bind said district for the compensation of such assistants or employees employed by them, and such services shall be taxed as costs in the suit. [L. '95, p. 279, § 10.]

§ 4147. Summons—How Served.—A summons stating briefly the objects of the petition and containing a description of the land, real estate, premises or property sought to be appropriated, and those which it is claimed to be benefited by such improvement, and stating the court wherein said petition is filed, the date of the filing thereof and when the defendants are required to appear (which shall be ten days, exclusive of the day of service, if served within the county in which the petition is pending, and if in any other county, then twenty days after such service, and if served by publication, then within thirty days from the date of the first publication), shall be served on each and every person named therein as owner, encumbrancer, tenant or otherwise interested therein. Said summons must be subscribed by the commissioners, or their attorney, running in the name of the state of Washington and directed to the defendants; and service thereof shall be made by delivering a copy of such summons to each of the persons or parties so named therein, if a resident of the state, or in case of the absence of such person or party from his or her usual place of abode, by leaving a copy of such notice at his or her usual place of abode, or in case of a foreign corporation, at its principal place of business in this state with some person of more than sixteen years of age; in case of domestic corporations, said service shall be made upon the president, secretary or other director or trustee for such corporation; in case of minors, on their guardians; or in case no guardian shall have been appointed, then on the person who has the care and custody of such minor; in case of idiots, lunatics or insane persons, on their guardian; or in case no guardian shall have been appointed, then on the person in whose care or charge they are found. In case the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be appropriated, or which it is claimed will be benefited by such improvement, is state, tide, school or county land, the summons shall be served on the auditor of the county in which the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be appropriated, or which it is claimed will be benefited, is situated. In all cases where the owner or person claiming an interest in such real or other property is a nonresident of this state, or where the residence of such owner or person is unknown, and an affidavit of one or more of the commissioners of said district shall be filed that such owner or person is a nonresident of this state, or that after diligent inquiry his residence is unknown or cannot be ascertained by such deponent, service may be made by publication thereof in a newspaper published in the county where such lands are situated, once a week for three successive weeks; and in case no newspaper is published in such county, then such publication may be had in a newspaper published in the county nearest to the county in which lies the land sought to be appropriated, or which it is claimed will be benefited by said improvement. Such publication shall be deemed service upon each nonresident person or persons whose residence is unknown. Such summons may be served by any competent person over twenty-one years of age. Due proof of service of such summons by affidavit of publication shall be filed with the clerk of such court before the court shall proceed to hear the matter. Want of service of such notice shall render the subsequent proceedings void as to the person not served; but all persons or parties having been served with summons as herein provided, either by publication or otherwise, shall be bound by the subsequent proceedings. In all cases not otherwise provided for service of notice, order and other papers in the proceedings authorized by this chapter may be made as the superior court, or the judge thereof, may direct: Provided, that personal service upon any party outside of the state shall be of like effect as service by publication. [L. '95, p. 279, § 11.]

§ 4148. Appearance—Jury—Verdict—Decree.—Any or all of said defendants may appear jointly or separately and admit or deny the allegations of said petition and plead any affirmative matter in defense thereof at the time and place appointed for hearing said petition, or to which the same may have been adjourned. If the court or judge thereof shall have satisfactory proof that all of the defendants in said action have been duly served with said summons, as above provided, and shall be further satisfied by competent proof that said improvement is practicable and conducive to the public health, welfare and convenience, and will increase the value of said lands for the purpose of public revenue, and that the contemplated use for which the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be appropriated is really a public use, and that the land, real estate, premises or other property sought to be appropriated are required and necessary for the establishment of said improvement, and that said improvement has a good and sufficient outlet, the court or judge thereof shall cause a jury of twelve qualified persons to be impaneled to assess the damages and benefits, as herein provided, if in attendance upon his court; and if not he may, if satisfied that the public interests require the immediate construction of said improvement, direct the sheriff of his county to summons from the citizens of the county in which petition is filed as many qualified persons as may be necessary in order to form a jury of twelve persons, unless the parties to the proceedings consent to a less number, such number to be not less than three, and such consent shall be entered by the clerk in the minutes of the trial. If necessary, to complete the jury in any case, the sheriff, under the directions of the court or the judge thereof shall summon as many qualified persons as [may] be required to complete the jury from the citizens of the county in which the petition is filed. In case a special jury is summoned the cost thereof shall be taxed as part of the cost in the proceedings and paid by the district seeking to appropriate said land, the same as other costs in the case; and no person shall be competent as a juror who is a resident of, or land owner in, the district seeking to appropriate said land. The jurors at such trial shall make in each case a separate assessment of damages which shall result to any person, corporation or company, or to the state, by reason of the appropriation and use of such land, real estate, premises or other property for said improvements and shall ascertain, determine and award the amount of damages to be paid to said owner or owners, respectively, and to all tenants, encumbrancers and others interested, for the taking or injuriously affecting such land, real estate, premises or other property for the establishment of said improvement; and shall further find a maximum amount of benefits per acre to be derived by each of the land owners, and also the maximum amount of benefits resulting to any municipality, public highway, corporate road, or district from construction of said improvement. And upon a return of the verdict into court the same shall be reported as in other cases; whereupon, a decree shall be entered in accordance with the verdict so rendered setting forth all the facts found by the jury, and decreeing that said right of way be appropriated, and directing the commissioners of said drainage district to draw their warrant on the county treasurer for the amount awarded by the jury to each person for damages sustained by reason of the establishment of said improvement, payable out of the funds of said drainage district. [L. '95, p. 281, § 12; L. '09, p. 564, § 2.]

§ 4149. Inclusion of Lands Omitted from Assessment—Appeals—Procedure.—If the board of drainage commissioners shall, at any time, discover that any lands within said district are being benefited by the drainage system, and the same were by mistake, inadvertence or other cause omitted from the assessment of benefits as provided for in the last preceding section, or which were omitted for the reason that they were not at the time of assessing the benefits provided for in said preceding section, for any cause, subject to a legal assessment, said commissioners shall file a petition in the superior court in the original cause setting forth the facts of such benefits, describing the lands omitted, the reason the same were omitted in said original proceedings and giving the names of the owners or reputed owners thereof and praying that said original cause, as to such lands, be opened up for further proceedings for the assessment of the alleged benefits, and upon the filing of said petition summons shall issue thereon and be served on the defendants named in said petition the same as summons is served and issued in original proceedings, as near as may be, except the court may, to avoid costs and in its discretion, call a jury of not less than three jurors; and the jury, in assessing the benefits, shall take into consideration the length of time said lands are to receive the benefits from said improvement and its future maintenance, estimating said time from the date when said lands first became legally assessable, which date must be found by the jury in their verdict as to each tract or parcel found to be benefited: And provided further, that in case the expense and the cost of the improvements has been paid for by assessments levied against the land assessed in the original proceedings before the lands provided for in this section are assessed, as provided for herein, then, in such case, the assessments levied from time to time on said last mentioned land shall be paid into the maintenance fund of said district. Every person or corporation feeling himself or itself aggrieved by any judgment for damages or any assessment of benefits provided in this chapter, may appeal to the supreme court of the state within thirty days after the entry of the judgment, and such appeal shall bring before the supreme court the propriety and justness of the amount of damage or assessment of benefits in respect to the parties to the appeal. Upon such appeal no bonds shall be required and no stay shall be allowed. [L. '95, p. 282, § 13; L. '01, p. 181, § 1.]

§ 4150. Proceedings, When may be Dismissed.—In case the damages or amount of compensation for such right of way, together with the estimated costs of the improvement, amount to more than the maximum amount of benefits which will be derived from said improvement, or, if said improvement is not practicable, or will not be conducive to the public health, welfare and convenience, or will not increase the public revenue, or will not have sufficient outlet, the court shall dismiss such proceedings, and in such case a judgment shall be rendered for the costs of said proceedings against said district, and no further proceedings shall be had or done therein; and upon the payment of the costs, said organization shall be dissolved by decree of said court. [L. '95, p. 282, § 14.]

§ 4151. Damages, How Paid.—Any person or corporation claiming to be entitled to any money ordered paid by the court, as provided in this chapter, may apply to the court therefor, and upon furnishing evidence satisfactory to the court that he is entitled to the same, the court shall make an order directing the payment to such claimant of the portion of such money as he or it may be found entitled to; but if, upon application, the court or judge thereof shall decide that the title to the land, real estate or premises specified in the application of such claimant is in such condition as to require that an action be commenced to determine the title of claimants thereto, it shall refuse such order until such action is commenced and the conflicting claims to such land, real estate or premises be determined according to law. [L. '95, p. 283, § 15.]

§ 4153. Certifying Benefits Assessed to Road District—Payment of Judgment.—Whenever, upon the trial to fix and assess the benefits and damages resulting from the construction of any diking or drainage system under the laws of this state, the jury shall find by its verdict that any public or county road will be benefited from the construction of such improvement, the clerk of the court in which such trial is had shall, upon the entry of the judgment upon such verdict, certify to the board of county commissioners of the county in which such road is situated the amount of benefits to such road so found and adjudged. The said county commissioners shall, upon the receipt of such certified statement, allow the same as for other road work and shall order the amount thereof to be paid out of the road and bridge fund of the road district in which the road so benefited is situated, and shall direct the auditor of said county to issue a warrant for the amount of such benefits against the road and bridge fund of such road district in favor of the county treasurer of said county. The said county treasurer shall, upon the payment of said warrant, place the proceeds therefrom to the credit of the drainage or diking district from which such benefits resulted. [L. '09, p. 690, § 1.]

This and the next section apply, also, to Chapters I, III and IV, of this title. See §§ 4133, 4174, and compare § 4199.

§ 4154. Additional Assessments and Maintenance.—Any additional assessments for the construction of any diking or drainage system, and also all assessments for the maintenance of same shall be based upon the benefits so found and adjudged, and the proportion of benefits resulting to such public or county road therefrom, on such basis, shall be allowed and paid for by such county in the same manner as in the case of the original construction. [L. '09, p. 691, § 2.]

See note to last section.

§ 4155. Transcript, to Contain What—Assessments, When Due.—Upon the entry of the judgment upon the verdict of the jury the clerk of said court shall immediately prepare a transcript, which shall contain a list of the names of all the persons and corporations benefited by said improvement and the amount of benefit derived by each, respectively, and shall duly certify the same, together with a list of the lands benefited by said improvement belonging to each person and corporation, and shall file the same with the auditor of the county, who shall immediately enter the same upon the tax-rolls of his office, as provided by law for the entry of other taxes, against the land of each of the said persons named in said list, together with the amounts thereof, and the same shall be subject to the same interest and penalties in case of delinquency as in case of general taxes, and shall be collected in the same manner as other taxes and subject to the same right of redemption, and the lands sold for the collection of said taxes shall be subject to the same right of redemption as the sale of lands for general taxes: Provided, that said assessments shall not become due and payable except at such time or times and in such amounts as may be designated by the board of commissioners of said drainage district, which designation shall be made to the county auditor by said board of commissioners of said drainage district, by serving written notice upon the county auditor designating the time and the amount of the assessment, said assessment to be in proportion to benefits to become due and payable, which amount shall fall due at the time of the falling due of general taxes, and the amount so designated shall be added by the auditor to the general taxes of said person, persons or corporation, according to said notice, upon the assessment-rolls in his said office, and collected therewith; Provided further, that no one call for assessments by said commissioners shall be in an amount to exceed twenty-five per cent of the amount estimated by the board of commissioners to be necessary to pay the costs of the proceedings, and the establishment of said district and drainage system and the cost of construction of said work: Provided, further, that where the amount realized from the original assessment and tax shall not prove sufficient to complete the original plans and specifications of any drainage system, alterations, extensions or changes therein, for which the said original assessment was made, the board of commissioners of said district shall make such further assessment as may be necessary to complete said system according to the original plans and specifications, which assessment shall be made and collected in the manner provided in this section for the original assessment. [L. '95, p. 283, § 16; L. '07, p. 669, § 1.]

§ 4156. Conditional Tax, How Levied.—In the event of the dismissal of said proceedings and the rendition of judgment against said district, as hereinbefore provided, said drainage commissioner[s] shall levy a tax upon all the real estate within said district, taking as a basis the last equalized assessment of said real estate for state and county purposes, sufficient to pay said judgment and the cost of levying said tax, and shall cause said tax-roll to be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court in which such judgment was rendered. If said tax is not paid within sixty days after the filing of said tax-roll, the court shall, upon the application of any party interested, direct said real estate to be sold in payment of said tax, said sale to be made in the same manner and by the same officer as is or may be provided by law for the sale of real estate for taxes for general purposes; and the same right of redemption shall exist as in the sale of real estate for the payment of taxes for general purposes. [L. '95, p. 284, § 17.]

§ 4157. Commissioners, Duty of—Contractor's Bond—Liabilities. After the filing of said certificate said commissioners of such drainage district shall proceed at once in the construction of said improvement, and in carrying on said construction or any extensions thereof they shall have full charge and management thereof, and shall have the power to employ such assistance as they may deem necessary and purchase all material that may be necessary in the construction and carrying on of the work of said improvement, and shall have power to let the whole or any portion of said work to any responsible contractor, and shall in such case enter into all necessary agreements with such contractor that may be necessary in the premises: Provided, that in case the whole or any portion of said improvement is let to any contractor said commissioners shall require said contractor to give a bond in double the amount of the contract price of the whole or of such portion of said work covered by said contract, with two or more sureties to be approved by the board of commissioners of said drainage district and running to said district as obligee therein, conditioned for the faithful and accurate performance of said contract by said contractor, his executors, administrators or assigns, according to the terms and conditions of said agreement, and shall cause said contractor to enter into a further or additional bond in the same amount, with two or more good and sufficient sureties to be approved by said board of commissioners of said drainage district in the name of said district as obligee therein, conditioned that said contractor, his executors, administrators or assigns, or subcontractor, his executors, administrators or assigns, performing the whole or any portion of said work under contract of said original contractor, shall pay or cause to be paid all just claims for all persons performing labor or rendering services in the construction of said work, or furnishing materials, merchandise or provisions of any kind or character used by said contractor or subcontractor, or any employee thereof in the construction of said improvement: Provided further, that no sureties on said last mentioned bond shall be liable thereon unless the persons or corporation performing said labor and furnishing said materials, goods, wares, merchandise and provisions, shall, within ninety days after the completion of said improvement, file their claim, duly verified, that the amount is just and due and remains unpaid, with the board of commissioners of said drainage district. [L. '95, p. 285, § 18.]

§ 4158. Work, Where to Begin—Changes, How Effected.—The work on said improvement shall begin and shall be completed with all expedition possible, and said board of commissioners of such drainage district, or any contractor thereunder, shall have no power whatever to change said route or system of improvement or the manner of doing the work therein so as to make any radical changes in said improvement, without the written consent of all the land owners to be benefited thereby, and the land owners which may be damaged thereby. And in case any substantial changes in said system of improvement or the manner of the construction thereof shall be deemed necessary by said board of commissioners at any time during the progress thereof, and if the written consent to such changes cannot be procured from said land owners, then said commissioners, for and on behalf of said district, shall file a petition in the superior court of the county within which said district is located, setting forth therein the changes which they deem necessary to be made in the plan or manner of the construction of said improvement, and praying therein to be permitted to make such changes, and upon the filing thereof, the commissioners shall cause a summons to be served, setting forth the prayer of said petition, under the seal of said court, which summons shall be served in the same manner as the service of summons in the case of the original petition, upon all the land owners or others claiming any lien or interest therein appearing of record in said district, and any or all of said parties so served may appear in said cause and submit their objections thereto, and after the time for the appearance of all of said parties has expired, the court shall proceed to hear said petition at once without further delay, and if it appears during the course of said proceedings that the property rights of any of said land owners will be affected by such proposed change in said improvements, then the court, after having passed upon all preliminary questions as in the original proceedings may call a jury to be impaneled as in the case of the original proceeding for the establishment of said improvements, and upon the final hearing of said cause, the jury shall return a verdict finding the amount of damages, if any, sustained by all persons and corporations, the same as upon the original petition, by reason of such proposed change, and shall readjust the amount of benefits claimed to have been increased or diminished by any of said land owners by reason of said proposed change in said improvements, and the proceedings thereafter shall be the same as to rendering judgment, appeal therefrom, payment of compensation and damages and filing of the certificate with the auditor, as hereinbefore provided for in the proceedings upon the original petition, and said commissioners shall have a right thereafter to proceed with the construction of said improvements according to the changes made therein. [L. '95, p. 286, § 19; L. '09, Ex. Sess., p. 47, § 1.]

§ 4159. Contractors, When Paid.—During the construction of said improvement said commissioners shall have the right to allow payment thereof, in installments as the work progresses, in proportion to the amount of work completed: Provided, that no allowance or payment shall be made for said work to any contractor or subcontractor to exceed seventy-five per cent of the proportionate amount of the work completed by such contractor or subcontractor, and twenty-five per cent of the contract price shall be reserved at all times by said board of commissioners until said work is wholly completed, and shall not be paid upon the completion of said work until ninety days have expired for the presentation of all claims for labor performed and materials, goods, wares, merchandise and provisions furnished or used in the construction of said improvements; and upon the completion of said work and the payment of all claims hereinbefore provided for according to the terms and conditions of said contract, said commissioners shall accept said improvement and pay the contract price therefor. [L. '95, p. 287, § 20.]

§ 4160. Private Drains—Proceedings to Connect.—Any person or corporation owning land within said district shall have a right to connect any private drains or ditches for the proper drainage of such land with said system, and in case any persons or corporations shall desire to drain such lands into said system and shall find it necessary, in order to do so, to procure the right of way over the land of another, or others, and if consent thereto cannot be procured from such person or persons, then such land owner may present in writing a request to the board of commissioners of said district, setting forth therein the necessity of being able to connect his private drainage with said system, and pray therein that said system be extended to such point as he may designate in said writing, and immediately thereon said board of commissioners shall cause a petition to be filed in the superior court, for and in the name of said drainage district, requesting in said petition that said system be extended as requested, setting forth therein the necessity thereof and praying that lief [leave] be granted by the board to extend the system in accordance with the prayer of said petition, and the proceedings in such case, upon the presentation of such petition and the hearing thereof, shall be, in all matters, the same as in the hearing and presentation of the original petition for the establishment of the original system of drainage in said district, as far as applicable. The costs in such proceedings shall be paid from the assessment of benefits to be made on the lands of the person or persons benefited by such extension, and the assessment and compensation for the right of way, damages and benefits, and payment of damages and compensation, and the collection of the assessments for benefits, shall be the same as in the proceedings under the original petition, and the construction of the said extension shall be made under the same provisions as the construction of the original improvement; and all things that may be done or performed in connection therewith shall be, as near as may be applicable, in accordance with the provisions already set forth herein for the establishment and construction of said original improvement: Provided, that such petitioner or petitioners shall, at the time of filing such petition by said drainage commissioners, enter into a good and sufficient bond to said drainage district in the full penal sum of five hundred dollars, with two or more sureties, to be approved by the court, conditioned for the payment of all costs in case the prayer of said petition should not be granted, which bond shall be filed in said cause. [L. '95, p. 288, § 21.]

§ 4161. Districts Above—Proceedings to Connect.—In case of the establishment of a drainage district and system of drainage under the provisions of this chapter above any other district that may have theretofore been established and above any other system of drainage that may have theretofore been constructed in said district, and in case said district to be established above may desire to connect its drainage system with the lower or servient district, shall be made a party to the proceedings for the establishment of such system, and the petition to be filed in the superior court for the establishment of the system of drainage in said upper district shall, in addition to the facts hereinbefore provided and required to be set forth therein, set forth the fact that said lower system in said lower district is necessary to be used as an outlet for the system of drainage of said upper district, and that the same will be a sufficient outlet and will afford sufficient capacity to carry the drainage of both said upper and lower districts; and in case said system of said lower district will be required to be enlarged by widening or deepening the same, or both, in order to give sufficient outlet to said upper district and afford sufficient drainage for said upper and lower districts, then the plans and specifications for enlarging the system of said lower district shall be filed with said petition in addition to the other data hereinbefore provided for in this chapter. All the land owners in said lower district, or any person claiming any interest therein as mortgagee or otherwise, shall be made parties defendant in said petition, and the proceedings therein as to the assessment of damages and compensation for land taken, if any be necessary to be taken in enlarging said lower system, shall be the same as in the establishment of systems of drainage in the lower or servient district as hereinbefore provided for; but the jury, in addition to the facts to be found by them as provided for in the establishment of a drainage system in the lower district, shall find and determine whether said lower system, when improved according to the plans and specifications filed with the said petition, will afford sufficient drainage for both said upper and lower districts, which finding shall be made by the jury before considering any other question at issue in said proceeding; and in case said jury should find that the system of said lower district when improved as proposed in said petition would not be sufficient, then, in that case, said finding shall terminate the proceedings, and no further proceedings in said case shall be had, and the costs of said proceeding shall be paid as costs in other proceedings, as hereinbefore provided for; but in such case the finding of said jury shall not terminate the objects of said upper district or operate to disorganize the same, but said upper district may begin new proceedings for the establishment of a system of drainage with some new outlet provided therein. All costs for the enlarging or improving of said lower system that may be required shall be assessed to the land owners in the upper district according to the benefits to be derived from the construction of said entire system, and no additional cost shall be thrown upon the lower district, and all compensation for taking any right of way that may be necessary to be taken in enlarging said lower system, and all damages occurring therefrom, if any, to the land owners of said lower district, shall be ascertained and paid in the same manner as hereinbefore provided for for the adjustment of compensation and damages in the establishment of drainage systems in lower districts. Said lower district, by and through its board of commissioners, may appear in said cause and show therein any injury it may sustain as a district by reason of the additional cost of maintenance of said lower system as improved and enlarged, and such fact shall be determined in said cause and the jury shall find the amount of the increased costs of maintenance per annum, which will be sustained by said lower district by reason of said enlarging or improving of the same, and judgment shall be rendered in favor of said lower district against said upper district for such amount so found, and the same shall be paid each year as the cost of construction is paid as provided for in this chapter, and the amount so paid shall be held by said lower district as an additional fund for the maintenance of its said system as improved and enlarged by said upper district. [L. '95, p. 289, § 22.]

§ 4162. Incorporated Towns may Act as Drainage Districts.—Any town or city already incorporated, or which may hereafter be incorporated, may exercise the functions of a drainage district under the provisions of this chapter, cr the whole or any portion of any such town or city may be included with other territory in a common district under the provisions for the establishment thereof as provided for herein. [L. '95, p. 291, § 23.]

§ 4163. Cost of Maintenance, Estimate of.—The board of commissioners of any drainage district organized under the provisions of this act shall on or before the first day of November of each year, make an estimate of the cost of maintenance of the drainage system, constructed in such district which estimate shall include the cost of making any necessary repairs that it might become necessary to make in the maintenance of such system. Such estimate shall be made for the succeeding year and the amount so estimated shall be certified by the board of commissioners to the auditor of the county in which such district is located, on or before said date and the amount thereof shall be levied against and apportioned to the lands in such district benefited by said improvement in proportion to the maximum benefits originally assessed by the judgment of the court, and said amount shall be added to the general taxes against said lands and collected therewith. [L. '95, p. 291, § 24; L. '05, p. 363, § 3; L. '07, p. 219, § 1.]

Cited in 42 Wash. 499; 52 Wash. 399.

§ 4164. Commission, Officers and Duty of.—The board of commissioners of such district shall elect one of their number chairman and one secretary, and shall keep minutes of all their proceedings, and may issue warrants of such district in payment of all claims of indebtedness against such district; such warrants shall be in form and substance the same as county warrants, or as near the same as may be practicable, and shall draw the legal rate of interest from the date of their presentation to the treasurer for payment, as hereinafter provided, and shall be signed by the chairman and attested by the secretary of said board: Provided, that no warrants shall be issued by said board of commissioners in payment of any indebtedness of such district for less than the face or par value. [L. '95, p. 291, § 25.]

Cited in 46 Wash. 476.

§ 4165. Bonds, to Issue, When.—Upon the establishment of any district under the provisions of this chapter, and the establishment of a system of drainage therein as provided for in this act, the board of commissioners of such drainage district may, upon petition of a majority of all the land owners owning land within such district to be benefited thereby, issue bonds for the total amount of the costs of construction of said improvement, together with the costs of the establishment thereof, including damages assessed and compensation made to land owners for right of way and the expenses and costs of the entire proceeding, payable at a time not less than five years nor longer than ten years from the date thereof; and such commissioners may, at any time thereafter, issue such bonds in the manner and form herein prescribed for the purpose of funding any outstanding warrants or obligations of such district, and in case of such last named issue all the outstanding warrants shall immediately become due and payable upon receipt of the money by the county treasurer from the sale of said bonds, and upon a call of such outstanding obligations to be issued by him, which call shall be made by said treasurer immediately upon receipt of the proceeds from the sale of said bonds by publication for two successive weeks in the county paper authorized to do the county printing, and such warrants and outstanding obligations shall cease to draw interest at the end of thirty days after the date of the first publication: Provided, that no bonds shall, under the provisions hereof, be sold for less than their par value. [L. '95, p. 292, § 26.]

§ 4166. Bonds—Terms of.—Said bonds shall be numbered from one upwards, consecutively, and be in denominations of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars. They shall bear the date of issue, shall be made payable to the bearer in not more than ten years nor less than five years from the date of their issue, and bear interest at a rate not exceeding seven per cent per annum, payable annually, with coupons attached for each interest payment. The bonds and each coupon shall be signed by the chairman of the board of drainage commissioners, and shall be attested by the secretary of said board, and the seal of such district shall be affixed to each bond, but not to the coupons. [L. '95, p. 292, § 27.]

§ 4168. Bonds, Liquidation of.—Five years before said bonds shall become due the drainage commissioners of such district issuing them, are hereby authorized and required, annually, to levy an assessment sufficient to liquidate said bonds at maturity; such assessment shall be collected by the county treasurer and kept as a separate fund for the sole purpose of liquidating said bonds in accordance with the provisions of the following section. [L. '95, p. 293, § 29.]

§ 4169. Treasurer, Duties as to Taking Up.—It shall be the duty of the treasurer of any county in which there may be a district issuing bonds under the provisions of this chapter, whenever he has upon hand two thousand dollars of the special fund for the payment of said bonds, to advertise in the newspaper doing the county printing, for the presentation to him for payment of as many of the bonds issued under the provisions of this chapter as he may be able to pay with the funds in his hands, to be paid in numerical order of said bonds, beginning with bond number one, until all of said bonds are paid: Provided, that thirty days after the first publication of said notice of the treasurer calling in any of said bonds by their number, said bonds shall cease to bear interest, which shall be stated in the notice. [L. '95, p. 293, § 30.]

§ 4170. Coupons, Payment of.—It shall be the duty of such drainage commissioners annually to levy an assessment sufficient for the payment of the coupons hereinbefore mentioned as they fall due. Said coupons shall be considered for all purposes as warrants drawn upon the funds of the district issuing bonds under the provisions of this chapter, and, when presented to the county treasurer, and no funds are in the treasury to pay said coupons, it shall be his duty to indorse said coupons as presented for payment in the same manner as other warrants upon the funds of said district are indorsed, and thereafter said coupons shall bear interest at the same rate as other warrants so presented and unpaid. [L. '95, p. 293, § 31.]

§ 4171. Bonds to be Registered.—Before the bonds are delivered to the purchaser they shall be presented to the county treasurer, who shall register them in a book kept for that purpose and known as the bond register, in which register he shall enter the number of each bond, the date of issue, the maturity, amount and rate of interest, to whom and when payable, and the proceeds derived from the sale of said bonds shall in all cases be paid by the purchaser thereof to the county treasurer. [L. '95, p. 294, § 32.]

§ 4172. Warrants Presented for Indorsement—When Paid.—All warrants issued under the provisions of this chapter shall be presented by the holders thereof to the county treasurer, who shall indorse thereon the day of presentation for payment, with the additional indorsement thereon, in case of nonpayment, that they are not paid for want of funds; and no warrant shall draw interest under the provisions of this act until it is so presented and indorsed by the county treasurer. And it shall be the duty of such treasurer, from time to time, when he has sufficient funds in his hands for that purpose, to advertise in the newspaper doing the county printing for the presentation to him for payment of as many of the outstanding warrants as he may be able to pay: Provided, that thirty days after the first publication of said notice of the treasurer calling in any of said outstanding warrants said warrants shall cease to bear interest, which shall be stated in the notice. Said notice shall be published two weeks consecutively, and said warrants shall be called in and paid in the order of their indorsement. [L. '95, p. 294, § 33.]

§ 4173. Trial—Findings and Forms of Verdict.—Upon the trial of any questions of issue by a jury under the provisions of this chapter the trial court may, in its discretion, submit all questions to be found by the jury in the form of separate findings, or may submit to such jury separate forms of verdict on all such questions to be found by the jury therein. [L. '95, p. 294, § 34.]

§ 4174. No Lands Exempt.—All state, county, school district or other lands belonging to other public corporations requiring drainage shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter, and such corporations, by and through the proper authorities, shall be made parties in all proceedings herein affecting said lands, and shall have the same rights as private persons, and their lands shall be subject to the right of eminent domain the same as the lands of private persons or corporations. [L. '95, p. 294, § 35.]

See supra, §§ 4153, 4154, method of assessing benefits to county or public roads.

See infra, §§ 4251–4255 and 6872–6882, assessments on state lands.

§ 4175. Assessments on Public Lands.—In case lands belonging to the state, county, school district or other public corporation are benefited by any improvement instituted under the provisions of this chapter, all benefits shall be assessed against such lands, and the same shall be paid by the proper authorities of such public corporation at the times and in the same manner as assessments are called and paid in case of private persons, out of any general fund of such corporation. [L. '95, p. 295, § 36.]

§ 4176. Service Fees.—Fees for service of all process necessary to be served under the provisions of this chapter shall be the same as for like services in other civil cases, or as is or may be provided by law. [L. '95, p. 295, § 37.]

Cited in 42 Wash. 497.

§ 4177. Commissioners, Compensation of — Objections — Procedure.—In performing their duties under the provisions of this chapter the board of drainage commissioners shall receive such compensation as may be just and reasonable for all necessary services actually performed, not exceeding three dollars and fifty cents per day, to be determined and allowed by the court upon presentation by said commissioners, or either of them, of an itemized statement duly verified by either or all of such board, that the same is just, reasonable, necessary and that such services were actually performed, and that no part of said compensation has ever been paid, and in case such services are rendered by said board in the establishment or construction of said improvement, or any extension thereof, the amount thereof so allowed by the court shall be deemed to be a part of the cost of the construction and establishment of said improvement, and in case such compensation to be allowed by the court shall be for services rendered by said board in the repairing or maintenance of such improvement, such allowance shall be added to the annual cost of maintenance of such system: Provided, that any person interested therein may file objections to the allowance asked for either in whole or in part, and such claims so filed shall not be passed upon or allowed by the court until the expiration of thirty days from the filing thereon. Said board of commissioners, or the member thereof presenting such claim or allowance, shall, at the time of the filing thereof in the court, post notices in at least four public places within said district, which said notices shall set forth therein the fact that an application for allowance has been filed in said court, giving the date of the filing thereof and the amount of the allowance applied for, and demand that any and all persons having any interest therein shall file objections in said court, if any they have, to the allowance of such claim or any portion thereof, within thirty days from the filing of such application for allowance, and the court shall hear said application and the objections thereto, if any be made and filed, and shall in its discretion, make such allowance in such amount as it may deem to be just in the premises, and the same shall be paid as other claims against said district are paid. [L. '95, p. 295, § 38; L. '07, p. 101, § 1.]

§ 4178. Natural Watercourses—Improvement of.—The whole or any portion of any natural watercourse, the whole or any portion of which lies within any district established under this chapter, or the whole or any portion of any ditch or drainage system already constructed or partially constructed prior to the passage of this chapter, may be improved and completed as a system under the provisions of this chapter: Provided, that vested rights in any such watercourse acquired by appropriation of the water thereof for irrigation, mining or manufacturing purposes under existing law, shall not be disturbed. [L. '95, p. 296, § 39; L. '03, p. 42, § 1.]

§ 4179. Power of Court.—The superior court may compel the performance of the duties imposed by this chapter, and may, in its discretion, on proper application therefor, issue its mandatory injunction for such purpose. [L. '95, p. 296, § 40.]

Cited in 46 Wash. 477.

§ 4180. Dissolution of District—Hearing—Notice.—Any drainage district or diking district in the state of Washington may be dissolved by order of the superior court of the county wherein the same is organized, upon a hearing had upon a verified petition praying for such dissolution, signed by not less than two-thirds of the adult land owners of such district, who own in the aggregate not less than three-fourths in area of the land contained in said district, when it shall be determined by the court, that not less than four weeks' notice of such hearing has been given by posting notices in five of the most public places of the district sought to be dissolved, and by the insertion in a weekly newspaper of such county for four successive weeks next prior to such hearing, and the costs of dissolution have been advanced and that it is for the best interest of the land owners in said district that the same be dissolved; Provided, the ditches, drains, dikes and other improvements of dissolved districts, shall be and remain for the common use of the land owners in said district so dissolved. [L. '15, p. 31, § 1. Cf. L. '07, p. 376, § 1.]

§ 4181. Sale of Property—Application of Proceeds—Indebtedness. If said dissolved district owns any property, either real or personal, other than such ditches, drains, dikes or other improvements, it may be sold by an order of the superior court, directed to the sheriff of said county, whose duty it shall be to advertise and sell such property in manner otherwise provided by law for the sale of real and personal property, and the proceeds of such sale, after the costs are paid, shall be used to pay any indebtedness of such dissolved district. If the indebtedness of any such district exceeds the amount received from the sale of such property the amount of such excess shall be certified to the auditor of the county in which such district is located and the amount thereof shall be levied against and apportioned to the lands in such district in proportion to and upon the basis of the value of such lands as fixed by the last preceding equalized assessment-roll of said county and said amount shall be added to the general taxes against said lands and collected therewith. If the amount received from the sale of any property in such district exceeds the indebtedness of such district the excess shall be distributed to the land owners of such district in proportion to the value of their respective holdings therein. [L. '07, p. 376, § 2.]

§ 4181-1. Annexation of Territory to Drainage District. — Any land which is in need of drainage, adjoining any drainage district organized under the provisions of sections 4137 to 4181 of Remington & Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington, may be annexed to and included in such drainage district under the provisions of this act. [L. '13, p. 104, § 1.]

"Act" refers to the last four sections of this chapter.

§ 4181-2. Petition for Annexation—Election.—Upon the presentation to the board of commissioners of such drainage district, of a petition signed by the owners of a majority of the acreage or area, of lands described in the said petition, and also a petition signed by at least ten freeholders of the said district, which petitions shall ask for the annexation to the said district of the lands described therein, and that the same may be made a part of said district, it shall be the duty of the said board of commissioners to call an election in the said district, and also in the said territory which it is proposed to annex thereto, for the purpose of submitting to the electors thereof the question of such annexation; notice of which election shall be given by the said board of commissioners, in both said district, and in the said territory to be annexed, the same as the notice required in the regular annual election of officers in said district. [L. '13, p. 104, § 2.]

§ 4181–3. Election Officers.—The said board of commissioners shall appoint an election board of three electors for the election to be held in the said district and another election board of three electors in the said territory to be annexed, for the election to be held therein. [L. '13, p. 105, § 3.]

§ 4181–4. Election Returns — Certificate of Result. — Return of such election shall be by the officers thereof made to the board of commissioners of said district forthwith, and such board shall as soon as practicable make canvass of the said returns, and if a majority of the votes cast at each of the said elections shall be in favor of the annexation of said territory, the said board of commissioners shall forthwith certify to the county auditor and also to the county assessor of the county wherein such district and such territory are located, the fact of such election, the result thereof, and a particular description of the territory annexed by such election, which certificate shall be filed and become a part of the records of the said auditor and the said assessor; and thereafter the said territory shall be taken to be and shall be annexed to, and be a part of the said district, and shall be liable to assessment for extensions and improvement of drains, and for the cost and expense of maintenance and repairs the same as other property in the said district, and for the purposes of such assessment, the maximum benefits derived to such annexed territory shall be conclusively presumed to be equal to but not greater than those of abutting property, within the district as the same existed before the said annexation. [L. '13, p. 105, § 4.]

CHAPTER III.

Diking and Drainage Districts in Two or More Counties.

Assessments on state lands, see §§ 4251-4255 and 6872-6882, infra.
Private ditches in two or more counties, see § 4226-38.

§ 4182. Powers — Designation. — Whenever a portion of two or more counties, which contain one hundred or more inhabitants and freeholders therein, require diking, draining, or the erection of flood dams or drift barriers to prevent inundations, such portion of two or more counties may be organized into a district; and the board of commissioners, hereinafter provided for, shall have and possess the powers herein conferred, or that may hereafter be conferred by law upon such district and board of commissioners, and all such powers not in conflict with those herein granted, which now exist under the provision of the laws of the state relating to the establishment, construction and maintenance of dikes and drains; and such districts shall be known and designated as "Diking and Drainage District No. ——, in —— and —— Counties (here insert name of counties), of the state of Washington"; and shall have the right to sue and be sued by, in the name of its board of commissioners herein provided for, and shall have perpetual succession, and shall adopt and use a seal. [L. '09, p. 789, § 1.]

§ 4183. Formation — Petition, Contents and Requisites of — Cost Bond.—For the purpose of the formation of such diking district, a petition shall be presented to the board of county commissioners of each of the two or more counties in which the portion of said counties are situated; which petition shall set forth the objects for the creation of said district, and shall designate in a general way the boundaries thereof, and set forth therein approximately the number of acres of land to be benefited by the proposed system, and shall also contain a brief description of the proposed system, and approximately the route over which the same is to be constructed, together with the proposed flood dams or drift barriers, if any, and approximately the termini thereof. The petition shall also set forth the further fact that the establishment of the said district and the proposed system will be conducive to the public health, convenience and welfare, and will increase the public revenue, and that the establishment of said district will be of special benefit to the property included in each of the counties in such district. The petition shall be signed by at least one hundred of the freeholders in the proposed district, or by a majority of the freeholders in said district in each of the counties, in case there are less than two hundred freeholders in the proposed district. Said petition shall ask that a district be organized under the provisions of this chapter. A duplicate of the petition shall be filed with each of the board of county commissioners in each of the counties in which the proposed district is situated. At the time of filing of the petition, the petitioners shall file a bond with the board of county commissioners, running to the state of Washington, in the penal sum of one thousand dollars, with two or more sureties, to be approved by the board of county commissioners, conditioned that they will pay all costs in case said district for any reason shall not be established. [L. '09, p. 789, § 2.]

§ 4184. Hearing of Petition—Procedure—Boundaries—Certificate. Immediately thereafter the chairman of each of the respective boards of county commissioners shall notify the commissioner of public lands of the state of Washington that such petition and bond has been filed, praying for the establishment and maintenance of a district as aforesaid, and thereupon the commissioner of public lands shall at once give written notice to the board of county commissioners of each county that the said boards, together with the commissioner of public lands, will hold a joint meeting, at a time and place specified, not less than five or more than twenty days after the mailing of such notice, to consider the petition and to determine upon the matters therein prayed for. At such joint meeting said joint body, including the commissioner of public lands, shall proceed to consider the said petition and determine whether such proposed diking and drainage district shall be established in the locality and vicinity of the proposed system. If such body finds the district should be established, it shall then enter an order upon its minutes creating such district, and defining the boundaries thereof, and the boundaries so established may embrace more or less land than that embraced in the original petition, and the proposed boundaries may be enlarged or diminished as [to] the board may seem proper; such body shall not establish such district, however, unless they find that the proposed system of dikes and drains will be conducive to the public health, welfare and convenience, and will increase the public revenue and be of benefit to the majority of the lands included within the boundaries of the district. Said body shall at this first meeting elect a secretary, and the commissioner of public lands shall act as chairman of the body. If such body after consideration determines that a diking and drainage system shall be established, then the chairman and secretary shall certify to the board of county commissioners of each county a copy of the resolutions of the body creating such district, and a certificate to the same effect shall be made to the commissioner of public lands, and such certificates shall be filed with the board of county commissioners of each county, and in the office of the commissioner of public lands, and shall be recorded in the records and journals of the respective offices; a majority of all the members of said body shall be necessary to establish any diking and drainage system hereunder, and a majority of the body shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business. If such district is established the aforesaid body shall at its first meeting also designate the day upon which the first election shall be held under the provisions of this chapter, which shall not be less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the time when the day of election is fixed. [L. '09, p. 790, § 3.]

§ 4185. Approval — Election of Commissioners — Ballots—Vacancies — General Elections — Terms of Office.—Upon the establishment of a district as aforesaid, the said body shall give notice of an election to be held in the diking and drainage district established, as aforesaid, for the purpose of determining whether the same shall be approved and become an organized diking and drainage district, and for the further purpose of choosing at such election five commissioners, who shall be known and designated as "Commissioners for Diking and Drainage District No. —— (here insert number), in —— and —— Counties (here insert names of counties), State of Washington," and such notice shall particularly describe the boundaries as established, and shall state the name of such proposed diking and drainage district, and the same shall be published for at least two weeks prior to such election in two or more weekly newspapers published within the proposed district, and in case no such newspaper be published in such district, then in two or more newspapers of general circulation in such district for two successive issues; and shall be posted for the same period in at least ten public places within the boundaries of such proposed district, which notice shall designate the places within the proposed district where the said election shall be held, and require the voters to cast ballots which shall contain the words "Diking and Drainage District 'yes,'" or "Diking and Drainage District 'no,'" and also the names of the persons voted for as commissioners of such district. The voting places shall be designated by such body; said body shall also appoint two judges, one inspector and two clerks for such election, to act at each polling place, whose compensation shall be the same as in elections for county and state officers, and which shall be a charge upon such district in case the same be established; in case such district be not established, then all costs and expenses shall be collected from the bond hereinbefore provided for. The election shall be held on the day designated in the notice, and shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of the state of Washington, as far as applicable. The returns of all the elections hereunder shall be made by the judges of election to the commissioner of public lands. No person shall be entitled to vote at such election unless he be a qualified elector in the county in which said district is located, and shall have resided within the boundaries of such proposed district for a period of not less than ninety days next preceding the election. The commissioner of public lands shall, within fifteen days next succeeding said election, canvass the vote, and if upon such canvass and count it appears that the majority of votes cast in each of the counties are for "Diking and Drainage District 'yes,'" then the said body shall immediately certify to the board of county commissioners of each county interested and to the commissioner of public lands the result of such election, and shall in such certificate declare the proposed territory duly organized as a drainage and diking district; and that the five persons receiving the highest number of votes are duly elected commissioners of such diking and drainage districts. The commissioners so elected shall hold their position for the period of two years from and after their election and until their successors are elected and qualified. Not more than three commissioners shall be elected from any one county when the district is composed of two counties, and not more than two commissioners shall be elected from any county when the district is composed of three or more counties. All commissioners must be qualified electors of the district. Any vacancies occurring upon said board by failure to qualify, death or resignation, or otherwise, shall be filled by the board of county commissioners of the county in which the vacancy occurs. After the first election a general election for the election of such board of commissioners for the diking and drainage district shall be held every second year thereafter, on the first Tuesday of October, and the returns thereof shall be canvassed by the commissioner of public lands, who shall certify the result to the respective boards of county commissioners. The commissioner of public lands at the time of certifying any election shall also issue a certificate to each person elected as a member of the board that he has been duly elected as one of the commissioners for Diking and Drainage District No. ——, in the counties of —— and ——, state of Washington. No official ballot shall be required at the first or any subsequent election, and the law known as the "Direct Primary Law" of this state shall have no application to the elections held under this chapter. The ballots shall designate the county from which the commissioners are to be elected, for example:

For commissioners from —— county.

For commissioners from —— county.

§ 4186. Commissioners, Oath, Bond of—Assessment of Benefits—Procedure.—The members of such board, before entering upon their duties, shall take and subscribe an oath substantially as follows:

State of Washington,
County of ——, } ss.

I, the undersigned, a member of the board of commissioners of the Diking and Drainage District No. ——, in —— and —— counties, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will well and truly discharge my duties as a member of said commission.

The members shall also, before entering upon their duties, give a bond to the state of Washington for the benefit of such diking and drainage district, for the faithful performance of their duties as such board of commissioners, in the penal sum of five thousand dollars, with a company or corporation as surety, authorized to make and execute official bonds under the laws of the state, the district to bear the expense of such bond; and upon the oath and bond being filed with the commissioner of public lands, that officer shall enter an order upon his records that the five persons named as aforesaid have qualified as the board of commissioners for Diking and Drainage District, No. ——, in —— and —— counties, and that said persons and their successors do and shall constitute a board of commissioners for the aforesaid diking and drainage district; which order when made shall be conclusive of the regularity of the election and qualification of the board of diking and drainage commissioners for the particular district, and the persons named therein shall constitute such board of diking and drainage commissioners.

The said board of diking and drainage commissioners shall thereupon immediately organize and elect one of their number as chairman and another as secretary. The said board shall then proceed to make and cause to be made specifications and details of a system which may be adopted by the board for the improvements to be made, together with an estimate of the total cost thereof; and shall, upon the adoption of a plan of improvement of the district as aforesaid, proceed to levy an assessment upon the taxable real property within the said district which the board may find to be specially benefited by the proposed improvements; and shall make and levy such assessment upon each piece, lot, parcel and separate tract of real estate in proportion to the particular and special benefits thereto. Upon determining the amount of the assessment against each particular tract of real estate as aforesaid, the commissioners shall make or cause to be made an assessment-roll, in which shall appear the names of the owners of the property assessed, so far as known, and a general description of each lot, block, parcel or tract of land within such district, and the amount assessed against the same, as separate, special or particular benefits. The board shall thereupon make an order setting and fixing a day for hearing any objections to the assessment-roll by anyone affected thereby, which day shall be at least twenty days after the mailing of notices thereof, postage prepaid, as herein provided. The board shall send or cause to be sent by mail to each owner of the premises assessed, whose name and place of residence is known, a notice substantially in the following form, to wit:

To ——: Your property (here describe the property) is assessed $——. A hearing on the assessment-roll will be had before the undersigned at the office of the said board at ——, ——, on the —— day of ——, at which time you are notified to be and appear and to make any and all objections which you may have as to the amount of the assessment against your property, or as to whether it should be assessed at all; and to make any and all objections which you may have to the said assessment against your lands, or any part or portion thereof.

The failure to send or cause to be sent such notice shall not be fatal to the proceedings herein described. The secretary of the board on the mailing of said notices shall certify generally that he has mailed such notices to the known address of all owners, and such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the mailing of all such notices at the date mentioned in the certificate.

The board shall cause at least ten days' notice of the hearing to be given by posting notice in at least ten public places within the boundaries of the district, and by publishing the same at least five successive times in a daily newspaper published in each of the counties affected; and for at least two successive weeks in one or more weekly newspapers within the boundaries of said district, in each county if there be such newspapers published therein, and if there be no such newspaper published, then in one or more weekly newspapers, having a circulation in the district, for two successive weeks, which notice shall be signed by the chairman or secretary of the said board of commissioners, and shall state the date and place of hearing of objections to the assessment-roll and levy, and of all other objections; and that all interested parties will be heard as to any objection to said assessment-roll and the levies as therein made. [L. '09, p. 794, § 5.]

§ 4187. Objections to Assessment — Procedure. — Any person interested in any real estate affected by said assessment may, within the time fixed, appear and file objections. As to all parcels, lots or blocks as to which no objections are filed, within the time as aforesaid, the assessment thereon shall be confirmed and shall be final. On the hearing, each person may offer proof, and proof may also be offered on behalf of the assessment, and the board shall affirm, modify, change and determine the assessment, in such sum as to the board appears just and right. The commissioners may increase the assessment during such hearing upon any particular tract by mailing notice to the owner at his last known address, to be and appear within a time not less than ten days after the date of the notice, to show cause why his assessment should not be increased. When the assessment is finally equalized and fixed by the board, the secretary thereof shall certify the same to the county treasurer of each county in which the lands are situated, for collection; or if appeal has been taken from any part thereof, then so much thereof as has not been appealed from shall be certified. In case any owner of property appeals to the superior court in relation to the assessment or other matter when the amount of the assessment is determined by the court finally, either upon determination of the superior court, or appeal to the supreme court, then the assessment as finally fixed and determined by the court shall be certified by the clerk of the proper court to the county treasurer of the county in which the lands are situated and shall be spread upon and become a part of the assessment-roll hereinbefore referred to. [L. '09, p. 797, § 6.]

§ 4188. Appeal, Procedure on. — Any person who feels aggrieved by the final assessment made against any lot, block or parcel of land owned by him, may appeal therefrom to the superior court of the county in which the land is situated. Such appeal shall be taken within the time and substantially in the manner prescribed by the laws of this state for appeals from justices' courts. All notice of appeal shall be filed with the said board, and shall be served upon the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the action is brought. The secretary of the board shall, at appellant's expense, certify to the superior court so much of the record as appellant may request, and the cause shall be tried in the superior court de novo.

Any person desiring to appeal from any final order or judgment made by the superior court concerning any assessment authorized by this chapter, may appeal therefrom to the supreme court, in accordance with the laws of this state relative to appeals, except that all such appeals shall be taken within thirty days after the entry of such judgment. [L. '09, p. 797, § 7.]

§ 4189. Assessments, Lien of—Notice and Collection of.—The final assessments shall be a lien paramount to all other liens except liens for taxes and other special assessments upon the property assessed, from the time the assessment-roll shall have been finally approved by the said board, and placed in the hands of the county treasurers as collectors. After the roll shall have been delivered to the county treasurers for collection, each treasurer shall proceed to collect the amounts due in the manner that other taxes are collected as to all lands situated within the county of which he is treasurer. Such treasurer shall give at least ten days' notice in one or more daily newspapers published in the counties in which the lands are situated for two successive weeks, that such roll has been certified to him for collection, and that unless payment be made within thirty days from the date of the notice, that the sum charged against each lot or parcel of land shall be paid in not more than ten equal annual payments, with interest upon the whole sum so charged, at a rate not to exceed seven per cent per annum. Said interest shall be paid annually. The county treasurer shall proceed to collect the amount due each year upon the publication of notice as hereinafter provided. In such publication notice it shall not be necessary to give a description of each tract, piece or parcel of land, or of the names of the owners thereof.

The treasurer shall also mail a copy of the notice to the owner of the property assessed, when the postoffice address of such owner is known to the treasurer; but the failure to mail such notice shall not be necessary to the validity of the collection of such tax. [L. '09, p. 798, § 8.]

§ 4190. Commissioners to Conduct Business, Make Contracts, etc. The commissioners herein provided for and their successors in office, shall from the time of their election and qualifications aforesaid, have the power, and it shall be their duty, to manage and conduct the business affairs of the district, making and executing all necessary contracts, appoint such agents and employees as may be required, and prescribe their duties, and perform any and all acts which may be necessary, proper or requisite to carry into effect their duties as commissioners, and all such other acts as may be provided in this chapter or in any other act. [L. '09, p. 798, § 9.]

§ 4191. Powers — Eminent Domain—Purchase.—The districts organized under the provisions of this chapter, and the commissioners appointed and qualified as such shall have the right of eminent domain with the power by and through the board of commissioners to condemn and cause to be condemned and appropriated private property for the use of said district in the construction and maintenance of the system of dikes, drains, flood dams and drift barriers, and for any other purpose proper, necessary and convenient for the purpose of carrying into effect the powers vested in said district and the commissioners thereof; and the property of private corporations shall be subject to the same rights of eminent domain as private individuals. Said board of commissioners shall also have the power to acquire by purchase, in the name of the district, any and all real property necessary to make the improvements herein provided for. [L. '09, p. 799, § 10.]

§ 4192. Construction and Maintenance in Charge of Commissioners.—Said board of commissioners herein provided for shall have the exclusive charge of the construction and maintenance of all dikes and drainage systems which may be constructed within the said district, and shall be the executive officers thereof, with full power to bind said district by their acts in the performance of their duties as provided by law. [L. '09, p. 799, § 11.]

§ 4193. Procedure in Eminent Domain.—In the exercise of the right of eminent domain, all proceedings shall be prosecuted by the board of commissioners for and on behalf of the district, or in the name of the district itself, and such proceedings shall be conducted in the superior court of the county in which the lands sought to be condemned are situated, and shall be in the manner and in accordance with the procedure now provided by law regulating the mode of procedure to appropriate lands, real estate, or property by corporations for corporate purposes. [L. '09, p. 799, § 12.]

§ 4194. Improvement of Watercourses—Auxiliary Ditches, etc.—Any district so established as aforesaid through its board of commissioners shall have the right, power and authority to straighten, deepen and improve any and all rivers, watercourses, or streams, whether navigable or otherwise, flowing through or located within the boundaries of said diking or drainage district, whenever necessary or proper in carrying out the objects of the system. The district by and through its board of commissioners shall also have the power to construct all needed auxiliary ditches, canals, flumes, locks, flood barriers, and all necessary artificial appliances in the construction of the system, and which shall be necessary and advisable to protect the land in any such district from overflow or to assist, or which may become necessary in the preservation or maintenance of such system. [L. '09, p. 800, § 13.]

§ 4195. Cities may be Included.—Within the limits of said diking or drainage district may be included any incorporated city or town, or any part thereof. [L. '09, p. 800, § 14.]

§ 4196. State Lands Assessed—Payment.—Any of the state, school, or granted land within the district, shall also be assessed the same as other lands are assessed in proportion to the benefit, but any such lands shall not be sold for delinquencies, but the amount of the assessment shall be paid by the state at the time, in the manner, under the circumstances, and in accordance with the provisions of §§ 4251–4255 of this code. [L. '09, p. 800, § 15.]

§ 4197. Bonds, Issuance and Disposal of—Sale—Form, Maturity, Interest—Calls for.—Any such district by and through its board of commissioners, may, by resolution of such board, cause to be issued in the name of the district, bonds for the whole estimated cost of the improvement, less such amounts as shall have been paid within the thirty days provided for redemption, as herein specified. Such bonds shall be called Local Improvement Bonds, Diking and Drainage District No. —— in —— and —— counties, state of Washington, and shall be payable in not more than ten years after date, and shall be subject to annual call by the board, in such manner and amount as there may be cash on hand to pay, in the respective local improvement fund, from which such bonds are payable, interest to be paid at the office of the treasurer of the fund. Such bonds shall be executed and delivered to the contractor for the work from month to month in such amounts as the engineer in charge of the improvement shall certify to be due on account of work performed; however, if the said board resolve so to do, such bonds may be offered for sale after thirty days' public notice by it to be delivered to the highest bidder therefor, but in no case shall said bonds be sold for less than par, the proceeds to be applied in payment for the improvement: Provided, that unless the contractor for the work shall agree to take such bonds in payment of the work, such work shall not be begun until the bonds shall have been sold and the proceeds shall have been paid into the fund, the fund to be called Local Improvement Fund, Diking and Drainage District No. ——, in —— and —— counties, and the holder or holders of such bond shall look only to such fund for the payment of either the principal or interest of such bond. Said bonds shall be issued in the denomination of one hundred dollars each, and shall be substantially in the following form:

Local Improvement Bond, Diking and Drainage District No. —— in the counties of —— and ——, state of Washington. No. ——. —— dollars. This bond is not a general debt of the counties of —— or either of them, and has not been authorized by the voters of said counties, or either of them, as a part of the indebtedness of said counties; it is issued in pursuance of an act of the legislature of the state of Washington, passed the —— day of ——, 1897, and is a charge against the fund herein specified, and its issuance and sale is authorized by the resolution of the board of commissioners of said district, passed on the —— day of ——, A. D. ——. The Diking and Drainage District No. —— in counties ——, a municipal corporation of the state of Washington, hereby promises to pay to —— or bearer one hundred ($100) dollars, lawful money of the United States of America, out of the fund established by resolution of the board of commissioners on the —— day of ——, A. D. ——, and known as Local Improvement Fund, Diking and Drainage District No. ——, in —— and —— counties, state of Washington, and not otherwise. This bond is payable ten years after date and is subject to annual call by the treasurer of the board at the expiration of any year before maturity, in such manner and amounts as there may be cash on hand to pay the same in the said fund from which the same is payable, and shall bear interest at —— per centum per annum, payable annually, both principal and interest payable at the office of the treasurer of the fund. A coupon is hereby attached for each installment of interest to accrue thereon and said interest shall be paid only on presentation and surrender of such coupon to the treasurer of the fund, but in case this bond is called for payment before maturity, each and every coupon representing interest not accrued at the expiration of the call shall be void. The board of commissioners of said diking and drainage district has caused this bond to be issued as a bond of said district and the proceeds thereof to be applied in part payment of so much of the cost of said improvement as is to be borne by the owners of property in said district and the said district has been established for such purpose, and the holder or holders of this bond shall look only to said fund for the payment of either the principal or interest of this bond. The call for the payment of this bond or any bond issued on account of said improvement may be made by the board, by publishing the same in a newspaper in each county for ten consecutive issues, beginning not more than twenty days before the expiration of any year from the date hereof, and if such call be made interest on this bond shall cease at the date named in such call. This bond is one of a series of —— bonds, aggregating in all the principal sum of —— dollars, issued for such district, all of which bonds are subject to the same terms and conditions as herein expressed.

In witness whereof, said board of commissioners of such Diking and Drainage District No. —— has caused these presents to be signed by its chairman and countersigned by its secretary and sealed by its corporate seal, this —— day of ——, A. D. 190—.

The Diking and Drainage District No. —— in —— and —— counties, Washington. By ——, chairman of its board of commissioners. Countersigned ——, secretary of said board.

There shall be attached to each bond such number of coupons as shall be required to represent the interest thereon, payable semi-annually for the term of said bonds, which coupons shall be substantially in the following form:

No. ——. $ ——. On the —— day of ——, the Diking and Drainage District No. ——, in the Counties of —— and ——, Washington, promise to pay to the bearer, at the office of ——, —— dollars, being one year's interest due that day on bond No. —— of the bonds of the said diking and drainage district. The sum being payable only from the fund of the said district known as Local Improvement Fund thereof, and not otherwise: Provided, that this coupon is subject to all terms and conditions contained in the bond to which it is annexed, and if said bond be called for payment before maturity hereof, then this coupon shall be void.

The Diking and Drainage District No. —— in —— and —— counties, Washington. By ——, chairman of the board of commissioners. Countersigned, ——, secretary of said board.

The bonds issued for each district shall be in the aggregate for such an amount as authorized by the board of commissioners for the respective district, and each issue of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number "one." The board of commissioners shall keep a register of all such bonds, in which shall be entered the local improvement districts for which the same were issued and the number and total amount of each bond, with terms of payment. [L. '09, p. 800, § 16.]

§ 4198. Removal of Lien by Payment—Bonds, Interest on, and Calls for.—The owner of any lot or parcel of land charged with any assessment, as hereinbefore provided, may redeem the same from all liability by paying the entire assessment charged against such lot or parcel of land, or part thereof, without interest, within thirty days after notice to him of such assessment, as herein provided, or may redeem same any time after the bonds above specified shall have been issued by paying the full amount of all the principal and interest to the end of the interest year then expiring or next to expire. The board shall pay the interest on the bonds authorized to be issued under this act out of the respective local improvement funds, from which they are payable, and whenever there shall be sufficient money in any of such fund against which bonds have been issued under provisions of this act, over and above the amount necessary for the payment of interest on all unpaid bonds, and sufficient to pay the principal of one or more bonds, the board shall call in and pay such bonds: Provided, said bonds shall be called in and paid in their numerical order: Provided further, that such call shall be made by publication in one or more newspapers on the day following the delinquencies of the installment of the assessment, or as soon thereafter as practicable and shall state that bonds Nos. —— (giving serial number and numbers of the bonds called) will be paid on the day the interest coupons on such bonds shall become due, and interest upon such bonds shall cease upon such date. [L. '09, p. 804, § 17.]

§ 4199. Road Districts Assessed for Benefits—Payment by County. Whenever any highways, roads, or bridges, are maintained by either county in which a diking and drainage district may be established, as herein provided, and it shall appear that the construction and maintenance of such diking and drainage system will be beneficial to such highways, roads, and bridges, or which will be beneficial to such highways, roads and bridges as may thereafter be constructed or maintained by the county, in which any part of the system of dikes and drains is situated, then the board of county commissioners of such county may, and it shall be the duty of such board to appropriate to such diking and drainage district an amount of money sufficient to pay the proportionate share of such county in accordance with the benefits received or to be received; and whenever it may appear to the board of county commissioners of any county that any improvements made or to be made in any diking or drainage district under the provisions of this act, shall on account of the health of the people of the county be beneficial in respect thereto, the board of county commissioners may make an appropriation of money to such diking and drainage district in such an amount as to such board may seem proper. [L. '09, p. 804, § 18.]

Compare, §§ 4153, 4154, supra.

§ 4200. Payment by Cities—Levy for.—Whenever it shall appear to the city council of any incorporated city or town not included or not wholly included within the limits of any diking or drainage district established hereunder, which incorporated city or town may be within a county in which a portion of such district is located that the construction and maintenance of such diking and drainage system will be beneficial to the health of the inhabitants of said incorporated city and to the general welfare of the said city, then the city council of said city is hereby empowered and authorized to appropriate such amount of money out of the general funds of the city as may to the city council seem proper and just to such diking and drainage system, or the city council may for such purpose levy an assessment upon all the property in said city subject to taxation by said city, which shall not exceed one-half mill for each dollar of property. [L. '09, p. 805, § 19.]

§ 4201. District may Condemn Right of Way.—In the construction and maintenance of the improvements herein provided for, the said district may acquire by purchase or otherwise, and by the exercise of the right of eminent domain, any right of way through, over and across any property situated without said district which may be necessary or proper to the completion of the system of improvements. [L. '09, p. 805, § 20.]

§ 4202. Duties of Officers of Board—Quorum.—The chairman of the board shall preside at all meetings and shall have the right to vote upon all questions the same as other members, and shall perform such duties in addition to those in this act prescribed as may be fixed by the board. The secretary of the board shall perform the duties in this act prescribed, and such other duties as may be fixed by the board. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but it shall require a majority of the entire board to authorize any action by the board. [L. '09, p. 806, § 21.]

§ 4203. County Treasurer to Collect Assessments—Disbursements. The treasurer of each county shall collect the taxes levied and assessed hereunder upon all that portion of the property situated within the county for which the treasurer is acting. The treasurer of the county in which the smaller or minor portion of the taxes are to be collected shall forward the amount collected by him quarterly each year on the first Monday in January, April, July and October, to the treasurer of the county in which the larger or major portion of the taxes are to be collected. The treasurer of the county in which the larger portion of the taxes have been levied and assessed shall be the disbursing officer of such diking and drainage district, and shall pay out the funds of such district upon orders drawn by the chairman and secretary of the board acting under authority of the board, and shall be the treasurer of the fund. [L. '09, p. 806, § 22.]

§ 4204. Sale for Assessments—Procedure—Notice, Deed, Report, etc.—Purchaser's Rights.—If any of the installment of taxes are not paid as herein provided, the county treasurer shall sell all lots or parcels of land on which taxes have been levied and assessed, whether in the name of the designated owner or the name of an unknown owner, to satisfy all delinquent and unpaid assessments, interests, penalties and costs. The treasurer must commence the sale of property upon which taxes are delinquent within sixty days after the same become delinquent, and continue such sale from day to day thereafter until all the lots and parcels of land upon which taxes have not been paid are sold. Such sales shall take place at the front door of the courthouse. The proper treasurer shall give notice of such sales by publishing a notice thereof once a week for two successive weeks in two or more newspapers published within the district, or if no such newspaper is published within the district, then within any two or more newspapers having a general circulation in such district; such notice shall contain a list of all lots and parcels of land upon which such assessments are delinquent, with the amount of interest, penalty and cost at the date of sale, including costs of advertising had upon each of such lots, pieces or parcels of land, together with the names of the owners thereof, if known to the treasurer, or the word "unknown" if unknown to the treasurer, and shall specify the time and place of sale, and that the several lots or parcels of land therein described, or so much as may be necessary, will be sold to satisfy the assessment, interest, penalty and cost due upon each. All such sales shall be made between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 3 o'clock P. M. Such sales shall be made in the manner now prescribed by the general laws of this state for the sale of property for delinquent taxes, and certificates and deeds shall be made to the purchasers and redemptions made as is now prescribed by the general laws of this state in the manner and upon the terms therein specified: Provided, that no tax deeds shall be made until after the expiration of one year after the issuance of the certificate, and during such year any person interested may redeem. A certificate of purchase shall be issued to the district for all lots and parcels of land not sold. Certificates issued to the district shall be delivered to the board of commissioners of the district. The board of commissioners of the district may sell and transfer any such certificate to any person who is willing to pay to the district the amount for which the lot or parcel of land therein described was stricken off to the district, with the interest subsequently accrued thereon. Within ten days after the completion of sale of all lots, pieces and parcels of land authorized to be sold as aforesaid, the treasurer must make a return to the board of commissioners with a statement of the doings thereon, showing all lots and parcels of land sold by him, to whom sold and the sum paid therefor. The purchaser at improvement sales acquires a lien on the lot, piece or parcel of land sold for the amount paid by him at such sales for all delinquent taxes and assessments, and all costs and charges thereon, whether levied previously or subsequently to such sale, subsequently paid by him on the lot or parcel of land, and shall be entitled to interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum from the date of such payment. [L. '09 p. 806, § 23.]

§ 4205. Disposal of Lands Bid in by District.—The board of commissioners of the district shall have the power to sell, lease and dispose of any and all lands which may be acquired by it by virtue of deeds issued to it by the treasurer for lands not redeemed from sale, and the funds derived from any disposition of such land shall become the fund of the district to be used for the benefit of the district under the direction of its board of commissioners. [L. '09, p. 808, § 24.]

§ 4206. Cancellation of Lien on Part of Land.—When a piece, lot, or tract of land has been assessed in one body, if the same is subsequently subdivided by the owner, or there should be purchasers of different portions of such tract, then the owner or purchaser may pay the taxes upon such piece or tract of land, paying the proportion which is proper upon such separate piece or tract. [L. '09, p. 808, § 25.]

§ 4207. Improvement of Watercourses, etc.—The board shall have power and authority to straighten, widen, deepen and improve any and all rivers, watercourses or streams, whether navigable or otherwise, flowing through or located within the boundaries of such district; and the beds of any streams or rivers which may be changed, shall become the property of the district, and the board shall have the power to sell and dispose of the same, or exchange the same or any portion thereof for other lands. [L. '09, p. 808, § 26.]

§ 4208. Condemnation of State and Municipal Lands.—Any district created hereunder is hereby granted the right to exercise the power of eminent domain against any lands or other property belonging to the state of Washington or any municipality thereof, and such power of eminent domain shall be exercised under and by the same procedure as is now, or may hereafter be, provided by the laws of this state for the exercise of the right of eminent domain by ordinary railroad corporations. [L. '09, p. 808, § 27.]

See infra, §§ 4251–4255 and 6872–6882, assessments on state lands.

§ 4209. Adjournments.—The board of commissioners shall have power to adjourn any and all proceedings before them from time to time. [L. '09, p. 809, § 28.]

§ 4210. Notice to Agent.—When any notice is required to be given to the owner under any of the provisions of this chapter, such notice shall be given to the agent instead of the owner, in case the owner prior to the giving of the notice required by the board or proper officer has filed with the board or proper officer the name of the agent with his postoffice address. [L. '09, p. 809, § 29.]

§ 4211. Reassessments.—If because of a substantial reduction of the amount of the assessment upon any lands, the result would be to leave the amount of the assessment upon other lands insufficient, or if for any cause the assessment should be held invalid or become inoperative, then the board shall have power to make a reassessment of all lands to the same extent as the original assessment. [L. '09, p. 809, § 30.]

§ 4212. Annual Tax Levy for Maintenance.—It shall be the duty of the board to levy an annual tax upon all property within the district, for the purpose of maintaining such diking and drainage system. Such levy shall be made and the taxes collected in the manner now provided by law for the levying and collection of school district taxes. [L. '09, p. 809, § 31.]

§ 4213. Rules and Regulations.—The board shall have power and authority to make rules and regulations for the purpose of carrying into effect any of the provisions of this chapter. [L. '09, p. 809, § 32.]

§ 4214. Compensation of Commissioners—Vouchers for Expenses. The members of the board shall receive as compensation the sum of five dollars per day for each day while engaged in the actual performance of their duties, and in addition thereto their actual incurred expenses in the performance of their duties: Provided, that the board may fix a different salary for the secretary thereof in lieu of the per diem. The salary and expenses shall be paid by the treasurer of the fund, upon orders made by the board. Each member of the board must before being paid for expenses, take vouchers therefor from the person or persons to whom the particular amount was paid, and must also make affidavit that the amounts were necessarily incurred and expended in the performance of his duties. [L. '09, p. 809, § 33.]

CHAPTER IV.

Private Ditches.

§ 4215. Private Parties Authorized to Establish Ditches.—The owner or owners of any land which requires drainage and which is so situated that it is necessary to the proper drainage of the same to construct ditches or drains across the lands of others, may obtain the location and establishment of such ditch or drain across such lands, in the manner provided in this act. [L. '99, p. 239, § 1.]

"Act" in this section refers to §§ 4215–4225. See, also, § 4265, infra, for authorization of private ditches.

§ 4216. Petition, Contents of.—The person or persons desiring the location and establishment of such ditch or drain may file in the superior court of the county in which the lands sought to be appropriated are situated, a petition showing the name of the petitioner or petitioners; a description of the lands to [be] benefited, and of those over which the ditch would pass, and setting forth the name of every owner, encumbrancer, or other person or party interested in the lands over which said ditch would pass, or any part thereof, so far as the same can be ascertained from the public records of the county. Such petition shall also show the object for which the lands are sought to be appropriated, the necessity for the appropriation, and the length, width and depth of the ditch on the lands of each separate owner, with a description of said ditch, as nearly as practicable; and shall also set out the estimated damage to the lands of each owner to be crossed by such ditch. [L. '99, p. 239, § 2.]

§ 4217. Petitioner must File Cost Bond.—The petitioner, or someone in his behalf, shall enter into a bond in the penal sum of one hundred dollars, with two or more sureties, to be approved by the clerk of said court, payable to the state of Washington, conditioned that the petitioner or petitioners will pay all costs and expenses incurred in the proceeding; which said bond shall be filed with the petition. [L. '99, p. 240, § 3.]

§ 4218. Viewers—Appointment and Duties.—Upon the filing of said petition the court shall appoint three viewers, two of whom shall be resident freeholders of said county, and not interested in the result of the proceeding, and the other the county surveyor of the county in which the lands are situated (unless said county surveyor shall be a party in interest, in which case some other competent surveyor shall be appointed in his place who shall receive the same compensation as is allowed by law to county surveyors) who shall, upon a day to be fixed by the court, in the order appointing them, view the lands of the petitioner and the lands which said proposed ditch or drain is to cross, for the purpose of determining: First, whether there is a necessity for the establishment of a ditch; and, second, the most practicable route for said ditch to run, if the same be necessary. The clerk of said court shall furnish to said viewers a certified copy of the order appointing them, which shall warrant them entering upon the lands described in the petition for the purpose of viewing the same. [L. '99, p. 240, § 4.]

§ 4219. Report of Viewers and Plat to be Filed.—When said viewers shall have made said examination they shall, within ten days after the day appointed by the court for such examination, report to the court, in writing, (filing the same with the clerk of said court) their decision as to the necessity for said ditch and if they deem such ditch necessary, then the county surveyor shall file with such report an accurate description and plat of the proposed ditch, showing the course thereof as recommended by the viewers. The viewers shall also estimate the amount of damage which each separate owner would suffer by reason of the construction thereof. [L. '99, p. 241, § 5.]

§ 4220. Summons to Land Owners—Contents and Form.—Upon the filing of the report of the viewers aforesaid, a summons shall be issued in the same manner as summonses are issued in civil actions, and served upon each person owning or interested in any lands over which the proposed ditch or drain will pass. Said summons must inform the person to whom it is directed of the appointment and report of the viewers; a description of the land over which said ditch will pass of which such person is the owner, or in which he has an interest; the width and depth of said proposed ditch, and the distance which it traverses said land, also an accurate description of the course thereof. It must also show the amount of damages to said land as estimated by said viewers; and that unless the person so summoned appears and files objections to the report of the viewers, within twenty days after the service of said summons upon him, exclusive of the day of service, the same will be approved by the court, which summons may be in the following form:

In the Superior Court of the State of Washington, for —— county.

In the Matter of the Application of —— for a Private Ditch.

The State of Washington to ——.

Whereas, on the —— day of ——, 19—, —— filed his petition in the above-entitled court praying that a private ditch or drain be established across the following described lands, to wit: —— for the purpose of draining certain lands belonging to said ——, and whereas, on the —— day of ——, 19—, Messrs. —— and —— with —— county surveyor of —— county, were appointed to view said premises in the manner provided by law, and said viewers having, on the —— day of ——, 19—, filed their report in this court, finding in favor of said ditch and locating the same upon the following course: —— for a distance of—— upon said land, and of a width of —— feet and a depth of —— feet; and they further find that said land will be damaged by the establishing and construction of said ditch in the sum of $——: Now therefore, you are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and file your objections to said petition and the report of said viewers, with this court; and in case of your failure so to do, said report will be approved and said petition granted.

—— ——,
Plaintiff's Attorney.
P. O. Address, ——.

§ 4221. Service by Publication.—In case any person interested in any of the lands to be crossed by such ditch, as aforesaid, does not reside in the county, or cannot be found therein, or conceals himself so that personal service cannot be had upon him, upon proof thereof being made satisfactorily to appear to said court, said summons may be served by publication, in the same manner and with like effect as is done in civil actions: Provided, that no other or different form of summons shall be required for publication than is required for personal service. [L. '99, p. 242, § 7.]

§ 4222. Hearing—Procedure.—Upon the expiration of the time within which exceptions may be filed to the report of the viewers aforesaid, the court shall set a day upon which the petition and the report of the viewers shall be heard and considered by the court. In case exceptions have been filed by any party or parties, which exceptions must have been served upon the petitioner or petitioners prior to the hearing, the court shall hear evidence in regard thereto, and without a jury, pass upon the questions of the necessity for said ditch and the location thereof. If the court finds that such ditch is necessary, and the route selected is the best and most practicable, and that the compensation allowed by the viewers is just and reasonable, then the court shall file his findings to this effect and cause an order to be entered approving the petition and report of the viewers. If, within twenty days from the filing of the findings of facts aforesaid, the petitioner or petitioners shall pay into court all the costs and sums awarded to the owner or owners of the land over which said ditch shall pass, a decree shall be entered establishing the same: Provided, if any party shall except to the amount of damages found by the viewers, then the amount of such damages shall be tried by jury, unless a jury trial be waived by the parties, in which case trial thereof may be had by the court. Such trial shall be at a regular term of said court, at which a jury shall be present, and shall be conducted and verdict rendered in the same manner as in civil actions: Provided further, that it shall not be incumbent on the petitioner to pay into court the amount of the award or awards of said jury, until within twenty days after said verdict shall have been rendered and entered. [L. '99, p. 242, § 8.]

§ 4223. Appeal.—No appeal shall be taken from the finding of the court as to the necessity of such ditch or as to the route thereof until after final judgment or decree is entered: Provided, that exceptions shall be taken and allowed to such orders at the time that they are made and appeal from such orders and from the award of damages shall be taken at the same time. All the provisions of the law in regard to appeals in civil actions shall apply to the proceedings provided for in this act. [L. '99, p. 243, § 9.]

§ 4224. Compensation of Viewers—Costs.—The viewers appointed under the provisions of this act shall receive the sum of two dollars per day for their services, and the county surveyor shall receive such compensation as is allowed by law for like services, the same to be taxed as costs and paid by the petitioner. All other costs shall be the same as in civil actions in the superior court. [L. '99 p. 243, § 10.]

"Act," in this section, refers to §§ 4215–4225.

§ 4225. Report Rejected—New Viewers Appointed.—In case the court should not for any reason adopt the report of the viewers, or the same should be deemed insufficient for any reason, the court may appoint other viewers whose duties shall be the same as the duties of the viewers first appointed. [L. '99, p. 243, § 11.]

§ 4226–1. Private Drainage Systems.—Whenever one or more persons whose land will be benefited thereby shall desire to have a drainage system established and constructed or any part of an existing drainage system other than those organized under the provisions of sections 4137 to 4181 straightened, widened, altered, deepened or otherwise improved, and shall not desire to incorporate as a drainage district under the provisions of sections 4137 to 4181 and the acts amendatory and supplemental thereto, or there shall not be a sufficient number to be benefited by such system to form a drainage district as in said chapter and the acts amendatory and supplemental thereto provided, proceedings for the construction or improvement of such system shall be as provided for in this act. [L. '13, p. 611, § 1.]

"Act" in this section refers to §§ 4226–1 to 4226–41.

§ 4226–2. Definitions.—"Drainage system" as used in this act shall be held to include a ditch, drain or watercourse and any side, lateral, spur or branch ditch, drain or watercourse necessary to secure the object of the improvement. Two or more ditches, drains or watercourses with their laterals, spurs, and branches with separate outlets may be included in one system and constructed as a part thereof when such separate systems will draw wholly or in part from the same body of soil water. But no system shall be established or constructed unless sufficient outlet or outlets are provided, which outlet or outlets may be either within or without the boundaries of the improvement district hereinafter provided for. Any natural watercourse may be improved in accordance with the provisions of this act.

"Damages" as used in this act shall be held to include the value of property taken and injury to property not taken, or either, as the case may be. "Property benefited" and "property damaged" as used in this act shall be held to include land, platted or unplatted, whether subject to or exempt from general taxation and roads other than public roads. "Public roads" as used in this act shall be held to include state and county roads, streets, alleys and other public places; and "other roads" as used in this act shall be held to include railroads, street railroads, interurban railroads, logging roads, tramways and private roads, and the rights of way, roadbeds and tracks thereof.

"Public utilities" as used in this act shall be held to include irrigation, power and other canals, flumes, conduits and ditches, telegraph, telephone and electric transmission and pole lines, and oil, gas and other pipe lines. "County engineer" as used in this act shall be held to include any engineer specially employed by the board of county commissioners or the board of supervisors to report upon and prepare plans for or to superintend the construction of a drainage system under the provisions of this act. "Prosecuting attorney" as used in this act shall be held to include any attorney specially employed by the board of county commissioners in connection with the carrying out of the provisions of this act to advise or carry on proceedings in court with reference to a drainage system initiated and constructed under the provisions of this act. [L. '13, p. 612, § 2.]

sioners of the county or counties in which such system of drainage or proposed system or any part thereof may be, signed by one or more of the owners of property which will be benefited thereby. The petition shall be filed with the clerk of the board of county commissioners, and shall set forth the necessity for the improvement, and shall describe with reasonable certainty the route and termini thereof; and there shall be filed therewith a bond payable to the county, with good and sufficient surety, to be approved by the board of county commissioners, in a sum of not less than two hundred dollars, conditioned for the payment of all expenses which may have been incurred in the proceedings, in case the prayer of the petition be not granted or the petition be dismissed for any cause. If at any time it shall appear to the board of county commissioners that the bond filed with the petition is not sufficient in amount to cover the expenses which will be necessarily incurred in the proceedings, the board may order an additional bond in such an amount as it shall direct to be given. [L. '13, p. 613, § 3.]

§ 4226–4. View and Report.—Upon the filing of the petition and the approval of the bond, the clerk of the board shall deliver a copy of said petition to the county engineer, who shall at once proceed to view the line of the proposed improvement and the property to be affected thereby and determine whether the improvement is in his opinion necessary or will be conducive to public health, convenience or welfare and whether in his opinion the line or lines described constitute the best route, what, if any, branches mentioned in the petition are in his judgment unnecessary, and what, if any, additional branches should be added thereto or changes made therein, and shall report to and file his findings in writing with the board of county commissioners. [L. '13, p. 613, § 4.]

§ 4226–5. Adverse Report.—If the report of the county engineer shall be against the improvement, the board of county commissioners shall dismiss the petition at the cost of the petitioners, and shall cause an itemized bill of all the costs to be made up by the clerk for its examination and approval, including the per diem of the county engineer, and all other costs necessarily incurred except the fees of the clerk and the compensation of the county commissioners, and if such costs are not paid by the petitioners on demand they shall be recovered in an action on the bond. [L. '13, p. 614, § 5.]

§ 4226–6. Favorable Report—Survey—Plat.—If the report of the county engineer shall be in favor of said improvement, the board of county commissioners shall give the improvement district a number, being its serial number in the order of time of its formation among the improvement districts of the county formed under this act, beginning with the next number following the last serial number of any drainage district organized and existing in said county, if any and thereafter such district shall be designated as Drainage Improvement District Number —— of —— County, and the board shall cause to be entered on its journal an order directing the county engineer to go upon the lines described in the petition, or as changed by him in his report, and survey, and take levels on the same and set a stake at every hundred feet, numbering down stream, and note the intersection of property lines and boundaries, township, city and county lines, and road crossings, and make a report, profile and plat of the same; also to make an estimate of the cost of construction of such drainage system itemized so as to be reasonably specific as to the various parts thereof: Provided, that such estimate of the cost shall be held to be preliminary only and shall not be binding as a limit on the amount that may be expended in constructing such drainage system. The clerk of the board shall prepare and keep a special index in which he shall note all proceedings had and all papers filed in connection with such drainage improvement district. [L. '13, p. 614, § 6.]

§ 4226–7. Estimate of Property Damaged.—The board shall also by order entered on the journal, direct the county engineer to make and return a schedule and estimate of all property that will be damaged, or both damaged and benefited by the proposed improvement, and to estimate and report the total number of acres that will be benefited by the proposed improvement and to specify the manner in which the proposed improvement is to be made and the number, kind, location and dimensions of all waterways, ditches, outlets, flood-gates, bridges and crossings. Schedules of property to be damaged or damaged and benefited shall be arranged in parallel columns, with appropriate headings, and shall show the description of the property, and if land, give the legal subdivision, section, township and range, and number of acres; and if platted, the name of the plat and lot and block number; the name of the owner or owners or reputed owner or owners; the estimated gross damages that will be sustained by reason of the proposed improvement; the estimated gross benefits that will accrue; and the right-hand column of the schedule shall be sufficiently wide for the signature of the owner, and shall bear the heading: "I, the undersigned owner of the property opposite which I have signed my name, accept and agree to the estimated amount of benefits and damages that will accrue to my property by reason of the proposed improvement." [L. '13, p. 615, § 7.]

§ 4226–8. Plat to Show Details.—The plat provided for in section 4226–6, shall be drawn upon a scale sufficiently large to show all the meanderings of the proposed improvement, and shall distinctly show the boundaries of each lot or tract of land and the location of each public or other road and sewer system to be benefited thereby, and so far as known, the name of the owner of each lot or tract of land and the authorities or corporation having in charge or owning or controlling each public or other road and sewer system affected, the distance in feet through each tract or parcel of land crossed by the proposed improvement, together with such other matters as the county engineer shall deem material, and the profile shall show the surface, and grade lines and the gradient fixed. The county engineer shall make and file with his report an itemized bill of costs incurred in the proper discharge of his duties under this act and the preceding sections, and shall report the same to the clerk of the board of county commissioners within ten days after the completion of the survey. [L. '13, p. 615, § 8.]

§ 4226–9. Hearing on Report of Engineer—Notice.—Upon the filing of the report of the county engineer, the board of county commissioners shall immediately fix a date for a hearing on such report, and the clerk of the board shall give notice thereof by publication in three successive weekly issues of the official newspaper of the county, and also, if so directed by the board, in one other weekly newspaper to be designated by the board, published in or near the proposed improvement district and of general circulation therein. Said notice shall fix the time and place for said hearing and shall specify the territory to be included in the proposed improvement district, both by boundaries and also by sections or fractions thereof. Such notice shall also designate with reasonable certainty the route and termini of the proposed improvement, and shall state that the plat, report and schedule on file in the office of the board of county commissioners show the property to be taken or damaged, and the amount of damages proposed to be allowed therefor. The last publication of such notice shall be not less than seven or not more than fourteen days before the date of said hearing. Said hearing, and also the hearing hereinafter provided, for fixing the apportionment of the cost of said improvement, may either or both of them be held at a place other than the county seat, and more convenient to the lands affected, if the board of county commissioners shall so order. The county engineer shall attend and have at such hearing his plats, plans, reports and schedules in relation to the proposed improvement, and the clerk of the board of county commissioners shall also attend and have at such hearing all petitions, claims, objections and other papers and documents relating to said improvement on file in his office. [L. '13, p. 616, § 9.]

§ 4226–10. Hearing—Evidence—Amended Report.—On the date set for said hearing the board of county commissioners shall meet at the place designated in the notice, and if it appear that due notice of such hearing has been given, shall proceed with the hearing on the report of the county engineer, and any objections thereto, and may adjourn said hearing from time to time. At said hearing, the board shall hear all pertinent evidence, including any evidence offered concerning the probable cost of the system and the probable benefits to accrue therefrom, and may change, add to or modify the plans for such drainage system and the boundaries of the improvement district, and change the estimate of damages and benefits in any case, and may review, change and modify any of the findings and estimates of the county engineer, and may, in its discretion, employ another engineer to make separate findings on any or all of the matters hereinbefore required to be included in the report of the county engineer, and may adjourn said hearing and await such report; or may discontinue proceedings in regard to the proposed improvement, at the cost of the petitioners therefor, if the board shall determine that the construction of the proposed improvement is not warranted by the benefits to be derived therefrom. In case any change in the plans of the proposed improvement is made at said hearing, and such change will cause additional damages to any property, or will damage any property not damaged under the original plans, the county engineer shall prepare and file a schedule, showing the estimated damages and benefits under such changed plans, and notice of the filing of such schedule shall be served upon the owners of the properties affected, and settlements made as hereinafter provided. [L. '13, p. 617, § 10.]

§ 4226–11. Deeds to be Executed—Consideration.—In case any owner of property to be damaged by the proposed improvement shall agree to accept the damages estimated by the engineer, or as fixed by the board of county commissioners, the board shall direct and the clerk of the board shall prepare a deed to be approved by the county engineer and the prosecuting attorney, conveying to the county for the benefit of the proposed district the property to be taken, and the right to damage property not taken. If the damages agreed upon are equalled or exceeded by the agreed estimated benefits, the grantors in the deed shall excute and deliver the same without consideration other than the right to have the damages offset against the benefits in the apportionment of the cost of the improvement as hereinafter provided. If the damages agreed upon are damages to property not benefited, or if such damages exceed the agreed benefits, the grantors in the deed shall execute and deliver the same upon the receipt of a warrant drawn by the county auditor under the direction of the board of county commissioners upon the current expense fund of the county, for the amount of damages or the amount of excess of damages over benefits, as the case may be. No such deed shall be accepted, either with or without consideration, until the title conveyed thereby has been approved by the prosecuting attorney. [L. 13, p. 618, § 11.]

§ 4226-12. Agent to Secure Deeds.—If at the conclusion of the the hearing provided for in section 4226-10 it shall appear to the board of county commissioners that the owner of any property to be damaged by the proposed improvements has not accepted and agreed to the damages estimated by the engineer or fixed by the board, the board may, in its discretion, appoint an agent to secure acceptances and deeds from such owners and shall, within a reasonable time, direct the prosecuting attorney of the county to institute proceedings in the superior court of the county in which the property affected is located, for the determination of the damages to be sustained and the condemnation of any property the title to which or the right to damage which has not been acquired, and shall direct the clerk of the board to furnish the attorney with a certified copy of such proceedings of the board as he shall require. [L. '13, p. 618, § 12.]

§ 4226-13. Eminent Domain by County.—For the purpose of taking or damaging property for the purposes of this act, counties shall have and exercise the power of eminent domain in behalf of the proposed improvement district, and the mode of procedure therefor shall be as provided by law for the condemnation of lands by counties for public highways. [L. '13, p. 619, § 13.]

Cited in 82 Wash. 440-442.

§ 4226-14. Benefits Offset.—The jury in such condemnation proceedings shall find and return a verdict for the amount of damages sustained: Provided, that the jury, in determining the amount of damages, shall take into consideration the benefits, if any, that will accrue to the property damaged by reason of the proposed improvement, and shall make special findings in the verdict of the gross amount of damages to be sustained and the gross amount of benefits that will accrue. If it shall appear by the verdict of the jury that the gross damages exceed the gross benefits, judgment shall be entered against the county, and in favor of the owner or owners of the property damaged, in the amount of the excess damages over the benefits, and for costs of the proceedings, and upon payment of the judgment into the registry of the court for the owner or owners, a decree of appropriation shall be entered, vesting the title to the property appropriated in the county for the benefit of the improvement district. If it shall appear by the verdict that the gross benefits as found by the jury equal or exceed the gross damages, judgment shall be entered against the county and in favor of the owner or owners for the costs only, and upon payment of the judgment for costs a decree of appropriation shall be entered, vesting the title to the property appropriated in the county for the benefit of the improvement district. The verdict and findings of the jury as to damages and benefits shall be binding upon the board appointed to apportion the cost of the improvement upon the property benefited as hereinafter provided. [L. '13, p. 619, § 14.]

§ 4226–15. Warrant for Damages.—Upon the settlement of the claims for damages as provided in section 4226–11, or upon the entry of judgment as provided in section 4226–14, the county auditor shall, under the direction of the board of county commissioners, draw his warrant upon the county treasurer for the payment of the amount of damages agreed to or the amount of the judgment, as the case may be, to be paid out of the current expense fund of the county. [L. '13, p. 620, § 15.]

§ 4226–16. Construction of System.—When the board of county commissioners shall have finally determined and fixed the route and plans for the proposed drainage system and the boundaries of the improvement district, and when it shall appear that the damages for property to be taken or damaged have been settled in the manner hereinabove provided, or when it shall appear that such damages have been settled as to a particular portion of the proposed improvement, and that construction of such portion of such proposed improvement is feasible, the board of county commissioners shall proceed with the construction of the improvement or of such portion thereof, as the case may be. [L. '13, p. 620, § 16.]

§ 4226–17. Cost of Improvement—Property Benefited—Payments—Bonds.—The cost of the improvement shall be paid by assessment upon the property benefited. The assessment shall bear interest until paid at such rate, not to exceed eight per cent per annum, as the board of county commissioners shall determine. At the hearing provided for in section 4226–10 the board of county commissioners shall determine in what manner and within how many years said assessment shall be paid, and shall also at said meeting determine whether the evidences of indebtedness for the cost of said improvement shall be warrants or bonds. If warrants, it shall fix not to exceed five yearly installments for the payment of said assessments, and if bonds, it shall fix either ten or fifteen years for the payment thereof. Such assessments may be graduated so that the heavier installments shall fall in the later years. In case warrants are to be issued, no yearly installment shall be less than one-tenth, nor more than three-tenths of the entire assessment; and in case bonds are to be issued for ten years, the installments shall be as follows:

For the 1st year..... .... 5%
For the 2d year..... .... 5%
For the 3d year..... .... 5%

For the 4th year.....10%
For the 5th year.....10%
For the 6th year.....10%
For the 7th year.....10%
For the 8th year.....10%
For the 9th year.....15%
For the 10th year.....15%

and in case bonds are to be issued for fifteen years the installments shall be as follows:

For the 1st and 2d years, interest only.
For the 3d year..... 3%
For the 4th year..... 4%
For the 5th year..... 5%
For the 6th year..... 5%
For the 7th year..... 6%
For the 8th year..... 7%
For each succeeding year.....10%

Such bonds shall be interest-bearing coupon bonds, and of such denominations of not less than $100 nor more than $500 as the county commissioners shall by resolution prescribe, and shall recite that they are secured to be paid by assessments upon the property of Drainage Improvement District No. ——, of —— County, and that they are not a general obligation of such county. They shall be payable in their serial order on the call of the treasurer, whenever at any coupon date there shall be sufficient money in the fund of the district against which they are issued over and above that necessary for the payment of interest on all outstanding bonds, to pay the principal of one or more bonds. The treasurer shall give notice of such call by publication in the county official newspaper, in two successive weekly issues thereof, the second of which shall be not less than seven nor more than fourteen days before the annual interest date, stating that bonds Nos. —— (giving their serial number or numbers) will be paid on the date the next interest coupons on said bonds shall become due, and interest upon such bonds shall thereupon cease upon such date. Each warrant and bond shall bear the date of its issuance, and recite that it is payable on or before the —— day of ——, 19—, which shall be —— months after the last installment of the assessment shall become due, and shall be signed by a majority of the board of county commissioners and attested by the county auditor under his seal, and each coupon shall have printed thereon a facsimile of the signatures of such officers. The county treasurer shall register said warrants and bonds in a book kept for that purpose and shall certify on each thereof under his seal that it has been so registered and that the signatures thereon are the genuine signatures of said county commissioners and the county auditor, and that the seal attached is the seal of the county auditor. Such warrants and bonds shall not be issued in any amount in excess of the cost and expense of the improvement. [L. '13, p. 620, § 17.]

§ 4226–18. Sale of Bonds or Warrants.—The board of county commissioners may, under such regulations and on such notice as they may determine, sell the warrants and bonds or any part thereof, issued under the provisions of this act, and pay the proceeds thereof into a fund to be used for the purpose of paying the cost and expenses of the improvement. Any warrants or bonds issued under the provisions of this act or such portions thereof as shall remain unsold or undisposed of may be issued to the contractor constructing the improvement or any part thereof in payment therefor, and in case the improvement or any part thereof shall be constructed by the board of supervisors as in this act provided, may be issued in payment for work, labor and material performed and furnished therefor. [L. '13, p. 622, § 18.]

§ 4226–19. Election—Notice.—Upon the determination by the board of county commissioners to proceed with the work of construction, said board shall order an election to be held in some place within the district to be designated by the board, and shall appoint an election board to consist of one inspector and two judges, who shall qualify in like manner and receive like compensation as election officers at general elections. Notice of said election shall be given by the clerk of the board of county commissioners by publication in two consecutive weekly issues of a newspaper to be designated by the board and of general circulation in the district, the last of which publications shall be not less than seven or more than fourteen days prior to the date of said election, and such notice shall also be posted by the sheriff of the county not less than fourteen days prior to the date of said election, in three of the most public places in the district. All electors of the county owning land in the district shall be entitled to vote at said election and at the annual elections hereinafter provided for. [L. '13, p. 622, § 19.]

§ 4226–20. Two Supervisors Elected—Terms of Office.—At the election provided for in the preceding section, two qualified electors of the county owning land in the district shall be elected, who, with the county engineer, shall constitute the first board of supervisors of said district. The board of supervisors shall have charge of the construction and maintenance of the drainage system of the district, subject to the limitations hereinafter set forth, and may employ a superintendent of construction and maintenance, who may be one of the two elected supervisors. The supervisor receiving the highest number of votes shall hold office until one year after the first annual election of the district and until his successor is elected and qualified, and the other supervisor shall hold office until his successor is elected at the first annual election and shall have qualified. The elected supervisor shall qualify by taking the usual oath of office of county and precinct officers, and by giving a bond in an amount to be fixed and with surety to be approved by the board of county commissioners. On the second Tuesday of December in the year following the election hereinabove provided for and annually thereafter, there shall be elected one supervisor of such district, who shall hold office for the term of two years and until his successor is elected and qualified. Such annual election shall be held upon the same notice and under the same regulations and in the same manner as the first election hereinbefore provided for: Provided, that any drainage improvement districts established under this act, or heretofore established under sections 4226 to 4250, not including any city or town and not less than two thousand acres in extent including all additions thereto, notice of annual elections of supervisors shall be given by posting only. [L. '13, p. 623, § 20.]

§ 4226–21. Elections in Districts Heretofore Organized.—In all drainage districts heretofore organized and now existing under the provisions of sections 4226 to 4250, in which an improvement or extension of the existing drainage system is initiated under the provisions of this act during the year 1913, an election of supervisors shall be held in the manner provided for the first election in drainage improvement districts organized under the provisions of this act, and in such districts in which no improvements are initiated during the year 1913, the first election shall be held on the second Tuesday in December, 1913. The supervisors of such districts now in office shall, unless sooner removed as provided by the act of 1901, hold office until their successors elected under this act shall have qualified. [L. '13, p. 624, § 21.]

§ 4226–22. Board to Construct Ditch.—The said board of supervisors shall, immediately upon their election and qualification, begin the construction of such drainage system at the outlet or outlets thereof, and at such other points as may be deemed advisable from time to time, and shall proceed with the construction thereof in accordance with the plans adopted therefor: Provided, that in the construction of said drainage system the board of supervisors with the approval of the board of county commissioners may change the original plans, cross-sections, gradients, depth and other features of the system, and may construct lining, bulkheading or riprapping wherever the same may be found necessary or advisable in the course of actual construction; but no essential deviation from the route or alteration of the plans or mode of construction of the system shall be made that will increase the cost of the entire system by more than one-fifth, and no deviation of route requiring additional or different right of way shall be made until title thereto has been first obtained: Provided further, that the board of county commissioners may in its discretion let the construction of said drainage system or any portion thereof by contract, in the manner provided for letting contracts for other public works: And provided further, that the board of county commissioners may, upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the United States acting in pursuance of the National Reclamation Act approved June 17, 1902 (32 Statutes at Large 388), and the acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, or in pursuance to any other act of congress appropriate to the purpose, contract for the construction of the drainage system or any part thereof, by the United States, or in co-operation with the United States therein. In such case, no bond shall be required, and the work shall be done under the supervision and control of the proper officers of the United States.

Unless the work of construction is let by contract, as hereinbefore provided, or for such part of such work as is not covered by contract, the board of supervisors shall employ such number of men as shall be necessary to successfully carry on the work of such construction, and shall give preference in such employment to persons owning land to be benefited by the improvement. [L. '13, p. 624, § 22.]

§ 4226–23. Compensation—Claims, How Paid.—The compensation of the board of supervisors, superintendent of construction, the board of appraisers hereinafter provided for, and any special engineer, attorney or agent employed by the board of county commissioners in connection with the improvement, the maximum wages to be paid, and the maximum price of materials to be used, shall be fixed by the board of county commissioners. Each county commissioner shall receive pay at the rate of four dollars per day for the number of days he is engaged in the performance of any duty under this act, which sum shall be additional to his salary in case he receive an annual salary; and none of the statutory provisions limiting the number of days that a county commissioner shall draw pay for or limiting the number of sessions for attendance upon which he shall be entitled to mileage shall apply to any proceedings under this act. All officers and members of boards performing duties under this act shall receive in addition to their fees or salaries their actual necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties hereunder. All costs of construction or maintenance done under the direction of the board of supervisors shall be paid upon vouchers or pay-rolls verified by two of the said supervisors. All costs of construction and all other expenses, fees and charges on account of such improvement shall be paid by warrants upon the county treasurer upon the proper fund, and shall draw interest at such rate not to exceed eight per cent per annum as the board of county commissioners shall fix, until paid or called by the county treasurer as other warrants of the county are called. [L. '13, p. 625, § 23.]

§ 4226–24. Notice to Cross Public Utility.—Whenever in the progress of the construction of the drainage system it shall become necessary to construct a portion of such system across any public or other road or public utility, the board of supervisors, or in case the work is being done by contract the board of county commissioners, shall serve notice in writing upon the authorities, corporation or person having charge of, or controlling or owning such road or public utility, as the case may be, of the present necessity of such crossing, giving the location, kind, dimensions and requirement thereof, for the purpose of the drainage system, and stating a reasonable time, to be fixed by the county engineer, within which plans for such crossing must be filed for approval in case the authorities, corporation or person controlling or owning such road or public utility desire to construct such crossing. As soon as convenient, within the time fixed in the notice, the authorities, corporation or person shall, if they desire to construct such crossing, prepare and submit to the county engineer for approval duplicate detailed plans and specifications for such crossing. Upon submission of such plans, the county engineer shall examine and may modify the same to meet the requirements of the drainage system, and when such plans or modified plans are satisfactory to the county engineer he shall approve the same and return one thereof to the authorities, corporation or person submitting the same, and file the duplicate in his office, and shall notify such authorities, corporation or person of the time within which said crossing must be constructed. Upon the return of such approved plans the authorities, corporation or person controlling such road or public utility shall, within the time fixed by the county engineer, construct such crossing in accordance with the approved plans, and shall thereafter maintain the same. In case such authorities, corporation or person controlling or owning such road or public utility shall fail to file plans for such crossing within the time prescribed in the notice, the board of supervisors or of county commissioners, as the case may be, shall proceed with the construction of such crossing in such manner as will cause no unnecessary injury to or interference with such road or public utility. The cost of construction and maintenance of only such crossings or such portion of such cost as would not have been necessary but for the construction of the drainage system shall be a proper charge against the improvement district, and only so much of such cost as the board of county commissioners shall deem reasonable shall be allowed as a charge against the district in the case of crossings constructed by others than the authorities of the district. The amount of costs of construction by private corporations and persons allowed as a charge against the district by the board of county commissioners shall be credited on the assessments against the property on which the crossing is constructed, and any excess over such assessments shall be paid out of the funds of the district. The cost of construction and maintenance of crossings of public roads shall be paid by the county, city or town maintaining such public road. [L. '13, p. 626, § 24.]

§ 4226–25. Cost of Improvement—Apportionment.—When the improvement is fully completed and accepted by the county engineer, the clerk of the board shall compile and file with the board of county commissioners an itemized statement of the total cost of the improvement, including engineering and election expenses, the cost of publishing and posting notices, damages and costs allowed or awarded for property taken or damaged, including compensation of attorneys, the cost of construction, including the cost of crossings, constructed by the district and the cost of crossings constructed by others and allowed by the board of county commissioners, and including the sums paid or to be paid to the United States, and including all other costs and expenses, including fees, per diem and necessary expenses of nonsalaried officers incurred in connection with the improvement, together with interest on such costs and expenses from the time when incurred at the rate of eight per cent per annum. There shall also be included in said statement, in case the county engineer is a salaried officer, a statement of the services performed by him in connection with said improvement at a per diem of five dollars per day and his necessary expenses, and a reasonable sum to be fixed by the board of county commissioners on account of the services rendered by the prosecuting attorney. Upon the filing of such statement of costs and expenses the board of county commissioners shall revise and correct the same if necessary and add thereto a reasonable sum, not to exceed ten per cent of the total thereof, to cover possible errors in the statement or the apportionment hereinafter provided for, and the cost of such apportionment and other subsequent expenses, and shall appoint a board of appraisers consisting of the county engineer ex officio, and two other competent persons, to apportion the grand total as contained in said statement as hereinafter provided. Each member of said board of appraisers shall take, subscribe and file with the board of county commissioners an oath to faithfully and impartially perform his duties to the best of his ability in making said apportionment, and said board of appraisers shall proceed to carefully examine the drainage system and the public and private property within the district and fairly, justly and equitably apportion the grand total cost of the improvement against the property and the county or counties, cities and towns within the district, in proportion to the benefits accruing thereto. The members of said board of appraisers shall be paid out of the funds of the district such compensation for their services as the board of county commissioners shall fix. [L. '13, p. 628, § 25.]

§ 4226–26. Who are Beneficiaries — Sewage Systems Benefited.—Whenever any drainage system constructed under the provisions of this act will drain the whole or any part of any public road or will so affect such road that the same or the roadbed or track thereof will be benefited or protected thereby, or where any such drainage system will furnish an outlet for or facilitate the construction or maintenance of any sewer system in any city or town, there shall be apportioned against the county in which any such state or county road outside of any incorporated city or town is located or against the city or town in which any such public road is located, or against any such other road or part thereof so drained or affected, or against the city or town for which an outlet for sewage will be furnished or wherein the construction or maintenance of a sewer system will be facilitated, the proper amount of the total sum to be apportioned, and nothing in this section contained shall be so construed as to prevent the apportionment of the proper amount of the total sum to any property other than roads lying within any such county, city or town, in proportion to the benefits accruing thereto. [L. '13, p. 629, § 26.]

§ 4226–27. Irrigation System Benefited.—In the plans for and in the construction of a drainage system in an irrigated region, under the provisions of this act, provision may be made for the prevention of, or affording an outlet for drains to prevent, injury to land from seepage of or saturation by irrigation water, and for the carrying off of necessary waste water from irrigation, and benefits resulting from such provision shall be considered in making the apportionment of the cost of such system. [L. '13, p. 629, § 27.]

§ 4226–28. State Lands.—There shall be apportioned against all state school, granted, and other lands, in the district the proper amount of the total sum to be apportioned in proportion to the benefits accruing thereto. [L. '13, p. 630, § 28.]

§ 4226–29. Apportionment Certified to Municipality.—Upon the completion of the apportionment the board of appraisers shall prepare upon suitable blanks, to be prescribed by the bureau of inspection and supervision of public officers, sign and file with the clerk of the board of county commissioners a schedule giving the name of each county, city and town and the description of each piece of property found to be benefited by the improvement in the following order: First, counties, cities and towns and the respective amounts apportioned thereto for benefits accruing to public roads and sewer systems therein; second, other roads (a) railroads, (b) street railroads, (c) interurban railroads, (d) logging roads, and (e) tramways, giving the location of the particular portion or portions of each road benefited and the respective amounts apportioned thereto; third, unplatted lands giving a description of each tract arranged in the numerical order of the townships, ranges and sections, and giving the legal subdivisions and such other subdivisions and metes and bounds descriptions as may be necessary to show a different rate of apportionment, or different ownership, and giving the respective amounts apportioned to each tract; fourth, platted lands arranged by cities and towns and platted acreage in alphabetical order, giving under each the names of the plats in alphabetical order and the numbers of blocks and lots, and such other subdivisions and metes and bounds descriptions as may be necessary to show a different rate of apportionment, or different ownership, and giving the respective amounts apportioned to each plat, block, lot, or other description, as the case may be. [L. '13, p. 630, § 29.]

§ 4226–30. Notice of Hearing on Apportionment—Hearing—Assessment-roll—Liens.—Upon the filing of the schedule of apportionment the board of county commissioners shall fix the time and place for a hearing thereon, which time shall be not less than thirty nor more than forty days from the date of filing, and notice of such hearing shall be given in the manner provided for giving notice of hearing in section 4226–9, which notice shall fix the time and place of said hearing and shall state that the schedule of the board of appraisers showing the amount of the cost of the improvement apportioned to each county, city, town and piece of property benefited by the improvement is on file in the office of the board of county commissioners and open to public inspection. At or prior to such hearing any persons interested may file with the clerk of the board written objections to any item or items of said apportionment. At such hearing, which may be adjourned from time to time until finally completed, the board of county commissioners shall carefully examine and consider said schedule of apportionments and any objections filed or made thereto, and may add thereto any property benefited by the improvement against which no apportionment has been made, or strike therefrom any property not benefited, and change, modify or reapportion any item thereof, and shall cause the clerk of the board to enter thereon all such additions, cancellations, changes, modifications and reapportionments, all credits for damages allowed or awarded to the owner of any piece of property benefited, but not paid, as provided in section 4226–14; also, a credit in favor of the county on any apportionment against the county, of all sums paid on account of said improvement, as provided in section 4226–15; and all sums allowed the county on account of services rendered by the county engineer or prosecuting attorney, as provided in section 4226–25; and all credits allowed to property owners constructing crossings as provided in section 4226–24. When the board of county commissioners shall have finally determined that the apportionment as filed or as changed and modified by the board is a fair, just and equitable apportionment, and that the proper credits have been entered thereon, the members of the board approving the same shall sign the schedule and cause the clerk of the board to attest their signatures under his seal, and shall enter an order on the journal approving the final apportionment and all proceedings leading thereto and in connection therewith. Thereupon, the county auditor shall prepare an assessment-roll which shall contain, first, a map of the district showing each separate description of property assessed; second, an index of the schedule of apportionments; third, an index of the record of the proceedings had in connection with the improvement; fourth, a copy of the resolution of the board of county commissioners fixing the method of payment of assessments; fifth the warrant of the auditor authorizing the county treasurer to collect assessments; and sixth, the approved schedule of apportionments of assessments; and shall charge the county treasurer with the total amount of the assessment and turn the roll over to the treasurer, for collection in accordance with the resolution of the board of county commissioners fixing the method of payment of assessments. The assessments contained in said assessment-roll shall be liens upon the property assessed, and all such liens shall relate back to and take effect as of the date when the board of county commissioners determined to proceed with the construction of the improvement as provided in section 4226–16. [L. '13, p. 630, § 30.]

§ 4226–31. Funds—Order of Payments.—There shall be established in the county treasury of any county in which any drainage improvement district is organized under the provisions of this act, a separate fund for the construction and a separate fund for the maintenance of the improvement in such district. All moneys collected on assessments for the construction or maintenance of any such improvement shall be paid into the proper fund and shall be applied first to the payment of any interest due, and second to the payment of any outstanding warrants or bonds in the order of their issuance. The respective installments of assessments for construction or maintenance of drainage improvements made under the provisions of this act, shall be collected in the same manner and shall become delinquent at the same time as general taxes, and shall bear interest after delinquency at the rate of ten per cent per annum, and the lien thereof shall be enforced by foreclosure and sale of the property assessed, as in the case of general taxes. If any item of assessment shall be uncollectible by reason of any irregularity in any of the proceedings, a new hearing, as provided in section 4226–30, and a reassessment of the property mentioned in such item, in proportion to the benefit received thereby, shall be had and made. If any item of assessment shall be uncollectible by reason of the fact that the property assessed does not sell for enough to pay the assessment against it, or by reason of the fact the property assessed was not subject to assessment, the board of county commissioners shall cause a supplemental assessment to be made on the property benefited by the improvement and against the county, cities and towns chargeable therewith in the manner provided for the original assessment, to cover the deficiency. [L. '13, p. 632, § 31.]

§ 4226–32. Estimate of Annual Expenditures—Levy—Hearing.—On or before the first day of October in each year the board of supervisors of each drainage improvement district shall make and file with the board of county commissioners of the county containing such district, a statement and estimate in writing of the amount required for maintenance of the drainage system of said district for the ensuing fiscal year, and the board of county commissioners shall, on or before the first day of November next ensuing, levy an assessment for the amount of said estimate, or such amount as it shall deem advisable, upon the property within the district and against the county, cities and towns chargeable therewith in the same proportion as the assessment to pay the original cost of construction of said drainage system was levied: Provided, however, that, upon petition filed by two or more assessed property owners of a district the county commissioners may, in their discretion, hold a hearing at the county seat for the purpose of reapportioning the maintenance charges in such district, to be held at the time of the equalization of the real property assessment in the even-numbered calendar years. Preliminary to such hearing the county commissioners shall appoint a board of three appraisers, of whom the county engineer shall be one, who shall qualify and proceed as the board of appraisers appointed to apportion the original cost of the system, and shall report to and file with the board of county commissioners their recommendations in such matter not less than twenty days prior to the date of such hearing. Notice of the filing of such report and that such hearing will be held shall be given by publication in the official county newspaper and in such other newspaper published in or near such district as the county commissioners may in their discretion direct in two successive publications, the last of which shall not be less than seven or more than fourteen days prior to the date of said hearing. And at such hearing the commissioners may make such change in the basis of the apportionment of the levies for the maintenance of such drainage system as may seem just and equitable. In maintaining the drainage system of their district the board of supervisors may, with the approval of the board of county commissioners, make expenditures in excess of the annual maintenance fund herein provided for, which excess amount shall in such event be included in the maintenance levy for the succeeding year: Provided, that when, owing to floods or other causes an unusually high maintenance levy or expenditure in excess of the current levy shall be necessary the board of county commissioners may provide that such levy or the levy to meet such excess expenditure be spread over a term of years and warrants or bonds issued to meet the same as herein provided for the original construction cost of a drainage system. [L. '13, p. 633, § 32.]

§ 4226–33. Cost to Municipal Corporation.—The amount of the costs of construction or maintenance of any drainage system assessed against any city, town or county may be met by levies to be paid in similar installments and extending over a like period of time as the assessments against property benefited are spread, or such amounts may be met by the issue and sale of the bonds of such city, town or county in the manner in which bonds to meet general indebtedness of such city, town or county are issued. The proper authorities of such city, town or county shall make the necessary levies to meet such amounts thus apportioned thereto as a general levy on all property therein. [L. '13, p. 634, § 33.]

§ 4226–34. Abandonment of System—Assessment.—Upon a petition and bond being filed by one or more land owners, either within or without the boundaries of a drainage improvement district, and like proceedings being had as in the case of the original establishment and construction of a drainage system, the county commissioners may declare any drainage system or any part thereof, abandoned and may strike from the district lands no longer benefited or served thereby, or they may cause the route of any established drainage system to be changed, in whole or in part, or the whole or any part thereof to be widened or deepened, or provided with lining or bulkheading, or other betterment to be made therein, or a new outlet or outlets, or one or more branches or extensions to be constructed, either within or without the boundaries of the original district. But the striking of any lands from a district shall not in any way affect any assessment theretofore levied against such lands. When such improvements shall have been completed the costs thereof shall be apportioned and assessed against the lands benefited thereby in the manner hereinbefore provided for such apportionment and assessment in the case of original proceedings in regard to a drainage system and drainage improvement district. New lands assessed for any such improvement shall become a part of such drainage improvement district. The construction and maintenance of such new improvement, unless let by contract by the board of county commissioners, shall be under the direction of the board of supervisors of the district in which they are made or to which said improvement is added. [L. '13, p. 635, § 34.]

§ 4226–35. New Territory—Share of Original Cost.—When any extension or new branch of any existing drainage system is thus constructed there may be included in the apportionment and assessment of the costs thereof against the property, county, cities and towns benefited thereby, a proper and equitable share of the value of the existing drainage system which serves as an outlet for such extension or new branch. In arriving at which amount the board which makes the apportionments in such case shall consider the amount, if any, which the property thus to be assessed has already paid toward the construction of such drainage system, the present value of said drainage system, to wit: the cost of duplicating the same and all other matters that may be pertinent. The amount of the value of the existing drainage system thus apportioned to the property assessed for such new construction shall be rebated pro rata upon the assessments, if any, outstanding against the lands of the district on account of the construction of such drainage system: Provided, that if the original assessment for the cost of construction is already paid, or for such proportion thereof as is already paid, to wit, in the case of lands whereon all the installments for costs have been paid before coming due, then and in that event the amount of the value of such existing drainage system thus reapportioned to the property benefited by such new construction or such proper proportion thereof, shall be paid into the maintenance fund of said district; and such amount shall be a credit in favor of the respective property or all of the property, as the case may be, in such original district. [L. '13, p. 635, § 35.]

§ 4226–36. Prosecuting Attorney to Prepare Blanks.—It shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney of each county to prepare suitable blanks for the use of the board of county commissioners under this act, not otherwise provided for, and to advise the board of county commissioners and other officers of the county and the boards provided for by this act in regard to the proceedings and in the performance of their duties under this act, and perform such other duties as in this act provided and required. [L. '13, p. 636, § 36.]

may make connection for drainage purposes, with the drainage system thereof. They shall also keep the drainage systems in their districts clear and free of all obstructions, and upon complaint of any person they shall immediately remove any obstruction which interferes with the flow of the water through said system. [L. '13, p. 636, § 37.]

§ 4226–38. Districts in Two or More Counties.—When a drainage system is proposed which will require a location in more than one county application therefor shall be made to the board of county commissioners in each of said counties, and the county engineers shall make preliminary reports for their respective counties. The line of such drainage system shall be examined by the county engineers of the counties wherein said ditch will lie, jointly. The hearings provided for by sections 4226–9 and 4226–30 shall be had by the boards of the counties wherein such drainage system shall lie, in joint session, at such place as the said boards jointly shall order. The county engineer of the county wherein the greatest length of the drainage system will lie shall have charge of the engineering work and be ex officio a member of the boards in this act provided for: Provided, that in case a contract is let to private parties for the construction work, or in the event that the construction work necessary is proposed to be done by or with the co-operation of the United States, as in section 4226–22 provided, a contract for such purpose for the portions in the respective counties shall be executed by the boards of county commissioners of each of the counties, wherein the drainage system will extend, respectively. [L. '13, p. 637, § 38.]

§ 4226–39. Repeal.—Sections 4226 to 4250 and 4256 to 4267 are hereby repealed, saving and excepting, however, that the provisions of said act shall continue in force and effect and shall be applicable to and shall govern all proceedings, rights and powers, in the case of ditches already contracted for, or under construction under said act, and in the case of the maintenance of the same for the current year 1913; and the method of supervision, construction, payment for the work, apportionment of costs, and assessment and collection thereof, delinquency and foreclosing thereof and penalties therefor, and all other proceedings in regard to the same, shall be as in said sections 4226–4250, 4256–4267: Provided, however, that with the consent of the holders of warrants heretofore issued or hereafter issued for work already begun or contracted for under said act, or with the consent of the contractor engaged in constructing any ditch or drainage system under said act, the provisions of this act in regard to the funding of such warrants with bonds, or the payment for work with bonds and the issuance and sale thereof, and all provisions in regard to such issuing of bonds, shall be applicable to such outstanding warrants or work already begun or contracts let for work. And in such event and to the extent of the costs so acquiesced in by warrant holders or contractors, all the provisions of this act in regard to the method of payment, form, issuing and sale, of bonds and warrants, extension of the assessment over a term of years, collecting, delinquency, interest and foreclosure of the assessments, and all other proceedings in regard thereto shall be as in this act provided. In such event the county commissioners shall prescribe the method and time of payment of the assessments and whether bonds shall be issued and perform any other proper act in regard to the same, at a special meeting called for that purpose, or at the hearing on the apportionment of costs provided for in section 4226–30, hereof.

Provided, also, that in case any of the provisions of this act shall be applied to any proceedings in regard to any ditch begun under said sections 4226–4250, 4256–4267 and the same shall be held not to be legally applicable thereto by a court of competent jurisdiction, then appropriate and proper proceedings for the performance of said acts or duties shall be had and done in regard thereto, as in said sections provided. And from the time any such drainage district organized and existing under the provisions of said sections shall be brought under the provisions of this act, said district shall be known and designated in all proceedings and records relating thereto, as Drainage Improvement District No. —— of —— County, retaining its original serial number.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as in anywise modifying or repealing any of the provisions of sections 4137 to 4181, or the acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, or affecting any proceeding heretofore or that may hereafter be had under the provisions of said act. [L. '13, p. 637, § 39.]

§ 4226–40. Application of Act.—Except as specified in the foregoing section, all of the provisions of this act, instead of said sections 4226 to 4250 and 4256 to 4267, shall be applicable to and shall govern and be the law in all respects, in regard to all ditches and drainage systems now existing, initiated or applied for under said sections, and all powers hereby vested in or granted to all boards and officers under this act shall be vested in such boards and officers that shall hereafter have charge of the work, or administering of the affairs of such ditches and drainage systems, and the districts in which they lie. [L. '13, p. 639, § 40.]

§ 4226–41. Validity.—An adjudication that any section, paragraph, or portion of this act, or any provision thereof, or proceeding provided for therein, is unconstitutional or invalid shall not affect or determine the constitutionality, or validity, of this act as a whole or of any other portion or provisions thereof, and all provisions of this act not adjudicated to be unconstitutional shall be and remain in full force and effect and shall be operative until specifically adjudicated to be unconstitutional or invalid. [L. '13, p. 639, § 41.]

§ 4251. Assessments on State Lands Certified to Land Commissioner.—The several county treasurers of this state shall, in each year, within thirty days after the tax-rolls have been received and filed by them, make up and certify to the commissioner of public lands a list of all state, school and granted lands upon said rolls against which special assessments have been levied under the laws of this state for the construction or maintenance of any diking system or any drainage system constructed and maintained under the laws of this state. Said certificate shall contain (1) a description of the state, school or granted lands by legal subdivisions, (2) the amount of the assessment against each legal subdivision separately stated. [L. '07, p. 125, § 1.]

This and the next four sections apply, also, to Chapters I, II and III of this title. See §§ 4133, 4174, 4208.

See infra, §§ 6872–6882, later enactment on this subject, made applicable to this title by § 6879.

§ 4252. Land Commissioner to Certify to State Auditor.—As soon as the said assessments shall become due and payable the commissioner of public lands shall certify to the state auditor a list of all lands certified to him by the county treasurer, which have not been sold by the state, and his certificate shall contain the same facts as to the land certified by him that the certificate of the county treasurer shall contain as provided for in the next preceding section. [L. '07, p. 125, § 2.]

See note to § 4251.

§ 4253. Assessment Added to Appraised Value of Land.—Upon issuing his certificate to the state auditor as provided for in the next preceding section, the commissioner of public lands shall make a minute upon his records showing the amount paid and charge it to the tract of land against which it was assessed. The valuation of the tract of land benefited by the diking or drainage improvement shall not be raised by or on account thereof, but when any of said land is offered for sale there shall be added to the appraised value of such lands as provided for by law the amount of such payments made by the state out of the general fund, which amount so added shall be paid by the purchaser in cash at the time of the sale of said land, and such additional sum shall be turned over to the state treasurer and placed to the general fund. [L. '07, p. 125, § 3.]

See note to § 4251.

§ 4254. Payment by State Auditor.—Upon receipt of the certificate of the commissioner of public lands herein provided for the state auditor shall draw his warrants in favor of the several county treasurers upon the general fund for the payment of such assessments; and when he transmits his warrants he shall certify to the several county treasurers a description of the lands upon which he pays the assessment, the amount paid on each legal subdivision of land. [L. '07, p. 126, § 4.]

See note to § 4251.

§ 4255. Estimate of Money Required.—It shall be the duty of the state auditor to include in his estimate of the amount of money necessary to be appropriated for the purposes of this act a statement of the amount necessary to pay the assessments certified to him. [L. '07, p. 126, § 5.]

See note to § 4251.
"Act," in this section, refers to §§ 4251–4255.

§ 4267-1. Abandoned Ditches.—Where a ditch or drain shall have been in part constructed in compliance with the provisions of Remington & Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington, sections 4226–4250, 4256–4267, and the work of constructing said ditch or drain shall have ceased before the completion thereof or for any reason, the county commissioners shall declare said ditch or drain abandoned. [L. '11, p. 439, § 1.]

§ 4267-2. Apportionment of Cost.—When any such drainage proceedings shall have been abandoned by the county commissioners they shall, unless a petition shall have been filed within ninety days after such abandonment, as hereinafter provided, order the county engineer to apportion the costs of improvement, so far as constructed, against the lands benefited and like proceedings shall be had for the apportionment and collection of the costs and expenses of constructing said ditch or drain so far as the same shall have been constructed as are provided for the apportionment and collection of costs and expenses when such ditch or drain shall have been completed in accordance with the provisions of the said act. [L. '11, p. 439, § 2.]

§ 4267-3. Petition—Contents.—When any ditch or drain shall have been in part constructed pursuant to the provisions of the said act, and the same shall have been abandoned as provided herein, a petition may be filed as provided in section 4138, and like proceedings shall be had thereon as are provided by sections 4137 to 4179. Said petition shall include only such lots or tracts of land and public or corporate roads or railroads as were included in the schedule filed by the county surveyor in the original proceedings pursuant to sections 4226–4250, 4256–4267: Provided, that the boundaries of such proposed drainage district may be extended by the board of county commissioners in like manner as is provided for the extending of boundaries in section 4139. [L. '11, p. 439, § 3.]

§ 4267–4. Rights and Powers Conferred.—When a petition for the establishment and organization of a drainage district shall have been filed as provided herein the same shall be governed by all the provisions of sections 4137–4179, so far as the same are applicable and all rights and powers conferred upon drainage districts established and organized in compliance with said act shall be and are hereby conferred upon drainage districts organized and established in accordance herewith. [L. '11, p. 440, § 4.]

§ 4267–5. Construction.—When any drainage district shall be established and organized as provided in this act it shall be lawful for such drainage district to use so much of the original ditch or drain as shall have been constructed and to construct such additional ditches or drains as shall be petitioned for and ordered by the board in the course of said proceedings. Upon the completion of said original ditch or drain, the cost of such new ditches or drains, if any, as shall be constructed and expense thereof, together with all costs and expenses lawfully incurred in the partial construction of said original ditch or drain, shall be apportioned against the land in the district established and an assessment made for the payment of the entire sum in accordance with the provisions of sections 4137–4179. [L. '11, p. 440, § 5.]

§ 4267–6. Concurrent Act.—Nothing in this act shall be construed so as to amend, change or repeal any of the existing laws relating to dikes and drains but concurrent therewith. [L. '11, p. 440, § 6.]

CHAPTER V.

Payment of Expenses Heretofore Incurred in Construction of Ditches, etc.

§ 4268. Purchase or Condemnation of Lands—Under Act of 1890. Where any ditch or drain or any portion thereof has been constructed in compliance with the provisions of an act of the legislature of the state of Washington entitled "An act to provide for the construction, repairing and protection of drains and ditches for agricultural, sanitary and domestic purposes, and to provide for the organization of drainage districts, and declaring an emergency," approved March 19, 1890, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners of any county in which the same is located, to purchase the lands occupied by or necessary to said drain or ditch, or any culverts, bridges or approaches thereto, or appurtenances to said drain or ditch, or acquire the same by condemnation proceedings, wherever title to such lands has not already been obtained, and to that end are hereby authorized to institute and maintain in the name of the county the proceedings provided in sections 921–936, supra. [L. '95, p. 142, § 1.]

§ 4269. Ditch Fund Established.—Said board of county commissioners shall establish a ditch fund named after such ditch or drain, and whenever there is not sufficient money to make the payments required under the provisions of the last section, they shall borrow money wholly on the faith of, and to be repaid wholly from, the moneys in such fund by issuing bonds payable out of said funds in denominations of not to exceed twenty dollars each, due on or before five years from date, and drawing not to exceed seven per cent interest per annum, in order to make such payments required pursuant to the last section. Where said ditch or drain is uncompleted, or completed only in part, said board shall proceed to finish said ditch according to the survey and report of said improvement made in accordance with the provisions of said act of March 19, 1890, and pay for the same by warrants duly issued on said ditch fund, and the total cost of said improvement, including expenses heretofore incurred and warrants heretofore issued for the location, right of way and construction of said ditch, shall be paid as hereinafter provided. [L. '95, p. 142, § 2.]

§ 4270. Apportionment According to Benefit—Notices.—Said board of county commissioners shall, upon obtaining title to lands as provided in section 4268, file the survey and report of said improvement, if any has been made, in accordance with the provisions of said act of March 19, 1890, and shall ascertain the aggregate cost of said ditch, and shall apportion the said cost to each lot, tract of land, road or railroad, according to the benefit which will result to each from said improvement, not exceeding the amount of such benefit, and shall fix a day for the hearing of said apportionment. The county auditor shall prepare a notice in writing directed to the resident lot or land owners, or to the municipal or private corporations affected by the improvement, setting forth a general description of the improvement, together with a tabular statement of the apportionment of the cost as hereinbefore provided for, which notice shall be served upon each lot or land owner and upon each member of any public board of authority and upon an officer or agent of such private corporation, in the manner provided for the service of a summons, at least eight days before the day set for the hearing, and return of service shall be made in the mode provided for the return of service of a summons in a civil action, and the notice and return shall be filed with the county auditor on or before the day of hearing, and the county auditor shall at the same time give like notice to each nonresident lot or land owner, either in the mode above prescribed or by publication in a newspaper printed and of general circulation in the county for at least two consecutive weeks before the day set for the hearing, proof of which service shall be by affidavit of the publication of said notice during said time by the printer of such paper or other person knowing the fact, which proof shall be filed with the county auditor on or before said day of hearing. [L. '95, p. 143, § 3.]

§ 4271. Commissioners to Examine Apportionment.—The county commissioners shall meet at their regular place of meeting on the day fixed for the hearing, and shall first determine whether the required notice has been given. If they find that due notice has not been given they shall continue the hearing to a day to be fixed by them, and order the notice to be served as hereinbefore provided, and when they find due notice has been given they shall examine said apportionment, and if it is in all respects fair and just according to benefits they shall approve and confirm the same. [L. '95, p. 144, § 4.]

§ 4272. Unjust Apportionment.—If the commissioners find that the apportionment is unfair and unjust, and ought not to be confirmed, they shall so order and amend it as to make it fair and just in proportion to benefits, and if necessary, in their opinion, they may adjourn the further hearing not exceeding twenty days to a day to be fixed by them, and go upon the premises and by actual view apportion the entire cost of location and construction, or any part thereof, according to benefits, as may seem just and proper, and on the day so fixed by them they shall again meet and determine the apportionment. [L. '95, p. 144, § 5.]

§ 4273. Exceptions Filed.—Any person or corporation party to the proceedings may file exceptions to the apportionment at any time before the time set for the final hearing of the report and apportionment. The commissioners may hear testimony and examine all witnesses upon questions made by the exceptions, and for that purpose may compel the attendance of the witnesses by subpoena, which the clerk of the superior court shall issue on demand, and their decision on the exceptions shall be entered upon the journal, and if they sustain the exceptions the cost of hearing thereon shall be paid out of the county treasury, and if they overrule the same such costs shall be taxed against such person or corporation filing the exceptions. [L. '95, p. 114, § 6.]

provided the commissioners shall determine at what time and in what number of assessments, not to exceed four, they will require the same to be paid, and order that the assessments as made by them be placed upon the tax-roll accordingly against the lots or lands assessed. When the commissioners make an assessment they shall cause an entry to be made directing the clerk of the board of county commissioners to make and furnish to the treasurer of the county a special tax-roll with the assessment arranged thereon, as required by their order, and the clerk of the board of county commissioners shall retain a copy thereof in his office, and all assessments shall be liens on the property against which they are assessed, and shall be collected and accounted for by the treasurer as taxes: Provided, that the treasurer shall accept in payment of assessments the bonds issued under the provisions of section 4269, and said treasurer shall place the assessment so collected in said ditch fund. The list thus prepared must remain in the office of the treasurer for thirty days, or longer if ordered by the board of trustees; and during the time it so remains any person may pay the amount of the charges against any tract to the treasurer without costs; or, if so ordered by the board of county commissioners, said payments may be by installments; and if, at the end of thirty days, or the longer period fixed by the said commissioners, any of the charges, or any of the installments ordered by them already due, has not been paid, the treasurer must transmit the list to the county attorney, who must at once proceed, by civil action, to collect such charges and foreclose the liens therefor. All moneys in said ditch fund shall be applied to the payment of any bonds issued by the county commissioners, on the faith of said ditch fund, and to the payment of warrants issued for the construction of said ditch or drain and appurtenances and right of way, in the order of their issue. Wherever any assessments heretofore levied for said ditch have been paid, due credit for such payments shall be allowed, and the receipt given for such payments shall be received in lieu of a payment of a sum of money equal to the sum receipted for in the receipt. [L. '95, p. 144, § 7.]

§ 4275. Railroads to Pay for Benefits.—When the improvement drains or benefits the whole or a part of any public or corporate road or railroad, there shall be apportioned to the county, if the road is a state, county or free turnpike road, or to the corporation if a corporate road or railroad, a share of the costs and expense thereof proportionate to the benefits to said road or railroad. All lands of the state or any county, school district or other municipal corporation, shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter. [And when any assessment shall be apportioned against any school lands of the state, the county shall pay the same out of its general fund and have a lien on the proceeds of the sale of such lands, from which it shall be reimbursed.] [L. '95, p. 146, § 8.]

The portion in brackets is unconstitutional.

§ 4276. Assessment Inadequate—Proportionate Payment of Expenses.—Whenever assessments have been made or shall hereafter be made, under the provisions of sections 4268–4275, supra, and the assessments realized are inadequate and insufficient, after deducting therefrom the amount of bonds issued for damages for rights of way to pay said warrants heretofore issued under the act of March 19, 1890, the same shall be paid in the proportion which the whole number of warrants issued under said act of March 19, 1890, bears to the assessments realized and available for the payment of said warrants, regardless of the number, or order of issue. [L. '03, p. 390, § 2.]

§ 4277. Payment of Expenses Incurred Under Act of 1895.—When any drainage district has been or shall be established and created under the provisions of Chapter II of this title, and when the drainage commissioners of such district have employed surveyors or draftsmen or legal assistance as provided in section 4146, and have incurred expenses for the compensation of such surveyors, draftsmen and legal assistance, and have issued to such surveyors, draftsmen or person rendering said legal assistance any warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidence of indebtedness for said expenses so incurred, and when such warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness remain outstanding and unpaid, and when from any cause no further proceedings are had as provided for in said Chapter II, within a reasonable time, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of the county in which such drainage district is located to assess in accordance with the provisions of this act the lands constituting and embraced within such drainage district for the purpose of paying such outstanding warrants, orders, vouchers, or other evidences of indebtedness, together with interest thereon. [L. '03, p. 87, § 1.]

"This act," refers to §§ 4277–4285.

§ 4278. Claims—Notice, Registration—Failure to Present.—The county auditor of any county in which such drainage district is located upon the written request of any holder or owner of any such warrant, order, voucher or other evidence of indebtedness, mentioned in the preceding section, shall forthwith cause to be published in the newspaper doing the county printing, if any such there be, and if not, then in some newspaper of general circulation in the county, a notice directing any and all holders or owners of any such warrants, orders, vouchers, or other evidences of indebtedness, to present the same to him, at his office, for registration within ninety days from the date of the first publication of such notice; and such notice shall be published once a week for six consecutive weeks. Said notice shall be directed to all holders and owners of warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness issued by the drainage commissioners of the particular district giving its name and number, and shall designate the character of the warrants, orders, vouchers, or other evidences of indebtedness, the registration of which is called for by said notice. Upon the presentation to him of such warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness, the county auditor shall register the same in a separate [separate] book to be kept for that purpose, showing the date of registration, the date of issue, the purpose of issue when the same is shown upon the face, the name of the person by whom presented, and the face value thereof. Any such warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness, not presented within the time prescribed in such notice, shall not share in the benefits of this act, and no assessment or reassessment shall thereafter be made for the purpose of paying the same. [L. '03, p. 87, § 2.]

"This act," refers to §§ 4277–4285.

§ 4279. Petition to Court to Order Assessment—Contents.—At any time after the expiration of the time within which warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness, may be registered as provided in the preceding section, the holder or owner of any such registered warrant, order, voucher or other evidence of indebtedness, may for himself and in behalf of all other holders or owners of such registered warrants, orders, vouchers, or other evidences of indebtedness, file a petition in the superior court of the county in which such drainage district is located praying for an order directing the publication and posting of the notice hereinafter provided for, and for a hearing upon said petition, and for an order directing the board of county commissioners to assess the lands embraced within said drainage district for the purpose of paying such registered warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness and the costs of the proceedings provided for in this act. Said petition shall set fourth [forth]:

1. That said drainage district was duly established and created, giving the time.

2. The facts in connection with the expenses incurred by the drainage commissioners in the employment of surveyors, draftsmen, or legal assistance and the issuance of such registered warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness.

3. The facts in connection with the compliance with the provisions of this act.

4. A list of such registered warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness showing the names of owners or holders, the amounts, the date of issuance, the purpose for which issued, when shown upon the face thereof, and the date of presentation for payment, respectively. [L. '03, p. 88, § 3.]

"This act," refers to §§ 4277–4285.

§ 4280. Hearing After Sixty Days.—Upon the filing of such petition it shall be the duty of the judge of the said superior court to fix a time for a hearing of said petition, which time shall be not less than sixty days from the time of the filing of said petition, and to enter an order directed to the sheriff of the said county ordering said sheriff to cause to be published and posted the notice as provided for in the next succeeding section. [L. '03, p. 89, § 4.]

§ 4281. Notice—Contents, Publication, etc.—Upon the issuance of the order as provided for in the next preceding section it shall be the duty of the sheriff of said county to post, at the courthouse of said county and at three public places in said drainage district, and to cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in said county a notice of the time and place fixed by said order of court for the hearing of said petition. Said notice shall contain a statement that said petition has been filed as above provided for, that the said court has fixed a time and place for the hearing of said petition, which time and place shall be stated in said notice, a brief statement of the object of said proceeding upon said petition, a statement of the issuance of the said order of court directing the posting and publishing of said notice, a statement that all persons having any interest in any land in such drainage district, describing the same by its corporate name, may at or before the time fixed for said hearing appear and file objections or exceptions to the granting of the prayer of said petition: A statement that upon the hearing of said petition in case no objections or exceptions have been filed in said proceeding, or in case any objections or exceptions filed be not sustained, and that the allegations of said petition are proven to the satisfaction of the court an order will be entered in accordance with the prayer of said petition. Said notice shall be signed by the sheriff of said county. [L. '03, p. 89, § 5.]

§ 4282. Hearing—Objections, Findings, etc.—Tax Levy.—At the time and place fixed in said order for the hearing of said petition, or at such time to which the court may continue said hearing, the court shall proceed to a hearing upon said petition and upon any objections or exceptions which have been filed thereto. And upon it appearing to the satisfaction of the court from the proofs offered in support thereof that the allegations of said petition are true, the said court shall ascertain the total amount of said registered warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness with the accrued interest and the costs of said proceedings, and thereupon the said court shall enter an order directing the board of county commissioners to levy a tax upon all the real estate within said drainage district exclusive of improvements, taking as a basis the last equalized assessment of said real estate for state and county purposes, sufficient to pay said outstanding registered warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness with interest as aforesaid and the costs of said proceeding, and the cost of levying said tax, and further directing the county auditor to issue a warrant on the county treasurer to the petitioner for the costs advanced by him in such proceeding, which shall be paid in the same manner as the said registered warrants, orders, vouchers or other evidences of indebtedness. [L. '03, p. 90, § 6.]

Cited in 51 Wash. 14.

§ 4283. Tax Levy—Extension on Tax-rolls—Collection.—The clerk of said superior court shall certify the said order to the board of county commissioners, and to the county auditor and upon receipt of said order by said board it shall proceed forthwith to execute said order, and upon said levy being made it shall be extended upon the tax-rolls, certified and collected at the same time, in the same manner as other special district taxes. [L. '03, p. 90, § 7.]

§ 4284. Dismissal of Petition, When.—If upon said hearing the court shall find that the petitioner is not entitled to an order granting the prayer of said petition the court shall enter an order dismissing said petition and taxing the costs against said petitioner. [L. '03, p. 90, § 8.]

§ 4285. Appeals.—From any final order entered by the said superior court as above provided for, any party to said proceeding feeling himself aggrieved thereby may take an appeal to the supreme court of the state of Washington, as provided by the general appeal law of this state. [L. '03, p. 91, § 9.]

§ 4286. Payment of Expenses Incurred Under Act of 1888.—Where any dike, dam or any portion thereof, has been constructed and maintained in compliance with the provisions of an act of the legislative assembly of the territory of Washington, entitled, "An act to provide for the construction and maintenance of dikes and dams in certain cases," approved February 2, 1888, or any acts amendatory thereof, and where any warrants or orders, issued in connection with the expense of the construction and maintenance thereof, remain outstanding and unpaid, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners of the county in which the same are located to assess the lands benefited thereby for the purpose of paying said outstanding warrants, or orders together with interest thereon from the date of their issuance until paid, at the rate of six per cent per annum: Provided, that no such assessment shall be made, nor shall any proceeding under this act be had, unless such dike or system of dikes shall have been so constructed and maintained and be at the time of the initiation of such assessment proceeding in such a condition as to constitute an actual substantial benefit to the land included within the limits of said diking district, by so protecting said lands from overflow as to render them suitable for cultivation. [L. '05, p. 282, § 1.]

"This act," refers to §§ 4286–4301.

§ 4287. Notice to Present Warrants—Failure to Register.—The county auditor of any county in which such dike or dam is located upon the written request of any holder or owner of any such warrant or order, shall forthwith cause to be published in the newspaper doing the county printing, if any such there be, and if not, then in some newspaper of general circulation in the county, a notice directing any and all holders or owners of any such warrants or orders to present the same to him, at his office for registration within ninety days from the date of the first publication of such notice; and such notice shall be published once a week for six consecutive weeks. Upon the presentation to him of such warrants or orders, the county auditor shall register the same in a separate book to be kept for that purpose, showing the date of registration, the date of issuance, the name of the person by whom presented and the face value thereof: Provided, however, that warrants or orders on the several diking districts organized under said act or any act amendatory thereof, shall be registered separately. Any such warrant or order not presented within the time prescribed in such notice, shall not share in the benefits of this act, and no assessment or reassessment shall thereafter be made for the purpose of paying the same. [L. '05, p. 283, § 2.]

§ 4288. Acquisition of Necessary Lands—Purchase—Condemnation.—Where the land included within the boundaries of any diking district established in accordance with the said act approved February 2, 1888, or of any acts amendatory thereof, are included within the boundaries of any diking district or districts organized in accordance with the provisions of Chapter I of this title, no condemnation proceedings for the purpose of acquiring title to the lands upon which such dikes or dams are located shall be necessary. But where the lands included within the boundaries of any diking district organized under said act approved February 2, 1888, or any acts amendatory thereof, are not included within the boundaries of any diking district or districts organized under said Chapter I, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners of any county in which said dike or dams are located to purchase the lands occupied by, or necessary to said dikes or dams, and of any spurs, offshoots or appurtenances thereto, or acquire the same by condemnation proceedings, whether title to such land has not already been acquired, and to that end are hereby authorized to institute and maintain, in the name of the county, the proceedings provided by sections 921–936 of this code. [L. '05, p. 283, § 3.]

§ 4289. Assessment — Procedure — Completion of Work.—Where the lands [are] within the boundaries of any diking district or districts organized under said Chapter I of this title, the board of county commissioners at the end of ninety days after the date of the first publication of the notice provided for in section 4287, supra, shall forthwith proceed to levy an assessment against such lands for the purpose of paying such outstanding warrants or orders, with interest thereon as referred to in section 4286, supra. And where such lands are not so included, the board of county commissioners shall forthwith proceed to acquire by purchase or condemnation proceedings the necessary lands as provided for in section 4288, supra. Said board of county commissioners shall establish a fund for each diking district organized under said act approved February 2, 1888, or acts amendatory thereof, to be called, "Old Diking Fund No. ——." (here insert No. of diking district established under said act approved February 2, 1888, or any acts amendatory thereof) and for the purpose of paying for the lands to be acquired as provided in section 4288, supra, shall borrow money wholly on the faith of and to be repaid wholly from the money in said fund by issuing bonds payable out of said fund in denominations of not to exceed twenty dollars each due on or before five years from date and drawing not to exceed six per cent interest per annum. Where any such dike or dam is uncompleted and the lands for the benefit of which the same was constructed, are not included within the boundaries of any diking district or districts organized under said Chapter I, said board shall proceed to finish said dike or dam according to the survey and report of said improvement made in accordance with the provisions of said act of February 2, 1888, or of any act amendatory thereof, and to pay for the same by warrants duly issued on said dike fund and the total cost of said improvement, including the expenses heretofore issued for the location of right of way and construction or maintenance of said dike or dam shall be paid as hereinafter provided. [L. '05, p. 284, § 4.]

§ 4290. Reassessment—Procedure—Notice, Objections, etc.—For the purpose of paying outstanding warrants or orders together with interest thereon, issued in connection with the expense of constructing or maintaining any dike or dam of any diking district organized under said act approved February 2, 1888, or any acts amendatory thereof, and also for the purpose of paying for acquiring the title to lands as provided for in section 4288, supra, and for the completion of any dike or dam as provided for in section 4289, supra, where the acquiring of such title, or the completion of such dike or dam is required under the provisions of this act, the board of county commissioners shall determine the aggregate cost of such dikes or dams and shall apportion the same to each lot or tract of land, road or railroad, according to the benefit which has resulted, or will result to each from said improvement, not exceeding the amount of such benefits: Provided, that such new assessment shall be for an amount which shall not exceed the actual cost and value of the improvement, together with interest thereon as provided for in this act, and costs, and that such amount shall be equitably apportioned upon the property benefited thereby, according to the provisions of the laws in force at the time such reassessment is made notwithstanding the proceedings of the county commissioners or of any of the officers of the county in which such improvement may be located may be found irregular or defected [defective], whether jurisdictional or otherwise. When such reassessment is completed all sums paid on the former attempted assessments shall be credited to the property on account of which the same was paid. The board of county commissioners shall cause the clerk of the board to make out a list of the lands benefited, giving a description of each tract or lot separately, and showing the sum apportioned to each of such tracts or lots, but said list need not contain the names of the owners of said tracts or lots. Said list shall be filed with the county auditor, and upon the filing thereof he shall forthwith cause to be published in the newspaper doing the county printing, if any such there be, and if not, then in such newspaper as he may select, a notice that said list is on file in his office and is open to inspection. Said notice shall give the number of the diking district organized under said act approved February 2, 1888, or any act amendatory thereof, state the total face value of warrants or orders registered in compliance with section 4287, supra, and contain a description by sections, townships and range, and by blocks where land has been platted, of the land claimed to be benefited. Where an entire section or block is not benefited a description of the part of such section or block claimed to be benefited shall be given. Said notice shall direct any and all persons or corporations interested, who desire to do so, to file with the county auditor exceptions to the apportionment made to lands claimed to be benefited, or to warrants or orders registered, the exceptions, if any, to the latter, to be on the ground that the same were not issued in connection with the expense of the construction or maintenance of dikes or dams, or were fraudulently issued, and all exceptions herein provided shall be filed within sixty days after the date of the first publication of said notice. Said notice shall also give the date on which the board of county commissioners will meet to hear and pass upon such exceptions, which shall be on the sixtieth day after the date of the first publication of said notice; said notice shall be published once a week for six consecutive weeks. [L. '05, p. 285, § 5.]

§ 4291. Hearing on Exceptions—Amendments, etc.—Costs.—Upon the day stated in said notice the board of county commissioners shall meet at their regular place of meeting and proceed to hear and pass upon exceptions filed with the county auditor as provided in section 4290, supra. If they find that the apportionment is unfair and unjust, and ought not to be confirmed, they shall so order and amend it to make it fair and just in proportion to benefits, and if necessary, in their opinion, they may adjourn the further hearing not to exceed twenty days, to a day to be fixed by them, and go upon the premises and by actual view apportion the entire cost of location and construction or maintenance, or any part thereof, according to benefits as may seem just and proper, and on the day so fixed by them they shall again meet and determine the apportionment. The cost of the publication of the notice in this act provided for shall be considered as a part of the costs to be apportioned to said lands. The commissioners may hear testimony and examine all witnesses upon questions made by the exceptions, and for that purpose may compel the attendance of witnesses, by subpoena, which the clerk of the superior court shall issue or demand, and their decision on the exceptions shall be entered on the journal, and if they sustain the exceptions the cost of the hearing thereof shall be paid out of the county treasury, and if they overrule the same such costs shall be taxed against the person or corporation filing the exceptions: Provided, however, that if exceptions to warrants or orders registered with the auditor are sustained the costs of the hearing thereof shall be taxed against the owner of such warrants or orders. Where costs are taxed against any person or corporation it shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney, to institute action in the superior court for the recovery of the same. [L. '05, p. 286, § 6.]

"This act" refers to §§ 4286–4301,

§ 4292. Exceptions to Warrants—Hearing on.—Where exceptions are filed to warrants or orders registered with the auditor of the board of county commissioners, on the day of their meeting provided for in section 4291, supra, shall set the same down for hearing at a day not later than thirty days thereafter and shall direct the auditor to notify the person or corporation who presented said warrants or orders to him for registration of such exceptions, and shall state the time when and place where such exceptions shall be heard; and said notice shall be deposited by the county auditor in the postoffice at the county seat at least twenty days before the day set for such hearing, postage prepaid, and addressed to such person or corporation at his last known address, or at its principal place of business. The affidavit of the auditor shall be proof of such service. [L. '05, p. 287, § 7.]

§ 4293. Appeals—Procedure.—Any person or corporation feeling aggrieved by the ruling of the board of county commissioners upon exceptions filed as hereinbefore provided for, may appeal to the superior court. Upon such appeal no bond shall be required and no stay shall be allowed. If the appeal be from the ruling of the board of county commissioners in relation to the apportionment of costs or assessments of benefits to land, such appeal shall bring before the superior court the justness of the amount of benefits in respect to the parties to the appeal. Such appeal shall be made by filing a written notice of appeal with the clerk of the board of county commissioners within ten days after such new assessment or reassessment-roll shall have been approved and confirmed by the board of county commissioners; and said notice shall describe the property and the objections of such appellant to such assessment or reassessment, and such appellant shall also file with the clerk of the superior court aforesaid within twenty days from the approval and confirmation of such roll by the board of county commissioners a copy of said notice, appeal, reassessment-roll and proceeding thereon, certified by the clerk of such board of county commissioners; and the case shall be docketed by the clerk of such court in the name of the person taking such appeal against said county as "an appeal from assessments." Said cause shall then be at issue, and shall have preference over all civil cases pending in said court, except proceedings under the acts relating to eminent domain by cities and towns, and actions of forcible entry and detainer. Such appeal shall be tried in said court as in the case of equitable causes, except that no pleadings shall be necessary. The judgment of the court shall be either to confirm, modify, or annul the assessment in so far as the same affects the property of the appellant, from which judgment an appeal shall lie to the supreme court as in other cases. In case the assessment is confirmed, the fees of the clerk of the board of county commissioners for copies of the record shall be taxed against the appellant with other costs. If the appeal be from a ruling of the board of county commissioners in relation to exceptions filed to warrants or orders registered with the county auditor, such appeal shall be taken in the manner provided by law for appeals from the action of the board of county commissioners in other cases. [L. '05, p. 287, § 8.]

§ 4294. Apportionment to Highways, Railroads, State Lands, etc. When the improvement protects or benefits the whole or any part of any public or corporate road or railroad there shall be apportioned to the county, if the road is a state, county or free turnpike road, or to the corporation if a corporate road or railroad, a share of the cost and expenses thereof proportionate to the benefits to said road or railroad. All lands of the state or any county school district or other municipal corporation shall be subject to the provisions of this act. [L. '05, p. 288, § 9.]

"Act" refers to §§ 4286–4301.

§ 4295. Time and Manner of Payments—Extension of Tax-roll.—When said apportionment or assessment of benefits shall have been approved as hereinbefore provided, the commissioners shall determine at what time and in what number of assessments, not to exceed four, they will require the same to be paid, and order that the assessments, as made by them, be placed upon the tax-roll accordingly against the lots or lands assessed. When the commissioners make an assessment they shall cause an entry to be made directing the clerk of the board of county commissioners to make and furnish to the treasurer of the county a special tax-roll with the assessment arranged thereon as required by their order, and the clerk of the board of county commissioners shall retain a copy thereof in his office, and all assessments shall be liens upon the property against which they are assessed, and shall be collected and accounted for by the treasurer as taxes: Provided, that the treasurer shall accept in payment of assessments the bonds issued under the provisions of section 4289, supra, and said treasurer shall place the assessment so collected in said dike fund. The list thus prepared must remain in the office of the treasurer for thirty days or longer if ordered by the board of county commissioners, and during the time it so remains any person may pay the amount of charges against any tract to the treasurer without costs, or if so ordered by the board of county commissioners said payments may be by installments, and if at the end of thirty days or the longer period fixed by said commissioners, any of the charges or any of the installments ordered by them already due have not been paid, the treasurer must transmit a list to the prosecuting attorney, who must at once proceed by civil action to collect such charges and foreclose the liens therefor, and such charges or liens shall draw interest at the same rate as the delinquent taxes for state and county purposes. [L. '05, p. 288, § 10.]

§ 4296. Payment of County Costs from Diking Fund.—Where exceptions to the apportionment or assessment are sustained by the county commissioners the costs of the hearing thereon shall be paid out of the county general fund, and where upon any appeal provided for in this act costs are taxed against the county, such costs shall be paid in the same manner, and the county shall be reimbursed therefor out of the first moneys paid into the said diking fund provided for in this act. If by reason of the payment of such costs, or the reduction or annulment of any assessment on appeal, the apportionment or assessment made by the board of county commissioners shall be found insufficient to make the payments required by this act, then said board shall increase such apportionment or assessment in the same proportion as such apportionment or assessment was made: Provided, however, that the total apportionment to and assessment against any tract or lot shall not exceed the benefits derived by the same. [L. '05, p. 289, § 11.]

§ 4297. Action Brought in Name of County.—All actions authorized by this act to be brought by the prosecuting attorney shall be brought in the name of the county. [L. '05, p. 290, § 12.]

"Act" refers to §§ 4286–4301.

§ 4298. Lists of Prior Assessments, etc., to be Filed.—The county treasurer of any county in which any diking district or districts were organized under said act approved February 2, 1888, or any acts amendatory thereof, shall within ninety days after the date of the first publication of the notice provided for in section 4287, supra, make out and file with the board of county commissioners a list for each of such diking districts; said list to contain a description of each tract or lot of land against which assessments were made under said act approved February 2, 1888, or any acts amendatory thereof, and to show any and all assessments made against the same and what payments were made upon the same. [L. '05, p. 290, § 13.]

§ 4299. No Other Costs to be Taxed.—No costs shall be taxed for the work required to be done according to the provisions of this act by the county treasurer or the county auditor or the clerk of the board of county commissioners except as herein otherwise provided. [L. '05, p. 290, § 14.]

Cited in 80 Wash. 104, 105, 107.

§ 4300. Outstanding Warrants—Order of Payment—Interest.—Outstanding warrants or orders, together with interest thereon, issued in connection with the expenses of the construction or maintenance of dikes or dams constructed or maintained under the provisions of said act approved February 2, 1888, or of any acts amendatory thereof, shall be paid first and shall be paid in the order of their issuance; and thereafter indebtedness such as is authorized by this act, incurred by said board of county commissioners, shall be paid in the order of the issuance of the evidence of such indebtedness. Warrants issued by the said board shall draw interest at the rate of six per cent per annum. [L. '05, p. 290, § 15.]

§ 4301. Irregularities not to Invalidate.—The fact that a contract has been let, or such improvement shall have been made and completed in whole or in part shall not prevent such assessments being made; nor shall the omission, failure or neglect of any officer or officers to comply with the provisions of law governing such county or county commissioners as to petition, notice, resolution to improve, estimate, survey, diagram, manner of letting the contract or section of work, or any other matter whatsoever connected with the improvement and the first assessment thereof, operate to invalidate or in any way to affect the making of the new assessment or reassessment as provided for herein, charging the property benefited with the expense thereof: Provided, that such new assessment shall be for an amount which shall not exceed the actual cost and value of the improvement, together with the interest and costs as herein provided for, and that such amount be equitably apportioned upon the property benefited thereby according to the provisions of the laws of this state relative to municipal corporations. CHAPTER I.

School System and State Officers.

§ 4302. Uniform School System.—A general and uniform system of public schools shall be maintained throughout the state of Washington, and shall embrace common schools (including high and elementary schools, schools for special help and discipline, schools or departments for special instruction), technical schools, the University of Washington, the State College of Washington, state normal schools, state training schools, schools for defective youth, and such other educational institutions as may be established by law and maintained at public expense. [L. '09, p. 230, § 1. Cf. L. '90, p. 348, § 1; 1 H. C., § 8769; L. '97, p. 356, § 1.]

Former laws cited in 13 Wash. 362, 702; 25 Wash. 124; 29 Wash. 598; 32 Wash. 274, 666; 36 Wash. 409, 422, 432; 43 Wash. 242; 69 Wash. 192; 72 Wash. 455.

See Const., Art. IX, § 2.

§ 4303. Administration.—The administration of the public school system shall be intrusted to a superintendent of public instruction, a state board of education, to regents or trustees for educational institutions, to county superintendents of common schools, to boards of directors and district clerks. [L. '90, p. 348, § 2; 1 H. C., § 770; L. '97, p. 363, § 19; L. '09, p. 230, § 2.]

Cited in 84 Wash. 83.

§ 4304. Vacancies.—Whenever any vacancy in the board shall occur, whether by death, removal, resignation or otherwise, the governor shall fill the vacancy by appointment. [L. '90, p. 355, § 9; 1 H. C., § 774; L. '97, p. 367, § 26.]

§ 4305. State Superintendent—Term of Office.—A superintendent of public instruction shall be elected by the qualified electors of the state, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of the year in which state officers are elected, and shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. [L. '09, p. 231, § 1. Cf. L. '61, pp. 55, 56; L. '90, p. 348, § 3; L. '91, p. 237, § 1; 1 H. C., § 119; L. '97, p. 363, § 20.]

See Const., Art. 3, §§ 1, 3 and § 8986, infra, time of election and term of office.

See infra, § 8987, oath.

§ 4306. Salary.—The superintendent of public instruction shall receive an annual salary of three thousand dollars, payable monthly, upon warrant of the state auditor, drawn upon the state treasurer, in the same manner as other state officers are paid. [L. '09, p. 231, § 2. Cf. L. '97, p. 363, § 21; L. '07, p. 174, § 1.]

See Const., Art. III, § 22.

See infra, § 8985.

§ 4307. Powers and Duties Enumerated.—The powers and duties of the superintendent of public instruction shall be:

First. To have supervision over all matters pertaining to the public schools of the state.

Second. To report biennially to the governor on or before the first day of November preceding the regular session of the legislature, of which report five thousand copies shall be printed and delivered to the superintendent of public instruction, who shall furnish one copy to be deposited in the state library, one copy to each county superintendent of schools and one copy to each district library. Said report shall contain a statement of the general condition of the public schools of the state, with full statistical tables by counties showing the number of schools and the attendance, the state and county funds apportioned, amount received from special tax and from other sources, amount expended for salaries of teachers, the salaries paid by the several counties to the county superintendents of schools and the amount paid for incidentals and expenses; the amount paid for building and providing schoolhouses with furniture and apparatus, the amount of bonded and other school indebtedness, with the rate of interest paid thereon, the reports of all state educational institutions, or such portions of them as he may think advisable, together with such other facts as he may deem of general interest. He shall also include in his report a statement of plans for the management and improvement of the schools.

Third. To prepare and have printed such blanks, forms, registers, courses of study, rules and regulations for the government of the common schools, questions prepared for the examination of teachers, and such other blanks and books as may be necessary for the discharge of the duties of teachers and officers charged with the administration of the laws relating to the common schools, and to distribute the same to the county superintendents.

Fourth. To travel, without neglecting his other official duties as superintendent of public instruction, for the purpose of attending educational meetings or conventions within this or adjoining states, of visiting schools, of consulting county superintendents or other school officers.

Fifth. To submit to the state auditor a monthly statement of his expenditures for traveling expenses.

Sixth. To cause to be printed with an appendix of appropriate forms and instructions for carrying into execution the laws relating to public schools, and to distribute to each county superintendent a sufficient number of copies to supply each district officer, and to cause the same to be printed and distributed as often as any change in the laws shall make it of sufficient importance, in his opinion, to justify the same.

Seventh. To act as ex-officio president of the state board of education.

Eighth. To hold, annually, a convention of the county superintendents of the state at such time and place as he may deem convenient, for the discussion of questions pertaining to supervision and the administration of the school laws and such other subjects affecting the welfare and interests of the common schools as may be brought before it. Said convention shall continue in session not less than two days nor more than three days at the option of the superintendent of public instruction. It shall be the duty of every county superintendent in this state to attend said convention during its entire session, and any county superintendent who attends the convention shall receive actual traveling expenses in attending said convention.

Ninth. He shall file all papers, reports and public documents transmitted to him by the school officers of the several counties of the state, each year separately. Copies of all papers filed in his office, and his official acts, may be certified by him and attested by his official seal, and when so certified shall be evidence equally and in like manner as the original paper.

Tenth. To require annually, on or before the fifteenth day of August, of the president, manager, or principal of every educational institution in this state, a report of such facts arranged in such form as he may prescribe, and he shall furnish blanks for such reports; and it is hereby made the duty of every president, manager or principal, to fill up and return such blanks within such time as the superintendent of public instruction shall direct.

Eleventh. To keep in his office a directory of all boards of regents and trustees of state educational institutions, of the faculties of said institutions, and of all teachers receiving certificates to teach in the common schools of this state.

Twelfth. To issue certificates as provided by law.

Thirteenth. To keep in his office at the capital of the state, all books and papers pertaining to the business of his office, and to keep and preserve in his office a complete record of statistics, and all matters pertaining to the educational interests of the state, as well as a record of the meetings of the state board of education.

Fourteenth. To decide all points of law which may be submitted to him in writing by any county superintendent, or that may be submitted to him by any other person, upon appeal from the decision of any county superintendent; and he shall publish his rulings and decisions from time to time for the information of school officers and teachers; and his decisions shall be final unless set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction.

Fifteenth. To administer oaths and affirmations in the discharge of his official duties.

Sixteenth. To deliver over to his successor, at the expiration of his term of office, all records, books, maps, documents and papers of whatever kind belonging to his office or which may have been received by him for the use of his office.

Seventeenth. To prepare and from time to time to revise a state manual of Washington, which shall be sold at actual cost of publication and distribution, said manual to contain a sketch of the history of the state, an outline of the constitution of the state, excerpts from the school code, the courses of study and rules for the general government of the common schools, a map of the state, and a map of the topography of the state, and such other matter as the state superintendent or the state board of education from time to time shall determine.

Eighteenth. To make a certified copy of papers filed in his office and of his official acts, attested by his official seal. He shall charge for such certified copy fifteen cents per folio, and all money so received shall be immediately paid to the state treasurer and credited to the general fund of the state.

Nineteenth. To perform such other duties as may be required by law. [L. '09, p. 231, § 3. Cf. L. '90, pp. 348–351, §§ 3, 4; L. '91, pp. 237–230, §§ 1, 2; 1 H. C., §§ 119, 120; L. '97, p. 363, § 22; L. '99, p. 307, § 4; L. '01, p. 41, § 1; L. '01, p. 376, § 6; L. '03, p. 166, § 9; L. '07, p. 604, § 1.]

See infra, § 9009, printing of reports.

§ 4308. Assistant, Deputy and Stenographer.—The superintendent of public instruction is hereby authorized to appoint one assistant superintendent of public instruction, who shall be the holder of not less than a first grade certificate; a deputy superintendent of public instruction, who shall also act as an inspector of schools, who shall be the holder of not less than a first grade certificate; a stenographer, and also to employ such other assistance as the needs of his office shall require from time to time, and for the payment of whose services appropriations shall have been made by the legislature of this state. [L. '09, p. 234, § 4. Cf. L. '90, p. 351, § 5; 1 H. C., § 121; L. '97, p. 366, § 23; L. '03, p. 169, § 10; L. '05, p. 104, § 1.]

§ 4309. State Board of Education—Term of Office.—The state board of education shall consist of the superintendent of public instruction, the president of the University of Washington, the president of the State College of Washington, the principal of one of the state normal schools elected by the principals of the state normal schools, and three persons holding life diplomas issued under the authority of this state and actively engaged in educational work, appointed by the governor, one of whom shall be a superintendent of a district of the first class, one a county superintendent of schools, one a principal of a fully accredited four year high school.

The appointed and elected members of the board shall hold their office for two years from the date of appointment and shall serve until their successors are appointed and qualified. [L. '09, p. 234, § 1. Cf. L. '90, p. 352, § 6; 1 H. C., § 771; L. '97, p. 366, § 24; L. '01, p. 376, § 6; L. '07, p. 608, § 2.]

Vacancies how filled: See supra, § 4304.

§ 4310. President of Board.—The superintendent of public instruction shall be ex-officio president of the board, and shall furnish all necessary record-books and blanks for its use, and shall represent the board in directing the work of high school inspection. [L. '09, p. 235, § 2.]

§ 4311. Secretary of Board.—The deputy superintendent of public instruction shall be ex-officio secretary of said board, but shall not be entitled to a vote in its proceedings. He shall keep a correct record of its proceedings in a good and well-bound book, which shall be kept in the office of the superintendent of public instruction. He shall also, upon request, furnish to the executive head of any or all of the state institutions of higher education a certified copy of such proceedings. [L. '09, p. 235, § 3.]

§ 4313. Powers and Duties of Board.—The state board of education shall have power, and it shall be its duty:

First. To approve the preparatory requirements for entrance to the University of Washington, the State College of Washington, and the state normal schools of Washington.

Second. To approve courses for the state normal schools, for the department of education of the University of Washington, and the State College of Washington, and for all normal training departments of higher institutions within the state of Washington which may be accredited and whose graduates may become entitled to receive teachers' life diplomas or professional certificates.

Third. To investigate the character of the work required to be performed as a condition of entrance to and graduation from normal schools, colleges, universities and other institutions of higher education and to prepare an accredited list of those higher institutions of learning of this and other states whose graduates may be awarded teachers' certificates by the superintendent of public instruction without examination except upon the state manual of Washington: Provided, that the entrance and graduation requirements of all colleges and universities whose diplomas are accredited must be equal to those of the University of Washington; and the requirements for normal schools shall be equal to the advanced course of the state normal schools of this state.

Fourth. To prepare an accredited list of state life certificates and life diplomas issued in other states by examination, upon which certificates may be issued in this state without examination, except in Washington State Manual: Provided, that the requirements to obtain such certificates and diplomas must be equal to the requirements for a life certificate in this state.

Fifth. To examine and accredit secondary schools: Provided, that no private academy shall be placed upon the accredited list so long as secret societies are allowed to exist among its students.

Sixth. When requested by any institution of higher learning situated within the state maintaining a normal training department the board shall send an inspector, qualified for such service, to examine the equipment of such department and to ascertain the extent and character of the courses provided and the preparatory requirements for admission to them, which requirements must include the completion of a high school course or its equivalent, and particularly the qualifications and experience of the instructors and supervisors who are responsible for the work of this department.

The inspector shall make a detailed report, including declaration of his opinion of the adequacy of the department for the work of educating and training teachers, which report shall be placed on file in the office of the superintendent of public instruction.

If any such normal training department is ascertained to be equipped and manned adequately for the education and training of teachers and to be under reliable and responsible management and upon a basis of efficiency equal to that of the normal schools maintained by the state it shall be the duty of the board to accredit such department and to grant life diplomas to graduates who present diplomas certifying that the holders have completed the courses approved by the board when the applicants have complied with the other requirements for life diplomas. It shall be the further duty of the board to inspect all accredited normal training departments each year.

Seventh. To prepare an outline course or courses of study for the primary, grammar and high school departments of the common schools, and to prescribe such rules for the general government of the common schools, as shall secure regularity of attendance, prevent truancy, secure efficiency and promote the true interests of the common schools.

Eighth. To prepare a uniform series of questions to be used by the county superintendents in the examination of teachers, and to determine rules and regulations for conducting the same, and to prepare questions for the examination of applicants for state elementary certificates, and life diplomas.

Ninth. To prepare answers to all examination questions which are prepared by the board.

Tenth. To prepare uniform questions for use in the examination of the pupils of the schools of the state completing the grammar school course of study, and to prescribe uniform rules and regulations for the conducting of such examinations.

Eleventh. To hear and decide appeals as provided by law. [L. '09, p. 236, § 5. Cf. L. '90, p. 352, § 8; 1 H. C., § 773; L. '95, p. 373, § 1; L. '97, p. 367, § 27; L. '03, p. 170, § 12; L. '07, p. 609, § 3.]

Former laws cited in 36 Wash, 409, 414, 415, 422.

See supra, § 4307, appeals.

§ 4314. Further Duties of Board.—The board shall arrange such courses and adopt and enforce such regulations as will place the state institutions in harmonious relations with the common schools and with each other, and unify the work of the public school system. [L. '09, p. 238, § 6. Cf. L. '97, p. 368, § 29.]

§ 4315. Seal.—The state board of education shall adopt a seal, which shall be kept in the office of the superintendent of public instruction. [L. '09, p. 238, § 7.]

CHAPTER II.

University of Washington.

§ 4316. Designation.—The State University, as heretofore located and established in the city of Seattle, county of King, shall be designated and named the University of Washington. [L. '09, p. 238, § 1. Cf. L. '90, p. 395, § 1; 1 H. C., § 934; L. '97, p. 427, § 182.]

Former laws cited in 3 Wash. 129; 74 Wash. 578.
See infra, § 5041, etc., University funds.
See infra, § 6636, etc., University lands.
See infra, § 6992, museum of.
See infra, § 8988, state board of control to visit.

§ 4317. Purpose—Tuition—Admission of Students.—The aim and the purpose of the University of Washington shall be to provide for students of both sexes, on equal terms, a liberal instruction in the different branches of literature, science, art, law, medicine, military science and such other departments of instruction as may be established therein from time to time by the board of regents. Tuition in the University of Washington, except as may be provided by the board of regents with reference to the arts or to special courses of study, shall be free to all bona fide residents of this state. Non-residents of this state shall be admitted to the state university on such terms as may from time to time be prescribed by the board of regents: Provided, that no student shall be admitted to any department of the university who is under the age of sixteen years. The said university shall, as far as practicable, begin its course of study in its literary and scientific departments at the points where the same are completed in the public high schools of this state. No student shall be admitted except upon examination satisfactory to the faculty of the university: Provided, however, that students shall be admitted without examination upon presentation of certificates from those public high schools and other educational institutions in this state whose courses of study shall have been approved by said faculty of the university, and accredited by the state board of education: Provided, that said faculty shall have power to specify the preparation required for admission to any department of the university. [L. '09, p. 238, § 2. Cf. L. '90, p. 296, § 2; 1 H. C., § 935; L. '93, p. 296, § 6; L. '97, p. 427, § 183.]

Cited in 71 Wash. 216.

§ 4318. Regents—Term—Quorum—Vacancy, etc.—The government of the University of Washington shall be vested in the board of regents to consist of seven members, who shall be appointed by the governor of the state, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, and who shall hold their offices respectively for a term of six years from the second Monday in March next succeeding their appointment and until their successors shall be appointed and shall qualify: Provided, that regents now serving upon such board shall continue as such during the terms for which they were respectively appointed. Four members of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Whenever there shall be a vacancy in the said board of regents, from any cause whatever, it shall be the duty of the governor to fill such office by appointment, and the person or persons so appointed shall continue in office until the close of the legislature next thereafter, or until others are appointed and qualified in their stead. Each regent before entering upon the duties of his office must qualify by taking the usual oath of office before some officer authorized by law to administer the same and file a copy of said oath with the secretary of state. [L. '09, p. 239, § 3. Cf. L. '90, p. 396, §§ 3, 4; 1 H. C., §§ 936, 937; L. '95, p. 193, § 1; L. '97, p. 428, § 184.]

§ 4319. Organization of Board—Meetings.—The board shall organize by electing from its membership a president and an executive committee, of which committee the president shall be ex-officio chairman. The board shall hold regular quarterly meetings, and during the interim between such meetings the executive committee may transact business for the whole board: Provided, that the executive committee may call special meetings of the whole board when such action is deemed necessary. [L. '97, p. 428, § 185; L. '09, p. 240, § 4.]

See infra, § 5396, president a member of the geological survey board.

§ 4320. Secretary and Treasurer, Appointment of—Duties.—The regents shall appoint a secretary, a treasurer, and librarian, who shall hold their respective offices during the pleasure of the board. It shall be the duty of the secretary to record all proceedings of the board and carefully preserve the same, and all the books and papers. The treasurer shall keep a true and faithful account of all moneys received and paid out by him, and shall give bonds for the faithful performance of the duties of his office in such amount as the regents may require. [L. '90, p. 396, § 6; 1 H. C., § 939.]

Cited in 74 Wash. 578.

§ 4321. Powers and Duties of Regents Enumerated.—The board of regents may adopt by-laws or rules and regulations for its own government. The powers and duties of the board of regents are as follows:

First. The said board shall have full control of the university and its property of various kinds, and shall employ the president, members of the faculty, assistants and employees of the institution, who shall hold their positions during the pleasure of said board of regents.

Second. It shall be the duty of the board of regents, with the assistance of the faculty of the university, to prescribe the course of study in the various departments of the institution and to publish the annual catalogue.

Third. The said board shall grant to every student, upon graduation, a suitable diploma or degree, such student having been recommended for such honor by the faculty. The board shall also have power, upon recommendation of the faculty, to confer the usual honorary degrees upon other persons than graduates of this university in recognition of their learning or devotion to literature, art or science; but no degree shall ever be conferred in consideration of the payment of money or other valuable thing. The said board is also empowered, upon recommendation of the faculty, to grant normal diplomas which shall entitle the holder to teach in any public school in the state for a period of five years; and to grant university life diplomas to candidates who shall give satisfactory evidence of having taught successfully for twenty-four months: Provided, that all candidates for the normal diploma and life diploma shall have satisfactorily completed not less than twelve semester hours in the department of education.

Fourth. The board of regents is authorized to receive such bequests and gratuities as may be granted to the said university and to invest or expend the same according to the terms of said bequests or gratuities. The said board shall adopt proper rules to govern and protect the receipt and expenditure of the proceeds of all fees, bequests or gratuities, and shall make full report of the same in the customary biennial report to the governor, or more frequently if required by law.

Fifth. The board of regents is authorized and empowered to give and execute, on behalf of the state of Washington, the bonds and other papers required by the war department for the safekeeping of the arms and equipments loaned by the United States to the University of Washington.

Sixth. The board of regents shall transmit, on the first day of January preceding each regular session of the legislature, to the governor a printed report of all the doings since their last report, not exceeding three hundred in number, giving full information of the receipt and expenditure of money, furnish an estimate of the needs of the institution, and give such information as will be helpful to the state authorities in providing for the said institution.

Seventh. The members of said board of regents shall serve without compensation. Each regent, however, shall be paid his actual traveling expenses in going to and coming from any meeting of said board, and such claims for expenses shall be audited on vouchers issued by the president and secretary of said board the same as any other claims are audited. [L. '09, p. 240, § 5. Cf. L. '90, pp. 396–398, §§ 7, 9, 11; 1 H. C., §§ 938, 949, 950; L. '93, p. 299, § 10; L. '95, p. 194, § 2; L. '97, p. 429, § 186.]

§ 4322. Faculty, How Constituted.—The faculty of the University of Washington shall consist of the president and the professors, and the said faculty shall have charge of the immediate government of the institution under such rules as may be prescribed by the board of regents. [L. '09, p. 241, § 6. Cf. 1 H. C., § 944; L. '97, p. 430, § 187.]

§ 4323. Nonsectarian.—The University of Washington shall never be under the control of any religious or sectarian denomination or society whatever. [L. '90, p. 396, § 5; 1 H. C., § 947; L. '97, p. 430; § 188; L. '09, p. 242, § 7.]

See Const., Art. IX, § 4.

§ 4324. Attorney General Legal Adviser.—The attorney general of the state shall be the legal adviser of the president and the board of regents of the university, and he shall institute and prosecute or defend all suits in behalf of the same. [L. '90, p. 399, § 19; 1 H. C., § 952; L. '97, p. 430, § 189; L. '09, p. 242, § 8.]

§ 4325. Authority of Regents to Expend Income.—The board of regents is authorized to expend such portion of the income of the university fund as it may deem expedient for the purchase of apparatus, library, and cabinets of natural history, providing suitable means to keep and preserve the same, and in the procurement of other means of facility for instruction. [L. '90, p. 397, § 8; 1 H. C., § 946.]

Quaere: Whether this section is superseded by § 4321, supra.

§ 4326. Erection of Buildings.—It shall be the duty of the board of regents herein provided for, as soon after their organization as practicable, and as soon as there shall be an appropriation therefor in the hands of the state treasurer in any amount sufficient to warrant the beginning the erection of the several buildings herein provided for, or any wing or section of the same, to enter into contracts with one or more contractors for the erection and construction of such suitable buildings and improvements for the institution created by this chapter as in their judgment shall be deemed best, or the funds aforesaid shall warrant, all things considered; such contract or contracts to be let after open public notice and competition under such regulations as shall be established by said board to the person or persons who offer to execute such work on the most advantageous terms: Provided, that in all cases said board shall require from contractors a good and sufficient bond for the faithful performance of their work, and the full protection of the state against mechanics' and other liens: And provided further, that the board shall not have the power to enter into any contract for the erection of any buildings or improvements which shall bind said board to pay out any sum of money in excess of the amount provided for said purpose. [L. '09, p. 242, § 9.]

The meaning of "several buildings herein provided for" is not clear, as this act does not authorize or provide for any.

§ 4327. Regents may Employ Architects.—The board provided for in this chapter shall have power in their discretion to employ skilled architects and superintendents to prepare plans and specifications, and to supervise the construction of any of the buildings provided for in this chapter, and to fix the compensation for such services subject to the provisions and restrictions of this act. [L. '09, p. 242, § 10.]

See note to last section.

§ 4328. Disbursement of Funds.—Whenever there shall be any money in the hands of the state treasurer to the credit of any of the specific funds set apart for that institution created by this chapter, deemed sufficient by the board to commence the erection of any of the necessary buildings or improvements, or to pay the necessary running or other expenses of said institution, the state auditor, on the request in writing of said board, shall, and it is hereby made his duty to draw his warrant in favor of the treasurer of said board and upon the state treasury against the specific fund belonging to said institution in such sum not exceeding the amount on hand in such specific fund at such time as said board may deem necessary: Provided, that said board shall draw said money as it may be necessary to disburse the same. [L. '09, p. 243, § 11.]

§ 4329. Donations to be Kept as Separate Fund.—All donations of money, security, or other property shall be paid into the state treasury and invested as other funds of the university, and donations may be made to and for the sole use of any one of the departments of the university, and donations so made shall be kept as a separate fund for the use of such department. [L. '90, p. 399, § 18; 1 H. C., § 956.]

It seems that subdivision 4 of § 4321, supra, may supersede parts of this section.

§ 4330. Restrictions upon Regents as to Debts, etc.—The board of regents are hereby prohibited from creating any debt as against the university, or in any manner encumbering the same, or of incurring any expense beyond their ability from the annual income of the university for the then current year. [L. '90, p. 399, § 20; 1 H. C., § 957.]

§ 4336. Laboratories and Departments of Instruction—Military Tactics.—The board of regents shall provide that all instruction given in the college shall, to the utmost practicable extent, be conveyed by means of practical work in the laboratory, and shall provide in connection with said college the following laboratories: One physical laboratory or more, one chemical laboratory or more, and one biological laboratory or more, and suitably furnish and equip the same. Said board of regents shall provide that all male students shall be trained in military tactics. Said board of regents shall establish a department of elementary science, and in connection therewith provide instruction in the following subjects: Elementary mathematics, including elementary trigonometry, elementary mechanics, elementary and mechanical drawing and land surveying. Said board of regents shall establish a department of said college to be designated as the department of agriculture, and in connection therewith shall provide instruction in the following subjects—First: Physics, with special application of its principles to agriculture. Second: Chemistry, with special application of its principles to agriculture. Third: Morphology and physiology of plants, with special reference to the commonly grown crops and their fungus enemies. Fourth: Morphology and physiology of the lower forms of animal life, with special reference to insect pests. Fifth: Morphology and physiology of the higher forms of animal life, and in particular of the horse, cow, sheep and swine. Sixth: Agriculture, with special reference to the breeding and feeding of livestock, and the best mode of cultivation of farm produce. Seventh: Mining and metallurgy. And it shall appoint demonstrators in each of these subjects, to superintend the equipment of a laboratory and to give practical instruction in the same. Said board of regents shall establish an agricultural experiment station in connection with the department of agriculture of said college, appoint its officers and prescribe such regulations for its management as it may deem expedient. Said board of regents may establish other departments of said college, and provide courses of instruction therein, when those are, in its judgment, required for the better carrying out of the object of the college. [L. '09, p. 244, § 4. Cf. L. '90, p. 263, § 8; 1 H. C., § 963; L. '97, p. 431, § 193.]

§ 4338. Organization of Board—Treasurer, Bond of—Secretary, Bond of.—The board of regents shall meet and organize by the election of its president and treasurer from their own number, on the first Wednesday in April of each year. The person so elected as treasurer shall, before entering upon the discharge of his duties as such, execute a good and sufficient bond to the state of Washington with two or more sufficient sureties, residents of the state, in the penal sum of not less than forty thousand dollars ($40,000), conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties as such treasurer, and that he will faithfully account for and pay over to the person or persons entitled thereto all moneys which shall come into his hands as such officer, which bond shall be approved by the governor of the state, and shall be filed with the secretary of state. The president of the college shall be secretary of the board of regents, and shall perform all the duties pertaining to that office, but shall not have the right to vote. The secretary shall in like manner as the treasurer give a bond in the penal sum of not less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties as such officer. [L. '09, p. 246, § 6. Cf. L. '91, p. 336, § 6; 1 H. C., § 966; L. '97, p. 433, § 195.]

§ 4342. Experimental Station Established by Congress.—The agricultural experiment station provided for in this act in connection with the state college shall be under the direction of said board of regents of said college for the purpose of conducting experiments in agriculture according to the terms of section one (1) of an act of congress approved March 2, 1887, and entitled "An act to establish agricultural experiment stations in connection with the colleges established in the several states, under the provisions of an act approved July 2, 1862, and of the acts supplementary thereto." The said college and experiment station shall be entitled to receive all the benefits and donations made and given to similar institutions of learning in other states and territories of the United States by the legislation of the congress of the United States now in force, or that may be enacted, and particularly to the benefits and donations given by the provisions of an act of congress entitled "An act donating public lands to the several states and territories which may provide colleges for the benefit of agricultural and mechanic arts," approved July 2, 1862, and all acts supplementary thereto, including the acts entitled "An act to establish agricultural experiment stations in connection with colleges established in the several cities [states] under the provisions of an act approved July 2, 1862, and of the acts supplementary thereto," which said last entitled act was approved March 2, 1887; also, "An act to apply a portion of the proceeds of the public lands to the more complete endowment and support of the colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts, established under the provisions of an act of congress approved July 2, 1862," which said last mentioned act was approved August 30, 1890. [L. '09, p. 247, § 10. Cf. L. '91, p. 337, § 10; 1 H. C., § 970; L. '97, p. 434, § 199.]

§ 4343. Assent to Congressional Requirements.—The assent of the legislature of the state of Washington is hereby given, in pursuance of the requirements of section nine (9) of said act of congress, approved March 2, 1887, to the granting of money therein made to the establishment of experiment stations in accordance with section one (1) of said last mentioned act, and assent is hereby given to carry out, within the state of Washington, every provision of said act. [L. '09, p. 248, § 11. Cf. L. '91, p. 338, § 11; 1 H. C., § 971; L. '97, p. 435, § 200.]

§ 4343-1. To Receive and Expend Moneys Granted.—The board of regents of the State College of Washington is hereby authorized and empowered to receive and expend the moneys appropriated under the act of congress approved May 8, 1914, and entitled "An act to provide for co-operative agricultural extension work between the agricultural colleges in the several states receiving the benefits of the act of congress approved July 2, 1862, and of acts supplemental thereto, and the United States Department of Agriculture," and to organize and conduct agricultural extension work in connection with the State College of Washington in accordance with the terms and conditions expressed in said act of congress. [L. '15, p. 349, § 1.]

§ 4343-2. Appropriation.—For the purpose of complying with the conditions expressed in said act of congress approved May 8, 1914, there is hereby appropriated out of the general fund the sum of eighteen thousand four hundred eighty-one dollars. [L. '15, p. 350, § 2.]

§ 4344. Acceptance of Federal Aid.—The state of Washington hereby assents to the purposes, terms, provisions and conditions of the grant of money provided in an act of congress approved March 16, 1906, said act being entitled "An act to provide for an increased annual appropriation for agricultural experiment stations and regulating the expenditure thereof," and having for its purpose the more complete endowment and maintenance of agricultural experiment stations theretofore or thereafter established under an act of congress approved March 2, 1887. [L. '07, p. 423, § 1.]

Superseded, in part, by § 5049, infra, requiring payment to the state treasurer.

§ 4346. Experimental Station at Puyallup.—The operation and conduct of the agricultural experiment station heretofore established at Puyallup, Washington, shall be under the supervision and control of the board of regents of the agricultural college and school of science, and the state auditor is hereby authorized to audit all claims and, if found correct, to issue warrants upon the state treasurer in payment of bills duly authorized by said board as provided by law, and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same. [L. '99, p. 132, § 1.]

§ 4347. Acquisition of Lands for Experimental Purposes.—The board of regents of the State College of Washington is hereby authorized and empowered to acquire by lease or gift, any tract or tracts of land, which, in its judgment, are necessary for experimental or demonstrational purposes, or for otherwise carrying out the purposes or work of the college as defined by law, and to pay for the same out of the maintenance fund of the college: Provided, that not more than twelve hundred dollars a year shall be paid from said fund for said purposes: Provided further, that when said land is leased by the state for the purposes of this act, such land shall be exempt from taxation. [L. '09, p. 815, § 1.]

See infra, § 5047, disposition of lands.
See infra, § 6655, sale of lands.

§ 4348. Meetings of Board.—The meetings of the board of regents may be called in such manner as the board may prescribe, and the majority of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; but a less number may adjourn from time to time. No vacancy in said board shall impair the rights of the remaining board. A full meeting of the board shall be called at least once a year. [L. '09, p. 248, § 12. Cf. L. '91, p. 338, § 12; 1 H. C., § 972; L. '97, p. 435, § 201.]

§ 4349. Oath of Regents.—Each member of the board of regents, created by this chapter shall, before entering upon his duties, take and subscribe an oath to discharge faithfully and honestly his duties in the premises, and to perform strictly and impartially the same to the best of his ability; said oath shall be filed with the secretary of state. [L. '09, p. 248, § 13. Cf. L. '91, p. 338, § 14; 1 H. C., § 974; L. '97, p. 435, § 202.]

§ 4350. Expenses of Regents.—The regents shall be allowed their actual and necessary traveling expenses in going to and returning from all the necessary sessions of the board; and also their necessary expenses while in actual attendance upon the same. [L. '09, p. 249, § 14. Cf. L. '91, p. 338, § 15; 1 H. C., § 975; L. '97, p. 436, § 203.]

§ 4351. Annual Report.—The board of regents shall, on or before the first day of November of each year, make a full and true report in detail of all their acts and doings during the previous year, their receipts and expenditures, the exact status of their institution, and other information they may deem proper and useful, or which may be called for by the governor, which said report shall be made to the governor, who shall transmit the same to the succeeding session of the legislature. A copy of said report shall be furnished to the

§ 4352. Disbursement of Funds.—The treasurer of said board shall make disbursement of the funds in his hands on the order of the board, which order shall be countersigned by the secretary of the board, and shall state on what account the disbursement is made. [L. '09, p. 249, § 16. Cf. L. '91, p. 340, § 19; 1 H. C., § 979; L. '97, p. 436, § 205.]

§ 4353. No Employee Shall have Pecuniary Interest in Contracts. No employee or member of the board created by this chapter shall be interested pecuniarily, either directly or indirectly, in any contract for any building or improvement of said institution, or for the furnishing of supplies for the same. [L. '09, p. 249, § 17. Cf. L. '91, p. 340, § 21; 1 H. C., § 981; L. '97, p. 436, § 206.]

§ 4354. Governor Ex-officio Member of Board.—The governor of the state shall be ex-officio advisory member of the board provided for in this chapter, but shall not have the right to vote nor be eligible to office therein. [L. '91, p. 340, § 22; 1 H. C., § 982; L. '97, p. 436, § 207; L. '09, p. 249, § 18.]

§ 4355. Board may Grant Degrees.—The board of regents shall grant to every student, upon graduation, a suitable diploma or degree, such student having been recommended for such honor by the faculty. The board shall also have power, upon recommendation of the faculty, to confer the usual honorary degrees upon other persons than graduates of this college in recognition of their learning or devotion to literature, art or science; but no degree shall ever be conferred in consideration of the payment of money or other valuable thing. The said board is also empowered, upon recommendation of the faculty, to grant normal diplomas which shall entitle the holder to teach in any public school in the state for a period of five years; and to grant life diplomas to candidates who shall give satisfactory evidence of having taught successfully for twenty-four (24) months: Provided, that all candidates for the normal diploma and life diploma shall have satisfactorily completed not less than twelve semester hours in the department of education. [L. '09, p. 249, § 19. Cf. L. '95, p. 365, § 1; L. '97, p. 436, § 208.]

§ 4356. To Supervise the Construction of Improvements.—It shall be the duty of the board of regents herein provided for, as soon after their organization as practicable, and as soon as there shall be an appropriation therefor in the hands of the state treasurer in any amount sufficient to warrant the beginning the erection of the several buildings herein provided for, or any wing or section of the same, to enter into contracts with one or more contractors for the erection and construction of such suitable buildings and improvements for the institution created by this chapter as in their judgment shall be deemed best, or the funds aforesaid shall warrant, all things considered; such contract or contracts to be let after open public notice and competition under such regulations as shall be established by said board to the person or persons who offer to execute such work on the most advantageous terms: Provided, that in all cases said board shall require from contractors a good and sufficient bond for the faithful performance of the work, and the full protection of the state against mechanics' and other liens: And provided further, that the board shall not have the power to enter into any contract for the erection of any buildings or improvements which shall bind said board to pay out any sum of money in excess of the amount provided for said purpose. [L. '09, p. 250, § 20. Cf. L. '91, p. 339, § 17; 1 H. C., § 977; L. '97, p. 437, § 209.]

§ 4357. To Employ Architects.—The board provided for in this chapter shall have power in their discretion to employ skilled architects and superintendents to prepare plans and specifications, and to supervise the construction of any of the buildings provided for in this chapter, and to fix the compensation for such services subject to the provisions and restrictions of this act. [L. '09, p. 250, § 21. Cf. L. '91, p. 340, § 18; 1 H. C., § 978; L. '97, p. 437, § 210.]

§ 4358. State Auditor to Issue Warrants on Proper Funds.—Whenever there shall be any money in the hands of the state treasurer to the credit of any of the specific funds set apart for that institution created by this chapter, deemed sufficient by the board to commence the erection of any of the necessary buildings or improvements, or to pay the necessary running or other expenses of said institution, and any proper indebtedness has been incurred, the state auditor upon receipt of properly audited vouchers shall, and it is hereby made his duty to draw his warrants for the payment thereof upon the state treasurer against the specific fund belonging to said institution in such sum, not exceeding the amount on hand in such specific fund at such time, provided proper appropriations have been made therefor. [L. '09, p. 251, § 22. Cf. L. '91, p. 340, § 20; 1 H. C., § 980; L. '97, p. 437, § 211.]

§ 4359. Board may Execute Bonds to United States.—The board of regents of the agricultural college and school of science is authorized and empowered to give and execute, on behalf of the state of Washington, the bonds and other papers required by the war department for the safekeeping of the arms and equipments loaned by the United States to the agricultural college and school of science. [L. '99, p. 175, § 1.]

CHAPTER IV.

Normal Schools.

§ 4360. Establishment — Corporate Title.—The State Normal School at Cheney, the State Normal School at Bellingham, the State Normal School at Ellensburg, and such other state normal schools as may hereafter be established, shall each be under the management and control of a board of three trustees, to be known as "Board of Trustees of the State Normal School at ——." Said trustees shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate. [L. '09, p. 251, § 1. Cf. L. '93, p. 254, § 1; L. '97, p. 438, § 212.]

See infra, §§ 5045, 5056, normal school funds.

§ 4361. Appointment of Trustees—Term of.—All trustees of the state normal schools serving at the time of the passage of this act shall continue to hold their respective offices as such trustees for the full term for which they were appointed; and thereafter all trustees shall be appointed for six years, except in cases of appointments to fill vacancies, in which cases the appointment shall be made for the unexpired term of the trustee whose office has become vacant. In case of the establishment of any additional state normal schools, unless otherwise expressly provided by law, the governor shall appoint one trustee for two years, one for four years and one for six years. [L. '09, p. 251, § 2. Cf. L. '93, p. 255, § 2; L. '97, p. 438, § 213.]

§ 4362. Trustees to Elect Officers and Enact By-laws—Quorum.—Each board of normal school trustees shall elect one of its members chairman, and it shall elect a secretary, who may or may not be a member of the board. Each board shall have power to adopt by-laws for its government and for the government of the school, which by-laws shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and to prescribe the duties of its officers, committees and employees. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of all business. [L. '09, p. 252, § 3. Cf. L. '93, p. 255, § 3; L. '97, p. 438, § 214.]

§ 4363. Powers and Duties Enumerated.—Each board of normal school trustees shall have power, and it shall be its duty—First: To elect a principal and such other teachers, assistants and employees as the necessities of the school may require for a period not exceeding four years. Second: For good and lawful reasons to discharge any or all such teachers and employees. Third: To adopt the necessary text-books, and to provide books of reference for the use of students and teachers, and to provide for the proper care of the same. Fourth: To have charge of the erection of all buildings pertaining to the school, unless otherwise expressly provided, and to have the care and management of all buildings and other property belonging to the school. Fifth: To audit all accounts against the school, and to certify all bills, which may be allowed, to the state auditor, who shall draw warrants on the state treasurer for such amounts as he shall find to have been properly or legally allowed. Sixth: To purchase all supplies for the use of the school, to provide a library suited to its wants, to provide for lectures on subjects pertaining to education and the art or science of teaching, and to do such other things not forbidden by law as may become necessary for the good of the school. [L. '09, p. 252, § 4. Cf. L. '93, p. 255, § 4; L. '97, p. 438, § 215; L. '05, p. 170, § 1.]

Former laws cited in 17 Wash. 486.

For former laws on this subject see L. '90, pp. 278, 281.

§ 4364. Boarding-houses.—Each board of normal school trustees shall have power to establish and maintain a boarding-house or houses for the accommodation of students, to employ a matron and such other assistance as may become necessary to conduct the same, to make such rules for its government and management as they may deem necessary, and to charge such rates for board and entertainment as will make such boarding-house or houses self-sustaining. [L. '09, p. 252, § 5. Cf. L. '93, p. 256, § 5; L. '97, p. 439, § 216.]

§ 4365. Meetings.—Each board of normal school trustees shall hold two regular or stated meetings each year, at such times as may be provided in its by-laws, and such special meetings shall be held as may be deemed necessary, whenever called by the chairman or by a majority of the board. [L. '09, p. 253, § 6. Cf. L. '93, p. 256, § 6; L. '97, p. 439, § 217.]

§ 4366. Duties of Principal.—The principal of each state normal school shall have a general supervision of the school, shall see that all laws and rules of the board of trustees are observed by teachers and students, that the course or courses of study prescribed are faithfully pursued, shall assign students to their proper classes or grades, and unless otherwise specially provided, he shall designate the work to be performed by each teacher. He shall, at the close of each school year, make a detailed annual report to the board of trustees, containing a classified catalogue of all students that have been enrolled during the year, and such other information as he may deem advisable or as the board may require, and it shall be his duty to superintend the printing of the same. It shall also be his duty, when required by the board of trustees, to attend county institutes and other educational gatherings, and to lecture upon educational topics that are calculated to enhance the interests of popular education or of his school. The board of trustees shall audit and allow all his necessary expenses incurred in traveling. [L. '09, p. 253, § 7. Cf. L. '93, p. 256, § 7; L. '97, p. 439, § 218.]

Cited in 71 Wash. 216.

§ 4367. Model and Manual Training Departments.—A model school or training department shall be provided for each state normal school contemplated by this act, in which all students, before graduation, shall have actual practice in teaching for not less than eighteen weeks under the supervision and observation of critic and training teachers. A manual training department for each school under its control shall also be provided, and a suitable teacher employed for each. [L. '09, p. 253, § 8. Cf. L. '93, p. 258, § 12; L. '97, p. 440, § 219.]

Cited in 51 Wash. 500.

§ 4368. Trustees to Estimate Number of Pupils Required for Model School.—The board of trustees of any normal school having a model school or training department in connection therewith, as authorized by section 4367 shall be authorized, and it shall be their duty on or before the first Monday of September of each year, to file with the board of the school district in which such normal school is situated, a certified statement showing an estimate of the number of public school pupils who will be required to make up such model school, specifying the number required for each grade for which training for students is required. [L. '07, p. 180, § 1.]

Cited in 51 Wash. 552.

§ 4369. Selection of Pupils from Public Schools.—It shall thereupon be the duty of the board of the school district with which such statement has been filed, to apportion for attendance to the said training school, a sufficient number of pupils from the public schools under the supervision of said board as will furnish to such normal school the number of pupils required in order to maintain such training school: Provided, that the principal of said normal school may refuse to accept such pupil as in his judgment by reason of incorrigibility, or mental defects would tend to reduce the efficiency of said training department. [L. '07, p. 181, § 2.]

§ 4370. Report of Attendance of Common School Pupils.—Annually, on or before the date for reporting the school attendance of the school district in which said normal school is situated, for the purpose of taxation for the support of the common schools, the board of trustees in each such normal school shall file with the board of the school district in which such normal school is situated, a report showing the number of common school pupils in attendance at each such normal school, during the school year last past, and the period of their attendance in the same form that reports of public schools are made. The clerk of such school district shall, in reporting the attendance in said school district, segregate the attendance at said model school, from the attendance in the other schools of said district. [L. '07, p. 181, § 3.]

§ 4372. Diplomas and Certificates Issued, How.—Every diploma of graduation from a state normal school, or certificate issued therefrom, shall be signed by the president of the board of trustees and by the principal of the normal school at which the holder graduated, and by the state superintendent of public instruction; and all diplomas and certificates shall be stamped with the seal of the state superintendent of public instruction. Every diploma and certificate shall specifically state what course of study the holder has taken, and for what length of time said diploma or certificate is valid as a certificate to teach in the schools of the state. [L. '09, p. 254, § 9. Cf. L. '93, p. 259, § 13; L. '95, p. 366, § 2; L. '97, p. 440, § 220; L. '05, p. 171, § 2.]

§ 4373. Tuition Free—Students Admitted—Expulsion.—No charge shall be made against any student for tuition in any of the normal schools contemplated by this act. All students shall be required to furnish satisfactory evidence of good moral character, and any student may be suspended or expelled from any state normal school contemplated by this act who is found to be immoral, or who has refused to comply with its rules and regulations for its government. [L. '09, p. 254, § 10. Cf. L. '93, p. 259, § 14; L. '97, p. 440, § 221; L. '05, p. 171, § 3.]

§ 4374. Courses of Study—Diplomas.—The state board of education shall prescribe courses of study for the normal schools of the state as follows: (1) An elementary course of two years; (2) a secondary course of two years; (3) advanced courses of two and three years; (4) a complete course of five years; (5) an advanced course of one year for graduates from colleges and universities. Upon the satisfactory completion of any one of these courses a student shall be awarded an appropriate certificate or diploma as follows: Upon the completion of the elementary course, a certificate to be known as an elementary normal school certificate, which shall authorize the holder to teach in any elementary school for a period of two years; upon the completion of the secondary course a certificate to be known as a secondary normal school certificate, which shall authorize the holder to teach in the common schools of the state for a period of three years; upon the completion of any advanced course a diploma to be known as a normal school diploma, which shall authorize the holder to teach in the common schools of the state for a period of five years, and upon satisfactory evidence of having taught successfully for three years such person shall receive a life diploma countersigned by the superintendent of public instruction. Upon the completion of the work of the junior year any student may be given a secondary normal school certificate by vote of the faculty: Provided, that no one shall receive a diploma or secondary normal school certificate who has not attained the age of nineteen years, and attended the same state normal school one full school year of thirty-six weeks: Provided further, that no one shall receive a secondary normal school certificate or a normal school diploma who has not given evidence of ability to teach and govern a school by successful practice in the training department for a period of not less than eighteen weeks. The state board of education shall also prescribe uniform terms of admission to, and graduation from, the state normal schools, and shall define the qualifications for admission to each of the several courses. [L. '09, p. 254, § 11. Cf. L. '93, pp. 257, 258, §§ 10, 11; L. '97, p. 441, § 222; L. '99, p. 325, § 267; L. '05, p. 171, § 4.]

§ 4375. Free Text-books—Deposit Fee—Library Fund.—The board of trustees may provide out of the funds appropriated for the purpose, such text-books and supplies as are needful for successfully carrying into effect the courses of study prescribed. Each student upon admission to the school may be required to pay into the library fund of the school a sum not to exceed ten dollars, one-half of which shall be applied to the support of the general library and reading-room, and the remaining half shall be kept as indemnity for loss or damage of books belonging to the school in the hands of the student, and shall be returned to him after deducting such amount as may be justly charged for all loss or damage beyond reasonable wear. [L. '09, p. 255, § 12. Cf. L. '93, p. 260, § 15; L. '97, p. 442, § 223; L. '99, p. 326, § 27; L. '05, p. 172, § 5.]

§ 4376. Requirements for Admission.—No person shall be admitted to any state normal school as a student who has not attained the age of sixteen years, if a male, or fifteen years if a female, nor until by an entrance examination or otherwise he or she shall have established the fact that he or she is qualified to enter some one of the grades or courses provided for in the course of study. [L. '09, p. 255, § 13. Cf. L. '93, p. 262, § 18; L. '97, p. 442, § 224.]

§ 4377. Annual Meeting of Principals.—It shall be the duty of the principals of the several state normal schools contemplated by this act to meet once annually to consult with each other relative to matters concerning their school work, and to discuss methods of teaching and plans of management. [L. '09, p. 256, § 14. Cf. L. '93, p. 262, § 19; L. '97, p. 442, § 225.]

§ 4378. Biennial Report.—Each board of normal school trustees shall biennially on or before the first day of October next preceding each regular session of the state legislature of this state, make, through its secretary, a report to the governor of the state, which report shall be included with and constitute a part of the biennial report of the superintendent of public instruction. Said normal school report shall embrace a statement of the receipts and expenditures of the schools, and the purpose for which all moneys have been expended; a classified catalogue of all students enrolled in each of said schools; a directory of all graduates of each school properly classified; the course or courses of study pursued in the several schools, and such other information as may be deemed advisable. [L. '09, p. 256, § 15. Cf. L. '93, p. 262, § 20; L. '95, p. 368, § 3; L. '97, p. 442, § 226.]

§ 4379. Trustees Shall have No Pecuniary Interest in Contracts. No normal school trustee shall be awarded any contract for the erection, repair or the furnishing of any building belonging to any state normal school contemplated by this act, nor for the furnishing of supplies or materials for the same; and no such trustee shall act as agent for any publishing house proposing to furnish books for such school. Any trustee who shall violate any of the above named provisions shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and his office as such trustee shall be declared vacant. [L. '09, p. 256, § 16. Cf. L. '93, p. 263, § 22; L. '97, p. 443, § 227.]

CHAPTER V.

Washington State Training School.

§ 4380. Change of Designation.—The reform school at Chehalis, in Lewis county, shall be known as the Washington State Training School. [L. '09, p. 456, § 1.]

This and the next six sections relate to the reform school, and do not entirely harmonize with other general laws on that subject.

See infra, § 8596, establishment.

See infra, § 4386–1, state school for girls.

§ 4381. Purpose.—The said school shall be for the keeping and reformatory training of all youths between the ages of eight and eighteen years who are residents of the state of Washington and who are committed to said institution by a court of competent jurisdiction. [L. '09, p. 256, § 2.]

This section is not in harmony with § 8597.

§ 4382. Causes for Commitment.—When a boy of sane mind between the ages of eight and sixteen years or a girl of sane mind between the ages of eight and eighteen (18) years shall, in any court of record in this state, be found guilty of any crime except murder, or manslaughter, or highway robbery, or who for want of proper paternal care is growing up in mendicancy or vagrancy, or is incorrigible, or has been expelled from a public school, and complaint thereof is made and properly sustained, the court may if in its opinion the accused is a proper subject therefor, instead of entering judgment cause an order to be entered that said boy or girl be sent to the State Training School, in pursuance of the provisions of this act, and a copy of said order under seal of said court shall be sufficient warrant for carrying said boy or girl to the said school and for his or her commitment to the custody of the superintendent thereof. [L. '09, p. 257, § 3.]

See infra, § 4386–1, state school for girls, a later enactment.
This section is not in harmony with § 1980, supra, nor with the Penal Code of 1909, § 2276, supra, a later enactment.

§ 4383. Management by Board of Control.—The state board of control shall have full charge of the management of the said State Training School. It shall have power to adopt rules and regulations for its government, and shall prescribe, in a manner consistent with the provisions of the laws of this state, the duties of the persons connected with the management of the institution. [L. 09, p. 257, § 4.]

This section harmonizes with § 8933.
See infra, § 8598, audit and payment of bills.
See infra, §§ 8601, 8602, complaints, departments, etc.
See infra, § 8599, matron to control female department.

§ 4384. Superintendent.—The state board of control shall employ a competent person who shall be known as the superintendent of the Washington State Training School. He shall be the executive head of the said institution, and he shall hold his office during the pleasure of the state board of control. [L. '09, p. 257, § 5.]

This section conflicts with § 8936, providing for a four year term of office.
See supra, § 4307, annual report to state superintendent.
See infra, §§ 8599–8604, powers, duties, etc.

§ 4385. Assistants and Employees, Appointed by Superintendent. The superintendent of the said State Training School shall have power to appoint all assistants and employees required for the management of the institution placed in his charge, the number of said assistants and employees to be determined and fixed by the state board of control. The superintendent may at his pleasure discharge any person therein employed. [L. '09, p. 257, § 6.]

This section harmonizes with § 8936.

§ 4386. Curriculum.—All branches taught in the first eight grades of the public schools shall be taught in the State Training School.

The inmates shall be taught and trained in morality, temperance, frugality, and they shall also be instructed in the different trades and callings of the two sexes, as far as possible, in the scope of the institution. [L. '09, p. 257, § 7.]

This is the same as § 8603.

CHAPTER V–A.

State School for Girls.

§ 4386–1. School for Girls.—That there be established an institution which shall be known as the State School for Girls. [L. '13, p. 513, § 1.]

§ 4386–2. Commission to Construct Buildings.—The governor shall appoint four electors of the state of Washington, two of whom shall be women, who, together with the members of the state board of control, shall select a site for such school, to consist of not more than one hundred sixty acres of fertile land, and at a cost not to exceed the sum of one hundred fifty dollars ($150) per acre, said site to be within a radius of not less than one mile and not more than ten miles of the State Training School at Chehalis. As soon as the site has been selected, the state board of control shall at once proceed to the erection and equipment of such buildings as may be necessary, the number, kind and character of which shall be determined by the state board of control acting as a joint commission with the four electors above mentioned. In the construction and arrangement of buildings, the cottage plan shall be followed as far as practicable, each cottage to provide for a group of not to exceed thirty girls: Provided, that the above-named electors shall serve without compensation other than necessary expenses. [L. '13, p. 513, § 2.]

§ 4386–3. Management—Superintendent.—The government, control and business management of such school shall be vested in the state board of control. The board shall, with the approval of the governor, appoint a suitable superintendent of said school and shall designate the number of subordinate officers and employees to be employed, and fix their respective salaries, and have power, with the like approval, to make and enforce all such rules and regulations for the administration, government and discipline of the school as they may deem just and proper, not inconsistent with this act. The superintendent and all subordinate officers of the school shall be women: Provided, however, if a married woman be appointed superintendent or to any subordinate position, the husband of such appointee may, with the consent of the board, reside at the institution, and may be assigned such duties or employment as the board may prescribe. [L. '13, p. 514, § 3.]

§ 4386–4. Bond of Superintendent.—Before entering upon the discharge of her duties, the superintendent shall give a surety bond payable to the state of Washington in such sum as the board of control shall prescribe, to be approved by the said board, conditioned for the faithful performance of her duties, and that she will faithfully account for all moneys, property and effects of the institution or the inmates intrusted to her care. [L. '13, p. 514, § 4.]

§ 4386–5. Duties of Superintendent.—The superintendent, subject to the direction and approval of the board of control shall: (1) Have general supervision and control of the grounds and buildings of the institution, the subordinate officers and employees, and the inmates thereof, and all matters relating to their government and discipline; (2) make such rules, regulations and orders, not inconsistent with law or with the rules, regulations or directions of the board of control, as may seem to her proper or necessary for the government of such institution and for the employment, discipline and education of the inmates; (3) exercise such other powers, and perform such other duties as the board of control may prescribe; and (4) have power to engage and remove all employees, subject to the approval of the board of control. [L. '13, p. 515, § 5.]

§ 4386–6. Commitment of Girls.—Any girl more than ten and under eighteen years of age, who has been found delinquent under the juvenile delinquency law of this state, may be committed by the court to the state school for girls, there to remain until twenty-one years of age, unless sooner paroled or discharged as provided in sections 4386–8 and 4386–9, and such commitment shall not be subject to modification or revocation. [L. '13, p. 515, § 6.]

§ 4386–7. Court Record of Girl—Age.—The superior court shall cause a memorandum to be made and kept of the name, age, birthplace, occupation, last place of residence, and previous record of such girl, and the names and places of residence of the parents, next of kin or guardian of such girl, a copy of which shall be furnished to the superintendent at the time of the commitment to the school. The court shall find and determine the age of the girl, which shall be stated in the order for commitment. Such finding shall be conclusive evidence as to such age in any action to recover damages for detention and shall be presumptive evidence in any other inquiry, action or proceeding. [L. '13, p. 515, § 7.]

§ 4386–8. Parole—Behavior Credits.—The board of control, acting with the superintendent, shall, under a system of marks, or otherwise, fix upon a uniform plan by which girls may be paroled or discharged from the school, which system shall be subject to revision from time to time. Each girl shall be credited for personal demeanor, diligence in labor or study and for the results accomplished, and charged for derelictions, negligence or offense. The standing of each girl shall be made known to her as often as once a month. [L. '13, p. 516, § 8.]

§ 4386–9. Conditional Parole.—Every girl shall be entitled to a trial on parole before reaching the age of twenty years, such parole to continue for at least one year unless violated. The superintendent and resident physician, with the approval of the board of control, shall determine whether such parole has been violated. Any girl committed to the school who shall escape therefrom, or who shall violate a parole, may be apprehended and returned to the school be any officer or citizen on written order or request of the superintendent. Any person who shall go upon the school grounds except on lawful business, or by consent of the superintendent, or who shall entice any girl away from the school, or who shall in any way interfere with its management or discipline, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [L. '13, p. 516, § 9.]

§ 4386–10. Health of Inmates.—No girl shall be received in the State School for Girls who is not of sound mind, or who is subject to epileptic or other fits, or is not possessed of that degree of bodily health which should render her a fit subject for the discipline of the school. It shall be the duty of the court committing her to cause such girl to be examined by a reputable physician to be appointed by the court, who will certify to the above facts, which certificate shall be forwarded to the school with the commitment. Any girl who may have been committed to the school, not complying with the above requirements, may be returned by the superintendent to the court making the commitment, or to the officer or institution last having her in charge. The board of control shall arrange for the transportation of all girls to and from the school. [L. '13, p. 516, § 10.]

§ 4386–11. Instruction—Part of School System.—It shall be the duty of the superintendent, subject to the approval of the board of control, to employ teachers, and as far as practicable, to instruct the girls in all of the branches usually taught in the grades of the common schools of the state, also in such trades and vocational occupations as may be found desirable. The educational work of the school shall be a part of the educational system of the state, and as such shall be under the supervision of the state board of education. Only those certified by the state superintendent of public instruction shall be employed as teachers. [L. '13, p. 517, § 11.]

§ 4386–12. Hiring Out — Apprenticeships. — The superintendent shall have power to place any girl under the age of eighteen years at any employment for account of the institution or the girl employed, and receive and hold the whole or any part of her wages for the benefit of the girl less the amount necessary for her board and keep, and may also, with the consent of any girl over fourteen years of age, and the approval of the state board of control indorsed thereon, execute indentures of apprenticeship, which shall be binding on all parties thereto. In case any girl so apprenticed shall prove untrustworthy or unsatisfactory, the superintendent may permit her to be returned to the school, and the indenture may thereupon be canceled. If such girl shall have an unsuitable employer, the superintendent may, with the approval of the board of control, take her back to the school, and cancel the indenture of apprenticeship. All indentures so made shall be filed and kept in the school. A system may also be established, providing for compensation for girls for services rendered, and payments may be made from time to time, not to exceed in the aggregate to any one girl the sum of twenty-five dollars for each year of service. [L. '13, p. 517, § 12.]

§ 4386–13. Transfer of Girls from State Training School. — As soon as the school buildings have been erected and equipped all girls then in the Washington State Training School at Chehalis, shall be transferred to the State School for Girls, all who may then be on parole shall be transferred to the supervision of said school. Both shall thereafter be subject to all the laws, rules and regulations governing the school last mentioned. [L. '13, p. 517, § 13.]

CHAPTER VI.

State School for the Deaf and the Blind.

§ 4387. Management by Board of Control.—The State School for the Deaf and the Blind at Vancouver shall be under the direction of the state board of control, and the funds for its maintenance shall be appropriated by the legislature of the state of Washington. [L. '09, p. 258, § 1. Cf. L. '07, p. 378, § 2. Cf. L. '86, p. 136, §§ 1, 3; 1 H. C., §§ 983, 984; L. '97, p. 443, § 228; L. '05, p. 254, § 1.]

See infra, § 8933.

See infra, § 4509, subdiv. 4, schools for defective youth in districts of first class.

§ 4387–1. Separation of School for Deaf and Blind. — Upon the taking effect of this act, the State School for the Deaf and Blind at Vancouver shall be divided into two institutions, one for the blind to be known as the State School for the Blind, and one for the deaf to be known as the State School for the Deaf, each of said institutions to be located at Vancouver. The state board of conrtol shall appoint a superintendent for each institution. All provisions of law relating to the State School for the Deaf and Blind shall, so far as the same are applicable, govern the management of the State School for the Deaf and the State School for the Blind hereby created. [L. '13, p. 6, § 1.]

§ 4388. Annual Term. — The regular term of said school shall begin on the second Wednesday of September, and close on the second Wednesday of the following June. [L. '09, p. 258, § 2. Cf. L. '86, p. 139, § 23; 1 H. C., § 1003; L. '97, p. 446, § 246; L. '03, p. 276, § 2.]

§ 4389. Free Tuition—Age.—The institution shall be free to residents of the state of Washington who are between the ages of six and twenty-one years, and who are deaf and blind, or either deaf or blind: Provided, that they are free from loathsome or contagious diseases. [L. '09, p. 258, § 3. Cf. L. '86, p. 136, § 2; 1 H. C., § 985; L. '97, p. 443, § 229; L. '03, p. 266, § 1.]

§ 4390. Admission of Persons from Other States. — The state board of control may admit to this school deaf or blind children from other states, but the parents or guardians of such children will be required to pay annually or quarterly in advance a sufficient amount to cover the cost of maintaining and educating such children. [L. '09, p. 258, § 4. Cf. L. '86, p. 141, § 32; 1 H. C., § 1002; L. '97, p. 446, § 251.]

§ 4391. Superintendent — Appointment — Term — Qualification — Employees.—The superintendent shall be appointed by the state board of control, for a term of four years, subject to removal at the discretion of the board of control. Said superintendent must be not less than thirty nor more than seventy years of age and must be practically acquainted with the school management and class instruction of the deaf and the blind, having had at least ten years' actual experience in teaching in schools for the deaf and the blind. The superintendent shall have power to appoint all subordinates. The state board of control shall have power to fix the number of employees and the salary paid to each and may discharge any employee at its discretion. [L. '09, p. 258, § 5. Cf. L. '07, p. 278, § 3.]

See infra, § 8936.

§ 4392. Duty of District School Clerk.—It shall be the duty of the clerks of all school districts in the state of Washington at the time for making the annual reports, to report to the school superintendent of their respective counties the names of all deaf, mute, blind or feeble-minded youth residing within their respective districts who are between the ages of six and twenty-one years. [L. '90, p. 497, § 1; 1 H. C., § 1013; L. '97, p. 446, § 252; L. '09, p. 258, § 6.]

Superseded as to feeble-minded youth by § 4401, infra.

§ 4393. County Superintendent to Report.—It shall be the duty of each county school superintendent to make a full and specific report of such deaf, mute or blind youth to the county commissioners of his county at the regular meeting of said commissioners held in August in each year. He shall also, at the same time, transmit a duplicate copy of said report to the state board of control and the superintendent of the School for the Deaf and the Blind. [L. '09, p. 259. § 7. Cf. L. '90, p. 497, § 2; 1 H. C., § 1014; L. '97, p. 447, § 253.]

§ 4394. Compulsory Attendance.—It shall be the duty of the parents or the guardians of all such deaf or blind youth to send them each year to the said state school for the deaf and the blind. The county superintendent shall take all action necessary to enforce this section or [of] this act: Provided, that if satisfactory evidence shall be laid before the county superintendent that any deaf or blind youth is being properly educated at home or in some suitable institution other than the State School for the Deaf and the Blind, the county superintendent shall take no other action in such case further than to make a record of such fact, and take such steps as may be necessary to satisfy himself that such defective youth shall continue to receive a proper education. [L. '09, p. 259, § 8. Cf. L. '90, p. 498, § 3; 1 H. C., § 1015; L. '97, p. 447, § 254.]

§ 4395. Expenses of Indigent Pupils.—If it appears to the satisfaction of the county commissioners that the parents of any such deaf or blind youth within their county are unable to bear the expense of sending and returning them to said state school it shall then be the duty of the commissioners to send and return them to and from said school or maintain them at said school during vacation at the expense of the county. [L. '09, p. 259, § 9. Cf. L. '90, p. 498, § 4; 1 H. C., § 1016; L. '97, p. 447, § 255a; L. '99, p. 131, § 2; L. '99, p. 326, § 28.]

§ 4395½. Penalty.—Any parent, guardian, school superintendent or county commissioner who shall, without a proper cause, fail to carry into effect the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, upon the complaint of any officer or citizen of the county or state, before any justice of the peace or superior court, shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars, in the discretion of the court. [L. '09, p. 259, § 10. Cf. L. '90, p. 498, § 5; 1 H. C., § 1017; L. '97, p. 447, § 256.]

CHAPTER VII.

State Institution for Feeble-minded.

§ 4396. Establishment.—A state institution hereby is established to be known as "The State Institution for Feeble-minded," for the care and education of the defective and feeble-minded youth of the state of Washington. [L. '05, p. 133, § 1.]

§ 4397. Under Management of Board of Control.—The State Institution for Feeble-minded now located at Medical Lake shall be under the direction of the state board of control, and funds for its maintenance shall be appropriated by the legislature of the state of Washington. [L. '09, p. 260, § 1. Cf. L. '05, p. 133, § 3; L. '07, p. 378, § 2.]

See infra, § 8933.

§ 4398. Location.—The location of the said institution shall be near Medical Lake, in Spokane County, Washington, and shall be on land now owned by the state of Washington, and within two miles of the Eastern Washington Hospital for the Insane. [L. '05, p. 133, § 2.]

The last part of this section is omitted as superseded.

§ 4399. Admission—Free Tuition.—This institution shall be free to residents of the state of Washington who are between the ages of six and twenty-one years, and who are idiotic or feeble-minded: Provided, that they are free from loathsome or contagious diseases: Provided, also, that children who are idiotic, epileptic or afflicted in any particular that renders them unfitted for companiouship with other children shall be segregated and provided with suitable accommodations and care in separate wards or buildings: Provided further, that expert medical service shall be provided for this institution. [L. '09, p. 260, § 2. Cf. L. '05, p. 133, § 5.]

§ 4399–2. Who may be Admitted.—The State Institution for Feeble-minded shall be free to residents of the state of Washington under the age of twenty-one years who are feeble-minded, idiotic or epileptic, or who are physically defective to such extent as to prevent them from being educated in the common schools: Provided, that they are free from contagious diseases. Admission may be applied for as follows:

First. By the father or mother, if father and mother are living together.

Second. If father and mother are not living together, then by the one having the custody of the child.

Third. By the guardian duly appointed.

Fourth. By the superintendent or other officer having charge of any institution or asylum where children are cared for.

Fifth. By county superintendents of schools and boards of county commissioners.

Sixth. By juvenile courts under an order of commitment.

Under items three, four, five and six consent of parents is not required. [L. '13, p. 598, § 2.]

§ 4399–3. Application for Admission. — The form of application for admission into said State Institution for Feeble-minded and the necessary checks against improper admission shall be such as the board of control may prescribe and each application shall be accompanied by answers under oath to such interrogatories as the said board shall prescribe, and county superintendents of schools are hereby authorized to administer oaths in such cases. [L. '13, p. 598, § 3.]

§ 4399–4. Approval of Application. — County superintendents of schools shall cause to be filled out the prescribed blank applications for admission for such children in their respective districts, who by reason of mental or physical defects are incapable of receiving instruction in the common schools of this state, or whose habits are such as to render them unfit for companionship with normal children. except such as in the judgment of the county superintendent are receiving proper care and education and are being safely kept at home. All applications for admission of defectives under twenty-one years of age except those committed by the juvenile court, shall be made through the county superintendent of schools, who shall keep a record of such and certify to the board of county commissioners all applications that are accepted by the superintendent of the State School and Colony. [L. '13, p. 598, § 4.]

§ 4399–5. School Clerks to Report Defectives. — It shall be the duty of the clerks of all school districts in the state of Washington, at the time for making the annual reports, to report to the school superintendent of their respective counties, the names and addresses of all feeble-minded youths residing within their respective districts, who are under the age of twenty-one years. And each county school superintendent shall make a full report of such defective youth to the county commissioners of their respective counties at their regular August meeting of each year, transmitting a copy of said report to the state board of control and the superintendent of the State Institution for Feeble-minded. [L. '13, p. 599, § 5.]

§ 4399–6. Parents to Send Defective Children.—Upon notification by the superintendent of the State Institution for Feeble-minded, of acceptance of application for admission, it shall be the duty of the parents or the guardian of such defective youth to send them to said institution and the county superintendent of schools shall take all action necessary to enforce this section of this act. [L. '13, p. 599, § 6.]

§ 4399–7. County to Pay Expense, When.—If it appears to the satisfaction of the county commissioners that the parents of any such defective youth who have been accepted for admission are unable to pay the expense of sending them to the said institution, it shall be the duty of the commissioners to send them at the expense of the county. [L. '13, p. 599, § 7.]

§ 4399–8. Patients Held After Majority.—Inmates arriving at the age of twenty-one years while in the institution, and who, in the judgment of the superintendent, are unfit to be discharged, shall be reported to the superior court of competent jurisdiction, which court, after due examination and finding the case a proper subject for institutional care, may issue an order of commitment to said State School and Colony. [L. '13, p. 599, § 8.]

§ 4399–9. Feeble-minded Adults.—Adults under fifty years of age who may be determined to be feeble-minded, and who are of such inoffensive habits as to make them proper subjects for classification, education and discipline in an institution for feeble-minded, may be admitted free upon pursuing the same course of legal commitment as governs admission to the hospitals for insane; but no insane persons, or those who are proper subjects for county poor farms, hospitals or asylums, or cases of senile dementia, shall be admitted to the State School and Colony. [L. '13, p. 600, § 9.]

§ 4399–10. Period of Detention.—The superintendent of the State School and Colony shall detain inmates admitted to the institution until satisfied that they are in normal condition and safe and competent to be at large, or that they can receive proper care and education at the home of relatives, or in some other home or institutions. In such cases, or for other good and sufficient reasons, he may grant discharges; or, in his discretion, permit inmates to visit their homes for stated periods, upon request of parents or guardians approved by the county superintendent of schools. [L. '13, p. 600, § 10.]

§ 4399–11. Tuition Fee.—Any parent or guardian who may wish to enter a child in said institution and pay all expenses of care and maintenance, may do so under terms, rules and regulations prescribed by the board of control. [L. '13, p. 600, § 11.]

§ 4399–12. Support Charged to Estate.—When not otherwise provided, the superintendent shall provide the inmates with suitable clothing, the actual cost of which shall be a charge against the parents, guardian or estate of such inmates, and in the event that such parent, guardian or estate is unable or is insufficient to provide or pay for such clothing, the same shall be provided by the state.

The board of county commissioners, county superintendent of schools, or other authorized officers, in recommending an applicant for admission to said institution, shall state whether or not such person has an estate of sufficient value, or a parent of sufficient financial ability to defray the expense in whole or in part for such clothing. The expense of personal clothing provided by the state shall be a charge against the parents or estate of inmates if such parents or estate are financially able to pay the same; after proper investigation, the state may proceed against the party or parties or estate and collect the same through the courts as other accounts are collected. [L. '13, p. 600, § 12.]

§ 4399–13. Fireproof Buildings—Sexes Separated.—The future construction of the buildings of the State School and Colony shall be fireproof as far as possible. They shall be in two groups for each sex; one for the educational and industrial department and one for the custodial or colony department, with such subdivisions as will best classify and separate the many diverse forms of the infirmity to be cared for. [L. '13, p. 601, § 13.]

§ 4399–14. School Training—Agricultural Training.—A school department shall be maintained from September 1st to June 1st each year, for the benefit of those who can be educated along lines best suited to individual capabilities. The processes of agricultural training shall receive consideration and the employment of the inmates in the care and raising of stock, in dairying and in the cultivation of fruits, vegetables, etc., shall be made tributary as far as possible to the maintenance of the institution. Manual training shall also be carried on along such lines as will be of greatest benefit to both the inmates and the institution. [L. '13, p. 601, § 14.]

§ 4399–15. Penalty for Violation of Act.—Any parent, guardian or proper officer who shall, without proper cause, fail to carry into effect the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, upon the complaint of any officer or citizen of the county or state, before any justice of the peace or superior court, shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars ($200), in the discretion of the court. [L. '13, p. 601, § 15.]

§ 4400. Same—Children from Other States.—The state board of control may admit to this institution feeble-minded children from other states, but the parents or guardians of such children must be required to pay annually or quarterly in advance a sufficient amount to cover the cost of maintaining and educating such children. [L. '05, p. 135, § 7; L. '09, p. 260, § 3.]

§ 4401. School Clerks to Report Defectives to County Superintendent.—It shall be the duty of the clerks of all school districts in the state of Washington at the time for making the annual reports to report to the school superintendent of their respective counties the names of all feeble-minded youth residing within their respective districts who are between the age of six and twenty-one years. [L. '05, p. 135, § 8; L. '09, p. 260, § 4.]

§ 4402. Superintendent to Report to Commissioners and Board of Control.—It shall be the duty of each county school superintendent to make a full and specific report of such defective youth to the county commissioners of his county at the regular meeting of said commissioners held in August in each year. He shall also, at the same time, transmit a duplicate copy of said report to the state board of control. [L. '05, p. 135, § 8; L. '09, p. 260, § 5.]

See infra, § 8936, salary, etc.

§ 4403. Compulsory Attendance.—It shall be the duty of the parents or the guardians of all such defective youth to send them each year to the said state institution for feeble-minded. The county superintendent shall take all action necessary to enforce this section of this act: Provided, that if satisfactory evidence shall be laid before the county superintendent that any defective youth is being properly educated at home or in some suitable institution other than the State Institution for Feeble-minded, the county superintendent shall take no other action in such case further than to make a record of such fact, and take such steps as may be necessary to satisfy himself that such defective youth shall continue to receive a proper education. [L. '09, p. 261, § 6. Cf. L. '05, p. 135, § 9.]

§ 4404. Transportation of Poor.—If it appears to the satisfaction of the county commissioners that the parents of any such defective youth within their county are unable to bear the expenses of sending and returning them to said state school, it shall then be the duty of the commissioners to send and return them to and from said school. [L. '09, p. 261, § 7.]

§ 4405. Neglect of Duty—Penalty.—Any parent, guardian, school superintendent or county commissioner who shall, without a proper cause, fail to carry into effect the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, upon the complaint of any officer or citizen of the county or state, before any justice of the peace or superior court, shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars, in the discretion of the court. [L. '09, p. 261, § 8. Cf. L. '05, p. 135, § 9.]

CHAPTER VIII.

General Provisions Relating to Common School System.

§ 4406. Common Schools, What are—Admission.—Common schools shall include schools that are maintained at public expense in each school district and under the control of boards of directors. Every common school, not otherwise provided for by law, shall be open to the admission of all children between the ages of six and twenty-one years residing in that school district. [L. '09, p. 261, § 1. Cf. L. '90, p. 371, § 44; 1 H. C., § 809; L. '97, p. 384, § 64.]

Cited in 71 Wash. 214, 216.

§ 4407. Subjects to be Taught.—All common schools shall be taught in the English language, and instruction shall be given in the following branches, viz.: Reading, penmanship, orthography, written arithmetic, mental arithmetic, geography, English grammar, physiology and hygiene with special reference to the effects of alcoholic stimulants and narcotics on the human system, history of the United States, and such other studies as may be prescribed by the state board of education. Attention must be given during the entire course to the cultivation of manners, and the fundamental principles of honesty, honor, industry and economy, to the laws of health, physical exercise, ventilation and temperature of the schoolroom, and not less than ten minutes each week must be devoted to the systematic teaching of kindness to not only our domestic animals, but to all living creatures. [L. '09, p. 262, § 2. Cf. L. '86, pp. 29–31; L. '90, p. 372, § 45; 1 H. C., § 810; L. '95, p. 8, § 1; L. '97, p. 384, § 65.]

§ 4408. School Day and Month Defined.—A school day shall consist of six hours for all pupils above the primary grades, exclusive of an intermission at noon; but any board of directors may fix as a school day for their district a less number of hours than six: Provided, that for pupils belonging to the primary grades the school day shall not be less than four hours, exclusive of an intermission at noon, and for pupils belonging to grades above the primary grade the minimum school day shall not be less than five hours, exclusive of an intermission at noon. In the absence of any by-law or order of the board of directors defining the school day for their district, any teacher may dismiss all pupils belonging to the primary grades after an attendance of four hours, exclusive of said intermission. The school month shall consist of twenty days, or four weeks of five days each, and the term "school year," for all matters pertaining to experience in teaching and for all matters pertaining to the granting of or renewing of certificates, shall consist of not fewer than nine school months. [L. '09, p. 262, § 3. Cf. L. '90, p. 372, § 46; 1 H. C., § 811; L. '97, p. 384, § 66; L. '03, p. 178, § 22.]

§ 4409. School Year.—The school year shall begin on the first day of July and end with the last day of June. [L. '90, p. 373, § 49; 1 H. C., § 814; L. '97, p. 384, § 66; L. '09, p. 262, § 4.]

School year of nine months, see last section.

§ 4410. Contagious Diseases.—No teacher, pupil or janitor shall be permitted to attend school from any house in which smallpox, varioloid, scarlet fever, diphtheria or any other contagious or infectious diseases are prevalent. No teacher, pupil or janitor shall be permitted to return to school from any house where the above-mentioned diseases, or any form of them, have prevailed, until three weeks shall have elapsed from the beginning of convalescence of the patient, or upon the certificate of a registered physician in good standing that there is no danger of contagion. In case of whooping-cough, chicken-pox and measles, certified by a physician to be not of a malignant character, this rule shall not apply to teachers, pupils or janitors who have had the diseases and have entirely recovered from them: Provided, that no pupil, teacher or janitor can attend school or be employed who is afflicted with the pulmonary tuberculosis. [L. '09, p. 262, § 5. Cf. L. '90, p. 372, § 47; 1 H. C., § 812; L. '97, p. 384, § 68.]

§ 4411. Pupils Shall Comply With Regulations.—All pupils who may attend the common schools shall comply with the regulations established in pursuance of the law for the government of the schools, shall pursue the required course of studies, and shall submit to the authority of the teachers of such schools. Continued and willful disobedience or open defiance of authority of the teacher shall constitute good cause for expulsion from school. [Cf. L. '90, p. 372, § 48; 1 H. C., § 813; L. '97, p. 385, § 69; L. '09, p. 263, § 6.]

Cited in 43 Wash. 449.

§ 4412. Minimum Length of School Term.—All school districts in this state shall maintain school during at least six months each year. [L. '09, p. 263, § 7. Cf. L. '97, p. 385, § 70; L. '03, p. 179, § 23.]

Cited in 84 Wash. 85.

§ 4413. Construction of Words "He" or "His," etc.—Whenever the word "he" or "his" occurs in this act, referring to either the members of the city board of directors, county superintendents of common schools, city superintendents, directors, clerks, state board of education or other school officers, it shall be understood to mean also "she" or "her," and any woman possessing all of the qualifications of an elector, except as to sex, and possessing all of the other qualifications required by law for such offices shall be eligible to hold such offices. [Cf. L. '90, p. 382, § 78; 1 H. C., § 856; L. '95, p. 66, § 1; L. '97, p. 425, § 176; L. '09, p. 263, § 8.]

§ 4414. Free from Sectarian Influence.—All schools maintained or supported wholly or in part by the public funds shall be forever free from sectarian control or influence. [L. '09, p. 263, § 9.]

See Const., Art. IX, § 4.

CHAPTER IX.

School Districts, Classification and Powers.

§ 4415. County District Defined.—For purposes of supervision and administration each county in the state shall constitute one county district. [L. '97, p. 357, § 2; L. '09, p. 264, § 1.]

§ 4416. First Class.—Any school district in this state containing a city of the first class or of the second class, or containing a city having the population requisite for a city of the first class or of the second class, as shown by any regular or special census, shall be a school district of the first class. [L. '09, p. 264, § 2.]

§ 4417. Second Class.—Any school district in this state containing a city of the third class or of the fourth class, or containing a city having the population requisite for a city of the third or of the fourth class, as shown by any regular or special census, shall be a school district of the second class. [L. '09, p. 264, § 3.]

§ 4418. Third Class.—All other school districts shall be school districts of the third class. [L. '09, p. 264, § 4.]

§ 4419. Consolidated Districts.—Any school district which has been formed by the consolidation of two or more school districts shall be designated as a consolidated school district. [L. '09, p. 264, § 5.]

§ 4420. Joint District.—Any school district composed of territory in two or more counties shall be designated as a joint school district. [L. '09, p. 264, § 6.]

§ 4421. Union High School District.—Any school district established for the purpose of maintaining a high school by the union of two or more contiguous districts in the same county, shall be designated as a union high school district. [L. '09, p. 264, § 7.]

§ 4423. Corporate Powers.—A school district shall constitute a body corporate and shall possess all the usual powers of a corporation for public purposes, and in that name and style may sue and be sued, purchase, hold and sell such personal and real estate, and enter into such obligations as are authorized by law; and the title to all school buildings or other property, real or personal, owned by any such school district shall, upon the organization of a district under the provisions of this act, vest immediately in the new district, and the board of directors of such school district shall have exclusive control of the same for all purposes herein contemplated. [L. '09, p. 265, § 2.]

See infra, §§ 4294, 5775, assessments for local improvements.

§ 4424. Each Incorporated City Shall Constitute One District.—Each incorporated city in the state shall be comprised in one school district, and shall be under the control of one board of directors: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prevent the extension of such city district a reasonable distance beyond the limits of such city: And provided further, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to change or disturb the boundaries of any school district organized prior to the incorporation of any city, except in cases of incorporation of cities lying partly in two or more school districts organized prior to the incorporation of such city, or the extension of the boundaries of cities beyond the limits of the school districts in which they are situated, or in cases where two or more cities unite, as provided by law: And provided further, that the fact of the issuance of bonds by school districts, heretofore or hereafter, shall not prevent the formation of new school districts, whether or not such bonds have been redeemed, canceled, or paid in whole or in part and shall not prevent the transfer or uniting with another school district of a portion or the whole of a district where bonds have been or may hereafter be issued. [L. '09, p. 265, § 3. Cf. L. '90, p. 379, § 65; L. '91, p. 257, § 23; 1 H. C., § 834; L. '97, p. 385, § 72.]

Former laws cited in 36 Wash. 411.

§ 4425. Purchase of Schoolhouse Sites.—Any school district may purchase, under the provisions of law governing the sale thereof, a schoolhouse site or sites of not less than three acres nor more than ten acres each, of any school lands of the state of Washington. [L. '95, p. 17, § 1; L. '97, p. 359, § 7; L. '09, p. 265, § 4.]

§ 4426. Preference Right to Purchase.—In all cases when a schoolhouse is or may be erected upon any school lands of this state the school district to which such schoolhouse belongs shall have the preference right for six months after the filing of the final appraisal of such school lands not already appraised, to purchase schoolhouse sites to include the lands occupied by such schoolhouses, at the appraised value thereof. [L. '95, p. 17, § 2; L. '97, p. 359, § 8.]

§ 4426–1. Insurance Fund in First Class District.—School districts of the first class shall, when in the judgment of the board of directors it be deemed expedient, have power to create and maintain a permanent insurance fund for said districts, to be used to meet losses by fire, if any, of said school districts. [L. '11, p. 378, § 1.]

§ 4426–2. Estimate.—The board of directors shall annually, at the same time and in the same manner as provided for reporting to the board of county commissioners an estimate of the amount of funds required for the support of the schools, report the additional amount of funds determined upon for creating or adding to the permanent insurance fund of the district, and the board of county commissioners are hereby authorized and required to levy and collect such additional amount of funds, the same as other school taxes. [L. '11, p. 378, § 2.]

§ 4426–3. Investment.—The county treasurer, when authorized to do so by the board of directors of any school district, may invest any accumulated permanent insurance fund of said district in school, county, or state warrants of the state of Washington, and all profits accruing from such investment, and the funds so invested, shall revert to the permanent insurance fund of said district, and the county treasurer shall be the custodian of all warrants purchased by and with said permanent insurance fund until the same are redeemed, and the county treasurer shall submit a statement of such fund and warrants as a part of his monthly report to each district. [L. '11, p. 378, § 3.]

CHAPTER X.

New Districts and Alteration of Boundaries.

§ 4427. Petition for New District, Requisites of.—For the purpose of organizing a new district, a petition in writing shall be made to the county superintendent, signed by at least five heads of families residing within the boundaries of the proposed new district, which petition shall describe the boundaries of the proposed new district and give the names of all the children of school age residing within the boundaries of such proposed new district, at the date of presenting said petition. [L. '09, p. 266, § 1. Cf. L. '90, p. 361, § 19; L. '91, p 246, § 7; 1 H. C., § 784; L. '97, p. 357, § 4; L. '99, p. 18, § 1.]

Former laws cited in 40 Wash. 253; 72 Wash. 455.

§ 4428. Notice—Hearing.—The county superintendent shall give notice to the parties interested by causing notices to be posted at least twenty (20) days prior to the time appointed by him for considering said petition, in at least three of the most public places in the proposed new district, and one on the schoolhouse door of each district affected by the proposed change, and in one of the most public places of the territory affected by the proposed change. On the day fixed in the notice, he shall proceed to hear said petition, and if he deem it advisable to grant the petition he shall make an order establishing said district and describing the boundaries thereof and shall certify his action to the board of county commissioners at their next regular meeting. [L. '09, p. 266, § 2.]

§ 4429. Conditions to be Performed.—No new district formed by the subdivision of an old one shall be entitled to any share of public money belonging to the old district until a school has actually been taught one month in the new district and unless within eight months from the order of the county superintendent granting such new district a school is opened, the action making a new district shall be void, and all elections or appointments of directors or clerks made in consequence of such action, and all rights and office of parties so elected or appointed shall cease and determine, and all taxes which may have been levied in such old district shall be valid and binding upon the real and personal property of such new district, and shall be collected and paid into the school fund of the old district. [L. '09, p. 266, § 3. Cf. L. '90, p. 362, § 21; 1 H. C., § 786; L. '97, p. 400, § 115.]

§ 4430. Apportionment of Funds Between New and Old District. When a new district is formed from one or more old districts it shall be entitled to a just share of the school money to the credit of the one or more old districts, from which the new district is formed, at the time the petition was granted to establish the new district. And the county superintendent (or in case of an appeal, the board of county commissioners), shall divide such money and also such money as may, for the current year, afterward be apportioned to the said one or more old districts, according to the number of school children resident in the new district, as may be ascertained by a census taken for that purpose: Provided, that the new district shall be entitled to all school district tax levied within the boundaries of the new district, for the current year in which the new district is formed. And if such tax, or any part of it has already been collected and placed to the credit of the aforementioned one or more old districts, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer, upon the order of the county superintendent, to transfer the money received from such special tax

§ 4431. Adjustment of Property, Debts, etc.—Appeal.—At the hearing for the formation of a new school district, the county superintendent shall, in case the petition is granted, hear testimony offered by any person or school district interested therein, for the purpose of finding and determining the amount and value of all school property of whatever nature involved in the proposed action, the nature and amount and value of all bonded, warrant and other indebtedness of the original school district or districts out of whose territory such new district is formed, including all legal uncompleted obligations then existing, and in so doing shall consider the amount of such outstanding indebtedness incurred for current expenses, the amount incurred for permanent improvement, and the location of such improvements, and shall make an equitable adjustment of all property, debts and liabilities among the districts involved.

He shall make a full record of all such findings and terms of adjustment and the decision of said county superintendent shall be final unless appealed from in the manner provided by law, in which case the decision of the board of county commissioners shall be final. [L. '09, p. 267, § 5.]

Cited in 69 Wash. 343.

§ 4432. Tax Levy to Pay Indebtedness.—When a new school district is formed in the manner provided by this article it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to provide by appropriate levies on the property of such new district, in the manner provided by law, for the payment of such indebtedness as may be imposed upon it by the decision of the county superintendent, or in case of appeal by the board of county commissioners. [L. '09, p. 268, § 6.]

§ 4433. Alterations of Boundaries of School Districts—Requisites of Petition for.—For the purpose of transferring territory from one district to another or enlarging the boundaries of any school district, a petition in writing shall be presented to the county superintendent, signed by a majority of heads of families residing in the territory which it is proposed to transfer or include, or in case there be no family resident in such territory then by the board of directors in one of the districts affected by such proposed change, which petition shall describe the change which it is proposed to have made. It shall also state the reason for desiring said change, and the number of children of school age if any residing in the territory to be transferred. For such proposed transfer of territory the notices shall be posted and the hearing and appeal shall be the same as for the formation of a new district: Provided, that whenever any part of a school district of the third class in which no high school is maintained is bounded on three sides by a school district of the second class in which a high school is situated and maintained, the county superintendent of schools may without petition, transfer the territory of the school district of the third class so bounded to the school district of the second class in which said high school is situated and maintained: Provided, that the county superintendent of schools, shall hold a hearing upon the advisability of said transfer, and shall give notice of the time and place of said hearing to the parties interested, by causing notices to be posted at least twenty (20) days prior to the time appointed by him for said hearing, in at least three of the most public places in the territory proposed to be transferred, and one on the schoolhouse door of each district affected by the proposed change. On the day, and at the place fixed in the notice, he shall hold said hearing, and if he deem it advisable to make such transfer, he shall make an order establishing said transfer, and shall certify his action to the board of county commissioners at their next regular meeting. Upon making such transfer of territory the county superintendent of schools shall fix a time and place for adjusting the assets and liabilities of the school districts affected, and shall give notice thereof by posting said notice at least twenty days prior to the appointed time in not less than three of the most public places in the district from which the territory was transferred (at least one of which shall be in the territory transferred), and a like number in the district to which the territory is transferred. At the time and place fixed he shall hear the testimony offered by any interested party or district, and make an equitable adjustment of all property, debts and liabilities among the districts affected in the same manner and to the same effect as is provided in section 4434 of Remington & Ballinger's Annotated Codes and Statutes of Washington. [L. '15, p. 171, § 1. Cf. L. '09, p. 268, § 1; L. '90, p. 362, § 20; L. '91, p. 247, § 8; 1 H. C., § 785; L. '97, p. 358, § 5; L. '01, p. 370, § 1; L. '03, p. 157, § 1.]

See infra, § 9107, to correspond with road districts.

§ 4434. Hearing—Adjustment of Property and Liabilities.—At the hearing for the alteration of any school district the county superintendent shall, in case the petition is granted, hear testimony offered by any person or school district, for the purpose of finding and determining the value and amount of any school property of whatever nature involved in the proposed action, the nature and amount and value of all bonded, warrant and other indebtedness of each school district affected by the action, including all legal uncompleted obligations then existing, and in so doing shall consider the amount of such outstanding indebtedness incurred for current expenses, the amount incurred for permanent improvements and the location of such improvements, and shall make an equitable adjustment of all property, debts and liabilities among the districts involved.

He shall make a full report of all such findings and terms of adjustment and the decision of said county superintendent shall be final unless appealed from in the manner provided by law, in which case the decision of the board of county commissioners shall be final. [L. '09, p. 268, § 2.]

§ 4435. Levy, for Payment of Indebtedness.—In case of the alteration of any school district, in the manner provided by this article, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners to provide by appropriate levies on the property of such district, in the manner provided by law, for the payment of such indebtedness as may be imposed upon it by the decision of the county superintendent, or in case of appeal, by the board of county commissioners. [L. '09, p. 269, § 3.]

"Article" in this section refers to this and the last two preceding sections.

§ 4436. Alteration by Extension of City Limits—When Annexation in Effect.—Whenever an incorporated city shall extend its limits in the manner provided by law, so as to include all or a part of one or more school districts, the territory so included shall not be deemed annexed for school purposes until the thirtieth day of June next succeeding the date of annexation for municipal purposes, at which time the county superintendent shall declare the territory added to the limits of said city to be a part of the school district embracing said city: Provided, that when a schoolhouse is located within the territory annexed for municipal purposes, and yet remains the most accessible school for a part of the school district left outside of the territory so annexed to such incorporated city, the county superintendent may annex all or any part of such school district to the school district embracing such city. [L. '09, p. 269, § 1.]

Cited in 72 Wash. 455.

§ 4437. Adjustment of Property by County Superintendent.—At the time of declaring any territory to be added to the limits of a school district embracing an incorporated city, as provided in the last preceding section, the county superintendent shall make an equitable adjustment of all property, including current funds and taxes, and of all debts and liabilities between the districts involved, and shall certify his action to the board of county commissioners. Before making said adjustment, he shall give not less than ten days' written notice to the directors of each district affected by such change, fixing the time and place of the hearing before him. [L. '09, p. 269, § 2.]

§ 4438. Hearing—Procedure as to Adjustment.—At such hearing the county superintendent shall hear testimony offered by any person or school district interested therein pertaining to the value and amount of any school property, of whatever nature, including current funds and taxes, involved in the proposed action, the assessed value of all taxable property in said districts, the nature, amount and value of all bonded, warrant and other indebtedness of each school district affected by the action, including all legal uncompleted obligations then existing; and whenever the territory so added to the school district embracing such incorporated city, shall include a part only of the school districts from which such territory shall be taken, he shall consider the amount of outstanding indebtedness, of each of said school districts, incurred for current expenses, the amount incurred for permanent improvements and the location of such improvements, for the purpose of making such equitable adjustment of all property, debts and liabilities among the districts involved. He shall make a full report of his findings and terms of adjustment, and the decision of said county superintendent shall be final unless appealed from in the manner provided by law, in which case, the decision of the board of county commissioners shall be final. [L. '09 p. 270, § 3.]

§ 4439. Corporate Existence Continued Until Indebtedness Paid.—Whenever the territory so added to a school district, embracing an incorporated city, shall include the whole of the school district from which such territory was taken, such district shall retain its corporate existence so far as necessary for that purpose, until its indebtedness as determined by such adjustment shall have been paid in full, and the officers of the district embracing such incorporated city to which its territory shall have been added shall have the power, and it shall be their duty, to provide, by appropriate levies upon such old district or districts, for the payment of such indebtedness: Provided, that when such payment of indebtedness is fully made, the clerk of the district shall enter the fact upon the records of the district, and report the same to the county superintendent of schools. [L. '09, p. 270, § 4.]

CHAPTER XI.

Consolidated and Joint Districts.

§ 4440. Petition for Consolidated District, Requisites of.—Upon receipt of a petition signed by five heads of families requesting the consolidation of two or more adjoining districts in the same county, the county superintendent shall call a special election of the voters of such school districts at some convenient place, by posting written or printed notices in like manner as is provided for calling annual school district elections, and said notices shall state the object for which the election is called.

If a majority of the voters of each district shall vote to consolidate, the clerk of each district so proposing to consolidate, shall within ten days after the election notify the county superintendent of the holding of and the result of the election and the county superintendent shall, immediately after receipt of said notice organize and establish a consolidated school district and when such consolidated district shall have been established no new district shall be established out of any portion thereof, or any portion thereof changed to another district within five years from such consolidation. [L. '15, p. 646, § 1. Cf. L. '09, p. 271, § 1; L. '90, p. 378, § 61; L. '91, p. 255, § 19; 1 H. C., § 830; L. '97, p. 359, § 9; L. '03, p. 159, § 2.]

Cited in 69 Wash. 343; 72 Wash. 455; 74 Wash. 59.

§ 4441. Board of Directors—How Constituted.—When two or more districts are consolidated by the provisions of this act, or where two or more districts are consolidated by the uniting of two or more incorporated cities or towns, as provided by law, all the directors of the several districts so consolidated shall constitute the board of directors of the new district so formed, and shall have all the powers and authority conferred by the laws of this state upon school district directors, until the next annual school election in said district, at which times there shall be elected three directors for said district, in the manner provided by law, who shall hold their respective offices as provided for the officers of new districts. [L. '09, p. 271, § 2.]

§ 4442. When District not Entitled to Bonus.—Whenever, by reason of detachments of territory subsequent to the formation of a consolidated district, the boundaries of such district shall become practically coextensive with the boundaries of a district prior to the formation of such consolidated district, it shall be the duty of the county superintendent to report such fact to the superintendent of public instruction at the time of making his annual report, and said district shall no longer be entitled to the bonus hereinafter provided for consolidated districts. [L. '09, p. 271, § 3.]

§ 4443. City Directors Constitute Board, When City Included.—When two or more districts are consolidated only one of which contains an incorporated city, the directors of the district which contains such incorporated city shall become the directors for the consolidated district as soon as the consolidation is legally completed. [L. '09, p. 271, § 4.]

§ 4444. Change of Designation of Consolidated District.—The county superintendent of any county in which new districts are formed by the uniting of ten [two] or more districts, or by the incorporating of any city or town lying partly in two or more school districts, shall upon being notified of such action by the board of directors of such new district, proceed to designate such new district by a number not the same as that of either component district or of any existing district, and to make a record of the boundaries thereof, and he shall certify such facts to the board of county commissioners, to the county treasurer, and to the clerk of the new district formed. The county superintendent shall also divide such consolidated district into three directors' districts which shall each comprise as nearly as possible one-third of the population of the consolidated district, and thereafter one director shall be elected from among the qualified electors of each such directors' district by the qualified electors of the consolidated district. [L. '15, p. 647, § 2. Cf. L. '09, p. 272, § 5.]

§ 4445. Entitled to All Property of Districts United.—All school districts formed by the uniting of two or more districts, as provided for in this act, shall be entitled to the public property of the school districts so united and to all current funds in excess of outstanding indebtedness other than bonded indebtedness, and the county superintendent shall transfer all such excess funds to the new district in accordance with this provision and shall certify such transfer to the county treasurer: Provided, that, for the purpose of apportionment the consolidated district shall be considered one district: Provided further, that for the purpose of apportionment the consolidated district shall be credited with two thousand days' attendance in addition to actual attendance for each district, less one, so consolidated. [L. '09, p. 272, § 6. Cf. L. '90, p. 379, § 67; L. '91, p. 258, § 25; 1 H. C., § 836; L. '97, p. 361, § 13; L. '03, p. 163, § 6.]

§ 4446. Component Districts Retain Their Corporate Existence.—Each school district composing said consolidated district shall retain its corporate existence so far as necessary for that purpose until its indebtedness has been paid in full, and the county commissioners shall have the power and it shall be their duty to provide by appropriate levies upon such old district or districts for the payment of such indebtedness: Provided, that when such payment of indebtedness is fully made the clerk of the district shall enter the fact upon the records of the district and report the same to the county superintendent of schools. [L. '09, p. 272, § 7. Cf. L. '97, p. 361, § 14.]

Cited in 66 Wash. 326.

§ 4447. Organization of Board and Election of Clerk.—When two or more school districts shall be united by the provisions of this act, the board of directors of the several districts shall, within thirty days thereafter, meet and organize the new board by the election of one of their number as president of the board. The board shall elect a clerk for said district, and the clerks of the several districts so united shall deliver to said clerk all books, papers and records belonging to their respective offices. The board may in its discretion require the superintendent, if there be one, of such consolidated district to act as clerk. The clerk of the new district thus formed shall immediately notify the county superintendent of the organization of the board of the new district. [L. '15, p. 647, § 3; L. '09, p. 273, § 8. Cf. L. '90, p. 380, § 68; L. '91, p. 258, § 26; 1 H. C., § 837; L. '97, p. 361, § 15; L. '03, p. 163, § 7.]

§ 4448. Formation of Joint School Districts.—When the public good requires it, a school district may be formed of contiguous territory lying in two or more counties, and such districts shall be known as joint school districts. They shall be designated by a separate number for each county in which any portion of their territory may lie. [L. '09, p. 273, § 1. Cf. '95, p. 100, § 1; L. '97, p. 361, § 16.]

Cited in 72 Wash. 456, 457.

§ 4449. Petition for Joinder of Districts.—For the purpose of forming such joint districts, a petition shall be presented, drawn and signed as prescribed for the formation of other school districts, and a copy of such petition shall be presented to the county superintendent of each county affected by the formation of such proposed joint district. [L. '09, p. 273, § 2.]

§ 4450. Notice and Hearing of Petition.—The superintendents of all counties affected by the formation of the proposed joint district shall confer and shall mutually agree upon the time and place of investigating said petition, and upon such agreement each shall notify the school electors of the district or districts of his county affected by the formation of the proposed joint district, by posting notices as required in the formation of other school districts, one of which notices shall be posted upon the schoolhouse door of such district affected by the formation of the proposed joint district, and one of which shall be posted in some conspicuous place in the territory which it is proposed to include in the proposed joint district, in each county; and at the time and place mentioned in said notices the several superintendents shall meet and jointly investigate all matters pertaining to the formation of the proposed joint district. [L. '09, p. 273, § 3.]

§ 4451. Board of Directors, Appointment of.—If at the investigation provided for in the preceding section the several county superintendents shall mutually agree that said district should be formed, they shall appoint a board of directors to serve until the next regular election, and the directors appointed shall qualify within ten days.

At the next regular election a board of directors shall be elected as provided in the case of other new districts. [L. '09, p. 274, § 4.]

§ 4452. Certificate of Election, Where Filed.—Every director or clerk of the joint district shall file his certificate of election and oath of office with the county superintendent of the county in which the schoolhouse is located, and his signature with the treasurer of the same county. [L. '09, p. 274, § 5.]

§ 4453. Vacancies.—Vacancies in the office of director of a joint district shall be filled by appointment by the county superintendent in whose county the officer vacating resided while serving, and a copy of such appointment, with the oath indorsed thereon, shall be filed in the office of each county superintendent. [L. '09, p. 274, § 6.]

§ 4454. Transfers of Territory.—After a joint school district has been formed, all transfers of territory to and from said district shall be made by mutual agreement and joint action between the county superintendents of the several counties in which the territory of said joint district shall be embraced, and all notices of such transfers shall be signed by all superintendents in whose counties the territory of the joint district shall lie. [L. '09, p. 274, § 7.]

§ 4455. Transcripts of Boundaries and Transfers—Maps.—The superintendents of the several counties affected by the formation of any joint school district shall make and keep a correct transcript of the entire boundary of such district, and shall certify the same to the county treasurer and county auditor of each county and all transfers of territory to or from such joint district shall likewise be certified to such officers, said certificates being signed by all county superintendents in whose counties any part of the territory of such joint district shall be located. A map of all joint districts formed under the provisions of this section shall be filed with the superintendent of public instruction within thirty days after the formation of such districts. Said maps shall indicate the number by which the district is designated in each county, and it shall also show the location of the schoolhouse in such district, if there be one. Said map shall be certified to by all county superintendents in whose counties any part of such joint district shall be embraced. [L. '09, p. 274, § 8.]

§ 4456. Apportionment of Funds to Joint Districts.—For the purpose of the apportionment of state school funds the district shall be considered as belonging to the county in which the school building is located: Provided, that the county treasurer in whose county the schoolhouse is not located shall transfer quarterly all moneys to the treasurer of the county where the schoolhouse is located, and the same shall be placed to the credit of said joint district. [L. '09, p. 275, § 9.]

§ 4457. Adjustment of Property of Joint Districts.—At the hearing for the formation of a joint school district, the county superintendents shall, in case the petition is granted, hear testimony offered by any person or school district interested therein, for the purpose of finding and determining the amount and value of all school property of whatever nature involved in the proposed action, the nature and amount and value of all bonded, warrant and other indebtedness of the original school district or districts out of whose territory such joint district is formed, including all legal uncompleted obligations then existing, and in so doing shall consider the amount of such outstanding indebtedness incurred for current expenses, the amount incurred for permanent improvements, and the location of such improvements, and shall make an equitable adjustment of all property, debts and liabilities among the districts involved.

They shall make a full record of all such findings and terms of adjustments and the decision of said county superintendents shall be final. [L. '09, p. 275, § 10.]

Cited in 72 Wash. 456, 457.

§ 4458. Levy to Pay Indebtedness.—When a joint school district is formed in the manner provided by this chapter, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners to provide by appropriate levies on the property of such joint district, in the manner provided by law, for the payment of such indebtedness as may be imposed upon it by the decision of the county superintendents. [L. '09, p. 275, § 11.]

§ 4459. Reports to Superintendent of Each County.—All reports from joint districts shall be made in full to the county superintendent of each county affected thereby: Provided, that any county superintendent may order the segregation of any items of such report so as to show separately the numbers or amounts from each county affected thereby. [L. '09, p. 276, § 12; L. '03, p. 165, § 8½.]

CHAPTER XII.

Union High School Districts.

§ 4460. Petition for Formation of—Statements by District Clerks. Whenever the residents of two or more adjacent or contiguous school districts in the same county may wish to unite for the purpose of establishing a union high school, the clerks of the districts, by order of the boards of directors, shall, upon a written or printed petition of five or more heads of families of their respective districts, each submit in writing a statement of the proposed union of such districts together with the question of the advisability of the formation of such union school district to the county superintendent of schools, who shall within fifteen days report in writing to the said clerk his approval or disapproval, his action to be based upon an investigation made by him to determine whether or not either school district so applying already maintains or is capable itself of maintaining a high school without uniting with another district, or with other districts, or whether or not the educational and other conditions of the districts desiring to so unite are such as to insure the maintenance of a high school in fact according to the provisions of this chapter. [L. '09, p. 276, § 1.]

Cited in 74 Wash. 59.

§ 4461. Election on Question of Formation.—If the county superintendent shall approve of the formation of the proposed union high school district each of said clerks shall call a meeting of the voters of such school districts at some convenient place by posting written or printed notices in like manner as is provided for calling annual school district elections. If a majority of the voters of each district shall vote to unite for the purposes herein stated, the clerk of each district so proposing to unite shall, within ten days after the election, notify the county superintendent of the holding of and the result of the election, and the county superintendent shall, immediately after the receipt of said notices, designate such union high school district as "Union High School District No. ——, —— county," and shall so notify the clerks of the several districts so uniting. [L. '09, p. 276, § 2.]

§ 4462. Organization of Board of Directors.—The boards of directors of the several districts so voting to unite shall constitute the board of directors of such union high school district, and shall within ten days after the elections at which the districts voted to unite meet and organize by electing one of their number president of the board, and selecting their clerk for such union high school district, and the clerk and president chosen at such meeting shall hold their respective offices until the next annual school district election and until their successors are elected and qualified; and the election of president and clerk shall occur annually thereafter, on the second Saturday next succeeding the date at which the newly elected school district officers shall enter upon the discharge of their duties: Provided, that in union districts consisting of three or more school districts the board of directors of said union district shall be composed of the chairman of the several boards of directors of the districts comprised in such union district. [L. '09, p. 277, § 3.]

§ 4463. Notice of Formation.—The clerk of the union high school district shall within ten days after the organization of the district, by the election of a president and clerk, notify the county superintendent of the organization of said district, and the county superintendent shall also, within ten days after receiving notice of the organization of the district, notify the county treasurer and county auditor of the fact of its organization, together with the numbers of the constituent districts and the names of the directors and clerk. [L. '09, p. 277, § 4.]

§ 4464. Enlargement of District.—After the formation of a union high school district the boundaries of the same may be enlarged in the manner prescribed for the formation of the said union high school district: Provided, that the board of directors of the union high school district shall not be reorganized but that the chairman of the district, or the chairmen of the districts, so united to the union high school districts shall be added to the board of directors of the union high school until the next ensuing annual school election. [L. '09, p. 277, § 5.]

§ 4465. Grades Taught—Entrance Requirements.—The directors of such union districts shall determine what grade or grades above the grammar grade of the state common school course of study shall be pursued and maintained in such schools: Provided, that the course of study for all high school grades shall not be inconsistent with the laws of this state; and shall be such as the superintendent of public instruction shall approve. If local conditions admit of it the directors of any union high school district may, at their discretion, admit pupils residing in such union district, belonging to a grade lower than the high school grades, but no pupil belonging to a grade lower than the seventh shall ever be admitted to any such union high school. The teacher or teachers of such union high schools shall keep such records and make such reports as are required of teachers in the districts composing such union districts, and shall make such other reports as may be required by the superintendent of public instruction. [L. '09, p. 278, § 6.]

§ 4466. Powers of Board and Clerks—Duties.—The board of directors and clerk provided for in the preceding section, shall, in all matters relating to the union high schools of such district, possess all the powers herein provided for other school district officers, including the power to recommend special levies of taxes for the purpose of furnishing transportation to and from school and other additional school facilities for the union district, or for the payment of teachers' wages, or for the purchase of fuel, supplies, globes, maps, charts, books of reference or other appliances for teaching, or for any or all of these purposes. They shall discharge all the duties and be governed by the laws herein provided for school district officers. [L. '09, p. 278, § 7.]

§ 4467. Apportionment of School Funds.—Each union high school district shall be entitled to and shall receive apportionments from the state annual school fund in the manner provided by law for the apportionments from the state annual fund to other school districts. [L. '09, p. 278, § 8.]

§ 4468. Appeals from Formation of District.—In case any resident taxpayer shall feel aggrieved at the formation of a union high school district, or at the refusal of the county superintendent to approve of its formation, he shall be entitled to an appeal as provided in this act. [L. '09, p. 279, § 9.]

§ 4469. Withdrawal from Union District.—When five or more years have elapsed from the date upon which two or more school districts united for the purpose of forming a union high school district, such union may be dissolved, if at a special election called by the board of directors of such union high school district for that purpose a majority of three-fifths of the votes cast at said election are in favor of dissolution. The liabilities and assets of the union high school district so dissolved shall be justly apportioned by the county superintendent among the various districts composing the union high school district. [L. '13, p. 643, § 1; L. '09, p. 279, § 10.]

CHAPTER XIII.

Discontinuance and Alteration of Districts.

§ 4470. Causes for Discontinuance.—In case any school district shall have fewer than five children of school age or shall not have maintained at least the minimum amount of school required by law, during the past preceding school year, or in case of territory which is not now a part of any school district, or in which there are no children of school age, the county superintendent shall have power to attach such territory to some contiguous school district or school districts without being petitioned to do so: Provided, that if any school district so disorganized shall have any outstanding bonds, warrants or other indebtedness, the assessable property of such district shall be holden for the payment of such indebtedness. [L. '09, p. 279, § 1.]

§ 4471. Alteration of Boundaries—Notice to Assessor.—In all cases involving the alteration of school district boundaries, the county auditor shall certify the action of the county superintendent or the county commissioners to the county assessor. [L. '09, p. 279, § 2.]

See infra, § 9107, boundaries to correspond with road districts.

§ 4471½. Minimum Size of District.—In forming new districts, or transferring territory from one district to another, or changing boundaries of districts, no school district shall contain less than four sections of land, unless said district can support six months' school per year after such change of territory: Provided, that the county superintendent may establish a district with less than four sections on a petition signed by eighty per cent of all the heads of families of the proposed district, by and with the consent of the superintendent of public instruction. [L. '09, p. 280, § 3. Cf. L. '93, p. 142, § 1; L. '97, p. 358, § 6; L. '99, p. 306, § 1; L. '01, p. 371, § 2.]

CHAPTER XIV.

County Superintendents.

§ 4472. Superintendent — Election—Term—Oath—Deputy—Clerical Assistance—Vacancies.—A county superintendent of schools shall be elected in each county of the state at each general election, whose term of office shall begin on the first Monday in September next succeeding his election and continue for two years and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall take the oath of office and shall give an official bond in a sum to be fixed by the board of county commissioners. He may appoint a deputy, who shall qualify in the same manner as the county superintendent, and perform the duties of the office, subject, however, to revision by the county superintendent: Provided, that in any county having more than one hundred school districts, the county superintendent, with the approval of the board of county commissioners, may appoint such clerical assistance as may be necessary to perform the work of his office properly. The county commissioners of each county shall fill any vacancy that may occur in the office of county superintendent until the next general election. [L. '09, p. 280, § 1. Cf. Cd. '81, § 3170; L. '90, p. 355, § 10; 1 H. C., §§ 238, 775; L. '97, p. 368, § 30; L. '99, p. 311, § 5; L. '03, p. 171, § 13.]

Former laws cited in 24 Wash. 429; 84 Wash. 84.
See infra, § 8328, approval and filing of bond.
See supra, § 4032 et seq., salaries specified.

§ 4473. Qualifications. — No person shall be eligible to hold the office of county superintendent of schools who shall not at the time of his election or appointment have taught in the public schools of this state two school years of nine months each, and who shall not at the time of such election or appointment hold a first grade or higher certificate. [L. '09, p. 280, § 2. Cf. L. '97, p. 368, § 1.]

§ 4474. Proof of Qualifications to be Filed.—The county auditor shall not place the name of any person upon the official ballot as a candidate for the office of county superintendent of schools unless such person shall have filed in the office of the county auditor, at least twenty days before the date at which the election is to be held, proof of having taught in the schools of the state one school year of nine months, together with a copy of the certificate required by this act. [L. '09, p. 280, § 3. Cf. L. '97, p. 369, § 32.]

This section does not harmonize with the preceding section.

§ 4475. Powers and Duties.—Each county superintendent shall have the power and it shall be his duty—

First. To exercise a careful supervision over the common schools of his county, and to see that all the provisions of the common school laws are observed and followed by the teachers, supervisors and school officers.

Second. To visit the schools in his county, counsel with directors and teachers, and assist in every possible way to advance the educational interests of his county.

Third. To distribute promptly all reports, laws, forms, circulars, and instructions which he may receive for the use of the schools and the teachers, and to execute the instructions and decisions of the superintendent of public instruction, as provided by law.

Fourth. To enforce the outline course of study adopted by the state board of education, or the course of study adopted by any other lawful authority, and to enforce the rules and regulations required in the examination of teachers.

Fifth. He shall prepare an outline course of study for the books adopted in districts of the third class when the needs of the county demand: Provided, that said outline course of study shall be in harmony with the course adopted by the state board of education of this state.

Sixth. To keep on file and preserve in his office the biennial reports of the superintendent of public instruction and of the county superintendent of his county.

Seventh. To keep in good and well-bound books, to be furnished by the county commissioners, records of his official acts.

Eighth. To preserve carefully all reports of school officers and teachers, and at the close of his term of office to deliver to his successor all records, books, documents and papers belonging to the office, taking a receipt for the same, which shall be filed in the office of the county auditor.

Ninth. To administer oaths and affirmations to school directors, teachers and other persons, on all official matters connected with or relating to schools, but he shall not make or collect any charge or fee for so doing.

Tenth. To keep in a suitable book an official record of all persons under contract to teach in the schools of his county showing the number of the school district, the date of the contract, the names of the contracting parties, and the date of the expiration of the teacher's certificate and the grade thereof, the salary paid, and the date of commencing school, with the length of term in weeks, which data shall be immediately reported to the county auditor.

Eleventh. To make an annual report to the superintendent of public instruction on the first day of August of each year, for the school year ending June 30th, next preceding. The report shall contain an abstract of the reports made to him by the district clerks, and such other matters as the superintendent of public instruction shall direct. And it shall be the duty of the county commissioners and county auditor in every county wherein the county superintendent is about to retire from office to withhold the warrant of his salary for the month of July until they shall have received a certificate from the superintendent of public instruction that the annual report of such county superintendent has been made in a satisfactory manner; and it shall be the duty of the superintendent of public instruction to transmit such certificate to the auditor immediately upon receiving such satisfactory report.

Twelfth. To keep in his office a full and correct transcript of the boundaries of each school district in the county, including joint districts. In case the boundaries of said districts are conflicting or incorrectly described, he shall change, harmonize and describe them, and at their next regular meeting he shall certify his action to the county commissioners of his county, and shall file with them a complete transcript of the boundaries of all school districts affected by his action, which shall be entered upon the journal of said board and become a part of their records. The county superintendent shall, on request, furnish the district clerks with descriptions of the boundaries of their respective districts.

Thirteenth. To appoint school district officers in districts of the second and of the third class, to fill vacancies caused by death, resignation, failure to hold election, failure to qualify before the day for taking office, and absence from the district for a period of ninety days or failure to attend four consecutive meetings of the board without a reasonable excuse; to appoint school officers for any new districts: Provided, that when any new district is organized, such of the school officers of the old district as reside within the limits of the new one shall be such school officers of the new one, and the vacancies in the old district shall be filled by appointment.

Fourteenth. To apportion school funds as provided in Chapter XXIII of this title.

Fifteenth. To grant such temporary certificates and to conduct such examination of teachers and make such records thereof as may be prescribed by law: Provided, that he shall give ten days' notice of such examination by publication in some newspaper of general circulation published in his county, or if there be no newspaper, then by posting up handbills, or otherwise.

Sixteenth. To hold teachers' institutes according to law, and to conduct such other meetings of the teachers of his county as may be for the best interests of the schools.

Seventeenth. To hold each year, if he deem it advisable, one or more directors' meetings, the expense of which shall be audited and paid by the county commissioners: Provided, that such expense shall not exceed the sum of one hundred dollars in any one year.

Eighteenth. To suspend any teacher who may be teaching in his county, against whom he files charges and in case of such suspension he shall immediately notify the superintendent of public instruction of his action, and shall clearly and fully state his reasons for said action.

Nineteenth. To furnish registers and clerks' record-books to all districts of his county upon a requisition from the school district clerk, and he shall receive pay for such books by warrants drawn against the said school district by the county auditor. At the end of each quarter of the fiscal year he shall turn over to the treasurer of his county all moneys derived from the sale of such books, together with a detailed statement of the sources from which said funds were derived. He shall also at the same time send a copy of said statement to the superintendent of public instruction.

Twentieth. To forthwith enforce the provisions of section 4539, infra, and to notify the superintendent of public instruction whenever any school board of such county shall fail to comply with the provisions required. [L. '09, p. 281, § 4. Cf. L. '90, p. 355, § 11; L. '91, p. 240, § 3; 1 H. C., § 776; L. '97, p. 369, § 33; L. '99, p. 311, § 6; L. '03, p. 171, § 14.]

Former laws cited in 10 Wash. 198, 199; 36 Wash. 409; 84 Wash. 84.
There was an error in the reference in this section, but § 4539 was evidently intended.

§ 4476. Reports of Teachers and Officers—Records.—The county superintendent shall require all reports of school district officers, teachers and others to be made promptly as required by law. He shall see that the teacher's register is kept in accordance with law and the instructions of the superintendent of public instruction, and that the records of the school district clerks are properly kept. He shall require the oath of office of all school district officers to be filed in his office, and shall furnish a directory of all such officers to the county treasurer, upon blanks furnished by the superintendent of public instruction, as soon as the election or appointment of such officers is determined and their oaths placed on file. [L. '09, p. 284, § 5. Cf. L. '97, p. 371, § 34.]

on the door of his office a notice of said office days and hours of such days. [L. '09, p. 284, § 6. Cf. L. '97, p. 371, § 35.]

§ 4478. Office at County Seat—Office Supplies.—The county commissioners shall provide the county superintendent with a suitable office at the county seat, and all necessary blanks, books, stationery, postage, printing and other expenses of his office shall be paid by the county treasurer out of the county funds upon a sworn statement made quarterly and allowed by the county commissioners: Provided, that, as to the necessity for the printing and issuance of circulars of information pertaining to the schools of his county, for the use of schools, school officers and teachers, the county superintendent shall determine. [L. '09, p. 284, § 7. Cf. L. '90, p. 359, § 14; L. '91, p. 244, § 5; 1 H. C., § 799; L. '97, p. 372 § 37; L. '01, p. 376, § 7.]

§ 4479. Traveling Expenses.—For all actual and necessary travel in the performance of their official duties and in attendance on the convention of county superintendents, called by the superintendent of public instruction, county superintendents shall be allowed actual traveling expenses. [L. '09, p. 285, § 8. Cf. L. '90, p. 361; 1 H. C., § 782; L. '97, p. 372, § 38; L. '01, p. 377, § 8; L. '03, p. 174, § 15.]

CHAPTER XV.

District Officers—General Provisions.

§ 4480. Directors—Election—Qualifications.—Directors of school districts shall be elected at the regular annual school elections. No person shall be eligible to the office of school director who is not able to read and write the English language. [L. '09, p. 285, § 1. Cf. L. '90, p. 364, § 25; 1 H. C., § 790; L. '93, p. 265, § 2; L. '97, p. 373, § 39; L. '99, p. 313, § 7; L. '01, p. 45, § 2; L. '01, p. 377, § 9; L. '03, p. 175, § 16.]

Former laws cited in 4 Wash. 663.
See supra, § 3815, effect of change of county lines.
See infra, § 4888, exception as to ballots.

§ 4481. Powers and Duties of Board of Directors.—Every board of directors, unless otherwise specially provided by law, shall have power and it shall be its duty:

First. To employ, for not more than one year, and for sufficient cause to discharge, teachers, and to fix, alter, allow and order paid their salaries and compensation. The directors, except in districts of the first class, shall make with each teacher employed by them a written or printed contract, which shall be in conformity with the laws of this state, and every such contract shall be made in duplicate, one copy of which shall be retained by the school district clerk and the other shall be delivered to the teacher after having been approved and registered by the county superintendent as by law required.

Second. To enforce the rules and regulations prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction and the state board of education for the government of schools, pupils and teachers, and to enforce the course of study lawfully prescribed for the schools of their district.

Third. To rent, repair, furnish and insure schoolhouses, to employ janitors, laborers and mechanics.

Fourth. To cause all schoolhouses to be properly heated, lighted and ventilated, and to cause all school premises to be maintained in a cleanly and sanitary condition.

Fifth. To purchase personal property in the name of the district and to receive lease and hold for their district any real or personal property.

Sixth. To suspend or expel pupils from school who refuse to obey the rules thereof, and they shall exclude from school all children under six years of age.

Seventh. To provide free text-books and supplies to be loaned to the pupils of the school, when in their judgment the best interests of their district will be subserved thereby, and to prescribe such rules and regulations as they shall deem necessary to preserve such books and supplies from unnecessary damage.

Eighth. To require all pupils to be furnished with such books as may have been adopted by the lawful authority of this state, as a condition to membership in the schools.

Ninth. To exclude from schools and school libraries all books, tracts, papers and other publications of an immoral or pernicious tendency.

Tenth. To authorize the schoolroom to be used for summer or night schools, or for public, literary, scientific, religious, political, mechanical and agricultural meetings, under such regulations as the board of directors may adopt.

Eleventh. To provide and pay for transportation of children to and from school when in their judgment the best interests of their district will be subserved thereby, but, in case transportation is provided, the directors shall not be compelled to transport children who live within two miles of the schoolhouse.

Former laws cited in 36 Wash. 410, 426, 434; 43 Wash. 238, 241.

§ 4482. Schools to Display National Flag—Exercises.—Every board of directors of the several school districts of this state shall procure a United States flag, and shall display said flag upon or near each public school building during school hours, except in unsuitable weather, and at such other times as to said board may seem proper, and shall cause appropriate flag exercises to be held in every school at least once in each week at which exercises the pupils shall recite the following salute to the flag: "I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the republic for which it stands. One nation indivisible with liberty and justice to all." [L. '15, p. 246, § 1. Cf. L. '09, p. 286, § 3; L. '97, p. 426, § 180.]

§ 4483. Liability for and Payment of Debts.—Every school district shall be liable for any debts legally due, contracted under the provisions of this act, and for judgments against the district, and such district shall pay such judgment or liability out of the proper school funds to the credit of the district. [L. '09, p. 287, § 4. Cf. L. '90, p. 365, § 27; 1 H. C., § 792; L. '97, p. 374, § 41.]

§ 4484. Tuition Charged Adults and Pupils of Other Districts.—Any board of directors shall have power to make arrangements with adults wishing to attend school, or with the directors of another district for the attendance of such children in the school of either district as may be best accommodated therein: Provided, that in case such arrangements are not made, or children from school districts not adjoining desire to attend school in their district, they may charge reasonable tuition for such attendance: Provided further that, all such money collected by any school district officer for the use of the district shall, within thirty days after the date of its collection, be turned over to the county treasurer and placed to the credit of the district. [L. '09, p. 287, § 5. Cf. L. '90, p. 365, § 28; L. '91, p. 248, § 10; 1 H. C., § 793; L. '97, p. 375, § 42; L. '99, p. 314, § 8.]

§ 4485. By-laws.—Any board of directors shall have power to make such by-laws for their own government, and the government of the common schools under their charge, as they deem expedient, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, or the instructions of the superintendent of public instruction or the state board of education. [L. '09, p. 287, § 6. Cf. L. '90, p. 366, § 29; 1 H. C., § 794; L. '97, p. 375, § 43.]

§ 4486. May Convey Property and Transact Business.—The board of directors of each school district shall have custody of all school property belonging to the district, and shall have power, in the name of the district, to convey by deed all the interest of their district in or to any schoolhouse or lot directed to be sold by vote of the district and all conveyances of real estate made to the district shall vest title in the district; said board, in the name of the district, shall have power to transact all business necessary for maintaining school and protecting the rights of the district. [L. '09, p. 287, § 7. Cf. L. '90, p. 366, § 30; L. '91, p. 249, § 11; 1 H. C., § 795; L. '97, p. 375, § 44.]

§ 4487. Not to have Pecuniary Interest in Contracts.—It shall be unlawful for any director to have any pecuniary interest, either directly or indirectly, in the purchase of school sites or in the erection of schoolhouses, or in the warming, ventilating, furnishing, repairing or insuring of the same, or to be in any manner interested in or connected with the furnishing of supplies for the maintenance of schools, or to receive or accept any compensation or reward for services rendered as director or be employed for hire by said district or by any person having a contract with said district: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent a director elected as clerk from acting as purchasing agent for his district, or from receiving such compensation for performing the duties of school district clerk as are now or may hereafter be provided by law. [L. '09, p. 287, § 8. Cf. L. '90, p. 366, § 31; 1 H. C., § 796; L. '97, p. 376, § 45.]

Cited in 32 Wash. 118.

§ 4488. Limit of Indebtedness.—It shall be unlawful for any board of directors to contract indebtedness against their district in any one year in any sum or sums exceeding the aggregate of the amount due to said district during the year from state funds, the amount of school district tax levied for the year and the estimated receipts from other sources, unless said indebtedness be authorized by a vote of the electors of said district. [L. '09, p. 288, § 9. Cf. L. '93, p. 266, § 3; L. '97, p. 376, § 46.]

See Const., Art. VIII, § 6.

§ 4489. Books, Papers, etc., Delivered to Successor.—Every school officer shall immediately deliver to his successor in office all books, papers and moneys pertaining to his office. [L. '09, p. 288, § 10. Cf. L. '90, p. 380, § 69; 1 H. C., § 829; L. '97, p. 383, § 60.]

§ 4490. Oath of Office.—Every person elected or appointed to any office mentioned in this chapter shall, before entering upon the discharge of the duties thereof, take an oath or affirmation to support the constitution of the United States and the state of Washington, and to promote the interest of education, and to faithfully discharge the duties of his office according to the best of his ability. In case any officer has a written appointment or commission, his oath or affirmation shall be indorsed thereon and sworn to before any officer authorized to administer oaths. School officers are hereby authorized to administer all oaths or affirmations pertaining to their respective offices without charge or fee. All oaths of office as herein provided shall, when properly made, be filed with the county superintendent of schools. [L. '09, p. 288, § 11. Cf. L. '90, p. 380, § 70; 1 H. C., § 828; L. '97, p. 383, § 61.]

§ 4491. Signature to be Filed With County Auditor.—Every school district director or clerk shall, on assuming the duties of his office, place his signature, certified to by some school district officer, on file in the office of the county auditor. [L. '09, p. 289, § 12. Cf. L. '90, p. 380, § 70; 1 H. C., § 828; L. '97, p. 383, § 61.]

Cited in 15 Wash. 406.

§ 4492. Right of Eminent Domain—Limit.—The board of directors of any school district of this state may proceed to condemn and appropriate sufficient land for a schoolhouse site not to exceed five acres in extent; such condemnation proceedings shall be in accordance with the laws of this state providing for appropriating private property for public use. [L. '09, p. 289, § 13.]

See supra, § 906–920, eminent domain by school districts.

§ 4493. Approval of Plans, etc., of Buildings.—Whenever any board of directors of school districts of the third class shall be authorized, by the electors of their district, to erect a school building, it shall be the duty of such board, before entering into any contract for the erection of any buildings, to obtain the approval of the county superintendent of the county in which the building is to be erected, of the plans and specifications for the building to be erected. [L. '09, p. 289, § 14. Cf. L. '07, p. 370, § 2.]

CHAPTER XVI.

Directors of Districts of the First Class.

§ 4494. Board—How Constituted—Election—Vacancies.—The directors of school districts of the first class shall consist of five members who shall be known as the board of directors. They shall be elected by ballot by the qualified electors of the district, and shall hold their office for a term of three years and until their successors are elected and qualified.

When a district of the second or third class shall become a district of the first class the existing directors shall serve until the annual election preceding the expiration of the term for which they were elected and shall appoint two additional directors who shall serve until the next annual school election in said district. At such annual election three directors shall be elected, one for one year, and one for two years and one for three years.

In case vacancies are to be filled, and the successor or successors are to be elected to fill an unexpired term or terms, the ballot shall specify the term for which each such director is to be elected. [L. '09, p. 289, § 1.]

§ 4495. Time of Holding Election.—The regular district election in each district of the first class shall be held on the first Saturday of December in each year, and such election shall be held in the manner provided in Chapter XXXI of this title. [L. '09, p. 290, § 2. Cf. L. '90, p. 387, § 3; 1 H. C., § 859; L. '97, p. 387, § 77; L. '03, p. 220, § 2; L. '05, p. 260, § 1.]

§ 4496. Oath and Term of Office—Officers of Board.—All persons elected as members of the board of directors of districts of the first class shall, within ten days thereafter, appear before the officer authorized to administer oaths, take and subscribe the usual oath of office and deliver the same to the county superintendent of schools; in case any person elected shall fail so to do, his election shall be void and the vacancy occasioned thereby shall be filled by the board as hereinafter provided. The term of office of persons so elected shall begin on the first Monday of the month of January following their election. At the first meeting of the members of the board in the month of January of each year, they shall elect a president and vice-president from among their number who shall serve for a term of one year or until their successors are elected and qualified. In the event of the temporary absence or disability of both the president and vice-president, the board of directors may elect a president pro tempore who shall discharge all the duties of president during such temporary absence or disability. They shall also at their regular meeting in the month of January in each year elect a secretary at such salary as they may deem just; said secretary shall not be a member of the board of directors, and may be removed by the board at any time. [L. '09, p. 290, § 3.]

§ 4497. Vote, how Taken.—The election of the officers of the board of directors, the city superintendent, the secretary, teachers, janitors and all other officers of such district shall be by viva voce vote upon a call of the roll of all the members, and no person shall be declared elected unless he receives a majority vote of all the members of the board. [L. '09, p. 290, § 4.]

§ 4498. Duties of President.—It shall be the duty of the president to preside at all meetings of the board, and to perform such other duties as the board may prescribe. [L. '09, p. 290, § 5.]

§ 4499. Vice-president—Duties.—It shall be the duty of the vice-president to perform all the duties of president in case of his absence or disability. [L. '09, p. 291, § 6.]

§ 4500. Secretary—Duties.—It shall be the duty of the secretary to be present at all the meetings of the board, to keep an accurate journal of the proceedings, to take charge of its books and documents, to countersign all warrants for school moneys drawn upon the county treasurer by order of the board; he may be authorized by the board of directors to purchase needed supplies for the schools, and shall also act as superintendent of buildings, and may be charged with the special care of the school buildings and other property of the district; he shall also perform such other duties as the board may direct. [L. '09, p. 291, § 7.]

§ 4501. Secretary—Bond and Oath of Office—Annual Report.—Before entering upon the discharge of his duties, the secretary of the board shall give bonds in such sum as the board of directors may fix from time to time, but for not less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), with good and sufficient sureties, and shall take and subscribe an oath or affirmation, before a proper officer that he will support the constitution of Washington and faithfully perform the duties of his office. He shall, from time to time, as he may be required by the board, make a complete and detailed record of his transactions as secretary, which shall be combined with his annual report, to be published in the manner determined by the board. [L. '09, p. 291, § 8.]

§ 4502. Meetings of Board—Special Meetings.—The regular meetings of the board of directors shall be held monthly or oftener at such a time as the by-laws of the board may prescribe, but special meetings may be held from time to time as circumstances may demand, at the call of the president or on petition of a majority of the members of the board, and all meetings shall be open to the public unless otherwise specially ordered. [L. '09, p. 291, § 9. Cf. L. '90, p. 389, § 13; 1 H. C., § 869; L. '97, p. 390, § 86.]

Former laws cited in 3 Wash. 156.

§ 4503. Office of Board.—The board of directors shall maintain an office where all regular meetings shall be held, and all records, vouchers and other important papers belonging to the board may be preserved, and shall at all times be open for inspection of resident taxpayers. [L. '09, p. 291, § 10. Cf. L. '90, p. 389, § 14; 1 H. C., § 870; L. '97, p. 390, § 87.]

§ 4504. Payment of Claims—Signing of Warrants.—The moneys of such school districts shall be paid out only upon warrants signed by the president, or a majority of the board of directors and countersigned by the secretary: Provided, that when, in the judgment of the board of directors, the warrants issued by the district monthly shall have reached such numbers that the signing of each warrant by the president personally imposes too great a task on the president, the board of directors, after auditing all payrolls and bills as provided by section 4507, may authorize the issuing of one general certificate to the county treasurer, to be signed by the president, authorizing said treasurer to pay all the warrants specified by date, number, name and amount, and the funds on which said warrants shall be drawn. And the secretary of said board shall be authorized to draw and sign said warrants. [L. '09, p. 292, § 11.]

§ 4505. Vacancies.—The board of directors shall have power to fill, by election, any vacancy which may occur in its body, but the election to fill such vacancy shall be valid only until the next regular district election, and the ballots and returns shall be designated as follows: "To fill unexpired term." [L. '09, p. 292, § 12. Cf. L. '90, p. 390, § 16; 1 H. C., § 872; L. '97, p. 390, § 89; L. '07, p. 40, § 3.]

§ 4506. Quorum—Compulsory Attendance—Effect of Absences.—A majority of all members of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum, but a less number in attendance at any regular meeting shall have, and a quorum at any special meeting shall have, power to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as the board may see fit to prescribe; and the absence of any member from four consecutive regular meetings of the board, unless on account of sickness or by resolution of the board, shall vacate his position in the board, which fact shall be passed upon by the board of directors and spread upon their records. [L. '09, p. 292, § 13. Cf. L. '90, p. 390, § 17; 1 H. C., § 873; L. '97, p. 390, § 90.]

§ 4507. Auditing Committee—Expenditures—Annual Examination of Accounts.—All accounts shall be audited by a committee to be styled the "auditing committee," and no expenditure greater than three hundred dollars shall be voted by the board except in accordance with a written contract, nor shall any money or appropriation be paid out of the school fund except on a recorded affirmative vote of a majority of all members of the board: Provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the board from making any repairs or improvements to the property of the district through their shop and repair department; and the accounts and the records of said board shall at all times be subject to the inspection and examination of the county superintendent of said county, whose duty it shall be, annually, to examine said records and check said accounts, and report in writing to the board of county commissioners the nature and state of said accounts, and any facts that may be required concerning said records. [L. '09, p. 292, § 14.]

§ 4508. Must Advertise for Bids, When.—When, in the opinion of the board, the cost of any furniture, supplies, building, improvements or repairs will equal or exceed the sum of three hundred dollars, it shall be the duty of the board to give due notice by publication, in at least one daily newspaper published within said district, and if there be no daily, then in one or more weekly papers, in three regular consecutive issues, of the intention to receive bids therefor; and the board shall determine the specifications for such bids which shall be public: Provided, that the board may, without giving such notice, make improvements or repairs to the property of such district through their shop and repair department. [L. '09, p. 293, § 15.]

Former laws cited in 34 Wash. 429.

§ 4509. Powers of Board.—Every board of directors of a school district of the first class shall, in addition to the general powers enumerated in Chapter XVII [XV], of this title, have the power:

First. To employ for a term of not exceeding three years, a city superintendent of schools of the district, and for cause to dismiss him; and to fix his duties and compensation.

Second. To prescribe a course of study and a program of exercises which shall not be inconsistent with the course of study prepared by the state board of education for the use of the common schools of this state.

Third. To make necessary by-laws for more effectively carrying out the provisions of this act, and for facilitating the work of the board, as required by law.

Fourth. To adopt and enforce such rules and regulations as may be deemed essential to the well-being of the schools, and to establish and maintain such grades and departments, including night, high, kindergarten, manual training and industrial schools, and schools or departments for the education and training of any class or classes of defective youth, as shall, in the judgment of the board, best promote the interests of education in that district.

Fifth. To employ, and, for cause, to dismiss teachers, and janitors; to determine the length of time over and above eight (8) months that school shall be maintained, such length of time to give a consecutive vacation of not less than three months between June first of any year and September fifteenth of the same year; to fix the time for annual opening and closing of schools, and for the daily dismissal of primary pupils before the regular time for closing schools.

Sixth. To employ attorneys, an architect, inspectors of construction, superintendents of buildings and janitors, and a superintendent of supplies and other employees, and to prescribe their duties and fix their compensation.

Seventh. To employ, and, for cause, dismiss one or more assistant city superintendents and to define their duties and fix their compensation.

Eighth. To employ, and, for cause dismiss, supervisors of instruction, and to define their duties and fix their compensation.

Ninth. To maintain a shop and repair department, and to employ a foreman and the necessary help for the maintenance and conduct thereof.

Tenth. To provide free text-books and supplies for all children attending school, when so ordered by a vote of the electors; or, if free text-books are not voted by the electors, to provide books for children of indigent parents, on the written statement of the city superintendent that the parents of such children are not able to purchase them.

Eleventh. To require successful vaccination as a condition of school membership and to provide free vaccination to all who are unable to pay for the same: Provided, however, that a pupil showing a certificate by a reputable physician that the condition of such child or pupil is such that it would be injurious to its health and possibly dangerous to its life: And provided further, that a child or pupil showing certificate by a reputable physician to the effect that vaccination has failed to take effect, such child or pupil shall have access to the school and vaccination shall not be a condition to school membership to such child or pupil.

Twelfth. To require of the officers or employees of the district to give a bond for the faithful discharge of their duties in such penal sum as may be fixed by the board with good and sufficient surety, and to cause the premium for all bonds required of all such officers or employees to be paid by the district.

Thirteenth. To prohibit all secret fraternities and sororities among the students in any of the schools of the said districts.

Fourteenth. To appoint a practicing physician, resident of the school district, who shall be known as the school district medical inspector, and whose duty it shall be to decide for the board of directors all questions of sanitation and health affecting the safety and welfare of the public schools of the district; he or authorized deputies shall make monthly inspections of each school in the district and report the condition of the same to the board of education and board of health. [L. '09, p. 293, § 16.]

Chapter XVII [XV] substituted for "Article IV, Chapter IV," which was evidently an error, "Article IV, Chapter II" being probably intended [Chapter XV herein]. See, also, §§ 4520, 4532, infra, where similar errors were made.

§ 4510. Annual School Census.—The board of directors shall annually in May of each year, cause to be taken an enumeration of all persons between the ages of five and twenty-one years residing in the district, said enumeration shall be made on blanks or books provided by the district and shall contain such items as the superintendent of public instruction shall require, including the following: The names of all persons, male and female, between the ages of five and twenty-one years residing in the district on the first day of May last past; the date of birth of such child; the names and residences of the parents or guardians of all such children. The census shall be taken by the secretary and such enumerators as he shall select, subject to the approval of the board or its proper committee. The enumerators shall receive such compensation as the board may deem just. Each enumerator shall verify by oath the correctness of his report. The secretary of the district shall report to the county superintendent of schools on or before the fifteenth day of the ensuing July, the total number of males and the total number of females enumerated, together with a complete list containing the detailed information herein required of all defective youth residing in said district. [L. '09, p. 295, § 17.]

§ 4511. Sale of School Property.—The board of directors shall have power to sell any of the property of the district which is no longer required for school purposes at public or private sale upon such terms as they may direct if the value thereof be less than two thousand dollars. The question of the sale of school property which may be found by the board of directors to be unsuitable for school purposes, and to be of greater value than two thousand dollars, shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of the district, either at a general election or at a special election called to be held for that purpose, as may be directed by the board of directors, and if a majority of the voters of the district voting thereon shall be for the sale of the property the directors may make the sale at public auction. The sale must be made for cash and good title will be conveyed by deed of the school district, executed by the president or the vice-president and the secretary of the board. [L. '09, p. 296, § 18.]

§ 4512. Estimate for Annual Tax Levy—Limit of Expenditures.—The board of directors shall annually, at a meeting next preceding the annual tax levy for state and county purposes, report to the board of county commissioners an estimate of the amount of funds, in addition to estimated receipts from the state and county apportionments for said district, required for the support of the schools, for the purchase of school sites, the erection and furnishing of school buildings, the payment of interest upon all bonds issued for school purposes, and the creation of a sinking fund for the payment of such indebtedness, if any, and the county commissioners are hereby authorized and required to levy and collect such additional amount of funds, the same as other taxes: Provided, that for the purpose of the purchase of school sites and the erection of buildings the board of directors of a district of the first class in cities having a population of fifty thousand or less, may annually expend a sum not exceeding fifty thousand dollars; in cities having a population greater than fifty thousand and less than one hundred thousand, a sum not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars; in cities having a population greater than one hundred thousand and less than two hundred thousand, a sum not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars, and for every additional fifty thousand of population beyond two hundred thousand, a further sum of fifty thousand dollars: And provided further, that when any greater expenditure shall be required for said purposes, in any one current school year, the question shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of the district at the time and place the board of directors may appoint. The board of directors shall, previous to such election, designate in one daily paper published in the district, if there be one, if not, then in such weekly papers as may be selected by the board, the place or places where such election shall be held, the locality of the site or sites required and the proposed cost of the buildings to be erected thereon. [L. '09, p. 296, § 19. Cf. L. '90, p. 394, § 30; 1 H. C., § 886; L. '97, p. 393, § 97: L. '99, p. 318, § 14; L. '05, p. 263, § 5; L. '07, p. 41, § 4.]

CHAPTER XVII.

Directors of Districts of the Second Class.

§ 4514. Election—Term of Office.—Directors of school districts of the second class shall consist of three members. They shall be elected by ballot by the qualified electors of the district, and shall hold their office for a term of three years and until their successors are elected and qualified. In case vacancies are to be filled and a successor or successors to be elected to fill an unexpired term or terms, the ballot shall specify the term for which each director is to be elected. [L. '09, p. 297, § 1.]

§ 4515. Time of Holding Election.—The regular district election in each district of the second class shall be held on the first Saturday in March of each year, and such election shall be held in the manner provided in Chapter XXXI of this title. [L. '09, p. 298, § 2.]

§ 4516. Vacancies—How Filled.—In case the electors of any district of the second class shall neglect or fail to elect directors as hereinbefore provided, the county superintendent may declare vacant the office of any director at the expiration of his term; and in case of a vacancy in the board of directors from any cause, the county superintendent, in conjunction with the other directors if there be two, shall fill such vacancy by appointment until the fourth Monday following the next annual election. [L. '09, p. 298, § 3.]

§ 4517. Oath of Office.—All persons elected as members of the board of directors of districts of the second class shall, within ten days thereafter, appear before an officer authorized to administer oaths, take and subscribe the usual oath of office and deliver the same to the county superintendent of schools, and in case any person elected shall fail so to do, his election shall be void and the office shall be deemed vacant. [L. '09, p. 298, § 4.]

§ 4518. Organization of Board.—The term of office of directors of districts of the second class shall begin on the fourth Monday next succeeding their election, on which day the directors shall meet at the hour of 2 o'clock P. M., and shall at once organize by electing one of their members as chairman of the board. They shall also elect a person to act as clerk who may or may not be a member of the board of directors. The chairman and clerk shall both immediately enter upon the discharge of their duties and shall serve for a period of one year: Provided, that if any such clerk shall fail to discharge his duties in accordance with law, the board of directors may, at any time, remove such clerk and elect another person to fill the unexpired term. [L. '09, p. 298, § 5.]

§ 4519. Regular and Special Meetings of Board.—The regular meetings of the board of directors shall occur on the first Friday of each month, and they may hold such other special or adjourned meetings as they may from time to time determine, or as may be specified in their by-laws. Special meetings may be called by the chairman or by any two members of the board. [L. '09, p. 299, § 6.]

§ 4520. Board to Provide Supplies.—Every board of directors of districts of the second class, in addition to the powers and duties enumerated in Chapter XVII [XV], of this title, shall have the power and it shall be their duty to provide and pay for such materials, supplies and libraries, as may be necessary for the schools, and to purchase such maps, charts and other apparatus as may be deemed necessary for the use of their schools. [L. '09, p. 299, § 7.]

See note to § 4509, supra.

§ 4521. Estimate for Annual Tax Levy—Limits of Levy.—The board of directors shall annually at a meeting preceding the annual tax levy for state and county purposes, report to the board of county commissioners an estimate in detail of the amount of funds which will be required by their district for all purposes for the ensuing year, and the county commissioners are hereby authorized and required to levy and collect such amount, after deducting the estimated receipts from the state and county apportionment for said districts, said estimate to be furnished by the county superintendent of schools. The levy in any one year shall not exceed one (1) per cent of the assessed value of all the taxable property of the district: Provided, that when any greater expenditure in any one current school year shall be deemed necessary, the question shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of the district at the time and place and in the manner provided for calling special elections. The notice of such election shall specify the amount of taxes proposed to be raised in excess of the said one (1) per cent and if a majority of the electors voting thereon at said election shall be in favor of such additional tax, the entire amount so authorized shall be levied and collected. No tax, however, shall exceed two (2) per cent of all the taxable property of said district. In case any board of directors shall fail to make and report the said estimate to the board of county commissioners on or before the first day of September, it shall be the duty of the county school superintendent to make such estimate, which will be accepted in lieu of the directors' estimate. [L. '09, p. 299, § 8.]

Cited in 78 Wash. 195.

For partial repeal, see infra, § 9208–24.

§ 4522. Schoolhouses—Building—Removal—Selection and Change of Site.—The board shall build or remove schoolhouses, purchase or sell lots or other real estate when directed by a vote of the district to do so and where the district shall possess a schoolhouse upon a site owned by such district the board may by a unanimous vote of all the members thereof purchase or lease additional real estate adjacent to such site: Provided, that a schoolhouse already built on a site which has been selected by a majority vote of the legal school electors of a district shall not be removed to a new site without a two-thirds vote of the school electors voting at an annual or special election; nor shall a schoolhouse site that has been selected by a majority vote of the legal school electors, but upon which no schoolhouse has been built, be changed except by a two-thirds vote of the legal school electors voting at an annual or special election as hereinbefore provided. [L. '15, p. 337, § 1. Cf. L. '09, p. 300, § 9.]

§ 4523. Time of Employing Teachers.—No board of directors shall employ any teacher or teachers whose term or terms of service begin after the first Monday in August, until after the directors elected at the annual school election in said year shall have entered upon the discharge of their duties. [L. '09, p. 300, § 10.]

§ 4524. Superintendent—Duties—Election—Term.—In all districts of the second class the board of directors shall elect a superintendent, or principal, who shall hold a valid teacher's certificate. The said superintendent, or principal, shall have supervision over the several departments of the school and the board of directors may contract with him for a term of one year, or a term of two years as may be deemed best in their judgment. [L. '09, p. 300, § 11.]

§ 4525. Minimum Term.—In all districts of the second class the minimum school term for each year shall be six months. [L. '09, p. 300, § 12.]

CHAPTER XVIII.

Directors of Districts of the Third Class.

§ 4526. Election—Term of Office.—Directors of school districts of the third class shall consist of three members. They shall be elected by ballot by the qualified electors of the district, and shall hold their office for a term of three years and until their successors are elected and qualified. At the first annual election in all new districts three directors shall be elected for one, two and three years respectively, and the ballot at such election shall specify the term for which each is to be elected. At each election after the first, one director shall be elected for a term of three years. In case vacancies are to be filled and a successor or successors to be elected to fill an unexpired term or terms, the ballots shall specify the term for which each director is to be elected. [L. '09, p. 300, § 1.]

§ 4527. Time of Holding Election.—The regular district election in each district of the third class shall be on the first Saturday in March of each year, and such election shall be held in the manner provided in Chapter XXXI of this title. [L. '09, p. 301, § 2.]

§ 4528. Vacancies.—In case the electors of any district of the third class shall neglect or fail to elect directors as hereinbefore provided, the county superintendent may declare vacant the office of any director at the expiration of his term; and in case of a vacancy in the board of directors from any cause, the county superintendent shall fill such vacancy by appointment until the fourth Monday following the next annual election. [L. '09, p. 301, § 3.]

§ 4529. Oath of Office.—All persons elected as members of the board of directors of districts of the third class shall, within ten days thereafter, appear before an officer authorized to administer oaths, take and subscribe the usual oath of office and deliver the same to the county superintendent of schools, and in case any person elected shall fail so to do, his election shall be void and the office shall be deemed vacant. [L. '09, p. 301, § 4.]

§ 4530. Organization of Board.—The term of office of directors of districts of the third class shall begin on the fourth Monday next succeeding their election, on which day the directors shall meet at the hour of 2 o'clock P. M., and shall at once organize by electing one of their members as chairman and another as clerk, who shall each immediately enter upon the discharge of his duties, and shall serve for the period of one year: Provided, that if any such clerk shall fail to discharge his duties in accordance with law, the board of directors may, at any time, remove such clerk and elect another of their number to fill the unexpired term. [L. '09, p. 301, § 5.]

§ 4531. Regular and Special Meetings.—A regular meeting of each board of directors of districts of the third class shall be held on the first Saturday of February, May, August and November, and they may hold such other special or adjourned meetings as they may from time to time determine, or as may be specified in their by-laws. Special meetings may be called by the chairman or by any two members of the board. [L. '09, p. 302, § 6.]

§ 4532. Board to Provide Supplies.—Every board of directors of districts of the third class shall, in addition to the powers and duties enumerated in Chapter XVII [XV], of this title, have power and it shall be their duty to provide and pay for such materials, supplies and libraries, as may be necessary for the schools, and to purchase such maps, charts and other apparatus as may have the written approval of the county school superintendent. [L. '09, p. 302, § 7.]

See note to § 4509, supra.

§ 4533. Election of Principal, When—Grades.—In all districts where the number of children of school age is sufficient to require the employment of more than one teacher, the board shall designate one of such teachers as principal, and such principal shall have general supervision over the several departments of such school. The school or schools in such districts shall be graded in such a manner as the directors thereof shall deem best suited to the conditions of such districts. [L. '09, p. 302, § 8.]

§ 4534. Election of Superintendent, When.—The directors of any districts wherein schools are maintained in two or more buildings shall elect a superintendent who may be a teacher in the schools of such district and such superintendent shall have general supervision over the schools in such district in accordance with the rules and regulations of the board of directors. [L. '09, p. 302, § 9.]

§ 4535. Report of Principal.—It shall be the duty of the principal or superintendent of any school maintaining two or more departments to report to the superintendent of public instruction such facts relating to the grading, course of study, enrollment, attendance and other matters pertaining to such schools as he may require on blanks for that purpose. [L. '09, p. 302, § 10.]

§ 4536. Time of Employing Teachers.—No board of directors shall employ any teacher or teachers whose term or terms of service begin after the first Monday in August, until after the directors elected at the annual school election in said year shall have entered upon the discharge of their duties. [L. '09, p. 302, § 11.]

§ 4537. Estimate for Annual Tax Levy—Limit of Levy.—The board of directors shall annually at a meeting preceding the annual tax levy for state and county purposes, report to the board of county commissioners an estimate in detail of the amount of funds which will be required by their district for all purposes for the ensuing year, and the county commissioners are hereby authorized and required to levy and collect such amount, after deducting the estimated receipts from the state and county apportionment for said districts. The levy in any one year shall not exceed one (1) per cent of the assessed value of all the taxable property of the district: Provided, that when any greater expenditure in any current school year shall be deemed necessary, the question shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of the district at the time and place and in the manner provided for calling special elections. The notice of such election shall specify the amount of taxes proposed to be raised in excess of the said one (1) per cent and if a majority of the electors voting thereon at said election shall be in favor of such additional tax, the entire amount so authorized shall be levied and collected.

No tax, however, shall exceed two (2) per cent of all the taxable property of said district. In case any board of directors shall fail to make and report the said estimate to the board of county commissioners on or before the first day of September, it shall be the duty of the county school superintendent to make such estimate which will be accepted in lieu of the directors' estimate. [L. '09, p. 303, § 12.]

For partial repeal, see infra, § 9208–24.

§ 4538. School Sites and Schoolhouses—Building and Removal.—The board shall build or remove schoolhouses, purchase or sell lots or other real estate, when directed by a vote of the district to do so: Provided, that a schoolhouse already built on a site which has been selected by a majority vote of the legal school electors of a district shall not be removed to a new site without a two-thirds vote of the school electors voting at an annual or special election; nor shall a schoolhouse site that has been selected by a majority vote of the legal school electors, but upon which no schoolhouse has been built, be changed except by a two-thirds vote of the legal school electors voting at an annual or special school election as hereinbefore provided. [L. '09, p. 303, § 13.]

§ 4539. Plans and Specifications for Schoolhouses—Approval by Superintendent.—Whenever any board of directors shall be authorized by the electors of their district, to erect a school building, it shall be the duty of such board, before entering into any contract for the erection of any buildings, to obtain the approval of the county superintendent, of the plans and specifications for the building to be erected, including also the heating, lighting, ventilating and safety thereof. [L. '09, p. 304, § 14.]

CHAPTER XVIII–A.

Extending Use of School Buildings.

§ 4539–1. Use for Public Purpose.—That school boards in each district of the second class and third class may provide for the free, comfortable and convenient use of the school property to promote and facilitate frequent meetings and association of the people in discussion, study, improvement, recreation and other community purposes, and may require, assemble and house material for the dissemination of information of use and interest to the farm, the home and the community, and facilities for experiment and study, especially in matters pertaining to the growing of crops, the improvement and handling of livestock, the marketing of farm products, the planning and construction of farm buildings, the subjects of household economies, home industries, good roads, and community vocations and industries; and may call meetings for the consideration and discussion of any such matters, employ a special supervisor, or leader, if need be, and provide suitable dwellings and accommodations for teachers, supervisors and necessary assistants. [L. '13, p. 395, § 1.]

§ 4539-2. Buildings for Public Purposes.—That each school district of the second or third class, by itself or in combination with any other district or districts, shall have power, when in the judgment of the school board it shall be deemed expedient, to reconstruct, remodel, or build schoolhouses, and to erect, purchase, lease or otherwise acquire other improvements and real and personal property, and establish a communal assembly place and appurtenances, and supply the same with suitable and convenient furnishings and facilities for the uses mentioned in section 4539-1. [L. '13, p. 396, § 2.]

§ 4539-3. Commission to Pass upon Plans.—That plans of any district or combination of districts for the carrying out of the powers granted by this act shall be submitted to and approved by the board of supervisors composed of seven members, as follows: The state superintendent of public instruction; the head of the Extension Department of Washington State College; the head of the Extension Department of the University of Washington; the county superintendent of schools of the county in which such facilities are proposed to be located; these four to choose a fifth member from such county, and a sixth and a seventh member, one of whom shall be a woman, from the district or districts concerned. [L. '13, p. 396, § 3.]

§ 4539-4. Expenditures—Limitations.—No real or personal property or improvements shall be purchased, leased, exchanged, acquired or sold, nor any schoolhouses built, remodeled or removed, nor any indebtedness incurred or money expended for any of the purposes of this act except in the manner provided by law for the purchase, lease, exchange, acquisition and sale of school property, the building, remodeling and removing of schoolhouses and the incurring of indebtedness and expenditure of money for school purposes. [L. '13, p. 396, § 4.]

CHAPTER XIX.

District Clerk.

§ 4540. Notice to Superintendent of Change of Clerk or Chairman.—Every school district clerk in districts of the second and the third class shall within ten days after any change in the office of chairman or clerk, notify the county superintendent of such change in the organization of the board. [L. '09, p. 304, § 1. Cf. L. '03, p. 177, § 19.]

§ 4541. Duties Enumerated.—The duties of the district clerk shall be as follows:

First. To attend all meetings of the board of directors; but if he shall not be present the board of directors shall select one of their number to act as clerk, who shall certify the proceedings of the meeting to the clerk of the district, to be recorded by him. He shall keep his records in a book to be furnished by the board of directors, and he shall preserve copies of all reports made to the county superintendent, and safely preserve and keep all books and documents belonging to his office, and shall turn the same over to his successor.

Second. To keep accurate and detailed accounts of all receipts and expenditures of school money. At each annual school meeting the district clerk must present his record-book for public inspection, and shall make a statement of the financial condition of the district and of the action of the directors, and such record must always be open for public inspection.

Third. To take annually in May of each year, an exact census of all children and youth between the ages of five and twenty-one years who were bona fide residents of the district on the first day of May of that year. He shall designate the name and sex of each child, and the date of its birth; the number of weeks it has attended school during the school year, and its postoffice address. Parents or guardians must be required to sign a certified statement of the correctness of this report: Provided, that Indian children not living under the guardianship of white persons, or who have not severed their tribal relations shall not be included in said census. He shall also list separately all defective youth between the ages of five and twenty-one and give such information concerning them as may be required.

Fourth. To make to the county superintendent on or before the fifteenth day of July his annual report verified by affidavit upon blanks to be furnished by the superintendent of public instruction.
